Recorded Vote

Senators CORBIN, CLIMER, YOUNG and KIMBRELL desired to be recorded as voting against the adoption of the amendment.

Statement by Senators MASSEY, M. JOHNSON, ADAMS CLIMER, BENNETT, ALEXANDER and TURNER

Today the Senate voted on Amendment 7 to H. 3594 to exempt members of the General Assembly from all restrictions on the carrying of a handgun. While the vote was a voice vote, we voted no.

When members of the General Assembly create laws and then exempt themselves from those laws, we believe we lose sight of our role in this process. Members of the General Assembly should not believe they are above the laws of this State, especially when the laws of this State pertain to a fundamental right such as the Second Amendment. That type of hubris leads to bad laws and treats members of the General Assembly as if we are somehow superior to those we serve. It is for that reason that we voted no.

Statement by Senator YOUNG

Amendment 7 to H. 3494 as adopted exempts members of the General Assembly from all restrictions as to the carrying of a handgun. The amendment was adopted as a voice vote and I voted "No". I do not support this.

Statement by Senator KIMBRELL

I believe members of the General Assembly should be bound by the laws that we impose on our fellow citizens. As such, I oppose any effort to exempt any of us from laws that apply to the public.

(V)(1) The State Law Enforcement Division shall provide a state-wide concealed weapon permit training course that satisfies the proof of training requirement for the issuance of a concealed weapon permit. SLED may not charge participants a fee of any kind for the concealed weapon permit training course provided for in this subsection. SLED may contract with private certified concealed weapon permit training class instructors or local law enforcement to provide the course or SLED itself may provide the course.

(2) The training course must be offered in every county in South Carolina at least twice per month. If demand exceeds the capacity of the training course in any county, SLED shall provide additional classes until there exists a sufficient number of classes offered at least twice a month to meet the demand for training in each respective county. If SLED is unable to contract with a certified concealed weapon permit training class instructor or local law enforcement in any county, SLED must conduct the training class for that county.

(3) This program does not prohibit any certified concealed weapon permit training class instructors from providing their own training classes and charging participants a fee.

SECTION X. Chapter 23, Title 16 of the S.C. Code is amended by adding:

Section 16-23-495. (A) A person convicted of committing or attempting to commit a crime involving a concealable weapon as defined by 23-31-210(5) in violation of an offense listed in Chapter 23, Title 16, or a violation of Section 10-11-320, must be imprisoned for a consecutive sentence of up to three in addition to the sentence imposed for the underlying offense, but this sentence may not exceed the actual sentence imposed for the underlying offense.

(B) This section does not apply to a person with a valid permit to carry a concealable weapon issued pursuant to Article 4, Chapter 31, Title 23, provided that the permit was valid at the time the crime was committed.

(C) The additional punishment may not be imposed unless the indictment alleged as a separate count that the person was in possession of a concealable weapon without a valid concealed weapon permit during the commission of the crime and conviction was had upon this count in the indictment. The penalties prescribed in this section may not be imposed unless the person convicted was at the same time indicted and convicted of the underlying crime.

(D) The State Law Enforcement Division shall develop a document and distribute it to retailers that are federally licensed to engage in the business of dealing in or selling firearms in South Carolina. Such retailers shall provide the document to gun purchasers in South Carolina to inform them that South Carolina law provides a process for gun owners to obtain a concealed weapon permit and allows law-abiding gun owners to carry their weapons without a permit. The document must inform gun purchasers that if a gun owner commits a crime involving a concealable weapon, and the owner does not have a valid concealed weapon permit, then there may be an additional criminal penalty for the underlying offense.

(E) The State Law Enforcement Division must conduct a regular, statewide marketing campaign to inform South Carolinians that South Carolina law provides a process for gun owners to obtain a concealed weapon permit and allows law-abiding gun owners to carry their weapons without a permit. Remarks by Senator HUTTO

Over 70% of people in this State believe if you are going to carry a gun on the street you should have training. This Bill does not do that. This Bill says we are going to put guns on the street with no required training.

This legislation criminalizes rather than protects. It provides for enhanced penalties for making a mistake. If you make a mistake, we are going to put you in jail. For example, if you did not see the placard announcing no guns allowed in the store and you walk in with your gun, you then have up to three years in jail. If you drive onto the campus of a school -- did not know your wife had put your gun in your car -- you will be charged with not only a violation but will also be charged an extra penalty. People that make mistakes, must be penalized -- that is exactly what this legislation says.

I am against this Bill. I am not opposed to people carrying a weapon if they have training. A majority of South Carolinians think if you are going to carry a gun on the street, you need to have training. I am not talking about people being in their house with a gun. Everybody has a right to defend their house. I am not talking about hunters. I believe probably everyone in this room owns guns, probably multiple guns. I have about a dozen guns myself. This is not whether you like guns, but it is a question whether you want safe streets. Not only is this Bill saying we want guns on the street, but it is also saying we want guns without training.

This is one of the biggest anti-law enforcement Bills we have passed since I have been here. We used to have protections for officers by requiring that a gun in a vehicle be transported in the glove box, console or trunk. Now, under this Bill, the gun can be right there in your lap and ready to fire if you get mad in a road rage situation. When a law enforcement officer walks up and there is a gun right there, it will not go well. Bad things are going to happen.

By passing this legislation, you are telling people that if you commit a crime you better have a gun. If you have a gun, you are not able to be charged for a crime. Why? We put up an amendment that says if you are carrying a gun, that is not grounds for a search. When the officer walks up and sees the gun, that is the best ticket to get your charges suppressed because the officer cannot use the fact that you have a gun to follow up with a search. The officer has no grounds to search your car, cannot make a seizure and cannot do an investigation. A gun will immunize you from half the crimes going on.

We have needs in South Carolina that have gone unmet for years. We have needs for people who battle mental health issues, needs for families and children and needs for teachers that do not have enough supplies in the classroom. We have needs that could be addressed, but we are going to spend taxpayer's money to the tune of millions of dollars to try and incentivize training that is not required. We are going to pay for free background checks, free use of a gun, free ammunition and free training for those that choose to get trained. Two classes in every forty-six counties -- that will require a total of ninety-two SLED officers on the weekends to teach the training class -- meanwhile small businesses who have traditionally provided concealed weapons permit training will be put out of business. We are putting a hole in the state's budget for no reason, as I submit to you that anyone who wants training already has received it.

The members of the House of Representatives who voted for constitutional carry -- they wanted constitutional carry, not constitutional carry lite. I do not know exactly what to call this, but I want you to be aware that instead of constitutional carry what you are getting is enhanced penalties and coercion to take training you do not want.

We are hamstringing law enforcement on the one side and creating danger for law enforcement officers on the other side. We are doing nothing for everybody who came in here at the beginning of this debate who stated they would only vote in favor of a Bill that requires training. If you vote for this Bill, you caved. For those of you who said I only want constitutional carry and nothing else, you caved too.

This is awful. This is probably the worst piece of legislation we have debated in some time. It unnecessarily spends taxpayer money. It puts guns on the street without required training. It handcuffs law enforcement and endangers their lives. It empowers criminals and creates a "get out of jail free" card for criminals. And it puts small business people, who now teach training classes, out of business. This is a flawed law and should not be passed.

Indicates New Matter

The Senate assembled at 11:00 A.M., the hour to which it stood adjourned, and was called to order by the PRESIDENT.

A quorum being present, the proceedings were opened with a devotion by the Chaplain as follows:

Ezekiel 37:7b

Finding himself in a valley full of bones, Ezekiel declared: ". . . as I was prophesying, there was a noise, a rattling sound, and the bones came together, bone to bone."

Friends, join me as we bow in prayer: O blessed, most Holy God, we cannot help but be struck by Ezekiel's spirit of faithfulness as he was facing what appeared to be overwhelming tasks. Yet as we recall, in spite of challenges, Your servant steeled himself and he did what was he was supposed to do. Today, Lord, in the face of their weariness and likely even exasperation, these Senators and their dedicated staff members are also facing formidable challenges. So we pray, Lord, that You will lead these modern-day servants as they work together to resolve a number of major issues. And by Your grace may their decisions ultimately enrich the lives of everyone in our State. This we pray in Your loving name, O Lord. Amen.

Remarks by Senator RANKIN

Thank you, ladies and gentlemen of the Senate. Yesterday might have been the longest day we've had here in quite a while, and I'll assure you my intention is not to belabor this day longer than it takes me to share a few comments with you about this Bill. I want to commend Senator MARTIN on his persistence and the pressing and the persuading, and it's about to create policy -- at least of this Senate. I want to go back just a moment with you all as the chair of the committee that was blessed to have this Bill -- rest in it, and the efforts by Senator MARTIN to dislodge this Bill from that committee over the last year or two. Senator MARTIN said he's been working on this for fifteen years. I started paying attention to this Bill when it became a Judiciary Committee assignment, and lo those many years ago Senator GOLDFINCH was the subcommittee chairman within the Judiciary Committee itself that was going to have a subcommittee meeting the very next day. By persuasion -- I'll call it pouncing -- at a perfect opportunity with my absence by going to see my daughter in Greenville at the Governor's School -- sensing she needed a parent -- I leave and roll to Greenville and I'm listening to the Senate as the weird folk in this Body do when we're not here and if you say you don't do it, you are not being honest. But I hear the effort to dislodge and recall that Bill from the full Judiciary Committee that passed narrowly, and it thus did not have a subcommittee hearing that next day. Again, that was within his right to do; so, I compliment him for that persistence. We'll talk here in a moment about what we have done thereafter and given it our due diligence and tried to hear from folks as best we could.

But that was then, and we come to another session where Senator MARTIN, to his credit -- he dutifully writes to all as we all do to those that chair committees and he requests to have the Bill assigned and considered. So, we did that last year -- those of you recall who served on that subcommittee. And Senator M. JOHNSON conducted a wonderfully balanced and fair hearing of this Bill. I will point out to you all that there was another Bill assigned to that subcommittee, which was the stand-alone Bill, now Senator CAMPSEN'S amendment which we rejected 24 to 19. And that Bill was to give us what we have uniformly heard from law enforcement, that which they wanted and that which they asked for -- enhanced penalties on gun law violations. That Bill last year in that subcommittee, in the discretion of the subcommittee itself, and I'm not assailing their work, but they did not take that Bill up. They focused solely on the Bill that we have before us, and that being the grand bargain that includes something that no one in law enforcement has asked for and no one in law enforcement wants. That is this permitless carry Bill. And so, we have labored these last few days, hours and hours and hours, talking about the balance between our state's current law and where some wanted to take us, and some did not. But we have heard from lobbying groups how we are an outlier in the country, how we are trading on the rights of our law-abiding citizens, and we are sacrificing our people compared to other states. I have heard from several of you -- you've all gotten door hangers -- perhaps, saying, "I am a gun rights sellout." Perhaps some of you other Senators are too. "I am one who is against the Constitution because of my position. I am against your God-given and inalienable rights given to you at birth because I support not their politics but our police. So, forgive me for not standing with those who are from Austin, Texas. I don't think I have any constituents in Austin, Texas. This leaflet last year from the Young Americans for Liberty, 32 Brody, Suite 107-65 -- I've never been to Austin. I don't think I've ever met a Young American for Liberty. No offense to anybody else, Senator M. JOHNSON, that's got the liberty placard or lapel pin. I've never met anybody from Austin, Texas.

I wonder whether just like the dark money mailers that you've all gotten -- I know of a few, where one was addressed from a place in the upstate. When we sent somebody to find out what was at that address, it was an empty building beside a pawn shop. We found out through the owner of that strip shopping center he had never heard of and had never rented to that group mailing out things to my area saying "Rankin is the worst thing since COVID. Rankin caused the pandemic. Rankin is standing in your way of freedom.' That's fine, folks. I'm not assailing our first amendment rights to do or say about anybody -- whatever you want to do or say but be a little more honest about it. But you don't have to be because you get to hide behind the dark money and the group efforts that come to push and pull us to do what they want us to do. That's fine. I'm a big boy. I can withstand the assaults, and I have been there, done that before. Perhaps this will be my last stand, and perhaps this time the dark money will win and perhaps this time the outside politics of pushing us to do something will work. But I rest easy. I rest comfortably, and I rest at night knowing that I am standing not with the persuaders, not with the pushers, but I'm standing with the police officers in this State who to a person, to an agency, to a department within this State has said to me uniformly -- today included after what we adopted last night -- and I voted for the amendment, trying to make a better Bill in hopes of giving the police officers cover -- to say Rankin, we're for it, today with these enhancements that we have tried to make. I haven't heard a police officer say to me yet, Luke, we want it. We're asking for it. My point being even today -- concerns, concerns, concerns, concerns. We're muddying the water. We're not clarifying for them. Same thing with the former police officer retired now -- our brother in the Senate and others today, the former solicitor -- we are not creating clarity. We are creating uncertainty. We are creating more of a morass of who knows what you can do, and to accomplish what? To make us like the other states who the proponents say, we want to be just like.

So, I'm up here again just to talk a little bit about this, and if I can, Mr. Clerk, Mr. PRESIDENT, I want to just show four folks that I want you to be reminded of. Let me start with Conway City Police Chief. That is Chief Long of Conway. I'm not going to read verbatim their testimonies. We can't under our rules play their testimony, but I want you just to see their face and not mine. I don't want my face to be the voice of the opposition that I've heard from and I daresay the faceless people in Austin, Texas, that aren't going to come here to tell you what the people that we have hired and entrusted to carry out the laws that we pass have said. First voice -- again, the face belongs to Chief Long. He's been in law enforcement since 1986. He respects our State. He's a product of our State, born and raised here and prides himself on being a South Carolinian. He points to that balance between our laws, our rights and law abiding gun ownership and gun safety for their families. His belief, and this was a pretty key term, I thought, that I had never heard before: "my belief is that in our community we all operate under a guideline of social contracts". Y'all on that subcommittee, you've heard this and again, and you're not going to hear a total regurgitation. He analogized that social contract to the driver's license that we have, and we're tested to see whether we have safe driving proficiency -- hunter safety as well. The goal being what the Senator from Charleston talked about the other day with the quail hunter, the dove shoot, loading the gun, where do you aim the gun? All folks within the hunting world, the driving world and now the boating world have to have training and operate under the same guidelines. So, his point, again, was the benefit of and the necessity of the requirement of minimum standard training. Again, I'm not going to talk about all these things we talked about but again the law. What is the law? Where can you possess? Where can you present? When do you have to stand down? When under the castle doctrine, when under the various other iterations of "stand your ground", but more importantly, what training do they have to safely operate that gun? So, his point -- without training, people will take for granted, I'm allowed, I can do what I want to do and so that social contract whether hunting, boating, driving, pick your other example -- that's our obligation.

The next picture is Chief Prock from the City of Myrtle Beach. Again, very forceful personality, very forceful statements she made -- that public safety is a shared responsibility, and that our role, just like theirs in our communities -- our entrusting them, charging them to carry it out -- it is a shared responsibility, and her position on this Bill was that the training that they pursued, and y'all heard it -- we've heard it over and over again in here: train, train, train, four times a year. SLED talked about the various guns that they use, and how they train. So, we are effectively, with the passage of this Bill, holding our lay folk, our everyday folk to a totally different standard than we expect out of our law enforcement officers. Her point is, we are asking that the public no longer to be required to train, yet we will expect the same result out of them. They aren't going to train. They don't have to train -- and so, her view, again, the City of Myrtle Beach's Police Chief is the rights and freedoms of everyone are supported but the safety of our communities needs to be at the forefront.

The next face that I want you just to momentarily focus on, this is Chief Stewart, representing the South Carolina Police Chiefs Association, and focus on what I've heard and you all have heard, that our SLED Director Chief Keel has said, "We are the envy of the country with the law that we currently have, and the ability to protect not only the public but to protect law enforcement." But they train. He references the four types of weapons they train with and that they train day and night. And the shots fired discussion -- I had not heard of that before that subcommittee hearing in Anderson, I believe. They've got that program. Technology, again, the area where the shots were fired -- they key in on it with other technology cameras. Again, the ability to try to get to an area quicker -- that are enhancements to the safety of our communities. And not just them but the safety of the police officers as well. So, his point, again, in unison with the other two chiefs of police, is that we need to be able to expect the same out of our law-abiding citizens -- the proficiency in how to handle a gun.

And then finally, last picture. That is Skip Holbrook, Columbia Police Chief. Very briefly, the takeaway from him -- uncharted and unclear territory if we pass this law -- personal concern as a citizen and concern from a police chief's perspective. No training requirement, no minimum standard will do nothing but lead to chaos, and increased danger to them. That's all from the slides, Mr. PRESIDENT. Thank you for displaying those.

So, who are we listening to and what is our goal? I'm not saying the word "cave", Senator HUTTO. That's an adjective. Perhaps it applies, but just like these officers have said, we are coming at this with the best of intentions. I don't malign the proponents of this Bill. I don't malign the folks from Austin, Texas. Your desire was to come into South Carolina and do successfully what you have done with money in other states. But who are we to hear from and who are we to believe if we don't believe these faces, these voices? And dare I say a few more because in Horry County, as I referenced the other day, a letter from the Law Enforcement Officers Association dated December 5th -- and I can't read it here but let me just highlight: the repeal would remove the very standard we have in this State to keep our community and visitors safe. Requirements for training and background checks alone provide a framework to assist in the lawful use of weapons and their purchase and possession. They oppose in the strongest possible terms, for reasons of public safety -- our doing away with required training in this Bill. I have said it from my desk. I won't read every name, but I dare say to anyone who would like to see -- not one of the misguided, misinformed but duly elected, duly appointed, duly hired and continuing in service with their own training officers from Horry and Georgetown Counties who have said, "Folks, keep the minimum standards". That's the law enforcement world.

Again, who do I hear? Who do I listen to? Who do you hear? Who should you listen to? That's your own walk. That's up to you. I dare say I don't intend to or believe that I'm going to persuade one vote different than has been cast thus far, but I think we owe it to the people outside in our homes, in the balcony, and those listening -- perhaps the twelve of you that are listening to us right now -- we owe the honest truth to them about what we're about to do and what it's going to do and own it.

Now, the reverse of that is, "Rankin, it isn't going to be that bad. It ain't going to be that bad. Pay no attention to them." The reference to the Wizard of Oz the other day, "Pay no attention to the man behind the curtain. Listen to the big bad wolf out there. The big bad Oz out there. Pay attention to him, so that the big bad wolf out there tells us it ain't going to be that bad. They're not that many. It's not going to be that big of a problem. Law enforcement will get over it. They'll work it through. It will work out. It ain't that big of a deal."

And this is not Luke Rankin, anti-second amendment right. I believe in it. I don't but my wife does have a CWP. Any of you who know Lindsay would not be any more surprised to know that. Not Annie get your gun; Lindsay get your gun. Lindsey doesn't need a gun -- but I hunt, my brother hunts. I love the right to bear arms. But to the point that -- I'm not going to go through this ad nauseam but the point that the reality of this Bill being called something suggesting that anyone daring to say or question or pause in the adoption of it -- that it is a constitutional right that we are infringing upon by insisting on law enforcement being given the tools that they so deathly and fatally and desperately are calling for is not an abridgment of the Constitution. Chief Justice Massey from Edgefield quoted, Chief Justice Harpootlian from Richland, again, discussing the very case perhaps -- I don't know if it was this one with Anthony Scalia, but the Supreme Court says, you have a right -- effectively like Chief Long said, a social contract. The law requires certain things out of you. The Constitution requires the allowance of certain things. But they are not mutually exclusive, and so the Supreme Court has defined with precedent the right to do what we have done before. So, the law doesn't say it's unconstitutional to keep South Carolina's existing CWP. If that were so, folks, if this were the unconstitutional carry Bill, why hasn't it been overturned since we passed it twenty some years ago? Why hasn't someone from Texas come down here to challenge the constitutional veracity of that law twenty years ago? It is because it isn't unconstitutional. And so, no aspersions to those who believe this is a constitutional right. Some of you know better that the Constitution doesn't say -- "no states, you don't have a social contract and no states you can't require."

I'm going to wrap up here in just a second. I want to harken back to an exchange with Senator MASSEY and my sincere endorsement of -- I stated from my desk as I was asking him, the laudable goal of training and the laudable goal of giving the officers the ability to assess before they get into a mess with someone bearing -- and that is the topic of training. So, we are undoing the requirement. We're going from twenty-one to eighteen. Some are offended by that on its face. Perhaps that's not as bad as the fearful folk would suspect. The federal government allows twenty-one so there's a little difference -- excuse me eighteen versus twenty-one. I don't see that as a big problem. But what is the biggest offense here and the biggest problem that officers tell me -- will mean they will suffer loss of lives -- is the lack of mandatory training. So my exchange with the Senator from Edgefield, I will remind y'all, after doing away with their laws, just like we are on the cusp of doing here, despite our effort to incentivize with a carrot or a stick -- the real reality will be you will see a dramatic decline in those who will say, "the law doesn't require me to do it but I'm going to do it any way." I'm not assailing those who will hereafter not want to do it under the belief that that's not the law, therefore they don't have to abide by it. Good people, smart people, will do it any way. Smart, good people already, with their families, have great training. I'm sure.

But when passed in other states, folks in terms of those seeking training: Georgia drops off 60%, Oklahoma 54%, Texas 43%, Florida 64%, Ohio 71% and Tennessee 53%. I voted for that amendment because I think that makes this Bill better, but it does not speak to the minimum requirements being a requirement. We are hoping that people will be their best. We are hoping that people will be as trained as our law enforcement officers are, but that's a big hope, folks. It's a big bet. Perhaps time will prove that there will be no problems with a lack of training, but you can't ignore in those states that have passed this and the incidents -- increased incidents of homicide and gun-related violence and gun-related injury; you cannot escape the trajectory of those statistics. Look around. Has it worked? Where do you look to determine how has it worked? So, either the stats are wrong -- in Indiana where press coverage says, "over the stern objections of law enforcement," and that is the statement in the press release -- stern objections, stern criticism from their state Police Superintendent, they did it anyway. And in Indiana handgun licenses and training dropped.

So, "Rankin, you're ignoring half of the gain here. You're ignoring the win here." The Governor, again, in the State of the State last week asked for what? Enhanced penalties -- he didn't ask for open carry without permit. Senator CAMPSEN asked this Body for enhanced penalties of repeat offenders with gun violations. Twenty-four of you said no, nineteen said yes. So, we've got now effectively, respectfully, but honestly a gun to our heads to pass a Bill to give law enforcement something they don't want, haven't asked for in exchange for something they desperately need. That is a prerogative of a legislative body. Give them not what they want; give them what we want.

So, when we pass this Bill and go to our homes and talk to neighbors -- brothers and sisters in churches, in our home communities, but more importantly is that police view, the sheriffs' offices -- ask them where were they? Why didn't they come to Columbia when hearings were taking place. Why didn't they come tell you that they were for it? But more important to me in Horry County, why didn't you come tell me why you were for it. Where were you? By default, the only four cases I've got, two in my area, one in Anderson and one in Columbia, took the time and took it upon themselves to say what you know in your heart of hearts is the truth – "You are jeopardizing us, hamstringing us, cramming something down our throats legally that we don't know how to enforce. You have not clarified anything. You're muddying the water, and now asking me, Mr. and Mrs. law enforcement officer to step into a situation where I don't know who is on my side and put myself at risk of harm, injury or death" and expect what the chief said -- the same results of their training, their expert repetitive, continuing good education out of somebody that from now on won't have one iota -- nothing other than their self-motivation to learn to do and be safe. God, I pray that everyone who picks up a gun will do just that. To the CWP holders, forty some odd thousand, God bless you for the training. I hope I'm wrong, and the stats in South Carolina prove differently, that we have truly incentivized. But I will be shocked if it is the case.

