AGENCY’S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS

PART 1 – STATUS OF MUSEUM IN FY25

The first half of FY25 was challenging for the South Carolina Confederate Relic Room and Military Museum. Following two years of record-breaking attendance, the Museum was closed to the public for more than five months due to construction and roof replacement in the entrance Atrium. (See Appendix 1) This dramatically reduced visitation and led the Museum to initiate off-site programs to continue the educational outreach which is one of the highest priorities of its mission. A positive result of this was that even after the Museum reopened, the off-site venues remained popular for programs. An unanticipated negative result of the construction of the new roof was a series of floods from uncontrolled rain ingress that necessitated major repairs and carpet replacement in the Museum’s lobby.

The closure of the Museum deliberately coincided with the Collections Storage Project to upgrade the storage furniture using State-appropriated funds. This necessitated reallocating the program space normally used for meetings and classes as temporary storage for the Collection for a full year while the new cabinets were being installed. Staffing issues arose during the project as both full-time Collections management staff were out on overlapping maternity leaves. Early in the Collections rehousing, another flood from a broken sprinkler riser above the Collections office caused a great deal of damage and loss of office equipment and furniture, and damage to some artifacts. Despite these setbacks, the Collections Storage Project successfully progressed and was nearly complete by the end of FY25, only a couple of months behind schedule.

Following the reopening of the Museum to the public in December of 2024, the staff resumed aggressively promoting the Museum through special programs and tours. This successfully brought attendance back to levels comparable to the corresponding months of preceding years. The extension of the Museum’s most popular exhibit, A War With No Front Lines: SC and the Vietnam War 1965-1973, through the rest of the Fiscal Year and on into FY26 was a large factor in attracting visitors, and the Vietnam War was the topic of many of the off-site lectures produced by the Museum at both the Richland County Library and the Lexington County Library, which were very positively received.

Part 2 – Overview of FY25 Museum Operation

I. Museum Exhibits

A. A War with No Front Lines: SC and the Vietnam War, 1965 – 1973

The years 2015-2023 mark the 50th Anniversary of the Vietnam War, from which 900 South Carolinians never returned. The Museum’s major exhibit opened on Veterans Day, November 11, 2022, and has been extended through summer of 2026, partly due to the six-month construction closure, and partly due to its continued popularity. This exhibit features many of the strange and iconic weapons, uniforms, and equipment unique to America’s involvement in Vietnam. Digital kiosks provide a timeline of the Vietnam War as well as comprehensive overviews of additional topics and excerpts of oral histories. Recreated environments depict US Marines in urban warfare, Army patrols in the rich Delta of southern South Vietnam, and US troops fighting in the Central Highlands. Topics explored in the exhibit include the key role of helicopters and aircraft, nursing and medicine, the experience of POWs, and the legacy of the war. Over 60 oral interviews with SC Vietnam veterans are incorporated into this exhibit to commemorate their history and service in Vietnam and give voice to their unique stories. A special section commemorates the service of those who died and highlights the stories of Medal of Honor recipients from South Carolina.

B. Travelling Exhibits Produced by the Confederate Relic Room and Military Museum

1. The Twilight of Revolutionaries and the Dawn of Photography

This exhibit featuring 15 Daguerreotypes of Revolutionary War veterans was supported by two grants, one from the SC 250th Commission and one from the SC Humanities Council. The reproduction enlargements of the portraits and the text panels describing the veterans' lives and military service comprise a low-security travelling exhibit which is available through the end of the Semiquincentennial (the 250th anniversary celebration of the Revolutionary War) observances in SC, and is on exhibit at the Sumter Museum through October 2025.

2. The History and Archaeology of Fort Motte

This traveling exhibition examines the 1781 siege of Fort Motte, as well as the excavation of the site and the artifacts uncovered. Fort Motte, in present Calhoun County, South Carolina, was a Revolutionary War British outpost. In May 1781, an American force under Francis Marion and Henry "Lighthorse Harry" Lee laid siege to the fort, and the British garrison of 184 men surrendered after resisting for seven days.

In addition to informational panels, this exhibit features 12 reproduction objects for display, including: an American 6 pounder solid shot cannon ball, a wrought iron arrow head, a British butt plate, canister shot (American), musket balls (American and British), a "Westerwald" stoneware sherd, buttons and a British coin. To enhance the educational impact of the exhibit, there are an additional 14 reproduction objects to use for hands-on educational programming. This exhibit is available through the State Museum's Traveling Exhibition Service and is currently on exhibit at the Morris Center for Lowcountry Heritage.

II. Museum Programs, Series and Education Programs

A. As mentioned previously, the SC Confederate Relic Room and Military Museum's Saturday programs developed into strong attractions:

1. Toy Soldier Show: November 15 Third year hosting the event. The show was held in the Congaree room. The event had over 160 attendants that day even though the Museum was still closed due to Atrium construction.
2. Christmas in the Trenches: December 7 Third annual event (was formerly Pearl Harbor Remembrance Day). Had over 300 people in attendance the day after the Museum officially reopened.
3. Swordfest: January 25 Demonstrations, displays, activities, programs: it has developed into our most popular event, and this year had 989 attendees.
4. Revolutionary War Day, March 29 Reenactors, displays, and programs on the era of the Revolutionary War, this annual event had 650 attendees. The museum was awarded grants from the SC 250th Commission to support the activities and speakers and from SC Humanities for publicity and marketing.

