How Agency Uses Taxpayer Money

The agency's goals, which should be in line with the agency's mission and assist it in accomplishing its vision, are presented below. The goals are in order from largest to smallest, based on the percentage of total money the agency spent toward accomplishment of each. The data in this table highlight how the agency is investing the money it receives from the people of the state and nation. Further details about the amounts spent on the individual objectives within each goal as well as the performance measures, which should show the return the state is receiving on its investment, are provided on later pages.

Mission: The agency's mission is "[t]o effectively and efficiently serve the citizens of South Carolina by ensuring the safety of children and adults who cannot protect themselves and helping families achieve stability through child support, child care, financial and other temporary benefits while transitioning into employment."³

Vision: The agency's vision is for there to be "[j]obs for parents and other adults living in poverty" and "[s]afe and thriving children with life-long families sooner."⁴

LEGISLATIVE OVERSIGHT - OVERVIEW

Foundation

The South Carolina State Constitution requires the General Assembly to provide for appropriate agencies in the areas of health, welfare, and safety and to determine their activities, powers, and duties.⁶ Stated public policy provides that this “continuing and ongoing obligation of the General Assembly is best addressed by periodic review of the programs of the agencies and their responsiveness to the needs of the state's citizens. . . .”⁷ The periodic reviews are accomplished through the legislative oversight process.⁸ Specific statutes relating to legislative oversight are included in South Carolina Code of Laws Section 2-2-5 et seq.

Purpose and Schedule

The stated purpose of legislative oversight is to determine if agency laws and programs are being implemented and carried out in accordance with the intent of the South Carolina General Assembly and whether or not they should be continued, curtailed, or even eliminated.⁹ The South Carolina House of Representatives’ Legislative Oversight Committee (“House Oversight Committee” or “Committee”) recognizes that a legislative oversight study informs the public about an agency.¹⁰ To accomplish legislative oversight, the specific task of the Committee is to conduct a study on each agency at least once every seven years.¹¹ To guide the work of the Committee in completing its task, a seven-year study schedule is published in the House Journal the first day of each legislative session.¹²

Information Considered

Oversight studies must consider: (1) the application, administration, execution, and effectiveness of laws and programs; (2) the organization and operation of agencies; and (3) any conditions or circumstances that may indicate the necessity or desirability of enacting new or additional legislation.¹³ Evidence or information relating to a study may be acquired by any lawful means, including: serving a request for information on an agency; deposing witnesses; issuing subpoenas that require the production of documents; and, with certain exceptions, requiring the agency to prepare and submit a program evaluation report by a specified date.¹⁴ Testimony given to the investigating committee must be under oath.¹⁵ All witnesses are entitled to counsel, and they shall be given the benefit of any privilege which they may claim in court as a party to a civil action.¹⁶ Certain criminal provisions are applicable during the legislative oversight process, including contempt of the General Assembly.¹⁷ Joint investigations with the South Carolina Senate (“Senate”) or with other committees in the South Carolina House of Representatives (“House”) are authorized.¹⁸

AGENCY STUDY - ACTIONS

House Oversight Committee's Actions

On January 7, 2015, the House Oversight Committee approved seven-year study recommendations for the Speaker of the House that included a recommendation that the Department of Social Services (“agency” or “DSS”) be studied in 2015.¹⁹ The Speaker approved the recommendations, which were published in the House Journal on January 13, 2015.²⁰ The Committee approved DSS as one of the first state agencies to be studied on February 5, 2015.²¹

The Committee notified the agency about the study on February 10, 2015. As the Committee encourages collaboration in its legislative oversight process, the Speaker, standing committee chairs in the House, members of the House, Clerk of the Senate, Joint Citizens and Legislative Committee Children, and the Governor were also notified about the agency study. The Honorable Mia S. McLeod serves on both the House Oversight Committee and the Joint Citizens and Legislative Committee on Children.

Also, the agency is under review by the Senate DSS Oversight Committee, which is a subdivision of the Senate General Committee. Information about the Senate DSS Oversight committee is available online, including a report released March 25, 2015.²²

Subcommittee's Actions

The Healthcare Subcommittee (“Subcommittee”) of the House Oversight Committee is studying the agency. The Chair of the Subcommittee is the Honorable Nathan Ballentine.²³ Other members include: the Honorable Mia S. McLeod, the Honorable Walton J. McLeod, and the Honorable Bill Taylor.²⁴

Meetings with the Agency

The Subcommittee has now met with the agency on two occasions. DSS State Director V. Susan Alford (“agency head”) provided the Subcommittee with a brief overview of the agency during an introductory meeting, which was held on March 17, 2015.²⁵ The Subcommittee met with the agency again on May 7, 2015 to discuss the scope of the study to the agency.²⁶ Additionally, on September 30, 2015, an ad hoc committee of the House Oversight Committee met with the agency.

Information from the Public

From May 1, 2015, until May 31, 2015, the Committee posted an online survey to solicit comments from the public about the Department and other agencies. There were 1,788 responses to the survey, with at least one response coming from each of the 46 South Carolina counties.²⁷ These comments are not considered testimony.²⁸ As noted in the survey, “input and observations from those citizens who [chose] to provide responses are very important . . . because they may help direct the Committee to potential areas for improvement with these agencies.”²⁹ The public may continue to submit written comments about agencies online.³⁰

Information from the Agency

The Committee asked the agency to conduct a self-analysis by requiring it to complete and submit a restructuring report, seven-year plan for cost savings and increased efficiencies, and program evaluation report. The agency submitted its restructuring report and seven-year plan, which were combined into a single report this year, on April 30, 2015, after being granted an extension by the Committee. The agency submitted its program evaluation report on May 22, 2015. The agency reported spending 950 hours to complete the reports.³¹ Both reports are available online on the General Assembly's website.

Committee Staff's Actions

Committee staff obtain, review, and provide highlights of relevant information in the staff study.³²

Relevant information may include: an agency restructuring report; an agency seven-year plan for cost savings and increased efficiencies; an agency program evaluation report; another submission to a legislative or executive entity, such as an agency accountability report; comments from the public concerning the agency; any information submitted by a legislative standing committee in the House of Representatives; and any information submitted by individual Members of the House.

Committee staff may also make recommendations to the Subcommittee based on the staff study.³³ The Subcommittee may follow some, all, or none of the staff's recommendations and conduct any further study it desires. The staff study is intended for the internal use and benefit of Members of the House, and it does not reflect the views of the House, House Oversight Committee, or any subcommittees.³⁴ The staff study is shared with the agency.³⁵ The agency has the option to provide a written response within ten business days for inclusion in the study.³⁶

Next Steps

This staff study, and any agency response, will be shared with the Subcommittee and legislative standing committees in the House of Representatives that share subject matter jurisdiction.³⁷

The Subcommittee may review the staff study and, if one has been submitted, the agency's written response in order to determine what other tools of legislative oversight should be used to evaluate (1) the application, administration, execution, and effectiveness of the agency's laws and programs, (2) the organization and operation of the agency, and (3) any conditions or circumstances that may indicate the necessity or desirability of enacting new or additional legislation pertaining to the agency.³⁸

AGENCY STUDY - INFORMATION HIGHLIGHTS

Agency Organization and Operation

Agency History

State efforts to provide citizens with assistance date back 145 years, when the legislature enacted provisions to "provide for the care of the poor" by founding county poor farms or houses in 1870.³⁹ In 1915, the legislature established a State Board of Charities and Corrections, and five years later it established a State Board of Public Welfare.⁴⁰ "During the Depression, many social oriented programs were implemented to assist the nation in its recovery; among these was the Emergency Relief Administration. As an outgrowth of this agency, [a] temporary Department of Welfare was established in 1935."⁴¹ The South Carolina Department of Public Welfare was permanently created by the legislature in 1937, and later it was renamed the Department of Social Services in 1972.⁴²

Agency Organization Structure

State Office

The agency has a state office and 46 county offices. The agency head is the State Director who is “appointed by the Governor upon the advice and consent of the Senate.”⁴³ Currently, the agency head is Ms. V. Susan Alford.