So, folks, I'm going to wrap up and urge you, not to vote the way Luke Rankin votes, but talk to your officers. Again, I make the point about every law enforcement officer I saw come to Columbia to testify. I don't know whether they were under oath or not. Would their testimony be any different? Are they recognizing the political expediency and is it going to jeopardize them? If they'll tell you straight, like the sheriffs have done and the police chiefs have done, Senators, you know they are not going to be happy, because what we've done is not listened to them. We are going to stand with our men in blue, stand with our women in blue. Folks, we stand with them only when it is convenient. We listen to them only when it is convenient. That is a travesty in our State. We want to hear from you when it is convenient. We don't want to give you what you want unless it is convenient. Folks, we are putting our best in blue in harm's way and making them take something they don't want and have not asked for. That is our choice. We all get a vote.

God bless this country and God bless my ability to come speak to each of y'all. God bless those who we are here to reward and to stand by. To me, that is my law enforcement, that is my police chief and that is my sheriff from Horry County -- not from Texas.

On motion of Senator JACKSON, with unanimous consent, the remarks of Senator RANKIN were ordered printed in the Journal.

Senator MALLOY spoke on the Bill.

Senator McLEOD spoke on the Bill.

Remarks by Senator McLEOD

Thank you, Mr. PRESIDENT. Well, we knew this day was coming -- still doesn't make it any easier. I think what we are doing today is going to turn our State into the wild, wild west -- no license, no training and inadequate background checks. We can assume the average gun owner will have no knowledge of current gun laws since CWPs and the training that comes with it are optional. We can also assume that gun owners will have very little, if any knowledge or understanding about where they can and cannot carry.

There is no language that expressly prohibits racial profiling, although I fought to have that language included yesterday. That is going to be a problem. It is going to be a problem for citizens of our State, for law enforcement as well as citizen vigilantes. I think about what happened in Georgia to Ahmaud Arbery. There will be no gun liability insurance that will require gun owners to assume some semblance of responsibility for properly and safely handling and storing their gun. Yet we talk about everybody practically being a responsible gun owner. There is no protection or consideration for law enforcement officers who, in most cases, won't be able to tell the good guys from the bad guys.

We just debated an amendment that proposed sending between five and twenty million dollars to the South Carolina Law Enforcement Division to help cover the costs of CWPs and to launch a statewide permitless carry campaign. Meanwhile at SLED, rape kits of South Carolina women and girls sit and continue to sit -- some for years, some for decades -- they will continue to sit in our cold case files while our women and girls get no justice because their rape kits are unprocessed, not investigated, forgotten. Five to twenty million dollars to SLED is what we took all that time discussing and debating. While many of the proponents of this Bill are co-signing and celebrating denying our state's most vulnerable children food during the summer months -- five to twenty million dollars for SLED. I couldn't believe it!

When we consistently dismantle public education as we frantically try to find skilled, educated workers to fill the high-paying jobs at Boeing, BMW and now Scout Motors in my area -- five to twenty million dollars for SLED. We actually spent a lot of time on that yesterday. At the same time, we have consistently refused to expand Medicaid in this State. We intentionally make working people poorer by paying them wages we know they can't live on. Yet even as we debate this Bill we are also attempting, some are attempting, to cut unemployment pay for those who need and deserve every penny of it. We have listened to colleagues propose enhanced penalty amendments to this Bill while some of our colleagues continue to block us from even debating the Bill that would enhance penalties for those who would commit hate crimes in the State.

I'm going to close by just reminding all of you, not that you need to be reminded, that this Bill is anti-law enforcement. I think that Senator STEPHENS said it best last night. It is very much anti-law enforcement -- anti-law-abiding citizens, especially law-abiding citizens of color. When my son moved back, when my baby boy graduated from Colorado State University and came home for a while -- just long enough for me to get used to him being here -- but told me last year that he just can't stay here. I hated to see him go but today I'm so glad he went because this Bill will make it extremely dangerous for him to live here. It will give law-abiding citizens and ruthless criminals equal access to guns without a license or training especially at a time when gun violence is already wreaking havoc across our State and Nation -- is senseless, reckless and quite frankly the beginning of the end of any decent quality of life we once knew and enjoyed here in South Carolina. For those reasons, and many others, I will definitely be voting against this Bill. Thank you, Mr. PRESIDENT.

On motion of Senator TEDDER, with unanimous consent, the remarks of Senator McLEOD were ordered printed in the Journal.

Senator K. JOHNSON spoke on the Bill.

Remarks by Senator K. JOHNSON

Members, you all have probably realized that I have been extremely quiet as we debated this Constitutional Carry Bill. I have been listening and just making some mental notes in my head and came up with a few things I want to emphasize.

I want to begin by saying that it has been noted on multiple occasions and highly recognized that the State of South Carolina has the best concealed weapon permit statute in the country, and I agree with that. I do support the Second Amendment. My family and I are all concealed weapon permit holders -- we all went through the classes together. I feel comfortable knowing that not only do we have guns, but we have the training, and we have the knowledge for these guns.

Now we are moving toward a free-for-all where people can have guns permit less and without training. I think that is a recipe for disaster for the State of South Carolina, especially when we have such a strong CWP statute in South Carolina. We are going to have people who don't understand guns, don't know how to store guns or how to be responsible with guns, and I'm not just referring to young adults. We have older adults who will not have the knowledge of how to be responsible gun owners because they won't be required to have the CWP training certification.

As Senator McLEOD said, I'm not in support of spending five to ten million dollars so people can go get training if they want it -- I think it should be required. I'm not a constitutional scholar but I believe we have constitutional rights that we are guaranteed, but also have strings attached to them. We have the right to vote but we have voter identification laws. I could say, "Hey, I have a constitutional right. I don't have to give you an I.D. I want to vote." We have the constitutional right to freedom of speech, but I was taught in high school that I can't go into a theater and yell "fire!" There are other constitutional rights where strings are attached. I heard someone ask, what about the other twenty-seven states? That argument doesn't move me because when I say I want to be like the other forty-eight states that have hate crime legislation, it doesn't influence many people.

I was talking to folks the other day, and I told them, "I don't like the fact that our CWP statute says you must be twenty-one years old to get a CWP. But with this law passing, you can be eighteen years old." Someone said back to me, "You can go in the army at eighteen years old, look at all the weapons they have." I told them, "When you go into the military, the first thing you are going to have is basic training, then you are going to have advanced training, and then throughout your whole military career you are going to be training on multiple different levels." I followed up by saying, "The weapons that eighteen-year-olds have in the military are in a controlled environment. The military doesn't give them weapons and allow them to move freely with those weapons." So, in my opinion, the argument of allowing an eighteen-year-old in the military to possess a weapon does not justify this legislation.

Senator MALLOY talked about our experience one homecoming weekend when I was a freshman at the University of South Carolina, he mentioned David Simmons. If I'm correct, David Simmons is still walking around with a bullet in his neck. I know people who were shot and killed, who were not even the intended targets -- they just happened to be nearby. Innocent people dying because you have folks who can't utilize the gun properly. They have a gun, an issue arises, they pull it out, and just start aimlessly shooting. So innocent people and their families' lives have been ruined due to improper usage and training of guns.

I keep hearing that our biggest industry in South Carolina is tourism. I think that if this Bill passes, it is going to be detrimental to our tourism industry. I don't know that many tourists are going to want to come to Myrtle Beach, Charleston or Hilton Head Island to vacation while we have people walking around with guns, and on top of that, having guns with no training or understanding of how the guns work. I'm not casting aspersions onto anyone but some of us know this is a bad Bill. I have heard some pretty good amendments that would strengthen the Bill, but just as soon as the amendment is explained by the author the amendment is voted down. We know this Bill is not necessary nor good for South Carolina, but I think that some of you believe that you don't have to worry about the pitfalls because it is not going to happen to you. I say that because I know there have been several Bills that have passed in South Carolina because they hit home to one of us, then we want to react rather than having been proactive. So, for those reasons and others that have been articulated, I look forward to voting against the Bill. Thank you, Mr. PRESIDENT.

On motion of Senator McLEOD, with unanimous consent, the remarks of Senator K. JOHNSON were ordered printed in the Journal.

Senator DEVINE spoke on the Bill.

Remarks by Senator DEVINE

Thank you, Mr. PRESIDENT and to ladies and gentlemen of the Senate. I'm not going to be up here long. I echo many of the September sentiments from Senator McLEOD. I was going to say as I was campaigning and getting ready to join the Senate, the biggest issue in my community -- my district -- was about guns. I didn't have people asking me for Constitutional Carry. I had people asking me, "How are you going to make our communities safer." Just in 2022, one zip code in my district -- there were 75 shootings. In 2023 there were 107 shootings. I mentioned earlier I have communities that utilize technology called shot-spotter. Sometimes shot-spotter is the only thing that alerts law enforcement that there's been a shooting. Because some of those communities are so immune to hearing gunshots, they don't call the police anymore. We talk about law-abiding, responsible gun owners -- to me that is such an oxymoron. This Bill takes away law enforcement's ability to see if those carrying guns are law-abiding.

When we talk about responsible gun owners -- responsible gun owners want and need training. I appreciate all of the amendments that have been put up by my colleagues, especially all those who sat here at the well and admitted that training is a good thing but we certainly need to make sure that we don't wait for the will of people to get training, then spend state-paying dollars to give people training. We should be mandating training. If someone wants a gun in this State, they need to know the gun laws. We'll have 18-year-olds carrying guns, not knowing whether or not they have the ability to protect themselves in certain situations. When I took the training, I learned things. Law enforcement gets training to make sure they understand what the laws are in the State. Now we are asking citizens, starting as young as eighteen, to just know what the laws are and to be able to carry guns with no ability or no demand that they get training. We talk about people wanting this Bill. But as I get people and -- I'm an elected official who no matter if I agree with you or not, when you call me or email, I'm going to talk to you about what your position is. When I talk to citizens about what this Bill is and we use the terms Constitutional Carry, yes, people believe in their right to carry arms. I believe in the Second Amendment. But when you tell people that this gun Bill does not require training, does not require a permit, does not require a background check -- people are mortified. They do not understand that this is what is going to pass today. And what will happen is, we will give people the expectation of yes, I have a right to carry a gun but all the other things that go along with it, they are not going to know.

We are setting our citizens and State up for failure. We are setting ourselves up for a more dangerous community. When I think about citizens of District 19 as they call me and say Senator, make my community safer, I'm going to go back to them today and tell them, not only have I not been able to make your community safer today but we, the Senate today, have now made your community less safe. It's made our children less safe. I have sat with moms who have lost children due to gun violence. I'm going to have to sit with them and tell them that now we have taken away law enforcement's ability to keep their communities safer.

I want to thank the members of Mom Demand Action for being here every single day. You all have fought -- have been here and I appreciate you all being here -- Safer Communities of the Midlands, a very new organization within my district, because of the gun violence in my district, I thank you for being here. I just hope that we all will look at this Bill as it passes and then continue to advocate because our work is cut out for us. Not only has the work we have done up to this point been ignored, but now we have more things to do. We have to educate our communities, mobilize our communities and make sure people understand what this law says. Hopefully the members of this Senate after some time, once this passes, will realize what we have done and come back and fix it. For those reasons, I will not be voting for this Bill.

On motion of Senator McLEOD, with unanimous consent, the remarks of Senator DEVINE were ordered printed in the Journal.

Senator STEPHENS spoke on the Bill.

Remarks by Senator STEPHENS

Thank you, Mr. PRESIDENT. Thanks to my colleagues who over the past week, have sat and deliberated this Bill. I cannot sit back any longer and not express myself concerning open carry, the Constitutional Carry Act. My hometown of Bowman has a population of just under a thousand people. In May of 2020, we lost three high school students and five others. Three of them died, five were injured and all three that died were high school students. On April 4, 2022, there was a Bowman woman shot to death and a Bowman man injured. On February 3, 2022, a forty-two-year-old Bowman man was shot to death. On August 23, 2023, a forty-two-year-old man was shot to death. On October 20, 2023, a Bowman man was critically injured. Those are a few shooting incidents that occurred in that small town in the last three years. There were many other shootings, but by God's grace those individuals survived.

I have no disregard for anyone's Second Amendment Rights. I too have guns which are in my possession at home, safely stored away and I have been trained. However, my feelings today are that there are major disadvantages to open carry that may lead to a higher risk of accidental death. I believe also that when guns are being displayed the possibility of stress by someone else in proximity of that gun -- strange things can happen. Strange things happen in the lives of children wanting to play with guns, because mom and dad are now allowed to have guns readily available. To my colleagues KEVIN JOHNSON, I truly believe that a couple seconds makes a lot of difference in whether a person lives or dies. I believe that if a gun is in a glove compartment that is locked, or in a console that may be locked -- those couple of seconds could prove fatal. Those couple of seconds could be just enough to calm that individual down who want to go and get that gun and probably take someone's life. Everybody is not comfortable carrying a gun. Everybody is not trained to carry a gun or to use a gun. If the gun is mishandled or misused, it could result in the life of someone innocently ending.

Open carry, I believe, makes you a target. As mentioned earlier, it makes it seem like this is the wild, wild west. I heard Senator ADAMS mention that when he was at the ATM machine, a couple guys came running up. He pulled up his shirt or his jacket and saw his gun. There is a flip side to that story, as I believe, it could have been the other two people that had guns as well. Therefore, it could have been exchange of gunfire with multiple persons injured or even killed. The accessibility of guns is dangerous. The inability to understand and to use guns properly is dangerous. I don't believe in this State that we should go down this road. I believe if you listen to the masses of citizens of the State of South Carolina they will tell you. They will tell you that I want my Second Amendment Rights, but I want to make sure that the other person understands as well as I do, that I need to be very careful in the brandishing of my gun. Brandishing is no more than standing there with your gun on your side, careful use of the gun and understanding the effects. It is a sad day for me in this State. May not be for a lot of you, but it is a sad day for me when we legislate such topics that will put many others in harm's way, and we are saying we are doing right by our people or by our citizens. I think just the opposite. It is time that we come to the realization that some of what we are doing is not the best interest of the citizens of South Carolina. I don't want to bring racism into the scenario, but it is here. I believe our police should be protectors. I believe what we had earlier will do just that, but now we are opening up where they feel insecure. Yes, I have had the opportunity to speak with police chiefs, county sheriffs as well as deputies and they all fear this piece of legislation. These are the people who are out there on a day-to-day basis. They know what is going on, but are we listening to a great degree? No. So, then are we advocating for those individuals who sent us here to voice their concerns? I would answer that question and say no. It is high time, ladies and gentlemen, that we do just that. With that being said, I cannot in my right mind go back to my community and say that I voted yes for this piece of legislation. Thank you, Mr. PRESIDENT.

On motion of Senator Williams, with unanimous consent, the remarks of Senator STEPHENS were ordered printed in the Journal.

The Senate assembled at 12:00 Noon, the hour to which it stood adjourned, and was called to order by the PRESIDENT.

A quorum being present, the proceedings were opened with a devotion by the Chaplain as follows:

Joshua 6:20a

Turning again to the Book of Joshua, we read: "When the trumpets sounded, the people shouted, and at the sound of the trumpets, when the people shouted, the wall collapsed."

Good people, let us pray: Surely, Lord God, we remember how it is told that Joshua's forces overwhelmed all opposition and took the city of Jericho, giving You great glory. If only, Lord, the leaders here in this place could so readily resolve all of the challenges facing South Carolina at this time in our history. To that end, dear Lord, knowing that we cannot count on blaring trumpets nor the shouts of people, we ask You to touch the heart of each Senator serving in this place. Give to every one of these leaders the wisdom and the courage to pursue those goals that will truly benefit the people they have been called to serve. And may these leaders always act with genuine, heartfelt concern for the well-being of all of our citizens. We so pray in Your all-powerful name, O Lord. Amen.

~~Indicates Matter Stricken~~
Indicates New Matter

The Senate assembled at 1:00 P.M., the hour to which it stood adjourned, and was called to order by the PRESIDENT.

A quorum being present, the proceedings were opened with a devotion by the Chaplain as follows:

Exodus 4:13

There was a time when even the very humanness of Moses led him to call out to God, saying: " 'O Lord, please send someone else to do it.' "

Let us pray: I daresay, O God, that each one of us is quite aware that serving here in this Senate are some of the very individuals Moses called "someone else." For the fact is clear that these women and men have indeed been sent here by the people of South Carolina to serve, to stand for what is right and to use their gifts to accomplish great good. May it indeed be, Lord, that these Senators -- as well as their aides -- truly do just that. And here in this unsettled and even perilous world of ours, we call on You, O God, not only to strengthen and guide these who do serve here in this place, but also to keep safe our women and men in uniform laboring to protect the causes of freedom all around the globe. In Your loving name we pray all of this, O Lord. Amen.

Expression of Personal Interest

Remarks by PRESIDENT ALEXANDER

The Speaker of the House took to the floor today to attack the Senate for several issues that he claims we are solely responsible for. Let me set the record straight with the whole story.

The reason that there was no Comptroller General election last year is because the House was only interested in giving a former member a job rather than selecting someone who could handle the constitutional role.

I can understand why the House would want to have judicial elections now and that is they want to elect judges so that they can remove the only leverage that those who want judicial reform have and that is the judicial elections. What we learned in the testimony from some of the presenters at the House Speaker's own Special Committee on Judicial Reform is that it was House members who used their status as House members or House JMSC members to exert leverage or exact revenge on judges they elect. And make no mistake they believe with every fiber of their collective being that they alone elect judges. In fact, at the Bar Convention last year, the House's Minority leader told a packed room of lawyers there -- to learn about the process of becoming a judge -- that he didn't understand why anyone would waste their time coming to the Senate because they didn't elect judges; the House did.

He also spoke to his body about all that his body has done for law enforcement -- listing off subjects like fentanyl trafficking, bond reform, etc. Those are important issues and they are law but not because of the House alone but because the Senate also adopted them. However, he left out one tool that law enforcement desperately wants S.1, the Fentanyl Murder Bill, that passed this Body unanimously but that the House has sat on for nearly a year.

If the Speaker of the House wants to accomplish what he says he wants to accomplish, then his time might be better spent working with his colleagues in the Senate rather than demagoguing them. He should talk with us instead of at us.

Mr. House Speaker, the Senate as always stands ready to work with you, but we do not work for you.

On motion of Senator HUTTO, with unanimous consent, the remarks of Senator ALEXANDER were ordered printed in the Journal.

The Senate assembled at 11:00 A.M., the hour to which it stood adjourned, and was called to order by the PRESIDENT.

A quorum being present, the proceedings were opened with a devotion by the Chaplain as follows:

John 15:12

Our Lord himself declared: " 'This is my commandment, that you love one another as I have loved you.' "

Bow with me as we pray, please: O Holy God, how challenging, how difficult, how close to impossible it may well be for many of us to comprehend the fullness of Your love. For indeed, dear Lord, as we are reminded, the depth and power of Your unfailing embrace never stops, and at every turn we discover afresh how it is that we ourselves are expected to live: as women and men who care deeply for others, as servants here in this Senate who more than anything else want loving hopefulness to be experienced by those we serve. And even when disagreements might arise occasionally, or when viewpoints simply vary, may these Senators and staff members hold fast to Your gifts of love and caring, and grant that the women, men and children of South Carolina are greatly blessed as a result. In Your loving name do we humbly pray, O Lord. Amen.

The Senate assembled at 12:00 Noon, the hour to which it stood adjourned, and was called to order by the PRESIDENT.

A quorum being present, the proceedings were opened with a devotion by the Chaplain as follows:

Micah 6:8

We likely all recall the powerful text from the prophet, Micah, how he stated: "He has told you, O mortal, what is good; and what does the Lord require of you but to do justice, and to love kindness, and to walk humbly with your God."

Please bow with me as we pray: Truly, O loving God, the simple elegance of the text before us today moves us in such meaningful fashion. And as we all affirm in so many ways, each of us knows well, dear God, what You expect of us, not only in our personal lives but also in our service to others. Yet we further know how many times we fail to be the emissaries of Your love and concern that You desire us all to be. Forgive us for those frequent moments when we clearly must disappoint You, O Lord. Rather, help us all by Your Spirit's grace to be more than ever the Senators, the aides, the citizens who cherish Micah's words and who strive to live by them. And may the good people of South Carolina forever be blessed as we do so. In Your wondrous name we pray, Lord. Amen.

The PRESIDENT called for Petitions, Memorials, Presentments of Grand Juries and such like papers.

~~Indicates Matter Stricken~~
Indicates New Matter

The Senate assembled at 1:00 P.M., the hour to which it stood adjourned, and was called to order by the PRESIDENT.

A quorum being present, the proceedings were opened with a devotion by the Chaplain as follows:

Psalm 52:1-2

Hear the Psalmist as he writes: "Have mercy on me, O God, according to your unfailing love; according to your great compassion blot out my transgressions. Wash away all my iniquity and cleanse me from my sin."

Let us pray: Holy God, here on this Ash Wednesday how right it is for us to take a few moments and to think about how we live out our days, about how we doubtless disappoint You often through what we do and say, and perhaps even more so about what we frequently fail to do and say. And so today, O Lord, here in the Senate of South Carolina we pointedly acknowledge our personal and our collective sinfulness. We pray that You will indeed embrace us afresh in Your love, forgiving us for our many failures to live and serve as the women and men You would have us be. Rather, give all of us in this Senate fresh opportunities to serve others more lovingly and faithfully than ever before. And may the glory be Yours. So we pray in Your blessed name, dear Lord. Amen.

The PRESIDENT called for Petitions, Memorials, Presentments of Grand Juries and such like papers.

~~Indicates Matter Stricken~~
Indicates New Matter

The Senate assembled at 11:00 A.M., the hour to which it stood adjourned, and was called to order by the PRESIDENT.

A quorum being present, the proceedings were opened with a devotion by the Chaplain as follows:

Genesis 22:2

We remember that God himself called upon Abraham, saying to him:

" 'Take your son, your only son Isaac, whom you love, and go to the region of Moriah, and offer him there as a burnt offering on one of the mountains that I shall show you.' "

Let us unite our hearts together in prayer: Holy God, the story of how You boldly challenged Abraham reminds us in so many ways that even Your servants here in the Senate of South Carolina find themselves "tested" again and again, as well. And although the circumstances for all who serve You here may not be as starkly dramatic as was Abraham's, still, there truly are many occasions when these leaders believe themselves indeed "tested" -- tested by the expectations, the challenges and the needs of the people whom they have taken an oath to serve. So we pray, O Lord, that You will bless every Senator and each staff member in ways that remind each of them of the rewards You grant to all who serve You faithfully. In Your blessed name we pray, dear Lord. Amen.

The PRESIDENT called for Petitions, Memorials, Presentments of Grand Juries and such like papers.

The Senate assembled at 12:00 Noon, the hour to which it stood adjourned, and was called to order by the PRESIDENT.

A quorum being present, the proceedings were opened with a devotion by the Chaplain as follows:

Psalm 23:1-3

Heed the Word of the Lord as we find it in the 23rd Psalm: "The Lord is my shepherd, I shall not want. He makes me lie down in green pastures; he leads me beside still waters; he restores my soul. He leads me in right paths for his name's sake."

