AGENCY’S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS

Agency overview.

SCETV amplifies South Carolina voices, provides educational experiences, and strengthens communities. The network is well known and respected in South Carolina and nationally for local content, educational services, and support of state government entities. SCETV operates a statewide network of 11 non-commercial and educational television stations and eight radio stations housed at the headquarters in Columbia and at regional studios in Beaufort, Sumter, Spartanburg and Rock Hill.

The SCETV Commission governs the work of the network and must comply with state and federal regulations and requirements. Through the relationship with the ETV Endowment of South Carolina, SCETV engages with audiences and donors around programming to generate support.

With the ongoing shift in audience habits and user expectations in today’s connected world, SCETV’s 2022-2025 strategic plan provides the framework and plan to be both nimble in making adjustments and forward thinking in its approach to content, distribution and the user experience. Across all operations, the agency is committed to ensuring that all programs and services reflect diverse communities giving voice to unique stories both in South Carolina and nationally.

From March until August 2023, SCETV was in a leadership transition following the departure of its president (Anthony Padgett), leadership of an interim (Dr. Stephanie Cook), and the hiring of a new president in June. Adrienne Fairwell becomes SCETV’s seventh president on August 17, 2023.

Education services for K-12.

The origins of SCETV trace back to 1957 when the South Carolina General Assembly passed a concurrent resolution calling for a study of the use of television in public schools. During FY22-23, SCETV’s education team supported efforts to make learning more accessible for South Carolina districts, schools, teachers, students, and parents, and continued to adapt existing programming to meet ongoing needs that remain following the pandemic.

Digital and Online Resources. KnowItAll.org is SCETV’s collection of over 10,000 learning resources designed specifically for South Carolina students. The collection includes lesson plans, handouts, videos, audio, photos, and interactives, most of which are aligned with SC College and Career Ready Standards. In FY22-23, SCETV partnered with the SC Department of Education to make KnowItAll resources available to districts via the state’s new learning object repository, SC Instruction Hub. During this year of transition, the site amassed 1.2 million pageviews and 449,000 new users. Fifty-two percent of users accessed KnowItAll.org resources using a computer, 45% via smartphone and 2% via tablet.

In addition to Knowitall.org, SCETV expanded access to web resources through the continued use of PBS LearningMedia. In FY22-23, South Carolina’s PBS LearningMedia library included more than 150,000 multimedia resources for pre-K-12 educators boasting more than 250,000 users. Users viewed approximately 700,000 pages, resulting in streaming of over 1.2 million videos, averaging 106,700 streams per month. Peak usage during the past year reflected 175,200 page views in February 2023 and nearly 459,000 video streams between February and April 2023. Training on PBS Learning Media was incorporated into customized workshops designed for educators across the state.

To address interruptions in learning due to broadband access challenges, SCETV made Wi-Fi hotspots available to early learning and community education partners without charge. During FY22-23, 426 hotspots were distributed to education partners.

In FY22-23, SCETV added family engagement as a strategic educational priority. Via projects like Simple.Digital and Discovery Day, SCETV supported families to encourage responsible and safe use of technology for learning and well-being. Simple.Digital is a digital literacy series featuring printable learning resources that cover topics like hardware, software, and cybersecurity. During FY22-23, Simple.Digital resources were viewed 1,296 times and used to engage more than 362 caregivers including parents, grandparents, and other guardians.

Student Engagement. South Carolina career and technical education participation data shows that nearly 4% of career and technical education participants selected the Arts, AV Technology and Communications cluster as an intended career pathway. To increase interest and participation in arts, av technology, and communication career pathways, SCETV prioritized student engagement and workforce development for FY22-23. Specific activities funded through this work include station field trips, career fair participation, and in-studio experiential learning experiences.

During the funding year, over 575 students visited the station to participate in tours and standard-aligned activities related to careers in public media. Many of the station field trip participants were students enrolled in media magnet programs or members of student journalism classes or clubs.

This funding year, SCETV began upfitting an existing distance learning studio to support these on-site learning experiences and to attract perspective workforce talent. The space is outfitted with state-of-the-art technology that supports podcast production, video production, instructional activities, and screening events. The space will be available for use starting fall 2023.

