~~Indicates Matter Stricken~~

Indicates New Matter

The House assembled at 10:00 a.m.

Deliberations were opened with prayer by Rev. Charles E. Seastrunk, Jr., as follows:

Our thought for today is from Psalm 116:17: "I will offer to you a thanksgiving sacrifice and call on the name of the Lord."

Let us pray. God of promise, help us not to put our confidence in things that do not last and to put our trust in Your steadfast love and faithfulness. God bless us with hope and joy. For our sake, bless our defenders of freedom and first responders. Thank You for these folks who give of their time and talent for the good of all people. Look in favor upon our World, Nation, President, State, Governor, Speaker, Staff, and all who labor in this vineyard. Bless those who suffer wounds, those seen and those hidden, of our brave men and women. Lord, in Your mercy, hear our prayers. Amen.

Pursuant to Rule 6.3, the House of Representatives was led in the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America by the SPEAKER.

After corrections to the Journal of the proceedings of yesterday, the SPEAKER ordered it confirmed.

COMMITTING CERTAIN ADDITIONAL CRIMES AND TO PROVIDE APPROPRIATE PROCEDURES FOR DETERMINING IF ADDITIONAL CHARGES ARE PENDING; AND BY AMENDING SECTION 17-15-15, RELATING TO THE DEPOSIT OF A CASH PERCENTAGE IN LIEU OF BOND, SO AS TO REQUIRE A FULL CASH BOND FOR PERSONS CHARGED WITH CERTAIN CRIMES.

Rep. W. NEWTON proposed the following Amendment No. 1A to H. 3532 (LC-3532.AHB0083H), which was adopted:

Amend the bill, as and if amended, by striking all after the enacting words and inserting:

SECTION 1. Chapter 15, Title 17 of the S.C. Code is amended by adding:

Section 17-15-270. (A) If a person commits a subsequent violent crime while out on bond or other pretrial release for a previous violent charge, is charged and convicted of committing or attempting to commit the subsequent violent crime, he must be imprisoned for five years in addition to the punishment provided for the principal crime. The five-year sentence does not apply in cases when the death penalty or a life sentence without parole is imposed for the violent crime. For purposes of this subsection, a subsequent violent crime is one that occurs at a later date and time than the offense that resulted in the imposition of the bond or other pretrial release conditions.

(B) Service of the five-year sentence is mandatory unless a longer mandatory minimum term of imprisonment is provided by law for the violent crime. The court may impose this mandatory five-year sentence to run consecutively.

(C) Except as provided in this subsection, the person sentenced under this section is not eligible during this five-year period for parole, work release, or extended work release. The five years may not be suspended and the person may not complete his term of imprisonment in less than five years pursuant to good-time credits or work credits.

(D) The additional punishment may not be imposed unless the State notifies the defense in writing of its intention to seek such penalty at least thirty days prior to the trial of the violent crime that occurred while on bond or other pretrial release. If the defendant is convicted of the violent crime that occurred while on bond or other pretrial release, the court must as soon as practicable thereafter conduct a separate sentencing hearing relating to the additional punishment. Only evidence relating to whether the defendant was on pretrial release at the time the subsequent violent crime was committed may be considered in the sentencing hearing. In the hearing, the State must prove beyond a reasonable doubt that the defendant was on pretrial release for some other charge at the time the subsequent violent crime was committed. If the defendant was tried by jury, the same jury that found him guilty of the principal offense must serve for the sentencing hearing. If trial by jury has been waived by the defendant and the State, or if the defendant pleaded guilty, the sentencing hearing must be conducted before the judge. In the sentencing hearing, the jury or judge shall hear only evidence related to whether the defendant was on pretrial release. The State and the defense are permitted to present closing arguments. If the appropriate fact finder, either jury or judge, finds beyond a reasonable doubt that the defendant was on pretrial release when the subsequent violent crime was committed or the defendant stipulates that the subsequent violent crime was committed while he was on pretrial release, the additional five-year penalty must be imposed.

(E) For purposes of this section, violent crime is defined as the same as those contained in Section 16-1-60.

SECTION 2. Section 17-15-15 of the S.C. Code is amended to read:

Section 17-15-15. (A) Except as provided in subsection (D), in lieu of requiring actual posting of bond as provided in ~~subsection (A) of~~ Section 17-15-10(A), the court setting bond may permit the defendant to deposit in cash with the clerk of court an amount not to exceed ten percent of the amount of bond set, which amount, when the defendant fulfills the condition of the bond, ~~shall~~ must be returned to the defendant by the clerk except as provided in subsection (C).

(B) The cash deposit provided for in subsection (A) ~~shall~~ must be assignable at any time after it is posted with the clerk of court by written assignment executed by the defendant and delivered to the clerk. After assignment and after the defendant fulfills the condition of his bond, the clerk shall return the cash deposit to the assignee ~~thereof~~.

(C) In the event the cash deposit is not assigned but the defendant is required by the court to make restitution to the victim of his crime, ~~such~~ the deposit may be used for the purpose of ~~such~~ restitution.

(D) The provisions of this section do not apply if the defendant is charged with a violent crime as defined by Section 16-1-60 while out on bond or other pretrial release. If the court, pursuant to the limitations of Section 17-15-30, finds that such defendant may be released pending trial, bond must be set at the full United States currency cash bond to the exclusion of all other forms of bond whether the bond is posted by the defendant or with a bondsman.

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 26, 2023

SECTION 3. Section 17-15-55 of the S.C. Code is amended to read:

Section 17-15-55. (A)(1) The circuit courts, at their discretion, may review and reconsider bond for general sessions offenses set by summary court judges. Also, the circuit courts may consider motions regarding reconsideration of bond for general sessions offenses set by summary court judges upon motions filed with the clerks of court. Hearings on these motions must be scheduled. The rules of evidence do not apply to bond hearings.

(2) After a circuit court judge has heard and ruled upon a defendant's motion to reconsider a bond set by a summary court judge, further defense motions to reconsider may be heard by the circuit court only upon the defendant's prima facie showing of a material change in circumstances which relate to the factors provided in Section 17-15-30, and which have arisen since the prior motion to reconsider. In addition, the circuit court may hear further defense motions to reconsider based on the length of time the defendant has been held for trial after six months. The chief judge shall schedule a hearing or if such showing is not set forth in the written motion, deny the motion for failure to make a prima facie showing of a material change in circumstances. ~~Information regarding the defendant's guilt or innocence does not qualify as a change in circumstances for purposes of reconsidering bond absent the solicitor's consent.~~ Notwithstanding another provision of law, nothing prevents a solicitor or the defendant from filing a motion for a speedy trial or requesting the court to set a date certain for trial based on the facts and circumstances in the case.

(B)(1) Motions by the State to revoke or modify a bond must be made in writing, state with particularity the grounds for revocation or modification, and set forth the relief or order sought. The motions must be filed with the clerks of court, and a copy must be served on the chief judge, defense counsel of record, and bond surety, if any. The court must have a hearing and rule on the state's motion within thirty days of the filing.

(2) After a circuit court judge has heard and ruled upon the state's motion to reconsider a bond set by a summary court judge, further state motions to reconsider may be heard by the circuit court only upon the state's prima facie showing of a material change in circumstances which have arisen since the prior motion to reconsider. The chief judge shall schedule a hearing or if such showing is not set forth in the written motion, deny the motion for failure to make a prima facie showing of a material change in circumstances.

(3) If the state's motion to revoke or modify bond includes a prima facie showing of imminent danger to the community, imminent danger to the defendant, or flight by the defendant, the chief judge or presiding judge shall conduct or order an emergency bond hearing to be conducted by the circuit court judge within forty-eight hours of receiving service of the state's motion or as soon as practical. The chief judge shall order the solicitor to notify the defense counsel of record and bond surety of the time and date of the hearing, and the solicitor shall provide proof reasonable efforts were made to affect the notice. Upon notice by the State, the defense counsel of record and bond surety shall make reasonable efforts to notify the defendant of the emergency hearing. The court may proceed with the hearing despite the absence of the defendant or bond surety. The court may not proceed with the hearing if the defense counsel of record is not present. If an emergency bond hearing is held without the presence of the defendant and bond is revoked, the judge having heard the matter may conduct the hearing on the defendant's motion to reconsider the revocation. Defense motions to reconsider revocation must be filed with the clerk of court and served on the solicitor and bond surety.

(C) If a person commits a violent crime, as defined in Section 16-1-60, which was committed when the person was already out on bond for a previous violent crime and the subsequent violent crime did not arise out of the same series of events as the previous violent crime, then the bond ~~hearing for the subsequent violent crime~~ original offense must be revoked and a hearing for the subsequent violent crime must be held in the circuit court within ~~thirty~~fourteen days. The court must issue findings of fact and conclusions of law addressing the revocation of bond, whether a new bond is issued for the previous offense as well as if bond is appropriate for the subsequent violent crime. If the court finds that certain conditions of release on bond will ensure that the person is unlikely to flee or pose a danger to any other person or the community and the person will abide by the terms of release on bond, the judge shall consider bond in accordance with the provisions of ~~this chapter and set or amend bond accordingly~~ Section 17-15-15(D) and under the condition that the defendant be placed on electronic monitoring. If the court finds no such conditions will ensure that the person is unlikely to flee or not pose a danger to the community, the court shall not set a bond for the instant offense and must revoke all previously set bonds.

(D) If a person commits a violent crime, as defined in Section 16-1-60, which was committed when the person was already out on bond for a previous violent crime, and the subsequent violent crime did not arise out of the same series of events as the previous violent crime, then the arresting law enforcement agency must transmit notice of the second arrest, implicating subsection (C), to the solicitor of the circuit in which the crime was committed and the administrative chief judge of the circuit in which the crime was committed. The prosecuting agency must notify any victims of the initial or subsequent crimes pursuant to Chapter 3, Title 16 of any bond hearings.

~~—(E) For the purpose of bond revocation only, a summary court has concurrent jurisdiction with the circuit court for ten days from the date bond is first set on a charge by the summary court to determine if bond should be revoked.~~

SECTION 4. This act takes effect upon approval by the Governor.

So, the amendment was tabled.

Rep. COLLINS spoke against the Bill.

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 26, 2023

On motion of Rep. COBB-HUNTER, with unanimous consent, Rep. COLLINS's remarks were ordered printed in the Journal as follows:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

I would like to thank Chairwoman Erickson, Representative Elliott, Catholic Diocese, Palmetto Promise, and Gov. Jeb Bush with Excel in Ed for their advocacy on this issue. While I do not agree with them on this issue, I know they are attempting to improve education in South Carolina. Those reps and groups I agree with on probably 90% of education issues. Disagreement makes friendship awkward, but as Speaker Lucas and Leader Simrill mentioned yesterday, we have a solemn duty to spend these precious seconds we have here in service refining public policy for the good. By the way, after their speeches, I ran the math. The average life expectancy of an American is 76.1 years. That's only 2.4 billion seconds, so use them wisely and positively. But to add onto that, what a responsibility we have! A responsibility to effect positive change in the number one issue facing our state - education. That immense responsibility reminds me of another leader. Before DDay in WWII, Gen. Patton told his troops, "Thank God that 30 years from now, when you are sitting around the fireside with your grandson and he asks what you did in the great WWII, you won't have to say, "I shoveled shit in Louisiana." I love that. My interpretation of Patton's words are anyone can be mediocre, but why not be supreme and do something significant. For those who don't know, especially the freshmen, my focus since I've been here has been on education policy. I served on the Education Committee, I served on CERRA, Children's Committee, I have made trips to Finland, MA, GA, and SC to study their schools and systems, I currently serve in EOC, EIA subcommittee, and on the K-12 subcommittee on W&M.

There are 4 reasons I'm against this bill and, more generally, the idea of public money going to private and religious schools in a k-12 setting:

One, it's unconstitutional. Two, it's ineffective. Three, practically, it will do nothing. And four, it takes the precious seconds we have on this floor from doing something meaningful in the public k-12 arena.

Article XI of the South Carolina Constitution reads: System of free public schools and other public institutions of learning. The General Assembly shall provide for the maintenance and support of a system of free public schools open to all children in the State and shall establish, organize and support such other public institutions of learning, as may be desirable.

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 26, 2023

Less than 3 years ago, the SC Supreme Court held by unanimous decision in Adams v. McMaster held "the Governor's allocation of $32 million in GEER funds to support the SAFE Grants Program constitutes the use of public funds for the direct benefit of private educational institutions within the meaning of, and prohibited by, Article XI of the South Carolina Constitution." Senate bill 39 would allow $6,000 to pay for private or religious k-12 expenses. While I am an attorney, I do not profess to be a constitutional scholar; however, I don't believe one needs a legal background to read Article XI and this bill and come to the conclusion that we are prohibited from using public funds in a private or religious k-12 setting.

My best guess on what will happen if this bill is to pass is that it, too, will be challenged in court, and the court will strike down the bill for violating the plain reading of our state constitution. The proper route constitutionally to allow public money to go to private or religious schools is to amend the constitution as Speaker Smith's bill does.

Second, the idea of using public money in private or religious schools is ineffective, whether it is vouchers, educational savings accounts, or any other creative wording one has for using public money in private or religious schools. For those who don't know, I'm pursuing a master's in government through Harvard Extension. I intentionally took the course Saving American Schools. In part of the course we studied the idea of using public money in private or religious schools. I can tell you the conclusion in one concerning sentence and that is - the evidence-based data show no improvement. The concept of using public money in private or religious schools is not new. Milton Friedman argued for it in the 1950s. In the 1990s & early 2000s, it was a Democratic Party initiative. Milwaukee implemented their program in the 1990. In 2004, DC implemented their program. During the Obama years, the idea transitioned to a Republican initiative. Since 2010, Florida, Louisiana, Arizona, Indiana, Oklahoma have all implemented some sort of program for public money to private & religious schools.

Point being - both parties have been wrong. Milwaukee has been an experiment for 30+ years. Does anyone want to move their children to Milwaukee for its education prowess? DC has been for 20 years. Does anyone want to move their children to DC for its education excellence? Louisiana anyone?

What the evidence shows is in Milwaukee, between years 1991 and 2015, analysts found that 41 percent of the 247 schools that participated for at least one year failed—meaning that they were terminated via regulatory action or else voluntarily shut their doors. Another 11 percent either merged with another school or converted to a charter school. That's 52% of schools closed or merged over a 14 year period. In DC, scores decreased in math. In Louisiana, those who received vouchers had a .4 standard deviation lower than public school students - that is statistically, catastrophically bad. It's twice as bad as covid loss or Hurricane Katrina loss. A study on LA indicated that the use of vouchers negatively affected both English and mathematics achievement. A study on Indiana's voucher system found that voucher students experienced an average achievement loss of 0.15 SDs in mathematics during their first year of attending a private school compared with matched students who remained in public school.

Evidence shows that public money to private or religious schools can work, but in a targeted, limited setting. For example, it can work if focused on a large metro area for low-income students stuck in a failing system. But, for good or bad, SC does not have a large metro area. Maybe Charleston? Maybe downtown Greenville?

So why go down this road that has been tried for 30+ years without any amazing results anywhere?

Third, practically, this bill will do very little as written. Think about it. I just imagine my city of Easley. The closest private or religious schools are Christ Church or Bob Jones. Do you really think I have a child that will attend one of these schools because of this bill? Christ Church's tuition is $20,000. The $6,000 reduces that to $14,000 but that doesn't include transportation. My bet is not one child will apply for this money. But, Neal, schools will move to Easley. Really? Do you think a quality school can be created at $6,000 a student? The best a new private or religious school can do is run a one-room classroom out of a church basement or strip mall at that price. So, practically speaking, we're only talking about the current private or religious schools. Ask yourself, will there be a great influx of opportunity? My bet is that the answer is no in 90+% of the areas in SC. Even Gov. Bush admitted to us that FL didn't see schools built in rural FL.

[2nd TAG] In a 2018 study, the conclusion was "school-choice initiatives seem to work better in cities than statewide because it is easier to exercise choice where there is better mass transit and higher population density, and the performance of traditional public schools is generally worse in urban areas, making it less challenging for choice programs to improve on baseline student outcomes."

Practically, what this may do, though, is increase tuition at private and religious schools. Since there is no cap on increase in tuition in this bill, if I am a private or religious school, one of the levers I have is to increase tuition due to any new demand in the market.

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 26, 2023

The fourth reason I'm against this bill is because we need to be cognizant of what separation of church and state means ... how it protects government from the church but it also protects the church from the government. The moment a private or religious school accepts public money, they are forever at risk of public scrutiny and public norms. Ask Bob Jones. On the same hand, the moment government gives public money to some private and religious schools, government needs to be ready to give public money to ALL private and religious schools. Family & Freedom Caucus ...

The fifth and final reason I'm against this bill is the most important and that is that legislative time is so very precious. As the freshmen are probably realizing now - we only have 7 days left, legislative time is precious. It's why some of us get upset at theatrics and procedural maneuvers that waste time. So, Mr. Know It All, if not ESAs, what do we do with this precious time?

The 4 solutions. After 9 years of focusing almost solely on education policy in SC, the first thing - and don't say this to voters - is that we need to increase the educational levels of our adults in SC. For the majority of our students, the parents are the primary teachers. Why were we behind MA students when we were in school? Why are our children behind MA students now a generation or two later? Because education is strongly correlated with family. It's why we celebrate first generation high school graduate, first generation college, first generation attorney, etc. By percentage, nearly twice the number of adults have an advanced degree in MA than SC. 31% of SC adults have a college education. It's 45% in MA. So, instead of public money to private or religious schools, we need to support programs and ideas that will further educate our adults. We have a microcosm of this in Pickens Co. Y'all know Clemson is in Pickens Co. Well, lo and behold, the best high school in the county and one of the best in the state is in Clemson. It's Daniel High. Are they doing something in Clemson the rest of the state is not? Yes, they have a higher percentage of educated adults who take part in their children's education. It's not rocket science.

The second solution is we need to focus on educational finance in SC. Let's just think about this. If you didn't know, local property taxes make up 45% of school funding. We all know that is asinine. We also know that Act 388 has failed. We try our hardest but we don't get credit for the property taxes saved each year yet we exacerbate the financial inequity between our 79 districts. Calhoun Co, because of a nuclear power plant, raises more local funding than Dillon Co can in local, state, and federal. If someone could create a dumber, more inequitable system, I'd like to hear it. What we need is to scrap local millage and replace it with a state millage.

The third solution is we need to centralize education in SC. Some of you may not realize it - the ones that control their school boards do - but we, the state, are actually charged with delivering education. In the 1970s, our enlightened predecessors decided to send authority back home under Home Rule. My suspicion is that it was two-fold (a) they weren't education experts and why not send that trouble to someone else and (b) integration was occurring and fresh on minds. But home rule is a failure statewide. We have 79 districts doing 79 different things. I could speak an hour on this alone but remember that $4,000 pay raise we gave teachers last year? We didn't. Every district did something different. Vast majority did not give a $4,000 raise. They spent the money elsewhere. Remember covid and return to face to face? We had some school districts returning in August. By March, we were passing legislation to require a few districts to go back. I don't care what side of covid you're on, but to have some students in class in August and some not until March? To put it simply, instead of one vision, what we have is a superintendent running a department, EOC who tries to hold data accountable, the state board providing directives, 79 superintendents believing their bosses are the 596 school board members who may or may not a relevant background, 1100+ principals believing their boss is the superintendent, and 50,000+ teachers who primarily do as their told for fear of being sent to a school on the other side of the county. Meanwhile, there is no direction. It is no wonder why there is no accountability or ability to make significant and lasting change in public education. No less than 1,800 adults are in positions of policy and funding leadership in SC What we need to do is centralize education in SC. That means thinking outside the box. That means open enrollment - thank you Chairwoman Erickson - that means consolidating districts, even across county lines. That means removing authority from school board members to educational experts. That means having fewer superintendents and those fewer superintendents implementing a statewide vision, not a district vision.

The fourth solution is another one that you cannot say. From experience, it never goes well. Don't say it. Especially don't say it to groups of teachers like I do. But we all know that at school, the number one indicator of educational success is through an expert teacher. [PAGE 119 OF SAVING SCHOOLS]

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 26, 2023

The reality in public education is that until the 1970s, women only had two career choices - nursing or teaching. That meant, to Americans' benefit, one half of our people - some the cream of the crop of their gender chose teaching. The culture change over the past 50 years has been a boon for women, opening all kinds of careers, but has been a bust for education. Instead of realizing the consequences and competing, we have allowed teaching to become a job, not a revered, sought after position that it was and should be. But how do you do that in the 21st century? The first thing, and I don't care what anyone says, is pay. I want to commend the legislature and Gov McMaster. Pay has increased a decent amount. But we have so far to go to make it professional pay that can compete. My high school class had two valedictorians, both female. One is now a dentist and another is a speech pathologist. Along with pay, we need to treat teachers as professionals. A professional to me is someone who is learned or gifted in a skill, who is not supervised or told how or what to do in their profession, who works when it is best, who does not do extra duties outside the performance of their profession. That's not a modern day teacher. A modern day teacher is being told more and more what and how to teach, given a strict schedule, has to do extra duties. So, we should do anything that gives them the power. That's why I'm supportive of Chairwoman Erickson's bill that incorporates Rep. Gilliam and Rep. Felder's ideas of contract protections and elimination of recertifications.

