This bill increases the number of anesthesiologists' assistants that an anesthesiologist may supervise from two to four. The bill also removes the requirement that an anesthesiologist assistant license applicant must appear before a member of the Board of Medical Examiners and present certain credentials and knowledge prior to receiving licensure.

This bill will have no fiscal impact on the Department of Labor, Licensing and Regulation (LLR) or the Board of Medical Examiners. Increasing the number of anesthesiologist's assistants that an anesthesiologist may supervise can be managed within the normal course of business. Additionally, the removal of the requirement for certain academic credentials and knowledge to be presented to a member of the Board of Medical Examiners prior to licensure as an anesthesiologist assistant will have no cost savings on LLR or the Board of Medical Examiners as the review of these credentials and knowledge will be shifted to other areas of the program. For reference, there are currently sixty-nine licensed anesthesiologist's assistants in South Carolina.
