Proposed Regulation Changes

Currently, the Secretary of State’s Office is seeking to make an amendment to the Uniform Real Property Electronic Recording Act.
Agency Reporting

➢ To ensure all required agency reporting is accessible to the General Assembly and the public, the agency posts the reports online on the Secretary of State’s website at www.sos.sc.gov.

➢ Although the agency has not been providing electronic copies of the reports to the Legislative Service Agency or printed and/or electronic copies of reports to the State Library for some time, the agency will begin complying with these requirements immediately. Presently, the agency’s Annual Accountability Report is available on the State Library’s website.
Audit and Risk Mitigation

The Secretary of State’s internal auditing is primarily conducted by its Finance Division. The Finance Division consists of the Director of Administration, the Procurement Officer/Human Resources Director, and a Fiscal Analyst. There is no separate audit division in the agency. However, the Finance Division utilizes the following internal audit processes:

- Revenue: The Revenue System is the Secretary of State’s checks and balances system of revenue transactions before it is interfaced into SCEIS.

- Cash: Cash is verified by the Director of Administration before it is taken to the bank for deposit.

- Checks: Checks are inspected by the Finance Division to verify each divisions’ deposit balances daily.
Audit and Risk Mitigation

- P-Card: P-Card receipts are verified by the Director of Administration to ensure all charges are valid.

- Purchases: All purchases are reviewed by the Director of Administration for validity.

- Invoices: All payable documents are processed by accounting workflow and are inspected by the Director of Administration for proper coding and documentation. This ensures that controls are in place at all times. Additionally, anything processed with a purchase order has been previously approved by the Director of Administration, again ensuring a further level of control.
Audit and Risk Mitigation

- HR Payroll: All payroll is inspected accordingly to the SCEIS payroll processing checklist.

- Human Resources: The HR Director has checklists for new hires, changes in positions, separations, and benefits. Also, the HR Director inspects employee I-9 filings for federal compliance annually.

- Inventory: Annual inventory is verified each fiscal year by the Procurement Officer and IT Consultant.

- The agency utilizes the SCEIS system to ensure that roles are divided and internal checks and balances are in place to mitigate risks.
The agency does not have a separate internal audit division as discussed above, but is audited annually by the State Auditor’s Office. In addition, the Department of Administration’s Office of Human Resources audits the agency annually.

The last financial audit conducted by the State Auditor’s Office dated June 18, 2019, found no exceptions to the State Auditor’s agreed upon procedures. The last Office of Human Resources audit report dated June 30, 2018, found that the agency was 100% in compliance.
Audit and Risk Mitigation

- In August 2017, the Secretary of State was notified by Legislative Council that the state seal had not been applied to a ratified act from 1998.

- Senior staff members conducted a review of the procedures for filing ratified acts as well as an inspection of acts dating back to 2003.

- At that time, it was determined that the state seal had been applied inconsistently to the inspected ratified acts.
The State Seal

It is important to note that the ratified acts that were found not to have been embossed with the seal since 2003:

- Were filed in the office with the Secretary of State’s Signature.
- Were stamped with the date received by the Secretary of State’s Office.
- Were entered into the agency’s ratified acts database.
The State Seal

In order to ensure that the state seal would be applied to all ratified acts in the future, the following policies and procedures have been implemented:

- The state seal has been added to the filed stamp bearing the filing date and Secretary of State’s signature, in case the state seal embosser is not applied to the ratified act or imprinted with sufficient force to emboss the document.

- All Notaries Division staff are trained to apply the state seal to all ratified acts using the state seal embosser.
The State Seal

- The requirement to apply the state seal to ratified acts is included in all position descriptions for the Notaries Division.

- Additional state seal embossers have been purchased in order to enable the seal to be applied more easily when pressed on the document.

- Senior staff members periodically review ratified acts to ensure that Division staff members have applied the state seal as required.

Business Entities Online

- In January 2017, the Secretary of State launched the Business Entities Online application for public access to file and search corporate documents.

- The document request functionality was completed in phase one of the project in 2015.
Agency Successes

- The second phase of the comprehensive business filing, search, and document retrieval web-based application provides fast turn-around times for customers, and also includes the Business Entities In-house application.

