Website:

Summary: JUMPS is a mentoring program for young adults that provides education and social skills through camps, conferences, sports and tutorial programs to promote positive morals and values, to develop citizens who will be an asset to society.

Young adults and teen population are more vulnerable to participate in criminal activities when no programs exist to provide positive opportunities. We also know that rural areas are often overlooked for funding to address the needs for teens that they so desperately need to close the gap to poverty and education.

Community: Target population in rural areas of Lower Richland

Previously appropriated: No award of previous state grant