Good friends, let us pray: Truly, O gracious Lord, how very grateful we continue to be for the rich gift of Your nurture and love. Indeed, Your choosing through the ages to shepherd all who call themselves Your people is such a humbling reality. And having just experienced yet another President's Day, we are truly thankful for all of those leaders who nobly led and guided our Nation, sometimes through incredibly perilous times. Now we fervently ask, O God, that You will grant to each of these leaders serving here in the Senate of South Carolina the determination to trust in You as they in turn pledge to do what is truly best for all of the people of our State. Together may all of these modern-day shepherds carry out their roles nobly and wisely. In Your loving name we pray, O Lord. Amen.

Expression of Personal Interest

Senator SHEALY rose for an Expression of Personal Interest.

Remarks by Senator SHEALY

Thank you, Mr. PRESIDENT. I have been quite interested in the activities of the day in here, but before all that happened, I was quite interested in the activities in the calendar we get every day. I was looking through it and somebody said, “Oh, we don't have that much that's objected to” but yes, we do. We have fifty Bills total on the calendar. We have sixteen Republican Bills that are objected to by Republicans. We have fourteen Bills that are objected to by Democrats. We have four whatever those things were that we got a while ago that everybody got so upset about. So, that leaves us sixteen Bills that we could work on, but every time we get to one, somebody carries it over. So, we wonder why we can't get anything done in here and everything we need to get done has to go on special order.

Now, I don't know what our problem is. I think we should look at everybody's Bills. If you've got a problem with it, you go talk to them. I don't have anything contested to, but maybe I should start using my five and start contesting to everybody's Bill whether I find anything wrong with it or not -- I wanted to get up here and say that, because as Republicans and Democrats, we ought to start working together. I can walk across here and talk to you all or you can walk over here and talk to us and then tell us what's wrong with our Bill before you just start slapping your name on it. Some of those names have been on the Bills for over a year. If you don't like it, tell us what you don't like about it. Don't just be obstinate and not do anything. There are a lot of Bills that come through here that I didn't like, but I stomached them. So just because you don't like it doesn't mean there's not forty other people in here that might.

Now today, I have suddenly found out, and that's just been since I walked in this room today, that there are a lot more people in this room that care about children's issues. Where did y'all suddenly come from? I mean, I've been working on children's issues for the last twelve years, and I have fought tooth and nail by myself to get them done. Suddenly, everybody wants to stick their thumb in the pot and tell me what I’m doing wrong. Well, maybe y'all should look at the Bill and come tell me what's wrong with it before y'all start trying to correct them out here on the floor and getting mad and trying to make everybody look bad.

So, if you've got a problem with it, come tell me, but don't start trying to get up here like you're all excited about children. We know what time of year it is, so if you were excited about children before, that's alright, but don't suddenly get excited about them now. Thank you.

On motion of Senator DAVIS, with unanimous consent, the remarks of Senator SHEALY were ordered printed in the Journal.

The department may include increments of progress applicable in each year of the schedule established under this subsection, and may shorten the period of compliance as necessary to prevent an imminent threat to the public health and environment. The department may extend a permittee's compliance schedule under this section beyond five years upon written application by the permittee only if the department determines that circumstances reasonably require such an extension, and the extension of time would pose no threat to public health or the environment.

SECTION X. Chapter 6, Title 44 of the S.C. Code is amended to read:

CHAPTER 6

Department of Health ~~and Human Services~~Financing

Article 1

General Provisions

Section 44-6-5. As used in this chapter:

(1) "Department" means the ~~State~~ Department of Health Financing ~~and Human Services~~.

(2) "Office" means the Revenue and Fiscal Affairs Office.

(3) "Costs of medical education" means the direct and indirect teaching costs as defined under Medicare.

(4) "Market basket index" means the index used by the federal government on January 1, 1986, to measure the inflation in hospital input prices for Medicare reimbursement. If that measure ceases to be calculated in the same manner, the market basket index must be developed and regulations must be promulgated by the ~~commission~~ department using substantially the same methodology as the federal market basket uses on January 1, 1986. Prior to submitting the regulations concerning the index to the General Assembly for approval pursuant to the Administrative Procedures Act, the department shall submit them to the Health Care Planning and Oversight Committee for review.

(5) "Medically indigent" means:

(a) all persons whose gross family income and size falls at or below the federal Community Service Administration guidelines and who meet certain qualifying criteria regarding real property allowance, qualifying services, residency requirements, and other sponsorship, and migrant or seasonal farm workers who have no established domicile in any state; and

(b) all persons whose gross family income and size falls between one hundred percent and two hundred percent of the Community Service Administration guidelines who meet certain other qualifying criteria regarding real property allowance, qualifying services, residency requirements, and other sponsorship and whose medical bill is sufficiently large in relation to their income and resources to preclude full payment. For the purposes of this definition, the qualifying criteria for real property allowance shall permit ownership of up to fifty acres of farmland upon which the family has resided for at least twenty-five years.

(6) "Net inpatient charges" means the total gross inpatient charges, minus the unreimbursed cost of medical education and the unreimbursed cost of providing medical care to medically indigent persons. The cost of care provided by a hospital to meet its Hill-Burton obligation is not considered an unreimbursed cost of providing medical care to medically indigent persons.

(7) "Secretary" means the Secretary of Health and Policy.

~~(7)~~(8) "South Carolina growth index" means the percentage points added to the market basket index to adjust for the South Carolina specific experience. ~~The Health Care Planning and Oversight Committee shall complete a study which identifies and quantifies those elements which should be included in the growth index.~~ The index's elements may include, but are not limited to: population increases, aging of the population, changes in the type and intensity of hospital services, technological advances, the cost of hospital care in South Carolina relative to the rest of the nation, and needed improvements in the health status of state residents. ~~Based on the study, the~~The department shall develop and promulgate regulations for the annual computation of the growth index. ~~Prior to submitting the regulations concerning the index to the General Assembly for approval pursuant to the Administrative Procedures Act, the department shall submit them to the Health Care Planning and Oversight Committee for review. Until a formula for~~

~~computing the South Carolina growth index is promulgated, the annual index must be six and six-tenths percent which is equal to the average percentage difference between South Carolina hospital expenditures and the federal market basket index for the previous ten years.~~

~~(8)~~(9) "State resident" means a person who is domiciled in South Carolina. A domicile once established is lost or changes only when one moves to a new locality with the intention of abandoning his old domicile and intends to live permanently or indefinitely in the new locale.

~~(9)~~(10) "Target rate of increase" means the federal market basket index as modified by the South Carolina growth index.

~~(10)~~(11) "General hospital" means any hospital licensed as a general hospital by the Department of Public Health ~~and Environmental Control~~.

(3) administer payments for programs designated by the secretary; and

~~(3)~~(4) be prohibited from engaging in the delivery of services.

Section 44-6-35. In administering home- and community-based waiver programs, the department shall, to the extent possible, maintain the waiver status of an eligible family member of a member of the armed services who maintains his South Carolina state residence, regardless of where the service member is stationed. Consequently, a person on a waiver waiting list would return to the same place on the waiting list when the family returns to South Carolina. Furthermore, the eligible family member previously enrolled in a waiver program and who received active services would be reinstated into the waiver program once Medicaid eligibility is established, upon their return to South Carolina. It is not the intent of this section to authorize services provided outside the South Carolina Medicaid Service Area. These provisions are contingent upon the department receiving federal approval.

Section 44-6-40. For all health and human services interagency programs provided for in this chapter, the department shall have the following duties:

(1) Prepare and approve state and federal plans prior to submission to the appropriate authority as required by law for final approval or for state or federal funding, or both.

The administrative fee may not exceed one and one-half percent of the amounts negotiated and must be remitted to the State Treasurer and deposited to the credit of the general fund of the State.

The state plans must address state policy and priority areas of service with specific attention to the following objectives:

(a) Prevention measures as addressed in health and human services programs.

(d) Achievement of optimum cost effectiveness in administration and delivery of services provided quality of care is assured.

(e) Improvement of effectiveness of ~~third party~~third-party reimbursement efforts.

(f) Assurance of maximum utilization of private and nonprofit providers in administration and service delivery systems, provided quality of care is assured.

(g) Encouragement of structured volunteer programs in administration and service delivery.

Section 44-6-80. (A) The department must submit to the ~~Governor~~secretary~~, the State Fiscal Accountability Authority, Revenue and Fiscal Affairs Office, and the Executive Budget Office, and the General Assembly~~ an annual report concerning the work of the department including details on improvements in the cost effectiveness achieved since the enactment of this chapter and must recommend changes for further improvements.

(B) Interim reports must be submitted as needed to advise the Governor and the General Assembly of substantive issues.

Section 44-6-90. (A) The department may promulgate regulations to carry out its duties. The secretary must approve regulations promulgated pursuant to this section prior to their submission.

Section 44-6-100. (A) The department employees shall have such general duties and receive such compensation as determined by the director, with the authority provided by the secretary. The director shall be responsible for administration of state personnel policies and general ~~department~~ personnel policies established by the Executive Office of Health and Policy. The director shall have sole authority to employ and discharge employees subject to such personnel policies and funding available for that purpose.

(B) In all instances, the director shall serve as the chief administrative officer of the department and shall have the responsibility of executing policies, directives, and actions of the department either personally or by issuing appropriate directives to the employees.

(C) The goal of the provisions of this section is to ensure that the department's business is conducted according to sound administrative practice~~, without unnecessary interference with its internal affairs.~~ Public officers and employees shall be guided by this goal and comply with these provisions.

Section 44-6-110. A Medicaid provider, outside of the geographical boundary of South Carolina but within the South Carolina Medicaid Service Area, as defined by R. 126-300(B) of the Code of State Regulations, prior to the effective date of the amendments to Section 1-1-10, which are effective January 1, 2017, shall not lose status as a Medicaid provider as a result of the clarification of the South Carolina-North Carolina border.

(D) The director of the department shall seek any necessary federal approvals to implement this section. This section shall not be implemented until the necessary federal approvals are obtained and shall be implemented only to the extent that federal financial participation is available.

(E) This section does not restrict or prohibit any services currently provided by pharmacists as authorized by law including, but not limited to, this chapter or the Medicaid state plan.

Article 2

Medically Indigent Assistance Act

Section 44-6-132. The General Assembly finds that:

(1) There are citizens who cannot afford to pay for hospital care because of inadequate financial resources or catastrophic medical expenses.

(2) Rising health care costs and the growth of the medically indigent population have increased the strains on the health care system with a growing burden on the hospital industry, health insurance companies, and paying patients.

(3) This burden has affected businesses, which are large purchasers of health care services through employee insurance benefits, and taxpayers in counties which support public hospitals, and it causes the cost of services provided to paying patients to increase in a manner unrelated to the actual cost of services delivered to them.

(4) Hospitals which provide the bulk of unreimbursed services cannot compete economically with hospitals which provide relatively little care to indigent persons.

(5) Because of the complexity of the health care system, any effort to resolve the problem of paying for care for medically indigent persons must be multifaceted and shall include at least four general principles:

(a) Funds must be made available to assure continued access to quality health care for medically indigent patients.

(b) Cost containment measures and competitive incentives must be placed into the health care system along with the additional funds.

(c) The cost of providing indigent care must be equitably borne by the State, the counties, and the providers of care.

(d) State residents must be guaranteed access to emergency medical care regardless of their ability to pay or county of residence.

It is the intent of the General Assembly to:

(1) assure care for the largest possible number of its medically indigent citizens within funds available by:

(a) expanding the number of persons eligible for Medicaid services, using additional state and county funds to take advantage of matching federal funds;

(b) creating a fund based on provider and local government contributions to provide medical assistance to those citizens who do not qualify for Medicaid or any other government assistance and who do not have the means to pay for hospital care; and

(c) mandating access to emergency medical care for all state residents in need of the care;

(2) Provide incentives for cost containment to providers of care to indigent patients by implementing a prospective payment system in the Medicaid and Medically Indigent Assistance Fund programs;

(3) monitor efforts to foster competition in the health care market place while being prepared to make adjustments in the system through regulatory intervention if needed;

(4) promote market reforms, as the single largest employer in the State, by structuring its health insurance program to encourage healthy lifestyles and prudent use of medical services; and

(5) reduce where possible or maintain the current rate schedules of hospitals to keep costs from escalating.

Section 44-6-135. The following sections shall be known and may be cited as the "South Carolina Medically Indigent Assistance Act".

Section 44-6-140. (A) To provide cost containment incentives for providers of care to Medicaid recipients, the department shall convert the Medicaid hospital reimbursement system from a retrospective payment system to a prospective payment system ~~by October 1, 1985~~. The prospective payment system includes, at a minimum, the following elements:

(1) a maximum allowable payment amount established for individual hospital products, services, patient diagnoses, patient day, patient admission, or per patient, or any combination thereof. This payment must be based on hospital costs rather than hospital charges and must be adjusted at least every two years to reflect the most recent audited cost data available. The department shall set by regulation those circumstances under which a hospital may seek an exception. The maximum allowable payment amount must be weighted to allow for the costs of medical education and primary, secondary, or tertiary care considerations;

(2) payment on a timely basis to the hospital by the ~~commission~~ department or patient or both, of the maximum allowable payment amount determined by the ~~commission; and~~department; and

(3) acceptance by the hospital of the maximum payment amount as payment in full, which includes any deductible or copayment provided for in the state Medicaid program.

(B)(1) The department shall at the same time implement other cost containment measures which include, but are not limited to:

~~(1)~~(a) utilization reviews for appropriateness of treatment and length of stay;

~~(2)~~(b) preadmission certification of nonemergency admissions;

~~(3)~~(c) mandatory outpatient surgery in appropriate cases;

~~(4)~~(d) a second surgical opinion pilot study; and

~~(5)~~(e) procedures for encouraging the use of outpatient services.

(2) The department, to the fullest extent possible, shall utilize information required in this subsection in the form hospitals are presently submitting the information to other governmental agencies or in the form hospitals are presently utilizing the information within the hospital.

Section 44-6-146. (A) Every fiscal year the State Treasurer shall withhold from the portion of the Local Government Fund allotted to the counties a sum equal to fifty cents per capita based on the population of the several counties as shown by the latest official census of the United States. The money withheld by the State Treasurer must be placed to the credit of the ~~commission~~ department and used to provide Title XIX (Medicaid) services.

(B)(1) County governments are assessed an additional thirteen million dollars annually for use as matching funds for Medicaid services. Of these funds, seven and a half million dollars must be deposited into the Medicaid Expansion Fund created by Section 44-6-155.

(2)The department shall assess each county its share of the thirteen million dollars based on a formula which equally weighs the following factors in each county: property value, personal income, net taxable sales, and the previous two years of claims against the medically indigent assistance fund or program against county residents. If a trust fund has been established in a county to fund indigent care in the county, contributions on behalf of the county must be credited against the county assessment.

(C)(1) Within thirty days of the first day of the state's fiscal year, and on the first day of the other three quarters, each county shall remit one-fourth of its total assessment to the department. The department shall allow a brief grace period during which late payments are not subject to interest or penalty.

(2) Any county which fails to pay its assessment within the time allotted must pay, in addition to the assessment, a penalty of five percent of the assessment and interest at one and one-half percent per month from the date the assessment was originally due to the date of the payment of the assessment and penalty. The department may in its discretion waive or reduce the penalty or interest or any part thereof.

Section 44-6-150. (A)(1) There is created the South Carolina Medically Indigent Assistance Program administered by the department. The program is authorized to sponsor inpatient hospital care for which hospitals shall receive no reimbursement. A general hospital equipped to provide the necessary treatment shall:

~~(1)~~(a) admit a patient sponsored by the program; and

~~(2)~~(b) accept the transfer of a patient sponsored by the program from a hospital which is not equipped to provide the necessary treatment.

(2) In addition to or in lieu of an action taken affecting the license of the hospital, when it is established that an officer, employee, or member of the hospital medical staff has violated this section, the South Carolina Department of Public Health ~~and Environmental Control~~ shall require the hospital to pay a civil penalty of up to ten thousand dollars.

(B) Hospital charges for patients sponsored by the Medically Indigent Assistance Program must be reported to the Revenue and Fiscal Affairs Office pursuant to Section 44-6-170.

(C) In administering the Medically Indigent Assistance Program, the department shall determine:

(1) the method of administration including the specific procedures and materials to be used statewide in determining eligibility for the program;

(a) In a nonemergency, the patient shall submit the necessary documentation to the patient's county of residence or its designee to determine eligibility before admission to the hospital.

(b) In an emergency, the hospital shall admit the patient pursuant to Section 44-7-260. If a hospital holds the patient financially responsible for all or a portion of the inpatient hospital bill, and if the hospital determines that the patient could be eligible for the program, it shall forward the necessary documentation along with the patient's bill and other supporting information to the patient's county of residence or its designee for processing. A county may request that all hospital bills incurred by its residents sponsored by the program be submitted to the county or its designee for review.

(2) the population to be served, including eligibility criteria based on family income and resources. Eligibility is determined on an episodic basis for a given spell of illness. Eligibility criteria must be uniform statewide and may include only those persons who meet the program's definition of medically indigent;

(3) the health care services covered;

(4) a process by which an eligibility determination can be contested and appealed; and

(5) the program may not sponsor a patient until all other means of paying for or providing services have been exhausted. This includes Medicaid, Medicare, health insurance, employee benefit plans, or other persons or agencies required by law to provide medical care for the person. Hospitals may require eligible patients whose gross family income is between one hundred percent and two hundred percent of the federal poverty guidelines, to make a copayment based on a sliding payment scale developed by the department based on income and family size.

(D) Nothing in this section may be construed as relieving hospitals of their Hill-Burton obligation to provide unreimbursed medical care to indigent persons.

Section 44-6-155. (A) There is created the Medicaid Expansion Fund into which must be deposited funds:

(1) collected pursuant to Section 44-6-146;

(2) collected pursuant to Section 12-23-~~810; and~~810; and

(3) appropriated pursuant to subsection (B).

This fund must be separate and distinct from the general fund. These funds are supplementary and may not be used to replace general funds appropriated by the General Assembly or other funds used to support Medicaid. These funds and the programs specified in subsection (C) are exempt from any budgetary cuts, reductions, or eliminations caused by the lack of general fund revenues. Earnings on investments from this fund must remain part of the separate fund and must not be deposited in the general fund.

(B) The department shall estimate the amount of federal matching funds which will be spent in the State during the next fiscal year due to the changes in Medicaid authorized by subsection (C). Based on this estimate, the General Assembly shall appropriate to the Medicaid Expansion Fund state funds equal to the additional state revenue generated by the expenditure of these federal funds.

(C) Monies in the fund must be used to:

(1) provide Medicaid coverage to pregnant women and infants with family incomes above one hundred percent but below one hundred eighty-five percent of the federal poverty guidelines;

(2) provide Medicaid coverage to children aged one through six with family income below federal poverty guidelines;

(3) provide Medicaid coverage to aged and disabled persons with family income below federal poverty guidelines;

~~(4) [reserved];~~

~~(5) [reserved];~~

~~(6) [reserved];~~

~~(7)~~(4) provide up to two hundred forty thousand dollars to reimburse the Revenue and Fiscal Affairs Office and hospitals for the cost of collecting and reporting data pursuant to Section 44-6-170~~;~~.

~~(8) [reserved].~~

(D) Any funds not expended for the purposes specified in subsection (C) during a given year are carried forward to the succeeding year for the same purposes.

Section 44-6-160. (A) By August first of each year, the department shall compute and publish the annual target rate of increase for net inpatient charges for all general hospitals in the State. The target rate of increase will be established for a twelve-month period from October first through September thirtieth of the following year. Once established, the target rate of increase must not be amended during the year except as provided in subsection (B) of this section. The department shall monitor the performance of the hospital industry to contain costs, specifically as evidenced by the annual rate of growth of net inpatient charges. If the department determines that the annual rate of increase in net inpatient charges for the hospital industry has exceeded the target rate of increase established for that year, the department shall appoint an expert panel for the purpose of analyzing the financial reports of each hospital whose net inpatient charges exceeded the target rate of increase. The panel's review shall take into consideration service volume, intensity of care, and new services or facilities. The panel shall consist of at least three members who have broad experience, training, and education in the field of health economics or health care finance. The panel shall report its findings and recommendations, including recommended penalties or sanctions, to the department. The department shall decide what, if any, penalty it will impose within three months of receiving all necessary data.

(B) The department may impose penalties or sanctions it considers appropriate. Penalties must be prospective. Financial penalties are limited to a reduction in a hospital's target rate of increase for the following year. Any reduction in a hospital's target rate of increase for the next year must not be greater than the amount the hospital exceeded the industry's target rate of increase for the previous year. Once a hospital is sanctioned, it must be reviewed annually until it succeeds in remaining below its target rate of increase.

Section 44-6-170. (A) As used in this section:

(1) "Office" means the Revenue and Fiscal Affairs Office.

(2) "Council" means the Data Oversight Council.

~~(3) "Committee" means the Joint Legislative Health Care Planning and Oversight Committee.~~

(B) There is established the Data Oversight Council. The members enumerated in items (1) through (10) must be appointed by the secretary and shall serve at the secretary's pleasure. The remaining members shall serve ex-officio. The secretary shall appoint one of the members to serve as chairman. The office shall provide staff assistance to the council. The council shall be comprised of:

(1) one hospital administrator;

(2) the chief executive officer or designee of the South Carolina Hospital Association;

(3) one physician;

(4) the chief executive officer or designee of the South Carolina Medical Association;

(5) one representative of major third-party health care payers;

(6) one representative of the managed health care industry;

(7) one nursing home administrator;

(8) three representatives of nonhealth care-related businesses;

(9) one representative of a nonhealth care-related business of less than one hundred employees;

(10) the executive vice president or designee of the South Carolina Chamber of Commerce;

(11) a member of the Governor's office staff;

(12) the director or his designee of the South Carolina Department of Public Health ~~and Environmental Control~~;

(13) the executive director or his designee of the State Department of Health Financing.~~and Human Services~~

~~The members enumerated in items (1) through (10) must be appointed by the Governor for three-year terms and until their successors are appointed and qualify; the remaining members serve ex officio. The Governor shall appoint one of the members to serve as chairman. The office shall provide staff assistance to the council.~~

(C) The duties of the council are to:

(1) make periodic recommendations to the ~~committee and the General Assembly~~secretary concerning the collection and release of health care-related data by the State which the council considers necessary to assist in the formation of health care policy in the State;

(2) convene expert panels as necessary to assist in developing recommendations for the collection and release of health care-related data;

(3) approve all regulations for the collection and release of health care-related data to be promulgated by the office;

(4) approve release of health care-related data consistent with regulations promulgated by the office;

(5) recommend to the office appropriate dissemination of health care-related data reports, training of personnel, and use of health care-related data.

(D) The office, with the approval of the council, shall promulgate regulations in accordance with the Administrative Procedures Act regarding the collection of inpatient and outpatient information. No data may be released by the office except in a format recommended by the council and consistent with regulations. Before the office releases provider identifiable data the office must determine that the data to be released is for purposes consistent with the regulations as promulgated by the office and the release must be approved by the council and the committee. Provided, however, committee approval of the release is not necessary if the data elements and format in the release are substantially similar to releases or standardized reports previously approved by the committee. The council shall make periodic recommendations to the committee and the General Assembly concerning the collection and release of health care-related data by the State. Regulations promulgated by the office mandating the collection of inpatient or outpatient data apply to every provider or insurer affected by the regulation regardless of how the data is collected by the provider or insurer. Every effort must be made to utilize existing data sources.

(E) Information may be required to be produced only with respect to admissions of and treatment to patients after the effective date of the regulations implementing this section, except that data with respect to the medical history of the patient reasonably necessary to evaluation of the admission of and treatment to the patient may be required.

