AGENCY'S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS

In addition to fulfilling its mission, the South Carolina Department of Public Safety (SCDPS, department, or agency) has worked diligently to achieve the following items during FY 2025-2026.

Agency Outreach, Education, Campaigns, and Community Feedback

To reduce traffic-related fatalities and promote safer driving habits, SCDPS conducted several public information and education campaigns to include: Operation Keep Us Safe, Speed/Operation Southern Slow Down, Motorcycle Safety, Vulnerable Roadway Users, Sober or Slammer, Hands Free SC, Distracted Driving, Buckle Up, South Carolina, Motorcycle Awareness, Young Drivers, Data-Driven Approaches to Crime and Traffic Safety (DDACTS), Heatstroke Awareness, Area Coordinated Enforcement (ACE), and the 287(g) Program.

1. Operation Keep Us Safe - The South Carolina Highway Patrol (SCHP) conducted a five-day enforcement campaign from September 15-19, 2025. During this period, troopers issued 1,766 citations and 706 warnings to drivers.
2. Hands-Free S.C. - The South Carolina Hands-Free and Distracted Driving Act took effect on September 1, 2025. A 180-day warning period was required before citations began on February 28, 2026, for drivers not complying with the law. Between September 1, 2025, and June 30, 2026, SCHP issued 1,493 warnings, and from February 26, 2026, to June 30, 2026, a total of 5,867 citations were distributed to violators.
3. Area Coordinated Enforcement (ACE) is carried out by analyzing traffic crash and fatality data to locate high-risk "hot spot" corridors. SCHP reviews collision data to pinpoint areas most in need of targeted enforcement to curb crashes caused by aggressive driving, speeding and other unsafe driving behaviors. During FY 2025-2026, SCHP held quarterly 3-day ACE initiatives around the state, which resulted in 1,954 traffic citations, 2,573 warnings, 366 restraint violation citations, 22 impaired driver arrests, 19 open alcohol container violations, and 16 drug arrests.

In addition to the statewide campaigns/initiatives described above, other OHSJP outreach efforts during the year included University Partnerships, Clemson University Designated Driver Program, Child Passenger Safety (CPS) Week, Big Red Barn Retreat's Fall Jam, Carolina Cup Racing Association, Black Expo, NASCAR/Darlington Raceway, Ross Chastain, Inc., Columbia Fireflies, and Carolina Country Music Festival, Local and State Fair displays, Serve and Connect, and a youth program called STREET (Set the Right Example Every Time).

The department also enhances highway safety education programs by building public awareness through Community Relations Officer (CRO) initiatives. The CROs conduct highway safety presentations throughout the state to diverse demographics (e.g., military installations, businesses, colleges and universities, high schools, churches, schools, and many civic organizations) to reduce traffic collisions and fatalities. These presentations include the use of lectures that cover topics such as speeding, distracted driving, and DUI. The CROs also offer hands on activities to demonstrate the dangers of impaired driving by utilizing DUI goggles, cornhole boards, and a DUI simulation with a golf cart. Overall, the CROs completed 894 presentations in 2025, and another 538 through May 30, 2026. Because Community Resources Officers are involved in various activities with the public, they keep their fingers on the pulse of the communities the agency serves.

From July 1, 2025 - June 30, 2026, the SCDPS Facebook page received 947 contacts through the inbox. During the same time, the department had more than 843,000 interactions on the department's posts, more than 155,000 clicks to links included in the department's messaging and gained nearly 33,000 new followers. The department's highest performing content on Facebook and Instagram was a video reel on the Hands-Free law. This garnered more than 2.5 million views, 3,000 comments, 180,000 interactions and 16,000 shares.

To effectively and efficiently meet the needs of the community it serves, the Department continually seeks and assesses customer feedback through various mechanisms. From May 18, 2026 – July 20, 2026, SCDPS maintained the CALEA public portal link pinned to the top of the agency's social media accounts. Additionally, CALEA opens a forum for public comment sixty (60) days before the agency undergoes a CALEA assessment. These comments are submitted to CALEA and are forwarded directly to Director Woods.

The Office of Professional Responsibility (OPR) Complaint Portal is used to allow citizens to submit formal complaints or commendations regarding employees, The complaint portal is publicly accessible from the SCDPS website and is linked from each law enforcement division's webpage.

