From 1989 – 1993, I served as a Magistrate (part-time) for the County of Charleston. I was appointed to this position by the Governor after being recommended by my local state Senator and approved by the local delegation. This was a Court of limited jurisdiction that handled small claims, landlord tenant disputes, claim and deliveries and bond court. The jurisdiction of the Court was peninsula Charleston.

Since 2011, I have served as a judge of the Family Court in the Ninth Judicial Circuit. I am a resident judge in Charleston County and occupy seat no. 1. I was elected by the South Carolina General Assembly in February, 2011. The jurisdiction of the Family Court is established by state statute.

19. If the answer to question 18 is yes, describe or list five of your most significant orders or opinions and give the citations if they were reported. Also, list citations to any appellate review of these orders or opinions.

- (a) Adoptive Couple vs. Baby Girl, Birth Fathers and the Cherokee Indian Nation,
Case No. 2009-DR-10-3803
S.C. Appellate Case No.: 2011-205166

This action involved custody of a minor child of Cherokee Indian decent. The mother, a white female, and father, a native of the Cherokee tribe, had a child out-of-wedlock. (The child has since come to be widely known as Baby Veronica) The child was placed for adoption without the knowledge of the father. Unbeknownst to the biological father, the adoptive parent obtained physical custody shortly after the child's birth. After later becoming aware of the pending adoption action, the biological father and the Cherokee Indian Nation objected to the adoption. At the adoption hearing, the trial judge granted the biological father's counter petition for adoption. The child was placed with the father and both left South Carolina and moved to Oklahoma.

The adoptive parents appealed the case. A media storm brewed in South Carolina and Oklahoma. The South Carolina Supreme Court ultimately reversed the lower Court decision and remanded the case to Charleston County. I was assigned the case. At the first hearing, the Court approved the petition for adoption filed by the adoptive parents and issued a Decree of Adoption. The Court ruled that the child was to be returned to South Carolina immediately. Because the father failed to comply with my ruling, it was also necessary to issue orders to enforce the ruling. The unfolding situation drew national attention with governors of both South Carolina and Oklahoma getting involved. The father, after exhausting efforts in the Oklahoma state court system, the Indian tribal court system and the federal court system, ultimately allowed the child to be returned with her legal parents to South Carolina.

- (b) Keith Alan May vs. Denise Marie May
Case No. 2015-DR-10-3222
S.C. Appellate Case No.: 2017-000030

The order issued by me in this matter involved a motion to relieve a party from an order which approved the parties' agreement. The agreement contained inconsistent language which impacted whether one party would be obligated to pay the other $60,000 as their share in the marital home. I decided that the parties' agreement should be reformed and made the necessary adjustment to the agreement and final order. The former wife appealed the decision. The decision was affirmed.

- (c) Harrison Shelby Nelson vs. Melissa Starr Nelson
S.C. Appellate Case No.: 2017-000291

In this divorce case, the parties had resolved the child custody, visitation and support issues. The unresolved issues involved equitable distribution of significant marital assets and liabilities. After hearing all the testimony, the Court reached certain findings that the husband did not agree with. In his appeal, he challenged the Court's determination of his interest in property valued at more than a million dollars. He also asserted that my valuation of the marital home was incorrect. The wife also appealed my decision to grant a Rule 60(b) motion after the trial. The appellate court made a de novo review of the trial and all the evidence presented.

In the court decision, it agreed with my decision to grant the Rule 60(b) motion. In doing so, it directly quoted language that I put in my final order. The Court also agreed that my valuation of the husband's investment property and that the Court's valuation of marital home was within the range of the evidence presented at the final hearing. The final order was affirmed.

S.C. Appellate Case No. 2016-002327

This case involved the termination of the parental rights of Nina Ward and Benjamin Clayton to their minor children. Actions involving the termination of parental rights are some of the hardest for family court judges to make. In most cases, the parents truly love their children. However, their love is sometimes not enough to keep the families together. The judge is always governed by the best interest of the children. In this matter, the parents failed to complete their drug treatment and other provisions required in their treatment plan. I determined that the best interest of the children demanded that the Defendant's parental rights be terminated. The parents appealed the case but the South Carolina Court of Appeals confirmed my decision.

