I EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

1. Mission and Values

The Office of the Secretary of State is mandated by the South Carolina Code of Laws to serve as the state filing office for business corporations, nonprofit corporations, limited partnerships, limited liability partnerships and limited liability companies, as well as for all Uniform Commercial Code Article 9 Secured Transaction filings. In addition to business filings, the Secretary of State's Office files state trademarks, maintains the state notary public database, and issues commissions for elected officials and those appointed by the Governor. The Secretary of State's Office is also responsible for issuing all statewide cable franchises and serves as the repository for several types of municipal filings. The office handles the incorporation of municipalities and special purpose districts, the annexations of land, and the escheatment of real property in South Carolina. The Secretary of State's Office regulates charitable organizations, professional fundraisers, business opportunities and employment agencies.

MISSION STATEMENT

The mission of the Office of the Secretary of State is to provide innovative technology to enhance the process of accurately maintaining, preserving and making available essential records to fulfill its statutory duties, while providing prompt, efficient, and courteous customer service. Additionally, the Secretary of State remains dedicated to serving the citizens of South Carolina through enforcement of the Solicitation of Charitable Funds Act.

2. Major Achievements from 2012-2013

Increased Taxpayer Return on Investment

The Office of the Secretary of State returned $4,997,141.45 to the General Fund—almost six times its General Fund appropriations. This equates to $185,073.00 per FTE for FY 12-13.

Provided Award Winning Online Filing Options for Customers

During FY 12-13, the UCC Online Filing, Search and Retrieval System was the recipient of three awards. This online system provides members of the public—including many banking institutions, law firms, and business owners—the ability to file and search UCC records required to be filed with the Secretary of State. This project was a result of a partnership with the state web portal, South Carolina Interactive (SCI). The Secretary of State received an Elite Achiever's Award from SC.GMIS, and a Digital Government Achievement Award for Government to Business from the Center for Digital Government. A third award was received from the International Association of Commercial Administrators (IACA) for Outstanding Partnership Project.

UCC online filings continued to grow with the UCC XML filing capabilities that began 2012. The new XML filing capabilities allow our large-volume UCC filers to submit and have processed a large number of filings in bulk, rather than requiring the filer or a staff member to process each filing separately. In addition, the Secretary of State again partnered with South Carolina Interactive to ensure that revisions to the UCC online filing system would be made timely to reflect national changes to Article 9 that became effective July 1, 2013.

Elite Achiever's Award from SC.GMIS

Increased Enforcement of Solicitation of Charitable Funds Act

Secretary Hammond continues to make enforcement of the Solicitation of Charitable Funds Act a priority of his administration, which resulted in the collection of $309,098.00 in fines from charities and professional fundraisers during FY 12-13. This was a 14.2% increase over the previous fiscal year. In addition, registration of charitable organizations increased by 13% and registration of professional fundraisers increased by 8%. The Division of Public Charities continued to respond to citizen inquiries about organizations engaging in fundraising in their communities, and Charities staff conducted over 20 presentations on charities regulation and wise charitable giving throughout the state.

Increased Counterfeit Goods Enforcement Activity

During FY 12-13, the Secretary of State's Office assisted local, state, and federal law enforcement agencies in the seizure of $7,324,590.00 in counterfeit goods—the largest amount of counterfeit seized in the history of the office. This included the seizure of nearly $4 million in counterfeit prescription drugs being sold out of a warehouse in Columbia, South Carolina. The Secretary of State's Office also assisted law enforcement in 41 arrests and the issuance of 39 cease-and-desist letters to traffickers in counterfeit merchandise.

In addition to providing direct assistance to law enforcement, Secretary of State's Office staff coordinated and hosted an International Anti-Counterfeiting Coalition Conference to educate local and state enforcement agencies on the identification of counterfeit goods, trends in counterfeit trafficking, case development, and state laws governing trademarks. Investigative staff also provided training at the 2012 Annual Gang/Security Threat Conference held by the South Carolina Department of Corrections.

Processed High Volume of Filings & Documents Efficiently While Providing Customer Service

During FY 12-13, the Secretary of State’s Office accommodated 12,230 walk-in customers and 112,000 phone calls in its major divisions, and processed the following in both a timely and courteous manner:

Please note this table does not include daily operations including legal, human resources, information technology, finance, legislative initiatives, system development, reporting requirements, or procurement, all of which are completed daily by 27 FTEs.

Other Achievements

In addition to the items listed above, the dedicated staff of the Secretary of State's Office continues to work to reduce costs and work as efficiently as possible while maintaining excellent customer service. During FY 2012-2013, the office accomplished the following with only 27 FTEs:

- Front office staff members served 12,320 walk-in filing customers averaging less than 10 minutes per transaction, and answered over 21,250 phone calls.
- Assisted over 61,570 customers on our Business Filings help line while maintaining an average call answer time of less than 2 minutes.
- Processed over 76,506 Uniform Commercial Code filings in under 48 hours.
- Assisted over 18,800 customers in the Charities Division with phone calls concerning the Solicitation of Charitable Funds Act.
- Assisted over 10,000 customers in the Notary Division.
- Organized and held the meeting of the 2012 Electoral College to formally cast the state's electoral votes for the positions of President and Vice President of the United States.
- Maintained an online charities database that allows donors to research charities and discern what percentage of donor contributions are actually allotted to charitable causes.
- Published the annual Scrooges and Angels list, identifying those charities that spend most of their resources on their charitable causes as well as those charities that spend a small percentage of donors' contributions on their charitable cause.

