This bill would clarify that owners of off-premises outdoor advertising signs must file a business personal property tax return. This provision codifies current practice and is not expected to impact property tax revenue. Further, the bill directs that when an outdoor advertising sign is constructed, the land on which the sign is situated must continue to be valued for property tax purposes as it was prior to construction and without regard to any lease or lease income. We have identified four counties that are currently assessing advertising sign property based upon the lease value under Section 12-37-950 or are otherwise assessing the property under a method that would be disallowed under this bill and expect a significant impact on property tax revenue. The estimated reduction in local property tax revenue by county is as follows: Berkeley County estimates $35,000 per year, Clarendon County estimates $25,000 per year, Cherokee County estimates $10,000 per year, and Jasper County estimates $45,000 per year. The remaining twelve counties that responded replied that the bill is not expected to significantly impact their tax base. Those counties are Abbeville, Beaufort, Berkeley, Calhoun, Charleston, Fairfield, Horry, Newberry, Orangeburg, Sumter, Union, and Williamsburg. We assume that counties that did not respond will not be significantly impacted by the bill. The bill is effective for property tax years after 2014, however, no refunds are allowed. Therefore, we estimate that the bill will reduce local property tax revenue for the impacted counties by a total of $115,000 beginning in FY 2016-17.