B. Tours and School Visits: (FY24 & FY23 attendance on the right):

- | | | |
|--|------------|------------|
| o 250 School Groups | FY24: 210 | FY23: 131 |
| o 9066 Students in School Groups | FY24: 9954 | FY23: 7441 |
| o 12 Summer Camp/Senior/Misc. Groups | FY24: 3 | |
| o 130 Homeschool Friday attendees | FY24: 426 | FY23: 613 |
| o Individual visits by Home School families: | 200 | |
| o 69 JROTC/Scout/Cadet groups | FY24:106 | FY23: 418 |

C. Noon Debrief: This free program held on Fridays at noon features live historical presentations from experts and includes some who were participants in the events they spoke about. This year’s topics covered subjects from the Revolutionary War, through the 21st century. Many lectures were on the Vietnam War, corresponding with material in the Vietnam exhibit. Other talks highlighted the Civil War, WWI and WWII. Over 400 people attended live while the filmed speakers garnered 498 additional viewers on the museum’s Facebook page and YouTube channel.

AGENCY CODE:	H960	SECTION:	030

Because the Collection Storage Project was occupying the Education Room, the Noon Debrief lectures were held at Richland Library’s Main branch and Lexington Library’s Cayce branch. These programs have proven to be so popular that both libraries have requested that they continue in FY26.

D. Outreach Programs – The Education Curator (54), History Curator (1) and Executive Director (2) conducted 57 off site programs, lectures, and events throughout SC to civic groups, school groups and heritage organizations reaching 3,403 people to promote the museum and its programs.

E. Homeschool Friday – Because of the construction closure during the fall semester and the unavailability of the Education Room during the spring semester, the Education Department developed alternate Homeschool Friday programs. Three off-site sessions drew 55 attendees and three “themed tours” in the Galleries attracted 75 attendees.

III. Collections

A. Reduced staffing: In FY25, The SC Confederate Relic Room & Military Museum Collections Department dealt with the extended absences of the Curator of Exhibits and Collections and the Registrar who were both on maternity leave during the winter and spring. One new part-time Collections employee joined the current group of 3 Clerical part-timers, who were not needed at the Front Desk during the construction closure months, to maintain the function of the Department. There were 11 new lots accessioned. There were 56 individual objects added to the Museum's Permanent Collection.

AGENCY NAME:	SC Confederate Relic Room and Military Museum
AGENCY CODE:	H960	SECTION:	030

- B. Conservation: Five artifacts (two uniforms - coats and trousers, one shell jacket) were returned from professional conservation studios.
- C. Storage Project: The staff continued the process of inventorying and moving the entire collection out of Main Storage and into secure crates in a secondary location. The new cabinets were delivered and installed by Patterson Pope at the end of October. Movement of the collection back into storage began in earnest mid-November 2024 and was completed at the end of June 2025. An updated inventory with all the new home locations is being compiled.

IV. Miscellaneous

- A. Several staff represented the Museum at professional association conferences and symposia.
- B. Forty-six Research Requests were completed by Museum staff for state agencies, researchers, and the public seeking historical information.
- C. Museum staff generated material that resulted in reaching 195,372 people on the Museum Facebook site.
- D. The Museum has 333 subscribers to our YouTube channel.
- E. Over 4,000 museum brochures were distributed to statewide highway welcome centers and local venues.

Part 3 – Museum’s Strategic Plan

Since Spring of FY21, the Museum’s Executive Director began has been working on strategic planning with the input of Voight Shealy, the outgoing Chairman of the South Carolina Confederate Relic Room and Military Museum Commission, the Museum’s governing board. The purpose has been to update the 2019 Strategic Plan that was developed in the first half of FY20 and reviewed by the American Alliance of Museums to earn National Reaccreditation for the first time since 2004. Because only fifteen of approximately 125 museums in South Carolina have earned national accreditation through a rigorous two-to-three-year examination and evaluation, it is important that the SC Confederate Relic Room and Military Museum maintains that accreditation as proof of excellence of operation.

The Museum earned accreditation for the fourth time (1977, 1986, 2004, and 2020) on February 28, 2020. Since earning reaccreditation in FY20, the Museum has continually sought to refine its submitted AAM Strategic Plan through the Accountability Report process, completing and then reducing more Strategies and Performance Measures through completion of targeted measures, while adding new- but fewer- Strategies and Measures, as defined by shifting parameters and external pressures.

Our primary goals have remained consistent:

- 1) To continue to grow and diversify Attendance.
- 2) To continue to grow the Museum’s Budget
 - a) through Appropriation Increases to keep up with inflation and to maintain a highly trained, experienced, and motivated staff.
 - b) through Donations, Membership, and the Museum’s Foundation, the Palmetto State Military History Foundation

AGENCY NAME:	SC Confederate Relic Room and Military Museum
AGENCY CODE:	H960	SECTION:	030

- 3) To strengthen the Museum's Collection so that it remains the best, most expansive collection of South Carolina military material culture, first assembled in 1896, and doubled in size in the last 24 years, to roughly 7,500 artifacts.
- 4) To use the Collection to increase the scholarly reputation of the Museum as reflected through publications, exhibits, and programs for South Carolina citizens and people visiting Columbia and our State.
- 5) To ensure the Museum adapts to its current era, grows and diversifies its audience, to survive and prosper throughout the 21st Century.
- 6) To continue to move forward with discussions on changing the name of the Museum to allow for corporate fundraising and continue to increase attendance and revenue.
- 7) To make a priority of expansion of the Museum's physical footprint; to increase storage, exhibits, and marketable and effective program space.

The Museum's Strategic Plan Development For Next Annual Accountability Report reflects these goals and the strategies to achieve them.