Meeting of the 2012 Electoral College

- Continued to maintain a national presence regarding the enforcement of charity regulations through our involvement in the National Association of State Charity Officials (NASCO), including service on the NASCO Board of Directors.
- Attended a Senior Outreach Program in Columbia, SC to educate the public about charity scams and wise charitable giving.
- Attended the International Association of Commercial Administrators (IACA) meeting in Boston, MA to receive the award for the UCC Online Filing System which allows users to file, search and retrieve 24 hours a day.
- Conducted numerous training sessions on charitable organizations, Uniform Commercial Code filings, and business filings to increase public awareness and provide necessary information for citizens to conduct business in the state.

- Conducted 4 Notary Public seminars throughout the state with 175 persons in attendance, and coordinated with members of the South Carolina Bar to provide information on the Unauthorized Practice of Law.
- Continued to offer educational material to the general public with the revised Notary Public Manual, which is used to educate notaries on their duties and responsibilities.
- Conducted training with the Department of Revenue in quarterly corporate workshops.
- Modified agency website where needed to enhance usability and continued to update office forms to reduce rejections and streamline the filing process.
- Published the 2012 Biennial Special Purpose Directory.

The Office of the Secretary of State strives to provide the most efficient, innovative, and cost-effective means of registering, administering, maintaining, and disseminating filed information. Additionally, the office regulates public charities to educate and offer protection to the public. As always, the Secretary of State's Office strives to provide excellent customer service while efficiently and effectively fulfilling its statutory obligations.

3. Key Strategic Goals for Present and Future Years

Strategic or Long-Term Goals:

- (1) Provide responsive and efficient customer service while fulfilling those duties set forth by the General Assembly for the benefit of all South Carolinians.
- (2) Provide the technology infrastructure and solutions for the efficient operation of the office to serve customers in the most efficient manner.
- (3) Enhance the regulation of public charities in South Carolina to ensure citizens have the best possible information when contributing funds to a charitable organization.

4. Key Strategic Challenges (mission, operational, human resource, financial, and community-related strategic challenges)

The office strives to utilize technology to maintain customer service initiatives with an ever-increasing workload. Although the increased use of technology will save state funds in the future, providing technology solutions can be costly in the beginning stages. Budget reductions have impacted the agency's ability to provide needed technology solutions in past years. During Fiscal Year 13-14, we will work toward providing for technology initiatives to provide expanded services to our customers and to provide the necessary disaster recovery tools for our data.

Another major challenge is the maintaining adequate staffing levels. The agency always strives to perform all statutorily-mandated duties while providing excellent customer service; however, not having the personnel needed to ensure effective and timely execution of duties as well as focus on specific business areas remains a challenge. In Fiscal Year 13-14, we will fill two positions in our Business Filings Division which will assist the agency in meeting its statutory requirements.

5. The Accountability Report

The annual Accountability Report illustrates the many accomplishments of the office. Examining the data for each division requires management to do an in-depth evaluation of all agency processes. The report process provides opportunities to improve office operations and discussion to identify possible methods to allow more efficient processing of documents. The data gathered for the report will be instrumental in managing resources and ensuring the highest possible return on investment to the state of South Carolina.

II ORGANIZATIONAL PROFILE

1. Main Products and Services

The Secretary of State is responsible for:

- the statewide registration of domestic and foreign corporations, limited liability companies, limited partnerships, limited liability partnerships, nonprofit corporations and business trusts

The office also handles the following in varying aspects:

- municipal incorporations
- special purpose districts
- annexations of land
- escheatment of real and personal property
- Uniform Real Property Electronic Recording Act

2. Key Customers and Expectations

The Secretary of State's customer base is broad, primarily consisting of:

- taxpayers
- the business community
- the legal community
- the banking community

- corporate service companies
- notaries public
- charities
- professional fundraisers
- commercial co-venturers
- employment agencies
- local and state government

Customers expect accurate, courteous and timely service from our office, which we strive to provide 100% of the time.

3. Key Stakeholders

All citizens of South Carolina including:

- taxpayers
- the business community
- the legal community
- the banking community
- corporate service companies
- notaries public
- charities
- professional fundraisers
- commercial co-venturers
- employment agencies
- local and state government

4. Key Suppliers and Partners

Since our office is primarily a paper-based filing office, most of our suppliers are office product vendors ranging from paper suppliers to office machine maintenance companies. When feasible, we utilize registered small and minority businesses in South Carolina and state printing services.

The office partners with other state agencies such as the Department of Revenue to promote statewide initiatives. Staff members serve on various statewide boards and committees to ensure the best return to the taxpayers.

5. Operating Location

Suite 525 of the Edgar Brown Building, 1205 Pendleton Street, Columbia, SC 29201

6. Employees

As of June 30, 2013, we had the following staff:

- 27 full time employees in FTE positions
- 1 full-time temporary employee

7. Regulatory Environment

- South Carolina Code of Laws and Regulations

8. Performance Improvement System

The office continues to improve operations by automating as many functions as possible and by providing superior customer service. The Secretary of State's Office continues the process of placing data on its website to allow customers direct access to current and historical information.

Through our online charities filing system, Uniform Commercial Code (UCC) online filing, search and retrieval system, and South Carolina Business One Stop (SCBOS), we continue to offer e-government opportunities to our customers.