To ensure officers are displaying the highest level of professionalism, the department maintains a mechanism on its website for citizens to complete a "Citizen Survey." These submissions are routed appropriately. Any surveys alleging bias are forwarded to OPR for further investigation. Survey responses not related to bias are forwarded to the appropriate division for handling.

Technology and Equipment Advancements

The South Carolina State Transport Police (STP) and the South Carolina Department of Transportation (SCDOT) have established a strong partnership through the implementation and use of the Virtual Weigh Station. This collaborative effort combines advanced transportation technology with strategic enforcement to improve commercial motor vehicle compliance, enhance public safety, and protect South Carolina's transportation infrastructure. From July 1, 2025 - June 20, 2026, 105 citations were issued from the Virtual Weigh Station on I-77 in Fairfield County. Two additional Virtual Weigh Stations became active on I-20 in Darlington County on June 25, 2026. From June 25 through June 30, 19 citations were issued.

The agency leveraged emerging technologies to reduce the administrative burden on law enforcement officers. Key initiatives include the implementation of Coplogic Ethos statewide, traffic safety technology program management utilizing speed and safety trailers, and the expansion and integration of systems such as SafeSpect to improve efficiency and data accuracy. The agency maintains an enterprise computer aided dispatch (CAD)/records management system (RMS), digital evidence and body-worn camera systems and is implementing Mark43, a new cloud-based CAD and RMS system.

The agency is committed to enhancing officer safety by equipping personnel with the appropriate training, equipment, and resources. Throughout FY 2025-2026, SCDPS completed several projects to supply necessary equipment and resources to its law enforcement personnel. These projects included radio lifecycle rotation, upgraded law enforcement vehicle lighting, upgrades to weigh stations, procurement of various officer safety items, a wireless network for network radios, new Automatic External Defibrillators, and Modified First Aid Kits to accommodate Stop-the-Bleed and chest seals.

The department completed the rollout of a federally provided product (Coplogic) for all law enforcement officers in South Carolina for traffic enforcement and data collection. Additionally, SCDPS analyzed operational and technology impacts of this change and is implementing data connectivity, system enhancements, reporting solutions, and training to ensure a smooth transition.

The agency partnered with SC Revenue and Fiscal Affairs Office (SCRFA) to implement the State's Nex-Gen 9-1-1 system in three agency Telecommunications Centers. This solution streamlines call processing by leveraging the State's primary 9-1-1 dispatch centers as first contact. These primary PSAPs accurately geo-locate the caller and immediately dispatch life-saving services including ambulance and/or fire. The call is then "pushed" through the Nex-Gen 911 system with all necessary information to the agency's secondary PSAPs (Telecommunications Centers) to dispatch law enforcement to the scene. Based on these operational improvements, the agency was able to consolidate its four Telecommunications into three without a loss in service. Further, the redundancy in network circuits brought with the SCRFA design minimizes system outages particularly during inclement weather. By implementing this change, the department hopes to improve overall response times for citizens and visitors on SC roadways.

The agency continued to ensure operation of its statewide data/voice networks across the state at SCDPS Headquarters, Troop/Post offices, weigh stations, and other facilities based on an 8-year equipment lifecycle refresh plan. SCDPS also completed the upgrade cycle for network switches and installed environmental network sensors at all Telecommunication Centers. Additionally, SCDPS upgraded the SC Hall of Fame Annex to improve operations. Two Starlink deployable satellite mobile solutions have been obtained to improve connectivity during disasters and emergencies.

Additionally, over the past year, SCDPS continued to transition to the Department of Administration's Division of Technology's Shared Services, including the rollout of Microsoft Teams to enhance collaboration and communication. Since implementation, SCDPS has improved information sharing and accessibility across the agency. Employees are now able to benefit from Shared Services offerings such as single-sign-on, cyber security toolsets, and a portal for accurate, cost-effective delivery of applications to agency devices. SCDPS also completed an agency-wide refresh of iPhones, providing improved performance and access to new features such as satellite messaging. All agency computers were migrated to the Shared Services platform, strengthening security, reliability, and overall system performance. Now many officer duties may be performed with mobile devices securely and efficiently.

SCDPS adopted & purchased 123 Ford Police Interceptor Utility vehicles with EcoBoost as standard along with an additional 18 Ford Mustangs. Comprehensive vehicle lighting enhancements were configured into a new standard package that increases visibility, adds additional lighting and specifically enhances external visibility.