(F) The office shall convene a Health Data Analysis Task Force composed of technical representatives of universities and other private sector and public agencies including, but not limited to, health care providers and insurers to make recommendations to the council concerning types of analyses needed to carry out this section.

(G)(1) All general acute care hospitals and specialized hospitals including, but not limited to, psychiatric hospitals, alcohol and substance ~~abuse~~ use hospitals, and rehabilitation hospitals shall provide inpatient and financial information to the office as set forth in regulations.

(2) All hospital-based and freestanding ambulatory surgical facilities as defined in Section 44-7-130, hospital emergency rooms licensed under Chapter 7, Article 3, and any health care setting which provides on an outpatient basis radiation therapy, cardiac catherizations, lithotripsy, magnetic resonance imaging, and positron emission therapy shall provide outpatient information to the office as set forth in the regulation. Other providers offering services with equipment requiring a Certificate of Need shall provide outpatient information to the office. Additionally, licensed home health agencies shall provide outpatient information to the office as set forth in the regulation.

(3) Release must be made no less than semiannually of the patient medical record information specified in regulation to the submitting hospital and other information specified in regulation to the hospital's designee. However, the hospital's designee must not have access to patient identifiable data.

(H) If a provider fails to submit the health care data as required by this section or regulations promulgated pursuant to this section, the office may assess a civil fine of up to five thousand dollars for each violation, but the total fine may not exceed ten thousand dollars.

(I) A person, as defined in Section 44-7-130, seeking to collect health care data or information for a registry shall coordinate with the office to utilize existing data collection formats as provided for by the office and consistent with regulations promulgated by the office. With the exception of information that may be obtained from the Office of Vital Records, Department of Public Health ~~and Environmental Control~~, in accordance with Section 44-63-20 and Regulation 61-19 and disease information required to be reported to the Department of Health and Environmental Control under Sections 44-29-10, 44-29-70, and 44-31-10 and Regulations 61-20 and 61-21 and notwithstanding any other provision of law, no hospital or health care facility or health care professional required by this section to submit health care data is required to submit data to a registry which has not complied with this section.

(J) The Executive Office of Health and Policy shall have access to data collected pursuant to Section 44-6-170 as necessary for the secretary to execute the duties of his office and in furtherance of the State Health Services Plan. Section 44-6-180. (A) Patient records received by counties, the department, or other entities involved in the administration of the program created pursuant to Section 44-6-150 are confidential. Patient records gathered pursuant to Section 44-6-170 are also confidential. The Revenue and Fiscal Affairs Office shall use patient-identifiable data collected pursuant to Section 44-6-170 for the purpose of linking various data bases to carry out the purposes of Section 44-6-170. Linked data files must be made available to those agencies providing data files for linkage. No agency receiving patient-identifiable data collected pursuant to Section 44-6-170 may release this data in a manner such that an individual patient or provider may be identified except as provided in Section 44-6-170. Nothing in this section may be construed to limit access by a submitting provider or its designee to that provider's information.

(B) A person violating this section is guilty of a misdemeanor and, upon conviction, must be fined not more than five thousand dollars or imprisoned not more than one year, or both.

Section 44-6-190. (A) The department may promulgate regulations pursuant to the Administrative Procedures Act. Appeals from decisions by the department are heard pursuant to the Administrative Procedures Act, Administrative Law Judge, Article 5, Chapter 23 of Title 1 of the 1976 Code.

(B) The department shall promulgate regulations to comply with federal requirements to limit the use or disclosure of information concerning applicants and recipients to purposes directly connected with the administration of the Medicaid program.

(C) The Secretary of Health and Policy must approve these regulations prior to their submission to the General Assembly.

Section 44-6-200. (A) A person who commits a material falsification of information required to determine eligibility for the Medically Indigent Assistance Program is guilty of a misdemeanor and, upon conviction, must be fined not more than five hundred dollars or imprisoned for not more than one year, or both.

(B) Unless otherwise specified in this chapter, an individual or facility violating this chapter or a regulation under this chapter is guilty of a misdemeanor and, upon conviction, must be fined not more than one hundred dollars for the first offense and not more than five thousand dollars for a subsequent offense.

Section 44-6-220. All applications for admission to a nursing home must contain a notice, to be signed by the applicant, stating:

"Eligibility for Medicaid-sponsored long-term care services is based on income and medical necessity. To qualify for assistance through the Medicaid program, a nursing home patient must need intermediate or skilled nursing care as determined through an assessment conducted by Medicaid program staff. The fact that a patient has already been admitted to a nursing home is not considered in this determination. It is possible that a patient could exhaust all other means of paying for nursing home care and meet Medicaid income criteria but still be denied assistance due to the lack of medical necessity.

It is recommended that all persons seeking admission to a nursing home be assessed by the Medicaid program prior to admission. This assessment will provide information about the level of care needed and the viability of community services as an alternative to admission. The department may charge a fee, not to exceed the cost of the assessment, to persons not eligible for Medicaid-sponsored long-term care services."

Intermediate Sanctions for Medicaid Certified Nursing Home Act

Section 44-6-400. As used in this article:

(1) "Department" means the Department of Health ~~and Human Services~~Financing.

(2) "Nursing home" means a facility subject to licensure as a nursing home by the Department of Public Health ~~and Environmental Control~~ and subject to the permit provisions of Article 2, Chapter 7 of Title 44 and which has been certified for participation in the Medicaid program or has been dually certified for participation in the Medicaid and Medicare programs.

(3) "Resident" means a person who resides or resided in a nursing home during a period of an alleged violation.

(4) "Survey agency" means the South Carolina Department of Public Health ~~and Environmental Control~~ or any other agency designated to conduct compliance surveys of nursing facilities participating in the Title XIX (Medicaid) program.

Section 44-6-420. (A) When the department is notified by the survey agency that a nursing home is in violation of one or more of the requirements for participation in the Medicaid program, it may take enforcement action as follows:

(1) if the nursing home is dually certified for participation in both the Medicare and Medicaid programs, the department shall coordinate any enforcement action with federal authorities and shall defer to the actions of these federal authorities to the extent required by federal statute or regulation;

(2) if the nursing home is only certified for participation in the Medicaid program and is not certified for participation in the Medicare program, the department may take any enforcement action authorized under federal statute or regulation that would have been available for use by federal authorities if the nursing home had been dually certified;

(B) Any enforcement actions taken solely by the department under item (A)(2) must be proportionate to the scope and severity of the violations and also shall take into account the factors considered by federal authorities in similar enforcement actions. Dually certified nursing homes and nursing homes only certified for participation in the Medicaid program must be subjected to comparable enforcement actions for comparable violations.

Section 44-6-470. Any use of funds collected by the department as a result of the imposition of civil monetary penalties or other enforcement actions must be for a purpose related to the protection of the health and property of residents of nursing homes that participate in the Medicaid program. These funds may be used for the cost of relocating residents to other nursing homes, if necessary, and also may be used to reimburse residents for personal funds lost as a result of violations of the requirements for participation in the Medicaid program by the nursing home. In addition, these funds may be used for other costs directly associated with enforcement or corrective measures at facilities found to be out of compliance with the requirements for participation in the Medicaid program or for any other purpose that enhances or improves the health and quality of life for residents. These requirements for the use of funds collected also apply to funds received by the department that are collected as the result of enforcement actions directed by federal authorities.

Section 44-6-530. Before instituting an action under this article, the Department of Health ~~and Human Services~~Financing shall determine if the Secretary of the United States Department of Health and Human Services has jurisdiction under federal law. In such cases, it shall coordinate its efforts with the secretary to maintain an action against the nursing home. In an action against a nursing home owned and operated by the State of South Carolina, the ~~secretary~~ Secretary of the United States Department of Health and Human Services has exclusive jurisdiction.

Section 44-6-540. The department is authorized to promulgate regulations, pursuant to the Administrative Procedures Act, to administer this article, and to ensure compliance with the requirements for participation in the Medicaid program. The Secretary of Health and Policy must approve the regulations prior to their submission to the General Assembly.

Trusts and Medicaid Eligibility

Section 44-6-710. If an applicant for Medicaid for nursing home care would be ineligible because a trust established for the applicant was deemed a Medicaid qualifying trust or resources in the trust were deemed an improper transfer of resources, the person's application must be treated as a case of undue hardship under federal law if all of the criteria in Section 44-6-720 are met. For the purposes of this section, 'Medicaid qualifying trust' has the same meaning as set forth in 42 U.S.C. Section 1396a(k).

Section 44-6-720. (A) To be considered for a waiver due to undue hardship, the applicant must meet all other applicable eligibility criteria for assistance. If the federal "transfer of resources" rule set forth in 42 U.S.C. Section 1396p(c), as amended, applies to the applicant, then no undue hardship waiver may be granted until the period of ineligibility has expired. For the purposes of this subsection, the maximum length of ineligibility is extended to sixty months from the date of any improper transfer.

(B) The trust established for the applicant must meet the following criteria:

(1) the applicant's monthly gross income from all sources, without reference to the trust, exceeds the income eligibility standard for Medicaid then in effect but is less than the average private pay rate for nursing home care for the State;

(2) the property used to fund the trust is limited to monthly unearned income owned by the applicant, including any pension payment;

(3) the applicant and the state Medicaid program are the sole beneficiaries of the trust;

(4) the entire income and corpus of the trust, or as much as may be distributed each month without violating federal requirements for federal financial participation, must be distributed each month for expenses related to the applicant's nursing home care that are approved under the Medicaid program, except that:

(a) an amount reasonably necessary to maintain the existence of the trust, as approved by the Medicaid program, may be retained in the trust; and

(b) deductions may be distributed from the trust to the same extent deductions from the income of a nursing home resident who is not a trust beneficiary are allowed under the Medicaid program, which shall include:

(i) monthly personal needs allowance;

(ii) payments to the beneficiary's community spouse or dependent family members as provided and in accordance with state and federal law;

(iii) specified health insurance costs and special medical services provided under Title XIX of the federal "Social Security Act", 42 U.S.C. Section 1396a(r), as amended; and

(iv) other deductions provided in regulations of the ~~State~~ Department of Health Financing ~~and Human Services Finance Commission~~;

(5) upon the death of the beneficiary, a remainder interest in the corpus of the trust passes to the ~~State~~ Department of Health Financing ~~and Human Services Finance Commission~~. The ~~commission~~ department shall remit the state share of the trust to the general fund; and

(6) the trust is not subject to modification by the beneficiary or the trustee without the approval of the state Medicaid program.

Section 44-6-725. Any promissory note received by a Medicaid applicant or recipient or the spouse of a Medicaid applicant or recipient in exchange for assets which if retained by the applicant or recipient or his spouse would cause the applicant or recipient to be ineligible for Medicaid benefits, shall, for Medicaid eligibility purposes, be deemed to be fully negotiable under the laws of this State unless it contains language plainly stating that it is not transferable under any circumstances. A promissory note will be considered valid for Medicaid purposes only if it is actuarially sound, requires monthly installments that fully amortize it over the life of the loan, and is free of any conditional or self-canceling clauses.

Section 44-6-730. The ~~State~~ Department of Health Financing ~~and Human Services Finance Commission~~ shall promulgate regulations as are necessary for the implementation of this article and as are necessary to comply with federal law. The Secretary of Health and Policy must approve the regulations prior to their submission. In addition, the ~~commission~~ department shall amend the state Medicaid plan in a manner that is consistent with this article.

Article 7

Recognition and Designation of Federally Qualified Health Centers, Rural Health Clinics, and Rural Hospitals

Section 44-6-910. (A) Federally Qualified Health Centers (FQHC's), Rural Health Clinics (RHC's), and Rural Hospitals are recognized and designated as essential community providers for underserved patients which include Medicaid and Medicare recipients, the underinsured, and the uninsured. These populations require more extensive services by community-based providers, and the FQHC's, RHC's, and Rural Hospitals have extensive experience and knowledge in providing quality, cost-effective care for these populations. The State shall include these essential community providers as contracted entities in any formulation of the state health care system. The inclusion of FQHC's, RHC's, and Rural Hospitals as contracted entities in the state health care system recognizes the importance of these providers to South Carolina and assures that the reimbursement to these essential community providers will be funded through cost-based reimbursement or a capitated fee based on reasonable costs.

(B) A hospital located in an urban area (MSA County), can be considered "rural" for the purposes of the Medicare Rural Hospital Flexibility Program if it meets the following criteria:

(1) enrolled as both a Medicaid and Medicare provider and accepts assignment for all Medicaid and Medicare patients;

(2) provides emergency health care services to indigent patients;

(3) maintains a twenty-four hour emergency room;

(4) staffs fifty or less acute care beds; and

(5) located in a county with twenty-five percent or more rural residents, as defined by the most recent United States decennial census.

Article 8

Medicaid Pharmacy and Therapeutics Committee

Section 44-6-1010. There is created within the Department of Health Financing ~~and Human Services~~ the Pharmacy and Therapeutics Committee. The committee must consist of fifteen members appointed by the director and serving at the pleasure of the director of the department. The members must include eleven physicians and four pharmacists licensed to practice in South Carolina and actively engaged in providing services to the South Carolina Medicaid population. The physicians may include, but are not limited to, doctors who have experience in treating diabetes, cancer, HIV/AIDS, mental illness, and hemophilia and who practice in internal medicine, primary care, and pediatrics.

Section 44-6-1020. The committee shall adopt bylaws that include, at a minimum, the length of membership. A chairman and a vice chairman shall be elected on an annual basis from the committee membership. Committee members must not be compensated for service to the committee. However, committee members may be reimbursed for actual and necessary expenses incurred by discharging committee duties in an amount not to exceed the mileage and subsistence amounts allowed by law for members of boards, commissions, and committees. The committee must meet at least quarterly and may meet at other times in the chairman's or the director's discretion. Committee meetings are subject to the provisions of the Freedom of Information Act. The department shall publish notice of regular business meetings of the committee at least thirty days before the meeting. However, the director or chairman may call special meetings of the committee and provide notice as soon as practical. The committee must provide for public comment, including comment on clinical and patient care data from Medicaid providers, representatives of the pharmaceutical industry, and patient advocacy groups. Proprietary information as defined in the trade secret law shall not be discussed. Trade secrets as defined in Section 30-4-40(a)(1) and relevant federal law must not be publicly disclosed.

Section 44-6-1030. The committee must recommend to the department therapeutic classes of drugs that should be included on a preferred drug list. For those recommended classes, the committee shall recommend the drug or drugs considered preferred within that class based on safety and efficacy. In determining safety and efficacy, the committee may consider all submitted public comment or clinical information including, but not limited to, scientific evidence, standards of practice, peer-reviewed medical literature, randomized clinical trials, pharmacoeconomic studies, and outcomes research data. The committee also shall recommend prior authorization criteria for nonpreferred drugs in the recommended therapeutic classes.

Section 44-6-1040. Any preferred drug list program implemented by the department must include:

(1) procedures to ensure that a request for prior authorization that has no material defect or impropriety can be processed within twenty-four hours of receipt;

(2) procedures to allow the prescribing physician to request and receive notice of any delays or negative decision in regard to a prior authorization;

(3) procedures to allow the prescribing physician to request and receive a second review of any denial of a prior authorization request; and

(4) procedures to allow a pharmacist to dispense an emergency, seventy-two hour supply of a drug requiring prior authorization without prior authorization if the pharmacist:

(a) has made a reasonable attempt to contact the physician and request that the prescribing physician secure prior authorization; and

(b) reasonably believes that refusing to dispense a seventy-two-hour supply would unduly burden the Medicaid recipient and produce undesirable health consequences.

Section 44-6-1050. A grant of prior authorization for a drug is specific to the drug, rather than the actual prescription, and extends to all refills allowed pursuant to the original prescription and to subsequent prescriptions for the same drug at the same dosage provided the time allowed by the prior authorization has not expired. A Medicaid recipient who has been denied prior authorization for a prescribed drug is entitled to appeal this decision through the department's appeals process.

SECTION X. Section 44-7-77 of the S.C. Code is amended to read:

Section 44-7-77. The Department of Public Health ~~and Environmental Control~~ and the State Department of Social Services, in conjunction with the South Carolina Hospital Association, shall develop and implement a program to promote obtaining voluntary acknowledgments of paternity as soon after birth as possible and where possible before the release of the newborn from the hospital. A voluntary acknowledgment including those obtained through an in-hospital program shall contain the requirements of Section 63-17-60(A)(4) and the social security number, or the alien identification number assigned to a resident alien who does not have a social security number, of both parents, and must be signed by both parents. The signatures must be notarized. As part of its in-hospital voluntary acknowledgment of paternity program, a birthing hospital as part of the birth registration process, shall collect, where ascertainable, information which is or may be necessary for the establishment of the paternity of the child and for the establishment of child support. The information to be collected on the father or on the putative father if paternity has not been established includes, but is not limited to, the name of the father, his date of birth, home address, social security number, or the alien identification number assigned to a resident alien who does not have a social security number, and employer's name, and additionally for the putative father, the names and addresses of the putative father's parents.

SECTION X. Article 2, Chapter 7, Title 44 of the S.C. Code is amended to read:

Article 2

Medicaid Nursing Home Permits

Section 44-7-80. For the purposes of this article:

(1) "Nursing home" means a facility with an organized nursing staff to maintain and operate organized facilities and services to accommodate two or more unrelated persons over a period exceeding twenty-four hours, which is operated either in connection with a hospital or as a freestanding facility for the express or implied purpose of providing intermediate or skilled nursing care for persons who are not in need of hospital care. Rehabilitative therapies may be provided on an outpatient basis.

(2) "Medicaid nursing home permit" means a permit to serve Medicaid patients in an appropriately certified nursing home.

(3) "Medicaid patient" means a person who is eligible for Medicaid (Title XIX) sponsored long-term care services.

(4) "Medicaid patient day" means a day of nursing home care for which a nursing home receives Medicaid reimbursement.

(5) "Medicaid permit day" means a day of service provided to a Medicaid patient in a Medicaid-certified nursing home which holds a Medicaid days permit.

(6) "Department" means the Department of Public Health ~~and Environmental Control~~.

Section 44-7-82. No nursing home may provide care to Medicaid patients without first obtaining a permit in the manner provided in this article.

Section 44-7-84. (A) In the annual appropriations act, the General Assembly shall establish the maximum number of Medicaid patient days for which the department is authorized to issue Medicaid nursing home permits. The ~~State~~ Department of Health Financing ~~and Human Services~~ shall provide the number of Medicaid patient days available to the department within thirty days after the effective date of the annual appropriations act.

(B) Based on a method the department develops for determining the need for nursing home care for Medicaid patients in each area of the State, the department shall determine the distribution of Medicaid patient days for which Medicaid nursing home permits can be issued. Nursing homes holding a Medicaid nursing home permit must be allocated Medicaid days based on their current allocation and available funds. Requests for days must be submitted to the department no later than June fifteenth each year. The department shall issue permits to the facilities by August first of each year. The application must state the specific number of Medicaid patient days the nursing home will provide. If a nursing home requests fewer days than the previous year, or is permitted fewer days, those days first must be offered to the facilities within the same county currently holding a Medicaid nursing home permit. However, if Medicaid patient days remain available after being offered to those nursing homes currently holding a Medicaid patient days permit in that county, then existing nursing homes with a restricted Certificate of Need, within the same county, may apply for a Medicaid nursing home permit to receive the Medicaid permit days remaining available. Following the initial allocation of Medicaid patient days, any additional Medicaid permit days must be credited to a statewide pool and the days must be allocated to those counties showing the greatest need based on the average number of fully eligible Medicaid nursing facility applicants by county in the Community Long Term Care awaiting placement reports for the past twelve months. The Department of Health Financing ~~and Human Services~~ shall provide this information to the department no later than July fifteenth of each year. The Medicaid permit days must be proportionately allocated to each facility within the county that currently holds a Medicaid permit and is currently in compliance with its Medicaid permit. A facility is deemed to be in compliance for allocation of these additional Medicaid permit days if it has not exceeded its stated Medicaid permit by more than seven percent. In addition, a nursing home that provides less than ninety percent of the stated Medicaid permit in any fiscal year may not apply for additional Medicaid permit days in the next fiscal year. If a nursing home fails to provide ninety percent of the stated Medicaid permit days for two consecutive fiscal years, the department may issue a Medicaid nursing home permit for fewer days than requested in order to ensure that the nursing home will serve the minimum number of Medicaid patients and that the State will optimize the available Medicaid days. If a nursing home has its Medicaid patient days reduced, the freed days first must be offered to other facilities in the same county before being offered to other nursing homes in the State. The department shall analyze the performance of nursing homes that are under the permit minimum or exceed the permit maximum for a fiscal year, including utilization data from the State Department of Health Financing ~~and Human Services~~, anticipated back days, delayed payments, CLTC waiting list, and other factors considered significant by the department. A nursing home which terminates its Medicaid contract must not be penalized for not meeting the requirements of this section if the nursing home was in compliance with its permit at the time of the cancellation. Facilities designated as Special Focus Facilities may not be issued additional Medicaid permit days while they remain on the Special Focus list.

(C) If the Department of Health ~~and Human Services~~Financing or the General Assembly decreases the number of Medicaid patient days available to the department, the department shall proportionately decrease the authorized Medicaid patient days for each nursing home. If additional Medicaid patient days are authorized in the following year, they must be restored proportionately to each nursing home in accordance with subsection (B).

Section 44-7-88. Nursing home patients may not be involuntarily discharged or transferred due to the Medicaid status. If no Medicaid patients are waiting for admission to the nursing home, or if for some other reason a nursing home anticipates the possibility that the home cannot satisfy the Medicaid nursing home permit requirements, the home may request a waiver of the Medicaid permit requirements from the department.

Section 44-7-90. (A) Based on reports from the State Department of Health ~~and Human Services~~Financing, the department shall determine each nursing home's compliance with its Medicaid nursing home permit. Violations of this article include:

(1) a nursing home exceeding by more than five percent the number of Medicaid patient days stated in its permit;

(2) the provisions of any Medicaid patient days by a home without a Medicaid nursing home permit.

(B) A nursing home which exceeds its Medicaid patient days stated in its permit may be fined on the number of Medicaid patient days exceeding the permit days multiplied by its daily Medicaid per diem. Medicaid permit days provided to Complex Care residents, as certified by the Department of Health ~~and Human Services~~Financing, must not be counted against the facility's Medicaid permit for the first six months of their care. Any complex care provided after six months must be counted toward the facility's Medicaid patient days under the permit days times their daily Medicaid per diem rate less the statewide average patient per diem recurring income times thirty percent. Complex Care reimbursement must not be used in the fine calculation. A facility may be fined incrementally for exceeding its Medicaid permit. Violations above five and up to ten percent of the stated permit may be fined at thirty percent of its Medicaid per diem rate less the statewide average patient per diem recurring income times the number of excess Medicaid permit days. A facility may be fined fifty percent of its Medicaid per diem rate less the statewide average patient per diem recurring income for each day above ten and up to fifteen percent of its Medicaid permit. A facility may be fined seventy percent of its Medicaid per diem rate less the statewide average patient per diem recurring income for each day in excess of fifteen percent of its stated Medicaid permit. A facility may appeal to the department any fine for days over its permit based on the facility's inability to discharge a resident based on the requirements of Section 44-7-88 if the facility can prove:

(1) the resident's primary pay source upon admission was not Medicaid;

(2) the resident did not convert to Medicaid within twenty days of being admitted as a Medicare or Medicaid replacement policy ~~resident; and~~resident; and

(3) the resident did not convert to Medicaid within thirty days of being admitted as a private pay resident.