Among other things, the agency head is authorized to create: (1) a State Advisory Council of Social Services to consider and advise DSS on its problems and the remedies; (2) such advisory committees as are required by federal law or regulations regarding DSS’ programs; and (3) other committees the agency head may deem necessary for prudent administration of DSS’ programs.⁴⁴ Additionally, the agency head is authorized to “appoint and employ such other officers and employees as are authorized and may be necessary to perform” the agency’s duties.⁴⁵

The agency has a Division of Internal Audits which currently reports to the agency head. Internal audits began at the agency in 1973, and its organizational structure has varied over the years.⁴⁶ Mr. John L. Strait, III, is in charge of the agency’s internal audit function.⁴⁷ In the last five years, there were 567 internal audits performed.⁴⁸ General subject matters audited include: SC Voucher Program (child care), fiscal operations of county DSS offices, Child Support Enforcement, Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP), internal agency business processes, and information technology.⁴⁹ Internal auditors are allowed to perform unannounced audits on areas as requested or that it considers to be of high risk.⁵⁰ Internal auditors concentrate on IT and Fiscal audits and do not evaluate the agency’s performance measurement and improvement systems.⁵¹

The management of each division reviews their performance measures.⁵² Quality assurance audits are also conducted on certain programs by agency staff and through a contract with the University of South Carolina.⁵³ Additionally, many of DSS’ programs are subject to audits and reviews by the federal government.⁵⁴

County Offices

Each of the State’s 46 counties has a county DSS office.⁵⁵ Each county government is required to provide office space and facility service, including janitorial, utility and telephone services, for its county DSS.⁵⁶

The agency head selects the county directors and may select regional directors to oversee the county directors.⁵⁷ The agency currently has five regional directors for Human Services and four regional directors for Economic Services.⁵⁸ The county directors administer the agency’s activities within their respective counties.⁵⁹ All employees hired by the county director must meet the standards determined by the agency head as to education, training, fitness, and experience in social work.⁶⁰ In addition, the county directors must maintain such standards of work, procedures, and records as are required by the agency head.⁶¹

While the county director must follow the standards and instructions of the agency head, each county could also have a county board of social services that serves in an advisory capacity to the county director.⁶² Members of the county boards are appointed by the Governor, upon the recommendation of a majority of the county’s legislative delegation.⁶³ The county board has the authority to create a county advisory council of social services to aid the board in overcoming any problems it may face.⁶⁴

Timeline and Organization Charts

Table 4, on the following pages, provides a timeline, encompassing five different gubernatorial administrations, two Democrat and three Republican. This approximately thirty-year timeline includes information about the various changes that have occurred in the agency over the years and applicable audits by the Legislative Audit Council (LAC). After this timeline are organization charts from the agency at different times in its history as well as the current organization chart reflecting the agency's present structure.

Table 4. Thirty-year agency timeline

-Governor Dick Riley -4,133.15 Authorized full time equivalent positions (FTEs) -DSS contracts with Omni Systems, Inc., a consulting firm, for $160,000 to determine appropriate staffing levels for each DSS county office.⁶⁵ DSS uses this information to make county staffing decisions.⁶⁶	-Governor Dick Riley ; 4,276.15 Authorized FTEs February 1985 - Legislative Audit Council (LAC) publishes a “Management and Performance Review” of DSS. Some of the findings include: (1) Child Protective Services (CPS) needs improvement; child abuse and neglect investigations are inadequate, treatment plans are not being used, and family court requirements are not being met; casework has also been inadequate; (2) delay in automation of the Child Support Enforcement Program has cost approximately $1.9 million annually in collection of child support payments; (3) failure to adequately collect funds owed the agency from providers and clients; over $6.6 million in delinquent debts is outstanding from doctors, dentists, hospitals, nursing homes, and clients; (3) federal penalties in the Food Stamp, Assistance for Families with Dependent Children (AFDC), and Medicaid programs because of excessive errors; which could cost the State over $6 million in program and administrative funds. Also the review notes an Attorney General’s opinion that the State has authority over all county DSS operations and by extension to ensure corrective actions are implemented. -DSS contracts with Omni to determine the proper staffing levels for the state offices for $204,613.⁶⁷ The purpose of the study, as stated in both the contract and the study’s executive summary, was to provide DSS with the ability to monitor and update staffing levels in the state office.⁶⁸ While DSS officials indicate the study was accurate and appropriately conducted, the agency did not develop a formal plan for addressing the Omni study recommendations for the state office and, at the time of the 1991 LAC Study, had not updated the staffing analysis.⁶⁹ According to the LAC Study, while DSS could have reduced staff in the state office through attrition and used that funding to hire additional staff in county offices, they remained over-staffed in the state office.⁷⁰ According to LAC, DSS then made attempts to correct staffing shortages in county offices by requesting additional positions.⁷¹ LAC concluded that, as of May 1991, DSS had not documented improvements in the efficiency and effectiveness of the state office as a result of the study on the state office which cost $204,613.⁷²
1987	1989	1990
-Governor Carroll Campbell starts term in office -4,226 Authorized FTEs for the agency	-Governor Carroll Campbell -4,584 Authorized FTEs -Since Omni’s updates in 1988-89, the agency’s human services quality assurance section has maintained current information on staffing levels, updated yearly using the Omni methodology.⁷³ -Updates to the Omni staffing study indicate the county Human Services offices are understaffed by 335 caseworkers.⁷⁴ June 1989 - DSS implements the Professional Academy for Self Sufficiency; academy is first statewide coordinated training program for Economic Service workers.⁷⁵ Before the academy, training varied from county to county.⁷⁶ The academy is an initiative to reduce error rates in issuance of food stamps and monetary benefits to needy families, increase job satisfaction and ensure consistent client services.⁷⁷ The academy was based on the training program in Kentucky, the state with the lowest combined error rate in the southeast and in the top ten nationwide in FY 87-88.⁷⁸	-Governor Carroll Campbell -4,640 Authorized FTEs (3,571 in county offices; 1,069 in the state office)⁷⁹ -Main program divisions: Office of Self-Sufficiency (i.e. Economic Services) and Office of Children, Family and Adult Services (i.e. Human Services).⁸⁰ Economic services is comprised of (1) economic support [AFDC, which later becomes Temporary Assistance for Needy Families (TANF), and food stamps], (2) medical support (Medicaid), (3) work support, (4) economic assessment and quality control, which is federally mandated to develop the state’s error rates, and (5) child support enforcement (only operated from the state office).⁸¹ Human services includes: (1) child protective and preventive services (CPPS), (2) adult services, (3) substitute care (foster care), (4) program quality assurance, and (5) state’s adoption program (only operated from the state office).⁸² -Primarily the agency serves the public at the county level, with the exceptions of child support enforcement and birth parent services.

1991	1999
-Governor Carroll Campbell; 4,878.70 Authorized FTEs May 1991 - LAC publishes a “Limited-Scope Review” of DSS.⁸³ Some of the findings include: (1) Higher ratio of central office administrative positions to direct client services positions than four states which are comparably structured; (2) Central office is staffed at 119 administrative positions above the average of similarly structured offices; (3) County offices are understaffed by 547 employees according to DSS staffing standards; (4) The estimated $2.5 million spent on these 119 [administrative] positions, based on the FY 89-90 average salary of $20,795 for state employees could be used in the county offices to employ 162 entry-level caseworkers at the starting salary of $15,229; (5) Administrative costs for the AFDC and food stamp programs were higher than the average for 8 southeastern states in FY 88-89 and DSS error rates for FY 85-86 through 87-88 were higher than the southeastern average; (6) State office does not effectively oversee the county programs in human services, but does a reasonably thorough job in economic services; and (7) By not requiring background checks on foster parents and not always enforcing training, fire and health regulations, DSS has not adequately protected foster children.⁸⁴ LAC concluded that county caseworker turnover was comparable to turnover for other types of state employees.⁸⁵ -Sections 43-1-80 and 43-1-90 require DSS to supervise, administer and ensure compliance with the provisions of the statutes in a uniform manner throughout the state.⁸⁶ To fulfill its responsibilities, DSS committed to a quality process outlined by Philip Crosby, a management expert.⁸⁷ According to Crosby, an agency must prevent problems before they occur by providing consistent feedback and evaluation through self-monitoring and audits.⁸⁸	-Governor David Beasley; 5,097.04 Authorized FTEs -DSS implements a continuous hiring process for counties in constant need of human services personnel.⁸⁹ This process allows counties to have positions posted continually through the state employment website.⁹⁰ DSS human resources also continually screens applications and forwards them to these counties.⁹¹

