The key current and long term goal of the State Museum is to remain current, competitive, and unique in the market place while maintaining its educational point of difference. The State Museum is competing for discretionary dollars and leisure time with a multitude of other various attractions, events, and places. We must remain diligent listeners to the needs and expectations of the citizens of South Carolina who are the “owners” of the facility. We must remain respectful of the past but committed to the future.

Key Comprehensive Goals Include:

- Increasing attendance and revenues in order to become more self-sustaining and to self-fund desperately needed core improvements and renovations to the permanent exhibits.
- Increasing citizen, corporate, and foundation private financial support for the museum including increasing the corporate, family, and individual membership base.
- Build, preserve and use collections of distinction.
- To present exhibits, educational programs and public programs that provides lasting experiences and impact.
- To provide assistance to the statewide museum community and to forge strategic alliances and partnerships that will magnify the museum’s ability to provide benefits to the public.
- Provide facilities and technology that meet visitor expectations, museum standards and programming needs.
- To secure a growing and diverse funding base to meet operational needs and to enable the museum to fulfill its vision of an ever-changing institution that is a model among museums nationally.

2. Situation Analysis
Education

Though school general attendance dipped by 4.5% this year, nearly all education program attendance and revenue exceeded projections and last year’s figures. Camp, birthday party and overnight programs all gained ground and are becoming consistently well attended. New classroom and outreach programs were very successful, with the greatest growth occurring in auditorium science presentations.

To address attendance concerns, the department has begun to create a marketing plan and expand awareness about the museum’s education programs. Staff has been working with new and established partners to create and broaden our statewide education presence. An organization change involved moving the Group Visits scheduling group from the Education Department to Operations, allowing more focus on educational content and awareness.

Classroom and observatory offerings expanded to 23 programs last year, with another 15 new programs for next year planned. New classes will address more subjects and include more middle and high school level content. Part of the expansion includes updated classrooms with technologies like touch screens, tablets, and robotic sets for multiple grades. The museum also is planning new ways to reach educators, including a dedicated observatory website, outreach branding, and teacher education guide.

New outreach programs have been developed over the past year based on exhibits on on-site education classes. StarLab planetarium programming exceeded projections this year, however, other outreach program bookings are below expectations. However, an area of large growth for the outreach department was in STEM and other festivals around the state. New gallery program development (tours, lessons, and education stations) was part of last year’s focus.

Two new department staff (volunteer and observatory outreach managers) are working with all museum departments to meet objectives in their respective areas. Volunteer efforts include recruitment, training and greater diversity, as well as involvement in all museum areas, while observatory outreach is building statewide partnerships and expanding education efforts to all areas of South Carolina.

Collections

The museum purchased a new Collections Management System, Axiell’s EMu, using the $125,000 appropriation provided by the state in 16/17. This product was selected following benchmarking by staff after reviewing several systems and meeting with other museums across the southeast and beyond. The system was then customized to fit our specific needs, installed on our operating system and the data from IO (the earlier, outdated system) was transferred in 17/18 after much logistical discussion and mapping of information. Staff applied for an IMLS grant in 17/18, which was awarded to inventory and digitize the art collection so that it can also be integrated into the system and digitally accessible through the internet. This will take place in FY 18/19 through 19/20.

Staff have been hired to fill all 3.5 new FTE positions using funding allocated by the state. This included a new Art Curator, Collections Outreach Manager, Science and Technology Curator and part-time programs assistant. Our programs manager retired and this position will be filled in the new fiscal year. As we continue to move forward, we need to ensure that collections personnel efforts are organized and collectively directed to serve the museum’s mission and maximize guest impact through our exhibitions, programs and outreach opportunities.

Staff continued collections remediation in storage and exhibit areas affected by insect issues in 2016. We continued cleaning collections storage and galleries, inspected and rehoused the more than 1500 cold-treated collections items including uniforms, rugs, clothing and mounted specimens. The museum ordered a dedicated -30 degree freezer for ongoing, preemptive collections care on site. Approximately 4000 hours have been dedicated to collections care and remediation with full and part-time Collections staff this year. As a preventative measure, staff are developing an Integrated Pest Management plan for long term care to avoid insect concerns in the future.