During the next fiscal year, the office will continue to increase the online options to further enhance our ability to serve our customers.

The Business Filings Division will continue its customer service phone room for quick information or document orders for those customers who prefer telephone over online communication.

I have to say, I've never worked with a more pleasant and helpful group of people that you all.It's a joy, in this day and age, to work with people who are not only knowledgeable, but are kind to those seeking assistance.

III MALCOLM BALDRIGE CRITERIA

Category 1 – Senior Leadership, Governance, and Social Responsibility

1. How do senior leaders set, deploy, and ensure two-way communication for: a) short and long term direction and organizational priorities, b) performance expectations, c) organizational value and ethical behavior?

Senior management meets regularly with supervisors and staff to promote two-way communication. The Chief of Staff and senior management are involved in the day-to-day operations of the office, as well as in the long-range planning for the office's continued success. Senior staff members have worked hard to build an atmosphere that encourages teamwork and high productivity.

The Employee Performance Management System (EPMS) has been revamped for the office, ensuring that all employees are provided a clear and concise document detailing performance expectations. Employees are encouraged to provide feedback and suggestions to improve processes and inspire efficiency. In addition, employees are encouraged by senior management to explore learning opportunities. Management leads by example in the area of ethical behavior by maintaining open communication and open records as would be expected of any public entity.

2. How do senior leaders establish and promote a focus on customers and other stakeholders?

Our most important organizational goal is providing superior customer service to all stakeholders and communicating this expectation to all staff on a daily basis. In addition, management leads by example in responding to inquiries from the public and other officials.

3. How does the organization address the current and potential impact on the public of its programs, services, facilities and operations, including associated risks?

The office maintains high workflow standards to ensure that documents are processed in a timely manner, and that the business community and members of the public receive the required services.

4. How do senior leaders maintain fiscal, legal, and regulatory accountability?

Fiscal, legal, and regulatory accountability are maintained through adherence to all state and federal codes, regulations, and policies, including utilizing the state procurement, accounting and human resource systems.

5. What performance measures do senior leaders regularly review to inform them on needed actions? (Actual results are to be reported in Category 7).

Data accuracy, processing times, employee performance, and customer service levels are constantly reviewed and reassessed to ensure maximum productivity.

6. How do senior leaders use organizational performance review findings and employee feedback to improve their own leadership effectiveness and the effectiveness of management throughout the organization, including the head of the organization and the governance board/policy making body? How do their personal actions reflect a commitment to the organizational values?

Management uses weekly meetings with staff members and staff reports to improve performance and awareness of office issues. Management maintains an open-door policy and promptly addresses concerns of staff members. Senior leaders show their commitment to the organizational values by working as a close team and meeting weekly to do whatever is necessary to accomplish the organization's mission.

7. How do senior leaders promote and personally participate in succession planning and the development of future organizational leaders?

We consistently review all employee position descriptions to determine areas where we could enhance employee learning, provide feedback, or provide cross-training opportunities.

8. How do senior leaders create an environment for performance improvement and the accomplishment of strategic objectives?

We accomplish this through an open-door policy where all employees can share ideas and concerns. In addition, management encourages employees to seek training opportunities and cross-train throughout the office.

9. How do senior leaders create an environment for organizational and workforce learning?

We accomplish this with cross-training throughout the office and by providing training opportunities for staff.

10. How do senior leaders communicate with, engage, empower, and motivate the entire workforce throughout the organization? How do senior leaders take an active role in reward and recognition processes to reinforce high performance throughout the organization?

Senior leaders constantly are striving to improve communication between staff to further the mission of the office. The open-door policy has been critical in creating the productive atmosphere in the office. During the year we had employee appreciation lunches and management shares commendation letters received with the entire office to highlight employee achievements.

11. How do senior leaders actively support and strengthen the communities in which your organization operates? Include how senior leaders determine areas of emphasis for organizational involvement and support, and how senior leaders, the workforce, and the organization contribute to improving these communities.

Secretary Hammond has made community outreach a priority for all divisions of the agency. Senior leadership supports the community through customer service initiatives and personal involvement in our communities. Furthermore, we encourage all employees to be active in the community, including supporting employees in religious and charitable activities, and volunteer opportunities.

Secretary of State Mark Hammond

Secretary Hammond and staff with the UCC Online Award from the International Association of Commercial Administrators-IACA

Secretary of State Mark Hammond is active in a number of governmental and community organizations, and has received numerous awards and recognitions for his commitment to public service. Secretary Hammond is an ex-officio member of the South Carolina Consumer Affairs Commission and Legislative Council. He is a past member of the Executive Board of the National Association of Secretaries of State (NASS) as an At-Large Member where he served as the liaison to the Notary Public Administrators (NPA) section of the organization. He also serves on the International Relations Committee, the Standing Committee on Business Services, and the Company Formation Task Force for this same organization. He previously served as Vice President of the South Carolina Association of Countywide Elected Executives. Secretary Hammond has been named an Outstanding Alumnus by the South Carolina Shrine Bowl for Public Service, a Henry Toll Fellow by the Council of State Governments, a Colonel by the Honorable Order of the Kentucky Colonels, a Rising State Leader by the Canadian Embassy and Canadian Consulates General, a recipient of the Sesquicentennial Medal of Honor Award and an Outstanding Alumni, Newberry College. In 2009, Secretary Hammond was elected as a Trustee to Spartanburg Methodist College.