2001	2003	2004	2005
-Governor Jim Hodges -5,117.54 Authorized FTEs Sustains 35% reduction in its budget from FY 2001-02 through 2004-05 March - Hiring freeze implemented, with front-line human services positions, such as CPS caseworkers, exempt.⁹² August - Implementation of a retirement incentive and voluntary separations begins. The hiring freeze remains in place with human services positions exempt.⁹³	-Governor Mark Sanford starts term in office; 4,632.54 Authorized FTEs February 2003 - Agency-wide hiring freeze on all positions, including human services, implemented by State Director.⁹⁴ September 2003 - U.S. Dept of Health and Human Services issues Round 1 final report on “South Carolina Child and Family Services Review.”⁹⁵ The evaluation used 7 outcome measures addressing a child’s safety, well-being, and permanency of living situation as well as 7 systemic factors including training, quality assurance system, and its case review system. The measures and factors addressed CPS in-home treatment cases and foster care cases. DSS was found not to be in substantial conformity on 6 of the 7 outcome measures relating to safety and 2 of the 7 systemic factors.⁹⁶ When reviewing DSS’ quality assurance system, the review found DSS did not maintain a “...quality assurance system that evaluates and measures program strengths and areas needing improvement.”⁹⁷ In addition, the review noted that counties are only required to undergo a performance review once every 5 years and this may not be adequate to improve performance. In response to the review DSS had to develop a program improvement plan which had to be implemented by June 2006.	-Governor Mark Sanford -4,622.54 Authorized FTEs June 2004 - Counties authorized to hire up to 90% of front-line staff.⁹⁸ -Management training for staff discontinued due to budget constraints and limited resources⁹⁹	-Governor Mark Sanford -Kim S. Aydlette, State Director -4,018.79 Authorized FTEs; 424 authorized county treatment and assessment positions allocated to the CPS program statewide.¹⁰⁰ Positions allocated to county offices as well as the state office, and the number varies by location.¹⁰¹ August - County directors authorized to hire 100% of their caseworker positions.¹⁰² December - DSS contracts with Office of Human Resources (OHR) for review of staffing, qualifications, salary, and turnover for caseworkers.¹⁰³ Report was to be completed by March 2006, but OHR was asked to extend the scope of its review.¹⁰⁴

-Governor Mark Sanford; Kim S. Aydlette, State Director; 4,039.79 Authorized FTEs -Management training reinstated; management orientation program improved, “knowledge transfer” program to provide for work continuation in specialized areas instituted, and strategies to improve managers’ skills developed; funds to increase entry-level salaries for direct services workers requested, and work with Budget and Control Board to develop a pay plan that will help attract and retain competent staff begins.¹⁰⁵ -Federal General Accountability Office report ranks caseworker recruitment and retention among the top 3 challenges facing child welfare agencies working to improve outcomes for children.¹⁰⁶ Turnover lowers morale, reduces efficiency, and consumes time as the agency recruits, hires, and trains new workers. LAC finds DSS has not analyzed turnover among child welfare workers and has no standard for determining whether its turnover rate is within acceptable limits (through October 2014). In addition, neither DSS nor the state human resource agency collects complete data on employee turnover.¹⁰⁷ May 2006 - DSS budget request includes $8.2 million for 350 new staff positions.¹⁰⁸ The General Assembly funds these positions for FY 06-07. Of the new staff, DSS requested 91 new treatment caseworkers.¹⁰⁹ August 2006 - LAC publishes a “Review of the Child Protective Services Program.”¹¹⁰ Issues found includes: (1) non-compliance with state law or its own policy in CPS cases, putting children at risk; (2) failure to place individuals on the Central Registry of Child Abuse and Neglect as required by state law; (3) failure to meet national caseload standards for its caseworkers; (4) failure to properly discipline workers who violate its policy and allows employees to resign before they are subject to any disciplinary action without documenting the policy violations or poor work performances; (5) several instances where individual counties have consistently underperformed on certain CPS performance measures (i.e. timeliness of beginning investigations; number and percentage of unsubstantiated reports in which there was a subsequent report within 6 months and CPS treatment cases with no activity for more than 30 days), and (6) actions taken by the State Office to improve performance in underperforming counties does not result in significant improvement.¹¹¹ LAC recommends counties not be allowed to consistently underperform on measures without action being taken to correct the situation.	-Governor Mark Sanford -Kathleen M. 2014

-Governor Nikki Haley

-3,501.99 Authorized FTEs; 71% of the employees who completed exit surveys stated the reason they were leaving was (1) lack of supervisory support/employee recognition, (2) better advancement, or (3) higher pay

February 2014 - The National Resource Center for Child Protective Services conducts a review of DSS' Intake Assessment Tool and finds that it contains the right factors to determine whether the facts indicate a need for an investigation or a prevention response.¹²⁷

March 2014 - Senate calls for the hearings after a series of cases pertaining to children dying in DSS care or oversight.¹²⁸

May 2014 - DSS develops a comprehensive plan to expedite the process of bringing staff onboard.¹²⁹ Progress as of October 2, 2014 includes: (1) Funded new positions within the existing budget; (2) Increased hiring across the state; (3) Streamlined the hiring process to allow counties to fill vacancies more quickly; (4) Instituted group interview process for identifying the most qualified candidates for second interviews; and (5) Ongoing collaboration with DEW and other agencies.¹³⁰

June 2014 – Lillian Koller resigns as State Director

June 2014 - DSS submits, for the first time ever, caseload standards to the federal Administration for Children and Families.¹³¹ DSS did not have standards for the maximum number of families or children assigned to each child welfare caseworker until this time.¹³² Maximum caseloads standards submitted by DSS include 24 children for assessment caseworkers, 24 children for treatment caseworkers and 20 children for foster care caseworkers.¹³³ DSS reports that due to limited resources, it has not implemented these standards.¹³⁴ LAC found that 57.8% of the 611 county caseworkers statewide had combined caseloads that exceeded DSS standards (38.5% had caseloads that exceeded the standards by 50% or more, 21.9% had caseloads that exceeded the standards by 100% or more, and 11.3% had caseloads that exceeded the standards by 150% or more.)¹³⁵ Statewide, 19.3% of caseworkers are assigned more than 50 children, 11.3% are assigned more than 60 children, and 2.8% are assigned more than 75 children.¹³⁶

August 2014 - DSS issues directive memo stating all caseworkers, not just those who screen and assess reports of child abuse and neglect, are required to be certified (this requirement is not listed in DSS' training policy)¹³⁷

September - DSS memorandum states caseworkers must receive 20 hours of continuing education each year.¹³⁸

October 2014 - LAC publishes a "Review of Child Welfare Services" at DSS, finding significant issues with the way DSS provides these services and how it measures its performance.¹³⁹ Some of the issues include: (1) Caseworkers are not required to have a college degree in a field related to their social work nor previous relevant experience; (2) caseworkers are not being adequately compensated in comparison to comparable employees (avg. minimum salary was $29,797 in 2006 and in 2014 was $30,582; entry level caseworkers paid less than the average minimum salary of comparable workers in 42 states); (3) DSS has unclear policies regarding training and certification for caseworkers after they have been hired and no central records that document whether caseworkers have been trained and certified (this has been an issue for 30 years, in LAC's 1985 review of DSS, they found only screening and assessment workers were required to be certified and DSS did not maintain adequate central records of caseworker training and certification); (4) DSS takes as long as nine months to hire and train a new child welfare caseworker; (5) caseworkers are being forced to manage excessive caseloads (this has been an issue for 30 years, LAC's 1985 and 2006 report it stated DSS did not have maximum caseload standards for its child welfare caseworkers; formal methodology for calculating caseloads; nor policy that requires caseloads be approximately equal from county to county - in 2014, LAC found the same issues; state law does not require DSS to have a formal written methodology for calculating caseloads nor for caseworker caseloads to be approximately equal from county to county); (6) DSS did not have a systematic process for allocating child welfare staff among its state, regional, and county offices (this has been an issue for 30 years, LAC's 1985 and 2006 report recommends DSS develop a methodology for allocating staff - DSS stated staffing decisions are a product of management discretion, after considering available resources and needs throughout the organization); (7) DSS does not have a structured system for minimizing turnover among child welfare workers and county directors; (8) Data being reported to the General Assembly on the occurrence of child fatality, especially among children who had prior involvement with the agency, was not reliable and not useful to measure the agency's performance; (9) About 25% of children whose abuse or neglect reports were accepted by the agency for investigation were not seen within 24 hours; (10) Use of private contractors for case management reduced the rate of in-person contact between agency employees and potential victims of neglect and abuse; (11) The agency did not always use a competitive procurement process for major services and partnership contracts, resulting in contracts worth as much as almost $51,000,000 with vendors that were likely not the best combination of price and quality, creating the perception of favoritism in the agency's contracting process (i.e. contract between DSS and Winthrop University for $20 million and two other contracts between DSS and USC for $50.8 million were the result of non-competitive procurement methods - LAC objected to DSS' use of cost justification, an exemption from competition, to enter into MOUs with USC and Winthrop but LAC did not find the process was used incorrectly); and (12) DSS has developed multiple measures of child welfare service performance which can be useful in quantifying underperformance but DSS has given insufficient attention to determining the root causes of underperformance.¹⁴⁰