- The Business Entities In-house application replaced a legacy system and allows agency personnel to enter filings received through the mail or submitted at the office and provide copies of filings electronically.
Agency Successes

Additionally, we have reviewed, edited, and reorganized the corporate forms available on the agency’s website. This award-winning application was a result of the successful partnership with South Carolina Interactive (SCI).
Agency Successes

- The Secretary of State’s Office continues to expand the functionality of the Business Entities Online application.

- This latest phase of the comprehensive business filing, search, and document retrieval web-based application provides a “Save” functionality which allows customers to save information and return to complete the filings at a later time or correct any information that caused the filing to be returned.

- This has increased the adoption rate of online filing. As of August 1, 2019, the adoption rate for filings is 77.4% and for certificates and document requests 97.8%.
Agency Successes

UCC Online Filing Search and Document Retrieval

UCC Online was launched in May 2011. The launch of the Uniform Commercial Code (UCC) online filing system allowed businesses and citizens to file, search and retrieve UCC documents electronically.

UCC Online was recognized at the state, national and international level with the following awards:

- International Association of Commercial Administrators (IACA)
- Digital Government Best of The Web
- SC Information Technology Directors Association Award (SCITDA)
Agency Successes

- UCC Online allows users to file, correct, amend, terminate, search and retrieve UCC financing statements. UCC Online provides convenient 24/7 access, immediate filing confirmation, quicker UCC Search processing time and immediate search results. As of August 1, 2019, the adoption rate was 62.2% for online filing and 99.4% for online UCC searches.

- XML bulk filing is also available.

Charities Online Filing

- In February 2009, the charities online filing system was launched providing charities and professional fundraisers the ability to file registrations, exemptions and annual financial reports online.

- The agency has continued to provide upgrades and enhanced functionality for the online application.
Agency Successes

- Recently, enhancements were made to the charities database that simplified the online filing process for customers by streamlining the options for uploading required documents and providing a PDF to customers that captured the information provided to our office during their online registration.

- These enhancements were launched in April 2019.

- At this time, approximately 55% of our charities filings are submitted online.
Agency Successes

- In July 2017, we launched an online complaint form through which information is submitted electronically to our investigators, allowing customers to easily file complaints about solicitations from charities, professional fundraisers, and raffles that may warrant investigation.
Agency Successes

- Secretary of State Mark Hammond has made charities enforcement a cornerstone of his administration.

- His goals are to protect charitable donors by requiring transparency and accountability of charities and professional fundraisers; enforcing the Solicitation of Charitable Funds Act; and educating donors on wise charitable giving.

- Secretary Hammond focuses both on in-state charitable solicitation as well as multistate enforcement actions and education initiatives.
Agency Successes

May 19, 2015 - Secretary Hammond addresses reporters in Washington, DC following a press conference where it was revealed that four sham cancer charities had bilked more than $187 million from donors nationwide. The multistate action, which included the SC Secretary of State's Office, represents one of the largest such cases in charity enforcement history.
Agency Successes

- Building on the success and momentum of the Cancer Fund Multistate, Secretary Hammond has continued to work with other states to protect charitable donors and educate the public on wise charitable giving.

- In 2018, the Secretary of State’s Office participated in Operation Donate with Honor, a nationwide crackdown on fraudulent veterans-related charities.

- Secretary Hammond believes that partnering with other states and agencies is key to permanently banning bad actors from the charitable sector.
Agency Successes

Boards and Commissions Online Searchable Database

- Pursuant to S.C. Code of Laws §1-5-40, the Secretary of State’s Office has a duty to monitor positions on state boards and commissions.

- The Secretary of State’s Office must keep membership information for state boards and commissions as a public record available for inspection by the members of the General Assembly and members of the public.

- Prior to the launch of the online searchable database, this requirement was met with information on boards and commissions posted periodically on the agency website.
Agency Successes

- In order to provide the information in an easily accessible format for the public that is updated daily, the Secretary of State’s Office launched its online searchable boards and commissions database in January 2014.

- This application allows online searches by name of board or commission as well as the appointed board member, and provides a current list of expired terms and vacancies on state boards and commissions.
Agency Successes

- The membership information on file with the Secretary of State’s Office is based on information provided by state boards and commissions pursuant to S.C. Code of Laws §1-1-1310.