In addition to these achievements, curators brought in 39 acquisitions totaling 638 objects, and managed 42 loans to and from other institutions for exhibition and research purposes. One major long term loan was resolved and returned to the lender. Curators continue to work on other long term loans housed at the museum.

Programs

The museum hosted a total of 65 public programs including 3 new programs that repeated several times each, a total of 7 times throughout the year. This included Leo Twiggs’ Circles of Dialogue, part of the Requiem for Mother Emmanuel exhibition (x3) and Holiday Spa Days, a hands-on children’s gift making station which was part of Winterfest (x3). We also added a Nutcracker Ballet program partnering with Ann Brodie’s Carolina Ballet.

In total, our programs provided mission focused opportunities to more than 12,500 guests and generating $36,000 in additional ticketed revenue.

We will be evaluating a master planning process that will ultimately yield fewer but more impactful program opportunities. Our efforts have been too spread out and we need better focus and timing to maximize our overall program impact.

Marketing

The marketing plan for 2017-18 performed adequately, with great success in some areas and underperforming results in others. Eclipse turnout in August 2017 exceeded initial expectations and brought national news coverage for the State Museum. However, general and school group attendance in the Fall of 2017 dipped despite the return of the Museum of Oz in October. Another reason for lower attendance could be attributed to the lack of a featured Blockbuster exhibit in 17-18.

AGENCY NAME:	SC Museum Commission

Increasing both general and school visitation numbers will be major priorities for the coming year. Targeting teachers more effectively, as well as communicating to group sales organizations, will be a large component of this initiative.

In early 2018, the marketing department launched a well-received branded jingle campaign, "Open For Fun". This campaign included a new commercial with the goal to raise general awareness about the museum. In addition to the extensive commercial airplay, the marketing team also developed "Open For Fun" branded graphics that have been incorporated into print and digital advertising. The "Open For Fun" tv spots will continue running through the end of this year and the branded graphics will also be used in a series of billboards promoting upcoming museum events and shows.

Spring Break promotions also performed well in March and April, driving attendance and ticket sales for the Black Holes planetarium show. The campaign to launch the new 4D movie, Ice Age: No Time For Nuts 4-D, was not as impactful as anticipated, and, as a result, summer attendance declined.

In March the Marketing Director resigned, leaving the remaining marketing team in a transitional state through the rest of the fiscal year. A new interim director is now in place, along with support from inJeanious Media, and although the department is still in transition we are working towards developing a more efficient and productive work process.

InJeanious Media worked with Education to create a brand for the museum's outreach initiatives call Let's Go L.E.A.R.N. with the L.E.A.R.N. acronym standing for each of the five outreach areas. Marketing will work to incorporate the Let's Go L.E.A.R.N. messaging in its 2018-19 communication pieces.

Our paid media exceeded budget in the past year and our media expenditures compared to attendance is higher than our desired goal. The marketing department will also receive support from municipality taxes this year for a total of $90,000.

Membership

Membership revenue and membership attendance declined slightly last fiscal year, although we did see great results from a lapsed member appeal in May and June. The marketing team will be identifying opportunities to increase revenue through a revamp of our state payroll deduction program and through corporate partnerships over the next year.

We will also be working with a membership consultant to develop a plan to stop declining sales and renewals. This plan will also identify strategies to increase membership appeal, identify tactics that work in communicating the value of membership, as well as identify ways in which we can keep the museum and membership attendance top-of-mind.

Operations

The Cotton Mill Exchange achieved record results during the solar eclipse in August, with $205,400 in incremental revenue from eclipse-related sales. The holiday season included successful holiday markets in Spartanburg and Columbia, and the spring was highlighted by the museum "yard sale", school gift bag sales, and a successful spring break. The store performed well, with a per cap of $5.30 for the year (up $1.24 from the previous year) as a direct result of the eclipse. Factoring out the eclipse, the store otherwise saw a 4% drop in revenue that followed with the 8% drop in total museum attendance. The front desk operation thrived during the eclipse, but otherwise continued to struggle with a lack of strong supervision and consistency. This area is being restructured with Group Visits in the coming year in an effort to provide more dedicated and attentive leadership.