This bill will ultimately cost $90 million a year. It's true that percentage wise, that's a small amount. Tough to say $90 million is small, but that is correct percentage wise. But the question becomes, what could we do with $90 million that would actually have improvement in the 4 issues listed above? Could we consolidate some districts with the carrot of $90 million? Yes. Could we pay teachers more? With $90 million, we could raise teacher pay $1,500. With $90 million, we could pay for people to do lunch & bus duty freeing teachers. With $90 million, we could level the financial playing field between districts. With $90 million, we could give to technical schools to encourage more adults to further their education.

Rep. Hewitt asked Gov Bush what are 3 things SC can do. Gov Bush admitted he was here to advocate for ESAs so he listed ESAs, but then he said K-3 early literacy and educating with career in mind. To those two things, I completely agree.

Those & others can be improved if we focus on those 4 solutions.

Our thought for today is from Isaiah 26:2: “Open the gates so that the righteous nation that keeps faith may enter in.”

Let us pray. Everlasting God, give us faith in You today. Guide each of these Representatives and Staff in their ability to do the work for the good of the people of South Carolina. Keep our defenders of freedom and first responders safe and free. Protect them from all harm as they travel home to family and the people of their districts. Heal the wounds, those seen and those hidden, of our brave warriors. Keep them safe. Look in favor upon our World, Nation, President, State, Governor, Speaker, Staff, and all who serve in this vineyard. Lord, in Your mercy, hear our prayers. Amen.

Mr. Johnny Brown

Mr. Speaker, I rise today to ask that we adjourn in memory of a great Hartsvillian, Mr. Johnny Brown. Mr. Brown was a proud World War II veteran, was a fixture throughout the Pee Dee, and was the long-time Executive Director of the Pee Dee Council of Governments. He served in this position and served the people of the Pee Dee until his dying day. Mr. Brown passed away on April 22, 2023, suddenly and we remember his family in our prayers.

SILENT PRAYER

The House stood in silent prayer for the family and friends of Johnny Brown.

SILENT PRAYER

The House stood in silent prayer for the family and friends of Emily Meggett.

Emily Hutchinson Meggett

We honor the life and legacy of Emily Hutchinson Meggett, nationally known as the Gullah Matriarch of Edisto Island, who passed away on April 21, 2023, at the age of 90. The author of New York Times bestselling cookbook "Gullah Geechee Home Cooking: Recipes from the Matriarch of Edisto Island". She lived on the island that she called "a piece of heaven" her entire life. Born Emily Hutchinson, she was a descendent of the Gullah-Geechee people, a group of enslaved Central and West Africans who were taken primarily from the rice- growing regions of West Africa across the Atlantic to the coastal southeastern states to cultivate rice, indigo, and sea island cotton on plantations.

She met her late husband, Jessie, on the island, and they were married on July 28, 1951. She is survived by nine of her children and many more grandchildren and great-grandchildren. Mrs. Meggett was taught to cook by her grandmother, lessons she took with her to the Sea Island Plantation, where she started out washing dishes before working as a chef for the Dodge family for almost half a century. At her home, she was known for leaving her side door open so people in the community could stop by for a hot meal. She would make big batches of tomato casserole, lima beans, shrimp and gravy, deviled crab, and pecan waffles for the whole family, the church, and the neighbors. It gave her such joy when she saw how much people appreciated her acts of kindness. Mrs. Meggett was honored multiple times since the book published, receiving the President's Volunteer Service Award for her decades long tradition of providing free meals on the island presented by U.S. Representative Jim Clyburn. The award came with a letter from President Joe Biden. One year later, she was named one of two recipients of the 2023 Jean Laney Harris Folk Heritage Award. She was an active member of her church, and those who knew her best described her as a person who connected with everyone. She was honest about what it meant to be a Black woman in the south and the constraints that race had played on her long life. She led with love and garnered respect from everyone across age, race, and gender. We, therefore, pause in our deliberations to extend our deepest sympathy and pray for comfort and peace for the family as they celebrate her rich and rewarding life.

(D) After receipt of an application with proof of publication and payment of the initial application fee, the department shall publish in the State Register a notice that an application has been accepted for filing. Within ~~thirty~~thirty-five days of acceptance of the application, the department may request additional information as may be necessary to complete the application. The applicant has ~~thirty~~thirty-five days from the date of the request to submit the additional information. SECTION X. Section 44-7-210(A), (F), and (G) of the S.C. Code is amended to read:

Section 44-7-210. (A) After the department has determined that an application is complete, affected persons must be notified in accordance with departmental regulations. The notification to affected persons that the application is complete begins the review period; however, in the case of competing applications, the review period begins on the date of notice to affected persons that the last of the competing applications is complete and notice is published in the State Register. The staff shall issue its decision to approve or deny the application no earlier than thirty calendar days, but no later than ~~one hundred twenty-nine~~one hundred twenty calendar days, from the date affected persons are notified that the application is complete, unless a public hearing is timely requested as may be provided for by department regulation. If a public hearing is properly requested, the staff's decision must not be made until after the public hearing, but in no event shall the decision be issued more than ~~one hundred fifty-one~~one hundred twenty calendar days from the date affected persons are notified that the application is complete. The staff may reorder the relative importance of the project review criteria no more than one time during the review period. The staff's reordering of the relative importance of the project review criteria does not extend the review period provided for in this section.

(F) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, including Section 1-23-650(C), in a contested case arising from the department's decision to grant or deny a Certificate of Need application, grant or deny a request for exemption under Section 44-7-170, or the issuance of a determination regarding the applicability of Section 44-7-160, the following apply:

TUESDAY, MAY 2, 2023

(1) each party may name no more than ~~ten~~five witnesses who may testify at the contested case hearing;

(5) each party is permitted to serve only ~~thirty~~fifteen requests for production, including subparts; ~~and~~

~~(6) the parties shall complete discovery within one hundred twenty days after the assignment of the administrative law judge.~~

~~—The limitations provided for in this subsection are intended to make the contested case process more efficient, less burdensome, and less costly to the parties in Certificate of Need cases. Therefore, the Administrative Law Court may, by court order, lift these limitations beyond the parameters set forth in this subsection only in exceptional circumstances when failure to do so would cause substantial prejudice to the party seeking additional discovery.~~

(G) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, in a contested case arising from the department's decision to grant or deny a Certificate of Need application, grant or deny a request for exemption under Section 44-7-170, or the issuance of a determination regarding the applicability of Section 44-7-160, the Administrative Law Court shall file a final decision no later than ~~eighteen~~twelve months after the contested case is filed with the Clerk of the Administrative Law Court, ~~unless all parties to the contested case consent to an extension or the court finds substantial cause otherwise.~~ An affected person who was a party to the contested case has a right to appeal to the Supreme Court final decisions issued by the Administrative Law Court for a contested case arising from the department's decision to grant or deny a Certificate of Need application, grant or denial of a request for exemption under Section 44-7-170, or the issuance of a determination regarding the applicability of Section 44-7-160.

SECTION X. Section 44-7-220 of the S.C. Code is amended to read:

TUESDAY, MAY 2, 2023

(B)(1) If a party does not prevail in a contested case at the Administrative Law Court when requesting the reversal of the department's decision concerning a Certificate of Need application, when claiming an exemption under Section 44-7-170, or when claiming that the article is not applicable pursuant to Section 44-7-160, the Administrative Law Court shall award the party whose project is the subject of the appeal reasonable attorney's fees and costs incurred in the contested case.

(C) If the relief requested in the appeal is the reversal of the Administrative Law Court's decision to approve the Certificate of Need application or approve the request for exemption under Section 44-7-170 or approve the determination that Section 44-7-160 is not applicable, the party filing the appeal shall deposit a bond with the Clerk of the ~~Court of Appeals~~ Supreme Court within five calendar days after filing the petition to appeal. The bond must be secured by cash or a surety authorized to do business in this State in an amount equal to five percent of the total cost of the project or one hundred thousand dollars, whichever is greater, up to a maximum of one million five hundred thousand dollars. If the ~~Court of Appeals~~ Supreme Court affirms the Administrative Law Court's decision or dismisses the appeal, the ~~Court of Appeals~~ Supreme Court shall award to the party whose project is the subject of the appeal all of the bond ~~and also may award reasonable attorney's fees and costs incurred in the appeal.~~ If a party appeals the denial of its own Certificate of Need application or of an exemption request under Section 44-7-170 or appeals the determination that Section 44-7-160 is applicable and there is no competing application involved in the appeal, the party filing the appeal is not required to deposit a bond with the ~~Court of Appeals~~ Supreme Court.

(C)(1) Furthermore, if at the conclusion of the contested case or judicial review the Administrative Law Court or the Court of Appeals finds that the contested case or a subsequent appeal was frivolous, the Administrative Law Court or the Court of Appeals may award damages incurred as a result of the delay, as well as reasonable attorney's fees and costs, to the party whose project is the subject of the contested case or (D)(1) If at the conclusion of the contested case or judicial review the Administrative Law Court or the Supreme Court finds that the contested case or a subsequent appeal was frivolous, the Administrative Law Court or the Supreme Court shall award damages incurred as a result of the delay, as well as reasonable attorney's fees and costs, to the party whose project is the subject of the contested case or judicial review.

____ (2) As used in this subsection, “frivolous appeal” means a reasonable person in the same circumstances would believe that:

____ (b) the procurement, initiation, or continuation of the contested case or subsequent appeal was intended merely to harass or injure the other party; or

____ (c) the contested case or subsequent appeal was not reasonably founded in fact or was interposed merely for delay or was merely brought for a purpose other than securing proper discovery or adjudication of the claim upon which the proceedings are based.

____ (3) This subsection must not be construed to prohibit any party from seeking sanctions pursuant to the South Carolina Frivolous Civil Proceedings Sanctions Act pursuant to Section 15-36-10, et. seq.

____ (E)(1) The court must not assess attorney's fees or costs awarded against or to the department in any contested case or appeal involving a Certificate of Need application or an exemption request pursuant to Section 44-7-170 or a request for a determination as to the applicability of Section 44-7-160.

____ (2) This subsection must not be interpreted to abrogate the contractual rights of any party concerning the recovery of attorney's fees or other monies in accordance with the provisions of any written contract between the parties to the action.

~~Indicates Matter Stricken~~

Indicates New Matter

The House assembled at 10:00 a.m.

Deliberations were opened with prayer by Rev. Charles E. Seastrunk, Jr., as follows:

Our thought for today is from Psalm 104:24: “O Lord, how manifold are your works! In wisdom you have made them all; the earth is full of your creatures.”

Let us pray. Thanks be to God for life created, life redeemed, and life sustained through this one God. You who loves all that you have created, give us that love. May we follow You. Bless our defenders of freedom and first responders. We offer joy and thanksgiving for what You have given to us... ourselves, our time, our possessions, and signs of Your gracious love. Look in favor upon our World, Nation, President, State, Governor, Speaker, Staff, and all who give of their time and effort for the people of this State. Heal the wounds, those seen and those hidden, of our brave men and women who suffer and sacrifice for our freedom. Lord, in Your mercy, hear our prayers. Amen.

Pursuant to Rule 6.3, the House of Representatives was led in the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America by the SPEAKER.

After corrections to the Journal of the proceedings of yesterday, the SPEAKER ordered it confirmed.

MOTION ADOPTED

Rep. G. M. SMITH moved that when the House adjourns, it adjourn in memory of Gregory Brell Foster, which was agreed to.

Gregory Brell Foster

Gregory Brell Foster, aged 39, of Columbia, South Carolina passed away on April 29, 2023.

Greg was a lifelong resident of South Carolina and dearly loved this State. As a child, he was active in local soccer leagues, resulting in many lifelong friendships. He graduated from Irmo High School in 2001, where he played on the JV and Varsity soccer teams. Winning the state soccer title in 2000 was a moment of shared triumph with many friends that was never forgotten.

Greg grew up within a community of close family friends who were, in essence, his extended family. This community further grew when he entered the University of South Carolina (USC) and joined the Kappa Sigma fraternity. The great camaraderie among his fraternity brothers and his friendships at USC will always be remembered by his family. While at USC, Greg met the love of his life, Ashley, and gained another wonderful family and network of friends.

Following graduation from USC in 2005, Greg was employed at McAlister Communications in Columbia before he entered a position that proved to be a true passion: his service as Communication Director to the Speaker of the House of Representatives of South Carolina. As Communications Director, and then later as the Deputy Chief of Staff, Greg distinguished himself as a speech writer. Greg took great pride in his work and was honored with House Resolution SC H. 3922, recognizing his service. Following his departure from state government in 2015, Greg opened Foster Strategic Communications, LLC, a public relations firm. In 2018 he joined Push Digital, a Charleston-based marketing firm, as the leader of their legislative advocacy in Columbia.

Greg Foster was a true character. He was witty, intelligent, and loved a great debate. On weekends, he was frequently found cheering on his beloved Gamecocks. In his 20s and early 30s, Greg was an avid outdoorsman and hunter. He loved scuba diving. He was an incredibly social person and thrived in a crowd of friends. The great joys of his life included his wedding to Ashley and the birth of his son Hampton. Following Hampton's birth, Greg stated he was "embarking on the greatest adventure of life." He truly loved his family.

SILENT PRAYER

The House stood in silent prayer family and friends of Gregory Brell Foster.

S. 418--AMENDED AND ORDERED TO THIRD READING

The following Bill was taken up:

S. 418 -- Senators Hembree, Turner and Gustafson: A BILL TO AMEND THE SOUTH CAROLINA CODE OF LAWS BY AMENDING SECTION 59-155-180, RELATING TO PRE-SERVICE AND IN-SERVICE TEACHER EDUCATION PROGRAMS, SO AS TO UPDATE THE ENDORSEMENT REQUIREMENTS OF READ TO SUCCEED.

The Committee on Education and Public Works proposed the following Amendment No. 1 to S. 418 (LC-418.WAB0004H), which was adopted:

Amend the bill, as and if amended, by striking all after the enacting words and inserting:

SECTION 1. Chapter 155, Title 59 of the S.C. Code is amended by adding:

Section 59-155-155. (A)(1) The State Department of Education shall approve no more than three reliable and valid universal reading screeners for selection and use by school districts in kindergarten through third grade. The department shall use the same process as required by Section 59-18-310 to ensure that the instruments are valid and reliable assessments that provide diagnostic information in a timely fashion. Each district shall use one of the approved universal screeners.

(2) Each approved universal reading screener must:

(a) provide screening and diagnostic capabilities for monitoring student progress in reading;

(b) measure, at a minimum, phonological awareness, phonemic awareness, phonics, fluency, vocabulary, and comprehension; and

(c) identify students who have a reading deficiency, including identifying students with characteristics of dyslexia.

(3) In determining which instruments to approve, the following factors must be considered:

(a) the time required to conduct the assessments, with the intention of minimizing the impact on instructional time;

WEDNESDAY, MAY 3, 2023

(b) the level of integration of assessment results with instructional support for teachers and students;

(c) the timeliness in reporting assessment results to teachers, administrators, the department, and parents; and

(d) the level of integration of assessment results with instructional support for teachers and pupils.

(B) A district shall administer a universal reading screener pursuant to the universal screening process as defined in Section 59-33-510(7) in the first thirty days of the school year and repeat at midyear and at the end of the school year to determine student progression in reading in kindergarten through third grade. The district shall notify parents after the administration of each universal reading screener. If a student demonstrates literacy deficiencies based on the screener data, the district shall create an individual reading plan for each student. The department shall reimburse districts for the cost of the universal reading screener, upon receipt of assessment data used in the progress monitoring system. All school districts shall use one of the selected universal reading screeners by the department. Classroom teachers also must be provided support by the department in administering universal reading screener and in understanding the results so that the teacher can provide the appropriate scientifically-based intervention.

(C) Administration of a universal reading screener can be replaced with a selected alternative assessment and progress monitoring tool for students in grades K-3 with a significant cognitive disability (SCD).

(D)(1) The department shall:

(a) provide technical assistance and support to districts and classroom teachers in administering universal reading screeners and in understanding the results so teachers are able to provide appropriate scientifically-based interventions;

(b) require districts and vendors of approved universal reading screeners to annually submit data as requested by the department in order to determine whether the screening instruments are accurately identifying students in need;

No PK-5 textbook or instructional materials that employ the three-cueing system model of reading, visual memory as the primary basis for teaching word recognition, or the three-cuing system model of reading based on meaning, structure and syntax, and visual, which is also known as "MSV" should be used in reading instruction;

(3) each student who cannot yet comprehend grade-level text is identified and served as early as possible and at all stages of his or her educational process;

(4) each student receives targeted, effective, comprehension support from the classroom teacher and, if needed, supplemental support from a reading interventionist so that ultimately all students can focus on early language and literacy development. Beginning in Fiscal Year 2016-2017, the assessment must assess each child's early language and literacy development, mathematical thinking, physical well-being, and social-emotional development. The assessment may include multiple assessments, all of which must be approved by the board. The approved assessments of academic readiness must be aligned with first and second grade standards for English/language arts and mathematics an approved universal screener of language and literacy by the first thirty days of the school year. The purpose of the assessment is to provide teachers and parents or guardians with information to address the readiness needs of each student, especially by identifying language, cognitive, social, emotional, health problems, and concerning appropriate instruction for each child. The universal screener must be approved by the board and aligned with first grade and second grade standards for English/language arts. The results of the assessment and the developmental intervention strategies recommended to address the child's identified needs must be provided, in writing, to the parent or guardian. Reading instructional strategies and developmental activities for children whose oral language skills are assessed to be below the norm of their peers in the State must be aligned with the district's reading proficiency plan for addressing the readiness needs of each student. The results of each assessment also must be reported to the ~~Read to Succeed Office~~ department.

WEDNESDAY, MAY 3, 2023

(B) Any student enrolled in prekindergarten, kindergarten, first grade, second grade, or third grade who is ~~substantially~~ not demonstrating proficiency in reading, based upon formal diagnostic assessments, a universal screener, or through teacher observations, must be provided intensive in-class and supplemental reading intervention immediately upon determination. The intensive interventions must be provided as individualized and small group assistance based on the analysis of assessment data. All sustained interventions must be aligned with the district's reading proficiency plan. These interventions must be at least thirty minutes daily in duration and be in addition to the minimum of ninety minutes of daily reading and writing instruction provided to all students in kindergarten through grade three. The district must continue to provide intensive in-class intervention and at least thirty minutes of supplemental intervention until the student can comprehend and write text at grade-level independently. In addition, the parent or guardian of the student must be notified, in writing, of the child's inability to read grade-level texts, the interventions to be provided, and the child's reading abilities at the end of the planned interventions. The results of the initial assessments and progress monitoring also must be provided to the ~~Read-to-Succeed Office~~ department.

(C) Programs that focus on early childhood literacy development in the State are required to promote:

(1) parent training and support for parent involvement in developing children's literacy; and

(2) development of ~~oral language, print awareness, and emergent writing~~ foundational literacy skills; and are encouraged to promote community literacy including, but not limited to, primary health care providers, faith-based organizations, county libraries, and service organizations.

(D) Districts that fail to provide reports on summer reading camps pursuant to Section 59-155-130(8) are ineligible to receive state funding for summer reading camps for the following fiscal year; however, districts must continue to operate summer reading camps as defined in this act.

SECTION 7. Section 59-155-160 of the S.C. Code is amended to read:

Section 59-155-160. (A) Beginning with the ~~2017-2018~~2024-2025 School Year, a student must be retained in the third grade if the student fails to demonstrate reading proficiency at the end of the third grade as indicated by scoring Does Not Meet Expectations or at the lowest achievement level on the state summative reading assessment ~~that equates to Not Met 1 on the Palmetto Assessment of State Standards (PASS)~~. A student may be exempt for good cause from the mandatory retention but shall continue to receive instructional support and services and reading intervention appropriate for their age and reading level. Good cause exemptions include students:

(1) with limited English proficiency and less than two years of instruction in English as a Second Language program;

(2) with disabilities whose individual education plan indicates the use of alternative assessments or alternative reading interventions and students with disabilities whose Individual Education Plan or Section 504 Plan reflects that the student has received intensive remediation in reading for more than two years but still does not substantially demonstrate reading proficiency;

(3) who demonstrate third-grade reading proficiency that exceeds the equivalent of Does Not Meet Expectations or at the lowest level of the statewide summative reading assessment on an alternative assessment approved by the board and which teachers may administer

following the administration of the state assessment of reading;

(4) who have received two years of reading intervention and were previously retained; and

~~(5) who through a reading portfolio document, the student's mastery of the state standards in reading equal to at least a level above the lowest achievement level on the state reading assessment. Such evidence must be an organized collection of the student's mastery of the state English/language arts standards that are assessed by the grade three state reading assessment. The Read to Succeed Office shall develop the assessment tool for the student portfolio; however, the student portfolio must meet the following minimum criteria:~~

~~—— (a) be selected by the student's English/language arts teacher or summer reading camp instructor;~~

~~—— (b) be an accurate picture of the student's ability and only include student work that has been independently produced in the classroom;~~

~~—— (c) include evidence that the benchmarks assessed by the grade three state reading assessment have been met. Evidence is to include multiple choice items and passages that are approximately sixty percent literary text and forty percent information text, and that are between one hundred and seven hundred words with an average of five hundred words. Such evidence could include chapter or unit tests from the district or school's adopted core reading curriculum that are aligned with the state English/language arts standards or teacher prepared assessments;~~

~~—— (d) be an organized collection of evidence of the student's mastery of the English/language arts state standards that are assessed by the grade three state reading assessment. For each benchmark there must be at least three examples of mastery as demonstrated by a grade of seventy percent or above; and~~

~~—— (e) be signed by the teacher and the principal as an accurate assessment of the required reading skills; and~~

~~—— (6) who successfully participate in a summer reading camp at the conclusion of the third grade year and demonstrate reading proficiency through either a reading portfolio or through a norm-referenced, alternative assessment, selected from a list of norm-referenced, alternative assessments approved by the Read to Succeed Office~~department~~ for use in the summer reading camps, that the student's mastery of the state standards in reading is equal to Approaches Expectations or at least a level above the lowest level on the state summative reading assessment.~~

(B) The superintendent of the local school district ~~must~~may determine whether a student in the district may be exempt from the mandatory retention by taking all of the following steps:

(1) The teacher of a student eligible for ~~exemption-retention~~ must submit to the principal documentation on the proposed exemption and evidence that promotion of the student is appropriate based on the student's academic record. This evidence must be limited to the student's individual education program, alternative assessments, or student reading portfolio. The ~~Read-to-Succeed Office~~ department must provide districts with a standardized form to use in the process.

