Explanation of Fiscal Impact

Introduced on March 15, 2017

State Expenditure

The Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP) limits the time period an able-bodied adult without dependents (ABAWD) may receive benefits to 3 months in a 36-month period. To remain eligible beyond the time limit, an ABAWD must work at least 80 hours per month, participate in qualifying education and training activities at least 80 hours per month, or comply with a workfare program. Workfare means that ABAWDs can do unpaid work through a special state-approved program. States may request to waive the ABAWD time limit in areas with an unemployment rate above 10 percent or a lack of sufficient jobs. SNAP regulations provide a number of ways States can demonstrate an unemployment rate above 10 percent or a lack of sufficient jobs.

The Department of Social Services indicates that they are not seeking nor do they have any current waivers related to mandatory work requirements. Therefore, this bill will have no expenditure or revenue impact on the General Fund, Other Funds, or Federal Funds.