1. What is your Strategic Planning process, including key participant and how does it address:
 - a. your organizations' strengths, weaknesses, opportunities and threats;
 - b. financial, regulatory, societal and other potential risks;
 - c. shifts in technology and customer preferences;
 - d. workforce capabilities and needs;
 - e. organizational continuity in emergencies;
 - f. your ability to execute the strategic plan.

All levels of management are involved in our strategic planning process, incorporating both employee and customer feedback. Managers and employees monitor our customers' demands through personal contact during the day and by recording complaints and suggestions. Employee input is also a factor. Management regularly meets to discuss how this impacts our office and influences our strategic plan.

2. How do your strategic objectives address the strategic challenges you identified in your Executive Summary?

In order to keep up with the constant changes in technology and to provide the level of service for our customers, improvements in our computer systems and applications are a priority. In a small agency with such a high volume of work processed via computer systems, it is critical to provide the necessary technology. In addition, the small number of staff within the office creates challenges in fulfilling all of our statutory duties.

3. How do you develop and track action plans that address your key strategic objectives, and how do you allocate resources to ensure the accomplishment of your action plans?

The office develops and tracks action plans through communication with all staff and customers. Resources are allocated as needed based on the urgency of the action items and customer demand. Staff cross-training continues to be critical in order for us to address the needs of the customers with a small staff.

4. How do you communicate and deploy your strategic objectives, action plans and related performance measures?

We deploy action plans through active communications between all levels of management and staff.

5. How do you measure progress on your action plans?

We measure progress on our action plans by regularly reviewing statistics. Our primary focus is meeting customer needs. We have daily contact with our customers and we evaluate whether the needs of those customers are being met. If we encounter customer complaints, we evaluate whether action plans need to change, and decide what steps need to be taken to improve customer satisfaction.

6. How do you evaluate and improve your strategic planning process?

We measure progress by the monitoring of status reports and weekly meetings. Whenever possible, the agency reviews barriers to organizational effectiveness and initiates objectives to address those barriers. As organizational barriers change from time to time, the agency constantly evaluates strategic objectives and changes them accordingly.

7. If the agency's strategic plan is available to the public through the agency's internet homepage, please provide a website address for that plan.

Our strategic plan is not available to the public at this time. We will continue to work on our strategic objectives and make those available when appropriate. We do provide information about our agency's mission on our website at www.sos.sc.gov.

Category 3- Customer Focus

1. How do you determine who your customers are and what their key requirements are?

Our customers and their requirements are mandated by statute.

2. How do you keep your listening and learning methods current with changing customer/business needs and expectations?

We keep methods current through customer feedback, customer inquiries, and training for professional groups.

3. What are your key customer access mechanisms, and how do these access mechanisms enable customers to seek information, conduct business, and make complaints?

Thank you....You provide the most efficient and friendliest service of any state.

--Customer email June 2013

Customers may call or email our staff. We also have a feedback mechanism on the website which allows customers to submit questions for staff and provide comments. We evaluate any problems that customers have in filing documents and address the concerns. We also offer electronic filing for some services to customers to allow those who prefer online services.

4. How do you measure customer/stakeholder satisfaction and dissatisfaction, and use this information to improve?

We measure customer satisfaction through constant customer interaction. Senior leaders respond daily to customer inquiries from our webpage and monitor whether there are areas that need improvement. In addition, senior staff meets with all managers and employees to determine customers concerns and satisfactory resolutions.

5. How do you use information and feedback from customers/stakeholders to keep services and programs relevant and provide for continuous improvement?

We receive customer feedback via telephone calls, letters, and contact through our website. Suggestions and concerns are analyzed for ways to enhance the services that we provide.

I am aware of the value that employees bring to an agency, and I believe appropriate recognition should be provided to those who go well beyond the expectations of the job to provide excellence. Congratulations for surrounding yourself with quality employees and many thanks to (employee) for her outstanding service.

-- Customer Letter August 2012

6. How do you build positive relationships with customers and stakeholders to meet and exceed their expectations? Indicate any key distinctions between different customer and stakeholder groups.

We build positive relationships through responsive customer service and constantly strive to offer new and innovative ways for customers to file documents. Our customers often share with us feedback on how we exceed their expectations, which encourages us to do even more.

Category 4- Measurement, Analysis, and Knowledge Management

1. How do you decide which operations, processes and systems to measure for tracking financial and operational performance, including progress relative to strategic objectives and action plans?

We decide which operations to measure based on requirements as provided by statutes. All functions of the office are statutorily mandated with some having time limits on filings and response times.

2. How do you select, collect, align, and integrate data/information for analysis to provide effective support for decision making and innovation throughout your organization?

We monitor workloads by division, as well as by processing times. Supervisors are responsible for notifying senior management of work flow statuses in weekly reports. These reports tell us where our greatest needs are and allow us to reallocate resources to areas with the greatest workload to ensure efficient processing of documents.

3. What are your key measures, how do you review them, and how do you keep them current with organizational service needs and direction?

Our primary measures are:

- number of filings
- number of searches
- length of time between filing and data entry
- average customer wait time in our phone room

- revenue collected through fees
- registered charitable organizations
- administrative fine revenue from charities
- prosecutions of charity fraud and counterfeit trademarks
- employee turnover and morale

These measurements are the most critical ones to our mission. Our history in filing and regulating has shown us that these measurements are the most important not only to analyze past performance, but to predict future trends. The measurements directly relate to our mission of providing the most cost-efficient and consumer-friendly service in state government. Finally, this data is used by all senior leaders, including Secretary Hammond, to make agency decisions and policy changes.

