AGENCY'S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS

SOUTH CAROLINA SEA GRANT CONSORTIUM

The S.C. Sea Grant Consortium generates and provides science-based information on issues and opportunities to improve the social and economic well-being of coastal residents while ensuring the optimal use and conservation of marine and coastal natural resources. Through integrated research, education, and extension programs, the Consortium supports a balanced approach to the economic, social, and environmental potential of South Carolina's coastal and marine resources. The Consortium helps South Carolina's coastal communities, industries, and residents understand changing conditions and opportunities, supporting their ability to adapt and prosper through science-based information. It does so by engaging the talents and expertise found at South Carolina's leading academic and research institutions to increase our knowledge about the natural, cultural, and social environments of South Carolina and the region, and to use it to inform the decision-making process. (https://www.scseagrant.org/)

ORGANIZATION

The Consortium is a nationally certified Sea Grant College Program under the auspices of the National Sea Grant College Program, National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration (NOAA), and U.S. Department of Commerce. Consortium member institutions are Clemson University, Coastal Carolina University, College of Charleston, Francis Marion University, Medical University of South Carolina, South Carolina Department of Natural Resources, South Carolina State University, The Citadel, and University of South Carolina.

The Consortium Board of Directors consists of the chief executive officer of each of the participating educational institutions and state agencies or the officer's designee:

- Benjamin C. Ayers, Ph.D., President, Clemson University
- James J. Winebrake, Ph.D., President, Coastal Carolina University
- Andrew T. Hsu, Ph.D., President, College of Charleston
- Luther F. Carter, Ph.D., President, Francis Marion University
- David J. Cole, M.D., President, Medical University of South Carolina
- Thomas S. Mullikin, Ph.D., J.D., Director, S.C. Department of Natural Resources
- Col. Alexander Conyers, President, South Carolina State University
- Gen. Frank McKenzie, President, The Citadel
- Michael Amiridis, Ph.D., President, University of South Carolina

STRATEGIC AND IMPLEMENTATION PLANNING

The S.C. Sea Grant Consortium is currently operating under a FY2024-27 Strategic Plan titled "Charting Seas of Change" (https://www.scseagrant.org/strategic-plan/). The agency's strategic plan has specific performance measures and target metrics for its three strategic administrative and management areas, which include (1) Planning, Program Management, and Overall Performance, (2) Connecting with Users, and (3) Human Resources. In addition, the Consortium has outlined specific vision statements, goals, objectives, strategies, performance measures and metrics for each of the agency's five strategic programmatic focus areas: (1) Healthy Coastal Ecosystems, (2) Sustainable Coastal Development and Economy, (3) Weather and Climate Resilience, (4) Sustainable Fisheries and Aquaculture, and (5) Scientific Literacy and Workforce Development. The Consortium employs a number of stakeholder mechanisms to ensure that program efforts are relevant and timely, including a 31-member Program Advisory Board and six program-specific advisory committees.

PERFORMANCE MEASURES AND METRICS

The Consortium's Strategic Plan includes several dozen performance measures and metrics tracked annually. The Consortium's FY25-26 State Accountability Report is focused on the goals and objectives, and the resultant outputs and outcomes, which make up its three strategic administrative and management areas. Updates on these metrics are presented annually to the Consortium Board of Directors at its Board meetings, to the State of South Carolina through the agency's State Accountability Report, and to the NOAA National Sea Grant College Program through formal reporting.

IMPACT

This year, we reported updates and highlights from the Consortium's work to the NOAA Sea Grant College Program, including 71 products that advance natural resource management and workforce development; 176 sponsored events that reached nearly 8,000 attendees; more than 550 educators trained, reaching more than 16,000 K–12 students; 21 businesses supported; and 219 jobs supported. Collectively, these efforts generated an estimated $14,768,654 in economic benefits for South Carolina, based on methods recommended by NOAA, during the federal reporting period of February 1, 2025–January 31, 2026.

INFORMATION DELIVERY

The Consortium has become a primary source of information for coastal and marine information and assistance. This occurs through the interactions of Extension staff with coastal constituents, through communications such as Coastal Heritage magazine and through the Consortium's website (www.scseagrant.org). During FY25-26, the Consortium website received approximately 196,000 page views from approximately 102,000 unique visitors. The Consortium's communications and education specialists continue to produce award-winning and relevant products and services. The Consortium continued its successful e-news brief, CoastalScience@Work, which provides monthly updates on coastal research, Consortium news, publications, and upcoming events for key state leaders, decision-makers, partners, and constituents. The Consortium also delivers The Lettered Olive, a monthly newsletter for formal and nonformal K–12 educators in South Carolina focused on marine science, natural history, and related topics, and Sea the Opportunities, a twice-monthly newsletter highlighting funding and career development opportunities for students and researchers.