November 2014 - Salary increase for county child welfare caseworkers and supervisors (new positions hired on or after October 2, 2014, are on-boarded at new base salary).¹⁴¹ 67 new caseworker assistant positions are allocated to counties to provide support to frontline practitioners, allowing them to increase their face-to-face time with children and families.¹⁴²

December 2014 – Susan Alford named State Director

2015

-Governor Nikki Haley

-Susan Alford, State Director; Reestablishes the Deputy for Administration position

-3,785.99 Authorized FTEs; 82% of the employees who completed exit surveys stated the reason they were leaving was (1) lack of supervisory support/employee recognition, (2) better advancement, or (3) higher pay (risen from 54% in 2012 and 71% in 2014)

January 1, 2015 - Scheduled start date for implementation of a regionalized intake plan for CPS.¹⁴³ The regional intake system is supposed to: (1) Improve consistency in screening calls at intake by having dedicated staff involved in the intake process and by honing the skills of intake practitioners; (2) Improve the speed of accepting and processing referrals; callers will not have to wait to make referrals due to lack of available intake practitioners; intake practitioners will enter referrals directly into DSS database, making them instantly available to designate responders (DSS investigators and prevention partners); (3) Increase the expertise of dedicated intake practitioners through the provision of mandatory training and on-going coaching; (4) Improve the consistency and quality of data in Child and Adult Protective Services System (CAPSS) for both referrals and resource linkages; and (5) Increase the capacity of local management by lessening their scope of practice.¹⁴⁴

Starting in early 2015, teams of DSS Human Services staff from across the state began working to improve the work processes involved in CPS Assessments.¹⁴⁵ These teams, led by business process redesign experts, are developing recommendations to improve the quality and efficiency of the work performed in child welfare services.¹⁴⁶ Specifically, modifications to existing procedures have been identified that will cut down on the overall time it takes for the agency to deliver a service while preserving and improving the quality of that service.¹⁴⁷

March 25, 2015 - Senate General Committee, DSS Oversight Subcommittee, Report and Recommendations released.

Budget request from agency for 2015-16 includes $8.4 million for 262 new full time staff positions and salary increases.¹⁴⁸ The General Assembly funds these new positions and salary increases.¹⁴⁹ Of the new staff, DSS requested 177 caseworkers, 6 caseworker supervisors and 67 caseworker assistants. A complete listing of this portion of the budget request is as follows: 177 new Caseworker FTEs; 6 new Caseworker Supervisor FTEs; Additional funding for 76 currently unfunded FTEs; 67 new Caseworker Assistant FTEs; 2 new Attorney FTEs; 2 new Paralegal FTEs; 4 new HR Manager FTEs to aid in recruitment efforts and $2,112,990 in salary increases (15% for Child Welfare Investigators and Supervisor; 10% for Child Welfare, Adult Protective Services, Adoption, Foster Care, IFCCS Caseworkers and Supervisors; 5% for Child Support, Economic Service, Child Care Caseworkers and Supervisors; 5% for Clerical Staff and Economic Service Call and Scan Center).

Employees

Trends in authorized full-time equivalent positions (FTEs) at the agency over the last ten years are summarized in Figure 7 and Table 5.¹⁵⁵ These trends show that the size of the agency, in terms of FTEs, remained stable from FY 2005-06 through FY 2011-12, after which it reduced by approximately 500 employees.

According to DSS, this reduction occurred as a result of the General Assembly re-implementing personal service reconciliation by the Department of Administration (formerly the Budget and Control Board) through proviso 89.16 in 2011-12.¹⁵⁷ As part of this process, by September 13th, the Budget and Control Board prepares a personal service analysis, by agency, which shows the number of established positions for the fiscal year and the amount of funds required, by source of funds, to support the FTEs for the fiscal year at a funding level of one hundred percent.¹⁵⁸ The board then reconciles each agency's personal service detail with the agency's personal service appropriation for any pay increases and any other factors necessary to reflect the agency's personal service funding level.¹⁵⁹ Any position which is shown by the reconciliation to be unfunded or significantly underfunded may be deleted at the direction of the Department of Administration (Budget and Control Board).¹⁶⁰ From the point of that rapid decrease in FTEs in 2012-13, until the present, the number of authorized FTEs at the agency has remained relatively stable.

Other information of interest includes:

- The turnover rate for child welfare caseworkers, from 2011 through 2013 was as follows: 2011=16.1%; 2012=23.2%; 2013=28.8%.¹⁶¹ Child welfare caseworkers include those working in child protective services, foster care, intensive foster care and clinical services, and adoption services. It takes as long as nine months to hire and train a new child welfare caseworker.¹⁶²
- 62.8% of county directors (27 of 43) left their positions from 2011 through 2014 (9 retired, 5 demoted, 3 resigned, 1 reassigned, 3 promoted, 4 took other jobs at agency, and 2 dismissed).¹⁶³

Table 5 provides a summary of reasons for employee departure collected by the agency during exit surveys.¹⁶⁴ The agency notes that exit surveys are voluntary, and, therefore, the response rate is very low.¹⁶⁵ In the survey, former staff are asked to indicate their primary reason for departure. The percentage of respondents who selected each reason from 2012 through early March 2015 are in Table 5.¹⁶⁶

Public Comments about the Agency

In the Committee's recent public survey, the opinions of 932 participants who chose to provide their opinion about the agency were divided, and a small percentage expressed no opinion (3.8% - 35).¹⁶⁷ The significant majority (63%) of participants had a negative (35.7% - 333) or very negative opinion (27.3% - 254) of the agency.¹⁶⁸ Notably, many participants answered that they had personal (381) or business experience (174) with the agency.¹⁶⁹

Written comments about the agency were provided by 457 survey participants; often, those comments addressed more than one topic.¹⁷⁰ Some of the topics addressed in the written comments are listed in Table 6. The complete verbatim comments can be found online.¹⁷¹

Agency Responsibilities

In its Restructuring and Seven-Year Plan Report, the agency was asked to provide its purpose, mission, and vision. The agency states its purpose is to provide “a vast array of services such as the investigation of child and vulnerable adult abuse reports, the distribution of food assistance to hungry families, the collection of child support for custodial parents, and the staffing of emergency shelters.”¹⁷³ The agency states its mission is “[t]o effectively and efficiently serve the citizens of South Carolina by ensuring the safety of children and adults who cannot protect themselves and helping families achieve stability through child support, child care, financial and other temporary benefits while transitioning into employment.”¹⁷⁴ The agency states that its vision is for there to be “[j]obs for parents and other adults living in poverty” and “[s]afe and thriving children with life-long families sooner.”¹⁷⁵

Below are the statutes which outline the agency’s purpose and duties:¹⁷⁶

The State Department shall supervise and administer the public welfare activities and functions of the State as provided in Chapters 1, 3, 5, 7, 9, 19, and 23 and child protective services as referred to in Title 63, Chapter 7 or as otherwise authorized by law and may act as the agent of the State, cooperate with any federal agency for the purpose of carrying out matters of mutual concern, and administer any federal funds granted the State in the furtherance of the duties imposed upon the State Department. The Department shall study the various social problems confronting the State, inquiring into their causes and possible cures, making such surveys, gathering such statistics, and formulating such recommended public policies in connection thereto as may be in the interest of the State, and shall make such information available in published form. The Department may adopt all necessary rules and regulations and formulate policies and methods of administration, when not otherwise fixed by law, to carry out effectively the activities and responsibilities delegated to it. The aim of the Department shall be to promote the unified development of welfare activities and agencies of the State and local governments so that each agency and governmental institution may function as an integral part of a general system. (emphasis added)

The agency seeks to accomplish its purpose through three major divisions. The Committee asked the agency to perform self-analysis, and as part of this self-analysis the agency was asked to rank its programs in order from most effective and efficient to least. In response, the agency grouped its programs into one of three divisions (i.e. Human Services, Economic Services, or Integrated Child Support Services Division) and ranked those divisions. These divisions, are listed in the order the agency ranked them from most effective and efficient to least in Table 7. The agency’s complete strategic plan along with the amount it spends toward each goal and method by which it measures its performance are provided later in this study.

