AGENCY'S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS

DISCOVER USCB—A Legacy of Education

The University of South Carolina Beaufort (USCB), a senior comprehensive institution and part of the State's flagship public university system, brings the University of South Carolina's statewide mission of teaching, research, and public service to the Lowcountry of South Carolina. USCB has one of the oldest traditions of higher education in the nation, dating to the 1795 charter of Beaufort College. Beaufort underwent a profound social revolution during the Civil War, giving rise to Beaufort College's second legacy: serving as headquarters for the Freedman's Bureau. From 1865 to 1872, this federal agency brought public education to newly freed slaves. In 1959, the Beaufort College building welcomed 57 students to the University of South Carolina Beaufort, a two-year campus in the University of South Carolina system.

Over the next 30 years, USCB developed an eight-acre campus on the waterfront in Beaufort's historic district—constructing buildings, renovating a former elementary school and purchasing historic properties. The University began offering classes on Hilton Head Island in 1985. In 1994 International Paper donated 80 acres near Hilton Head Island and Dean Jane Upshaw began a campaign for USCB to become a baccalaureate university.

With the support of the community, Beaufort County Council, faculty, staff, students, the Beaufort-Jasper Higher Education Commission, and the Trustees of the College of Beaufort, USCB was approved to seek baccalaureate accreditation in 2002. Expanded as a comprehensive university in August 2004, USCB emerged as South Carolina's newest accredited four-year university. Initially, six baccalaureate degrees were offered and the first building opened on the Bluffton campus 200-acre site.

In 2024/25, USCB celebrated its 20th year as a senior comprehensive institution of the USC system. Today, more than 2,200 ethnically and culturally diverse students pursue 21 baccalaureate degrees and 2 master's degrees, enhanced by more than 50 concentrations, minors, and certificates. Students are encouraged to participate in an active program of co-curricular activities and NCAA athletics.

DISCOVER USCB—Continuous Improvement

Rather than settling for the current state of the University and resting on laurels, USCB administration continues to plan for the future in order to remain current in an ever-changing operating environment. It is imperative that USCB engage in continuous reflection—examining what has led to this success and how to continuously improve offerings and opportunities to foster success of both students and constituents. To that end, USCB embarks annually on clarifying its role in the changing dynamics of the region through review and revision of the University's mission and strategic plan—both informed by faculty, staff, students, and regional and community leaders. The mission and strategic plan continue to guide the University's endeavors on a path toward a greater level of excellence in education and engagement.

USCB VISION STATEMENT

USCB will foster student success by engaging students in an academically rigorous experience that develops individual resourcefulness and cultural appreciation.

DISCOVER USCB—Unprecedented Growth and Engagement

Each fall, USCB welcomes over 500 new freshmen—a testament to the transforming public perception as the University transitioned from a 2-year regional campus to a full-service comprehensive institution in the University of South Carolina system. New baccalaureate and master's degrees, certificates, concentrations, and minors continue to be strategically developed, and on-campus housing continues to expand to meet student demand.

