Explanation of Fiscal Impact

Introduced on January 10, 2017

State Expenditure

This bill allows crime victims and their families to submit written statements to the Board of Probation, Parole and Pardon Services upon receipt of notice of a parole hearing. The Board must consider the statements in making its determination of parole for the offender. The Board must also retain the statements for use in subsequent parole hearings if the Board has contacted the submitter since the offender's most recent parole hearing and the submitter declares the statement still represents his position.

Department of Probation, Parole and Pardon Services. The Board of Probation, Parole and Pardon Services currently retains victim statements for consideration at subsequent parole hearings while an inmate remains incarcerated. As such, the bill would codify the Board's current procedures.