Agency’s Funding, Strategic Plan, and Progress

This agency completes an Accountability Report each year.¹⁸¹ The report provides information about the agency’s strategic plan (i.e. business plan, roadmap to success, etc.) and its performance measures (i.e. how the agency determines if it is successful or making progress in its plan). Building upon this information, the Committee’s oversight reports asked the agency for additional information about all sources of funding and the amount the agency is actually spending to achieve each portion of its plan. On the following pages is information about the agency’s procedures related to its budget, historical budget levels, current sources of funding, and how much of the funding the agency invests in each of its goals and objectives in its strategic plan.

Budget Breakdown and Agency Procedures

DSS delineates its budget down to a Cost Center and Program Cost Account (PCA) level for use by Cost Center Managers.¹⁸² At the beginning of each year, Cost Centers project their budgetary needs for the year.¹⁸³ Each month the DSS Budget Office works with Cost Centers to update these projections for any variances.¹⁸⁴ DSS Budget Office staff meets with cost centers quarterly to address any budgetary issues for the cost center.¹⁸⁵ To help in managing the budget and updating projected budgetary needs, the Finance Division receives monthly expense reports from the Comptroller General's Office which are provided to Cost Center Managers.¹⁸⁶ An agency level executive summary is provided to the Deputy Director for Administration and the CFO.¹⁸⁷ DSS can run budget reports by major program level, program cost account level, cost centers level, specific vouchers, specific vendors, funding sources, and specific grants.¹⁸⁸

Historical Information about the Agency's Budget

Historical information about the agency's budget levels over the past ten years is provided in Table 9, and Figure 9 includes information about agency budget levels from the same period. Information about all sources of funding for the agency during the past two years, and anticipated funding for this coming year, is provided in Table 9.

Funding sources are grouped into the following categories:

General and Federal Funds

State General Funds (a.k.a. Fund Code 1000 or State) - Funds from the State's General Fund

Federal Funds (a.k.a. Fund Code 5000 or Federal) - Financial assistance from the U.S. Government in any form including, but not limited to, a grant, loan, subsidy, reimbursement, contract, donation, or shared federal revenues, or noncash federal assistance in the form of equipment, buildings, and land.¹⁸⁹

Other Funds¹⁹⁰

State Earmarked (a.k.a. Fund Code 3000 or Other Funds) - Special revenues which are to be used for a specific use; typically the revenue is from the agency providing some type of service for which it earns fees and the earmarked funds are those portion of fees that are provided back to the agency

State Restricted (a.k.a. Fund Code 4000 or Other Funds) - Special deposits, primarily debt service and trust funds; these funds earn interest and the interest goes back into the account (i.e. bonds, trusts, etc.)

According to DSS, the decrease in total budget from 2012-13 to 2013-14 was a result of the General Assembly reclassifying the Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (“SNAP” i.e. food stamps) client benefits from a budgeted to non-budgeted item since the money goes directly from the federal government to the SNAP client and is never actually transferred to the state before going to the SNAP client.²³⁶

Sources of Funding

Table 10 lists all sources of funding for the agency in fiscal year 2013-14, fiscal year 2014-15, and fiscal year 2015-16. Examples of funding sources are: foundations, non-profits, the General Assembly, the federal government, grants, sales, fines, outside contracts, interest from bank accounts, etc.

Below are additional definitions and explanations which may help assist when reviewing Table 10

- Indirect costs - Those costs of supportive services within an agency or provided by another agency which benefit more than one program and which may be charged to federal programs in accordance with Office Management and Budget Circular A-87 or A-21.²³⁸
- Matching Funds - A specific amount of general fund or other funds monies identified by a state agency, and required by the federal government, as a cash contribution for a federal program.²³⁹
- Research Grant - An award of funds from the U.S. Government or other entity for the principal purpose of systematic study and investigation undertaken to discover or establish facts or principles.²⁴⁰ The principal purpose of a "research grant" is not to provide services to the public or the employees or clients thereof.²⁴¹
- Major Federal Program - A program which (a) represents a transfer of program responsibility from the federal to the state level; (b) is available to the State on a noncompetitive basis; (c) is financially significant in relation to its proportion of the administering agency's budget.²⁴²
- Block Grant - Federal funds distributed to the State in accordance with a statutory formula for use in a variety of activities within a broad functional area.²⁴³ Through the appropriations act, the General Assembly designates an agency to operate each block grant.²⁴⁴ The Department of Administration shall issue administrative regulations and cost principles for block grants, as well as ensure audits of block grants are conducted in accordance with federal laws and regulations.²⁴⁵

Strategic Plan, Money Spent, and Progress

As previously stated, this agency completes an Accountability Report each year. In 2013-14, the format of this report changed to request the agency provide information about the agency's strategic plan. In addition, the report asked the agency to provide information about its performance measures (i.e. how the agency determines if it is successful or making progress in its plan). The Legislative Oversight Committee asked the agency for additional information including the amount the agency is actually spending to achieve each part of its plan. On the following pages is condensed information about this plan.

A review of some key definitions from the 2014-15 Accountability Report Guidelines ("Accountability Report Guidelines") may be helpful in understanding the information relating to a strategic plan. As defined in the Accountability Report Guidelines, a Goal (G) is "[a] broad expression of a central, strategic priority for an agency; a statement of what the agency hopes to achieve - typically in the long-term - that is qualitative in nature. At the highest level, each agency's goals should logically and naturally derive from the agency's mission statement. They should also be clearly connected to state government's overarching responsibilities in fields ranging from education and economic development to transportation and public safety."²⁵⁵ As defined in the Accountability Report Guidelines, a Strategy (S) is "[a] concise statement of a high-level approach an agency is taking in pursuit of a goal. It is a descriptive, complex action comprised of multiple action steps. Starts with action verbs like develop, design, establish, enhance, implement, etc. Includes completed details for budget, staffing, IT, marketing campaign and facility implications."²⁵⁶ As defined in the Accountability Report Guidelines, an Objective (O) is "[a] specific, measurable and achievable description of an effort that the agency is actively implementing over a defined period of time as part of a broader strategy to meet a certain goal."²⁵⁷

Other helpful definitions are:

- $ Spent on Goal or Objective: These figures are taken from the “Grand Total” column of the agency’s Strategic Investment Chart of the Program Evaluation Report. The chart asked the agency to list its expenditures by years that were related to accomplishment of each objective.
- How Agency Measures Its Performance: This information is obtained by matching the Associated Objectives and Performance Measures in the Performance Measures Status Chart of the Program Evaluation Report.²⁵⁸

As an overview, Table 12 lists the agency’s goals in order from largest to smallest based on the percentage of total money the agency spent toward each goal. Table 12 lists the goals in sequential order and then provides details including strategies, objectives, associated programs, performance measures and amount spent per goal and objective.

