AGENCY'S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS

Building on the momentum generated in previous years, in 2018, the state won 162 economic development projects, accounting for more than $4.1 billion in capital investment and approximately 14,000 new jobs. More than just creating opportunities for the citizens of South Carolina, these projects will help diversify the state's economy, making it more prosperous and resilient in the years to come.

An example of this diversity, the state recruited more than 4,000 jobs in the office, headquarters and research and development sector last year. Now, in addition to leading the way in manufacturing, South Carolina is also becoming a top destination for headquarters facilities and other office projects.

For the ninth consecutive year, South Carolina set a record for total export sales in 2018, as the state's exporters sold $34.6 billion in products in more than 195 countries around the world. This sales figure represents a 7.5 percent increase over the 2017 total and ranks 14th among all states.

"We've cultivated a globally-connected economy in South Carolina, and last year's export sales total reflects that," said Secretary of Commerce Bobby Hitt. "Moving forward, we will continue to prioritize the growth of our international trade footprint and will encourage companies of all sizes to expand their reach into new markets overseas."

South Carolina's international trade activity grew and diversified in 2018:

S.C. Department of Commerce 2018 Top Accomplishments

- Diverse recruitment activity: In 2018, the state won 162 economic development projects, accounting for $4.17 billion in capital investment and 14,071 new jobs. Office and headquarters projects accounted for approximately 30% of total job recruitment. New projects accounted for higher percentages of capital investment (52%) and job creation totals (61%) than expansions did in 2018.
- Record-breaking export success: For the ninth consecutive year, S.C. set a record for total export sales in 2018 totaling $34.6 billion, according to data from the U.S. Department of Commerce. The figure represents a 7.5% increase over the 2017 total.

3. Leader in manufacturing job growth: Long considered a manufacturing powerhouse, South Carolina continues to be a top tier state in the region in manufacturing job growth. Over the last 10 years, the average manufacturing growth in the state was 18%, which ranks second in the Southeast.
4. Brand awareness in business community: In 2018, South Carolina continued to elevate its brand on the global economic stage as many internationally-recognized firms announced significant investments in the Palmetto State. Among them were: Google, Keurig Dr. Pepper, Samsung Electronics America, Inc. and more.
5. Small and existing business support: Strengthening existing industry and small business services continued to be a key focus. In 2018, S.C. Commerce participated in a number of programs to support business growth, including B2B events, supplier outreach and export assistance. S.C. Commerce staff made more than 525 contacts with small businesses and an additional 596 contacts with existing industries. In a survey conducted a few months after last year's Automotive B2B Supplier Matchmaker, approximately 25% of participating OEMs and suppliers reported new contracts as a result of relationships formed at the event.
6. Focus on rural communities: In an effort to bring economic development to communities of all sizes, the state's rural areas remained a priority and strategic focus. Over the last eight years, South Carolina has recruited more than $7.5 billion in new capital investment and 26,800 new jobs to rural communities. In fact, 19% of last year's job recruitment total and 34% of the investment total went to Tier III and Tier IV counties. S.C. Commerce has dedicated staff piloting a rural strategy program in five of the state's Tier III or Tier IV counties.
7. Workforce collaboration: As South Carolina continues to build a workforce development system that will align state resources and programs with the ever-changing needs of industry, the S.C. Coordinating Council for Workforce Development hosted the WorkforceONE Summit. A first-of-its-kind, this event brought together more than 80 leaders in business, education and workforce development to help chart the future direction of workforce.
8. Igniting innovation: As part of S.C. Commerce's ongoing effort to support and grow an innovative, technology-based and entrepreneurial business environment, the Office of Innovation had an impactful year. The office announced 3Phase, a new effort aimed at helping small businesses acquire federal funding, as well as S.C. Codes, a statewide program designed to provide free access to code education for all S.C. residents. Additionally, the office launched Scribble, an online tool that provides the innovation community a platform to access resources and enhance connectivity.
9. Infrastructure improvements: This past April, the Surface Transportation Board published the final environmental assessment, representing a major project milestone, for the Camp Hall Rail Line project. The proposed rail line will bring industrial rail service to Camp Hall Commerce Park in Berkeley County, while supporting overall infrastructure needs and opening the door to greater economic development efforts in South Carolina.

Risk Assessment and Mitigation Strategies

1. Potential public impact: Should S.C. Commerce not accomplish its goals and objectives, the public would potentially realize the impact with a general decrease in economic opportunity. If industry recruitment is slower, there would likely be a decrease in employment opportunities and an overall decline in the state's economic health.

2. Potential outside mitigation efforts: While S.C. Commerce cannot control some of the factors that directly influence the state's business operating climate, the Commerce team has adopted a pro-active approach to ensure companies already operating within our borders have the support and available resources to best navigate any uncertainty. S.C. Commerce has been engaged with state and federal representatives, as appropriate, to discuss issues potentially impacting industry within our borders – all with a commitment to continue to provide a pro-business environment for existing and prospect industry.

3. Three options for the General Assembly to help resolve the issue (before it becomes a crisis):
 - a) To sustain the state's economic development momentum, the General Assembly would be deliberate in maintaining South Carolina's pro-business environment.
 - b) To preserve the benefit of statewide collaboration, the General Assembly would retain support for TeamSC, which includes regional alliances and partners such as the SC Manufacturing Extension Partnership, Small Business Development Centers, and Council on Competitiveness.
 - c) As the economy continues to diversify, the General Assembly would be receptive to modifying the state's incentive structure to meet these evolving needs and keep South Carolina competitive with neighboring states.