(2) The principal must review the documentation and determine whether the student should be promoted. If the principal determines the student should be promoted, the principal must submit a written recommendation for promotion to the district superintendent for final determination.

(3) The district superintendent's acceptance or rejection of the recommendation must be in writing and a copy must be provided to the parent or guardian of the child. An individual reading plan to include additional supports for the student in achieving reading proficiency must be provided in writing to the parent or guardian regardless of whether the child is ultimately retained.

(4) A parent or legal guardian may appeal the decision to retain a student to the district superintendent if there is a compelling reason why the student should not be retained. A parent or legal guardian must appeal, in writing, within two weeks after the notification of retention. The letter must be addressed to the district superintendent and specify the reasons why the student should not be retained. The district superintendent shall render a decision and provide copies to the parent or legal guardian and the principal.

(C)(1) Students eligible for retention under the provisions in Section 59-155-160(A) may enroll in a summer reading camp provided by their school district or a summer reading camp consortium to which their district belongs prior to being retained the following school year. Summer reading camps must be at least six weeks in duration with a minimum of four days of instruction per week and four hours of instruction per day, or the equivalent minimum of ninety-six (96) hours of instruction during the spring outside of normal school hours and in the summer. The camps must be taught by compensated teachers who have at least ~~an add-on~~ literacy endorsement or who have documented and demonstrated substantial success in helping students ~~comprehend grade-level texts~~ achieve proficiency of grade-level reading standards. The ~~Read-to-Succeed Office~~ department shall assist districts that cannot find qualified teachers to work in the summer camps. Districts also may choose to contract for the services of qualified instructors or collaborate with one or more districts to provide a summer reading camp. Schools and ~~school~~ districts are encouraged to partner with county or school libraries, institutions of higher learning, community organizations, faith-based institutions, businesses, pediatric and family practice medical personnel, and other groups to provide volunteers, mentors, tutors, space, or other support to assist with the provision of the summer reading camps. A parent or guardian of a student who does not ~~substantially~~ demonstrate reading proficiency in comprehending texts appropriate for his grade level must make the final decision regarding the student's participation in the summer reading camp.

(2) A district ~~may shall~~ include in the summer reading camps kindergarten through second grade students who are not exhibiting grade-level reading proficiency. Students at any grade who are not exhibiting reading proficiency and do not meet the good cause exemption may be included in summer reading camps. Districts may charge fees for these students to attend the summer reading camps based on a sliding scale pursuant to Section 59-19-90, except where a child is found to be reading below grade level in the ~~first, second, or kindergarten~~ through third grade and does not meet the good cause exemption.

(D) Retained students must be provided intensive instructional services and support, including a minimum of ninety minutes of daily reading and writing instruction, supplemental ~~text-based foundational literacy skill~~ instruction, and other strategies grounded in the science of reading prescribed by the school district. These strategies may include, but are not limited to, instruction directly focused on improving the student's individual ~~reading proficiency~~ foundational literacy skills through small group instruction; reduced teacher-student ratios; more frequent student progress monitoring; high dosage, low ratio tutoring or mentoring; transition classes containing students in multiple grade spans; and extended school day, week, or year reading support. The school must report to the ~~Read to Succeed Office~~ department on the progress of students in the class at the end of the school year and at other times as required by the office based on the reading progression monitoring requirements of these students.

(E) If the student is not demonstrating third-grade reading proficiency by the end of the second grading period of the third grade:

(1)(a) his parent or guardian timely must be notified, in writing, that the student is being considered for retention and a conference with the parent or guardian must be held prior to a determination regarding

WEDNESDAY, MAY 3, 2023

retention is made, and conferences must be documented;

(b) within two weeks following the parent/teacher conference, copies of the conference form must be provided to the principal, parent or guardian, teacher and other school personnel who are working with the child on literacy, and summary statements must be sent to parents or legal guardians who do not attend the conference; and

(c) following the parent/teacher retention conference, the principal, classroom teacher, and other school personnel who are working with the child on literacy must review the recommendation for retention and provide suggestions for supplemental instruction; ~~and~~

~~_____ (d) recommendations and observations of the principal, teacher, parent or legal guardian, and other school personnel who are working with the child on literacy must be considered when determining whether to retain the student.~~

(2) The parent or guardian may designate another person as an education advocate also to act on their behalf to receive notification and to assume the responsibility of promoting the reading success of the child. The parent or guardian of a retained student must be offered supplemental tutoring for the retained student in ~~evidence~~scientifically-based services outside the instructional day.

(F) For students in kindergarten through second grade who are not demonstrating reading proficiency, additional support in foundational literacy skills shall be provided. These interventions must be at least thirty minutes daily and be in addition to the minimum of ninety minutes of daily reading and writing instruction provided to all students in kindergarten through second grade. The district must continue to provide intensive interventions until the student is meeting grade-level reading proficiency.

(G) For students in grades four and above who are substantially not demonstrating reading proficiency, interventions shall be provided by reading interventionists in the classroom and supplementally by teachers with a literacy teacher add-on endorsement or reading/literacy coaches. This supplemental support will be provided during the school day and, as appropriate, before or after school as documented in the district reading plan, and may include ~~book clubs~~ high dosage, low ratio tutoring as prescribed by the department or summer reading camps.

(G) If the student is not demonstrating grade-level standard reading proficiency as measured by the universal screeners in grades K-2:

(1) his or her parent or guardian timely must be notified after each administration of the universal screener, in writing, that the student is not meeting grade-level proficiency standards in reading and may be considered for retention; and

WEDNESDAY, MAY 3, 2023

(2) the student in grades K-2 who is substantially not demonstrating reading proficiency, must be provided additional support in foundational literacy skills. Beginning in Fiscal Year 2014-2015, reading/literacy coaches are required to earn the ~~add-on~~ certification within six years, except as exempted in items (4) and (5), by completing the necessary courses or professional development as required by the department ~~for the add-on~~. During the six-year period, to increase the number of qualified reading coaches, the ~~Read to Succeed Office~~ department shall identify and secure courses and professional development opportunities to assist educators in becoming reading coaches and in earning the literacy ~~add-on~~ endorsement. In addition, the ~~Read to Succeed Office~~ department will establish a process through which a district may be permitted to use state appropriations for reading coaches to obtain in-school services from department-approved consultants or vendors, in the event that the school is not successful in identifying and directly employing a qualified candidate. Districts must provide to the ~~Read to Succeed Office~~ department information on the name and qualifications of reading coaches funded by the state appropriations.

Beginning September 1, 2024, early childhood, elementary, and special education teacher candidates seeking initial certification in this State must earn a passing score on a rigorous test of scientifically research-based reading instruction and intervention and data-based decision-making principles as approved by the board. The board shall ensure candidates seeking their initial certificate in elementary education are not required to take an additional number of assessments. The objective of this item is to ensure that teacher candidates understand the foundations of reading and are prepared to teach reading to all students.

The course or professional development shall include information about reading process, instruction, assessment, or content area literacy and shall be approved by the Read to Succeed Office. The board shall approve guidelines and procedures to allow in-service educators the option of utilizing the test in item (5) to exempt requirements established by the board pursuant to item (4). As part of this process, the board shall set a minimum cut score that an in-service educator must achieve in order to take advantage of this provision. An educator's score on this assessment may not be used for evaluation purposes. Contingent upon funding by the General Assembly, this test must be provided at no cost to the educator.~~

~~(7) The Read to Succeed Office shall publish by August 1, 2014, the guidelines and procedures used in evaluating all courses and professional development, including virtual courses and professional development, leading to the literacy teacher add-on endorsement.~~

WEDNESDAY, MAY 3, 2023

Annually by January first, the Read to Succeed Office shall publish the approved courses and approved professional development leading to the literacy teacher add-on endorsement. Teachers, administrators, and other certified faculty and staff are exempt from having to earn the literacy endorsement to maintain certification only if they are not educating or serving students in a school or other educational setting. The literacy endorsement must be earned before an individual who was previously exempt pursuant to this item returns to a position where they educate or otherwise serve students.

(8) Annually by August first, the department shall publish the guidelines and procedures used in evaluating all courses and professional development, including virtual courses and professional development, leading to the literacy teacher endorsement. JOINT ASSEMBLY

At 12:00 noon the Senate appeared in the Hall of the House. The President of the Senate called the Joint Assembly to order and announced that it had convened under the terms of a Concurrent Resolution adopted by both Houses.

The Reading Clerk of the House read the following Concurrent Resolution:

H. 4235 -- Rep. G. M. Smith: A CONCURRENT RESOLUTION TO HONOR DAVID M. BEASLEY ON THE OCCASION OF THE CONCLUSION OF HIS SERVICE AS EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR OF THE UNITED NATIONS WORLD FOOD PROGRAMME, AND TO INVITE HIM TO ADDRESS THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY IN JOINT SESSION IN THE CHAMBER OF THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES AT 12:00 P.M. ON WEDNESDAY, MAY 3, 2023.

The Honorable David M. Beasley and distinguished party were escorted to the rostrum by Senators Grooms, Cromer, Shealy, Malloy and Scott and Representatives HIOTT, ALEXANDER, WOOTEN, DAVIS and POPE. The President recognized our special guests and then the Executive Director of the United Nations World Food Programme, addressed the General Assembly as follows:

Address by the Honorable David M. Beasley Executive Director of the United Nations World Food Programme May 3, 2023

We meet here today in Joint Session to honor Governor Beasley, for his service to our State, the Nation, and the World. After six years in the job, Governor Beasley, just recently concluded, his service as Executive Director of the United Nations World Food Programme. His work there was another milestone in a long career of serving the people. The list of Governor Beasley's accomplishments would take far too long to discuss here today. But I do want to point out what he has achieved in his six years as the Head of the World Food Programme, the World's largest humanitarian organization. In his six years at the helm, Governor Beasley raised over 55 billion dollars for the World Food Programme. The most ever. The crowning achievement for the World Food

WEDNESDAY, MAY 3, 2023

Programme, in the last six years, came because of Governor Beasley's highlights for the World, and the connection between conflict and hunger. So, three years ago, the World Food Programme was awarded the Nobel Peace Prize. It is his work, helping millions of people avoid starvation that brought him well-deserved honor and recognition, and by extension to this great State of South Carolina. That is why the S.C. General Assembly and the people of South Carolina are most grateful to recognize his service to the World Food Programme. At this time, it gives me great honor to introduce and present to you, a dear friend, former colleague of this General Assembly, and our former Governor David M. Beasley.

Thank you. Mr. President, Mr. Speaker, Colleagues, and brothers and sisters, I mean I would really rather be down there because I feel like we are family. This is where I got my political start from, and of course you don't ever get to places like this without incredible family. Before I get started, many of you remember my wife, Mary Wood. Everybody loves Mary Wood, and she looks just as young today as she did when I left being Governor in 1998. And so, Mary Wood and our daughter, Mary Hunter, as she was just a few years old, she is now practicing law in Greenville. Her husband, Tommy Tomlinson and then Ross, he is now a police officer in Florence, S.C. Other family members and friends that are here, we are so grateful to be here with you. Mary Wood, Mary Hunter, Tommy, and Ross stand up.

I was thinking about the first time that I walked on the floor of this House of Representatives. You know when you get elected, it is such a great honor. But when you walk on the floor, there is so much pride. You remember that first day. And I remember my dad had served in the House of Representatives, but I was like three-, four-, five-years old, so I did not remember much at all. And my dad had told me to respect the elders that are in that institution, but there is a particular man, called "Speaker Sol Blatt". He was like a legend. Stories had it that he was the longest, continuously elected official in the World at the time. I don't know, but he was a legend. And he said, "Whatever you do, get to know him because he can teach you the ropes." So, I'm so excited. I'm so fired up. I'm a 21-year-old college student, junior at Clemson University, getting elected. And you can image the articles are written about the young versus the old. I was loving it. Of course, the old guard was like "Who is this little whippersnapper? You know we are going to teach him a lesson." He says, "Make sure you get to know Speaker Blatt." So, here I am walking through those doors, the first antechamber doors. And I am thinking wow they are opening for me. And then the next doors, the Chamber doors open, and guess who is standing right there, Speaker Sol Blatt. And I am thinking this is destiny, God had opened up these doors for me and there is Speaker Blatt. So, I go to put my hand to speak to him and he says, "Son go and get me a cup of coffee." I am a 21-year-old, he thought I was a Page. So, I've got two choices, right there. One, I can say, "you know who I am" or "you like it black, sugar, cream?" So, the whole House, all the Pages, everyone is frozen in time. He says black. So, I turn and everyone is like...I don't even know where the coffee machine is. And I look and I page points to the coffee room. So, I go and get the coffee and come back and hand it to him. So, if I was a Page, I would then go off. But since I was not a Page, but I was a Member of the House. He did not know that. And so, he's looking at me like son why are you still standing here. And I say, "Mr. Speaker I am David Beasley." And he says, "Son, I am so sorry!" It is not natural to humble yourself sometimes, particularly, in political office, but when we do humble ourselves and show a servants' heart, amazing things happen. He took me under his arms, his wings, and taught me the ropes. Everything that I have learned, as Abraham Lincoln said when he was getting on that train, that it is from this place, these people, that I owe everything. These are values, the South Carolina values, that I have taken with me. The fights that we have had on these floors, the love, the compassion, the issues that I took with me all around the World. And I can't thank you enough. Because that spirit is here.

WEDNESDAY, MAY 3, 2023

When I got the phone call about taking this role, my first response was that I was not looking for a job and I said, "No." But it was interesting that two nights before my wife had said that the World is in trouble and needs leaders like you, don't say No without praying about whatever it is. And so, this friend had called me about taking this role and I immediately said, "No." And I remembered what my wife had said, and I said, "let me call a friend of mine." And I called a prayer partner of mine, a Democrat, former Congressman named Tony Hall from Ohio. He had been the Ambassador to the World Food Programme. I said, "Tony to tell me about the World Food Programme." He said, "oh my God, if there is ever God's work on the earth." I said, "the United Nations World Food Programme," and he laughed. He said, "no it is an incredible program." I wasn't looking for a job. I was doing peace work, quietly around the World, and a group of Republican and Democrat Senators in Washington said you've got to take this role. You are the only one that can reverse the Trump Administration's thinking about zeroing out strategic international aid. Then I said, "let me work on that, I don't want a job." Well anyways, six years later...

WEDNESDAY, MAY 3, 2023

So, when I took the role, there were only 80 million people. And I want to give you a sense of the reality of what we are facing globally right now. There were 80 million people we would save out of the planet population, at that time of 7.6 billion. Now it is about 8 billion. There were 80 million people that were marching to starvation, not know where that next meal was coming from. So, I am thinking, wow. Being a former Governor, we set goals and objectives, and we execute. I was thinking that I could put the World Food Programme out of business, because we no longer need it because we have ended severe food insecurities around the World. Little did I know what was storm, upon storm that was coming, globally. Literally, within two years, the number went from 80 million to 135 million and so the simple question, would be, why did that happen? And the simple answer was man made conflict and climate shocks. Now, this is before COVID.

COVID comes along, economic devastation, supply chain disruption all over the World and the number goes from 135 million to 276 million people, literally, marching to starvation, not knowing where the next meal is coming from. This is before Ukraine, Afghanistan, and Ethiopia. Afghanistan and Ethiopia in itself problematic, but then comes the breadbasket of the World, Ukraine, a Nation that grows enough food to feed 400 million people. All of sudden the longest bread lines in the World. The number went from 276 million people to 350 million people, marching to starvation. And within that, 45 nations and 45 million people on famines door. If you want to know which nations will have famines, starvation, destabilization of the nations, political unrest because of hunger and starvation, as well as mass migration, you can start with those 45 nations. Compounded by fuel costs, the war that has gone on, disrupting supply chains, fertilizers, and fuels. As you well know, right here in South Carolina, people are struggling to make ends meet. As the price of bread, milk, protein, and beef is going up and up. And I can only tell you that it is not going to get any better any time soon. It's not like we are building better furniture at the World Food Programme. If we don't raise the money, we can't buy a better couch. We're talking about people dying. These aren't just numbers, these are people with real names, these are children, little boys and little girls. Eighty percent of our operation is in war zones and areas of conflict. This is where I was going, day in and day out, over approximately 1,000 flights in six years. Raising the awareness of the World. And I remember that distinct day that I was in Niger. And I was in intense negotiations with the military and the President, because we had ISIS and Al Qaeda ten or fifteen miles to the North and to the South. And if we don't get the access we need, they block the access and use food as a weapon of war, by depriving access. Then they bring in food and recruit. I've had more mothers tell me my son or husband did not want to join ISIS or Al Qaeda, but we hadn't feed out little girl in two weeks. Mr. Beasley what were we supposed to do? It's not like they could jump in a car and drive from Greenville to Spartanburg. And so, I was just demanding that we get the protection and security we needed to reach these people, so they weren't vulnerable where there's a climate shock or extremist group. And while I am sitting there pounding someone busts through the room and I'm looking like what are you doing busting into this room. That is what I'm thinking. They say, "Nobel Peace Prize." And I am like, oh yeah, oh yeah. Who won it? You did, we did. I mean what a day! You don't get that phone call often at all. Well, when you get a phone call like that, who are you going to call first? Your wife. Well, Mary Wood that day, happened to be back in the United States. A six-to-seven-hour difference. I did not know this, but she had had a dream the night before that I was killed in Niger. So, I don't know this, but you know when you are a dad or mom and you get a phone call in the middle of the night you know it is not good. It is either someone has gotten locked up or someone has gotten killed. So, she answers the phone, and of course, I am ready to just explode with such emotion, that I can't say anything. I'm so emotional, so choked up. So, she is hearing her husband choked up on the phone. And having the dream that I had been killed in Niger, so she is thinking oh my God he is dying on the phone right there. And finally, I was able to say in about fifteen seconds, Nobel Peace Prize. What a Day!

WEDNESDAY, MAY 3, 2023

That prize gave us the opportunity to take the awareness around the World. I can assure you that if it were not for our friends, our Democrats and Republicans friends in the US House and US Senate, I called it the miracle on Pennsylvania Avenue, when they don't agree on anything, it seems at all. Nothing. When I would go to Washington, they would lay aside their differences, come together, and our appropriations from the United States government, from the American people, went from 1.9 billion, and instead of down, under the Trump administration, of course, I was nominated by the Trump Administration, then nominated by the Biden Administration. The incredible spirit that food, bringing people together, the miracle on Pennsylvania Ave., seeing both ends of Pennsylvania Ave., seeing Republicans and Democrats, coming together. An incredible thing. And our funding from the United States went from 1.9 billion to last year 7.4 billion dollars. Yes, we raised 55 billion dollars in six years. Last year, we raised 39.4 million dollars, per day, seven days a week. Where I sit on a plane, how fast I moved into the meetings, what I do, where I go, how I do it, you have to say “no” to a lot of friends you want to sit and chit chat with, because lives are at stake. No, we did not put the World Food Programme out of business. But, what we did, was by the funds that we raised, the awareness that took place, we kept 100’s of millions. We fed 160 million people last year, alone. Not one time, that’s day in and day out, all year long, depending on the season and place. We averted famine, starvation, mass migration, destabilization of nations. The cost of that, oh my gosh. I can give you anecdotal experiential evidence. It would be like you have leaking water lines in the ceiling. You say I don’t have 100 dollars to fix the leak. Then after about a month later, you have to replace all the furniture, all the carpet, the flooring. And guess what? When you feed 160 million people, you survey them all the time. I’m talking to them all the time. None of them want to leave home. They don’t want to leave home. But if they have no hope, have no food, have no peace, they will do what any dad or mom will do. I can tell you that worldwide we are all the same. Each and every one of us, children of God. I remember, and I don’t know how many of you saw this particular story by Scott Pelley on 60 Minutes. It was a brutal story. I was fighting, pretty tough, on the coalition to have a blockade, not to get into the details of that, but Scott Pelley was so moved by the interview of what the World Food Programme, what we were doing on the ground, in harms way, trying to save the lives of people, where 90 percent of their food came from the outside. And Scott, at the end we are de-micing and he says you’ve got the greatest job in the World, saving the lives of millions of people. And I said, “Scott I do, I really do, but I am going to say something to you that you have not thought of, and it is going to bother you.” And he looked at me like what could that be. And I said Scott, “I don’t go to bed at night thinking about the children that I have saved. I go to bed at night heartbroken over the children that I could not reach.” And I said, “when we don’t have enough money, we have to choose which children eat and don’t eat, which children live and which children die. How would you like that job, Scott?” And he looked at me, like I had not thought of it like that. Then I said, “well we don’t have a choice every day, and you know what really upsets me? When there are 430 trillion dollars of wealth on planet Earth, there should not be a single child on the face of this planet that goes to bed hungry, much less dies. Nowhere.”