Facility Rentals had a great year, setting an all-time revenue record. The newly renovated Vista Room contributed to the efforts with a 12% increase in revenue generated from that space. There were many high-profile rentals of note including The Hammond School Auction, The SC Philharmonic Gala, the Columbia Museum of Art Gala, The Black Pages Taste of Columbia Expo, The Free Times Best of Party, and holiday parties for Aflac, Mungo Homes, Centaurus and First Citizens, among many others. Additionally, our sales efforts this spring resulted in signing the Palmetto Health Festival of Trees to a 3-year commitment starting with the November 2018 event.

Building Services accomplished an impressive turnaround under the direction of first-year manager Wes Westbrook. What had been an unmotivated and undependable group began to thrive under the training and leadership provided. Building Services is now a strength that can be leveraged in support of rentals, special events, programs and general museum operations. The next challenge will be to maintain those improvements while controlling costs.

The 4D Theater nearly duplicated its' numbers from the previous year, providing steady results but lacking some excitement or urgency that would increase capture rates. The Polar Express continues to be a staple of the holiday season at the museum, although ticket sales do decline slightly each year this film has outsold all other titles in the past 4 years by over 16,000 tickets despite only running for 2 months each year. The film programming agreement with Iwerks expires in 2019, which will provide us with a natural opportunity to revisit our strategies for programming the theater. Additionally, closed captioning and descriptive audio systems were installed in the theater in June, which enable enhanced guest accommodations and bring the theater into compliance with the latest ADA standards.

Exhibits and Security

It is the responsibility of the Exhibit, Facility and Security department to ensure that our Guests are treated to a safe and educational experience. Over the past year we have added two full time Exhibit positions and fully staffed our Security department with four fulltime and four part time security officers. Challenges remain maintaining our Historic building. We have successfully worked with General Services on several large projects like eliminating roof leaks, replacing carpet, refinishing concrete floor in Natural History storage and replacing steam valves. Problems pertaining to HVAC systems remain.

Our exhibit team has designed and produced eleven exhibits this past year as well improving several spaces within the museum including the up fit of The Blue and Green rooms and acted as project manager for the installation of the new "thirty below freezer" for the Collections and Conservation Department. We also continue with the improvements of our permanent exhibits by replacing antiquated technology and time worn components with up to date systems and techniques.

Administration

The Administration staff has had a busy successful year, in addition to the Human Resources Manager position, 16 full time positions were filled this fiscal year. Technology security, IT needs, and support continued to be a day to day challenge, but all needs were met. The Staff Handbook was completely revised and updated in a new streamlined format. The Windows to New Worlds Project was officially closed and transferred from the Foundation to the Museum. The State Auditors reported no findings in their audit of the FY17 books. The Administration team participated in the reaccreditation Strategic Planning Committee process. A Marketing Outreach bid was awarded as were several sole source solicitations for planetarium shows and an award for a new StarLab.

Foundation

The South Carolina State Museum Foundation continues to focus on achieving fundraising goals in order to fulfill its mission of providing monetary support to the SCSM. Maintaining our relationships with our donors remained a top priority for the Foundation through communication and benefit fulfillment. We are continuing our advocacy efforts in the community to strengthen our relationships throughout South Carolina. The Foundation is looking forward to and preparing for the next phase of the South Carolina State Museum.

Risk Assessment and Mitigation Strategies – Artifact Collection (Value in excess of $5 million)

Due to the aging of the building and the building systems, the collection is subject to negative environmental impacts including fluctuations in temperature and humidity, water damage due to roof leaks, and insect damage due to deteriorating windows and doorways which allow easy access. Remediation options offered:

1. Replace all windows
2. Replace the roof
3. Replace and upgrade the HVAC systems
4. Contract with an external pest control company to provide regular treatments

Restructure Recommendations -

The Rent paid to the Dept. of Admin of $1,800,000 is 47% of the museum's State appropriation. The biggest potential for cost savings to our budget would be a different approach to our building occupancy (rent) costs.

1. Pay Actual operating costs to Dept. of Admin ($1,000,000)
2. Place all costs in Dept. of Admin and totally remove the cost from the museum's budget.
3. Sell or lease the building to a private developer or the museum's foundation in order to transfer the needed maintenance costs to the private sector and to maximize potential economic, energy and historical tax credits.