AGENCY STAFFING

Excluding the Agency Head, the Consortium holds 23 state FTE positions with two of those positions being vacant and unfunded at the time of this reporting submission. In addition, the Consortium currently has two temporary grant positions (time-limited) and five temporary (hourly) graduate assistant employees on staff.

BUDGET SITUATION AND FUTURE

Agency leadership understands that state funding will be constrained by the amount of money available in the state budget. Therefore, the Consortium will continue talking with its Board of Directors, Program Advisory Board, and the S.C. General Assembly about how to maintain, increase, and diversify the funding and other support it receives.

The Consortium continues to seek efficiencies in its staffing and operations while developing a comprehensive recruitment and retention plan to maintain staffing levels and strengthen the agency's workforce over time. As part of this effort, the Consortium has promoted from within and recruited new talent to fill key staff vacancies and newly created positions, bringing fresh perspectives and expertise while complementing the experience of veteran staff. The Consortium is also expanding formal graduate student internship experiences to provide additional capacity to support administrative and professional staff with programming and projects, while creating opportunities to develop the next generation of coastal professionals.

Due to a very successful "highest merit" national review by NOAA, the Consortium was able to secure an annual federal merit increase of $173,619 for the 2024-2027 federal award years and is projected to secure a $184,725 merit increase in operating years 2028-2031. This, in addition to the core National Sea Grant College

Award to South Carolina as a certified state Sea Grant program, has provided critical support for maintaining agency capacity to provide technical assistance, information, and guidance to coastal constituents.

EXTRAMURAL FUNDING AND THE STATE BUDGET

The Consortium continues to demonstrate its ability to secure competitive extramural funding for its programs. These resources are an important complement to the support provided by the State of South Carolina, allowing the Consortium to leverage state investment and expand its capacity to advance its mission and serve coastal communities. At the federal level, the NOAA National Sea Grant College Program received a FY2026 appropriation of $94 million. Congress directed Sea Grant to allocate $80 million to the core National Sea Grant College Program and $14 million to aquaculture research and outreach. The Consortium has been successful in obtaining competitive grant funding, including via Sea Grants competitive aquaculture research funding pool, from the National Sea Grant Office during this period to support agency programs.

The Consortium continued its recent success, securing an additional $2.1M of extramural support in FY2025-26. Since FY2021-22, the Consortium has secured over $19M in extramural resources; an increase of over 160% compared to the previous five (5) year timeframe.

RETURN-ON-INVESTMENT

The Consortium benefited from additional state recurring funds over the past five years, which enables it to meet the administrative and programmatic needs of the agency and thus address the growing needs of its diverse constituencies. Over the last 10 years, the Consortium has secured almost $31.2M in non-state competitive funding from a state investment of approximately $9.0M; an average 352% return on the state's annual investment.

Over the last five years, the Consortium's annual Return-on-Investment is as follows:

Fiscal Year	State	Non-State	Total	ROI
2021-22	$ 820,722	$ 3,703,706	$ 4,524,428	451%
2022-23	$ 977,879	$ 4,866,156	$ 5,844,035	498%
2023-24	$ 1,078,683	$ 4,590,826	$ 5,669,509	426%
2024-25	$ 1,280,953	$ 4,006,945	$ 5,287,898	313%
2025-26	$1,387,262	$ 2,167,283	$ 3,554,545	156%

352%

10-Year Return on State Investment

RISK ASSESSMENT AND MITIGATION STRATEGIES

The Consortium is constantly engaged in short-term and long-term analyses of its programs, activities, and accountability measures. The accomplishments and the capacities that the NOAA National Sea Grant College Program brings to the states has been an important factor in continued federal funding and increased service to our businesses, communities, and residents. The agency is building awareness and partnerships among state and national leaders to serve the Consortium's numerous, extremely diverse, and supportive cast of stakeholders, constituents, and communities, including the state's General Assembly and our U.S. Congressional delegation, with whom we partner, serve, and depend on. It is with this support that the National Sea Grant College Program and the Consortium survive financial challenges and sustain positive outcomes.