Beyond on-site field trips, more than 4,200 students were engaged via career fairs. Via initiatives like Shadow Day, unpaid internships, and other special events, over 23 middle school, high school, and higher education students gained real-life experience working in a public media production facility. These experiential learning opportunities promote careers in STEAM, finance, education, and mass communications. Their participation cultivated interpersonal skills, responsible use of media, and awareness of cross-sector career opportunities in the media landscape.

In addition to workforce-focused activities, student engagement and activities also included technology-integrated workshops with topics such as coding with PBS Scratch Jr., media literacy, and design thinking. Student workshop attendance counts exceed 880 learners. In aggregate, SCETV directly engaged over 11,500 students during FY22-23.

Where internet access is unavailable or limited, SCETV offers datacasting as a complementary solution. Datacasting is a one-way communication system that allows educators to send learning content to student devices using the broadcast signal. Specific activities funded through this work include the development of outreach materials, in addition to the research and design process for community resource kiosks powered by datacasting technology.

For a second year, SCETV partnered with the South Carolina Commission on Higher Education for South Carolina College and Career Decision Day. Mirrored after National Signing Day, this event recognized students' post-graduation decisions.

Early learning services and resources. SCETV placed increased emphasis on early learning services and resources in FY22-23. The network is an active partner in the state's Early Childhood Advisory Council and worked to support meeting outcomes of the South Carolina Birth to Five Plan for kindergarten readiness. The inaugural Discovery Day immersed youth attendees in the production process, starting with an audition in front of professional actors and producers, and then breaking into small groups to tour SCETV's studios. With more than 100 in attendance, the youth learned how to bring productions to life.

Along with outreach events, SCETV managed two early learning subscription services. First, the agency continued to use Bright by Text, a subscription service for early learning parents and caregivers that provides tips about child development, links to blog articles and information about community/family events. More than 1,200 subscribers received messages via the service and the numbers continue to increase. Second, SCETV continued to engage early learners via the SCETV Kid’s Club. This is a free subscription program that promotes literacy, learning through play, and healthy decision making to over 3,200 children ages 0 – 12.

Professional Development for Educators. Over the past year, SCETV offered synchronous virtual training and professional development on several instructional technology topics and emerging pedagogical trends to nearly 3,100 active, retired, and pre-service teachers in Pre K – 12 and higher education. Throughout FY22-23, more than 850 educators received recertification or renewal credit using SCETV resources. All courses are approved by the SC Department of Education. Educators can search courses through a centralized website by curriculum interest, professional development and credit needed, and they can also readily find out if courses qualify for technology credit. Some courses qualify for Read to Succeed credit, while others place emphasis on topics such as assessment, early childhood pedagogy, digital storytelling, project-based learning, flipped classrooms and arts-integrated teaching. The completion of each term yields an overwhelming majority of positive feedback from participants.

To assess the effectiveness of educational resources and services, SCETV deployed an annual teacher survey to measure the use of SCETV resources in the classroom. Of the 860 respondents who participated in SCETV professional development workshops, 98 percent found the resources and services valuable. Survey results also indicated that respondents taking SCETV recertification courses found the courses valuable, and 98 percent of KnowItAll.org users found it a valuable resource for teaching and learning. Responses gave insight into additional content needs and ways SCETV can further engage early learning communities. All survey results help SCETV ensure that services align, not only with the needs of educators, but also with the tenets outlined in the South Carolina Profile of the Ready Kindergartener or Profile of the South Carolina Graduate.

Advancing education for all of South Carolina.

In FY22-23, the agency produced a variety of content about education in South Carolina. Carolina Classrooms is SCETV’s series for teachers, parents, and anyone interested in the education of the state’s students. Topics of emphasis included school safety, health and wellness, workforce development, student journalism, and summer learning. These episodes were produced in collaboration with partners like the South Carolina Department of Education, South Carolina First Steps, South Carolina State Museum, and the South Carolina Assistive Technology Program plus various colleges, universities, schools, and districts in the state. Other content relevant to the programs’ topics was presented via SCETV’s website and agency Facebook pages.

SCETV also partnered with several organizations to advance the cause of education. In FY22-23, SCETV partnered with AbleSC, that advocates for people with disabilities, to support streaming their Advocacy Day. SCETV also partnered with Arts in Basic Curriculum to provide arts-integrated instructional materials to teachers, the South Carolina State Library to promote the joy of reading among early learners, and Fort Moultrie and Fort Sumter National Historical Park and Brookgreen Gardens to provide more instructional resources for understanding South Carolina’s role in national history. These partnerships resulted in the production of more than 30 instructional resources that target students from elementary to high school, across subjects and standards.