(C) In the event of a voluntary or involuntary discontinuation of participation of a nursing facility in the Medicaid program, the State must ensure that the facility provides for patient safety and freedom of choice. The Department of Public Health ~~and Environmental Control~~ and the Department of Health ~~and Human Services~~Financing must determine the availability of existing patient days statewide for the purpose of relocating these patients. Based upon this determination, the department, at its discretion, may reallocate the patient days from a facility discontinuing its Medicaid participation to a facility that participates in the Medicaid program and agrees to accept the residents from the facility that is discontinuing Medicaid participation. The Medicaid permit day shall permanently remain with the facility accepting the resident. In the allocation of patient days from the facility discontinuing Medicaid participation, the department must give first priority to restoring a county's allocation where a facility holding a permit closes, or discontinues participation in Medicaid. A nursing home receiving beds under the provisions of this subsection must not be a Special Focus Facility at the time of allocation.

(D) ~~Effective July 1, 2014, all~~All nursing facility providers holding a Medicaid permit must report their daily Medicaid resident census information to the ~~South Carolina~~ Department of Health ~~and Human Services~~Financing or its contractor for the purpose of maintaining a statewide bed locator and permit day tracking system.

(E) Each Medicaid day above the allowable range is considered a separate violation. A fine assessed against a nursing home must be deducted from the nursing home's Medicaid reimbursement.

Section 44-7-130. As used in this article:

~~(B) The project review criteria promulgated in regulation must be used in reviewing all projects under the Certificate of Need process. When the criteria are weighted to determine the relative importance for the specific~~

~~project, the department may reorder the relative importance of the criteria no more than one time after the project review meeting. When an application has been appealed, the department may not change the weighted formula.~~

~~(C) Project review criteria must prioritize timely access to health care services and seek a balance between competition in the marketplace and regulation in the provision of health care and must support reasonable patient choice in health care facilities and services. The department shall promulgate regulations within one year of the effective date of this act identifying how the department will incorporate these considerations in reviewing Certificate of Need applications.~~

E. Section 44-7-200 of the S.C. Code is amended to read:

Within fifteen days of acceptance of the application, the department may request additional information as may be necessary to complete the application. The applicant has fifteen days from the date of the request to submit the additional information. If the applicant fails to submit the requested information within the fifteen-day period, the application is considered withdrawn.

~~(E)~~(D) After a Certificate of Need application has been filed with the department, state and federal elected officials are prohibited from communicating with the department with regard to the Certificate of Need application at any time. This prohibition does not include written communication of support or opposition to an application. Such written communication must be included in the administrative record.

F. Section 44-7-210 of the S.C. Code is amended to read:

Section 44-7-210. (A) After the department has determined that an application is complete, affected persons must be notified in accordance with departmental regulations. The staff shall issue its decision to approve or deny the application no earlier than thirty calendar days, but no later than ninety calendar days, from the date affected persons are notified that the application is complete, unless a public hearing is timely requested as may be provided for by department regulation. If a public hearing is properly requested, the staff's decision must not be made until after the public hearing, but in no event shall the decision be issued more than one hundred twenty calendar days from the date affected persons are notified that the application is complete. The staff may reorder the relative importance of the project review criteria no more than one time during the review period. The staff's reordering of the relative importance of the project review criteria does not extend the review period provided for in this section.

(B) The department may not issue a Certificate of Need unless an application complies with the South Carolina Health Plan, Project Review Criteria, and other regulations. Based on project review criteria and other regulations, which must be identified by the department, the department may refuse to issue a Certificate of Need even if an application complies with the South Carolina Health Plan. In the case of competing applications, the department shall award a Certificate of Need, if appropriate, on the basis of which, if any, most fully complies with the requirements, goals, and purposes of this article and the State Health Services Plan, Project Review Criteria, and the regulations adopted by the department.

(C) On the basis of staff review of the application, the staff shall make a staff decision to grant or deny the Certificate of Need and the staff shall issue a decision in accordance with Section 44-1-60(D). Notice of the decision must be sent to the applicant and affected persons who have asked to be notified. ~~The decision becomes the final agency decision unless a timely written request for a final review is filed with the department as provided for in Section 44-1-60(E).~~However, a person may not file a request for a contested case hearing in opposition to the staff decision on a Certificate of Need unless the person provided written notice to the department during the staff review that he is an affected person and specifically states his opposition to the application under review.

~~However, a person may not file a request for final review in opposition to the staff decision on a Certificate of Need unless the person provided written notice to the department during the staff review that he is an affected person and specifically states his opposition to the application under review.~~

~~(D) The staff's decision is not the final agency decision until the completion of the final review process provided for in Section 44-1-60(F).~~

~~(E)~~(D) A contested case hearing of the final agency decision must be requested in accordance with Section 44-1-60(G). The issues considered at the contested case hearing considering a Certificate of Need are limited to those presented or considered during the staff review.

~~(F)~~(E) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, including Section 1-23-650(C), in a contested case arising from the department's decision to grant or deny a Certificate of Need application, grant or deny a request for exemption under Section 44-7-170, or the issuance of a determination regarding the applicability of Section 44-7-160, the following apply:

(1) each party may name no more than five witnesses who may testify at the contested case hearing;

~~(G)~~(F) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, in a contested case arising from the department's decision to grant or deny a Certificate of Need application, grant or deny a request for exemption under Section 44-7-170, or the issuance of a determination regarding the applicability of Section 44-7-160, the Administrative Law Court shall file a final decision no later than twelve months after the contested case is filed with the Clerk of the Administrative Law Court. An affected person who was a party to the contested case has a right to appeal to the Supreme Court final decisions issued by the Administrative Law Court for a contested case arising from the department's decision to grant or deny a Certificate of Need application, grant or denial of a request for exemption under Section 44-7-170, or the issuance of a determination regarding the applicability of Section 44-7-160.

G. Section 44-7-260 of the S.C. Code is amended to read:

Section 44-7-260. (A) If they provide care for two or more unrelated persons, the following facilities or services may not be established, operated, or maintained in this State without first obtaining a license in the manner provided by this article and regulations promulgated by the department:

(11) intermediate care facilities for persons with intellectual disability;

(12) freestanding or mobile technology;

(13) facilities wherein abortions are performed;

(14) birthing centers.

(B) The licensing provisions of this article do not apply to:

(1) infirmaries for the exclusive use of the student bodies of privately-owned educational institutions which maintain infirmaries;

Medical staff membership must be limited to doctors of medicine or osteopathy who are currently licensed to practice medicine or osteopathy by the State Board of Medical Examiners, dentists licensed to practice dentistry by the State Board of Dentistry and podiatrists licensed to practice podiatry by the State Board of Podiatry Examiners. No individual is automatically entitled to membership on the medical staff or to the exercise of any clinical privilege merely because he is licensed to practice in any state, because he is a member of any professional organization, because he is certified by any clinical examining board, or because he has clinical privileges or staff membership at another hospital without meeting the criteria for membership established by the governing body of the respective hospital. Patients of podiatrists and dentists who are members of the medical staff of a hospital must be coadmitted by a doctor of medicine or osteopathy who is a member of the medical staff of the hospital who is responsible for the general medical care of the patient. Oral surgeons who have successfully completed a postgraduate program in oral surgery accredited by a nationally recognized accredited body approved by the United States Office of Education may admit patients without the requirement of coadmission if permitted by the bylaws of the hospital and medical staff.

(E) No person, regardless of his ability to pay or county of residence, may be denied emergency care if a member of the admitting hospital's medical staff or, in the case of a transfer, a member of the accepting hospital's medical staff determines that the person is in need of emergency care. "Emergency care" means treatment which is usually and customarily available at the respective hospital and that must be provided immediately to sustain a person's life, to prevent serious permanent disfigurement, or loss or impairment of the function of a bodily member or organ, or to provide for the care of a woman in active labor if the hospital is so equipped and, if the hospital is not so equipped, to provide necessary treatment to allow the woman to travel to a more appropriate facility without undue risk of serious harm. In addition to or in lieu of any action taken by the ~~South Carolina~~ Department of Public Health ~~and Environmental Control~~ affecting the license of any hospital, when it is established that any officer, employee, or member of the hospital medical staff has recklessly violated the provisions of this section, the department may require the hospital to pay a civil penalty of up to ten thousand dollars.

K. Section 44-7-392 of the S.C. Code is amended to read:

Section 44-7-392. (A)(1) All proceedings of, and all data, documents, records, and information prepared or acquired by, a hospital licensed under this article, its parent, subsidiaries, health care system, committees, whether permanent or ad hoc, including the hospital's governing body, or physician practices owned by the hospital (its parent or subsidiaries), relating to the following are confidential:

(a) sentinel event investigations or root cause analyses, or both, as prescribed by the joint commission or any other organization under whose accreditation a hospital is deemed to meet the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services' conditions of participation;

(b) investigations into the competence or conduct of hospital employees, agents, members of the hospital's medical staff or other practitioners, relating to the quality of patient care, and any disciplinary proceedings or fair hearings related thereto;

(c) quality assurance reviews;

(d) the medical staff credentialing process;

(e) reports by a hospital to its insurance carriers;

(f) reviews or investigations to evaluate the quality of care provided by hospital employees, agents, members of the hospital's medical staff, or other practitioners; or

(g) reports or statements, including, but not limited to, those reports or statements to the National Practitioner Data Bank and the South Carolina Board of Medical Examiners, that provide analysis or opinion (including external reviews) relating to the quality of care provided by hospital employees, agents, members of the hospital's medical staff, or other practitioners; or

(h) incident or occurrence reports and related investigations, unless the report is part of the medical record.

(2) The proceedings and data, documents, records, and information described in subsection (A)(1) may be shared with a parent corporation, subsidiaries, other hospitals in the health care system, directors, officers, employees, and agents of the hospital and if shared, remain confidential. These proceedings and data, documents, records, and information in subsection (A)(1) are not subject to discovery, subpoena, or introduction into evidence in any civil action unless the hospital and any affected person who is a party to such action waives the confidentiality in writing. Notwithstanding the foregoing, however, in the event an affected person asserts a claim in any civil action against a hospital, its parent, affiliates, directors, officers, agents, employees, or member of any committee of a licensed hospital, relating to any proceeding identified in subsection (A)(1), the hospital may, without consultation with the affected person, waive confidentiality in that civil action. Likewise, if a hospital asserts a claim in any civil action against an affected person relating to any proceeding identified in subsection (A)(1) in which the affected person was a party, the affected person may use information in the affected person's possession that is otherwise confidential under this section in that civil action.

(3) Data, documents, records, or information which are otherwise available from original sources are not confidential and are not immune from discovery from the original source under this section or use in a civil action merely because they were acquired by the hospital.

(4) This subsection does not make confidential the outcome of a practitioner's application for medical staff membership or clinical privileges, nor does it make confidential the list of clinical privileges requested by the practitioner or the list of clinical privileges that were approved. However, the practitioner's application for medical staff membership or clinical privileges, and all supporting documentation submitted or requested for the application are confidential. Nevertheless, the application itself may be obtained from the physician requesting privileges or the practice where the physician works as an employee or an independent contractor.

(5) If a practitioner is the subject of a disciplinary proceeding or fair hearing, this subsection does not, subject to the provisions of the medical staff bylaws, prohibit the practitioner from receiving data, documents, records, and information relating to this practitioner that is relevant to the proceeding or fair hearing, even if the data, documents, records, and information are otherwise confidential under this section. Such a disclosure to a practitioner in a disciplinary proceeding or fair hearing must not be considered a waiver of any privilege or confidentiality provided for in subsection (A)(1). The practitioner must not, however, without the written consent of the hospital, publish to any third party, other than legal counsel or a person retained for the purposes of representing the practitioner in a disciplinary proceeding or fair hearing, the data, documents, records, or information that were disclosed to him as part of the disciplinary proceeding or fair hearing.

(6) There is nothing in this section which makes any part of a patient's medical record confidential from the patient, including any redactions, corrections, supplements, or amendments to the patient's record, whether electronic or written.

(B) The confidentiality provisions of subsection (A) do not prevent committees appointed by the Department of Public Health ~~and Environmental Control~~ from issuing reports containing solely nonidentifying data and information.

(C) Nothing in this section affects the duty of a hospital licensed by the Department of Public Health ~~and Environmental Control~~ to report accidents or incidents pursuant to the department's regulations. However, anything reported pursuant to the department's regulations must not be considered a waiver of any privilege or confidentiality provided in subsection (A).

(D) Any data, documents, records or information that is reported to or reviewed by the joint commission or other accrediting bodies must not be considered a waiver of any privilege or confidentiality provided for in subsection (A).

(E) Any data, documents, records, or information of an action by a hospital to suspend, revoke, or otherwise limit the medical staff membership or clinical privileges of a practitioner that is submitted to the South Carolina Board of Medical Examiners pursuant to a report required by Section 44-7-70, or the National Practitioner Data Bank must not be considered a waiver of any privilege or confidentiality provided for in subsection (A).

(F) An affected person may file a civil action to assert a claim of confidentiality before a court of competent jurisdiction and file a motion to request the court to issue an order to enjoin a hospital from releasing data, documents, records, or information to the department, the South Carolina Board of Medical Examiners, the National Practitioner Data Bank, and the joint commission or other accrediting bodies that are not required by law or regulation to be released by a hospital. The data, documents, records, or information in controversy must be filed under seal with the court having jurisdiction over the pending action and are subject to judicial review. If the court finds that a party acted unreasonably in unsuccessfully asserting the claim of confidentiality under this subsection, the court shall assess attorney's fees against that party.

(G) For purposes of this section, an “affected person” means a person, other than a patient, who is a subject of a proceeding enumerated in subsection (A)(1).

CHAPTER 20

South Carolina Intellectual Disability, Related Disabilities, Head Injuries, and Spinal Cord Injuries Act

Article 1

General Provisions

Section 44-20-10. This chapter may be cited as the "South Carolina Intellectual Disability, Related Disabilities, Head Injuries, and Spinal Cord Injuries Act".

Section 44-20-20. The State of South Carolina recognizes that a person with intellectual disability, a related disability, head injury, or spinal cord injury is a person who experiences the benefits of family, education, employment, and community as do all citizens. It is the purpose of this chapter to assist persons with intellectual disability, related disabilities, head injuries, or spinal cord injuries by providing services to enable them to participate as valued members of their communities to the maximum extent practical and to live with their families or in family settings in the community in the least restrictive environment available.

When persons with intellectual disability, related disabilities, head injuries, or spinal cord injuries cannot live in communities or with their families, the State shall provide quality care and treatment in the least restrictive environment practical.

In order to plan and coordinate state and locally funded services for persons with intellectual disability, related disabilities, head injuries, or spinal cord injuries, a statewide network of local boards of disabilities and special needs is established. Services will be delivered to clients in their homes or communities through these boards and other local providers.

It is recognized that persons with intellectual disability, related disabilities, head injuries, or spinal cord injuries have the right to receive services from public and other agencies that provide services to South Carolina citizens and to have those services coordinated with the services needed because of their disabilities.

(c) it uses standardized cost accounting and financial management practices approved by the department, and

(d) the service provider is in compliance with its service contract or is making progress to become compliant through the department's remediation process.

Section 44-20-375. (A) Before July 1, 1992, county boards of ~~disabilities and special needs~~intellectual and related disabilities must be created within a county or within a combination of counties by ordinance of the governing bodies of the counties concerned. The ordinance must establish the number, terms, appointment, and removal of board members and provide for their powers and duties in compliance with state law and the process for appointing board members which existed on January 1, 1991, must be preserved in the ordinance. However, where the county legislative delegation or county council recommends board members to the appointing authority, the delegation may transfer its authority to recommend to the council or the council may transfer its authority to the delegation. If there is a transfer, preservation of the authority to recommend existing on January 1, 1991, is not required, and the new recommending authority must be contained in the ordinance.

(B) County boards of disabilities and special needs established before January 1, 1991, shall continue to exist, operate, and function as they existed on January 1, 1991, until created by ordinance pursuant to subsection (A).

(C) After June 30, 1992, the department shall recognize only county boards of disabilities and special needs that plan, administer, or provide services to persons with intellectual disability, related disabilities, head injuries, and spinal cord injuries within a county or combination of counties which are created or established pursuant to this section, including those whose members are appointed by the Governor. A county board of disabilities and special needs created by ordinance before January 1, 1991, is considered created pursuant to this section, provided the ordinance includes and complies with the provisions of subsection (A).

(D) A county board of disabilities and special needs is a public entity.

(E) In Dorchester County, appointments made pursuant to this section are governed by the provisions of Act 512 of 1996.

(F) In Georgetown County, appointments made pursuant to this section are governed by the provisions of Act 515 of 1996.

Section 44-20-378. A county board of disabilities and special needs established pursuant to Section 44-20-375 must consist of not less than five members. If the board is created within a combination of counties, the number of members representing each county must be proportional to the county's population in relation to the total population of the counties served by the board. However, a county participating in a multicounty board must not have less than two members. The term of the members is four years and until their successors are appointed and qualify. Vacancies for unexpired terms must be filled in the same manner as the original appointments. A member may be removed by the appointing authority for neglect of duty, misconduct, or malfeasance in office after being given a written statement of reasons and an opportunity to be heard.

Section 44-20-380. (A) County ~~disabilities and special needs~~ boards are encouraged to utilize lawful sources of funding to further the development of appropriate community services to meet the needs of persons with intellectual disability, related disabilities, head injuries, autism, or spinal cord injuries and their families.

(B) County boards may apply to the department for funds for community services development under the terms and conditions as may be prescribed by the department. The department shall review the applications ~~and~~, with the approval of the Secretary of Health and Policy, and subject to state appropriations to the department or to other funds under the department's control, may fund the programs it considers in the best interest of service delivery to the citizens of the State with intellectual disability, related disabilities, head injuries, autism, or spinal cord injuries.

(C) Subject to the approval of the department, county boards may seek state or federal funds administered by state agencies other than the department, funds from local governments or from private sources, or funds available from agencies of the federal government. The county boards may not apply directly to the General Assembly for funding or receive funds directly from the General Assembly.

Section 44-20-385. Subject to the provisions of this chapter and the regulations of the department each county ~~disabilities and special needs~~ board:

(1) is the administrative, planning, coordinating, and service delivery body for county disabilities and special needs services funded in whole or in part by state appropriations ~~to the department or funded from other sources under the department's control~~. It is a body corporate in deed and in law with all the powers incident to corporation including the power to incur debt insofar as that debt is payable from contract, grant, or other revenues and is not the debt of the State or its other political subdivisions. A county board may purchase and hold real and mortgage property and erect and maintain buildings. The department shall approve all debt of a county board to be paid in whole or in part from contract, grant, or other revenues provided by the State. However, the department has no responsibility for the debt so approved;

(2) shall submit an annual plan and projected budget to the department for approval and consideration of funding;

(3) shall review and evaluate on at least an annual basis the ~~county disabilities and special needs~~ services it provided pursuant to this chapter and report its findings and recommendations to the department;

(4) shall promote and accept local financial support for the county program from private and other lawful sources and promote public support from municipal and county sources;

(5) shall employ personnel and expend its budget for the direct delivery of services or contract with those service vendors necessary to carry out the county intellectual disability, related disabilities, head injuries, autism, and spinal cord injuries services program who meet specifications prescribed by the department;

(6) shall plan, arrange, implement, and monitor working agreements with other human service agencies, public and private, and with other educational and judicial agencies;

(7) shall provide the department records, reports, and access to its sponsored services and facilities the department may require and submit its sponsored services and facilities to licensing requirements of the department or to the licensing requirements of other state or local agencies having this legal authority;

(8) shall represent the best interest of persons with intellectual disability, related disabilities, head injuries, autism, or spinal cord injuries to the public, public officials, and other public or private organizations.

Section 44-20-390. (A) In order to provide assistance to families and individuals the department shall provide an initial intake and assessment service to a person believed to be in need of services and who makes application for them. An assessment must be provided through diagnostic centers operated by or approved by the department. If upon completion of the assessment, the applicant is determined to have intellectual disability, a related disability, head injury, autism, or spinal cord injury and be in need of services, he may become a client of the department and eligible for services. A service plan must be designated for each person assessed. A person determined to have intellectual disability, a related disability, head injury, autism, or spinal cord injury and who chooses to become a client of the department, must be provided with the delivery or coordination of services by the department. A person determined not to have intellectual disability, a related disability, head injury, autism, or spinal cord injury may be provided by the department with referral and assistance in obtaining appropriate services or further evaluation.

(B) Service plans must recommend the services to assist the individual in developing to the fullest potential in the least restrictive environment available. The department shall determine the "least restrictive environment" and may contract with individuals or organizations for a reasonable sum as determined by the department to provide the services. The department shall review service plans of its clients at least periodically according to standards prescribing the frequency to ensure that appropriate services are being provided in the least restrictive environment available. The parents, the legal guardian, the client, and other appropriate parties must be included in the review. The department shall develop standards prescribing the service plan review.

(C) No individual believed to have intellectual disability, a related disability, head injury, autism, or spinal cord injury may be admitted to the services of the department until he has been examined at a diagnostic center of the department or a diagnostic center approved by the department and certified by the department on the basis of acceptable data to have intellectual disability, a related disability, head injury, autism, or spinal cord injury or unless he is an infant at risk of a developmental disability and in need of the department's services.

(D) The applicant shall meet residency requirements in at least one of the following categories:

(1) The applicant or his spouse, parent, with or without legal custody, or legal guardian is domiciled in South Carolina.

(2) The applicant or his spouse, parent, with or without legal custody, or legal guardian lives outside South Carolina but retains legal residency in this State and demonstrates to the department's satisfaction his intent to return to South Carolina.

(3) The applicant or his spouse or parent, with or without legal custody, or legal guardian is a legal resident of a state which is an active member of the Interstate Compact on Mental Health and qualifies for services under it.

Section 44-20-400. Upon the written request of the person, the person's parents, parent with legal custody, or lawful custodian or legal guardian and subject to the availability of suitable accommodations and services, a person with intellectual disability, a related disability, head injury, autism, or spinal cord injury may be admitted to the services of the department for evaluation and diagnosis and shall remain in the residential services of the department for that period required to complete the diagnostic study. However, this period may not exceed thirty days except upon approval of the director or his designee. Individuals admitted under the provisions of this section are subject to the same regulations and departmental policies as regular admissions. The department may prescribe the form of the written application for diagnostic services.

Section 44-20-410. A person who is determined to be eligible for services is subject to the following considerations regarding his order of admission to services and programs:

(1) relative need of the person for special training, supervision, treatment, or care;

(2) availability of services suitable to the needs of the applicant.

Section 44-20-420. The director or his designee may designate the service or program in which a client is placed. The appropriate services and programs must be determined by the evaluation and assessment of the needs, interests, and goals of the client. The service or program to which a client is placed pursuant to this section must comply with the State Health Services Plan.

Section 44-20-430. The director or his designee has the final authority over applicant eligibility, determination, or services and admission order, subject to policies ~~adopted by the commission~~ adopted by the Secretary of Health and Policy and direction as specified in the State Health Services Plan.

Section 44-20-440. Subject to the availability of suitable services and programs and subject to the provisions of "Requirement for Admission to Services", "Order in which Person May be Admitted", and "Final Authority over Eligibility", the director or his designee may admit a client to the services of the department upon the written request of the parents of the person with intellectual disability, a related disability, head injury, autism or spinal cord injury, a parent with legal custody, spouse, lawful custodian or legal guardian, or the person with intellectual disability, a related disability, head injury, autism, or spinal cord injury seeking to be admitted to the department's services if the person is twenty-one years of age or over and competent to make the decision. The department shall prescribe the form of the application for services.