Table 12. Agency’s goals in order from largest to smallest based on the percentage of total money the agency spent toward each goal in fiscal years 2013-14 and 2014-15²⁵⁹

Goal	Description	$ Spent on Goal
		2013-14		2014-15 (as of 3/30/15)
		% of total	Amount Spent	% of total	Amount Spent
Goal 2	Help families achieve stability through financial and other temporary benefits while transitioning into employment	49.70%	$ 256,078,927	47.37%	$264,751,496
Goal 1	Ensure the safety of children and adults who cannot protect themselves	43.53%	$224,290,307	44.91%	$250,993,309
Goal 3	Help families achieve stability by increasing the frequency and reliability of child support payments and by providing non-custodial parents with the tools they need to be able to support and engage with their children	6.74%	$34,719,700	7.65%	$42,729,551
Goal 4	Efficiently distribute non-recurring appropriations as directed by the General Assembly	0.03%	$150,000	0.08%	$425,000

Goal Details and Potential Negative Impact

In an effort to facilitate its ability to highlight potential agency problems, the Committee asked the agency to state the most potential negative impact on the public that may occur if each of the agency’s programs were to have substandard performance. The Committee also asked at what level the agency thinks the General Assembly should be put on notice of a potential problem. After each goal in Table 13, there is a table which brings together all of the associated programs for the goal, and provides a description of each program and the potential negative impact for each program if the program performs poorly.²⁶⁰

Note, DSS does not have an agency wide Strategic Plan other than what is reported in the Accountability Report and this Staff Study. The agency notes the performance measures it provided do not include every measure the agency tracks.

According to DSS, a revised agency strategic plan will be completed in December 2015.²⁶¹

Table 13. Agency’s goals, strategies and objectives in sequential order²⁶²

Agency Goal #1

G	S	O	Goals, Strategies and Objectives Description	% of Total Spending 2013-14 2014-15		Outcome (Public benefit provided, or harm prevented, by accomplishment of this goal, strategy or objective (i.e. tangible benefits that matter in the lives of citizens))
Goal 1			Ensure the safety of children and adults who cannot protect themselves	43.53% $224,290,307	44.91% $250,993,309	These programs provide services to families which are mandated by law to protect children from abuse and neglect within their families, in foster care, or by persons responsible for the child’s welfare as defined by statute. They are provided to strengthen families; to enable children to remain safe in the Services home; to temporarily remove from parental custody a child who is at imminent risk of harm; or to pursue termination of parental rights and assure the child permanency in a substitute family if the custodial family cannot be preserved without serious risk to the child. This program, within the framework of federal and state mandates, supports out-of-home services that are child centered and family focused; contributes to the protection of children and their well-being, and serves children who are in need of therapeutic placements.
	Strategy 1.1		Investigate and identify child maltreatment through the assessment process			Same as Goal 1
	Objective 1.1.1		Initiate and complete Child Protective Services (CPS) investigations timely	Agency states it does not capture cost data at the strategic plan level. Cost data presented for the goal level is a total for the major programs that make up that goal and does not include administrative costs or employer benefits.	Same as Goal 1	Assoc. Agency Programs CPS Case Management, Legal Representation
			How agency measures its performance:	1) CPS assessments initiated timely (97.8% in 2009-10; 98.2% in 2010-11; 98.8% in 2011-12; 97% in 2012-13; 93.3% in 2013-14 (LAC 2014 audit states this is only 75%); Target for 2014-15 is 100%; As of March 31, 2015 at 89.3%) State law requires DSS to initiate CPS investigations, which the agency calls Assessments, within 24 hours, so the standard for initiating assessments timely is set by state law at 100%. The federal Office of Child Support Enforcement collects data on this measure from every state, and has set $2.00 as the target after which states are potentially eligible for incentive payments. Measure is reviewed quarterly by senior DSS ICSSD leadership, including the Director, the Assistant Director of the Office of Child Support Compliance, and the Assistant Director for Program Improvement and Quality Assurance. 3) Call Center Response Time (ICSSD operates a call center through a contract with Xerox. The expectation is that 80% of calls will be answered in less than one minute. According to data from December 2014, 85.63% of calls were answered in less than one minute, with the average time to answer being 26 seconds.)

Agency Vision: The agency's vision is for there to be "[j]obs for parents and other adults living in poverty" and "[s]afe and thriving children with life-long families sooner."

Agency Programs Related to Goal #3

For agency programs associated with agency Goal 3, below is a description of the program; audits in which it was mentioned; potential negative impact, if the program underperforms; and when the agency thinks the General Assembly should be put on notice if the program underperforms.

Division: Integrated Child Support Services
Effectiveness & Efficiency Ranking: #1 - most effective and efficient
Programs within Division: Child Support Enforcement

Programs: Child Support Enforcement	Audit/Report in which function was cited as an issue: 1985 LAC Audit
Description: The Integrated Child Support Services Division (ICSSD), formerly the Child Support Enforcement Division and the Child Support Enforcement Project, establishes and enforces orders for child support, establishes paternity for children when paternity is an issue, locates absent parents when whereabouts are unknown, and collects and distributes child support payments. ICSSD also provides enhanced fatherhood initiatives and new linkages to child welfare services and employment-related services to improve the capability of both custodial and non-custodial parents to provide their children with the financial, physical, and emotional support they deserve and need to be safe and to thrive.
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Services are available to all citizens regardless of their income³⁰³ By establishing paternity and establishing and enforcing court ordered child support, ICSSD seeks to ensure that non-custodial parents live up to their financial responsibilities in the raising of their children³⁰⁴ ICSSD made operational changes that have led to increased efficiencies and outcomes across the division.³⁰⁵ Following the centralization of the processing of wage-withholding requests, the agency saw an increase in the average number of requests each month from 1,448 in FY 2013 to 5,779 in FY 2014.³⁰⁶ Additionally, the license revocation process was centralized and partially automated, resulting in an increase of license revocation-related child support collections from $683,853 in FY 2013 to $1,031,909 in FY 2014.³⁰⁷
Most Potential Negative Impact: Fewer families will receive the financial support they need from non-custodial parents.
When Agency thinks General Assembly should be put on notice: If the level of resources, productivity, or performance hinders the agency's ability to carry out its mission.

Program: Agency Administration	Audit/Report in which function was cited as an issue: None reviewed by LOC

Agency's Highlights and Current and Emerging Issues

Highlights

The agency provided some highlights about its work, including:

- 83.5% of children in foster care for at least 8 days and fewer than 12 months had two or fewer foster home placements during that period, which is near the federal target of 86%;
- The Economic Services staff have reduced the call center wait times since the beginning of 2014;
- Partnerships with training partners, like USC and Clemson, have helped the agency increase the number of training opportunities that are available to staff; and
- 95.22% of SNAP beneficiaries in the state were served with benefits within 30 days in most instances and within 7 days in expedited cases in FY 2013-14.³⁰⁸

Current and Emerging Issues

The agency reports some issues that it anticipates may have an impact on its operations in the coming years. Some of these issues are:

- Reduced or eliminated Congressional funding could have “significant impact on the state”;
- Obsolete IT systems will fail to meet the agency’s need to determine eligibility for assistance programs and manage data systems for economic services, child welfare services, and adult protective services;
- Significant numbers of executive and middle-level managers will retire;
- Increasing instances of litigation will require more legal consultation and advisory services for the agency; and
- Unclear and undefined federal regulations for the Child Care Development Block Grant Re-Authorization Act of 2014 will place more burden on the agency without granting additional funding, while carrying an expectation that state investment in child services will continue to increase.³⁰⁹

RECOMMENDATIONS

Agency's Recommendations

Note: A summary of the agency’s recommendations are listed in Visual Summary Table 3 on page 8.

The agency has several recommendations for internal restructuring that would merge or eliminate duplicative or unnecessary divisions, programs, or personnel to provide a more efficient administration of government services. These restructuring recommendations may still be under review by the new agency head. Preliminarily, in the agency’s restructuring and seven-year plan report, the agency recommends the items listed below in order to most effectively and efficiently serve the families of South Carolina.³¹⁰

Streamlining Functions

Examine operational units for elimination, duplication, and streamlining functions. At an initial glance, several functions within the agency appear duplicative or at least overlapping, particularly the investigations, OHAN, quality assurance, and internal audits functions. The Director intends to examine all programs within the agency to eliminate duplication and streamline functions where possible.

Examine specific functions of the agency to determine if they best fit within the agency's core mission. The Director intends to examine all programs currently administered by the agency, but child care licensing and adult protective services in particular, to determine if there are other state agencies whose missions are better suited and more closely aligned to these programs. Should the Director determine that specialty services in those areas fall outside the agency's core mission, an interagency Memorandum of Understanding or legislative amendment may be deemed appropriate.