SCETV partnered with Aiken Technical College to provide free certified tower technician courses to military veterans through a partnership with Warriors 4 Wireless and Safety LMS. The certified tower technician course allows students to participate in classroom lectures and gain practical experience by climbing SCETV’s 787-foot-tall tower.

SCETV also announced a partnership aimed at revolutionizing healthcare communication and education in the state. This partnership establishes a strategic framework for the cooperation between the South Carolina Hospital Association and SCETV to support the creation of multi-platform content and instructional resources that highlight careers in healthcare. In FY23-23, the agency helped produce the SC Association of School Administrators’ annual professional development conference for school administrators by livestreaming and recording their legal forum and recording their gala. SCETV also supported livestreaming of the STEM Teacher of the Year press conference and produced promotional videos and introductions for several education partners.

Supporting State Government.

SCETV continued to develop learning materials for other state agencies. SCETV hosted the Criminal Justice Academy’s self-paced content and training for retired SLED agents and state constables who do not have access to CJA’s training system. SCETV’s SLED Constable online training site includes 1,904 current user accounts and 1,703 certificates earned. SCETV also partnered with the SC Department of Administration’s Division of Technology Operations to create and deliver free online interoperable communications courses to all public safety personnel in the state.

Emergency Preparedness Infrastructure. SCETV worked with the Governor’s Office and the Emergency Management Division to communicate important information such as inclement weather alerts, state office closings and evacuations. The network maintains 544 towers, including 47 tall towers (200 feet or higher) and the microwave backbone for emergency and public safety communications. SCETV also houses critical communications infrastructure for SLED, DNR, EMD, the Forestry Commission, DOD, DHS, Civil Air Patrol and 14 NOAA Weather Radio Service transmitters. SCETV maintains and manages the SCHEART (South Carolina Healthcare Emergency Amateur Radio Team) infrastructure, which includes a network of over 50 radio repeaters. SCHEART reached participating hospitals in the state and allowed the flow of information on incoming patients, evacuations, and coordination among facilities during emergencies and weekly communications exercises.

Public Health and Safety Initiatives. The agency continued to grow its weather service. In partnership with WUFT in Gainesville, Florida, this storytelling-based service provided live hurricane, tropical storm and other weather-related emergency content to South Carolina residents and visitors across the state, most often in real time. In FY22-23, SCETV increased the number of remote weather stations to nine. This remote station service pulls data to service the state with accurate and up to date information from across the state. During weather events, Facebook Live streams allow citizens to connect with weather experts.

SCETV continued its partnership with the SC Telehealth Alliance that has been in place since 2015. Consisting of several organizations that develop and expand telehealth services, this initiative has helped cut costs and increased access to healthcare for residents across the state.

Local Television Production.

SCETV aired live coverage of the House and Senate on its SCETV World channel during the legislative session from January to May, and the live stream of the session was delivered through the state’s legislative website. SCETV and SC Public Radio partnered with The Post and Courier to host debates for candidates in the 2022 Gubernatorial, Lieutenant Governor and State Superintendent of Education elections. The debates were held at SCETV in Columbia and aired live on SCETV’s statewide network and streamed live on the SCETV website, as well as on SCETV’s social media platforms. SCETV also provided coverage for events of South Carolina’s 98th Gubernatorial Inauguration and 2023 Gubernatorial State of the State address. Additionally, SCETV continued to play a major role in covering the Governor’s emergency management press conferences and other important announcements.

SCETV received a grant to support a multi-platform production and community engagement initiative to share suicide-prevention strategies for vulnerable populations. In September 2022, SCETV aired Safe Space, a conversational style live broadcast that brought together teens and professionals to discuss issues facing South Carolina’s youth. Partners included representatives from NAMI Mid-Carolina, NAMI Piedmont, the South Carolina Department of Mental Health, and a local school psychologist. SCETV also produced public service announcements, implemented a social media engagement campaign, and hosted two regional Town Halls in-person and livestreamed via social media to engage with communities across the state. SCETV continued producing and airing several local, ongoing series. Making it Grow is the network’s gardening and nature-focused program now in its thirtieth year. The weekly program, produced by SCETV’s regional studio in Sumter, is the network’s most-viewed local show. A new episode of Palmetto Perspectives premiered, opening dialogue around the topic of gun reform.