Section 44-20-450. (A) Proceedings for the involuntary admission of a person with intellectual disability or a related disability to the services of the department may be initiated by the filing of a verified petition with the probate or the family court by:

(1) the spouse;

(2) a relative;

(3) the parents;

(4) a parent with legal custody;

(5) the legal guardian of the person;

(6) the person in charge of a public or private institution in which the individual is residing at the time;

(7) the director of the county department of social services of the county in which the person resides; or

(8) a solicitor or an assistant solicitor responsible for the criminal prosecution pursuant to Section 44-23-430(2).

Upon filing of the petition, the judge shall set a date for a hearing on it and ensure that the client has an attorney who represents him. The parents, parent with legal custody, spouse, guardian, or nearest known relative of the person alleged to have intellectual disability or a related disability and in whose behalf the petition has been made and in the discretion of the court, the individual alleged to have intellectual disability or a related disability and the department must be served by the court with a written notice of the time and place of the hearing, together with a written statement of the matters stated in the petition. If no parent, spouse, legal guardian, or known relative of the person alleged to have intellectual disability or a related disability is found, the court shall appoint a guardian ad litem to represent the person alleged to have intellectual disability or a related disability, and the notice must be served upon the guardian. If the parent, spouse, guardian, or known relative of the person alleged to have intellectual disability or a related disability is found, he must be notified of the right to an attorney at the hearing.

(B) The hearing on the petition may be in the courthouse or at the place of residence of the person alleged to have intellectual disability or a related disability or at another place considered appropriate by the court. The person alleged to have intellectual disability or a related disability does not need to be present if the court determines that the hearing would be injurious or detrimental to the person alleged to have intellectual disability or a related disability or if the person's mental or physical condition prevents his participation in the hearing. However, his attorney must be present.

(C) A report of the person in charge of the examination of the person alleged to have intellectual disability or a related disability at the diagnostic center referred to in “Requirement for Admission” must be submitted to the court at the hearing. The court may not render judgment in the hearing unless this report is available and introduced.

(D) If the court determines that the evidence presented by the examiners at the diagnostic center, along with other evidence presented to the court, is to the effect that the person does not in fact have intellectual disability or a related disability to an extent which would require commitment, it shall terminate the proceeding and dismiss the petition.

(E) If the person is found by the court to have intellectual disability or a related disability and be in need of placement in a facility or service program of the department, the court shall order that he be admitted to the jurisdiction of the department as soon as necessary services are available and include in the order a summary of the evidence presented and order of the court.

(F) The department shall inform the court as soon after the date of the order as practical that suitable accommodations and services are available to meet the needs of the person with intellectual disability or a related disability. Upon notification, the court shall direct the petitioner in these proceedings to transport the person with intellectual disability or a related disability to a program the department designates.

(G) A party to these proceedings may appeal from the order of the court to the court of common pleas, and a trial de novo with a jury must be held in the same manner as in civil actions unless the petitioner through his attorney waives his right to a jury trial. Pending a final determination of the appeal, the person with intellectual disability or a related disability must be placed in protective custody in either a facility of the department or in some other suitable place designated by the court. No person with intellectual disability or a related disability must be confined in jail unless there is a criminal charge pending against him.

Section 44-20-460. (A) A person admitted or committed to the services of the department remains a client and is eligible for services until discharged. When the department determines that a client admitted to services is no longer in need of them, the director or his designee may discharge him. When the only basis of the department's provision of services to a client is that he is a person with intellectual disability or a related disability and it is determined that he is no longer in that condition, the director or his designee shall discharge him as soon as practical. A client of the department who is receiving residential services may be released to his spouse, parent, guardian, or relative or another suitable person for a time and under conditions the director or his designee may prescribe.

(B) When a client voluntarily admitted requests discharge or the person upon whose application the client was admitted to the department's services requests discharge in writing, the client may be detained by the department for no more than ninety-six hours. However, if the condition of the person is considered by the director or his designee to be such that he cannot be discharged with safety to himself or with safety to the general public, the director or his designee may postpone the requested discharge for not more than fifteen days and cause to be filed an application for judicial admission. For the purpose of this section, the Probate Court or Family Court of the county in which the facility where the person with intellectual disability or a related disability resides is located is the venue for judicial admission. Pending a final determination on the application, the court shall order the person with intellectual disability or a related disability placed in protective custody in either a facility of the department or in some other suitable place designated by the court.

Section 44-20-470. (A) The department may return a nonresident person with intellectual disability or a related disability admitted to a service or program in this State to the proper agency of the state of his residence.

(B) The department is authorized to enter into reciprocal agreements with the proper agencies of other states to facilitate the return to the state of their residence persons admitted or committed to services for persons with intellectual disability or a related disability in this State or other states.

(C) The department may detain a person with intellectual disability or a related disability returned to this State from the state of his commitment for not more than ninety-six hours pending order of the court in commitment proceedings in this State.

(D) The expense of returning persons with intellectual disability or a related disability to other states must be paid by this State, and the expense of returning residents of this State with intellectual disability or a related disability must be paid by the state making the return when interstate agreements to that effect have been negotiated.

Section 44-20-480. When the department determines that the welfare of a client would be facilitated by his placement out of the home, the client must be evaluated by the department, and the least restrictive level of care possible for the client must be recommended and provided when available. The department shall determine which levels of care are more restrictive and is responsible for providing a range of placements offering various levels of supervision. The department may pay an individual or organization furnishing residential alternatives to clients under this section a reasonable sum for services rendered, as determined by the department.

Section 44-20-490. (A) When the department determines that a client may benefit from being placed in an employment situation, the department shall regulate the terms and conditions of employment, shall supervise persons with intellectual disability, a related disability, head injury, autism, or spinal cord injury so employed, and may assist the client in the management of monies earned through employment to the end that the best interests of the client are served.

(B) The department may operate sheltered employment and training programs at its various facilities and in communities and may pay clients employed in these settings from earnings of the program or from other funds available for this purpose.

(C) Clients who receive job training and employment services from the department must be compensated in accordance with applicable state and federal laws and regulations.

Section 44-20-500. When a client is absent from a facility or program and there is probable cause the client may be in danger, the director or his designee may issue an order of confinement for the client. This order, when endorsed by the judge of the probate, family, or Circuit Court of the county in which the client is present or residing, authorizes a peace officer to take the client into custody for not more than twenty-four hours and to return him or cause him to be returned to the place designated by the director or his designee.

Section 44-20-510. Placement of a person with intellectual disability, a related disability, head injury, autism, or spinal cord injury in a program of the department does not preclude his attendance in community-based public school classes when the individual qualifies for the classes.

Article 5

Licensure and Regulation of Facilities and Programs

Section 44-20-710. No day program in part or in full for the care, training, or treatment of a person with intellectual disability, a related disability, head injury, autism, or spinal cord injury may deliver services unless a license first is obtained from the department. For the purpose of this article "in part" means a program operating for ten hours a week or more. Educational and training services offered under the sponsorship and direction of school districts and other state agencies are not required to be licensed under this article.

Section 44-20-720. The department shall establish minimum standards of operation and license programs provided for in "Facilities and Programs must be Licensed".

Section 44-20-730. In determining whether a license may be issued, the department shall consider if the program for which the license is applied conforms with the local and state service plans and if the proposed location conforms to use.

Section 44-20-740. No day program may accept a person with intellectual disability, a related disability, head injury, autism, or spinal cord injury for services other than those for which it is licensed. No program may serve more than the number of clients as provided on the license. An applicant for a license shall file an application with the department in a form and under conditions the department may prescribe. The license must be issued for up to three years unless sooner suspended, revoked, or surrendered. The license is not transferable and must not be assigned.

Section 44-20-750. The department shall make day program inspections as it may prescribe by regulation. The day programs subject to this article may be visited and inspected by the director or his designees no less than annually and before the issuance of a license. Upon request, each program shall file with the department a copy of its bylaws, regulations, and rates of charges. The records of each licensed program are open to the inspection of the director or his designees.

Section 44-20-760. Information received by the department through licensing inspections or as otherwise authorized may be disclosed publicly upon written request to the department. The reports may not identify individuals receiving services from the department.

Section 44-20-770. The department shall deny, suspend, or revoke a license on any of the following grounds:

(1) failure to establish or maintain proper standards of care and service as prescribed by the department;

(2) conduct or practices detrimental to the health or safety of residents or employees of the day program. This item does not apply to healing practices authorized by law;

(3) violation of the provisions of this article or regulations promulgated under it.

Section 44-20-780. (A) The department shall give written notification to the governing board or if none, the operator of a program of deficiencies, and the applicant or licensee must be given a specified time in which to correct the deficiencies. If the department determines to deny, suspend, or revoke a license, it shall send to the applicant or licensee by certified mail a notice setting forth the reason for the determination. The denial, suspension, or revocation becomes final fifteen calendar days after the mailing of the notice, unless the applicant or licensee within that time gives written notice of his desire for a hearing. If the applicant or licensee gives that notice, he must be given a hearing before the department and may present evidence. On the basis of the evidence, the determination must be affirmed or set aside by the director, and a copy of the decision, setting forth the findings of fact and the reasons upon which it is based must be sent by registered mail to the applicant.

(B) If an existing program has conditions or practices which, in the department's judgment, provide an immediate threat to the safety and welfare of the person with intellectual disability, a related disability, head injury, or spinal cord injury served, the department may immediately suspend or revoke the license of the program. Notification of the program board or operator by certified mail of the license suspension or revocation also must include the reasons or conditions. A person operating a program which has had its license suspended or revoked must be punished as provided in "Injunctions; Penalties".

Section 44-20-790. The procedures governing hearings authorized by "Notice of Deficiencies ...." must be in accordance with regulations promulgated by the department. The director may appoint a review team, including consumers, to assist in the collection of information pertinent to the hearing.

Section 44-20-800. An applicant or licensee who is dissatisfied with the decision of the department as a result of the hearing provided for by "Procedures Governing Disciplinary Hearings ...." may appeal to a South Carolina administrative law judge as provided in Article 5, Chapter 23, Title 1.

Section 44-20-900. (A) The department, in accordance with the laws of the State governing injunctions and other processes, may maintain an action in the name of the State against a person for establishing, conducting, managing, or operating a day program for the care, training, and treatment of a person with intellectual disability, a related disability, head injury, autism, or spinal cord injury without obtaining a license as provided in this article. In charging a defendant in a complaint in the action, it is sufficient to charge that the defendant, upon a certain day and in a certain county, provided day program services without a license, without averring more particular facts concerning the charge.

(B) A person violating the provisions of this article is guilty of a misdemeanor and, upon conviction, must be fined not more than one thousand dollars for a first offense and two thousand dollars for a subsequent offense. Each day the day program operates after a first conviction is considered a subsequent offense.

Section 44-20-1000. Licensing by the department must be done in conjunction with and not in place of licensing by an agency having responsibilities outside the department's jurisdiction. However, nothing in this section prevents the department from entering into cooperative agreements or contracts with an agency which has or may have licensing responsibilities in order to accomplish the licensing of programs.

Article 7

Section 44-20-1160. Upon receiving the approval of the State Fiscal Accountability Authority or Department of Administration, as appropriate, the ~~commission~~ department shall obligate itself to apply all monies derived from its revenues to the payment of the principal and interest of its outstanding obligations and those to be issued and to deliver to the county board its obligations.

SECTION X. Section 49-1-18 of the S.C. Code is amended to read:

Section 49-1-18. The General Assembly, pursuant to Section 7, Article I of the South Carolina Constitution, suspends the authority of the South Carolina Department of Health and Environmental Control and its successor agency, the Department of Environmental Services, hereinafter the department, for all decisions subsequent to 2007 related to all matters pertaining to the navigability, depth, dredging, wastewater and sludge disposal, and related collateral issues in regard to the use of the Savannah River as a waterway for ocean-going container or commerce vessels, in particular the approval by the department of the application of the United States Army Corps of Engineers for a Construction in Navigable Waters Permit for the dredging of the South Carolina portion of the Savannah River, because the authority of the Savannah River Maritime Commission, hereinafter the Maritime Commission, superseded the responsibilities of the department for such approval, as established by Act 56 of 2007, and the approval by the department could present imminent and irreversible public health and environmental concerns for the South Carolina portion of the Savannah River. The Department of ~~Health and~~ Environmental ~~Control~~ Services retains authority for all matters pertaining to the Savannah River unrelated to the navigability, depth, dredging, wastewater and sludge disposal, and related collateral issues in regard to the use of the Savannah River as a waterway for ocean-going container or commerce vessels.

SECTION X. A. Section 49-4-80 of the S.C. Code is amended to read:

Section 49-4-80. (A) An application for a surface water withdrawal permit must contain the following information:

(1) the name and address of the applicant;

(2) the location of the applicant's intake facilities;

(3) the place and nature of the proposed use of the surface water withdrawn;

(4) the quantity of surface water requested and for the applicant's proposed use; and

(5) the estimated ratio between water withdrawn and consumptive use of water withdrawn.

(B) To determine whether an applicant's proposed use is reasonable, the department must consider the following criteria:

(1) the minimum instream flow or minimum water level and the safe yield for the surface water source at the location of the proposed surface water withdrawal;

(2) the anticipated effect of the applicant's proposed use on existing users of the same surface water source including, but not limited to, present agricultural, municipal, industrial, electrical generation, and instream users;

(3) the reasonably foreseeable future need for the surface water including, but not limited to, reasonably foreseeable agricultural, municipal, industrial, electrical generation, and instream uses;

(4) whether it is reasonably foreseeable that the applicant's proposed withdrawals would result in a significant, detrimental impact on navigation, fish and wildlife habitat, or recreation;

(5) the applicant's reasonably foreseeable future water needs from that surface water;

(6) the beneficial impact on the State and its political subdivisions from a proposed withdrawal;

(7) the impact of applicable industry standards on the efficient use of water, if followed by the applicant;

(8) the anticipated effect of the applicant's proposed use on the following if the permit is granted:

(a) interstate and intrastate water use;

(b) public health and welfare;

(c) economic development and the economy of the State; and

(d) applicable federal laws and interstate agreements and compacts; and

(9) any other reasonable criteria that the department promulgates by regulation that it considers necessary to make a final determination.

(C) The department shall determine the safe yield of the surface water source and the volume of supplemental water supply, if needed, necessary to sustain the applicant's proposed water use. In making the safe yield determination, the department~~, in consultation with the Department of Natural Resources,~~ may perform stream flow modeling.

(D) The department must determine the minimum instream flow requirement for the surface water body at the point of the proposed withdrawal.

(E) The department must ~~consult with the Department of Natural Resources to~~ determine which, if any, existing stream flow measuring devices should be utilized to quantify the stream flow at the point of the proposed withdrawal. If no existing measuring device is suitable, the ~~Department of Natural Resources~~department will recommend the location of a new measuring device.

(F) The department must ~~consult with the Department of Natural Resources to~~ quantify the stream flow measured at the specified measuring device that will require a reduction in the applicant's water withdrawal because of inadequate stream flow at the point of withdrawal.

(G) The department shall develop a mechanism for notifying the applicant that its withdrawal must be reduced because of inadequate stream flow at the point of the proposed withdrawal.

(H) The department must share all findings of subsections (C) through (G) with the applicant.

(I) If the department determines that a supplemental water supply is required, the applicant must demonstrate that the supplemental water supply will be comprised of sources other than the surface water source from which the surface water withdrawals are made during nonlow flow conditions. This section does not prevent a licensee from replenishing his supplemental water supply from the source of the surface water withdrawal during appropriate flows.

(J) Upon a determination by the department that, based upon its examination of the criteria in subsection (B), the applicant's use is reasonable, the department shall issue a permit to the applicant.

(K)(1) Except as provided in Section 49-4-90, upon receipt of a new surface water withdrawal permit application or an application to significantly increase the amount of water that may be withdrawn under an existing permit and the appropriate filing fee, the department must, within thirty days, provide the public with notice of the application. In addition to the department's usual public notice procedures, the department must publish notice of the application in a newspaper of statewide circulation and in the local newspaper with the greatest general circulation in the affected area and on the department's website. The public notice must contain the location and amount of the proposed withdrawal, the use for which the water will be withdrawn, and the process for requesting a public hearing concerning the application. If within thirty days of the publication of the public notice the department receives a request to hold a public hearing from at least twenty citizens or residents of the affected area, the department must conduct a hearing. The hearing must be held within ninety days at an appropriate time and in an appropriate location near the specific site from which surface water withdrawals are proposed to be made.

(2) The department shall by regulation delineate and designate river basins to be used when determining the affected area for a particular surface water withdrawal application. In undertaking this task, the department shall initially establish fifteen river basins, including the watershed of each of the following fifteen rivers or river systems:

(a) Upper Savannah;

(b) Lower Savannah;

(c) Saluda;

(d) Broad;
(e) Congaree;
(f) Catawba-Wateree;
(g) Lynches;
(h) Pee Dee;
(i) Little Pee Dee;
(j) Black;
(k) Waccamaw;
(l) Lower Santee;
(m) Edisto;
(n) Ashley-Cooper; and
(o) Combahee-Coosawhatchie.

(L) If the department determines that a new surface water withdrawal permit application or an application to significantly increase the amount of water that may be withdrawn under an existing permit must be denied because there is not enough water in the safe yield, the department may meet with the other permitted withdrawers in the affected stream segment or basin, as appropriate, to determine whether the other permitted withdrawers can reach mutually agreed upon permit reductions to accommodate the applicant.

B. Section 49-4-170(B)(1) of the S.C. Code is amended to read:

(B)(1) The department may~~, in consultation with the Department of Natural Resources,~~ negotiate agreements, accords, or compacts on behalf of and in the name of the State with other states or the United States, or both, with any agency, department, or commission of either, or both, relating to transfers of water that impact waters of this State, or are connected to or flowing into waters of this State. Any agreements, accords, or compacts made by the ~~board~~ department pursuant to this section must be approved by concurrent resolution of the General Assembly prior to being implemented. The department also may represent the State in connection with water withdrawals, diversions, or transfers occurring in other states which may affect this State. The provisions in this section do not apply to the Office of Attorney General or any pending or future criminal or civil actions, lawsuits, or causes in which the State is a party or interested.

poses a threat to public health, safety, or economic welfare or where conditions pose a significant threat to the long-term integrity of a groundwater source, including salt water intrusion, the ~~board~~department, after notice and public hearing, in accordance with the Administrative Procedures Act, shall designate a capacity use area. The department, local government authorities, other government agencies, or groundwater withdrawers may initiate the capacity use area designation process. The notice and public hearing must be conducted such that local government authorities, groundwater withdrawers, or the general public may provide comments concerning the capacity use area designation process. A capacity use area must be designated by the ~~board~~ department based on scientific studies and evaluation of groundwater resources and may or may not conform to political boundaries.

(Statewide Session)

~~Indicates Matter Stricken~~
Indicates New Matter

The Senate assembled at 1:00 P.M., the hour to which it stood adjourned, and was called to order by the PRESIDENT.

A quorum being present, the proceedings were opened with a devotion by the Chaplain as follows:

Jeremiah 32:8b-9

The prophet Jeremiah tells us: " '. . . so I bought a field at Anatoth from my cousin Hanamel and weighed out for him seventeen shekels of silver.' "

Let us pray, friends: Hearing this passage afresh, Lord, we are led back to remembering how Jeremiah tried during difficult times to offer a bit of hope to his people. So he performed this symbolic act of buying land -- investing in the future, if you will. And we think, well, there are symbolic acts which on occasion are important. Yet we know further, O God, that what South Carolinians want today is not simply more symbolism. Rather, they want -- they expect -- results. And so we pray that this Senate will continue addressing the actual challenges our people face. May each Senator and every aide be more determined than ever to move our State forward, and to do so by working together with renewed confidence in a future that truly benefits everyone. May it be so to Your glory, Lord. Amen.

Remarks by Senator SABB

Thank you, Mr. PRESIDENT and members. I've been asked to speak for five hours; I intend to speak for five minutes or less. There is something that troubles me a little bit, and as a result, I decided that I would talk about it. Truthfully, it's more procedural than it is substantive because I have an appreciation for what occurred with several of the Bills that we've advanced this session. Grant you, I was on the losing end of most of those Bills, but we debated the Bills.

People who had amendments got an opportunity to put their amendments up and they were heard fully on their amendments. That's the South Carolina Senate that I knew I had come to. When I was in the House, it wasn't often that I watched the Senate and what they did, but the few times I did watch, I watched with great interest. I watched one of our Senators take the well and discuss an issue about whether or not one individual should have more than one position, whether or not that was too much of a consolidation of power, and just observed it, where an individual has an opinion, and he gets to fully express it. We witnessed a lot of that I think this week. I think that's a tradition of the Senate that in my mind keeps it a deliberative body, which I believe is important for the State of South Carolina. I experienced something in my short time in the Senate that won't leave me. The idea of not being able to be heard on a matter of importance will not leave me. We were debating critical race theory, and I'm going to tie it into the Flounder Bill in a minute but we were debating critical race theory. To me, the substance of critical race theory is in direct opposition to the Education Improvement Act. If you read the Act, it talks about the discussions that minorities had on education in our State and if you compare what critical race theory does to that, in my mind, it overrules a substantial portion of it. However -- never got to talk about it because of how some view the need to move on and to pass a Bill.

To me, that's not this Body and frankly, it won't leave me. I believe, not because of me or my ego -- I think that there's a part of me, and I'll probably never be as much of an institutionalist as Senator SHEALY, Senator PEELER or several other Senators that I could call by name. I don't know that I'll ever grow to appreciate the institution of the Senate as I've witnessed them display in this Body. I couldn't sit idle because, as I listened to Senator MATTHEWS talk, it just didn't seem right to me that an individual could object to a Bill on Tuesday and want to deal with it responsibly. Then a day or so later, we're on the Bill because of how we've used the rules to pass the Bill quickly. I just don't believe that's how we ought to operate. I have a fundamental problem with it, and obviously, because I have a fundamental problem with it doesn't mean it's got to change, and perhaps it won't. However, in my mind, I have an obligation to speak out about it because I think it's wrong. I think it's wrong for our institution, and I don't believe there's any right way, regardless of how we manipulate rules -- I don't think there's any right way to do a wrong thing. I think to the extent that we are to remain a deliberative body that listens to each other, not necessarily agree, but at least listen to each other. I think that's what this institution is all about. Today we are where we are, on this Lord's Day, but there will be a tomorrow. If God's gracious unto us, perhaps we'll see some days beyond that. I don't just want the precedent of the Senate to be that we're all about passing as much Legislation as we can, as quickly as we can. I want, at the end of the day, for each and every one of us to be able to leave the Chambers knowing that we've done everything we could to be a part of trying to channel Legislation in the right direction for the benefit of every South Carolinian. A lot of Legislation that we deal with doesn't deal with the masses. Quite frankly, I believe that some of what we deal with are bullies in certain settings of the segments of our society, and to the extent that there is one in this chamber that feels a connection to that individual. That individual has a right to have one of us champion their cause. Then our goal, of course, is to try to get a majority of the Body to agree with whatever situation, whatever circumstance we believe that person is entitled to because everyone has rights. I feel my five minutes easing away and I was serious when I said I wanted to talk for five minutes. I guess I would conclude by saying that Dr. Charles A. Murray, my high school principal, said a bunch of profound things, but one of the things that he said was that people do according to their understanding -- that people do according to their understanding. My understanding is that this is, not was, but that this is a deliberative body -- that's my understanding.