(e) SCDSS vs. Teoshi Etoya Manigault White and Jawaan Frederick

S.C. Appellate Case No.: 2018-000888

In this case, the Father, Jawaan F. White, appealed my final order terminating his parental rights to his minor daughter. Again, determinations in such cases are always difficult. Based upon the evidence, I determined that the Father had failed to make any material contribution toward the support of his child and that it would be in the child's best interest that his parental rights to her be terminated. The father appealed. The appellate court affirmed my decision.

There were three lawsuits in which I was named as a co-Defendant because I held a judgment against Lawrence E. Smith. The lawsuits were brought by lenders who held a security interest in real property owned by Mr. Smith. I was named in foreclosure proceedings against Lawrence Smith to determine the priority of liens and judgments filed against him. My judgment was never satisfied. The actions are Georgetown Greenhouse, Inc., vs. Lawrence E. Smith, Case No. 2008-CP-10-7049; Palmetto Mortgage Corporation vs. Lawrence E. Smith, Case No. 2009-CP-10-6913; and Wells Fargo Bank vs. Lawrence E.

Smith, Case No. 2010-CP-10-6334. No judgments were issued against me as a result of these actions.

I was appointed by the Charleston County Probate Court to serve as Special Administrator for the Estates of Richard and Florence Simmons. The Simmons died leaving a heavily mortgaged home with heirs unwilling to pay. The property was listed for sale and the mortgagor initiated a foreclosure action. The action, although naming me a Defendant, was filed after another Special Administrator had already been substituted in my stead. That action was filed under case no. 2011-CP-10-4828. The lender obtained the property in satisfaction of its lien. A quiet title action was later brought to clear delinquent taxes on the lot held by Florence Simmons by Equitable, Inc., (Case No.: 2012-CP-10-7567). I was not served with that action. No judgments were issued against me as a result of these actions.

Jerry Dotson vs. Ben Smith, et. al., Case No.: 2002-CP-10-1729. In 2001, I was named as a co-Defendant as a result of an error in drafting a deed used in a real estate transaction. The seller of a parcel of land initiated the action after our office incorrectly failed to use the correct legal description. As a result, the purchaser inadvertently acquired an undeveloped adjoining lot owned by the seller. After the mistake was discovered, the buyer refused to voluntarily return the lot. The seller filed an action against the buyer. Having been the person responsible for drafting the deed, I was also named as a co-Defendant. I consented to the entry of a judgment which was satisfied through my professional liability insurance company. I was represented by Attorney John Massalon.

I also recall that my name appeared as a Defendant in a federal lawsuit brought by a Ms. Rosa Pringle years ago. I don't recall ever being served with the action and believe that it was dismissed as a frivolous lawsuit. I was made aware of it when I was screened for this position in 2010. I have no further details about this matter and believe that it happened more than 20 years ago.

Since becoming a judge, I was name as a Defendant as a result of my service on the bench. The Cherokee Nation, in an effort to prevent me from holding a hearing in the matter of Adoptive Parents vs. Baby Girl a/k/a "Baby Veronica" case, attempted to obtain a temporary restraining order against me. The action was filed in the United States District Court under V.B., by her Next Friend, Angel Smith vs. Daniel E. Martin, Jr., Judge, Family Court for the Ninth Judicial Circuit, Civil Action No. 2:13-cv-02073-DCN-BM. J. Emory Smith, Jr., Deputy Solicitor from the Office of the South Carolina Attorney General was appointed to represent me. The action was dismissed.

Other than the above listed actions, I am unaware of any other lawsuits ever being filed against me.

Provide any other information that may reflect positively or negatively on your candidacy, or which you believe should be disclosed in connection with consideration of you for nomination for the position you seek. This information may include how your life experiences have affected or influenced the kind or type of judge you have been or plan to be.

Over the years, I've been an active participant in the Judicial Observation and Experience (JOE) program. Each summer, this program allows a number of law students to sit in our courtrooms and observe what actually takes place. I'm often surprised by the many questions asked by the students after each hearing. They always keep me on my toes. I've also presided over high school mock trial competitions here in the low country. While some young students appear before the Court facing miscellaneous criminal offenses, there are others pursuing their dreams of one day becoming a lawyer or a judge. The impact that a judge can have in both situations is not lost to me. I appreciate the honor of continuing to serve the people of South Carolina each day.