And whether you believe that that should happen through government or not, we should all agree that it should not happen. No matter your walk in life. And so, the biggest question that I would get, and it is the most troubling question, is how could I stay positive, amidst all the suffering, devastation, and death. As you can imagine, probably no one on the planet has seen as much devastation and suffering as me and my teams. But when you are out there, it could be in a torn rubble village in Syria or Ukraine or Chad or Sudan, and you will see a little child come from behind that rubble, it is a spark of life. That little boy, that little girl, made in the image of God, my brother, my sister, my child, that I'm not going to give up hope on that child. That's the South Carolina motto, "While I breathe, I hope." That's the spirit that gives me hope. This spirit in humanity, that dwells within the State of South Carolina, that I took with me, so you honor me, but you honor that which we stand for today. I'm just a messenger.

WEDNESDAY, MAY 3, 2023

But friends around the World are worried about America. We seem to be getting so divided. Two hundred years ago, 95 percent of the people on the planet were in extreme poverty. Ninety to ninety-five percent. Today less than 10 percent. So, what we don't want to do is tear down the systems and programs that have allowed us to reach the 90 percent, but we can't be happy and content there. We still have got 10 percent that we are not reaching around the World and including America. So, we must strive with all our heart and mind, and so to reach that 10 percent and let them experience, the hope, the dreams that we so believe in. Because those people are our brothers and sisters, made in the image of God. When Jesus said, "When I was hungry and you did not feed me, when I was thirsty you did not give me drink, and when I was in prison you did not visit me, and when I was without clothes and sick." Well, they said Lord, when were you like that and we did not visit you. And he said that when we didn't do it to the least of these. You see the least of these is the image of God. If you want to love God, love God's creation. Those little boys and those little girls out there are the image of God. And that's the inspiration that I and you will not give up on any of these children around the World, including the children of South Carolina. We may have a different path to get there. And this is what I would challenge you...my best friends...on the floor of this House of Representatives, where sometimes my biggest enemies were at that podium. We would just fight it out, but we would vote, and we would walk off that floor, arm-in-arm, hand-in-hand, go have dinner and laugh, be brothers and sisters and friends, respecting our differences. Imagine that spirit. I used to tell my friends in the United States Senate, could you imagine, if Schumer and Mitch McConnell, on a Friday afternoon said you know we go to the American people and hold a press conference together and say you know we're taking up abortion next week in the Senate. Chuck is not going to change my view and I am not going to change Chuck's views; we differ but we love each other and respect this Institution. And we are going to deliberate next week on those controversial issues, but we love each other and respect each other and are not going to say much of anything that is going to change the American people or the people of South Carolina on that issue. But what would be the takeaway from that press conference? The beauty of the love of one another, in spite of the incredible difference on an issue. Hope, love...all the darkness in the world cannot put the out the light of one little match. And I believe that South Carolina, is that shining city on a hill, that South Carolina can be that light that the rest of the Nation needs at a time like this. That we can have our differences, but respect and love each other.

WEDNESDAY, MAY 3, 2023

I remember, so distinctly, of course, it was one of the Washington columnists that said after my election, that I was one of the last living casualties of the Civil War, with the flag and the whole nine yards. I had to think about that for a second. And the flag issue came up again. In 2015, you remember what happened in Charleston at Emmanuel A.M.E. A good friend of ours, a brother of ours, that served in this Body. And I remember talking with Clemente who came to me because he knew that I had been elected when I was 21 years of age, and he wanted some advice and guidance. But brutally shot by this racist kid. You remember that story. You remember what happened three days later, a few days later, a few weeks later. The family forgave that young man. I had friends of mine from all over the World, from Atheists, to Catholics, to Protestants, to Muslim, the Hindus calling me and said, wow. Amidst all that darkness, the beauty of pure unconditional love impacted them so amazingly. But what you don't remember was what happened a month or two months earlier. That was June of 2015 and in April of 2015, a man was shot in the back in the North Charleston area. You remember the story. But what you don't remember though is that CNN, Cooper Anderson was doing an interview with Jackie Scott, the mother. And let me paraphrase, but he was kind of going in at her to say racism, racism and she said I know that I should be bitter, I know I should be full of rage, but God is a God of forgiveness. A God of love and I forgive that man. I forgive you. That went viral in Charleston, South Carolina. Seeds were planted in the hearts of people in Charleston, South Carolina because of Jackie Scott, just pure simple unconditional love, with no motivation, no tweetering, no social media, just the simplicity of a loving God and forgiving a brutal situation. So that only two months later, who would know, an absolute catastrophe of Dylann Roof walking into a church. And you saw the power of love and forgiveness.

Our Nation, we need this love. It is this spirit that resonates in South Carolina. It's this spirit that our Nation needs again. It is up to me and you to model that spirit. So, I could go on and on but let me assure you that things are going to get worse around the world. Hunger will get worse. But I have hope. I believe in You, my friends, my brothers, my sisters, and I love South Carolina. I have seen the World, the good, the bad, and the ugly. And I still believe in this Nation, but we are moving in the wrong direction. But we can change that course, with the heart and spirit that we have in this room. Our State, let's go forward. With that motto that clearly says, "While I breathe, I hope." Within that we will achieve the greatest commandment known to mankind, "Love your Neighbor." Blessings to all.

Let us pray. Almighty God, help us to see with eyes of faith that You are with us, when we are at home and when we are away during our duty in the House of Representatives. Grant us Your blessings as we go through the items before the people. Look in favor upon our World, Nation, President, State, Governor, Speaker, Staff, and all who give of their efforts in this vineyard. Bless and keep our men and women who care for us and keep us safe. Lord, in Your mercy, hear our prayers. Amen.

POINT OF ORDER

Rep. WILLIAMS raised the Point of Order that Amendment No. 1 to S. 330 was not germane.

Rep. W. NEWTON spoke against the Point of Order. Rep. W. Newton stated that in March the House passed H. 3503, a bill that had the identical language as Amendment No. 1, and pursuant to House Rule 4.7.B “[w]hen reporting a Senate bill as favorable, the committee may include in its report an amendment identical to the final version of any House bill that has been referred to that committee and passed by the House during the current two-year session. If the amendment is identical to a previously passed House bill, the amendment must be considered germane to the bill.”

The SPEAKER stated that Amendment No. 1 was identical to H. 3503, as previously passed by the House, and was germane to S. 330 pursuant to the provisions of House Rule 4.7.B. He overruled the Point of Order.

The amendment was then adopted.

Let us pray. Blessings and glory and might be on each of us as we end the week and give thanks for all that has been done. Keep each in Your loving care, especially as we go through the weekend. Grant each one Your blessings. Holy God, watch our going out and our coming in each and every day. We thank You for Your protection. Feed us with Your gifts. Bless and keep our World, Nation, President, State, Governor, Speaker, Staff, and all who give of their efforts in this vineyard. Lord, in Your mercy, hear our prayers. Amen.

Our thought for today is from Psalm 23:13: "The Lord is my shepherd; I shall not want. He makes me lie down in green pastures; he leads me beside still waters; he restores my soul."

Let us pray. Loving God, You who care for all our needs, help us to trust in Your goodness and mercy all the days of our lives. You come to us so that we have life and have it abundantly. We give You thanks for sending us first responders and defenders of freedom. Guide us this day to do Your will. May Your blessings be upon us as You send us to live in the world You have made. Bless and keep our World, Nation, President, State, Governor, Speaker, Staff, and all who labor in this vineyard. Lord, in Your mercy, hear our prayers. Amen.

/(SDE-EIA: High Intensity Tutoring) The Department of Education is authorized to provide funds to school districts and community partners in the current fiscal year to pilot academic support programs providing high-dosage, low-ratio tutoring to students in mathematics and reading by compensated tutors.

The Department of Education should prioritize available funding for academic support program applications that include LEA or local funding matches, LEA capacity for successful program implementation, or a large proportion of students needing priority placement within an academic support program.

The Department of Education may collaborate with community partners to implement and conduct academic support programs. Academic support program partners shall comply with personnel criminal history checks and any applicable building safety standards.

At a minimum, eligible academic support programs shall include tutoring sessions totaling one and a half hours per week. Tutoring sessions should be scheduled at least twice weekly for forty-five minutes. /(SDE-EIA: Foundational Literacy Skill Training) Beginning with the current fiscal year, the Department of Education shall provide training in foundational literacy skills to public school educators working with students in kindergarten through grade three, pending the availability of funding and space. The Department of Education shall deliver professional development that has demonstrated success in establishing deep knowledge of evidence-based foundational literacy skills grounded in the science of reading and promoting student reading achievement.

Each school district shall participate in the implementation of this foundational literacy skills training. The department and school districts shall create an implementation plan to include educator cohorts to begin in the fall and spring of the 2023-24 school year, with a goal of state-wide implementation for every educator working with students in kindergarten through grade three certified in early childhood, elementary, and special education. Elementary administrators should also be included in the foundational literacy skills training.

Selected educators shall participate in foundational literacy skills training provided and paid for by the Department of Education. Successful completion of this training shall satisfy the requirements of the literacy teacher endorsement. Educators who successfully complete the training, as determined by the department, shall receive a monetary stipend.

The Department of Education shall identify reliable and valid universal reading screeners as potential replacements for the readiness assessment required under Section 59-155-150. The identified screeners may be selected and used by school districts to screen and monitor kindergarten through second grade student progress in foundational literacy skills, and to identify or predict those who may be at risk for poor reading outcomes. Each identified universal reading screener must:

(1) provide screening and diagnostic capabilities for monitoring student progress in reading;

(2) measure, at a minimum, phonological awareness, phonemic awareness, phonics, fluency, vocabulary, and comprehension; and

(3) identify students with a reading deficiency, including identifying students with characteristics of dyslexia.

TUESDAY, MAY 9, 2023

In its annual Reading Proficiency Plan, each district shall:

(1) document how the reading and writing curriculum, instruction, and assessment for all PK-5 students are aligned with the science of reading, structured literacy, and foundational skills. PK-5 textbooks or instructional materials that employ the three-cueing system model of reading, visual memory as the primary basis for teaching word recognition, or the three-cueing system model of reading based on meaning, structure and syntax, and visual, which is also known as "MSV", shall not be used in reading instruction;

(2) document the number of first and second grade students who are projected to score "Does Not Meet" on the statewide summative reading assessment;

(3) document how scientifically-based supplemental interventions are provided to struggling readers who fail to demonstrate grade-level proficiency as demonstrated by a score of "Meets or Exceeds Expectations"; and

(4) explain how the district will provide teacher training in the science of reading, structured literacy, and foundational literacy skills.

As used in this provision:

(1) "Foundational literacy skills" means phonological awareness, phonemic awareness, phonics, fluency, vocabulary, and reading comprehension. This definition of foundational literacy skills specifically excludes the "Three-cueing system", which is any model of teaching students to read based on meaning, structure and syntax, and visual cues, which may also be known as "MSV".

(2) "Science of Reading" means the body of research that identifies evidence-based approaches of explicitly and systematically teaching students to read, including foundational literacy skills that enable students to develop reading skills required to meet state standards in literacy.

(3) "Structured Literacy" means an evidence-based approach to teaching oral and written language aligned to the science of reading founded on the science of how children learn to read and characterized by explicit, systematic, cumulative, and diagnostic instruction in phonology, sound-symbol association, syllable instruction, morphology, syntax, and semantics./

(2) provide an appropriate evaluation prior to diagnosing and/or treating the patient, which need not be done in person if the licensee considers that he is able to accurately diagnose and treat the patient in conformity with the applicable standard of care via telehealth; provided that evaluations in which a licensee is at a distant site, but a practitioner who is acting within his scope is able to provide various physical findings the licensee needs to complete an adequate assessment, is permitted;

(3) ensure the availability of appropriate follow-up care;

(4) verify the identity and location of the patient and inform the patient of the licensee's name, location, and professional credentials;

(5) maintain the confidentiality of a patient's records and disclose the records to the patient consistent with state and federal law; provided, that licensees practicing telemedicine must be held to the same standards of professionalism concerning medical records transfer and communication with the primary care provider and medical home as licensees practicing via traditional means;

the Ryan Haight Act, within a practice setting fully compliant with this provision, and subject to the following limitations:

(a) at each encounter, threshold information necessary to make an accurate diagnosis must be obtained in a medical history interview conducted by the prescribing licensee;

(b) Schedule II-narcotic and Schedule III-narcotic prescriptions are not permitted except in the following instances:

(i) when the practice of telemedicine is being conducted while the patient is physically located in a hospital and being treated by a practitioner acting in the usual course of professional practice;

(ii) those Schedule II and Schedule III medications used specifically for patients actively enrolled in a Medication-Assisted Treatment (MAT) program with a provider who has an established physician-patient relationship when buprenorphine is being prescribed as a medication for opioid use disorder;

(iii) patients enrolled in palliative care or hospice; or

(iv) any other programs specifically authorized by the board;

and

(c) prescribing abortion-inducing drugs is not permitted. "Abortion-inducing drug" means a medicine, drug, or any other substance prescribed or dispensed with the intent of terminating the clinically diagnosable pregnancy of a woman, with knowledge that the termination will, with reasonable likelihood, cause the death of the unborn child. This includes off-label use of drugs known to have abortion-inducing properties that are prescribed specifically with the intent of causing an abortion, such as misoprostol (Cytotec) and methotrexate. This definition does not apply to drugs that may be known to cause an abortion, but which are prescribed for other medical indications including, but not limited to, chemotherapeutic agents or diagnostic drugs. Use of such drugs to induce abortion is also known as "medical", "drug-induced", or "chemical abortion"; and

(8) be prohibited from establishing a physician-patient relationship pursuant to Section 40-47-113(B) for the purpose of prescribing medication when an in-person physical examination is necessary for diagnosis./

For purposes of this subsection the term "property" includes qualifying real property and, ~~where the conditions of subsection (D) are met,~~ qualifying personal property.

(b) for leased real property the credit must be claimed in the taxable year in which the first direct lease costs are incurred.

(2) The ~~corporation taxpayer~~ must meet the staffing requirements of ~~subsections subsection (B)(2) and, if applicable, (D)(2),~~ subsection (B)(2), by the end of the second taxable year following the last taxable year for which the credit is claimed. The ~~corporation taxpayer~~ must have documented plans to meet the initial staffing requirements at the time the credit is claimed. If the ~~corporation taxpayer~~ fails to meet the staffing requirements within the time required by this subsection, the ~~corporation taxpayer~~ must increase its tax liability for the current taxable year by an amount equal to the amount of credit, or any portion of the credit for which the ~~corporation taxpayer~~ would not qualify, which was used to reduce tax in the earlier years.

(F) The credit provided in this section is nonrefundable, but an unused credit may be carried forward for ten years. ~~An unused credit may be carried forward fifteen years if the criteria set forth in subsection (D)(2) are met.~~ In addition, a taxpayer may assign its rights to the unused credit to a succeeding taxpayer if the taxpayer transfers all or substantially all of the assets of the taxpayer or all or substantially all of the assets of a trade, business, or operating division of a taxpayer to the succeeding taxpayer, and the succeeding taxpayer maintains the ~~corporate headquarters facility of the taxpayer~~. No credit may be claimed for a taxable year during which the taxpayer or succeeding taxpayer fails to meet the qualifying employment requirements provided in this section and the carry forward period is not extended for any year in which the credit may not be claimed for failure to meet the employment requirements. The credit may be claimed for a taxable year in the unextended carry forward period if the taxpayer or succeeding taxpayer requalifies for the credit by meeting the employment requirements during that taxable year.

(G) If a fee-in-lieu arrangement under Section 4-29-67 is entered into with respect to all or part of property involving a ~~corporate~~ headquarters, and the ~~corporation-taxpayer~~ claiming the credit provided under this section is treated as the owner of the property for federal income tax purposes, then the ~~corporation-taxpayer~~ must be treated as the owner of the property for purposes of the credit provided by this section.

(H) To the extent that this credit applies to the cost of certain property, the basis of the property for South Carolina income tax purposes must be reduced by the amount of the credit claimed with respect to the property. This basis reduction does not reduce the basis or limit or disallow any depreciation allowable under the law of this State for other than income tax purposes, even if the depreciation is based upon or otherwise relates to income tax depreciation including, without limitation, basis or depreciation which is allowable under this title for property tax purposes. If the ~~corporation-taxpayer~~ fails to meet the staffing requirements of subsection ~~(E)~~(B)(2), the ~~corporation-taxpayer~~ may increase the basis of the property by the amount of the original basis reduction with regard to that property in the year in which the credit is recaptured.

(I) The amount of a credit allowed under this section must be reduced by the amount of any past-due debt owed this State by the taxpayer.

POINT OF ORDER

Rep. FELDER raised the Point of Order under Rule 9.3 that Amendment No. 2 was not germane to S. 764.

Rep. KING argued contra.

The SPEAKER stated that he had to look at the substantial effect of both the bill and the amendment. In this case the bill concerned redistricting of school board members of one school district, but the proposed amendment concerned redistricting of several other school districts. He stated that the amendment's effect went beyond the scope of the bill, and he sustained the Point of Order.

WEDNESDAY, MAY 10, 2023

Rep. KING proposed the following Amendment No. 3 to S. 764 (LC-764.HDB0007H), which was tabled:

The House assembled at 10:00 a.m.

Deliberations were opened with prayer by Rev. Charles E. Seastrunk, Jr., as follows:

Our thought for today is from Psalm 102:18: "Let this be recorded for a generation to come, so that a people yet unborn may praise the Lord. Enter his gates with thanksgiving and his courts with praise. Give thanks to him, bless his name."

Let us pray. Blessings and glory and honor be with You, our Lord as we gather for another day of doing the work for the people of South Carolina. Look in favor on our first responders and defenders of freedom. Guide each of these Representatives to do what is expected. Guard and keep our World, Nation, President, State, Governor, Speaker, Staff, and all who give of their time and effort for this great cause. Bless our men and women who suffer and sacrifice for our freedom. Heal the wounds, those seen and those hidden, of our brave warriors. Lord, in Your mercy, hear our prayers. Amen.

WHEREAS, in accordance with section 1-1-110 of the South Carolina Code of Laws, as amended, the Comptroller General is an officer of the “executive department of this State”; and

The following Bill was taken up, cloture having been ordered:

S. 474 -- Senators Grooms, Massey, Kimbrell and Adams: A BILL TO AMEND ARTICLE 6, CHAPTER 41, TITLE 44 OF THE SOUTH CAROLINA CODE OF LAWS, RELATING TO THE FETAL HEARTBEAT AND PROTECTION FROM ABORTION ACT, SO AS TO PROVIDE THAT ABORTIONS MAY NOT BE PERFORMED IN THIS STATE AFTER A FETAL HEARTBEAT HAS BEEN DETECTED EXCEPT IN CASES OF RAPE OR INCEST DURING THE FIRST TWELVE WEEKS OF PREGNANCY, IN MEDICAL EMERGENCIES, OR IN LIGHT OF A FATAL FETAL ANOMALY; TO DEFINE NECESSARY TERMS; TO REPEAL SECTION 2 OF ACT 1 OF 2021; TO REPEAL SECTIONS 44-41-10 AND 44-41-20 OF THE S.C. CODE; AND TO REPEAL ARTICLE 5, CHAPTER 41, TITLE 44 OF THE S.C. CODE SUBJECT TO CERTAIN CONDITIONS.

TUESDAY, MAY 16, 2023

The Committee on Judiciary proposed the following Amendment No. 1 to S. 474 (LC-474.VR1073H), which was adopted:

Amend the bill, by striking all after the enacting words and inserting:

SECTION 1. The General Assembly hereby finds all of the following:

(1) A fetal heartbeat is a key medical predictor that an unborn child will reach live birth.

(2) Cardiac activity begins at a biologically identifiable moment in time, normally when the fetal heart is formed in the gestational sac.

(3) The State of South Carolina has a compelling interest from the outset of a woman's pregnancy in protecting the health of the woman and the life of the unborn child.

SECTION 2. Article 6, Chapter 41, Title 44 of the S.C. Code is amended to read:

Article 6

Fetal Heartbeat and Protection from Abortion

Section 44-41-610. ~~As used in this article:~~

~~—(1) “Conception” means fertilization.~~

~~—(2) “Contraceptive” means a drug, device, or chemical that prevents conception.~~

~~—(3) “Fetal heartbeat” means cardiac activity, or the steady and repetitive rhythmic contraction of the fetal heart, within the gestational sac.~~

~~—(4) “Gestational age” means the age of an unborn human individual as calculated from the first day of the last menstrual period of a pregnant woman.~~

~~—(5) “Gestational sac” means the structure that comprises the extraembryonic membranes that envelop the human fetus and that is typically visible by ultrasound after the fourth week of pregnancy.~~

~~—(6) “Human fetus” or “unborn child” each means an individual organism of the species homo sapiens from fertilization until live birth.~~

~~—(7) “Intrauterine pregnancy” means a pregnancy in which a human fetus is attached to the placenta within the uterus of a pregnant woman.~~

~~—(8) “Medical emergency” means a condition that, by any reasonable medical judgment, so complicates the medical condition of a pregnant woman that it necessitates the immediate abortion of her pregnancy to avert her death without first determining whether there is a detectable fetal heartbeat or for which the delay necessary to determine whether there is a detectable fetal heartbeat will create serious risk of a substantial and irreversible physical impairment of a major bodily function, not including psychological or emotional conditions. A condition must not~~ be considered a medical emergency if based on a claim or diagnosis that a woman will engage in conduct that she intends to result in her death or in a substantial and irreversible physical impairment of a major bodily function.