By the River, the network’s literature-focused series in its third season, is a collaboration between WJWJ in Beaufort and USC-Beaufort. Its crew consists of students from USC’s Communication Studies program. This Week in South Carolina, the current events and public affairs program, continued to keep South Carolinians informed and engaged. New episodes aired first on Fridays with one-minute news flashes airing at 5:59 p.m. on Tuesdays, Wednesdays, and Thursdays during the session.

In the fourth year of a partnership with the South Carolina Arts Commission and the University of South Carolina McKissick Museum, the 2023 South Carolina Arts Awards recognized recipients of the Jean Laney Harris Folk Heritage Award and South Carolina Governor’s Award for the Arts. Additionally, a film commemorating 50 years of the South Carolina Governor’s Awards for the Arts featured nine vignettes of artists who have received the award over the past 50 years.

In partnership with ColaJazz and The Koger Center for the Arts, Drink Small 90 Proof celebrates Drink Small’s 90th birthday with featured performances, including the Blues Doctor himself. Through local storytellers and spectacular ariel imagery, the Carolina Stories documentary, A Vision of Brookgreen, provides a unique glimpse into the rich cultural heritage of South Carolina’s Brookgreen Gardens. South Carolinians kicked off the holiday season with the 56th Annual Governor’s Lighting of the South Carolina’s Christmas tree at the State House in Columbia, SC. In November, House-calls: Healthcare in the Digital Age chronicled into the evolution of telehealth in America where doctors are now able to visit a patient virtually.

Creating Connections through Digital.

Recognizing audience insight and viewing habits, the agency’s digital team adopted a multi-platform approach to all content creation giving viewers the diversification of online and broadcast options for watching. From small towns to southern icons, Season 2 of Carolina Snaps explored South Carolina’s people, places, and culture in just 60 seconds. What’s Wild also returned for Season 2, encouraging viewers to explore the beauty of nature, and showcasing unique creatures of the Palmetto State. Season 2 of Our Town took viewers to 13 new small towns in South Carolina, highlighting their history, culture and the people that live there. Season 5 of the popular Backroad Bites series explored South Carolina’s culinary culture. The third season of the “digital first” Go for It was produced in collaboration with the S.C. Department of Parks, Recreation and Tourism as a video series about the state’s unique tourism destinations and activities. It premiered on both agencies’ social media channels before being distributed to the over-the-air audience. Reveling in nostalgia, ETV Classics highlighted the best of the best programming from SCETV over the years. The team’s archivist packaged 29 episodes of the series for release online.

In addition, the digital team collaborated with the education team supporting K-12 education projects with the series, History in a Nutshell. A quiz series supported all digital content through engagement on SCETV.org.

SCETV and National Productions.

For more than 60 years, SCETV has been the state’s primary storyteller, weaving together many stories that reflect the fabric of the state. More than just a source of comfort and inspiration for South Carolinians, these stories also reached audiences outside of South Carolina.

PBS or one of PBS’ public media allies selected eight projects that SCETV co-produced or presented for national distribution. This includes Season 3 of Reconnecting Roots, exploring the impact of cultural events on our nation’s history; the inaugural season of After Action, documenting the experiences of 21 diverse veterans from across the country; the eighth season of Reel South, a curated documentary film series; the concluding season of a lifestyle and culinary series called How She Rolls; Our Vanishing Americana South Carolina, a one-hour documentary capturing the stories of small town businesses; Season 4 of Yoga in Practice, a half-hour yoga instructional series; The Food Principle, a travel series sharing the role food plays in community efforts around the world; and the second national season of By The River, produced by WJWJ in Beaufort.

SC Public Radio Programming.

SC Public Radio held a year-long celebration for its 50th year of engaging programming in the state. In addition to various community engagement events, SC Public Radio featured program highlights from years past, showcasing important milestones in South Carolina history and coverage provided by the network. According to the Radio Resource Consortium, for FY22-23, SC Public Radio reached 15,000 weekly listeners through broadcast. Other options for listening are through streaming and ancillary apps such as Tune-In, Public Radio Player, NPR News and Music, NPR One and iTunes radio.