We are the South Carolina Senate, and we are a deliberative body. I intend to govern myself accordingly. Now, the history of the Senate will prove me right or will prove me wrong, but if it's an institution that we believe in, then she's worth fighting for. If she serves as the bedrock of our State, as many of us believe, then she's worth fighting for. I'm just urging us to please, ma'ams and sirs, consider each other as it relates to the issue of whether or not we ought to have the opportunity to be fully heard. It becomes a due process right, in my opinion, of every Senator. Thank you, Mr. PRESIDENT.

On motion of Senator FANNING, with unanimous consent, the remarks of Senator SABB were ordered printed in the Journal.

The question then was third reading of the Bill.

~~Indicates Matter Stricken~~
Indicates New Matter

The Senate assembled at 11:00 A.M., the hour to which it stood adjourned, and was called to order by the PRESIDENT.

A quorum being present, the proceedings were opened with a devotion by the Chaplain as follows:

2 Chronicles 1:10a

We remember that Solomon implored the Lord God to: " 'Give me wisdom and knowledge, that I may lead this people.' "

Bow in prayer with me, please: O Wondrous God, our world cries out for wise, well-informed and truly caring leaders. The demands of modern-day life require such, of course. But even moreso, our citizens also expect every Senator and each staff member serving here always to use their gifts wisely and well, to be dedicated to providing the absolute best level of governance possible. Therefore, by Your Spirit's grace, Lord, empower these talented leaders to work together as they move our State and all of her people ever forward. And bless us -- as well as all of our women and men in uniform serving around the globe. In Your loving name we humbly pray, dear Lord. Amen.

Expression of Personal Interest

Senator HARPOOTLIAN rose for an Expression of Personal Interest.

Remarks by Senator HARPOOTLIAN

Thank you, Mr. PRESIDENT. Earlier I was talking to Senator KIMBRELL about a matter of international interest. It reminded me that I have been enthralled with a new television series called "The Masters of the Air". It is the story of the 8th Air Force B-17 bomber group that bombed Germany into submission -- in the sense that they had to pull their fighters back to cover Germany and left the channel open which led to D-Day. My dad was a member of the 8th Air Force B-17s out of a town near Cambridge. He went on thirty missions and bombed Berlin three or four times. As I watched the show it made me realize and remember these were teenagers. My dad was twenty-four -- the old man; thousands of them died. Thousands of them died. I pulled out something I hadn't pulled out in a long time, that is his diary that he kept on every mission. I want to share just one entry from January 6, 1944. This was his third mission, “We had no fighter cover over the target and on the way home boy was it rough. The fighters peppered us at will. A twenty-millimeter shell went off in the cockpit and wounded my co-pilot, Clements, in the leg. He was sitting in my seat. He says, ‘The pathetic part about it is we lost two ships in our squadron, Born and Powell.’ That is ten boys per ship that went down, twenty men dead. Born's brother had come over to visit him the day before the raid. They had not seen each other for over two years. The kid stayed here overnight and the next day Born went down. And so it goes, killed, damn, I hate it.” How did we get there? In 1939, Hitler annexed and invaded countries that he considered part of Germany -- the Sudetenland, Austria, and that is how it began. From 1939 to 1941, until the Japanese bombed Pearl Harbor, we stayed out of it. Now we did win these, but we said not our problem. And as a result, World War II ended in hundreds of thousands of American men and women dead. He lived through it. Many did not. We refuse to confront a tyrant, a thug, a murderer, and as a result World War II -- millions dead internationally.

Now, why am I talking about this today? Because we have another thug, a dictator killing thousands of people under the guise that Ukraine is a Russian territory. His goal is to expand and take countries to expand to the old USSR boundaries. He is a thug and a murderer. His political opponents, he throws out of windows, or poisons them, or most recently this week, Navalny was killed in a prison. This man’s crime was speaking out for democracy against a dictator. We have supported Ukraine, but we are now floundering in that process. We are not living up to our commitments. If we continue our current path, that democracy will be taken by a thug dictator who will subjugate them and do away with democracy in that part of the world. I visit that part of the world. As you all know my wife is an ambassador in that part of the world. They are scared that we will fail to keep our commitments. So, talking to Senator KIMBRELL a while ago, who has relatives -- I believe his wife is from Ukraine. He understands that we as a country must support democracies like Ukraine. This is not some third world country. This is a democracy in the middle of Europe. If we do not support them with money and arms, your children or grandchildren may end up doing what my father had to do. Thank you.

On motion of Senator DAVIS, with unanimous consent, the remarks of Senator HARPOOTLIAN were ordered printed in the Journal.

(16) "Universal reading screener" means a nationally normed formative assessment used to screen and monitor the progress of students in foundational literacy skills to identify or predict students at risk of not meeting grade level proficiency and determine effectiveness of instruction and intervention. All universal reading screeners must be aligned with state standards to English/Language Arts, meet the criteria of a nationally normed formative assessment, and be recommended by the department and approved by the board.

~~(14) "Writing proficiency skills" means the ability to communicate information, analysis, and persuasive points of view effectively in writing.~~

The plan must be updated annually and ~~must~~ incorporate a state reading proficiency progress report.

(3) The state plan must include specific details and explanations for all substantial uses of state, local, and federal funds promoting reading-literacy and best judgment estimates of the cost of ~~research-supported,~~ scientifically-based, thoroughly analyzed proposals for initiation, expansion, or modification of major funding programs addressing reading and writing. Analyses of funding requirements must be prepared by the department for incorporation into the plan.

(B)(1) ~~Beginning in Fiscal Year 2015-2016, e~~Each district must prepare a comprehensive annual reading proficiency plan for prekindergarten through ~~twelfth~~ fifth grade~~ consistent with the plan by responding to questions and presenting specific information and data in a format specified by the Read to Succeed Office. Each district's PK-12 reading proficiency plan must present the rationale and details of its blueprint for action and support at the district, school, and classroom levels. A ~~school~~ district that does not submit a plan or whose plan is not approved shall not receive any state funds for reading until it submits a plan that is approved. All district reading plans must be reviewed and approved by the ~~Read to Succeed Office~~department. The ~~office~~ department shall provide written comments to each district on its plan and to all districts on common issues raised in prior or newly submitted district reading plans.

(b) The ~~Read to Succeed Office~~department shall monitor the district and school plans and use their findings to inform the training and support the office provides to districts and schools.

(c) The department may direct a district that is persistently unable to prepare an acceptable PK-12 reading proficiency plan or to help all students comprehend grade-level texts to enter into a multidistrict or contractual arrangement to develop an effective intervention plan.

(C) Each school serving students in grades kindergarten through fifth grade must prepare, submit to the district, and post on its website prior to the start of each year an implementation plan aligned with the district reading proficiency plan to enable the district to monitor and support implementation at the school level. The school plan must be a component of the school's strategic plan required by Section 59-18-1310. A school implementation plan shall be sufficiently detailed to provide practical guidance for classroom teachers. Proposed strategies for assessment, instruction, and other activities specified in the school plan must be sufficient to provide to classroom teachers and other instructional staff helpful guidance that can be related to the critical reading and writing needs of students in the school. In consultation with the School Improvement Council, each school must include in its implementation plan the training and support that will be provided to parents as needed to maximize their promotion of reading and writing by students at home and in the community.

(D) The department shall identify schools serving students in sixth through eighth grade with fifty percent or more of its students scoring at the lowest achievement level on the statewide summative assessment. Each year identified, the school shall prepare, submit to the district, and post on its website prior to the start of the school year a school implementation plan aligned with the district's reading proficiency plan to enable the district to monitor and support implementation at the school level. The school implementation plan shall be sufficiently detailed to provide classroom teachers and instructional staff with strategies based in the science of reading, structured literacy, and foundational literacy skills for assessments, instruction, and other activities related to the critical reading and writing needs of students. In consultation with the School Improvement Council, the implementation plan shall include training and supports provided to parents as needed to maximize the promotion of reading and writing by students at home and in the community.

SECTION 5. Section 59-155-150 of the S.C. Code is amended to read:

Section 59-155-150. ~~(A) With the enactment of this chapter, the~~The State Superintendent of Education shall ensure ~~that~~ every student entering ~~publically~~publicly funded prekindergarten and kindergarten ~~beginning in Fiscal Year 2014-2015~~ will be administered a board-approved readiness assessment within the first forty-five days of school. ~~readiness assessment by the forty-fifth day of the school year. Initially the assessment shall focus on early language and literacy development. Beginning in Fiscal Year 2016-2017, the assessment must assess each child's early language and literacy development, mathematical thinking, physical well-being, and social-emotional development. The assessment may include multiple assessments, all of which must be approved by the board.~~ The approved assessments of academic readiness must be aligned with first and second grade standards for English/language arts and mathematics. The purpose of the assessment is to provide teachers and parents or guardians with information to address the readiness needs of each student~~, especially~~ by identifying early language and literacy development, physical well-being, and cognitive development~~, social, emotional, health~~ ~~problems, and concerning~~ to inform and assist appropriate instruction for each child. The results of the assessment and the developmental intervention strategies recommended to address the child's identified needs must be provided, in writing, to the parent or guardian. Reading instructional strategies and developmental activities for children whose oral language skills are assessed to be below the norm of their peers in the State must be aligned with the district's reading proficiency plan for addressing the readiness needs of each student. The results of each assessment with the date of when the assessment was administered~~ also~~ must be reported to the ~~Read to Succeed Office~~department.

(B) A district superintendent or charter school authorizer may submit a request to the department to waive the minimum one hundred eighty-day school attendance requirement for kindergarten and South Carolina Child Early Reading Development and Education Program (CERDEP) students for the purpose of scheduling readiness assessments. Upon approval of the waiver request, the approved school may allow kindergarten and CERDEP students to be administered the assessments during a shortened school day within the first five days of the academic year.

~~(B) Any student enrolled in prekindergarten, kindergarten, first grade, second grade, or third grade who is substantially not demonstrating proficiency in reading, based upon formal diagnostic assessments or through teacher observations, must be provided intensive in-class and supplemental reading intervention immediately upon determination. The intensive interventions must be provided as individualized and small group assistance based on the analysis of assessment data. All sustained interventions must be aligned with the district's reading proficiency plan. These interventions must be at least thirty minutes in duration and be in addition to ninety minutes of daily reading and writing instruction provided to all students in kindergarten through grade three. The district must continue to provide intensive in-class intervention and at least thirty minutes of supplemental intervention until the student can comprehend and write text at grade level independently. In addition, the parent or guardian of the student must be notified, in writing, of the child's inability to read grade level texts, the interventions to be provided, and~~

~~the child's reading abilities at the end of the planned interventions. The results of the initial assessments and progress monitoring also must be provided to the Read to Succeed Office.~~

~~(C) Programs that focus on early childhood literacy development in the State are required to promote:~~

~~(1) parent training and support for parent involvement in developing children's literacy; and~~

~~(2) development of oral language, print awareness, and emergent writing; and are encouraged to promote community literacy including, but not limited to, primary health care providers, faith-based organizations, county libraries, and service organizations.~~

~~(D) Districts that fail to provide reports on summer reading camps pursuant to Section 59-155-130(8) are ineligible to receive state funding for summer reading camps for the following fiscal year; however, districts must continue to operate summer reading camps as defined in this act.~~

SECTION 6. Chapter 155, Title 59 of the S.C. Code is amended by adding:

Section 59-155-155. (A) Beginning with the 2025-2026 school year, the board shall approve no more than five reliable and valid universal reading screeners for selection and use by districts for kindergarten through fifth grade and shall use the same process as required by Section 59-18-310 to ensure the validity and reliability of the instruments and to periodically reevaluate approved instruments. All districts shall use one of the approved universal reading screeners.

(B) Each approved universal reading screener must:

(1) provide screening and diagnostic capabilities for monitoring student progress in reading;

(2) measure, at minimum, foundational literacy skills;

(3) identify students who have a reading deficiency, including identifying students with characteristics of dyslexia; and

(4) meet the criteria of a nationally normed formative assessment.

(C) In determining which instrument to approve, the board shall consider the following factors:

(1) the time required to conduct the assessments with the intention of minimizing the impact on instructional time;

(2) the level of integration of assessment results with instructional supports offered to teachers and students;

(3) the timeliness in reporting assessment results to teachers, administrators, and parents; and

(4) the recommendation of the department.

(D) In order to determine student progression in reading, a district shall administer a universal reading screener three times per school year with the first administration occurring within the first forty-five days of school, the second administration occurring at the midpoint of the school year, and the third administration occurring by the end of the school year. Within fifteen days of each administration, the district shall notify the parent or guardian regarding the performance of their student and whether the student may be considered for retention. For each student demonstrating literacy deficiencies and not meeting grade-level proficiencies based on the data received from the administration of the universal reading screeners, the district shall create an individualized reading plan and include a copy in the notification to the parent or guardian.

(E) The department shall:

(1) provide technical assistance and support to districts and classroom teachers in administering universal reading screeners and in understanding the results so teachers are able to provide appropriate, scientifically-based interventions;

(2) require districts and approved universal reading screeners to annually submit data as requested by the department for purposes of determining whether the screening instruments are accurately identifying students in need;

(3) reimburse districts for the cost of the universal reading screener upon receipt of the data as requested by the department as funding allows;

(4) annually report, on a grade-level basis, data received from districts and approved universal reading screeners; and

(5) implement an online reporting system to monitor the effectiveness of universal reading screeners which must:

(a) track, screen, and monitor the reading progress of students in kindergarten through third grade toward reading proficiency;

(b) create a consistent statewide reporting mechanism to identify students with a reading deficiency to include students with characteristics of dyslexia; and

(c) be used to receive the annual reporting requirements pursuant to Section 59-33-540.

(F) Administration of a universal reading screener may be replaced with an alternative assessment and progress monitoring tool for students who qualify for an alternative assessment based on a cognitive disability in grades kindergarten through third grade.

SECTION 7. Section 59-155-160 of the S.C. Code is amended to read:

Section 59-155-160. (A) Beginning with the ~~2017-2018~~ 2024-2025 School Year, a student must be retained in the third grade if the student fails to demonstrate reading proficiency at the end of the third grade as indicated by scoring Does Not Meet Expectations or at the lowest achievement level on the state summative reading assessment ~~that equates to Not Met 1 on the Palmetto Assessment of State Standards (PASS)~~. A student may be exempt for good cause from the mandatory retention but shall continue to receive instructional support and services and reading intervention appropriate for their age and reading level. Good cause exemptions include students:

(1) with limited English proficiency and less than two years of instruction in English as a Second Language program;

(2) with disabilities whose ~~iIndividual eEducation pPlan~~ Individualized Education Program indicates the use of alternative assessments or alternative reading interventions and students with disabilities whose ~~Individual~~ Individualized Education ~~Plan~~ Program or Section 504 Plan reflects that the student has received intensive remediation in reading for more than two years but still does not substantially demonstrate reading proficiency;

(3) who successfully participate in a summer reading camp at the conclusion of third grade and demonstrate reading proficiency by achieving Approaches Expectations, or at least a level above the lowest level, on the state summative reading assessment.

~~(3)~~(4) who demonstrate third-grade reading proficiency by scoring the equivalent of Approaches Expectations, or the level above the lowest level, on the statewide summative assessment on ~~an~~ a norm-referenced alternative assessment approved by the board for use in summer reading camps ~~and which teachers may administer following the administration of the state assessment of reading~~; or

~~(4)~~(5) who have received two years of reading intervention and were previously retained.~~;~~

~~(5) who through a reading portfolio document, the student's mastery of the state standards in reading equal to at least a level above the lowest achievement level on the state reading assessment. Such evidence must be an organized collection of the student's mastery of the state English/language arts standards that are assessed by the grade three state reading assessment. The Read to Succeed Office shall develop the assessment tool for the student portfolio; however, the student portfolio must meet the following minimum criteria:~~

~~(a) be selected by the student's English/language arts teacher or summer reading camp instructor;~~

~~(b) be an accurate picture of the student's ability and only include student work that has been independently produced in the classroom;~~

~~(c) include evidence that the benchmarks assessed by the grade three state reading assessment have been met. Evidence is to include multiple choice items and passages that are approximately sixty percent literary text and forty percent information text, and that are between one hundred and seven hundred words with an average of five hundred words. Such evidence could include chapter or unit tests from the district or school's adopted core reading curriculum that are aligned with the state English/language arts standards or teacher-prepared assessments;~~

~~(d) be an organized collection of evidence of the student's mastery of the English/language arts state standards that are assessed by the grade three state reading assessment. For each benchmark there must be at least three examples of mastery as demonstrated by a grade of seventy percent or above; and~~

~~(e) be signed by the teacher and the principal as an accurate assessment of the required reading skills; and~~

~~(6) who successfully participate in a summer reading camp at the conclusion of the third grade year and demonstrate through either a reading portfolio or through a norm-referenced, alternative assessment, selected from a list of norm-referenced, alternative assessments approved by the Read to Succeed Office for use in the summer reading camps, that the student's mastery of the state standards in reading is equal to at least a level above the lowest level on the state reading assessment.~~

(B) The superintendent of the local ~~school~~ district ~~must~~ may determine whether a student in the district may be exempt from the mandatory retention by taking all of the following steps:

(1) The teacher of a student eligible for ~~exemption~~ retention must submit to the principal documentation on the proposed exemption and evidence that promotion of the student is appropriate based on the student's academic record. This evidence must be limited to the student's ~~individual education program~~Individualized Education Program, performance on the statewide summative assessment, or performance on an alternative assessment. ~~s, or student reading portfolio. The Read to Succeed Office must provide districts with a standardized form to use in the process.~~

(2) The principal must review the documentation and determine whether the student should be promoted. If the principal determines the student should be promoted, the principal must submit a written recommendation for promotion, to include an individualized reading plan providing additional supports to be offered to the student to ensure reading proficiency is achieved, to the district superintendent for final determination.

(3) The district superintendent's acceptance or rejection of the recommendation, as well as the individualized reading plan provided by the principal, must be in writing and a copy must be provided to the parent or guardian of the child.

(4) A parent or legal guardian may appeal the decision to retain a student to the district superintendent if there is a compelling reason why the student should not be retained. A parent or legal guardian must appeal, in writing, within two weeks after the notification of retention. The letter must be addressed to the district superintendent and specify the reasons why the student should not be retained. The district superintendent shall render a decision in writing ~~and provide copies~~ to the parent or legal guardian and the principal.

~~(C)(1) Students eligible for retention under the provisions in Section 59-155-160(A) may enroll in a summer reading camp provided by their school district or a summer reading camp consortium to which their district belongs prior to being retained the following school year. Summer reading camps must be at least six weeks in duration with a minimum of four days of instruction per week and four hours of instruction per day, or the equivalent minimum hours of instruction in the summer. The camps must be taught by compensated teachers who have at least an add-on literacy endorsement or who have documented and demonstrated substantial success in helping students comprehend grade level texts. The Read to Succeed Office shall assist districts that cannot find qualified teachers to work in the summer camps. Districts also may choose to contract for the services of qualified instructors or collaborate with one or more districts to provide a summer reading camp. Schools and school districts are encouraged to partner with county or school libraries, institutions of higher learning, community organizations, faith-based institutions, businesses, pediatric and family practice medical personnel, and other groups to provide volunteers, mentors, tutors, space, or other support to assist with the provision of the summer reading camps. A parent or guardian of a student who does not substantially demonstrate proficiency in comprehending texts appropriate for his grade level must make the final decision regarding the student's participation in the summer reading camp.~~

~~(2) A district may include in the summer reading camps students who are not exhibiting reading proficiency at any grade and do not meet~~

~~the good cause exemption. Districts may charge fees for these students to attend the summer reading camps based on a sliding scale pursuant to Section 59-19-90, except where a child is found to be reading below grade level in the first, second, or third grade and does not meet the good cause exemption.~~

~~(D) Retained students must be provided intensive instructional services and support, including a minimum of ninety minutes of daily reading and writing instruction, supplemental text-based instruction, and other strategies prescribed by the school district. These strategies may include, but are not limited to, instruction directly focused on improving the student's individual reading proficiency skills through small group instruction, reduced teacher-student ratios, more frequent student progress monitoring, tutoring or mentoring, transition classes containing students in multiple grade spans, and extended school day, week, or year reading support. The school must report to the Read to Succeed Office on the progress of students in the class at the end of the school year and at other times as required by the office based on the reading progression monitoring requirements of these students.~~

~~(E)~~(C) Prior to the decision for a student to be retained, ~~If~~if the student is not demonstrating third ~~-~~grade reading proficiency by the end of the second grading period of the third grade:

(1)(a) his parent or guardian timely must be notified, in writing, that the student is being considered for retention and a conference with the parent or guardian must be held prior to a determination regarding retention is made, and conferences must be documented;

(b) within two weeks following the parent/teacher conference, copies of the conference form must be provided to the principal, parent or guardian, teacher and other school personnel who are working with the child on literacy, and summary statements must be sent to parents or legal guardians who do not attend the conference; and

(c) following the parent/teacher retention conference, the principal, classroom teacher, and other school personnel who are working with the child on literacy must review the recommendation for retention and provide suggestions for supplemental instruction.~~; and~~

~~(d) recommendations and observations of the principal, teacher, parent or legal guardian, and other school personnel who are working with the child on literacy must be considered when determining whether to retain the student.~~

(2) The parent or guardian may designate another person as an education advocate also to act on their behalf to receive notification and to assume the responsibility of promoting the reading success of the child. The parent or guardian of a retained student must be offered supplemental tutoring for the retained student in ~~evidenced-based~~scientifically-based services outside the instructional day.

(D) Retained students must be provided intensive instructional services and support, including a minimum of ninety minutes of daily reading instruction, supplemental foundational literacy skill instruction, and other strategies grounded in the science of reading prescribed by the district. These strategies may include, but are not limited to, instruction directly focused on improving the student's individual foundational literacy skills through small group instruction, reduced teacher-student ratios, more frequent student progress monitoring, high dose low ratio tutoring or mentoring as prescribed by the department, transition classes containing students in multiple grade spans, and extended school day, week, or year reading support. The delivery of additional supports and interventions shall not result in a student losing access to regular instruction in subject areas identified in the defined program for grades K-5 as established by the board. The school must report to the department on the progress of students in the class at the end of the school year and at other times as required by the department based on the reading progression monitoring requirements of these students.

(E)(1) For students in kindergarten through second grade who are not demonstrating reading proficiency, additional support in foundational literacy skills shall be provided. These interventions must be based in the science of reading, be at least thirty minutes daily, and be in addition to the minimum of ninety minutes of daily reading and writing instruction provided to all students in kindergarten through second grade. The delivery of additional supports and interventions shall not result in a student losing access to regular instruction in subject areas identified in the defined program for grades K-5 as established by the board. The district must continue to provide intensive interventions until the student is meeting grade-level reading proficiency.

(2) To ensure early interventions, districts are encouraged to retain students in kindergarten through second grade who are not demonstrating grade-level reading proficiency. In making retention decisions, districts shall seek recommendations from the student's teacher(s) and principal.

(F) ~~For students~~ For students in grades four and above who are ~~substantially~~ not demonstrating reading proficiency~~, interventions~~ shall be provided ~~by~~ additional reading ~~interventionists~~ interventions which may include services from a reading interventionist in the classroom ~~and~~ or supplementally by teachers with a literacy teacher ~~add-on~~ endorsement or reading/literacy coaches. This supplemental support will be provided during the school day and, as appropriate, before or after school, as documented in the district reading plan, and may include ~~book clubs~~high dose low ratio tutoring or mentoring as prescribed by the department, or in summer reading camps.