Administrative Functions

Examine need to reduce size of administrative functions. Staff dedicated to administrative functions of the agency, as defined as those programs reporting to the Deputy for Administration, account for 5.7% of all agency personnel. As stated in #3 above, the Director and new Deputy Director for Administration will examine all administrative programs to ensure that the agency is directing the maximum amount of resources, particularly staff, to providing direct services to agency customers, rather than to agency administration.

Merge all administrative functions into one division. In 2011, the agency eliminated the Deputy for Administration position, resulting in a number of independent divisions within the agency, including Budget and Finance, Technology Services, Human Resources Management, Accountability, Data and Research, Procurement, and Information Services. Recently, the Director hired a Deputy of Administration, and merged these former divisions into a single Division of Administration. It is the intent of the Director to assist the new Deputy of Administration in streamlining these functions and to improve the administrative support received at the region and county level.

Reliance on Contracting Core Services

Examine over-reliance on contracting core services to external providers. DSS contracts with many vendors to provide services to our employees and to our customers. For example, the agency contracts with many universities and private vendors to train our employees. In addition, the agency contracts with community based providers to deliver services to our customers, including children and families. The Director intends to examine all agency contracts to determine if there are core services that should be provided by the agency, not external entities, to retain greater control of service delivery and to promote consistency.

Structure and Supervision

Align supervision of county operations with regional structure. The agency is divided into three major program areas, each managed by a Deputy – Economic Services, Human Services, and Integrated Child Support. Of these, Economic Services and Human Services have operations, including numerous staff, in all 46 of the counties. Each of the county offices is managed by a county director. Although the counties are divided into regions and each county office contains Economic Services and Human Services staff, the 46 county directors directly report to the Deputy of Human Services. It seems inefficient and perhaps ineffective for one deputy to be directly responsible for the operations of all 46 counties, particularly in light of the supporting regions. The Director intends to examine ways to reorganize the county and regional supervisory structure for maximum efficiency and accountability.

Standardize regional structure for Economic Services and Human Services. As mentioned above, the counties are grouped into regions; however, Economic Services and Human Services have different regional structures. Economic Services has four regions, and Human Services has five regions. Within each of these regional structures, there are supervisors and multiple staff. The Director intends to examine ways to restructure the regional model to eliminate duplication and increase accountability.

Lastly, the agency recommends the Subcommittee review references to the agency in law, to consider the possible modification of three. The bases for possible modification of laws are given in the agency's Program Evaluation Report.³¹¹

Committee Staff's Recommendations

Note: A summary of staff's recommendations are listed in Visual Summary Table 3 on page 8.

Staff respectfully requests the Subcommittee give consideration to the agency's recommendations, including determining the status of any internal changes mentioned in the agency's recommendations. Also, the Subcommittee may wish to determine the status of any changes, which did not require legislation, recommended by the Senate General Committee, DSS Oversight Subcommittee Report released in March 2015.

Additionally, staff respectfully requests the Subcommittee give consideration to the staff recommendations in this staff study regarding potential areas for further study. Staff's recommendations are based upon consideration of: (1) the application, administration, execution, and effectiveness of laws and programs; (2) the organization and operation of the agency; and (3) conditions or circumstances that may indicate the necessity or desirability of enacting new or additional legislation.³¹² Other considerations include: percentages of total money spent by agency in certain areas, potential negative impacts, agency recommendations, and public comments.

Issues Raised in the Public Survey

As there were 457 written responses to the online public survey about the agency, staff respectfully recommends the Subcommittee explore issues of concern raised in the public survey, which are set forth in Table 6 on page 22. For example, there were 26 written responses relating to foster care with concerns expressed about services provided by contractors, placement of youth outside of their county of origin, and recruitment of foster families. In the agency overview provided to the Healthcare Subcommittee on March 17, 2015, the agency noted 3,851 children in foster care.

As another example, there were 84 written responses to the public survey relating to morale. Almost 50% of employees in 2014 (and more than 50% in 2015) who completed exit interviews when they left the agency stated the reason they left was lack of supervisory support/employee recognition or better advancements. Staff respectfully recommends the Subcommittee question the agency about what efforts, if any, have been made by the new agency head to improve morale, supervisory support, and employee recognition.

Staff respectfully recommends the Subcommittee solicit testimony from county directors, in particular the director from Spartanburg County as there were 21 written comments in the online public survey that related specifically to this county. Staff respectfully suggests the Subcommittee solicit testimony from four additional county directors, selected utilizing a tool for random choice selection.

History of Issues and Focus for the Future

Staff respectfully recommends the Healthcare Subcommittee receive a briefing on the findings and recommendations, which repeatedly arose in prior General Assembly Legislative Audit Council (LAC); notably, LAC performed audits or follow up reports on the agency in 1985, 1991, 2006, 2009, and 2014. After receiving this briefing, the Subcommittee may wish to question the agency as to how, or if, it addressed those findings and recommendations. Additionally, the Subcommittee may wish to question why particular concerns (such as DSS not having a systematic process for allocating child welfare staff among its state, regional, and county offices as well as caseworkers having excessive caseloads) continued to appear throughout the thirty-year timespan covered by the reports.

The agency was asked to rank its programs in order from most effective and efficient to least. In response, the agency grouped all of its programs into one of three divisions (i.e. Human Services, Economic Services, or Integrated Child Support Services Division) and ranked those divisions. Based on the agency's rankings, as well as the consistency in which issues in the Human Services Division were cited in audits during the last thirty years, staff respectfully recommends the committee consider further evaluation to determine whether the programs in the agency's Human Services division should be set within a new agency or transferred to an existing agency. In the alternative, staff respectfully recommends the Subcommittee consider whether moving other divisions of DSS to new or existing agencies may allow DSS the opportunity to narrow its focus on Human Services.

The agency's mission under statute is broad. Staff respectfully recommends the Subcommittee consider further investigation into which programs/activities of the agency are required by state and federal law versus which programs/activities the agency may have chosen to undertake because the agency believes it fits within its strategic plan and federal funds are available.

Spending, Performance Measures, and Potential Negative Impacts

As the stated purpose of legislative oversight includes consideration of the execution and effectiveness of programs, staff respectfully recommends the Subcommittee analyze the agency's allocation of funds towards achieving its goals, strategies, and objectives. Additionally, staff respectfully recommends the Subcommittee discuss and seek clarification about how the agency currently uses, and could expand the use of, performance measures and benchmarks to utilize resources efficiently.

Staff respectfully recommends the Subcommittee evaluate the agency's utilization of staff in the state office versus county offices as well as past staffing studies obtained by the agency.

Staff respectfully recommends the Subcommittee discuss whether the agency plans in place to address potential negative impacts when programs are underperforming and the triggers for when these plans are put into action. Staff particularly highlights this issue because when the agency was asked, for each different program, when the General Assembly should be put on notice of the program's underperformance, the agency did not consider each program individually. Instead, the agency provided the same response for all of its programs, "If the level of resources, productivity, or performance hinders the agency's ability to carry out its mission."

Staff respectfully recommends a review of the issues the agency has identified as emerging and laws the agency has identified for potential revision. Some of the agency's recommendations have the goal of updating laws to match needs, such as creation of Local Child Fatality Review Committees. The agency has provided bases for its suggestions in its Program Evaluation Report.

V. SUSAN ALFORD
STATE DIRECTOR

NIKKI R. HALEY
GOVERNOR

November 4, 2015

The Honorable Wm. Weston J. Newton, Chairman
South Carolina House Legislative Oversight Committee

The Honorable Nathan Ballentine, Chairman
Healthcare Subcommittee

Dear Representatives Newton and Ballentine:

Thank you for the opportunity to review the House of Representative's Legislative Oversight Committee and Subcommittee's Staff Study of the South Carolina Department of Social Services (SCDSS) and for providing a forum for the department to respond to its findings. I am particularly grateful, as the DSS State Director, for your staff's careful attention to the development of a chronology of the agency's fiscal and structural history; this information has been very useful in providing a clear understanding of the agency's development over the past several decades. Moving ahead, we look forward to working with the Committee on prioritizing key areas in the agency for improvement, as well as planning for enhanced services to vulnerable child and adults in this state.