SC Public Radio and its team of reporters ramped up coverage efforts to ensure that South Carolina citizens remained informed. SC Lede, the network’s public affairs podcast, produced 96 episodes. The network also continued to simulcast Palmetto Perspective episodes and other important announcements and events, such as Governor’s press conferences.

In partnership with The ColaJazz Foundation, SC Public Radio continued the jazz-focused series ColaJazz Presents, featuring performances and interviews from South Carolina’s top jazz musicians. SC Public Radio also produced four episodes of Southern Sound Radio, in partnership with the Culture and Heritage Museums of York County, presenting Americana and bluegrass concerts. As has been the case for over 40 years, SC Public Radio provided coverage of Charleston’s renowned Spoleto Festival USA. Sonatas & Soundscapes, which airs weekdays on the network’s news and music stations, featured Spoleto content during the festival. The program was broadcast live from Charleston and featured performances from the festival’s Chamber Music series, interviews with musicians and tributes to Spoleto’s late Director of Chamber Music Geoff Nuttall.

After more than 20 years broadcasting on SC Public Radio, Walter Edgar’s Journal expanded its journey through South Carolina history by transitioning to a podcast format. Listeners join Edgar and co-host Alfred Turner twice a month for conversations about the history and culture of South Carolina and the American South.

Two new podcasts were released in FY22-23. South of Spooky presented a lighthearted exploration of history and culture through the lens of local legends and their impact on communities across the region. InDebted, took a deep dive into the factors that make South Carolina one of the worst places for debt in the country. In addition to the online podcast episodes, companion news stories aired on SC Public Radio and were shared online.

In FY22-23, SC Public Radio continued keeping listeners informed on southcarolinapublicradio.org. With six reporters providing statewide news coverage, the site builds on the network’s mission to serve as a top source for local and national news. The website had an increase of “average time on page” up 62 percent and a 34

AGENCY NAME:	South Carolina Educational Television Commission

percent decrease in bounce rate which means more people stayed on the website longer than the previous fiscal year because they were finding the content they wanted and found interesting. The site offers a wealth of livestreams and on-demand audio, so listeners can access their favorite programs on their schedule. Southcarolinapublicradio.org also lets listeners engage with the station and its most recognizable personalities through music playlists, quizzes, and behind-the-scenes content.

Television and Radio Audience Analytics.

User analytics confirmed SCETV's online content distribution and the audience for locally produced television and radio content are steady or growing across all platforms. On the broadcast side, SCETV attracted approximately 540,000 weekly cumulative household viewings in 2022. According to Nielsen, SC Public Radio attracted an average of 590,000 broadcast listeners each week in 2022. While traditional television viewers and radio listeners still hold steady and account for the overwhelming majority of the network's total audience, SCETV continues to look to the future in expanding its digital assets. This allows more options for more people to have access to the content through a variety of platforms.

On social media platforms, the SCETV and SC Public Radio pages saw growth during the height of the COVID-19 pandemic and have returned to normal and expected numbers of impressions. In FY22-23, total Facebook impressions were at 4.9 million, and the total number of Facebook fans is up to 56,924—an almost 7 percent increase from FY21-22. In addition, engagement on the platform is up 4.4 percent from FY21-22. A similar trend can be seen on Twitter, where the network's two primary accounts had 2.2 million impressions in FY22-23. Total followers on Twitter are up 2.5 percent at 27,379 in FY22-23.

Beyond social media, the network continues to promote the SCETV app, which provides viewers and listeners with live streams and a library of on-demand radio and television content. In FY22-23, more than 3.3 million users in South Carolina streamed PBS Kids content on an SCETV or PBS digital platform. Beyond that, nearly 1.7 million users streamed PBS content on one of SCETV's digital platforms, including the SCETV app and the scetv.org website. On the radio side, there were more than 4.8 million streams or downloads of SC Public Radio content in FY22-23.

This digital audience impact can also be seen when looking at the agency's website analytics. Like with social media platforms, the website showed an abnormal growth in users during the pandemic years. In FY22-23, scetv.org had 1.3 million total pageviews. The agency's SC Public Radio website had more than 489,000 total users with 1.1 million total pageviews in FY22-23.

Television and Radio Programming Recognition.

In FY22-23, SCETV and SC Public Radio received many awards for excellence and innovation. South Carolina ETV won 21 Telly awards including two gold, eight silver and 11 bronze trophies. Three SCETV promotions received the Award of Distinction from the Academy of Interactive and Visual Arts 29th Annual Communicator Awards.