- Under this code section, state boards and commissions must send written notification to the Secretary of State’s Office regarding any appointment, election, resignation or vacancy within the board or commission.
Agency Successes

➢ This searchable database is updated daily and benefits the general public, the Governor’s Office, and members of the South Carolina General Assembly. The searchable database also provides transparency for the public to view the composition of state boards and commissions.
Agency Challenges

Technology

- The Secretary of State’s Office is integral in the transaction of business in South Carolina; therefore, offering the best possible technology to our customers remains a top priority for our agency.

- Additionally, providing user-friendly in-house applications to our staff is essential to maintaining excellent customer service as well as efficient and accurate filing of documents.

- Preserving permanent state records remains a critical function of the agency, while simultaneously providing online access to these records to the public.
Agency Challenges

- The agency has many applications, including web-based and in-house applications, that must be supported and updated as required when technology changes.

- Data security is also top priority, and staff works diligently to ensure that data and records remain secure. Information technology staff works side-by-side with the Deputy Secretary of State and division directors in application development and project management.

- The Secretary of State’s Office strives to meet the challenge of providing the most up-to-date technology to customers and staff in an ever-changing world, while conserving state resources.
Agency Challenges

Participation in Additional Multistate Charity Actions

- The Secretary of State’s Office has successfully participated in multistate charity enforcement actions; however, this participation has required a significant commitment of staff time as well as agency expenditures.

- Presently, the Secretary of State’s Office is focusing on the enforcement of the South Carolina Solicitation of Charitable Funds Act and violations of the law as it relates to South Carolina organizations.
Agency Challenges

- Secretary Hammond believes that it would be beneficial to be able to join other additional multistate cases, but this is challenging due to limited staff resources.

- Since the addition of a second investigator in 2017, the number of open violations and investigations has risen significantly.

- With additional resources, Secretary Hammond believes that the agency could maximize both in-state and multistate charities enforcement.
Agency Challenges

Physical Security

- Balancing the goal of providing the best possible customer service while providing security for staff and customers remains an ongoing challenge for the Secretary of State’s Office.

- The Secretary of State’s Office is located in the Edgar Brown Building and, unlike most buildings on the Capitol Complex, does not have security officers present at all times during business hours to screen visitors to the building.
Agency Challenges

- Due to the types of filings the Secretary of State’s Office receives, the agency is a constant target of sovereign citizens.

- The Federal Bureau of Investigation called sovereign citizens “a growing domestic threat to law enforcement” and described one of their primary activities as “paper terrorism” (a reference of their tactic of filing fraudulent liens against persons and companies).
Agency Challenges

- The Secretary of State’s Office serves walk-in customers daily and must reject filings that are deficient.

- Provisions in the laws governing Uniform Commercial Code secured transactions and the authentication of documents permit the Secretary of State to reject documents that appear to be submitted for an improper or unlawful purpose.

- When staff rejects a sovereign citizen filing, it is common for the sovereign citizen to become argumentative and disruptive to other customers.
Agency Challenges

- Unfortunately, staff has to contact the Bureau of Protective Services on a regular basis to assist with the removal of sovereign citizens.

- In 2017, the Secretary of State’s Office renovated its lobby to provide a glass barrier to provide some level of protection for our receptionist and staff when meeting with the public.

- The Secretary of State’s Office has also installed security cameras to record activities in the lobby.
Due to the constant, in-person engagement of sovereign citizens with our agency, however, the Secretary of State believes that customers and staff would best be protected by a continuous security presence that screens visitors as they enter the Edgar Brown Building.
Emerging Issues

Electronic and Remote Online Notarization

- The Secretary of State’s Office is responsible for the commissioning of notaries public.

- Notaries public serve an important role in the prevention of fraud. In order to better serve citizens and stay abreast of new technology, many states have adopted legislation allowing electronic and remote online notarization.

- This new technology provides both convenience and security, and benefits the business community as well as individuals.
Emerging Issues

- Electronic notarization would allow a signor and the notary to electronically sign a document and submit it electronically for filing, such as with the one of the South Carolina counties that currently provide e-recording at their Register of Deeds office.

- Remote online notarization would allow a South Carolina attorney to facilitate a real estate closing in South Carolina for a client who may be located out of town, out of state, or even out of the country.
Emerging Issues

- Some of the key factors and considerations of electronic and remote online notarization include the following:

  - Electronic notarization would allow notaries to notarize documents using an electronic/digital signature for an electronic document.

  - Both the notary and signor sign with an electronic signature.