—(9) “Physician” means any person licensed to practice medicine and surgery, or osteopathic medicine and surgery, in this State.

—(10) “Reasonable medical judgment” means a medical judgment that would be made by a reasonably prudent physician who is knowledgeable about the case and the treatment possibilities with respect to the medical conditions involved.

—(11) “Spontaneous miscarriage” means the natural or accidental termination of a pregnancy and the expulsion of the human fetus, typically caused by genetic defects in the human fetus or physical abnormalities in the pregnant woman. As used in this article:

(1) “Abortion” means the act of using or prescribing any instrument, medicine, drug, or any other substance, device, or means with the intent to terminate the clinically diagnosable pregnancy of a woman with knowledge that the termination by those means will, with reasonable likelihood, cause the death of the unborn child. Such use, prescription, or means is not an abortion if done with the intent to save the life or preserve the health of the unborn child, or to remove a dead unborn child.

(2) “Clinically diagnosable pregnancy” means the point in time when it is possible to determine that a woman is pregnant due to the detectible presence of human chorionic gonadotropin (hCG).

(3) “Conception” means fertilization of an ovum by sperm.

(4) “Contraceptive” means a drug, device, or chemical that prevents ovulation, conception, or the implantation of a fertilized ovum in a woman’s uterine wall after conception.

(5) “Fatal fetal anomaly” means that, in reasonable medical judgment, the unborn child has a profound and irremediable congenital or chromosomal anomaly that, with or without the provision of life-preserving treatment, would be incompatible with sustaining life after birth.

(6) “Fetal heartbeat” means cardiac activity, or the steady and repetitive rhythmic contraction of the fetal heart, within the gestational sac.

(7) “Gestational age” means the age of an unborn child as calculated from the first day of the last menstrual period of a pregnant woman.

(8) “Gestational sac” means the structure that comprises the extraembryonic membranes that envelop the unborn child and that is typically visible by ultrasound after the fourth week of pregnancy.

(9) “Medical emergency” means in reasonable medical judgment, a condition exists that has complicated the pregnant woman’s medical condition and necessitates an abortion to prevent death or serious risk of a substantial and irreversible physical impairment of a major bodily function, not including psychological or emotional conditions. A condition must not be considered a medical emergency if based on a claim or diagnosis that a woman will engage in conduct that she intends to result in her death or in a substantial and irreversible physical impairment of a major bodily function.

(10) “Physician” means a person licensed to practice medicine in this State.

(11) “Pregnant” means the human biological female reproductive condition of having a living unborn child within her body, whether or not she has reached the age of majority.

(12) “Rape” has the same meaning as criminal sexual conduct, regardless of the degree.

(13) “Reasonable medical judgment” means a medical judgment that would be made by a reasonably prudent physician who is knowledgeable about the case and the treatment possibilities with respect to the medical conditions involved.

(14) “Unborn child” means an individual organism of the species homo sapiens from conception until live birth.

~~Section 44-41-620. (A) A court judgment or order suspending enforcement of any provision of this chapter is not to be regarded as tantamount to repeal of that provision.~~

~~—(B) If the United States Supreme Court issues a decision overruling Roe v. Wade, 410 U.S. 113 (1973), any other court issues an order or judgment restoring, expanding, or clarifying the authority of states to prohibit or regulate abortion entirely or in part, or an amendment is ratified to the Constitution of the United States restoring, expanding, or clarifying the authority of states to prohibit or regulate abortion entirely or in part, then the Attorney General may apply to the pertinent state or federal court for either or both of the following:~~

~~—(1) a declaration that any one or more of the statutory provisions specified in subsection (A) are constitutional; or~~

~~—(2) a judgment or order lifting an injunction against the enforcement of any one or more of the statutory provisions specified in subsection (A).~~

~~—(C) If the Attorney General fails to apply for relief pursuant to subsection (B) within a thirty day period after an event described in that~~

~~subsection occurs, then any solicitor may apply to the appropriate state or federal court for such relief. An abortion may not be performed or induced without the voluntary and informed written consent of the pregnant woman or, in the case of incapacity to consent, the voluntary and informed written consent of her court-appointed guardian, and without compliance with the provisions of Section 44-41-330(A).~~

Section 44-41-630. (A) An abortion provider who is to perform or induce an abortion, a certified technician, or another agent of the abortion provider who is competent in ultrasonography shall:

(1) perform an obstetric ultrasound on the pregnant woman, using whichever method the physician and pregnant woman agree is best under the circumstances;

(2) during the performance of the ultrasound, display the ultrasound images so that the pregnant woman may view the images; and

(3) record a written medical description of the ultrasound images of the unborn child's fetal heartbeat, if present and viewable.

(B) Except as provided in Section 44-41-640, Section 44-41-650, and Section 44-41-660, no person shall perform or induce an abortion on a pregnant woman with the specific intent of causing or abetting an abortion if the unborn child's fetal heartbeat has been detected in accordance with Section 44-41-330(A). A person who violates this subsection is guilty of a felony and, upon conviction, must be fined ten thousand dollars, imprisoned for not more than two years, or both.

~~Section 44-41-640. If a pregnancy is at least eight weeks after fertilization, then the abortion provider who is to perform or induce an abortion, or an agent of the abortion provider, shall tell the woman that it may be possible to make the embryonic or fetal heartbeat of the unborn child audible for the pregnant woman to hear and shall ask the woman if she would like to hear the heartbeat. If the woman would like to hear the heartbeat, then the abortion provider shall, using whichever method the physician and patient agree is best under the circumstances, make the fetal heartbeat of the unborn child audible for the pregnant woman to hear.~~(A) It is not a violation of Section 44-41-630 if an abortion is performed or induced on a pregnant woman due to a medical emergency or is performed to prevent the death of the pregnant woman or to prevent the serious risk of a substantial and irreversible impairment of a major bodily function, not including psychological or emotional conditions, of the pregnant woman.

(B)(1) Section 44-41-630 does not apply to a physician who performs or induces an abortion if the physician determines according to standard medical practice that a medical emergency exists or is performed to prevent the death of the pregnant woman or to prevent the serious risk of a substantial or irreversible impairment of a major bodily function, not including psychological or emotional conditions, that prevents compliance with the section.

(2) A physician who performs or induces an abortion on a pregnant woman based on the exception in item (1) shall make written notations in the pregnant woman's medical records of the following:

(a) the physician's belief that a medical emergency necessitating the abortion existed;

(b) the medical condition of the pregnant woman that assertedly prevented compliance with Section 44-41-630; and

(c) the medical rationale to support the physician's or person's conclusion that the pregnant woman's medical condition necessitated the immediate abortion of her pregnancy to avert her death and a medical emergency necessitating the abortion existed.

(3) A physician performing a medical procedure pursuant to item (1) shall make reasonable medical efforts under the circumstances to preserve the life of the pregnant woman's unborn child, to the extent that it does not risk the death of the pregnant woman or the serious risk of a substantial and irreversible physical impairment of a major bodily function of the pregnant woman, not including psychological or emotional conditions and in a manner consistent with reasonable medical practices. A medical procedure shall not be considered necessary if it is performed based upon a claim or diagnosis that the woman will engage in conduct that she intends to result in her death or in a substantial physical impairment of a major bodily function.

(4)(a) For at least seven years from the date the notations are made in the pregnant woman's medical records, the physician owner of the pregnant woman's medical records shall maintain a record of the notations in his own records a copy of the notations.

(b) A person, if he is the owner of the pregnant woman's medical records, who violates this subsection is guilty of a felony and must be fined up to ten thousand dollars, imprisoned for not more than two years, or both.

(c) An entity with ownership of the pregnant woman's medical records that violates item (3) must be fined up to fifty thousand dollars.

(C)(1) It is not a violation of Section 44-41-630 for a physician to perform a medical procedure necessary in his reasonable medical judgment to prevent the death of a pregnant woman or the serious risk of a substantial and irreversible physical impairment of a major bodily function of the pregnant woman, not including psychological or emotional conditions.

(2) It is presumed that the following medical conditions constitute a risk of death or serious risk of a substantial and irreversible physical impairment of a major bodily function of a pregnant woman, not including psychological or emotional conditions: molar pregnancy, partial molar pregnancy, blighted ovum, ectopic pregnancy, severe preeclampsia, HELLP syndrome, abruptio placentae, severe physical maternal trauma, uterine rupture, intrauterine fetal demise, and miscarriage. However, when an unborn child is alive in utero, the physician must make all reasonable efforts to deliver and save the life of an unborn child during the process of separating the unborn child from the pregnant woman, to the extent that it does not adversely affect the life or physical health of the pregnant woman, and in a manner that is consistent with reasonable medical practice. The enumeration of the medical conditions in this item is not intended to exclude or abrogate other conditions that satisfy the exclusions contained in item (1) or prevent other procedures that are not included in the definition of abortion.

(3) A physician who performs a medical procedure pursuant to item (1) shall declare, in a written document maintained with the woman's medical records, that the medical procedure was necessary, the woman's medical condition necessitating the procedure, the physician's rationale for his conclusion that the procedure was necessary, and that all reasonable efforts were made to save the unborn child in the event it was living prior to the procedure. The declaration required by this item must be placed in the woman's medical records not later than thirty days after the procedure was completed. A physician's exercise of reasonable medical judgment in relation to a medical procedure undertaken pursuant to this subsection is presumed to be within the applicable standard of care.

(D) Medical treatment provided to a pregnant woman by a physician which results in the accidental or unintentional injury or death of her unborn child is not a violation of Section 44-41-630.

(E) It is not a violation of Section 44-41-630 to use, sell, or administer a contraceptive measure, drug, chemical, or device if the contraceptive measure, drug, chemical, or device is used, sold, prescribed or administered in accordance with manufacturer's instructions and is not used, sold, prescribed or administered to cause or induce an abortion.

~~Section 44-41-650. (A) Except as provided in Section 44-41-660, no person shall perform, induce, or attempt to perform or induce an~~

~~abortion on a pregnant woman before a physician determines in accordance with Section 44-41-630 whether the human fetus the pregnant woman is carrying has a detectable fetal heartbeat.~~

~~—(B) A person who violates subsection (A) is guilty of a felony and, upon conviction, must be fined ten thousand dollars, imprisoned not more than two years, or both.~~ (A) A physician may perform, induce, or attempt to perform or induce an abortion on a pregnant woman after the fetal heartbeat has been detected in accordance with Section 44-41-630 if:

— (1) the pregnancy is the result of rape, and the probable gestational age of the unborn child is not more than twelve weeks; or

— (2) the pregnancy is the result of incest, and the probable gestational age of the unborn child is not more than twelve weeks.

— (B) A physician who performs or induces an abortion on a pregnant woman based on an exception contained in this section must report the allegation of rape or incest to the sheriff in the county in which the abortion was performed. The report must be made no later than twenty-four hours after performing or inducing the abortion, may be made orally or otherwise, and shall include the name and contact information of the pregnant woman making the allegation. Prior to performing or inducing an abortion, the physician who performs or induces an abortion based on an allegation of rape or incest must notify the pregnant woman that the physician will report the allegation of rape or incest to the sheriff. The physician shall make written notations in the pregnant woman's medical records that the abortion was performed pursuant to the applicable exception, that the doctor notified the sheriff of the allegation of rape or incest in a timely manner, and that the woman was notified prior to the abortion that the physician would notify the sheriff of the allegation of rape or incest.

— (C) A person who violates this section is guilty of a felony and, upon conviction, must be fined ten thousand dollars, imprisoned for not more than two years, or both.

~~Section 44-41-660. (A) Section 44-41-650 does not apply to a physician who performs or induces an abortion if the physician determines according to standard medical practice that a medical emergency exists that prevents compliance with the section.~~

~~—(B) A physician who performs or induces an abortion on a pregnant woman based on the exception in subsection (A) shall make written notations in the pregnant woman's medical records of the following:~~

~~— (1) the physician's belief that a medical emergency necessitating the abortion existed;~~

TUESDAY, MAY 16, 2023

~~— (2) the medical condition of the pregnant woman that assertedly prevented compliance with Section 44-41-650; and~~

~~— (3) the medical rationale to support the physician's conclusion that the pregnant woman's medical condition necessitated the immediate abortion of her pregnancy to avert her death.~~

~~— (C) For at least seven years from the date the notations are made, the physician shall maintain in his own records a copy of the notations.~~

(A) It is not a violation of Section 44-41-630 if an abortion is performed or induced on a pregnant woman due to the existence of a fatal fetal anomaly. Section 44-41-630 does not apply to a physician who performs or induces an abortion if the physician or person determines according to standard medical practice that there exists a fatal fetal anomaly.

(B)(1) A person who performs or induces an abortion based upon the existence of a fatal fetal anomaly shall make written notations in the pregnant woman's medical records of:

(a) the presence of a fatal fetal anomaly;

(b) the nature of the fatal fetal anomaly;

(c) the medical rationale for making the determination that with or without the provision of life-preserving treatment life after birth would be unsustainable.

(2) For at least seven years from the date the notations are made in the woman's medical records, the owner of the pregnant woman's medical records shall maintain a record of the notations.

(C) A person who violates this section is guilty of a felony and, upon conviction, must be fined up to ten thousand dollars, imprisoned for not more than two years, or both.

(D) An entity with ownership of the pregnant woman's medical records that violates item (2) must be fined up to fifty thousand dollars.

Section 44-41-670. A physician is not in violation of Section 44-41-650 if the physician acts in accordance with Section 44-41-630 and the method used to test for the presence of a fetal heartbeat does not reveal a fetal heartbeat. A pregnant woman on whom an abortion is performed or induced in violation of this article may not be criminally prosecuted for violating any of the provisions of this article or for attempting to commit, or conspiring to commit a violation of any of the provisions of the article and is not subject to a civil or criminal penalty based on the abortion being performed or induced in violation of any of the provisions of this article.

Prior to performing or inducing an abortion, a physician who performs or induces an abortion based upon an allegation of rape or incest must notify the pregnant woman that the physician will report the allegation of rape or incest to the sheriff. The physician shall make written notations in the pregnant woman's medical records that the abortion was performed pursuant to the applicable exception, that the doctor timely notified the sheriff of the allegation of rape or incest, and that the woman was notified prior to the abortion that the physician would notify the sheriff of the allegation of rape or incest.~~

~~—(D) A person who violates subsection (A) is guilty of a felony and, upon conviction, must be fined ten thousand dollars, imprisoned not more than two years, or both.~~
(A) In addition to all other remedies available under common or statutory law, failure to comply with the requirements of this article shall provide the basis for a civil action further described in this section.

(B) A pregnant woman upon whom an abortion has been performed, induced, or coerced in violation of this article may maintain an action against the person who violated this article for actual and punitive damages. (D) If a plaintiff prevails in an action initiated pursuant to this section the court shall award the plaintiff reasonable costs and attorney's fees.

(E) No damages, costs, or attorney's fees may be assessed against the woman upon whom an abortion was performed or induced.

(F) Under no circumstances may civil damages be awarded to a plaintiff if the pregnancy resulted from the plaintiff's criminal conduct.

(G) A civil cause of action pursuant to this section must be brought within three years of the date of the abortion and is not subject to the limitations and requirements contained in Chapter 79, Title 15.

~~Section 44-41-690. (A) Section 44-41-680 does not apply to a physician who performs a medical procedure that, by any reasonable medical judgment, is designed or intended to prevent the death of the pregnant woman or to prevent the serious risk of a substantial and irreversible impairment of a major bodily function of the pregnant woman.~~

In the document, the physician shall specify the pregnant woman's medical condition that the medical procedure was asserted to address and the medical rationale for the physician's conclusion that the medical procedure was necessary to prevent the death of the pregnant woman or to prevent the serious risk of a substantial and irreversible impairment of a major bodily function of the pregnant woman.~~

~~—(C) A physician who performs a medical procedure as described in subsection (A) shall place the written document required by subsection~~

In addition to any other penalties imposed by law, a physician or any other professionally licensed person who intentionally, knowingly, or recklessly violates the prohibition on abortion contained in this article commits an act of unprofessional conduct. A physician's license to practice in this State immediately shall be revoked by the State Board of Medical Examiners, after due process according to the board's rules and procedures. Any other licensed person's professional license shall be immediately revoked by the appropriate licensing board, after due process according to that board's rules and procedures. If some or all of the provisions of this article are ever temporarily or permanently restrained or enjoined by judicial order, all other provisions of South Carolina law regulating or restricting abortion must be enforced as though such restrained or enjoined provisions had not been adopted; provided, however, that whenever such temporary or permanent restraining order or injunction is stayed or dissolved, or otherwise ceases to have effect, such provisions shall have full force and effect.~~

~~Section 44-41-740. (A) A woman who meets any one or more of the following criteria may file a civil action in a court of competent jurisdiction:~~

~~— (1) a woman on whom an abortion was performed or induced in violation of this article; or~~

SECTION 4. Article 3, Chapter 17, Title 63 of the S.C. Code is amended by adding:

Section 63-17-325. (A) A biological father of a child has a duty to pay the mother of the child the following financial obligations beginning with the date of conception:

(1) child support payment obligations in an amount determined pursuant to Section 63-17-470;

(2) fifty percent of the mother's pregnancy expenses.

(a) Any portion of a mother's pregnancy expenses paid by the mother or the biological father reduces that parent's fifty percent obligation regardless of when the mother or biological father pays the pregnancy expenses.

(b) Pregnancy expenses must include fifty percent of the mother's insurance premiums that are not paid by her employer or governmental program beginning from the date of conception and before the pregnancy ends, unless otherwise ordered by the court.

(c) Item (2) does not apply if a court apportions pregnancy expenses as part of an award of child support in item (1).

(B) In the case of a mother who becomes pregnant as a result of rape or incest, the biological father, in addition to the duties imposed by subsection (A), also is responsible for the full cost of any expenses incurred by the mother for mental health counseling arising out of the rape or incest.

(C) The duties imposed by this section accrue at the time of conception and must be applied retroactively when paternity is contested, and medical evidence establishes the paternity of the child. Interest accrues on any retroactive obligations beginning with conception until either the obligations are brought current or paid in full whichever happens first. The rate of interest must be calculated based on the applicable interest rate for money decrees and judgments in this State established annually by the South Carolina Supreme Court.

SECTION 5. Article 1, Chapter 71, Title 38 of the S.C. Code is amended by adding:

Section 38-71-146. All individual and group health insurance and health maintenance organization policies in this State shall include coverage for contraceptives. For purposes of this section, "contraceptive" means the same as in Section 44-41-610(4). A contraceptive may prevent ovulation, fertilization, or implantation in the uterus. A contraceptive does not include any drug, device, or medication used with the intent of terminating a pregnancy of a woman known to be pregnant. This section does not apply if an individual or entity asserts a sincerely held religious belief regarding the use of contraception.

SECTION 6. Section 44-41-10 of the S.C. Code is amended to read:

Such use, prescription, or means is not an abortion if done with the intent to save the life or preserve the health of the unborn child, or to remove a dead unborn child.

(b) "Physician" means a person licensed to practice medicine in this State.

(c) "Department" means the South Carolina Department of Health and Environmental Control.

~~(l) “Viability” means that stage of human development when the fetus is potentially able to live outside of the mother’s womb with or without the aid of artificial life support systems. For the purposes of this chapter, a legal presumption is hereby created that viability occurs no sooner than the twenty-fourth week of pregnancy.~~

~~—(m) “Minor” means a female under the age of seventeen.~~

Section 44-41-60. Any abortion performed in this State must be reported by the performing physician on the standard form for reporting abortions to the State Registrar, Department of Health and Environmental Control, within seven days after the abortion is performed. The names of the patient and physician may not be reported on the form or otherwise disclosed to the State Registrar. The form must indicate from whom consent was obtained, circumstances waiving consent, and, if an exception was exercised pursuant to Section 44-41-640, 44-41-650, or 44-41-660, which exception the physician relied upon in performing or inducing the abortion.

SECTION 8. Section 44-41-70(b) of the S.C. Code is amended to read:

(b) The department shall promulgate and enforce regulations for the licensing and certification of facilities other than hospitals as defined in Section 44-41-10(d) wherein abortions are to be performed ~~as provided for in Section 44-41-20(a) and (b).~~

SECTION 9. Section 44-41-80 of the S.C. Code is amended to read:

Section 44-41-80. (a) Any person, except as permitted by this chapter, who provides, supplies, prescribes or administers any drug, medicine, prescription or substance to any woman or uses or employs any device, instrument or other means upon any woman, with the intent to produce an abortion shall be deemed guilty of a felony and, upon conviction, shall be punished by imprisonment for a term of not less than two nor more than five years or fined not more than five thousand dollars, or both. Provided, that the provisions of this item shall not apply to any woman upon whom an abortion has been attempted or performed.