4. How do you select and use key comparative data and information to support operational and strategic decision making and innovation?

For comparative data we look to our past performance and also outside sources. Although we do not have a natural competitor, we do compare our services to those offered by other secretary of states' offices. While duties vary by state, many secretaries of state offer expedited filings for an extra fee, but we offer 48 hour turnaround service at no charge. This is important since many of our customers (banks, lawyers, and corporations) deal with many different secretary of states' offices.

5. How do you ensure data integrity, reliability, timeliness, accuracy, security and availability for decision making?

We ensure data measures through the use of innovative technology whenever possible. All current and future system requirements include the ability to produce data for decision making. In FY 12-13, we continued to monitor and update technology infrastructure to the extent permitted by agency resources in order to maintain data integrity.

6. How do you translate organizational performance review findings into priorities for continuous improvement?

The agency uses this information to set priorities and goals for the agency.

7. How do you collect, transfer, and maintain organizational and workforce knowledge (knowledge assets)? How do you identify and share best practices as appropriate?

We maintain employee knowledge by offering new training opportunities as well as cross-training throughout departments within the agency. In addition, all EPMS planning stages include requirements for division manuals, where relevant, for future knowledge sharing.

Category 5- Workforce Focus

1. How does management organize and manage work to enable your workforce to: 1) develop to their full potential, aligned with the organization's objectives, strategies, and action plans; and 2) to promote cooperation, initiative, empowerment, teamwork, innovation, and your organizational culture?

We organize workloads based on supervisor input and statistics. We utilize employees where most needed. We also give options to employees to work in areas where they wish to gain additional knowledge. Cross-training is conducted by an employee's peer, which fosters teamwork and cooperation. In addition, employees are encouraged to offer innovative strategies to enhance or streamline the processes on which they are trained.

2. How do you achieve effective communication and knowledge, skill/best practice sharing across departments, jobs, and locations? Give examples.

We implemented a cross-training program throughout the agency. With a small staff providing numerous services utilizing cross-training is critical to ensure customer service goals are met.

3. How does management recruit, hire, place, and retain new employees? Describe any barriers that you may encounter.

With such a small staff, we do not have a high rate of turnover. When a position becomes available, we recruit and hire through the Office of Human Resources NeoGov system as the budget allows. The barriers that we face are trying to find staff who can perform many different duties and who possess a variety of job skills based on of our limited number of full time employee (FTE) positions.

4. How do you assess your workforce capability and capacity needs, including skills, competencies, and staffing levels?

We utilize data from processing times as well as input from supervisors. When changes need to be made or additional training needs to be provided, we take the necessary steps to ensure that the agency has the staff member assigned to the duties that lead to the most productivity in the agency. Regular management staff meetings are critical in assessing these needs.

5. How does your workforce performance management system, including feedback to and from individual members of the workforce, support high performance work and contribute to the achievement of your action plans?

The emphasis that the senior management team places on the importance of the EPMS is related to supervisory staff and employees. In order to improve performance and address the needs to the agency, good two-way communication is essential.

6. How does your development and learning system for leaders address the following:
 - a. development of personal leadership attributes;

- b. development of organizational knowledge;*
- c. ethical practices;*
- d. your core competencies, strategic challenges, and accomplishment of action plans?*

Leaders are encouraged to attend seminars and complete training that will enhance the agency work environment. The agency attorneys attend continuing legal education seminars, which include ethics training. Senior management also leads by example.

7. How do you identify and address key developmental training needs for your workforce, including job skills training, performance excellence training, diversity training, management/leadership development, new employee orientation and safety training?

Our training needs are determined by the area of the office involved. Where outside training applies to our office's functions, employees are encouraged to actively participate. Our charities staff actively participates in the National Association of State Charity Officials, through conference calls, and also in Internal Revenue Service video seminars. Our Chief of Staff is a graduate of the Executive Institute. Our Business Filings Director and Chief of Staff participate in the International Association of Commercial Administrators (IACA) and in the Notary Public Administrators section of NASS. Finally, our attorneys attend continuing legal education training relevant to our office's mission.

We continue to emphasize internal training. New employees are assigned to a supervisor to learn our system. Experienced employees are cross-trained, effectively improving morale while also providing the office the ability to shift employees when the situation demands it. Cross-training also broadens our employees' knowledge of the office and enables them to advance through the organization.

8. How do you encourage on the job use of new knowledge and skills?

There is an expectation of sharing knowledge within the agency. Senior management stresses the importance of teamwork. In order for the agency to succeed, each division must work together to meet the overall goals of the agency. Senior staff realizes that each staff member contributes to the overall success of the agency.

9. How does employee training contribute to the achievement of your action plans?

Employee training is critical to meet the agency's goals. Because the agency has many duties it is critical that training be an ongoing process.

10. How do you evaluate the effectiveness of your workforce and leader training and development systems?

Meeting the needs of our customers with excellent customer service combined with timely processing times are the goals of the agency. Continuing to meet these expectations is a result of the guidance provided by senior management and supervisors.