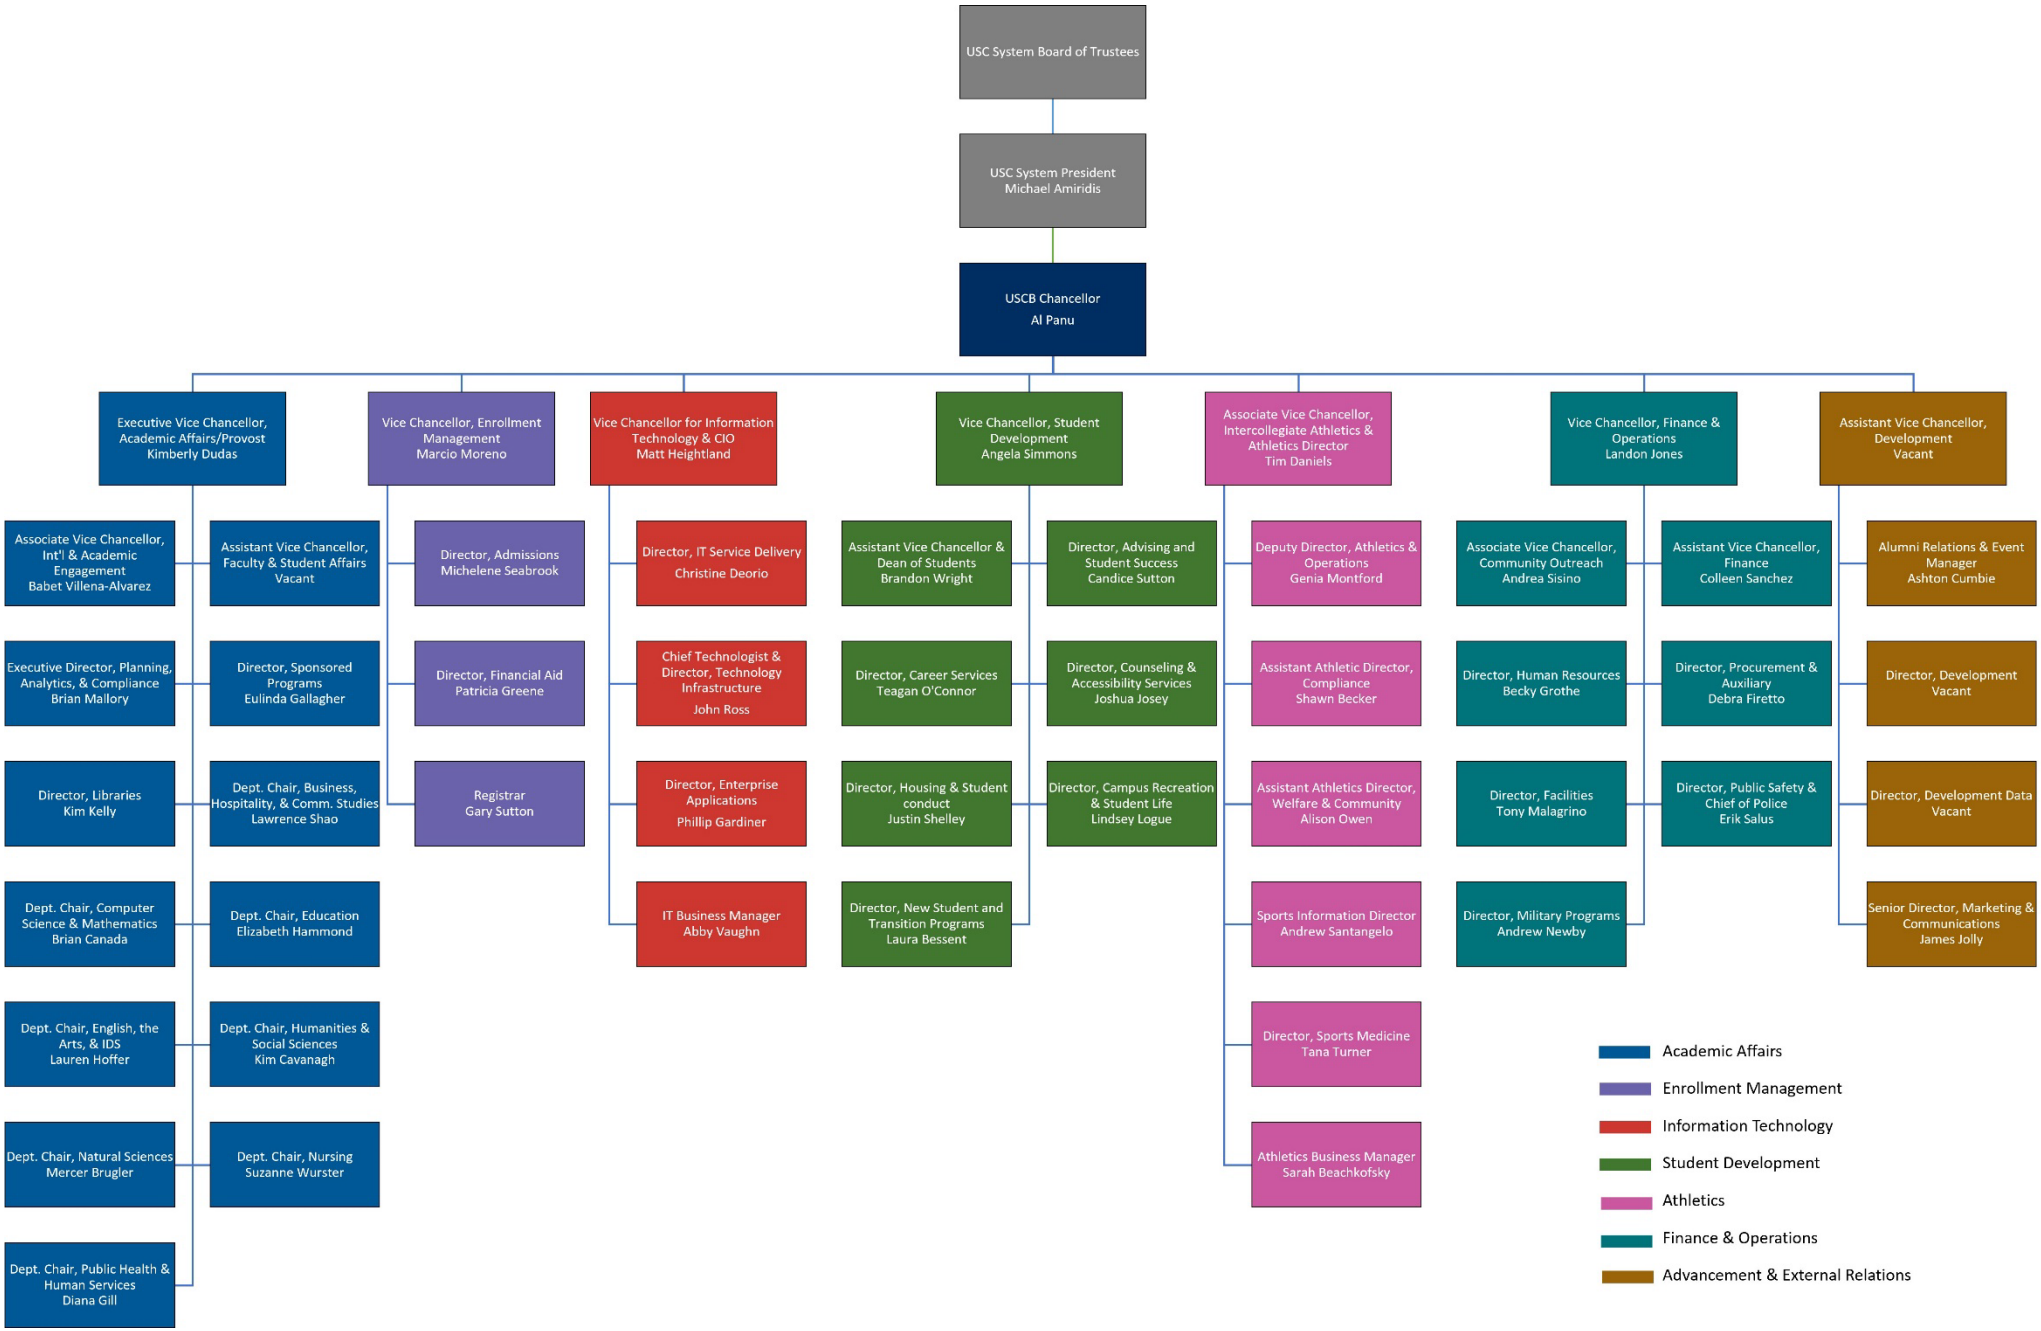

While this growth is necessary to effectively and efficiently serve the region and the state of South Carolina, it brings with it tight classroom schedules and tighter faculty offices, conditions that can only be alleviated by building new facilities, including a Convocation Center and classroom building on the Hilton Head Gateway campus, and expanding housing on all three campuses.

DISCOVER USCB—A Promising Future

The University of South Carolina Beaufort is on a trajectory for continued growth. Preliminary enrollment reports for Fall 2026 indicate the largest student body in its history. Thankfully, the addition of new academic programs at the baccalaureate and master's levels and continued partnerships with K-16 institutions and community organizations will allow USCB to be even more impactful in the region. If USCB were unable to continue growing its academic programs, continuing education, and artistic and cultural offerings, the impact on the people of the region and the state would be disastrous. The quality of life in the region would be devastated as the availability of qualified employees entering the workforce would decrease, continuing education and lifelong learning opportunities would become practically non-existent, and cultural activities that are crucial to the region's residential and tourist appeal would be significantly cut.

Despite the strain of committing to expansion in order to meet the needs of its constituents, USCB will continue to support the region's 230-year commitment to education. The Lowcountry of South Carolina shows no signs of curtailing its growth, and USCB will forever remain a key partner in the success of the region, the state, and the nation.