  - The signor physically appears in front of the notary.

  - Documents are transmitted electronically.
Emerging Issues

- Remote online notarization would allow the notary and signor to be in two different locations.

- The signor appears in front of the notary using audio-visual technology.

- Electronic and remote online notarization are the equivalent of signing a sheet of paper, but provide easier transmittal of the document via email or another electronic means and provides for electronic filing.
Emerging Issues

- Electronic and remote online notarization provide security, efficiency and enhanced customer service during real estate closings and recording documents with county clerks and register of deeds offices. They offer more security than mailing documents to out-of-state customers to have notarized.

- South Carolina needs to provide these services for citizens, attorneys, bankers, and real estate professionals to stay competitive with other states.

- The National Association of Secretaries of States (NASS) supports both electronic and remote online notarization.
Emerging Issues

- In August of 2018, Secretary Hammond assembled the Secretary of State’s Office E-Notary Task Force.

- This group of interested parties worked together to draft legislation to bring this new technology to the citizens of South Carolina. The Secretary of State hopes South Carolina will join the 19 other states that currently provide electronic and remote online notarization.

- If electronic and remote online notarization legislation were to pass, the Secretary of State would have the responsibility of promulgating the regulations to implement the standards and requirements for e-notarization.
Emerging Issues

Emergence of Crowdfunding Platforms

➢ In recent years, we have seen the proliferation of online crowdfunding platforms for charitable giving.

➢ These crowdfunding platforms allow people to conduct fundraising campaigns online, with the crowdfunding platforms retaining a percentage of the donations.

➢ People use crowdfunding platforms to solicit contributions for any number of purposes, from business ventures to medical bills to disaster relief. Many of these campaigns solicit contributions for the private benefit of individuals and not for charitable purposes.
Emerging Issues

- Legal staff is currently working with members of the General Assembly and stakeholders in the nonprofit sector to examine this emerging issue.

- Presently, there are plans to form a Crowdfunding Task Force to meet in the Fall of 2019 to review model legislation and determine what protections would meet the needs of South Carolinians.

- Agency staff has also joined the National Association of State Charities Officials (NASCO) Crowdfunding Committee to follow national trends on this subject.
Emerging Issues

Collection of Beneficial Ownership Information

- Over the past several years bills have been introduced in Congress that would potentially impact the Secretary of State’s Office.

- This legislation concerns what is known as beneficial ownership. A beneficial owner is a legal term describing specific property rights that belong to a person even though legal title of the property belongs to another person.
Emerging Issues

- Not everyone wants to be identified as a beneficial owner. Criminals will use a corporate entity to hide their true identity, the purpose of an account, and/or the source or use of funds or property associated with the entity.

- Beneficial ownership rules are designed to assist authorities in counteracting money laundering, tax evasion, corruption and terrorism activities and other financial crimes.
Emerging Issues

- Under the Bank Secrecy Act, all covered financial institutions are required to collect and verify from certain non-exempt legal entities specific information about the beneficial owners of the entity when a new bank account is opened.

- A legal entity customer is defined as a corporation, limited liability company or other entity created by the filing of a public document with the Secretary of State’s Office. A beneficial owner owns or controls more than 25% of a company’s shares or voting rights or exercises control over the company.
Emerging Issues

- Enactment of federal legislation that would require the Secretary of State to determine the beneficial ownership information of a legal entity would place an onerous burden on the agency.

- Furthermore, beneficial ownership information currently exists with the Internal Revenue Service. The Internal Revenue Service requires all filers to provide and update “responsible party” information through IRS Form SS-4, thereby making such ownership details accessible to federal law enforcement officials.
Emerging Issues

For these reasons, the National Association of Secretaries of State (NASS) put forth a resolution in July 2015 that states that NASS shall oppose any unnecessary and costly federal proposals requiring states to collect the same information currently being gathered through IRS Form SS-4 and made available to law enforcement authorities.
Emerging Issues

NASS further asserts that the United States can meet its international commitments to fighting crime and financial wrongdoing through the abuse of corporate vehicles by promoting the adoption of federal government regulations that require financial institutions to collect ownership information for account holders, in addition to IRS Form SS-4 information collection.

Although NASS has taken a position that beneficial ownership should be monitored at the federal level, this remains an emerging issue that all Secretary of State’s Offices must address.