Employee Development

The agency prioritizes employee development, investing in ongoing training and professional growth to support its employees as they achieve SCDPS' mission. The SCHP Training Unit and Special Operations facilitated 237 training sessions to include in service training, various firearms and marksmanship courses, Mobile Field Force training, use of force training, Civil Emergency Response Team training, Advanced Civil Emergency Response Team training, and Precision Immobilization Technique (PIT) maneuver training. Additionally, the agency continued the following professional development initiatives during the fiscal year: FBI-Law Enforcement Executive Development Association (FBI-LEEDA), FBI Command College, First Line Leadership Academy, Officer Survival School, Weapon Transition training, Specialty Vehicle training, Officer Involved Shooting Presentations, and Supervisory Practices training.

Recruiting and Retention Efforts

SCHP has taken a proactive approach to modernizing and streamlining its employment process to better recruit, engage, and retain qualified law enforcement candidates. Recognizing the increasingly competitive hiring environment, the Employment Unit has implemented numerous initiatives designed to remove time consuming barriers while maintaining high standards.

In fiscal year 2026, SCHP restructured training for its trooper trainees to increase success rates and therefore assist with retention. Trooper Trainees now attend module training in residency at the SCHP training facility in Columbia. In the past, trainees attended this training virtually and separately around the state. Attending module training in residency has resulted in a reduction in early test failures by minimizing distractions, enabling focused study habits and in-person support from SCHP Training staff.

The department has expanded Physical Abilities Testing (PAT) opportunities by offering Saturday and weekend testing, as well as multiple weekly testing sessions, providing applicants with greater flexibility to accommodate work and family commitments. Applicants can also choose from multiple testing dates, allowing them to select the option that best fits their schedules.

SCDPS has also strengthened its applicant engagement efforts through increased communication. Candidates now receive more frequent and timely updates through email, phone calls, and text messages throughout every stage of the hiring process. Additional guidance, tips, and advice are provided during orientation early in the process, along with reminders as candidates progress through each phase.

A social media ad was purchased for June 2026, featuring the top starting salary. This graphic helped produce the highest number of applications (180) of any month since 2021. Social media has consistently proven effective at increasing application numbers. The target demographic of young recruits continues to rely predominantly on social media for information. Therefore, prioritizing social media outreach will remain essential.

Additionally, the department conducted interviews with four (4) identified high performing troopers to explore consistencies identified in hard skills, soft skills, and background. The goal was to identify a personality profile that can help in development of screening tools for the recruiting/employment process and deliver messaging that resonates with SCDPS' ideal candidate.

Employee Feedback and Administrative Changes

Policy revisions focused on strengthening organizational accountability, operational effectiveness, employee support, and regulatory compliance across the department. Key updates enhanced training standards, clarified responsibilities and procedures, improved reporting and investigative processes, and expanded oversight in critical areas such as firearms, emergency management, body-worn camera usage, and professional responsibility. Several personnel-related policies were revised to address employee appearance standards, military reintegration, grievance procedures, performance management, and disciplinary processes, ensuring greater consistency and transparency. Additionally, the department updated policies to align with changes in State Human Resources Regulations and implemented pay scale adjustments to support law enforcement personnel recruitment and retention. Overall, the revisions reflected the department's commitment to professionalism, transparency, employee development, and effective public service.

The director completed "Around the Agency" in person meetings throughout the state for the third time in his tenure. These sessions provide all officers with an opportunity to engage the director in person and pose any questions they would like to ask. During these sessions, the director encouraged feedback regarding current operations and assigned staff to research every suggestion for improvement. Various operational improvements have resulted from the feedback. The director also provided the "why" behind some of the decisions that are made on an agency-wide level.

A few changes that arose from the Around the Agency sessions include the following items. Employees are now permitted to appear in person or virtually before the Disciplinary Committee before their disciplinary actions are decided. Grievance panel guidelines were restructured to mandate that members are comprised of employees from the same law enforcement division as the aggrieved. OPR quarterly reports have been re-established. This also allows employees to see the reasons for disciplinary actions and avoid similar issues.

SCDPS conducted an agency wide strategic workload assessment plan. The analysis completed by each division addresses workload demands, allocation of personnel, and the efficiency realized because of overstaffing or understaffing. Within the assessment, each division analyzes factors influencing workload demands and determines the staffing level equitable to fulfilling its objective. Each division assessed workload based on overall job functions and responsibilities compared to vacancies, funding/budgeting requirements, and the division's ability to accomplish objectives with a vision toward future goals. Two (2) law enforcement divisions identified a need for additional personnel, and two (2) support divisions indicated a desire to add personnel.

