AGENCY'S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS

Leadership

The vision of the SCDHHS is to be a responsive and innovative organization that continuously improves the health of South Carolina. The values of sustainability, efficiency, responsiveness, value, innovation, compassion and excellence are the foundation of the organization's culture. The director's commitment to these values are at the forefront of his leadership vision and guide his steering of the agency.

SCDHHS is South Carolina's primary health policy and finance agency, and the single state agency administering Medicaid, Children's Health Insurance Program (CHIP) and the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act (IDEA), Part C program. The director, advised by his deputies and key stakeholders, establishes the culture, major objectives and investment activities for the agency within the agency's relevant planning timeline. The cornerstone document used to communicate the agency's priorities is the Strategic Plan, which covers five key pillars: Engagement, Quality, Stewardship, Access, and Integration.

Each of these items in the strategic plan connect to statewide objectives articulated through the agency's accountability and strategic planning report and the agency head performance evaluation system. The strategic plan is populated with goals and objectives developed using the specific, measurable, attainable, relevant and time-bound (SMART) criteria detailed in annual Agency Accountability Reports. The director affects this culture through the hiring and development of senior managers that share the agency's values, adhere to the agency's mission and reinforce the agency's priorities. This is achieved through regular communication with agency leaders, ad-hoc sensing sessions with central office staff and regular visits to county offices to receive direct input from the agency's customer-facing division and provide direct articulation of the agency's priorities to staff. The agency also regularly hosts semi-annual Leadership Development Reviews and in-town, off-site planning and development activities to focus SCDHHS staff and managers on agency priorities.

Strategic Planning

SCDHHS' strategic planning is focused around better health, outstanding member services, responsive and responsible management and sound fiscal stewardship. The agency strives to develop and implement plans consistent with the Institute for Healthcare Improvement's (IHI's) "Triple Aim," which seeks to improve the patient experience (including quality and satisfaction), improve the health of the population and reduce the per-capita cost of health care.

The agency's strategic objectives are informed by its legal obligations as instructed by state and federal law, the South Carolina General Assembly, South Carolina Office of the Governor, policy guidance from the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services, among other legal authorities.

The director, along with the executive management team, hold structured strategic planning exercises to ensure that the agency produces a data-driven strategic plan that prioritizes program and project investment in a manner consistent with the agency's project investment, prioritization and governance model. These plans are implemented through consultation with the Governor's Office and General Assembly.

AGENCY NAME:	Department of Health and Human Services
AGENCY CODE:	J020	SECTION:	33

Plans are developed and implemented through the normal operations of the agency. SCDHHS plans can be revised through several settings including federal and state legislative action, Executive Order or through organic escalation by staff, beneficiaries or providers.

Customer Focus

SCDHHS' primary customer is the 1.3 million beneficiaries that receive either full or limited health coverage through the Medicaid State Plan, CHIP, waivers or a number of state programs that supplement the agency's primary programs. The provider community is a valued stakeholder, as they form the network that makes services available to the agency's primary customers. Various Medicaid programs are also articulated through a myriad of state agencies, which are funded by the General Assembly, and fall under the auspices and oversight of the Governor and various boards and commissions of the state.

The agency's responsibilities to each one of these customer groups are defined in statute, the Medicaid State Plan and waivers, contracts and enrollment agreements. The performance against each are detailed in individual program reports, all of which contribute in some way to the agency's strategic plan and the dashboards and metrics senior managers use to assess agency and program performance.

Workforce Focus/Human Resources

As a service organization, SCDHHS relies upon its workforce to develop Medicaid program strategy and policy and to deliver services to its members and providers. The director's endorsement of changes to the Employee Performance Management System (EPMS) and pursuit of engagement surveys from all employees demonstrate that the agency is willing to invest considerable time and effort into the development of the workforce.

As SCDHHS reaches peak activity in the Replacement Medicaid Management Information System (RMMIS) and improves maturity within the managed care program, SCDHHS is a transformation organization that must engage in disciplined organizational change management (OCM).

Process Management/Continuous Improvement

The director, along with the executive management team, invests considerable time and effort into continuously improving the processes, procedures and systems that allow SCDHHS to function efficiently, effectively and successfully. These efforts further the agency's vision to be a responsive and innovative organization that continuously improves the health of South Carolina's children and families.

The agency engages various divisions and tools to identify the strengths and weaknesses of programs, including an internal audit unit, program integrity, Payment Error Rate Measurement (PERM), External Quality Review Organizations (EQRO), external audit, contract monitoring independent verification and validation (IV&V) and regular internal oversight of health programs. Ultimately, the agency-wide continuous improvement efforts are focused on the primary mission of enrolling members and providers and ensuring the timely payment of authorized services rendered by a qualified provider. Accordingly, the performance measures of Objective 5 are linked to the performance measures of Objective 3 – Customer Focus.