The SCETV and SC Public Radio news teams received seven first place and eight second place awards from the Radio Television Digital News Association of the Carolinas, including "Outstanding News Operation." SC Public Radio was also named the "Best of Charleston" by the Charleston City Paper in the "Best Talk/News Radio Station" category. SC Public Radio reporter Victoria Hansen was awarded "Radio Reporter of the Year" by the South Carolina Broadcasters Association for the fourth consecutive year. Hansen also received second place recognition in the Special Feature Category: COVID-2021 from the Public Media Journalist Association.

Three SCETV programs - From the Sky, Making It Grow, and This Week in South Carolina - were nominated by the Regional Southeast EMMY® Chapter of the National Academy of Television Arts and Sciences for 2023

AGENCY CODE:	H670	SECTION:	008

Southeast Regional EMMY® Awards. In addition, the SCETV documentary, Downing of a Flag, was nominated for a News & Documentary Emmy® Award by the National Academy of Television Arts & Sciences.

The South Carolina State Library selected the KnowItAll.org website as a 2022 Notable State Documents award winner. SCETV’s Renee Layson was recognized at the 48th Annual Gracie Awards by the Alliance for Women in Media Foundation as winner of the Local Television Director category for SCETV Safe Space.

Financial and Entrepreneurial Activities.

In recent years, SCETV has been more customer-focused and entrepreneurial in seeking ways to help support the operations of the agency. The agency receives much needed state appropriations to support emergency preparedness, public safety training, administrative functions, and transparency, as well as EIA funding for educational and technology services all related to the operational responsibilities of SCETV. These state funds along with the agency generated revenue sources support the services described in this report.

SCETV receives funding from the ETV Endowment contributors and sponsors to support the acquisition and creation of national programming. The other revenue sources include lease payments for use of its spectrum and licensing of tower space, grants, facility rentals and television/web production services. Like other public media organizations, the agency receives some grant funding from CPB (the Corporation for Public Broadcasting) for television and radio. The ETV Endowment is a 501(c)(3) nonprofit founded in 1977 that provides funding for programming broadcast on South Carolina ETV, South Carolina Public Radio, and other public media stations. The Endowment raised $6,420,475 in FY2023 and has 43,848 active donors. Annual, major, planned and sustainer giving are key factors in the Endowment’s fundraising strategies. Sustainers, donors who give monthly, represent 34.7 percent of membership revenues.

In 2022, the ETV Endowment was awarded its eleventh consecutive 4-Star rating from Charity Navigator in recognition of its commitment to accountability and fiscal responsibility, placing the Endowment in the top three percent of charities evaluated. The ETV Endowment has also been awarded GuideStar’s Platinum Seal of Transparency. During FY22-23, ETV and the ETV Endowment offered community screenings, donor, and other outreach events throughout the state. During the year, over 3,000 people participated in the online and in-person events.

Broadcast Infrastructure.

SCETV’s infrastructure is key to the agency’s ability to meet its mission, especially in the face of ever emerging technologies. Annually, SCETV upgrades and refreshes the network infrastructure, providing additional security, flexibility, visibility, and speed. Upgrades allow SCETV to provide more reliable customer service in a secure, reliable manner.

In 2016, the legislature directed SCETV to manage tower and antenna operations within state government. Since then, SCETV annually collects the detailed information necessary to expand the use of 544 SCETV towers, all other state agencies’ 100+ foot towers, and all other state-owned assets determined to be eligible for antenna placement. Collecting this information involves site visits, legal research, contract negotiation, and land use agreements. The process can take months for a single tower.

SCETV also manages existing communications site tower licenses and negotiates new licenses. Each license application usually takes several months from start to execution, and SCETV currently is working on approximately 51 new licenses and amendments to existing licenses.

Conclusion.

Based on performance measures adopted in FY22-23, SCETV has met and exceeded the agency goals—to work toward creating a more entrepreneurial agency; produce and distribute education programs; provide quality media programs and transparency services; and produce, aggregate and present broadcast TV, radio, and web programming.

SCETV is a valued and trusted resource within the state of South Carolina. The network looks forward to continued service to South Carolina to support the state in education, emergency communications, public safety, and civic leadership. SCETV is recognized as a center of distinction for the region and the nation, providing crucial information and education to the communities it serves.