11. How do you motivate your workforce to develop and utilize their full potential?

Serving customers throughout the day while performing other duties can be challenging; therefore, managers work beside their employees and step in when help is needed, encouraging a positive work environment. In fact, most of the office is physically designed in an open environment allowing employees to easily interact and not feel isolated. All employees understand that it is best to ask questions, and that no door is closed to inquiries.

Senior leaders encourage employees to pursue training opportunities and offer incentives to employees who perform well. During FY 12-13, senior leaders sponsored several employee appreciation gatherings. Senior leaders are involved in employee training programs and worked side-by-side with all employees to support learning efforts. Employees have also been recognized in front of their peers for jobs well done.

12. What formal and/or informal assessment methods and measures do you use to obtain information on workforce well-being, satisfaction, and motivation? How do you use other measures such as employee retention and grievances? How do you use this information?

We maintain an open-door policy for employees with senior management and periodically meet with employees to discuss their work environment and encourage employees to expand upon their knowledge. We discuss training opportunities and future goals.

13. How do you manage effective career progression and effective succession planning for our entire workforce throughout the organization?

With such a small agency there are a limited number of job openings. However, with office-wide cross-training, staff members learn new skills that enable them to grow within the agency as new opportunities arise.

14. How do you maintain a safe, secure, and healthy work environment? (Include your workplace preparedness for emergencies and disasters).

A healthy, safe work environment creates high morale. Our staff normally does not get involved in work activities that have a high rate of injury. We will continue using Prevention Partners' materials to promote healthy lifestyles. We also created an emergency preparedness plan for the agency. We are constantly looking at ways to offer some protection for staff. With the high volume of walk-in customers we serve daily, security is a major concern. We have experienced instances where it was necessary to contact the Bureau of Protective Services. Ensuring staff safety is a daily challenge.

Category 6- Process Management

1. How do you determine, and what are your organization's core competencies, and how do they relate to your mission, competitive environment, and action plans?

Our agency's core competencies are dictated by statute. All of the agency's duties are statutorily mandated. We utilize our action plans and mission statement to accomplish our goals directly related to our core competencies.

2. How do you determine, and what are your key processes that produce, create or add value for your customers and your organization and how do they relate to your core competencies? How do you ensure that these processes are used?

Since all of our staff members are in direct contact with customers throughout the day, our processes are designed with the customer in mind.

Services we continued this year were:

- a format for our forms so that customers can complete them on their own computers while on our website, 24 hours a day
- a corporate phone room to quickly resolve questions
- searchable corporate database on our website
- debit accounts for our larger business customers in our Business Filings division
- 24-hour online charity-related filing and search capabilities
- a toll-free number in our Charities division for customer inquiries and complaints
- online notary search
- the UCC online filing system to search, file and retrieve UCC documents 24 hours a day
- UCC online filing with XML filing capabilities for large volume filings

Our corporate phone room is staffed and designed to handle the large volume of calls concerning various corporations and filings. We set up our website so customers may access forms, filing instructions, fees or our databases from their computer. The Charities Division has a toll-free line to handle consumer calls and the division's database is on our website with information on how much a charity raised in donations and how much was spent towards its charitable cause.

All of these services add value for our customers and directly relate to our core competencies in that the services are provided to offer excellent customer service while meeting our statutory duties.

3. How do you incorporate organizational knowledge, new technology, cost controls, and other efficiency and effectiveness factors such as cycle time, into process design and delivery?

We incorporate organizational knowledge with our training systems and utilize the knowledge of long-time employees. We also utilize new technology initiatives to improve efficiency and effectiveness.

4. How does your day-to-day operation of these processes ensure meeting key performance requirements?

We monitor daily statistics on computer systems and workload amounts to determine where resources are needed to meet performance requirements.

5. How do you systematically evaluate and improve your key product and service related work processes?

We constantly monitor customer feedback as well as other state agencies and secretary of state's offices throughout the country for better ways to deliver our products and services. This process allows us to not only react quickly to customer demands, but also to anticipate changing demands and act on them before they occur. However, budgetary constraints restrict many desired improvements.

6. What are your key support processes and how do you evaluate, improve and update these processes to achieve better performance?

Our key support management comes from senior leadership. All senior leaders monitor production measurements in order to ensure quality service and to shift resources accordingly. We do not closely monitor process systems with key suppliers as we use only a few of these suppliers irregularly throughout the year.

7. How does your organization determine the resources needed to meet current and projected budget and financial obligations?

The Director of Administration maintains financial information on all agency activities. She approves all purchase/expenditure requests based on resources available and provides periodic updates on financial conditions to the rest of the management team.

Category 7 – Results

7.1 What are your performance levels and trends for the key measures of mission accomplishment/product and service performance that are important to your customers? How do your results compare to those of comparable organizations?

To fully appreciate the accomplishment of our mission, the volume of work and how quickly we process our workload, it is important to note the large volume of documents received for filing. Our customers are primarily business customers who need to have their documents handled quickly and efficiently.

Measuring the number of filings processed in the office helps us to properly allocate our resources (staff, operating expenses) to provide quality customer service.

Total Office Filings

We continue to see a large volume of filings throughout the office. In FY 12-13, the office filed 193,192 documents to meet statutory requirements set forth by the General Assembly. This number does not include rejected filings or staff time spent with customers explaining the filing process. Staffing levels greatly impact agency responsiveness, thus requiring leadership staff to manage resources as efficiently as possible. Legal staff assists not only staff on a daily basis, but members of the public and attorneys with many different questions and issues that arise related to the many different functions of the office.