TUESDAY, MAY 16, 2023

~~(b) Except as otherwise permitted by this chapter, any woman who solicits of any person or otherwise procures any drug, medicine, prescription or substance and administers it to herself or who submits to any operation or procedure or who uses or employs any device or instrument or other means with intent to produce an abortion, unless it is necessary to preserve her life, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and, upon conviction, shall be punished by imprisonment for a term of not more than two years or fined not more than one thousand dollars, or both.~~

~~—(c) Any woman upon whom an abortion has been performed or attempted in violation of the provisions of this chapter may be compelled to testify in any criminal prosecution initiated pursuant to subsection (a) of this section; provided, however, that such testimony shall not be admissible in any civil or criminal action against such woman and she shall be forever immune from any prosecution for having solicited or otherwise procured the performance of the abortion or the attempted performance of the abortion upon her.~~

SECTION 10. Section 44-41-330(A) of the S.C. Code is amended to read:

(A) Except in the case of a medical emergency and in addition to any other consent required by the laws of this State, no abortion may be performed or induced without the voluntary and informed written consent of the pregnant woman and unless the following conditions have been satisfied:

(1)(a) ~~The~~ While physically present in the same room, the woman must be informed by the physician who is to perform the abortion or by, an allied health professional working in conjunction with the physician, or the referring physician of the procedure to be involved and by the physician who is to perform the abortion of the probable gestational age of the embryo or fetus at the time the abortion is to be performed, including:

(i) the nature and risks of undergoing or not undergoing the proposed procedure that a reasonable patient would consider material to making a knowing and wilful decision of whether to have an abortion;

(ii) the probable gestational age of the unborn child, verified by an ultrasound, at the time the abortion is to be performed;

(iii) the presence of the unborn child's fetal heartbeat, if present and viewable.

~~(b) If an ultrasound is required to be performed, an abortion may not be performed sooner than sixty minutes following completion of the ultrasound. The ultrasound must be performed by the physician~~ who is to perform the abortion or by a person having documented evidence that he or she is a certified sonographer under South Carolina law and who is working in conjunction with the physician. The physician who is to perform the abortion or an allied health professional working in conjunction with the physician must inform the woman before the ultrasound procedure of her right to view the live ultrasound image images and hear the unborn child's fetal heartbeat, if present, at her request during or after the ultrasound procedure and to have them explained to her.

(c) If the woman accepts the opportunity to view the images and hear the explanation, a physician or a registered nurse, licensed practical nurse, or physician assistant working in conjunction with the physician must contemporaneously review and explain the images to the woman before the woman gives informed consent to having an abortion procedure performed.

(d) The woman has a right to decline to view and hear the explanation of the live ultrasound images after she is informed of her right and offered an opportunity to view the images and hear the explanation. If the woman declines, the woman shall complete a form acknowledging that she was offered an opportunity to view and hear the explanation of the images but that she declined that opportunity. The form also must indicate that the woman's decision was not based on any undue influence from any person to discourage her from viewing the images or hearing the explanation and that she declined of her own free will.

~~(b)~~(e) If the physician who intends to perform or induce an abortion on a pregnant woman has determined pursuant to Section 44-41-620, 44-41-630, and 44-41-330(A) that the human fetus unborn child the pregnant woman is carrying has a detectable fetal heartbeat, then that physician shall inform the pregnant woman in writing that the human fetus unborn child the pregnant woman is carrying has a fetal heartbeat. The physician shall further inform the pregnant woman, to the best of the physician's knowledge, of the statistical probability, absent an induced abortion, of bringing the human fetus possessing a detectable fetal heartbeat to term based on the gestational age of the human fetus or, if the director of the department has specified statistical probability information, shall provide to the pregnant woman that information. The department may promulgate regulations that specify information regarding the statistical probability of bringing an unborn child possessing a detectable fetal heartbeat to term based on the gestational age of the unborn child. Any regulations must be based on available medical evidence.

(2) The woman must be presented by the physician who is to perform the abortion or by an allied health professional working in conjunction with the physician a written form containing the following statement: "You have the right to review printed materials prepared by the State of South Carolina which describe fetal development, list agencies which offer alternatives to abortion, and describe medical assistance benefits which may be available for prenatal care, childbirth, and neonatal care. You have the right to view your ultrasound image." This form must be signed and dated by both the physician who is to perform the procedure and the pregnant woman upon whom the procedure is to be performed.

(3) The woman must certify in writing, before the abortion, that the information described in item (1) of this subsection has been furnished her, and that she has been informed of her opportunity to review the information referred to in item (2) of this subsection.

(4) Before performing the abortion, the physician who is to perform or induce the abortion must determine that the written certification prescribed by item (3) of this subsection or the certification required by subsection (D) has been signed. This subsection does not apply in the case where an abortion is performed pursuant to a court order.

SECTION 11. The Public Employee Benefit Authority and the State Health Plan shall cover prescribed contraceptives for dependents under the same terms and conditions that the Plan provides contraceptive coverage for employees and spouses. The State Health Plan shall not apply patient cost sharing provisions to covered contraceptives.

SECTION 12. The President of the Senate, on behalf of the Senate, and the Speaker of the House of Representatives, on behalf of the House of Representatives have an unconditional right to intervene on behalf of their respective bodies in a state court action and may provide evidence or argument, written or oral, if a party to that court action challenges the constitutionality of this act. In a federal court action that challenges the constitutionality of this act the Legislature may seek to intervene, to file an amicus brief, or to present arguments in accordance with federal rules of procedure. Intervention by the Legislature pursuant to this provision does not limit the duty of the Attorney General to appear and prosecute legal actions or defend state agencies, officers or employees as otherwise provided. In any action in which the Legislature intervenes or participates, the Senate and the House of Representatives shall function independently from each other in the representation of their respective

B. Article 5, Chapter 41, Title 44 of the S.C. Code is repealed. However, if some or all of the provisions contained in SECTION 2 of this act are ever temporarily or permanently restrained or enjoined by judicial order, or are held to be unconstitutional or invalid, then all of the provisions of Article 5, Chapter 41, Title 44 are reenacted retroactively to the date the judicial order either temporarily or permanently restraining or enjoining some or all of the provisions contained in SECTION 2 or declaring some or all of the provisions contained in SECTION 2 unconstitutional or invalid is entered.

SECTION 1. The General Assembly hereby finds all of the following:

(1) A fetal heartbeat is a key medical predictor that an unborn child will reach live birth.

(2) Cardiac activity begins at a biologically identifiable moment in time, normally when the fetal heart is formed in the gestational sac.

(3) The State of South Carolina has a compelling interest from the outset of a woman's pregnancy in protecting the health of the woman and the life of the unborn child.

SECTION 2. Article 6, Chapter 41, Title 44 of the S.C. Code is amended to read:

Article 6

Fetal Heartbeat and Protection from Abortion

Section 44-41-610. ~~As used in this article:~~

- ~~—(1) “Conception” means fertilization.~~
- ~~—(2) “Contraceptive” means a drug, device, or chemical that prevents conception.~~
- ~~—(3) “Fetal heartbeat” means cardiac activity, or the steady and repetitive rhythmic contraction of the fetal heart, within the gestational sac.~~
- ~~—(4) “Gestational age” means the age of an unborn human individual as calculated from the first day of the last menstrual period of a pregnant woman.~~
- ~~—(5) “Gestational sac” means the structure that comprises the extraembryonic membranes that envelop the human fetus and that is typically visible by ultrasound after the fourth week of pregnancy.~~
- ~~—(6) “Human fetus” or “unborn child” each means an individual organism of the species homo sapiens from fertilization until live birth.~~
- ~~—(7) “Intrauterine pregnancy” means a pregnancy in which a human fetus is attached to the placenta within the uterus of a pregnant woman.~~
- ~~—(8) “Medical emergency” means a condition that, by any reasonable medical judgment, so complicates the medical condition of a pregnant woman that it necessitates the immediate abortion of her pregnancy to avert her death without first determining whether there is a detectable fetal heartbeat or for which the delay necessary to determine whether there is a detectable fetal heartbeat will create serious risk of a substantial and irreversible physical impairment of a major bodily function, not including psychological or emotional conditions. A condition must not be considered a medical emergency if based on a claim or diagnosis that a woman will engage in conduct that she intends to result in her death or in a substantial and irreversible physical impairment of a major bodily function.~~
- ~~—(9) “Physician” means any person licensed to practice medicine and surgery, or osteopathic medicine and surgery, in this State.~~
- ~~—(10) “Reasonable medical judgment” means a medical judgment that would be made by a reasonably prudent physician who is knowledgeable about the case and the treatment possibilities with respect to the medical conditions involved.~~

~~—(11) “Spontaneous miscarriage” means the natural or accidental termination of a pregnancy and the expulsion of the human fetus, typically caused by genetic defects in the human fetus or physical abnormalities in the pregnant woman. As used in this article:~~

~~—(1) “Abortion” means the act of using or prescribing any instrument, medicine, drug, or any other substance, device, or means with the intent to terminate the clinically diagnosable pregnancy of a woman with knowledge that the termination by those means will, with reasonable likelihood, cause the death of the unborn child. Such use, prescription, or means is not an abortion if done with the intent to save the life or preserve the health of the unborn child, or to remove a dead unborn child.~~

~~—(2) “Clinically diagnosable pregnancy” means the point in time when it is possible to determine that a woman is pregnant due to the detectible presence of human chorionic gonadotropin (hCG).~~

~~—(3) “Conception” means fertilization of an ovum by sperm.~~

~~—(4) “Contraceptive” means a drug, device, or chemical that prevents ovulation, conception, or the implantation of a fertilized ovum in a woman’s uterine wall after conception.~~

~~—(5) “Fatal fetal anomaly” means that, in reasonable medical judgment, the unborn child has a profound and irremediable congenital or chromosomal anomaly that, with or without the provision of life-preserving treatment, would be incompatible with sustaining life after birth.~~

~~—(6) “Fetal heartbeat” means cardiac activity, or the steady and repetitive rhythmic contraction of the fetal heart, within the gestational sac.~~

~~—(7) “Gestational age” means the age of an unborn child as calculated from the first day of the last menstrual period of a pregnant woman.~~

~~—(8) “Gestational sac” means the structure that comprises the extraembryonic membranes that envelop the unborn child and that is typically visible by ultrasound after the fourth week of pregnancy.~~

~~—(9) “Medical emergency” means in reasonable medical judgment, a condition exists that has complicated the pregnant woman’s medical condition and necessitates an abortion to prevent death or serious risk of a substantial and irreversible physical impairment of a major bodily function, not including psychological or emotional conditions. A condition must not be considered a medical emergency if based on a claim or diagnosis that a woman will engage in conduct that she intends to result in her death or in a substantial and irreversible physical impairment of a major bodily function.~~

~~Section 44-41-620. (A) A court judgment or order suspending enforcement of any provision of this chapter is not to be regarded as tantamount to repeal of that provision.~~

~~—(B) If the United States Supreme Court issues a decision overruling Roe v. Wade, 410 U.S. 113 (1973), any other court issues an order or judgment restoring, expanding, or clarifying the authority of states to prohibit or regulate abortion entirely or in part, or an amendment is ratified to the Constitution of the United States restoring, expanding, or clarifying the authority of states to prohibit or regulate abortion entirely or in part, then the Attorney General may apply to the pertinent state or federal court for either or both of the following:~~

~~—(1) a declaration that any one or more of the statutory provisions specified in subsection (A) are constitutional; or~~

~~—(2) a judgment or order lifting an injunction against the enforcement of any one or more of the statutory provisions specified in subsection (A).~~

~~—(C) If the Attorney General fails to apply for relief pursuant to subsection (B) within a thirty day period after an event described in that subsection occurs, then any solicitor may apply to the appropriate state or federal court for such relief. An abortion may not be performed or induced without the voluntary and informed written consent of the pregnant woman or, in the case of incapacity to consent, the voluntary and informed written consent of her court-appointed guardian, and without compliance with the provisions of Section 44-41-330(A).~~

~~Section 44-41-630. (A) An abortion provider who is to perform or induce an abortion, a certified technician, or another agent of the abortion provider who is competent in ultrasonography shall:~~

~~(1) perform an obstetric ultrasound on the pregnant woman, using~~

TUESDAY, MAY 16, 2023

whichever method the physician and pregnant woman agree is best under the circumstances;

(2) during the performance of the ultrasound, display the ultrasound images so that the pregnant woman may view the images; and

(3) record a written medical description of the ultrasound images of the unborn child's fetal heartbeat, if present and viewable.

(B) Except as provided in Section 44-41-640, Section 44-41-650, and Section 44-41-660, no person shall perform or induce an abortion on a pregnant woman with the specific intent of causing or abetting an abortion if the unborn child's fetal heartbeat has been detected in accordance with Section 44-41-330(A). A person who violates this subsection is guilty of a felony and, upon conviction, must be fined ten thousand dollars, imprisoned for not more than two years, or both.

~~Section 44-41-640. If a pregnancy is at least eight weeks after fertilization, then the abortion provider who is to perform or induce an abortion, or an agent of the abortion provider, shall tell the woman that it may be possible to make the embryonic or fetal heartbeat of the unborn child audible for the pregnant woman to hear and shall ask the woman if she would like to hear the heartbeat. If the woman would like to hear the heartbeat, then the abortion provider shall, using whichever method the physician and patient agree is best under the circumstances, make the fetal heartbeat of the unborn child audible for the pregnant woman to hear.~~(A) It is not a violation of Section 44-41-630 if an abortion is performed or induced on a pregnant woman due to a medical emergency or is performed to prevent the death of the pregnant woman or to prevent the serious risk of a substantial and irreversible impairment of a major bodily function, not including psychological or emotional conditions, of the pregnant woman.

(B)(1) Section 44-41-630 does not apply to a physician who performs or induces an abortion if the physician determines according to standard medical practice that a medical emergency exists or is performed to prevent the death of the pregnant woman or to prevent the serious risk of a substantial or irreversible impairment of a major bodily function, not including psychological or emotional conditions, that prevents compliance with the section.

(2) A physician who performs or induces an abortion on a pregnant woman based on the exception in item (1) shall make written notations in the pregnant woman's medical records of the following:

(a) the physician's belief that a medical emergency necessitating the abortion existed;

(b) the medical condition of the pregnant woman that

TUESDAY, MAY 16, 2023

assertedly prevented compliance with Section 44-41-630; and

(c) the medical rationale to support the physician's or person's conclusion that the pregnant woman's medical condition necessitated the immediate abortion of her pregnancy to avert her death and a medical emergency necessitating the abortion existed.

(3) A physician performing a medical procedure pursuant to item (1) shall make reasonable medical efforts under the circumstances to preserve the life of the pregnant woman's unborn child, to the extent that it does not risk the death of the pregnant woman or the serious risk of a substantial and irreversible physical impairment of a major bodily function of the pregnant woman, not including psychological or emotional conditions and in a manner consistent with reasonable medical practices. A medical procedure shall not be considered necessary if it is performed based upon a claim or diagnosis that the woman will engage in conduct that she intends to result in her death or in a substantial physical impairment of a major bodily function.

(4)(a) For at least seven years from the date the notations are made in the pregnant woman's medical records, the physician owner of the pregnant woman's medical records shall maintain a record of the notations in his own records a copy of the notations.

(b) A person, if he is the owner of the pregnant woman's medical records, who violates this subsection is guilty of a felony and must be fined up to ten thousand dollars, imprisoned for not more than two years, or both.

(c) An entity with ownership of the pregnant woman's medical records that violates item (3) must be fined up to fifty thousand dollars.

(C)(1) It is not a violation of Section 44-41-630 for a physician to perform a medical procedure necessary in his reasonable medical judgment to prevent the death of a pregnant woman or the serious risk of a substantial and irreversible physical impairment of a major bodily function of the pregnant woman, not including psychological or emotional conditions.

(2) It is presumed that the following medical conditions constitute a risk of death or serious risk of a substantial and irreversible physical impairment of a major bodily function of a pregnant woman, not including psychological or emotional conditions: molar pregnancy, partial molar pregnancy, blighted ovum, ectopic pregnancy, severe preeclampsia, HELLP syndrome, abruptio placentae, severe physical maternal trauma, uterine rupture, intrauterine fetal demise, and miscarriage. However, when an unborn child is alive in utero, the physician must make all reasonable efforts to deliver and save the life of an unborn child during the process of separating the unborn child from the pregnant woman, to the extent that it does not adversely affect the life or physical health of the pregnant woman, and in a manner that is consistent with reasonable medical practice. The enumeration of the medical conditions in this item is not intended to exclude or abrogate other conditions that satisfy the exclusions contained in item (1) or prevent other procedures that are not included in the definition of abortion.

(3) A physician who performs a medical procedure pursuant to item (1) shall declare, in a written document maintained with the woman's medical records, that the medical procedure was necessary, the woman's medical condition necessitating the procedure, the physician's rationale for his conclusion that the procedure was necessary, and that all reasonable efforts were made to save the unborn child in the event it was living prior to the procedure. The declaration required by this item must be placed in the woman's medical records not later than thirty days after the procedure was completed. A physician's exercise of reasonable medical judgment in relation to a medical procedure undertaken pursuant to this subsection is presumed to be within the applicable standard of care.

(D) Medical treatment provided to a pregnant woman by a physician which results in the accidental or unintentional injury or death of her unborn child is not a violation of Section 44-41-630.

(E) It is not a violation of Section 44-41-630 to use, sell, or administer a contraceptive measure, drug, chemical, or device if the contraceptive measure, drug, chemical, or device is used, sold, prescribed or administered in accordance with manufacturer's instructions and is not used, sold, prescribed or administered to cause or induce an abortion.

~~Section 44-41-650. (A) Except as provided in Section 44-41-660, no person shall perform, induce, or attempt to perform or induce an abortion on a pregnant woman before a physician determines in accordance with Section 44-41-630 whether the human fetus the pregnant woman is carrying has a detectable fetal heartbeat.~~

~~—(B) A person who violates subsection (A) is guilty of a felony and, upon conviction, must be fined ten thousand dollars, imprisoned not more than two years, or both.~~(A) A physician may perform, induce, or attempt to perform or induce an abortion on a pregnant woman after the fetal heartbeat has been detected in accordance with Section 44-41-630 if:

(1) the pregnancy is the result of rape, and the probable

TUESDAY, MAY 16, 2023

gestational age of the unborn child is not more than twelve weeks; or

(2) the pregnancy is the result of incest, and the probable gestational age of the unborn child is not more than twelve weeks.

(B) A physician who performs or induces an abortion on a pregnant woman based on an exception contained in this section must report the allegation of rape or incest to the sheriff in the county in which the abortion was performed. The report must be made no later than twenty-four hours after performing or inducing the abortion, may be made orally or otherwise, and shall include the name and contact information of the pregnant woman making the allegation. Prior to performing or inducing an abortion, the physician who performs or induces an abortion based on an allegation of rape or incest must notify the pregnant woman that the physician will report the allegation of rape or incest to the sheriff. The physician shall make written notations in the pregnant woman's medical records that the abortion was performed pursuant to the applicable exception, that the doctor notified the sheriff of the allegation of rape or incest in a timely manner, and that the woman was notified prior to the abortion that the physician would notify the sheriff of the allegation of rape or incest.

(C) A person who violates this section is guilty of a felony and, upon conviction, must be fined ten thousand dollars, imprisoned for not more than two years, or both.

~~Section 44-41-660. (A) Section 44-41-650 does not apply to a physician who performs or induces an abortion if the physician determines according to standard medical practice that a medical emergency exists that prevents compliance with the section.~~

~~— (B) A physician who performs or induces an abortion on a pregnant woman based on the exception in subsection (A) shall make written notations in the pregnant woman's medical records of the following:~~

~~— (1) the physician's belief that a medical emergency necessitating the abortion existed;~~

~~— (2) the medical condition of the pregnant woman that assertedly prevented compliance with Section 44-41-650; and~~

~~— (3) the medical rationale to support the physician's conclusion that the pregnant woman's medical condition necessitated the immediate abortion of her pregnancy to avert her death.~~

~~— (C) For at least seven years from the date the notations are made, the physician shall maintain in his own records a copy of the notations.~~(A) It is not a violation of Section 44-41-630 if an abortion is performed or induced on a pregnant woman due to the existence of a fatal fetal anomaly. Section 44-41-630 does not apply to a physician who performs or induces an abortion if the physician or person determines according to standard medical practice that there exists a fatal fetal anomaly.

(B)(1) A person who performs or induces an abortion based upon the existence of a fatal fetal anomaly shall make written notations in the pregnant woman's medical records of:

_____ (a) the presence of a fatal fetal anomaly;

_____ (b) the nature of the fatal fetal anomaly;

_____ (c) the medical rationale for making the determination that with or without the provision of life-preserving treatment life after birth would be unsustainable.

(2) For at least seven years from the date the notations are made in the woman's medical records, the owner of the pregnant woman's medical records shall maintain a record of the notations.

(C) A person who violates this section is guilty of a felony and, upon conviction, must be fined up to ten thousand dollars, imprisoned for not more than two years, or both.

(D) An entity with ownership of the pregnant woman's medical records that violates item (2) must be fined up to fifty thousand dollars.

Section 44-41-670. A physician is not in violation of Section 44-41-650 if the physician acts in accordance with Section 44-41-630 and the method used to test for the presence of a fetal heartbeat does not reveal a fetal heartbeat. A pregnant woman on whom an abortion is performed or induced in violation of this article may not be criminally prosecuted for violating any of the provisions of this article or for attempting to commit, or conspiring to commit a violation of any of the provisions of the article and is not subject to a civil or criminal penalty based on the abortion being performed or induced in violation of any of the provisions of this article.

Section 44-41-680. (A) Except as provided in subsection (B), no person shall perform, induce, or attempt to perform or induce an abortion on a pregnant woman with the specific intent of causing or abetting the termination of the life of the human fetus the pregnant woman is carrying and whose fetal heartbeat has been detected in accordance with Section 44-41-630.

—(B) A physician may perform, induce, or attempt to perform or induce an abortion on a pregnant woman after a fetal heartbeat has been detected in accordance with Section 44-41-630 only if:

—(1) the pregnancy is the result of rape, and the probable post-fertilization age of the fetus is fewer than twenty weeks;

—(2) the pregnancy is the result of incest, and the probable post-

fertilization age of the fetus is fewer than twenty weeks;

—(3) the physician is acting in accordance with Section 44-41-690;

or

—(4) there exists a fetal anomaly, as defined in Section 44-41-430.