To increase supervisory interaction with field personnel, SCHP has implemented various administrative changes to include optimizing the Freedom of Information Act process, streamlining the Blue Team approval process, revising evidence storage procedures, and expediting the process by which SCHP vacancies are announced, determined, and filled— leaving critical field positions vacant for less time.

STP Enforcement

STP partnered with SCDOT to identify roadway bridges requiring enhanced monitoring and enforcement based on infrastructure conditions and engineering assessments. Overweight commercial motor vehicles (CMVs) pose a significant threat to the structural integrity of bridges, accelerating deterioration and increasing the risk of costly damage or failure. STP assigned officers to conduct enforcement efforts at vulnerable and critical bridges throughout South Carolina to protect the state's transportation infrastructure. The visible enforcement presence sent a clear message that violations of bridge weight restrictions would not be tolerated.

Since the initiative began in August 2025, STP has conducted 1,172 CMV inspections and issued 657 citations for violations. As a result of these efforts, compliance with bridge weight restrictions has improved significantly. STP continues to monitor these identified critical bridges and conduct enforcement as needed to ensure commercial carriers remain compliant.

As part of SCDOT's Midlands Connection Project, the weigh station on Interstate 26 West was rebuilt and occupied by STP on November 10th, 2025. Though only open for a little over half of fiscal year 2026, STP has written 448 commercial citations and 21 out of service violations. Along with these commercial citations, based on Region data, there were nearly 100 uniform traffic tickets issued during the same timeframe.

Bureau of Protective Services (BPS)

BPS successfully managed 407 Statehouse special events, including protests, rallies, press conferences, demonstrations, dignitary visits, and other events requiring enhanced intelligence monitoring and law enforcement coordination. These events occurred primarily at the State House Complex and the Governor's Mansion and had a direct impact on the Intelligence and Investigative Unit's daily operations, requiring continuous adjustments to staffing, operational priorities, and resource allocation.

Of the 407 events, approximately 39 required additional manpower resources beyond routine staffing. The Intelligence and Investigative Unit (IIU) assisted in identifying staffing requirements, coordinating resource requests, and ensuring intelligence support was available for complex operations requiring an increased law enforcement presence. This collaboration enhanced operational planning, strengthened interagency coordination, and contributed to the safe and successful execution of events.

Several operations were particularly significant due to their complexity, public visibility, and resource requirements. These included King Day at the Dome, Stand Up for Life Rally, the Governor's Carol Lighting Event, Reverend Jesse Jackson's Memorial, and the unprecedented Monk's Walk, which brought more than 10,000 visitors in a single day.

Additionally, the BPS IIU produced more than 62 special intelligence assessments in support of major events and high-profile operations. These assessments provided critical intelligence, risk analysis, and operational recommendations that enhanced planning, mitigated potential threats, and assisted executive decision-making.

POSSIBLE NEGATIVE IMPACT IF AGENCY GOALS ARE NOT MET

Goal 1: Enhance Public/Officer Safety

The inability of the department to provide a safe environment in which to travel throughout the state could result in increased numbers of traffic collisions and fatalities. These tragic events can lead to environmental impact, property damage, increased insurance premiums, and other economic losses. A reduction in officer safety places the officers in greater danger and induces financial inefficiencies through turnover.

Goal 2: Professional Development and Workforce Planning

Failing to attract, recruit, and retain a professional workforce may compromise the department's mission to provide professional services, enforce traffic laws, and save lives. If officer turnover is not reduced, additional state and taxpayer funds would be spent in an attempt to attract, hire, and retain officers. Failure to train the workforce would have a negative effect on work performance and could result in employee turnover and ineffective customer service.

Goal 3: Appropriate Use of Information and Technology

Lack of innovative technology could result in poor customer service and higher costs for conducting business. SCDPS relies on computerized information systems to carry out its operations; report essential information; transmit sensitive information; conduct operations; and process business transactions. In addition, social media through the internet has grown increasingly important, developing into an extended information and communications infrastructure that supports the agency's service to the public.

Ineffective protection of these information systems and networks can result in a failure to deliver these vital services and disclosure of sensitive information. The department could also experience the disruption of essential operations and emergency services.

Goal 4: Quality Customer Service Delivery

If SCDPS fails to adequately educate, inform, or respond to the information needs of the public, the public's awareness of important traffic safety messages would be compromised.