With respect to the committee staff's recommendations for SCDSS, I would like to respond to a number of key areas cited for consideration. I agree that it would be most beneficial to track the recommendations cited by the SC Legislative Audit Council over the past three decades, as well as the DSS Senate Oversight Committee Study Report published in 2015, to focus on areas of departmental operations that have been consistently cited as needing attention and resolution. These are the documents I reviewed coming into the department as a new director in February 2015, and I used them as a foundation for the development of an initial 2-year work plan for Human Services (see attached). To date, we have achieved 72% of the tasks outlined in the Human Services Work Plan and we continue to build in longer-term goals. Additionally, in November and December of this year, I will lead SCDSS through the development of an agency-wide strategic plan. A number of the recommendations from previous LAC reports and the Senate Oversight Subcommittee Report of 2015 will be included in that long-range plan.

While we continue to receive guidance from the DSS Senate Oversight Subcommittee on agency operations, it has also been suggested by the Subcommittee that they may focus their future work on creating legislation that will not only improve the child welfare system, but also promote consistency in how other agencies, public, private and non-profit in SC, impact child welfare. The DSS Senate Oversight Subcommittee has tasked additional subcommittees to review focus areas cited in their 2015 report. Although it doesn't appear they will pre-file any legislation this year, it is possible they will pursue legislation in the future which will impact child services delivery systems in the state.

Another potential impact on SCDSS's priorities in child welfare reform, which must be factored into our strategies for continuous quality improvement, is the Children's Rights Class Action Lawsuit, which was filed against the department in January 2015. Although we have not reached a settlement of this lawsuit, we are currently operating under an interim relief agreement, which requires the department to meet certain measures as we move towards settlement. If the department ultimately does enter into a settlement agreement, the hope is that the measures outlined in the agreement will be in sync with CFSR (Child Services Family Review) measures, which will allow the department to move towards compliance of both sets of measures. Round 3 of the CFSR is scheduled for 2017 and non-compliance with CFSR measures can result in a significant loss of federal funding for the department. As a result, SCDSS must focus on compliance with CFSR measures, as well as those recommended or required by other external entities.

Since I joined the Department, there have been several suggestions offered by external entities about restructuring SCDSS to allow a more concentrated focus on core mission areas. I have done some realignment of the organizational structure to consolidate functions and streamline lines of supervision. For example, I created two new divisions, Administration and Adult Advocacy, and also set up a regional supervisory structure in Child Welfare Services. As I indicated in our agency recommendations for improvement to the House Oversight Committee, I would ultimately like to look at the structure of economic services for potential realignment. I have already moved forward on plans to consolidate the offices of OHAN, the Office of Investigations and Internal Audits, by requesting an external assessment from Casey Family Programs on merging these disparate functions into an Office of the Inspector General. We have requested a leadership position for the Inspector General's Office in our FY2016-17 budget request with the goal of consolidating staff within one office to provide oversight to incident reviews and corrective actions plans for all children in foster homes and group home care.

I am certainly open to reviewing whether core functions of SCDSS can be better served through other structural designs. The current structure of SCDSS (child welfare, adult advocacy, child support, and economic services under one cabinet agency) is a common form of structure for child welfare in the United States. When one looks at the structure of child protective services agencies (CPS) across the country and whether other functions (SNAP, TANF, child support, child care, Medicaid, juvenile justice, and adult protective services) are typically housed under the same umbrella with CPS, the current breakout is as follows:

- Adult Protective Services is housed within 69% of CPS State agencies
- Child care vouchers are housed within 78% of CPS State agencies
- Child care licensing is housed within 80% of CPS State agencies
- Child support is housed within 67% of CPS State agencies
- Juvenile justice is housed within 29% of CPS State agencies
- Medicaid is housed within 51% of CPS State agencies
- SNAP is housed within 73% of CPS State agencies

- TANF is housed within 73% of CPS State agencies
- Vocational Rehabilitation is housed within 18% of CPS State agencies
- WIC is housed within 24% of CPS State agencies

To date, we have not found any compelling evidence that any particular structure has been linked to better outcomes, but I am happy to discuss with the committee further if requested.

I concur with the committee staff's recommendations that the agency must address its issues around reducing staff turnover (measured at 39.1% in child welfare in 2014) and improving employee morale. I am committed to gaining input directly from our staff on ways in which the department can address these issues. I have visited 37 of our 46 county offices, personally talking to over 2000 staff, to get their input on what will help improve staff morale. We have already made some significant strides in addressing the reasons staff indicate they leave SCDSS; workload, salary, and lack of a career ladder in the agency. The Legislature in FY2015-16 gave the department funding and FTE's to hire 177 more caseworkers, six (6) supervisors, and 67 caseworker assistants. Once caseworkers are hired and complete six (6) weeks of certification training, they will begin to take on child welfare cases, which will result in caseload reductions in 2016. Caseworker assistants are being hired to help caseworkers with transportation and administrative functions, thus decreasing stress and allowing caseworkers to see more children, more frequently. Additional funds received in the FY2015-16 budget, allowed us to pilot 2nd and 3rd shift caseworker positions in Richland and Greenville counties which has reduced the stress on caseworkers who are on-call after hours for emergencies or who are called upon to handle cases which require attention around the clock. The legislature also funded salary increases for caseworkers; 15% for Child Welfare assessment workers, 10% for Child Welfare, Adult Protective Services, Foster Care and IFCCS caseworkers and supervisors, 5% for Child Support, Economic Services and Child Care caseworkers and supervisors, clerical staff agency-wide and Economic Services Call and Scan Center staff. These salary increases put our caseworkers more in line with salaries offered by other child-serving state agencies in South Carolina.

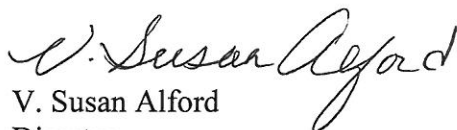

We plan to continue to request funding to provide incentives for our staff to remain with the agency and to improve staff morale. I will be glad to share our budget request for FY2016-17 with the House Oversight Committee, so that Committee members can review our plans to create a step-progression, or career ladder for our staff, as well as fund caseload reduction strategies and improvements in foster care. We have also implemented several steps to address continuous feedback loops for our staff, so staff can be more involved in making suggestions for agency improvement. We have established an employee feedback button on our Agency's Unite home page, so that staff can make suggestions on ways to improve our processes and operate more efficiently. The University of South Carolina has developed an online employee satisfaction survey, which will be distributed in November 2015, to allow DSS to do a baseline assessment as to the organizational climate of the agency. This survey will be administered annually and input will be analyzed and provided to agency leadership, so we can get a better sense of what barriers currently exist to systems improvement, as well as ways we can create incentives for staff in the workplace. We also have routinely scheduled agency meetings with our staff in human service and economic services, so they have more regularly-scheduled opportunities to provide feedback as to their issues regarding workload and agency improvements.

Department staff have reviewed the results of the Oversight Committee's online survey, and our Spartanburg County director, Angela Robinson, requested that DSS's Human Resources department look at some of the allegations contained in the survey, for follow-up. That assessment has been completed, and we can share that assessment with the Oversight Committee, as desired. With respect to the Committee's recommendations as to conducting interviews with our county directors, to get feedback on the results of the online survey, we can certainly make staff available to the Committee for that review. We will also be happy to share the results of the USC staff satisfaction survey, by county, to gain insight into any particular issues that have been presented; I expect the results of that survey to be available by the end of the month.

Finally, we agree with the Committee's recommendations around the need to examine our use of performance measures and benchmarks to effectively manage our resources, to include how we balance utilization of state office and county office staff. We would welcome your input as to how we can more strategically expend our resources, as part of our long-range plans for continuous quality improvement of agency services. As I have stated to the legislature on numerous occasions this year, SCDSS is not a modernized agency, and there is no question that efforts to streamline functions using information technology could improve agency services to our clients on all fronts. More modernized delivery systems would also impact our staffing levels, and could lead to more optimal use of human resources towards improvement activities. We are working with the Governor's office to explore options which could fast-forward our modernization efforts, to include contracting with the Department of Administration for our core hardware needs.

We would like to thank your staff, for their feedback around areas of the department under examination, as we are committed to creating a sustainable platform for the department's efforts to improve our service delivery systems. Please let me if you require any additional information towards that end, or if I can be of any assistance to you as we move forward.

Sincerely,