~~—(C) A physician who performs or induces an abortion on a pregnant woman based on the exception in either subsection (B)(1) or (2) must report the allegation of rape or incest to the sheriff in the county in which the abortion was performed. The report must be made no later than twenty four hours after performing or inducing the abortion, may be made orally or otherwise, and shall include the name and contact information of the pregnant woman making the allegation. Prior to performing or inducing an abortion, a physician who performs or induces an abortion based upon an allegation of rape or incest must notify the pregnant woman that the physician will report the allegation of rape or incest to the sheriff. The physician shall make written notations in the pregnant woman's medical records that the abortion was performed pursuant to the applicable exception, that the doctor timely notified the sheriff of the allegation of rape or incest, and that the woman was notified prior to the abortion that the physician would notify the sheriff of the allegation of rape or incest.~~

~~—(D) A person who violates subsection (A) is guilty of a felony and, upon conviction, must be fined ten thousand dollars, imprisoned not more than two years, or both. (A) In addition to all other remedies available under common or statutory law, failure to comply with the requirements of this article shall provide the basis for a civil action further described in this section.~~

—(B) A pregnant woman upon whom an abortion has been performed, induced, or coerced in violation of this article may maintain an action against the person who violated this article for actual and punitive damages. In addition to all other damages, and separate and distinct from all other damages, a plaintiff is entitled to statutory damages of ten thousand dollars for each violation of this article to be imposed on each defendant found to have violated this article.

—(C) A separate and distinct cause of action for injunctive relief against any person who has violated this article may be maintained by:

—(1) the woman upon whom the abortion was performed or induced in violation of this article;

—(2) the parent or guardian of the pregnant woman if she had not attained the age of eighteen years at the time of the abortion or died as a result of the abortion;

—(3) a solicitor or prosecuting attorney with proper jurisdiction; or

(4) the Attorney General.

(D) If a plaintiff prevails in an action initiated pursuant to this section the court shall award the plaintiff reasonable costs and attorney's fees.

(E) No damages, costs, or attorney's fees may be assessed against the woman upon whom an abortion was performed or induced.

(F) Under no circumstances may civil damages be awarded to a plaintiff if the pregnancy resulted from the plaintiff's criminal conduct.

(G) A civil cause of action pursuant to this section must be brought within three years of the date of the abortion and is not subject to the limitations and requirements contained in Chapter 79, Title 15.

~~Section 44-41-690. (A) Section 44-41-680 does not apply to a physician who performs a medical procedure that, by any reasonable medical judgment, is designed or intended to prevent the death of the pregnant woman or to prevent the serious risk of a substantial and irreversible impairment of a major bodily function of the pregnant woman.~~

~~—(B) A physician who performs a medical procedure as described in subsection (A) shall declare, in a written document, that the medical procedure was necessary, by reasonable medical judgment, to prevent the death of the pregnant woman or to prevent the serious risk of a substantial and irreversible physical impairment of a major bodily function of the pregnant woman. In the document, the physician shall specify the pregnant woman's medical condition that the medical procedure was asserted to address and the medical rationale for the physician's conclusion that the medical procedure was necessary to prevent the death of the pregnant woman or to prevent the serious risk of a substantial and irreversible impairment of a major bodily function of the pregnant woman.~~

~~—(C) A physician who performs a medical procedure as described in subsection (A) shall place the written document required by subsection (B) in the pregnant woman's medical records. For at least seven years from the date the document is created, the physician shall maintain a copy of the document in his own records. In addition to any other penalties imposed by law, a physician or any other professionally licensed person who intentionally, knowingly, or recklessly violates the prohibition on abortion contained in this article commits an act of unprofessional conduct. A physician's license to practice in this State immediately shall be revoked by the State Board of Medical Examiners, after due process according to the board's rules and procedures. Any other licensed person's professional license shall be immediately~~ revoked by the appropriate licensing board, after due process according to that board's rules and procedures. A complaint may be originated by any person or by the board sua sponte. A licensing board acting pursuant to this section may assess costs of the investigation, fines, and other disciplinary actions as it may deem appropriate.

~~Section 44-41-700. A physician is not in violation of Section 44-41-680 if the physician acts in accordance with Section 44-41-630 and the method used to test for the presence of a fetal heartbeat does not reveal a fetal heartbeat.~~

~~Section 44-41-710. This article must not be construed to repeal, by implication or otherwise, Section 44-41-20 or any otherwise applicable provision of South Carolina law regulating or restricting abortion. An abortion that complies with this article but violates the provisions of Section 44-41-20 or any otherwise applicable provision of South Carolina law must be considered unlawful as provided in such provision. An abortion that complies with the provisions of Section 44-41-20 or any otherwise applicable provision of South Carolina law regulating or restricting abortion but violates this article must be considered unlawful as provided in this article. If some or all of the provisions of this article are ever temporarily or permanently restrained or enjoined by judicial order, all other provisions of South Carolina law regulating or restricting abortion must be enforced as though such restrained or enjoined provisions had not been adopted; provided, however, that whenever such temporary or permanent restraining order or injunction is stayed or dissolved, or otherwise ceases to have effect, such provisions shall have full force and effect.~~

~~Section 44-41-720. Nothing in this article prohibits the sale, use, prescription, or administration of a drug, device, or chemical that is designed for contraceptive purposes.~~

~~Section 44-41-730. A pregnant woman on whom an abortion is performed or induced in violation of this article may not be criminally prosecuted for violating any of the provisions of this article or for attempting to commit, conspiring to commit, or acting complicitly in committing a violation of any of the provisions of the article and is not subject to a civil or criminal penalty based on the abortion being performed or induced in violation of any of the provisions of this article.~~

~~Section 44-41-740. (A) A woman who meets any one or more of the following criteria may file a civil action in a court of competent jurisdiction:~~

~~— (1) a woman on whom an abortion was performed or induced in violation of this article; or~~

TUESDAY, MAY 16, 2023

~~—(2) a woman on whom an abortion was performed or induced who was not given the information provided in Section 44-41-330.~~

~~—(B) A woman who prevails in an action filed pursuant to subsection (A) shall receive the following from the person who committed the act or acts described in subsection (A):~~

~~—(1) damages in an amount equal to ten thousand dollars or an amount determined by the trier of fact after consideration of the evidence; and~~

~~—(2) court costs and reasonable attorney's fees.~~

~~—(C) If the defendant in an action filed pursuant to subsection (A) prevails and the court finds that the commencement of the action constitutes frivolous conduct and that the defendant was adversely affected by the frivolous conduct, then the court shall award reasonable attorney's fees to the defendant; provided, however, that a conclusion of frivolousness cannot rest upon the unconstitutionality of the provision that was allegedly violated.~~

SECTION 3. Article 1, Chapter 41, Title 44 of the S.C. Code is amended by adding:

Section 44-41-90. (A) No funds appropriated by the State for employer contributions to the State Health Insurance Plan may be expended to reimburse the expenses of an abortion, except as provided in Sections 44-41-640, 44-41-650, and 44-41-660.

(B) No funds appropriated or authorized by the State may be used by any political subdivision of the State to purchase fetal tissue obtained from an abortion or fetal remains, nor may any political subdivision of the State accept donated fetal remains.

(C) No state funds may, directly or indirectly, be utilized by Planned Parenthood for abortions, abortion services or procedures, or administrative functions related to abortions.

SECTION 4. Article 3, Chapter 17, Title 63 of the S.C. Code is amended by adding:

Section 63-17-325. (A) A biological father of a child has a duty to pay the mother of the child the following financial obligations beginning with the date of conception:

(1) child support payment obligations in an amount determined pursuant to Section 63-17-470;

(2) fifty percent of the mother's pregnancy expenses.

(a) Any portion of a mother's pregnancy expenses paid by the mother or the biological father reduces that parent's fifty percent obligation regardless of when the mother or biological father pays the pregnancy expenses.

TUESDAY, MAY 16, 2023

(b) Pregnancy expenses must include fifty percent of the mother's insurance premiums that are not paid by her employer or governmental program beginning from the date of conception and before the pregnancy ends, unless otherwise ordered by the court.

(c) Item (2) does not apply if a court apportions pregnancy expenses as part of an award of child support in item (1).

(B) In the case of a mother who becomes pregnant as a result of rape or incest, the biological father, in addition to the duties imposed by subsection (A), also is responsible for the full cost of any expenses incurred by the mother for mental health counseling arising out of the rape or incest.

(C) The duties imposed by this section accrue at the time of conception and must be applied retroactively when paternity is contested, and medical evidence establishes the paternity of the child. Interest accrues on any retroactive obligations beginning with conception until either the obligations are brought current or paid in full whichever happens first. The rate of interest must be calculated based on the applicable interest rate for money decrees and judgments in this State established annually by the South Carolina Supreme Court.

SECTION 5. Article 1, Chapter 71, Title 38 of the S.C. Code is amended by adding:

Section 38-71-146. All individual and group health insurance and health maintenance organization policies in this State shall include coverage for contraceptives. For purposes of this section, "contraceptive" means the same as in Section 44-41-610(4). A contraceptive may prevent ovulation, fertilization, or implantation in the uterus. A contraceptive does not include any drug, device, or medication used with the intent of terminating a pregnancy of a woman known to be pregnant. This section does not apply if an individual or entity asserts a sincerely held religious belief regarding the use of contraception.

SECTION 6. Section 44-41-10 of the S.C. Code is amended to read:

Section 44-41-10. As used in this chapter:

~~(a) "Abortion" means the use of an instrument, medicine, drug, or other substance or device with intent to terminate the pregnancy of a woman known to be pregnant for reasons other than to increase the probability of a live birth, to preserve the life or health of the child after live birth, or to remove a dead fetus. (a) "Abortion" means the act of using or prescribing any instrument, medicine, drug, or any other substance, device, or means with the intent to terminate the clinically diagnosable pregnancy of a woman with knowledge that the termination by those means will, with reasonable likelihood, cause the death of the~~

(b) "Physician" means a person licensed to practice medicine in this State.

(c) "Department" means the South Carolina Department of Health and Environmental Control.

(h) "Consent" means a signed and witnessed voluntary agreement to the performance of an abortion.

(i) "First trimester of pregnancy" means the first twelve weeks of pregnancy commencing with conception rather than computed on the basis of the menstrual cycle.

(j) "Second trimester of pregnancy" means that portion of a pregnancy following the twelfth week and extending through the twenty-fourth week of gestation.

(k) "Third trimester of pregnancy" means that portion of a pregnancy beginning with the twenty-fifth week of gestation.

~~(l) "Viability" means that stage of human development when the fetus is potentially able to live outside of the mother's womb with or without the aid of artificial life support systems. For the purposes of this chapter, a legal presumption is hereby created that viability occurs no sooner than the twenty-fourth week of pregnancy.~~

~~—(m)~~ "Minor" means a female under the age of seventeen.

~~(n)~~(m) "Emancipated minor" means a minor who is or has been married or has by court order been freed from the care, custody, and control of her parents.

TUESDAY, MAY 16, 2023

~~(e)~~(n) “In loco parentis” means any person over the age of eighteen who has placed himself or herself in the position of a lawful parent by assuming obligations which are incidental to the parental relationship and has so served for a period of sixty days.

SECTION 7. Section 44-41-60 of the S.C. Code is amended to read:

Section 44-41-60. Any abortion performed in this State must be reported by the performing physician on the standard form for reporting abortions to the State Registrar, Department of Health and Environmental Control, within seven days after the abortion is performed. The names of the patient and physician may not be reported on the form or otherwise disclosed to the State Registrar. The form must indicate from whom consent was obtained, circumstances waiving consent, and, if an exception was exercised pursuant to Section ~~44-41-640, 44-41-650, or 44-41-660~~, which exception the physician relied upon in performing or inducing the abortion.

SECTION 8. Section 44-41-70(b) of the S.C. Code is amended to read:

(b) The department shall promulgate and enforce regulations for the licensing and certification of facilities other than hospitals as defined in Section 44-41-10(d) wherein abortions are to be performed ~~as provided for in Section 44-41-20(a) and (b)~~.

SECTION 9. Section 44-41-80 of the S.C. Code is amended to read:

Section 44-41-80. (a) Any person, except as permitted by this chapter, who provides, supplies, prescribes or administers any drug, medicine, prescription or substance to any woman or uses or employs any device, instrument or other means upon any woman, with the intent to produce an abortion shall be deemed guilty of a felony and, upon conviction, shall be punished by imprisonment for a term of not less than two nor more than five years or fined not more than five thousand dollars, or both. Provided, that the provisions of this item shall not apply to any woman upon whom an abortion has been attempted or performed.

~~(b) Except as otherwise permitted by this chapter, any woman who solicits of any person or otherwise procures any drug, medicine, prescription or substance and administers it to herself or who submits to any operation or procedure or who uses or employs any device or instrument or other means with intent to produce an abortion, unless it is necessary to preserve her life, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and, upon conviction, shall be punished by imprisonment for a term of not more than two years or fined not more than one thousand dollars, or both.~~

~~—(c)—~~Any woman upon whom an abortion has been performed or attempted in violation of the provisions of this chapter may be compelled to testify in any criminal prosecution initiated pursuant to subsection (a) of this section; provided, however, that such testimony shall not be admissible in any civil or criminal action against such woman and she shall be forever immune from any prosecution for having solicited or otherwise procured the performance of the abortion or the attempted performance of the abortion upon her.

SECTION 10. Section 44-41-330(A) of the S.C. Code is amended to read:

(A) Except in the case of a medical emergency and in addition to any other consent required by the laws of this State, no abortion may be performed or induced without the voluntary and informed written consent of the pregnant woman and unless the following conditions have been satisfied:

(1)(a) ~~The~~ While physically present in the same room, the woman must be informed by the physician who is to perform the abortion ~~or by~~, an allied health professional working in conjunction with the physician, or the referring physician of the procedure to be involved ~~and by the physician who is to perform the abortion of the probable gestational age of the embryo or fetus at the time the abortion is to be performed,~~ including:

(i) the nature and risks of undergoing or not undergoing the proposed procedure that a reasonable patient would consider material to making a knowing and wilful decision of whether to have an abortion;

(ii) the probable gestational age of the unborn child, verified by an ultrasound, at the time the abortion is to be performed;

(iii) the presence of the unborn child's fetal heartbeat, if present and viewable.

~~(b)-~~ If an ultrasound is required to be performed, an abortion may not be performed sooner than sixty minutes following completion of the ultrasound. The ultrasound must be performed by the physician who is to perform the abortion or by a person having documented evidence that he or she is a certified sonographer under South Carolina law and who is working in conjunction with the physician. The physician who is to perform the abortion or an allied health professional working in conjunction with the physician must inform the woman before the ultrasound procedure of her right to view the live ultrasound ~~image~~ images and hear the unborn child's fetal heartbeat, if present, at her request during or after the ultrasound procedure and to have them explained to her.

(c) If the woman accepts the opportunity to view the images and hear the explanation, a physician or a registered nurse, licensed practical nurse, or physician assistant working in conjunction with the physician must contemporaneously review and explain the images to the woman before the woman gives informed consent to having an abortion procedure performed.

(d) The woman has a right to decline to view and hear the explanation of the live ultrasound images after she is informed of her right and offered an opportunity to view the images and hear the explanation. If the woman declines, the woman shall complete a form acknowledging that she was offered an opportunity to view and hear the explanation of the images but that she declined that opportunity. The form also must indicate that the woman's decision was not based on any undue influence from any person to discourage her from viewing the images or hearing the explanation and that she declined of her own free will.

~~(b)~~(e) If the physician who intends to perform or induce an abortion on a pregnant woman has determined pursuant to Section 44-41-620, 44-41-630, and 44-41-330(A) that the ~~human fetus~~ unborn child the pregnant woman is carrying has a detectable fetal heartbeat, then that physician shall inform the pregnant woman in writing that the ~~human fetus~~ unborn child the pregnant woman is carrying has a fetal heartbeat. The physician shall further inform the pregnant woman, to the best of the physician's knowledge, of the statistical probability, absent an induced abortion, of bringing the human fetus possessing a detectable fetal heartbeat to term based on the gestational age of the human fetus or, if the director of the department has specified statistical probability information, shall provide to the pregnant woman that information. The department may promulgate regulations that specify information regarding the statistical probability of bringing an unborn child possessing a detectable fetal heartbeat to term based on the gestational age of the unborn child. Any regulations must be based on available medical evidence.

(2) The woman must be presented by the physician who is to perform the abortion or by an allied health professional working in conjunction with the physician a written form containing the following statement: "You have the right to review printed materials prepared by the State of South Carolina which describe fetal development, list agencies which offer alternatives to abortion, and describe medical assistance benefits which may be available for prenatal care, childbirth, and neonatal care. You have the right to view your ultrasound image." This form must be signed and dated by both the physician who is to perform the procedure and the pregnant woman upon whom the procedure is to be performed.

(3) The woman must certify in writing, before the abortion, that the information described in item (1) of this subsection has been furnished her, and that she has been informed of her opportunity to review the information referred to in item (2) of this subsection.

(4) Before performing the abortion, the physician who is to perform or induce the abortion must determine that the written certification prescribed by item (3) of this subsection or the certification required by subsection (D) has been signed. This subsection does not apply in the case where an abortion is performed pursuant to a court order.

SECTION 11. The Public Employee Benefit Authority and the State Health Plan shall cover prescribed contraceptives for dependents under the same terms and conditions that the Plan provides contraceptive coverage for employees and spouses. The State Health Plan shall not apply patient cost sharing provisions to covered contraceptives.

SECTION 12. The President of the Senate, on behalf of the Senate, and the Speaker of the House of Representatives, on behalf of the House of Representatives have an unconditional right to intervene on behalf of their respective bodies in a state court action and may provide evidence or argument, written or oral, if a party to that court action challenges the constitutionality of this act. In a federal court action that challenges the constitutionality of this act the Legislature may seek to intervene, to file an amicus brief, or to present arguments in accordance with federal rules of procedure. Intervention by the Legislature pursuant to this provision does not limit the duty of the Attorney General to appear and prosecute legal actions or defend state agencies, officers or employees as otherwise provided. In any action in which the Legislature intervenes or participates, the Senate and the House of Representatives shall function independently from each other in the representation of their respective clients.

SECTION 13. A. SECTION 2 of Act 1 of 2021 and Section 44-41-20 of the S.C. Code are repealed.

B. Article 5, Chapter 41, Title 44 of the S.C. Code is repealed. However, if some or all of the provisions contained in SECTION 2 of this act are ever temporarily or permanently restrained or enjoined by judicial order, or are held to be unconstitutional or invalid, then all of the provisions of Article 5, Chapter 41, Title 44 are reenacted retroactively to the date the judicial order either temporarily or permanently restraining or enjoining some or all of the provisions

Amend the bill, by striking all after the enacting words and inserting:

SECTION 1. This act may be cited as the “South Carolina Prenatal Equal Protection Act of 2023”.

SECTION 2. The General Assembly finds the following:

Acknowledging the sanctity of innocent human life, created in the image of God, which should be equally protected from fertilization to natural death, the purpose of this act is:

(1) to afford equal protection of the laws to all preborn children from the moment of fertilization;

(2) to comply with the Constitution of the United States, which requires that “no state...shall deny to any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the laws,” by repealing exceptions that permit wilful prenatal homicide;

(3) to ensure that all persons potentially subject to such laws are entitled to due process protections; and, therefore,

(4) to abolish abortion in this State as a legal act or as a crime separate and distinct from equivalent acts committed against a person who has been born.

SECTION 3.A. Article 1, Chapter 3, Title 16 of the S.C. Code is amended by adding:

Section 16-3-6. (A) As used in this article, “fertilization” means the fusion of a human spermatozoon with a human ovum.

(B) As used in this article, “person” includes an unborn child at every stage of development from fertilization until birth.

B. Article 1, Chapter 3, Title 16 of the S.C. Code is amended by adding:

Section 16-3-105. Where the victim is an unborn child and the defendant is the child’s mother, it is a defense to prosecution under this article that the mother engaged in the proscribed conduct because she was compelled to do so by the threat of imminent death or great bodily injury.

Section 16-3-106. In a prosecution under this article where the victim is an unborn child, unless specifically provided otherwise:

(1) enforcement is subject to the same presumptions, defenses, justifications, laws of parties, immunities, and clemencies as would apply to the homicide of a person who had been born alive;

(2) solicitors and the Attorney General shall have concurrent authority to prosecute criminal cases and to perform any duty that necessarily relates to such prosecution; and

(3) this article prevails over other law to the extent of any conflict.

Section 16-3-107. (A) Medical care or treatment provided with the requisite consent by a licensed physician to avert the death of a pregnant woman that results in the accidental or unintentional injury or death of her unborn child when all reasonable alternatives to save the life of the unborn child were attempted or none were available does not constitute a violation of this article.

(B) Mistake or unintentional error on the part of a licensed physician or other licensed health care provider or his or her employee or agent or any person acting on behalf of the patient shall not subject the licensed physician or other licensed health care provider or person acting on behalf of the patient to any criminal liability under this article.

(C) Medical care or treatment includes, but is not limited to, ordering, dispensation, or administration of prescribed medications and medical procedures.

Section 16-3-108. Any person may be compelled to testify in any action or prosecution initiated pursuant to this article where the victim is an unborn child; provided, however, that such testimony shall not be admissible in any civil or criminal action against such witness and such witness shall forever be exempt from any prosecution for the act concerning which the witness testifies except a prosecution for perjury.