In addition to customer-focused performance measures, the agency has undertaken a disciplined review of its 'early warning' systems, including program integrity (evaluation completed 2017) and internal audits (evaluation ongoing). Further, the acquisition of the IDEA Part C program is testing the agency's ability to ingest, remediate and improve low performing non-Medicaid programs that naturally overlap with the needs of Medicaid members.

Financial Management

SCDHHS is ultimately a health care policy and financing agency; without sound financial management, SCDHHS will be unable to meet its commitments to its over one million beneficiaries.

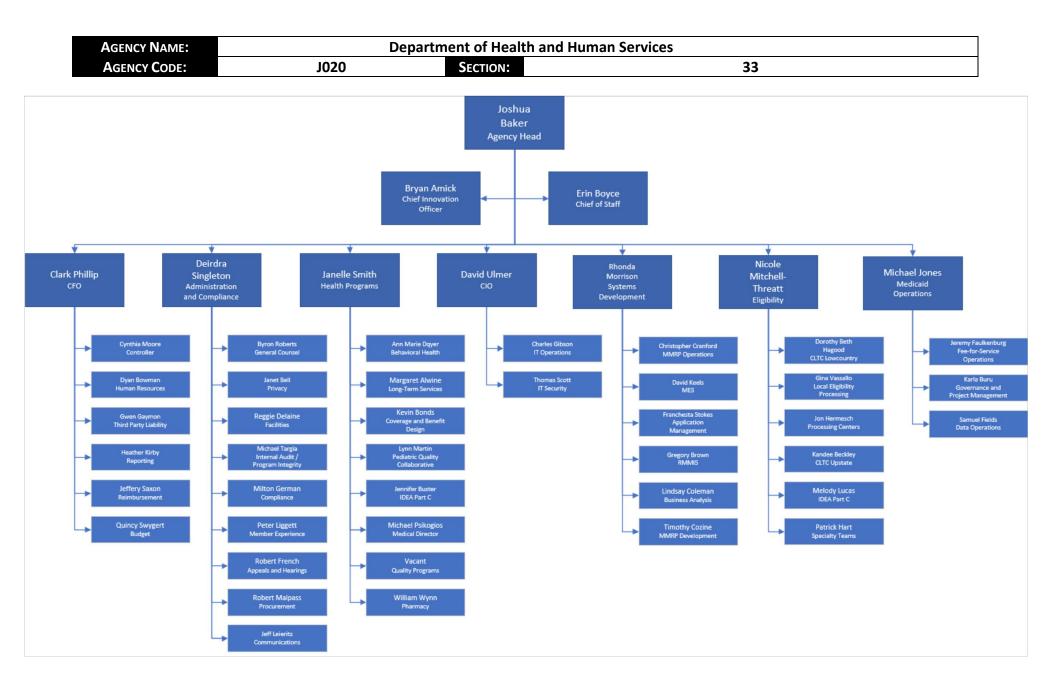

SCDHHS must ensure that it retains adequate working capital in order to pay its bills in a timely manner. Similarly, cost growth must be contained so that Medicaid expenditures do not force the Governor and the General Assembly to sacrifice whatever additional investments may be required in education, infrastructure or other policy arenas. Finally, SCDHHS must also develop a series of policies, controls and investigative/recovery mechanisms that deters or otherwise combats waste, fraud and abuse.

Risk Assessment and Mitigation Strategies

In this section, the Department is required to "identify the potential most negative impact on the public as a result of the agency's failure in accomplishing its goals and objectives", then "explain the nature and level of outside help it may need to mitigate such negative impact on the public", and finally "list three options for what the General Assembly could do to help resolve the issue before it became a crisis." Ultimately, the greatest negative impact that could result from the Department's failure to accomplish its goals and objectives would be a loss of access to healthcare services for over one million beneficiaries. A systematic failure like this is exceedingly unlikely. The most likely major threat would be the fiscal impact of the next recession, when revenues will fall, and the agency's budget will likely be cut. This is particularly challenging for Medicaid, which is a countercyclical program, meaning that more people become financially eligible and therefore the demand for Medicaid spending increases just as funding will start to be pulled away.

In terms of outside help, maintaining healthy reserve accounts for the Medicaid program itself and for the government as a whole is essential. Other threats to the program are technological (IT systems failure, cyberattack) or related to waste, fraud, and abuse. The Department has a multifaceted defense against many of these threats, but has taken a number of additional steps, including hiring specialists in key areas, gaining access to certain consultants, and increasing collaboration with the Department of Administration's technology and information security staff.

The General Assembly has already taken some of the actions needed to help avoid a crisis. Key provisos have been amended in recent years to allow the Department to maintain a responsible reserve balance, despite the repeated efforts of other parties to raid those funds. The deficit monitoring mechanism has been tightened to raise the likelihood that the legislature would be recalled in the event of a major shortfall between sessions. It is also important to continue to resist the temptation to use budget provisos to alter rates for certain classes of providers and/or to limit the Department's ability to manage the program in a responsive and responsible way.