OUTSIDE HELP NECESSARY FOR MITIGATION

The overwhelming majority of possible incidents discussed above could be mitigated with additional funding appropriated to the agency through recurring and core budget funds.

GENERAL ASSEMBLY OPTIONS

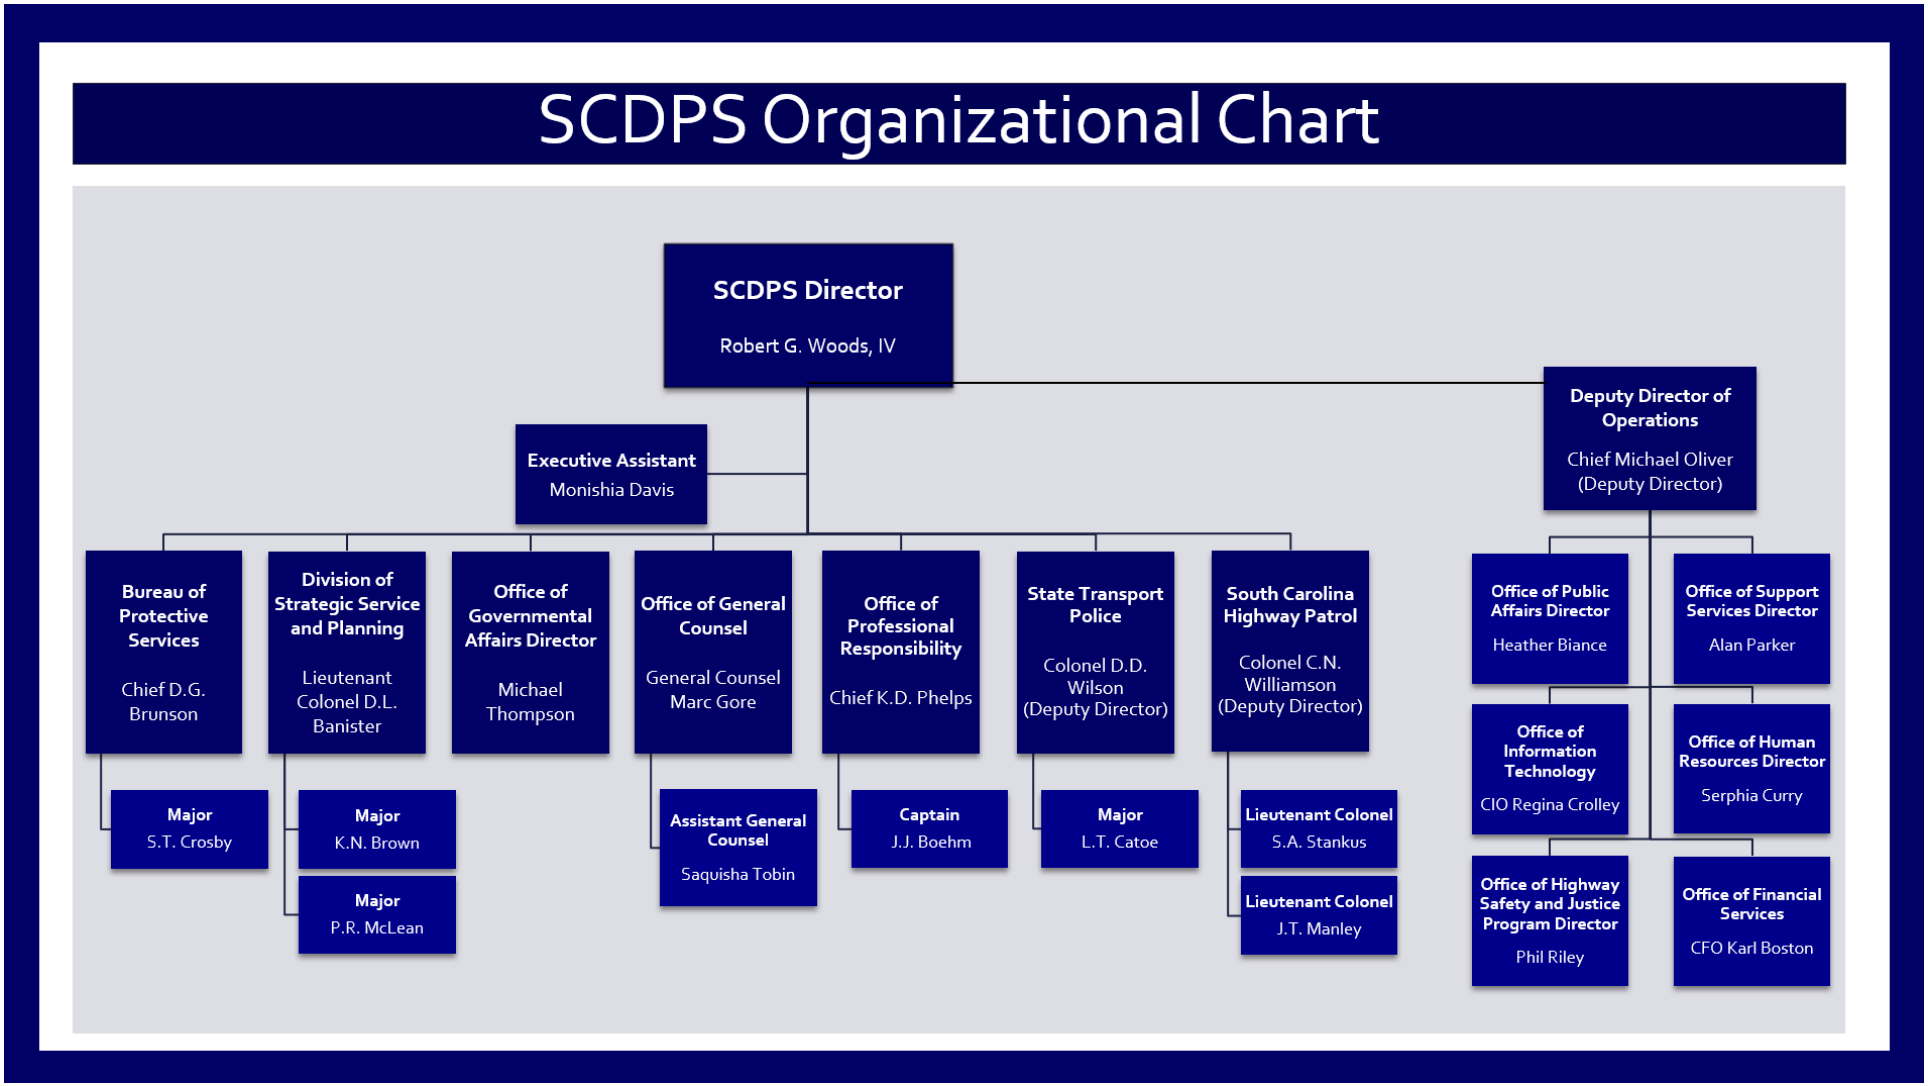

Possible options for the General Assembly to consider would be to:

1. Continue to evaluate funding for salary increases to assist with recruiting and retaining law enforcement officers as local agencies become more competitive.
2. Continue to provide the department with recurring funding for body armor and law enforcement vehicles.
3. Continue to provide the department with additional funding for information technology systems.

FUTURE ISSUES THAT MAY IMPACT THE AGENCY

- Officer safety continues to be a primary concern of the agency. The ongoing struggle to remain competitive with salaries offered by private sector employers and local law enforcement agencies results in reduced staffing levels, a diminishing pool of qualified applicants and decreased retention; and
- Cost of leadership and employee development training.

Employees are the backbone of the organization. It is important to ensure they are well-informed about policies, procedures and goals for the future of the organization and properly recognized for outstanding performance. Meeting staffing needs impacts all employees and supervisors, and is crucial to our day-to-day operations as well as meeting the mission of the agency. We provide assistance to hiring managers and law enforcement recruitment personnel who depend upon our expertise to successfully hire and onboard their new employees. We also provide employment verifications and answer questions about the employment and promotion process for employees who are seeking other opportunities within and outside of the agency. SCDPS Benefits services impact the family members of our employees, as dependents on their PEBA insurance coverage, and beneficiaries of their life insurance policies and retirement accounts. Family members would be negatively impacted if benefits services were not provided, as they would then not have access to health, dental, vision, life, and flexible spending account coverage as dependents. Lastly, if we do not complete our job successfully, our employees pay and other benefits could be negatively impacted. Additionally, other agencies could be negatively impacted if payroll, disciplinary actions, reporting requirements, benefits and leave cases are not managed appropriately. Some examples include, PEBA, State Accident Fund, Division of State Human Resources, Comptroller General's Office, State Treasurer's Office and receiving agencies for employee transfers. Private entities may also suffer if information requests and employment verifications are not completed in a timely manner.	No Change
