Explanation of Fiscal Impact

Introduced on March 11, 2021

State Expenditure

This bill amends the Sexually Violent Predators Act in regards to the parole, release, and commitment procedures for persons convicted of sexually violent offenses. Further, it defines whether or not a person meets the definition of a sexually violent predator and establishes procedures for those persons. Additionally, it defines new terms and provides for supervised re-entry.

This bill will have no expenditure impact on the Commission on Prosecution Coordination (PCC), the Department of Probation, Parole and Pardon Services (DPPPS), the Department of Mental Health (DMH), the Department of Juvenile Justice (DJJ), Judicial, or the Department of Corrections (Corrections). PCC, DPPPS, DJJ, Corrections and Judicial anticipate that any additional responsibilities can be managed with existing staff and within existing appropriations. PCC does not handle Sexually Violent Predator Act cases. DMH stated that their current practices already follow the requirements of this bill.

Commission on Indigent Defense. CID is responsible for establishing and monitoring programs and services for legal representation to indigent defendants charged with criminal offenses in the courts of the state. CID has determined that the bill will have an expenditure impact to the agency. The bill could result in the need for additional staff, office space, additional equipment, and other costs associated with additional caseloads. However, at this time the agency is unable to determine what costs may incur as there is no empirical data on the number of new caseloads. Therefore, this bill will result in an undetermined General Fund increase for CID.

Attorney General's Office. The Legal Services Division of the Office of the Attorney General handles a variety of non-criminal matters on behalf of the state. Along with the sixteen Circuit Solicitors, the Attorney General is responsible for the prosecution of all criminal matters within the South Carolina judicial system. The expenditure impact of this bill is pending, contingent on a response from the Attorney General's Office.