We maintain high standards of customer service throughout the office. We continue to offer immediate filing services for walk-in customers at no additional charge. Our goal in the Business Filings Division continues to be a 48-hour turnaround of documents. We consistently meet this goal with exceptions during peak filing seasons. We exceed this standard with the filing of Uniform Commercial Code documents, which are filed within 24 hours or immediately online. The South Carolina Secretary of State continues to offer this service without additional fees unlike many other states.

Our Business Filings Division is our highest volume division since it involves both corporate and UCC filings.

The following charts from our Business Filings Division show the consistent high volume of filings.

Business Filings Total Accepted Filings

In FY 12-13, the Business Filings Division processed 134,382 filings, which is over 6,000 more than the previous year. By allocating the staff according to volume and responsibilities, and by emphasizing cross-training, we achieve two main components of our mission: superior customer service and 48-hour turnaround. The turnaround time is a concept that addresses how long a filing is in the office before it is processed and returned to the customer. The division strives to handle all filings as quickly as possible, even when working with a high volume of filings, phone calls and customer in-office visits.

In addition to processing corporate and UCC filings, the division also process requests for documents and processes a large volume of other work on a daily basis.

Other Filing Processes

Commitment to Electronic Government Services

In FY 12-13, we saw an increase of the number of total office filings. With the increase in filings, we will continue to strive to provide additional online services for our customers. The online UCC search, file, and retrieval system for 24- hours- a- day customer access continues to be a success. During FY 12-13, we continued to see an increase in the number of online searches, and the number of online filings will continue to increase as we implement additional customer filing capabilities. The agency maintains several key databases and other information on our website. The databases that are available for searches and information include our Corporations, Uniform Commercial Code, Charities and Notary Public databases. These databases allow our customers to research a particular organization without calling our office. The Charities database also calculates the percentage a charity spends on their program services. The Charities and UCC online filing systems allows customers to file online 24 hours a day.

Similarly, we offer the customer the ability to complete forms online and download them for filing. The forms are constantly updated and improved for the convenience of our customers.

The agency continues to add services to the website to enhance the customer's access to information and services. In the near future, we hope to expand our business filings services, and enhance our current website offerings. Additionally, in FY 13-14, we hope to provide an online search tool for State Boards and Commissions.

Division of Public Charities

The Secretary of State serves as administrator of the South Carolina Solicitation of Charitable Funds Act. Under the Act, the mission of the Secretary of State's Division of Public Charities is to: (1) efficiently register all charitable organizations and professional fundraisers that are soliciting in the state of South Carolina; (2) review all financial reports submitted by registered charities and fundraisers and make this information available to the public; and (3) investigate and prosecute all violations of the Solicitation of Charitable Funds Act.

The Solicitation of Charitable Funds Act requires charitable organizations and professional fundraisers to file registration statements and financial reports on an annual basis. The financial reports show how much money a charity raises, how the money is spent, and how much money is spent on professional fundraisers. Secretary Hammond strongly believes that it is a beneficial public service to have these records readily available for public examination, as an increased understanding of how charitable dollars are spent leads to more informed decisions when making charitable donations. To this end, Secretary Hammond holds an annual Angel and Scrooges ceremony to recognize charitable organizations which spend 80% or more of their expenditures on their charitable services, as well raise awareness of organizations that spend less than 40% of their expenditures on charitable services.

Secretary Hammond and members of the Division of Public Charities continued to promote public awareness of wise charitable giving and compliance with the Solicitation of Charitable Funds Act in FY 12-13, by conducting educational presentations at professional conferences, fraternal organizations and social clubs throughout the state. The Secretary of State's Office also maintained a national presence in the enforcement of charity regulations through its involvement in the National Association of State Charity Officials (NASCO).

In FY 12-13, Secretary Hammond continued to make the registration of fundraising organizations active in the state of South Carolina a priority of the Charities Division. Charitable organization registrations in FY 12-13 increased 13% over FY 11-12, while professional fundraiser registrations increased by 8%. The increase in registrations was partly attributable to increased inquiries and complaints from members of the public, as well as increased monitoring of charitable solicitations by staff.

Likewise, enforcement efforts and public awareness initiatives in FY 12-13 resulted in another record-breaking year for fine revenue in the Division of Public Charities. In FY 12-13, the Division collected $309,098.00 in fines for violations of the Solicitation of Charitable Funds Act—an increase of 14.2% over the previous fiscal year. Secretary Hammond also reached settlements with professional solicitors Midwest Publishing-DN (MPI) and InfoCision that resulted in fines of $30,000.00 and $10,000.00 respectively.

In FY 12-13, use of the Secretary of State's Online Charities Filing System increased by 8% for charity registrations and by 10% for charity financial reports. In FY 13-14, Secretary Hammond expects to implement technology enhancements that will improve the accessibility and accuracy of the Online Filing System.

Fines Collected by the Charities Division

Another important measurement in the Division of Public Charities is the amount of administrative fines recovered. Charities and professional solicitors who do not register or do not file their financial records on time are subject to fines under the Solicitation of Charitable Funds Act. More importantly, the Charities Division also fines charities and professional solicitors who mislead the public in their solicitations. The Charities Division proactively sends out notices to all charities and fundraisers reminding them to register and to file financial reports. However, the need to issue fines for those in non-compliance remains. In FY 12-13, the Charities Division collected an unprecedented amount of fines due to increased enforcement efforts and public outreach to educate charitable donors.