What the state would lose with the Consortium's demise would be what the National Sea Grant Site Visit team stated: the Consortium is recognized as an intellectual leader within the State; is nimble, flexible, adaptable, and relevant; is recognized as an honest broker of information and assistance for coastal and ocean issues; and recognized for its non-advocacy. The state and its citizens would also lose a significant return on its investment, both in financial and societal terms.

The agency generates science-based information, products, tools, technologies, and services delivers information for its targeted stakeholders (e.g., citizens, business and industry representatives, teachers, local and state government officials).	The customers we serve are itemized as Targeted Stakeholders [S] in the Partners Excel template. [We have itemized the organizations (customers) that we serve on the Partners Excel template into five categories: Collaborator (C); Funding Organization (F); Authorizing Body (A) ; Program Partner (PP); and Targeted Stakeholder (S).]	Stakeholders	Residents and visitors	Research, Extension, Communications and Education	Organize and implement projects and programs which address priority needs as identified by the agency's stakeholders and constituencies in its strategic plan, which engage the faculty and staff of its 9 member institutions (The Citadel, Clemson Univ., College of Charleston, Francis Marion University, Medical Univ. of S.C., S.C. State Univ., S.C. Department of Natural Resources, Coastal Carolina Univ., and Univ. of South Carolina) and others. The National Sea Grant College Program (Title 33, Chapter 22, Subchapter II, U.S. Code of Laws) is the Consortium's core federal funding source as per the agency's legislative mandate (48-45-10 to 100 Code of Laws of South Carolina), which also mandates the Consortium to seek funding from other federal and non-federal sources.	Lack of and/or lack of access to science-based information for decision-making	No Change
The agency delivers science-based information, products, tools, technologies, and services delivers information for its targeted stakeholders (e.g., citizens, business and industry representatives, teachers, local and state government officials).	The customers we serve are itemized as Targeted Stakeholders [S] in the Partners Excel template. [We have itemized the organizations (customers) that we serve on the Partners Excel template into five categories: Collaborator (C); Funding Organization (F); Authorizing Body (A) ; Program Partner (PP); and Targeted Stakeholder (S).]	Stakeholders	Residents and Visitors	Communications and Education	Generate communications products (print, media, Web-based) which inform and educate citizens and stakeholders about the issues relevant to the economic, environmental and educational quality of life along the coast and throughout South Carolina (e.g., Coastal Heritage magazine), and support community-based volunteerism through marine litter and habitat restoration projects (e.g., Beach Sweep/River Sweep; Oyster Reef Restoration). Activities of the Consortium are prescribed under Sections 48-45-10 to 100 of the Code of Laws of South Carolina.	Lack of and/or lack of access to science-based information for decision-making	No Change
Extension seeks to ensure that (1) problems and needs of those who live and work along the coast are accurately identified, (2) research projects and programs are effectively providing the necessary science-based information, and (3) this information is delivered to target audiences in a timely fashion and "user-friendly" format.	The customers we serve are itemized as Targeted Stakeholders [S] in the Partners Excel template. [We have itemized the organizations (customers) that we serve on the Partners Excel template into five categories: Collaborator (C); Funding Organization (F); Authorizing Body (A) ; Program Partner (PP); and Targeted Stakeholder (S).]	Stakeholders	Residents and Visitors	Extension	Develop and deliver directed extension, advisory service, and technical assistance programs (such as workshops, seminars, constituent meetings, etc.) to targeted stakeholders and constituencies, focusing on issues related to coastal hazards, environmental and water quality, coastal business and economics, fisheries, aquaculture, and coastal community development. Activities of the Consortium are prescribed under Sections 48-45-10 to 100 of the Code of Laws of South Carolina. Non-Governmental Organization	Gullah Geechee Chamber of Commerce	The Consortium assisted the Chamber to develop project ideas that further both organization's goals, and developed a proposal for a Gullah Geechee Seafood Trail to promote seafood businesses owned by community members, and to share stories of maritime cultural heritage. The Consortium built capacity within the Chamber by walking them through System Awards Management and grants.gov registration processes, making the Chamber eligible to apply for federal funds. The Consortium identified NOAA Saltonstall-Kennedy funds and played an essential role in obtaining eligibility for the Chamber, writing the grant proposal, organizing planning meetings, meeting grant proposal requirements, and submitting the grant on-time.