SECTION 4. Article 7, Chapter 3, Title 16 of the S.C. Code is amended by adding:

Section 16-3-760. (A) As used in this article, "fertilization" means the fusion of a human spermatozoon with a human ovum.

(B) As used in this article, "person" includes an unborn child at every stage of development from fertilization until birth.

Section 16-3-761. Where the victim is an unborn child and the defendant is the child's mother, it is a defense to prosecution under this article that the mother engaged in the proscribed conduct because she was compelled to do so by the threat of imminent death or great bodily injury.

Section 16-3-762. In a prosecution under this article where the victim is an unborn child, unless specifically provided otherwise:

(1) enforcement is subject to the same presumptions, defenses, justifications, laws of parties, immunities, and clemencies as would apply to the assault of a person who had been born alive;

(2) solicitors and the Attorney General shall have concurrent authority to prosecute criminal cases and to perform any duty that necessarily relates to such prosecution; and

(3) this article prevails over other law to the extent of any conflict.

Section 16-3-763. (A) Medical care or treatment provided with the requisite consent by a licensed physician to avert the death of a pregnant woman that results in the accidental or unintentional injury or death of her unborn child when all reasonable alternatives to save the life of the unborn child were attempted or none were available does not constitute a violation of this article.

(B) Mistake, or unintentional error on the part of a licensed physician or other licensed health care provider or his or her employee or agent or any person acting on behalf of the patient shall not subject the licensed physician or other licensed health care provider or person acting on behalf of the patient to any criminal liability under this article.

(C) Medical care or treatment includes, but is not limited to, ordering, dispensation, or administration of prescribed medications and medical procedures.

Section 16-3-764. Any person may be compelled to testify in any action or prosecution initiated pursuant to this article where the victim is an unborn child; provided, however, that such testimony shall not be admissible in any civil or criminal action against such witness and such witness shall forever be exempt from any prosecution for the act concerning which the witness testifies except a prosecution for perjury.

SECTION 5. This act is prospective only and shall not apply to conduct committed prior to the effective date of this act.

SECTION 6. Section 16-3-1083, Chapter 41 of Title 44, and any other existing provisions relating to prenatal homicide or assault or regulating abortion or abortion facilities are not repealed but are superseded to the extent that such provisions may conflict with or may be inconsistent with this act.

POINT OF ORDER

Rep. BAMBERG raised the Point of Order under Rule 5.13 that S.474 did not contain a fiscal impact statement.

Rep. KING argued in favor of the Point of Order and stated that the fiscal impact in the Bill was incomplete and not satisfactory.

ACTING SPEAKER W. NEWTON overruled the Point of Order. He stated that the Bill contained a fiscal impact and that it was not his position as Speaker to determine the accuracy or validity of the fiscal impact. Instead, it was the Speaker's responsibility to determine whether a fiscal impact statement existed – as required by the Rule. He overruled the Point of Order.

SECTION 1. This act may be cited as the “Reproductive Freedom Bill of Rights Act”.

SECTION 2. Title 44 of the S.C. Code is amended by adding:

CHAPTER 140

Reproductive Rights

Article 1

Definitions

Section 44-140-10. For the purposes of this chapter:

(1) “Abortion” means the use of an instrument, medicine, drug, or other substance or device with intent to terminate the pregnancy of a woman known to be pregnant for reasons other than to increase the probability of a live birth, to preserve the life or health of the child after live birth, or to remove a dead fetus.

(2) “Abortion-inducing drugs” means a medicine, drug, or any other substance prescribed or dispensed with the intent of terminating the clinically diagnosable pregnancy of a woman, with knowledge that the termination will with reasonable likelihood cause the death of the unborn child. This includes off-label use of drugs known to have abortion-inducing properties, which are prescribed specifically with the intent of causing an abortion, such as misoprostol (Cytotec) and methotrexate. This definition does not apply to drugs that may be known to cause an abortion but which are prescribed for other medical indications including, but not limited to, chemotherapeutic agents or diagnostic drugs. Use of such drugs to induce abortion is also known as “medical”, “drug-induced.”

TUESDAY, MAY 16, 2023

(3) “Assistive reproductive technologies” means treatments or procedures that involve the handling of human egg, sperm, and embryo outside the body with the intent of facilitating a pregnancy. Assistive reproductive technologies include, but are not limited to, in-vitro fertilization, egg, embryo, or sperm cryopreservation, egg or embryo donation, and gestational surrogacy.

(4) “Contraceptive” means any drug, device, medication, or method used to prevent pregnancy. A contraceptive may prevent ovulation, fertilization, or implantation in the uterus.

(5) “Department” means the Department of Health and Environmental Control.

(6) “Emergency contraception” means a form of contraception that is effective if administered within a specified period of time after sexual intercourse.

(7) “Hospital” means those institutions licensed for hospital operation by the department in accordance with Article 3, Chapter 7 of this title and which have also been certified by the department to be suitable facilities for the performance of abortions.

(8) “Infertility” means the inability to establish pregnancy after twelve months of regular, unprotected sexual intercourse; or a person’s incapacity for reproduction either as an individual or with his partner, which may be determined after a period of less than twelve months of regular, unprotected sexual intercourse, or based on medical, sexual, and reproductive history, age, physical findings, or diagnostic testing.

(9) “Pregnant” means the condition of a woman carrying a developing embryo or fetus within her body. Pregnancy does not begin until a zygote is implanted in the uterine wall.

(10) “Spontaneous abortion” means a noninduced embryonic or fetal death or passage of products of conception before twenty weeks gestation.

(11) “Viability” means the state of fetal development when the life of the fetus may be continued indefinitely outside the womb by natural or artificial life-supportive systems. A legal presumption is hereby created that viability occurs no sooner than the twenty-fourth week of pregnancy, recognizing that some pregnancies may never become viable.

Article 3

Abortions Generally

Section 44-140-310. An abortion may be performed or induced by a physician on a woman with her consent prior to the viability of her fetus. The decision to have an abortion prior to the viability of her fetus shall be solely that of the pregnant woman in consultation with her physician.

Section 44-140-320. An abortion may be performed or induced by a physician after a fetus reaches viability only with a pregnant woman's consent and only when the:

- (1) abortion is necessary based upon her physician's best medical judgment to preserve the life or health of the woman;
- (2) pregnancy was the result of rape;
- (3) pregnancy was the result of incest; or
- (4) abortion is necessary based upon a fetal diagnosis that is incompatible with life.

Section 44-140-330. A physician practicing telemedicine in accordance with the requirements contained in Section 40-47-37 may prescribe abortion-inducing drugs.

Section 44-140-340. A pregnant woman may not be kept alive by artificial methods in order to carry a pregnancy to term without her consent. In the event of incapacity, a pregnant woman may not be kept alive by artificial methods in order to carry a pregnancy to term without the consent of her medical power of attorney, next of kin, or immediate family members, in that order of priority.

Section 44-140-350. No person may seize any blood, DNA, medical waste, or anything related to an abortion in order to be used in prosecuting an allegation of rape or incest without the written consent of the woman upon whom the abortion was performed or induced. In the event that the woman upon whom the abortion was performed was a minor, consent must be obtained from one of her parents or legal guardian who is not alleged to have committed the rape or incest that resulted in the pregnancy.

Section 44-140-360.(A) No private or nongovernmental hospital or clinic shall be required to admit any patient for the purpose of performing or inducing an abortion, nor shall such institutions be required to permit their facilities to be utilized to perform or induce abortions. No cause of action shall arise against any such hospital or clinic for refusal to perform or induce or to allow the performance or induction of an abortion if the institution has adopted a policy to not admit patients for the purpose of performing or inducing abortions; provided that no hospital or clinic shall refuse an emergency admittance.

(B)(1) No physician, nurse, technician, or other employee of a hospital, clinic, or physician shall be required to recommend, perform, induce, or assist in the performance or induction of an abortion if he advises the hospital, clinic, or employing physician in writing that he objects to performing, inducing, assisting, or otherwise participating in such procedures. Such notice will suffice without specification of the reason therefor.

(2) No physician, nurse, technician, or other person who refuses to perform, induce, or assist in the performance or induction of an abortion shall be liable to any person for damages allegedly arising from such refusal.

(3) No physician, nurse, technician or other person who refuses to perform, induce, assist in the performance or induction of an abortion shall because of that refusal be dismissed, suspended, demoted, or otherwise disciplined or discriminated against by the hospital or clinic with which he is affiliated or by which he is employed. A civil action for damages or reinstatement of employment, or both, may be prosecuted by any person whose employment or affiliation with a hospital or clinic has been altered or terminated in violation of this chapter; provided that no physician, nurse, technician, or other person may refuse to provide care in a medical emergency.

(4) Any physician who performs an abortion shall also provide, for proper compensation, necessary aftercare for his patient unless released by the patient in writing. The extent of aftercare required shall be that care customarily provided by physicians in such cases in accordance with accepted medical practice.

(C) A private or nongovernmental hospital or clinic, or a physician, nurse, technician, or other person who refuses to provide emergency contraception to a rape victim must inform the rape victim as soon as practicable of her right to emergency contraception and where she can obtain emergency contraception, including a referral to another medical facility or physician.

Section 44-140-370. Any abortion performed or induced in this State must be reported by the performing physician on the standard form for reporting abortions to the State Registrar, Department of Health and Environmental Control, within seven days after the abortion is performed or induced. The names of the patient and physician may not be reported on the form or otherwise disclosed to the State Registrar. The form must indicate from whom consent was obtained, circumstances waiving consent, and, if an exception was exercised pursuant to Section 44-140-320, which exception the physician relied upon in performing or inducing the abortion.

Section 44-140-380.(A)(1) The department shall promulgate and enforce regulations for the certification of hospitals as defined in Section 44-140-10 as suitable facilities for the performance of abortions.

TUESDAY, MAY 16, 2023

(2) The department shall promulgate and enforce regulations for the licensing and certification of facilities other than hospitals as defined in Section 44-140-10(7) wherein abortions are to be performed or induced.

(B)(1) A facility in which five or more abortions are performed or induced in a month must be licensed by the department to operate as an abortion clinic.

(2) The department shall promulgate regulations concerning sanitation, housekeeping, maintenance, staff qualifications, emergency equipment and procedures to provide emergency care, medical records and reports, laboratory, procedure and recovery rooms, physical plant, quality assurance, infection control, and information on and access to patient follow-up care necessary to carry out the purposes of this section.

Section 44-140-390.(A) A pregnant woman who is experiencing or has experienced a miscarriage or spontaneous abortion is immune from all legal action, including police investigation and prosecution.

(B) Physicians are authorized to treat a woman experiencing a spontaneous abortion or miscarriage or who has already experienced a spontaneous abortion or miscarriage with any medical procedure or pharmaceutical deemed by medical professionals to be the appropriate standard of care.

(C) Pharmacists are authorized to dispense medication known to induce abortions for the treatment of miscarriage or spontaneous abortion.

Section 44-140-400. All medical schools in this State must include training on miscarriage and spontaneous abortion management in their required instruction of students who will provide reproductive care to women.

Section 44-140-410. It is unlawful to deceive, or attempt to deceive, a woman, regardless of whether the woman is pregnant, by providing her with false or misleading information concerning the gestational age of her fetus, her due date, how much time she has to make a decision concerning an abortion, or any other false or misleading information that may impact a woman's decision concerning her pregnancy and whether to have an abortion. A person who violates this section is guilty of a felony, and, upon conviction, must be fined up to ten thousand dollars or imprisoned for up to five years, or both.

Section 44-140-420. The General Assembly may not appropriate funds or otherwise commit resources to crisis pregnancy centers or any other facility that inaccurately presents itself as a health care facility.

Section 44-140-430. All data related to a woman's fertility, including data related to tracking menstrual cycles must:

TUESDAY, MAY 16, 2023

- (1) remain confidential and may not be released to anyone without the woman's prior written consent; and
- (2) not be used as evidence in any prosecution of the woman.

Article 5

Abortions on Minors

Section 44-140-510. (A) No person may perform an abortion upon a minor unless consent is obtained in accordance with one of the following provisions:

(1) the attending physician or his agent or the referring physician or his agent has secured the informed written consent, signed and witnessed, of the pregnant minor and:

- (a) one parent of the minor; or
- (b) a legal guardian of the minor; or
- (c) a grandparent of the minor; or
- (d) any person who has been standing in loco parentis to the minor for a period not less than sixty days;

(2) the minor is emancipated and the attending physician or his agent has received the informed signed written consent of the minor; or

(3) the attending physician or his agent has obtained the informed signed written consent of the minor and has received the order of the court obtained by the minor pursuant to this chapter.

(B) If a parent or legal guardian refuses to give the informed written consent for the minor's abortion and there has been a judicial finding of refusal of consent, and the minor has a child or children as a result of that pregnancy, the duty imposed by law of supporting the child or children extends to the minor and jointly and severally to the refusing parent or legal guardian and the natural father until the minor reaches the age of eighteen years or is emancipated.

(C) Any person standing in loco parentis and who consents to the abortion of the minor as permitted in subsection (A)(1) shall sign an affidavit indicating the nature and length of his or her relationship with the minor. The affidavit must state the penalties for wilfully or knowingly making a false representation. Anyone who knowingly or wilfully makes a false representation in the affidavit shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and, upon conviction, must be fined not more than three thousand dollars or imprisoned for not more than one year.

Section 44-140-520. Every minor has the right to petition the court for an order granting her the right to obtain an abortion without the consent. In seeking this relief the following procedures apply:

- (1) The minor may prepare and file a petition in either the circuit or family court. The petition may be filed in the name of Jane Doe to protect the anonymity of the minor.

(2) The Adoption and Birth Parent Services Division of the Department of Social Services, upon request of the minor, must provide assistance to the minor in preparing and filing the petition. Preparation and filing of the petition must be completed within forty-eight hours after the request. The Department of Social Services shall promulgate regulations establishing the procedures to be followed in providing this assistance.

(3) Upon the filing of the petition, the court shall appoint a guardian ad litem for the minor, taking into consideration the preference of the minor. The minor may participate in court proceedings on her own behalf, but the court shall advise her that she has a right to court-appointed counsel and shall provide her with counsel upon her request.

(4) All proceedings pursuant to this section must be given precedence over other matters pending before the court.

(5) The court shall hold a hearing and rule on the merits of the petition within seventy-two hours of the filing of the petition. This time may be extended upon the request of the minor. The court shall consider the emotional and physical development, maturity, intellect, and understanding of the minor; the nature and possible consequences of the abortion and of the alternatives to the abortion; and other evidence that the court may find useful in determining whether the minor should be granted the right on her own behalf to consent to the abortion or whether the abortion is in the best interest of the minor. The court shall weigh this against the ability of the minor to provide and care for a child. The court also shall consider the risks of an abortion versus the risks of pregnancy, including the maternal and infant mortality rates in this State.

Section 44-140-530.(A) The court shall enter a written order stating findings of fact and conclusions of law in support of its decision to:

(1) grant the minor the right on her own behalf to consent to the abortion if the court finds that the minor is mature and well-informed enough to make the abortion decision on her own;

(2) grant consent for the abortion if the court finds that the performance of the abortion would be in the minor's best interest; or

(3) deny the petition if the court finds that the minor is immature and that performance of the abortion would not be in the minor's best interest. If the father of the child born after the denial of the petition is identified by adjudication, he shall share in the expenses of the delivery and rearing of the child as determined by the court. Orders issued under this item shall specify that the minor shall have the right to counseling services, appropriate prenatal care, delivery, neonatal, and postnatal care, the cost of which may be paid by the State. Additionally, the State shall have subrogation rights against the father for payments made by the State on behalf of the child.

(B) The court shall immediately issue a written order to the minor, her guardian ad litem, attorney, or other person designated by the minor to receive notice on her behalf.

Section 44-140-540.(A) A minor has the right to appeal to the Supreme Court a decision rendered pursuant to Section 44-140-530. She is entitled to an anonymous and expeditious appellate review which takes precedence over other matters pending before the court.

(B) A minor who declares she has insufficient funds to pursue the procedures provided in this section or in Section 44-140-520 must not be required to pay the costs associated with these procedures.

(C) The notice of intent to appeal must be filed with the court issuing the order within seventy-two hours from the date the order is received. The record on appeal must be completed and the appeal must be perfected within ten days from the filing of the notice of intent to appeal. These filing requirements are not considered jurisdictional and may be extended by the Supreme Court upon request of the minor for good cause shown.

(D) All hearings conducted under this section and Section 44-140-520 must be closed to the public. All records related to these sections and Section 44-140-520 are not open to public examination and must be sealed by the court.

(E) The Supreme Court shall adopt rules governing the administration of the courts or practice and procedure before such courts necessary to carry out the provisions of this section and Sections 44-140-520 and 44-140-530.

Section 44-140-550. Failure to obtain required consent constitutes prima facie evidence of interference with family relations in appropriate civil actions. The law of this State does not preclude the award of exemplary damages in an appropriate civil action relevant to violations concerning a minor. Nothing in this chapter may be construed to limit the common law rights of parents.

Section 44-140-560.(A) A person who intentionally performs an abortion with knowledge that, or with reckless disregard as to whether, the person upon whom the abortion is to be performed is an unemancipated minor, and who intentionally or knowingly fails to conform to any requirement in this article is guilty of a misdemeanor and, upon conviction, must be fined not less than two thousand dollars nor more than ten thousand dollars or imprisoned for not more than three years, or both. No part of the minimum fine may be suspended. For conviction of a second or subsequent offense, the sentence must be imprisonment for not less than sixty days nor more than three years, none of which may be suspended.

(B) A physician or any person employed or connected with a physician, hospital, or health care facility performing abortions who acts in good faith is justified in relying on the representations of the unemancipated minor or of any other person providing the information required under this chapter. A physician or other person who furnishes professional services related to an act authorized or required by this chapter and who relies upon the information furnished pursuant to this chapter may not be held to have violated any criminal law or to be civilly liable for the reliance, provided that the physician or other person acted in good faith.

Section 44-140-570.(A) A physician or other professional person or agency counseling or discussing with a minor the question of her obtaining an abortion shall fully inform her of the procedures she must follow under law to obtain an abortion without the required consent.

(B) The Adoption and Birth Parent Services Division of the Department of Social Services shall develop and distribute brochures to health and education professionals for use in counseling pregnant minors. This brochure shall include the following:

- (1) how to access her local health department for prenatal care;
- (2) how to access her local Adoption and Birth Parent Services Division of the Department of Social Services or any private not-for-profit adoption service;
- (3) the parental consent requirement as outlined in this bill;
- (4) the judicial by-pass procedure as provided in this article; and
- (5) how to access her local mental health center for counseling services.

This includes off label use of drugs known to have abortion inducing properties, which are prescribed specifically with the intent of causing an abortion, such as misoprostol (Cytotec), and methotrexate. This definition does not apply to drugs that may be known to cause an abortion, but which are prescribed for other medical indications including, but not limited to, chemotherapeutic agents or diagnostic drugs. (8) “Medical emergency” means a condition that, by any reasonable medical judgment, a condition exists that has complicated the pregnant woman’s medical condition and necessitates an abortion to prevent death or a so complicates the medical condition of a pregnant woman that it necessitates the immediate abortion of her pregnancy to avert her death without first determining whether there is a detectable fetal heartbeat or for which the delay necessary to determine whether there is a detectable fetal heartbeat will create serious risk of a substantial and irreversible physical impairment of a major bodily function, not including psychological or emotional conditions. POINT OF ORDER

Rep. OTT raised the Point of Order under Article III, Section 17, of the South Carolina Constitution that S.474 violated the one-subject rule and should be ruled unconstitutional and out of order.

ACTING SPEAKER W. NEWTON stated that there were numerous House precedents, including rulings by former Speakers Wilkins, Harrell, and Lucas where the Speaker stated he could not rule upon substantive questions of law, like Article III, Section 17, because the doctrine of separation of powers dictated that only the court system rule upon substantive questions. He stated further that the Speaker, as presiding officer, could only rule upon procedural points of order, and he sustained the Point of Order.

ACTING SPEAKER HIOTT IN CHAIR

Reps. KING and BAMBERG proposed the following Amendment No. 71 to S. 474 (LC-474.HA1042H), which was rejected:

POINT OF ORDER

Rep. HIOTT raised the Rule 8.3 Point of Order that Amendments 185-193, 204-208, 220-233, 328-389, 478, 502, 577, 604-626, 642-650, 667-678, 782, 788-802, 803-834, and 835-877 were dilatory.

Rep. KING argued contra.

ACTING SPEAKER W. NEWTON stated that he concurred in the statement that the Amendments were dilatory. He stated that the Amendments all dealt with the subject of providing protection and security to locations that perform abortion services with the only difference being the location (county or city) required to provide the protective services. He also said that several of the Amendments were identical to each other and identified locations that do not exist. He sustained the Point of Order and ruled the Amendments out of order.

Reps. KING and BAMBERG proposed the following Amendment No. 108 to S. 474 (LC-474.SA0402H), which was rejected:

Amend the bill, as and if amended, SECTION 2, by adding a Section to read:

Section 44-41-750. If a woman is the victim of a sexual assault on private property abutting public lands categorized as a public park or monument, state or federal, or privately held land in conservation trust or easement, and if that assault results in a pregnancy for which the woman is denied access to an abortion due to time expiry, then that property on which the assault occurred must be seized by the State. The value of the property must be paid to the woman who was assaulted, became pregnant as the result of the assault, was denied an abortion due to time expiry. The property must be condemned, and any buildings or structures razed. The land immediately must be turned over to a conservation land trust or be titled to a conservation easement and no further structures built on the property for perpetuity.