Trademarks Division and Counterfeit Goods Enforcement

Counterfeit medication seized

Counterfeit merchandise

The Secretary of State's Office examines and registers trademarks and service marks in South Carolina, and also assists law enforcement in the investigation and seizure of counterfeit goods. In FY 12-13, the Secretary of State's Office processed 939 registrations of trademarks and service marks. In that same time period, the Secretary of State's Office assisted local, state, and federal law enforcement agencies in the seizure of $7,324,590.00 in counterfeit goods—the largest amount of counterfeit seized in the history of the office. This included the seizure of nearly $4 million in counterfeit prescription drugs being sold out of a warehouse in Columbia, South Carolina. The Secretary of State's Office also assisted law enforcement in 41 arrests and the issuance of 39 cease-and-desist letters to traffickers in counterfeit merchandise. Furthermore, Secretary of State's Office staff coordinated and hosted an International Anti-Counterfeiting Coalition Conference to educate local and state enforcement agencies on the identification of counterfeit goods, trends in counterfeit trafficking, case development, and state laws governing trademarks. Investigative staff also provided training at the 2012 Annual Gang/Security Threat Conference held by the South Carolina Department of Corrections.

7.2 What are your performance levels and trends for the key measures of customer satisfaction and dissatisfaction (a customer is defined as an actual or potential user of your organization's products or services)? How do your results compare to those of comparable organizations?

The primary measure we use to gauge customer satisfaction is daily feedback from our customers. Many customers come to our office in person to file documents, place calls to the business filings call center, and visit our website. The office strives to respond to all customer requests within 24 hours and provide access to any member of the management team if needed.

In addition to the feedback we receive from our telephone and walk-in customers, we also have a contact and feedback form and website survey on the agency website to encourage customer feedback.

Contact and Feedback Form

Staff members receive several hundred messages through this means every month. Messages are routed by department and staff in each division reviews these requests daily. Managers randomly review all requests to incorporate common requests into the business plan.

We also evaluate whether we are meeting the needs of our customers through a website survey. Survey results range from extremely positive to very unsatisfied. We have found that a large percentage of those customers who are not satisfied with our website are either requesting more online services or are requesting items outside the scope of this office. As mentioned previously we are working to provide as many online services as possible.

Other Measures

In addition, we focus on workload completion times. We have stringent timelines established for every division. These timelines are monitored daily by senior management, and any issues are addressed through reallocation of staff and other accommodations.

It is difficult to compare our agency with other secretary of state's offices. Other secretaries' offices throughout the nation perform different duties as mandated by state law. In addition, the statutes that govern these agency processes vary greatly nationwide. Agency size is also a factor that limits meaningful comparison.

7.3 What are your performance levels for the key measures on financial performance, including measures of cost containment, as appropriate?

The Secretary of State's Office prides itself on being one of the most fiscally responsible agencies in state government. The office maintains its fiscal integrity by controlling its growth and monitoring every dollar spent.

These savings to the taxpayer are magnified when one takes into account our appropriated funds and compares them to the revenue our office generates to contribute to the General Fund.

Revenue Collected for General Fund vs. General Fund Expenditures

Once again, in FY 12-13, the Secretary of State's Office generated revenue for the General Fund that far exceeded appropriated funds. This year the office returned almost six times its general fund appropriations.

7.4 What are your performance levels and trends for the key measures of workforce engagement, workforce satisfaction, the development of your workforce, including leaders, workforce retention, workforce climate including workplace health, safety, and security?

Our key measures for employee satisfaction are length of employment, employee turnover, ability to perform numerous functions in the office, and involvement in activities outside the office.

Length of employment is an important measure as it indicates loyalty to the office, level of job satisfaction and morale. Long-time employees also provide the office with a high degree of institutional knowledge. Such a large number of long-time employees indicates that there is a high level of job satisfaction and morale in our office. However, we must keep this constantly in mind and provide the most positive work environment possible.

To promote a positive work environment, senior management has sponsored numerous employee appreciation events including holiday gatherings and luncheons. Employees have embraced the open door policy and provided numerous comments to management about how happy they are with the current environment and how they feel appreciated. Finally, most of our employees can perform more than one task in our office. This shows a willingness to learn and contribute to the office's mission as a whole.

7.5 What are your performance levels and trends for your key measures of organizational effectiveness/operational efficiency, and work system performance (these could include measures related to the following: product, service and work system innovation rates and improvement results; improvement to cycle time; supplier and partner performance; and results related to emergency drills or exercises)?

Our primary measure is customer satisfaction. Our desired performance level for this measure is 100%. All measures directly relate to our mission of providing the most cost efficient and consumer friendly service in state government.

Some performance measures utilized are:

- 48-hour turnaround for business filing documents
- Maintaining a high ratio of funds returned to the state compared to funds used for the operation of the office
- Effective administration and enforcement of the Solicitation of Charitable Funds Act
- Investigation of all reported trademark violations
- Low employee turnover

7.6 What are your performance levels and trends for the key measures of regulatory/legal compliance and community support? Note: For a governmental agency, this question would apply to compliance with laws and regulations other than the agency's central legal mandate. Results of the agency's legal mandate or mission should be addressed in question 7.1.

We adhere to all state and federal guidelines regarding operations at our agency including procurement practices, human resources, and financial accounting practices.