(G) Students eligible for retention pursuant to this section shall enroll in a summer reading camp provided by their district or a summer reading camp consortium to which their districts belong prior to being retained the following school year. Summer reading camps must be at least the equivalent of ninety-six hours of instruction. The camps must be taught by compensated teachers who have at least a literacy endorsement or who have documented and demonstrated substantial success in helping students achieve proficiency of grade-level reading standards. The department shall assist districts that cannot find qualified teachers to work in the summer camps. Districts may choose to contract for the services of qualified instructors or collaborate with one or more districts to provide a summer reading camp. Schools and districts are encouraged to partner with county or school libraries, institutions of higher learning, community organizations, faith-based institutions, businesses, pediatric and family practice medical personnel, and other groups to provide volunteers, mentors, tutors, space, or other support to assist with the provision of the summer reading camps. A parent or guardian of a student who does not demonstrate reading proficiency for his grade level shall make the final decision regarding the student's participation in the summer reading camp.

(H) A district shall include in the summer reading camps first and second grade students who are not exhibiting grade-level reading proficiency. This shall be implemented beginning with the 2025-2026 School Year by including first grade students not exhibiting grade-level reading proficiency and beginning with the 2026-2027 School Year by including second grade students not demonstrating grade-level reading proficiency. Students at any other grade who are not exhibiting reading proficiency may be included in summer reading camps at the discretion of the district. Districts may charge fees for these students to attend the summer reading camps based on a sliding scale pursuant to Section 59-19-90, except where a child is found to be reading below grade level in the first through third grade and does not meet the good cause exemption.

SECTION 8. Section 59-155-170 of the S.C. Code is amended to read:

Section 59-155-170. ~~(A) To help students develop and apply their reading and writing skills across the school day in all the academic disciplines, including, but not limited to, English/language arts, mathematics, science, social studies, the arts, career and technology education, and physical and health education, teachers of these content areas at all grade levels must focus on helping students comprehend print and nonprint texts authentic to the content area. The Read to Succeed Program is intended to institutionalize in the public schools a comprehensive system to promote high achievement in the content areas described in this chapter through extensive reading and writing. Research-based practices must be employed to promote comprehension skills through, but not limited to:~~

~~(1) vocabulary;~~

~~(2) connotation of words;~~

~~(3) connotations of words in context with adjoining or prior text;~~

~~(4) concepts from prior text;~~

~~(5) personal background knowledge;~~

~~(6) ability to interpret meaning through sentence structure features;~~

~~(7) questioning;~~

~~(8) visualization; and~~

~~(9) discussion of text with peers.~~

professional development courses to ensure that educators have access to multiple avenues of receiving endorsements.

(B)(1) The department shall deliver professional development that has demonstrated success in establishing deep knowledge of foundational literacy skills grounded in the science of reading and promoting student reading achievement. This training shall be offered at no cost to the district or teacher.

(2) Successful completion of this training shall satisfy the requirements of the literacy endorsement provided for in Section 59-155-180.

SECTION 9. Section 59-155-180(C) of the S.C. Code is amended to read:

(C)(1) To ensure that practicing professionals possess the knowledge and skills necessary to assist all children ~~and adolescents~~ in becoming proficient readers, multiple pathways are needed for developing this capacity.

(2) A reading/literacy coach shall be employed in each elementary school. Reading coaches shall serve as job-embedded, stable resources for professional development throughout schools in order to generate improvement in reading and literacy instruction and student achievement. Reading coaches shall support and provide initial and ongoing professional development to teachers based on an analysis of student assessment and the provision of differentiated instruction and intensive intervention. The reading coach shall:

During the six-year period, to increase the number of qualified reading coaches, the Read to Succeed Office shall identify and secure courses and professional development opportunities to assist educators in becoming reading coaches and in earning the literacy add-on endorsement. In addition, the Read to Succeed Office will establish a process through which a district may be permitted to use state appropriations for reading coaches to obtain in-school services from department-approved consultants or vendors, in the event that the school is not successful in identifying and directly employing a qualified candidate.~~ Districts must provide to the ~~Read to Succeed Office~~department information on the name and qualifications of reading coaches funded by the state appropriations.

Early childhood and elementary education certified classroom teachers, reading specialists, and special education teachers who provide learning disability and speech services to students who need to improve substantially their reading and writing proficiency and who already possess their add-on reading teacher certification can take a content area reading course to obtain their literacy teacher add-on endorsement. Individuals who possess a literacy teacher add-on endorsement or who have earned a master's or doctorate degree in reading are exempt from this requirement. Individuals who have completed an intensive and prolonged professional development program like Reading Recovery, Project Read, the South Carolina Reading Initiative, or another similar program should submit their transcripts to the Office of Educator Licensure to determine if they have completed the coursework required for the literacy teacher add-on certificate.~~The board is authorized to approve guidelines on an annual basis for professional development, coursework, certification, and endorsement requirements for teachers of early childhood and elementary education, including special education teachers, interventionists, reading specialists, and administrators, whose responsibilities, either directly or indirectly, substantially relate to reading and literacy instruction, support, or interventions as provided in this section. The guidelines approved by the board shall also include the issuance of appropriate credit to individuals who have completed a department - approved intensive and prolonged professional development program. Local school districts, working with the department, shall offer the required professional development, coursework, certification, and endorsements at no charge to teachers. In-service hours earned through professional development must be used for renewal of teaching certificates in all subject areas.

The courses and professional development must be approved by the State Board of Education and include courses and professional development leading to the literacy teacher add-on endorsement. Coursework and professional development in reading must include a course in reading in the content areas. Whenever possible these courses will be offered at a professional development rate which is lower than the certified teacher~~

The objective of this item is to ensure that teacher candidates understand the foundations of reading and are prepared to teach reading to all students.

(6) ~~Beginning in Fiscal Year 2015-2016, principals and administrators who are responsible for reading instruction or intervention and school psychologists in a school district or school are required to take at least one course or three credit hours within five years of their most recent certification, or the equivalent professional development hours as determined by the South Carolina Read to Succeed Office. The course or professional development shall include information about reading process, instruction, assessment, or content area literacy and shall be approved by the Read to Succeed Office.~~ The board shall approve guidelines and procedures to allow in-service teachers the option of utilizing the test in item (5) to exempt requirements established by the board pursuant to item (4). As part of this process, the board shall set a minimum cut score for an in-service teacher to achieve to take advantage of this provision. A teacher's score on this assessment may not be used for evaluation purposes. Contingent upon funding by the General Assembly, this test shall be provided at no cost to the teacher.

(7) ~~The Read to Succeed Office shall publish by August 1, 2014, the guidelines and procedures used in evaluating all courses and professional development, including virtual courses and professional development, leading to the literacy teacher add-on endorsement. Annually by January first, the Read to Succeed Office shall publish the approved courses and approved professional development leading to the literacy teacher add-on endorsement.~~Teachers, administrators, and other certified faculty and staff are exempt from having to earn the literacy endorsement to maintain certification only if they are not educating or serving students in a school or other educational setting. The literacy endorsement must be earned before an individual who was previously exempt pursuant to this item returns to a position where they educate or otherwise serve students.

(8) Annually by August first, the department shall publish guidelines and procedures used in evaluating all courses offered to teachers, including virtual courses and professional development, leading to the literacy endorsement. The department shall publish the approved courses and professional development leading to the literacy endorsement no later than January first, annually.

(9) Prior to August 1, 2026, and continuing every five years thereafter, the department will conduct an evaluation of approved courses used for compliance of this section. The evaluation should include survey data from prior course participants. The department shall remove any courses receiving an unsatisfactory evaluation from the list of approved courses and professional development under this section.

SECTION 10. Section 59-155-200 of the S.C. Code is amended to read:

Section 59-155-200. The ~~Read to Succeed Office~~department and each school district must plan for and act decisively to engage the families of students as full participating partners in promoting the reading ~~and writing~~ habits and skills development of their children. With support from the ~~Read to Succeed Office,~~ department, districts and individual schools shall provide families with information about how children progress as readers and writers and how they can support this progress. ~~This family support must include providing time for their child to read, as well as reading to the child. To ensure that all families have access to a considerable number and diverse range of books appealing to their children, schools should develop plans for enhancing home libraries and for accessing books from county libraries and school libraries and to inform families about their child's ability to comprehend grade level texts and how to interpret information about reading that is sent home. The districts and schools shall help families learn about reading and writing through open houses, South Carolina Educational Television, video and audio tapes, websites, and school family events and collaborations that help link the home and school of the student. The information should enable family members to understand the reading and writing skills required for graduation and essential for success in a career. Each institution of higher learning may operate a year-round program similar to a summer reading camp to assist students not reading at grade level.~~

SECTION 11. Section 59-155-210 of the S.C. Code is amended to read:

Section 59-155-210. The ~~board and~~ department shall translate the statutory requirements for reading and writing specified in this chapter into ~~standards, practices, and procedures~~ guidance for ~~school~~ districts, boards, and ~~their employees and for~~ other organizations as appropriate. In this effort, they shall solicit the advice of education stakeholders who have a deep understanding of the science of reading, as well as school boards, administrators, and others who play key roles in facilitating support for and implementation of effective reading instruction.

The formative assessments must provide diagnostic information in a timely manner to all school districts for each student during the course of the school year. ~~For use beginning with the 2009-2010 School Year, and s~~Subject to appropriations by the General Assembly for the assessments, local districts must be allocated resources to select and administer formative assessments from the statewide adoption list to use to improve student performance in accordance with district improvement plans.

(2) Districts shall ensure all students in kindergarten through eighth grade are assessed using a state-approved, nationally-normed formative assessment tool during the fall, winter, and spring each year. School districts shall provide all formative assessment data and scores by grade level and school to the department from the prior school year. The department is directed to compile the information received and submit a comprehensive report regarding performance on the formative assessments to the General Assembly by June 1, annually. Any school district failing to provide this data to the department shall have ten percent of their State Aid to Classroom funding withheld until the data is provided. ~~However, if a local district already administers formative assessments, the district may continue to use the assessments if they meet the state standards and criteria pursuant to this subsection.~~

The Senate assembled at 12:00 Noon, the hour to which it stood adjourned, and was called to order by the PRESIDENT.

A quorum being present, the proceedings were opened with a devotion by the Chaplain as follows:

Ezekiel 47:6

Ezekiel reports that the Lord God said to him: " 'Mortal, have you seen this?' Then he led me back along the bank of the river."

Friends, join me as we bow in prayer: O wondrous God, in the same manner that You called upon Ezekiel "to take note of the river," so are all of us urged to pause and think of not only how many flounder we can catch, but also about all of our water resources themselves. For indeed, our rivers and lakes, streams and creeks, ponds and wetlands are among our great treasures in this State that we all love. We therefore pray, O Father, that You will give each Senator and staff member a renewed determination to do all that he or she can to stem the tide of any casual abuse of South Carolina's waterways, and to protect and preserve these treasures for future generations. In Your loving name we pray, dear Lord. Amen.

The Senate assembled at 1:00 P.M., the hour to which it stood adjourned, and was called to order by the PRESIDENT.

A quorum being present, the proceedings were opened with a devotion by the Chaplain as follows:

Psalm 31:24

The Psalmist writes: "Be strong, and let your heart take courage, all you who wait for the Lord."

Let us pray: One can surely say it is a truism, O Lord, that anyone who wants to be an honorable leader has to be strong, strong in courage surely, as well as in determination to work for the betterment of those he or she is chosen to serve. And especially in a world like the one we live in today, dear Father, how important it is for each of these Senators to be like that: to possess the courage to make wise decisions which genuinely benefit the people of South Carolina. Moreover, Lord, that is also our fervent prayer for each man and woman serving here in our State at every other level of government, as well, whatever his or her responsibilities. And as always, dear Lord, to You be the glory. In Your loving name we pray. Amen.

The PRESIDENT called for Petitions, Memorials, Presentments of Grand Juries and such like papers.

~~Indicates Matter Stricken~~

The Senate assembled at 11:00 A.M., the hour to which it stood adjourned, and was called to order by the PRESIDENT.

A quorum being present, the proceedings were opened with a devotion by the Chaplain as follows:

Amos 5:24

Hear the Lord's Word to us from the prophet, Amos: "But let justice roll down like waters, and righteousness like an ever-flowing stream."

Friends, let us bow in prayer: O gracious Heavenly Father, during this month of February we have found ourselves once again being reminded that in this Nation we still have a long, long way to go before we are truly the one people You would have us become. We do thank You for your blessings, dear Lord, as well as for the many dedicated leaders--throughout our State and here in this Senate -- who have worked diligently to bring about opportunity and justice for all of our citizens. Yet we cannot help but recall the words of the poet Robert Frost, that we still "have promises to keep, and miles to go before we sleep." So by Your Spirit's grace keep the flame of hope alive, O God, and continue to guide us as we all labor further onward. In Your loving name we pray, Lord. Amen.

The PRESIDENT called for Petitions, Memorials, Presentments of Grand Juries and such like papers.

Amend the bill, as and if amended, by striking the bill in its entirety and inserting therein the following:

Amend the bill, as and if amended, by adding appropriately numbered SECTIONS to read:

SECTION X. Section 2-19-10(D) of the S.C. Code is amended to read:

(D) The term of office of a member of the commission ~~who is not a member of the General Assembly~~ shall be for four years subject to a right of removal at any time by the person appointing him, and until his successor is appointed and qualifies. ~~A member of the commission who is a serving member of the General Assembly shall serve for the term of office to which he has been elected.~~Beginning in 2025, the members appointed to the commission shall serve no more than two nonconsecutive four-year terms provided that a period of four years separates each term.

SECTION X. Section 2-19-20 of the S.C. Code is amended to read:

Section 2-19-20. (A) It is the responsibility of the Judicial Merit Selection Commission to determine when judicial vacancies are to occur in the administrative law ~~judge division~~ court and on the family court, circuit court, court of appeals, or Supreme Court and to expeditiously investigate in advance the qualifications of those who seek nomination. For purposes of this chapter, a vacancy is created in the administrative law ~~judge division~~ court or on the family court, circuit court, court of appeals, or Supreme Court when any of the following occurs: a term expires; a new judicial position is created; or a judge can no longer serve due to resignation, retirement, disciplinary action, disability, or death.

(B) The commission, upon receiving notice of a judicial vacancy, ascertaining that a judicial vacancy shall occur, or receiving the decision of an incumbent judge regarding his seeking re-election, shall notify the Supreme Court of the vacancy for publication in the advance sheets provided by the Clerk of the Supreme Court ~~at least thirty days~~ prior to closing applications for the vacancy. The commission shall, if practicable, also notify the South Carolina Bar, other professional legal organizations it considers appropriate, and each newspaper of this State with daily circulation of the vacancy at least thirty days prior to closing applications for the vacancy. This notice must include, but not be limited to, the judicial office in which the vacancy occurs, the address to which, and the date by which interested candidates may apply.

(C) The Judicial Merit Selection Commission shall announce and publicize vacancies and forthcoming vacancies in the administrative law ~~judge division~~ court, on the family court, circuit court, court of appeals, and Supreme Court. A person who desires to be considered for nomination as justice or judge may make application to the commission. ~~No~~ Except for candidates for an at-large circuit court judge position, no person may concurrently seek more than one judicial vacancy. A candidate for an at-large circuit court position does not designate a particular seat but is considered for all at-large circuit court positions available. The commission shall announce the names of all those persons who have applied for all available judicial positions.

(D) Any person wishing to seek a judicial office, which is elected by the General Assembly, shall file a notice of intention to seek the office with the Judicial Merit Selection Commission. ~~Upon receipt of the notice of intention, the commission shall begin to conduct the investigation of the candidate as it considers appropriate and may in the investigation utilize the services of any agency of state government. This agency shall, upon request, cooperate fully with the commission.~~After filing a notice of intention, the Judicial Merit Selection Commission shall provide the candidate with an application package that must be returned to the commission by the deadline in order for the candidate to be considered for a judicial position.

SECTION X. Chapter 19, Title 2 of the S.C. Code is amended by adding:

Section 2-19-23. (A) Within two business days after the deadline for receiving the candidates' application packages, the Judicial Merit Selection Commission must send to the Governor to review and evaluate the packages of all candidates except incumbent justice or judge candidates seeking re-election.

(B) Upon receiving the application packages, the Governor is authorized to investigate and obtain information relative to any candidate for an administrative law judgeship or a family court, circuit court, court of appeals, or Supreme Court judgeship from any state agency or other group including, but not limited to, court administration and any law enforcement agency, to the extent permitted by law. The agencies shall, upon request, cooperate fully with the Governor.

(C) To aid in the investigation of candidates, the Governor may appoint an Advisory Council on Judicial Selection. In making appointments to the Council, the Governor is encouraged to consider:

(1) race, gender, national origin, and other demographic factors to ensure nondiscrimination to the greatest extent possible as to all segments of the population of the State;

(3) representatives from each of the judicial circuits;

(f) the South Carolina Chapter of the American Academy of Matrimonial Lawyers.

(D) Investigations and consideration of the Governor and the Advisory Council on Judicial Selection should include, but are not limited to, the following areas:

(2) ethical fitness;

(3) professional and academic ability;

(4) character;

(5) reputation;

(6) physical health;

(7) mental stability;

(8) experience; and

(9) judicial temperament.

(E) In making recommendations concerning the candidates, race, gender, national origin, and other demographic factors should be considered by the Governor and the Advisory Council on Judicial Selection to ensure nondiscrimination to the greatest extent possible as to all segments of the population of the State.

(F) After receipt of the candidates' application packages, the Governor has forty-five days to consider the candidates' qualifications and to send to the Judicial Merit Selection Commission a report recommending up to five candidates for each judicial position. In his report, the Governor may recommend or not recommend a candidate for a judicial position.

(G)(1) If, within the forty-five-day period, the Governor recommends less than five candidates for a judicial position, he must indicate the reason for returning fewer than five candidates. If the Governor does not recommend a candidate for a judicial position, he must include that information in his report to the Judicial Merit Selection Commission.

(2) If, within the forty-five-day period, the Governor makes no recommendations for a particular judicial position, all the candidates for that position must be considered by the Judicial Merit Selection Commission.

SECTION X. Section 2-19-25 of the S.C. Code is amended to read:

Section 2-19-25. ~~The~~Upon receipt of the Governor's recommendations, the Judicial Merit Selection Commission is authorized to investigate and obtain information relative to any candidate

The agencies shall, upon request, cooperate fully with the commission. The chairman of the commission shall notify the president of the South Carolina Bar of the judgeships to be filled and of the candidates for those judgeships no later than four weeks before the scheduled date for the public hearing. The chairman of the commission shall also request the South Carolina Bar to offer the commission an assessment of each candidate's qualifications for the judgeship sought, and the date by which the assessment must be returned to the commission. This assessment must specify the bar's finding as to whether each candidate is qualified or unqualified for the judgeship sought and the reasons for that finding. The commission may receive the bar's assessment in that form and at that time it desires but shall attach the assessments to its findings of fact in such form as the commission considers appropriate. Failure of the bar to return the assessment by the date requested is not a ground for delaying the applicable hearings or election.

The commission may utilize anonymous surveys from the membership of the South Carolina Bar and the Clerks of Court concerning each candidate. The commission must not find a candidate qualified or unqualified solely on the basis of anonymous surveys. Anonymous surveys must be used to indicate a pattern of actions by a candidate.

SECTION X. Chapter 19, Title 2 of the S.C. Code is amended by adding:

Section 2-19-27. (A) Investigations and findings concerning an incumbent justice or judge candidate seeking re-election are conducted only by the Judicial Merit Selection Commission.

(B) If an incumbent justice or judge is found unqualified and other candidates for the incumbent justice or judge's position have been found qualified, an election may be held for the qualified candidates. If the incumbent justice or judge found unqualified is the only candidate for the position, the provisions of Section 2-19-80(C) apply.

Amend the bill further, by striking SECTION 2 and inserting:

SECTION X. Section 2-19-80 of the S.C. Code is amended to read:

Section 2-19-80. (A) The commission shall make nominations to the General Assembly of candidates and their qualifications for election to the Supreme Court, court of appeals, circuit court, family court, and the administrative law ~~judge division~~court. It shall review the qualifications

If fewer than ~~three~~five persons apply to fill a vacancy or if the commission concludes there are fewer than ~~three~~five candidates qualified for a vacancy, it shall submit to the General Assembly only the names and qualifications of those who are considered to be qualified, with a written explanation for submitting fewer than ~~three~~five names.

(B) The nominations of the commission for any judgeship are binding on the General Assembly, and it shall not elect a person not nominated by the commission. Nothing shall prevent the General Assembly from rejecting all persons nominated. In this event, the commission shall submit another group of names and qualifications for that position. Further nominations in the manner required by this chapter must be made until the office is filled.

(C)(1) If the commission does not find the incumbent justice or judge qualified for the judicial office held and sought, his name shall not be submitted to the General Assembly for re-election and upon expiration of his then current term of office, he shall cease serving in that judicial position.

(2) If the commission finds an incumbent judge not qualified for the office sought, or if an incumbent judge dies, withdraws, or becomes otherwise disqualified for the office sought between the time he makes application for the office and the date of the election therefor, the election for the office may not be held at that scheduled time, and the commission shall proceed in accordance with the provisions of this chapter to make other nominations for the office as though a new vacancy without an incumbent exists in that office, including reopening the application process with all required notices. Nothing prevents the commission from including in its new nominations the names and qualifications of persons other than the incumbent judge it included in its previous nominations.

(3) If the commission finds unqualified all the candidates recommended by the Governor for a judicial position, the election for the office may not be held at that scheduled time, and the commission shall proceed in accordance with the provisions of this chapter to reopen the application process with all required notices.

In order to be elected, a candidate must receive a majority of the vote of the members of the ~~General Assembly~~House of Representatives and a majority vote of the members of the Senate voting in joint session.

SECTION X. The provisions of this act are declared by the General Assembly to be nonseverable, and if any portion of this act is declared by a court of competent jurisdiction to be invalid, unconstitutional, unenforceable, or unlawful, the remaining provisions are declared to be null and void.

~~Indicates Matter Stricken~~
Indicates New Matter

The Senate assembled at 12:00 Noon, the hour to which it stood adjourned, and was called to order by the PRESIDENT.

A quorum being present, the proceedings were opened with a devotion by the Chaplain as follows:

Psalm 119:165

The Psalmist proclaims: "Great peace have they who love your law, and nothing can make them stumble."

Please join me as we bow in prayer: Holy God, we feel a need to pause and pray today for our sisters and brothers all around the globe. For indeed, our world's trouble spots are so numerous: Ukraine, Gaza and the West Bank, Yemen, Myanmar, Haiti and many other places as well, including here in our own country. All around us are people desperate for hope, for a violence-free future, for a new and better day. So we ask, O Lord, that you touch the heart of each leader here in the Senate of South Carolina. Guide them as they work together to make hope real for all of our citizens, and for others in far off places as well. Truly, may the Psalmist's call for a "great peace'' be embraced by all of us. In Your hopeful name we pray, dear Lord. Amen.

The Senate assembled at 11:00 A.M., the hour to which it stood adjourned, and was called to order by the PRESIDENT.

A quorum being present, the proceedings were opened with a devotion by the Chaplain as follows:

Genesis 9:17

In Genesis we read: "So God said to Noah, 'This is the sign of the covenant I have established between me and all life on earth.' "

Let us pray: Glorious Lord, ages ago You established a covenant of grace with Noah, a pledge signified by a "sign," the rainbow, intended to remind everyone of Your promise to care for all creation. So today we all humbly continue to join together to praise You and to thank You. Your promised faithfulness unfailingly gives us hope. And equally do we give our thanks for each one of these Senators and their aides, as well. They, too, have united in a covenant, in their case to labor for the good of the people of South Carolina. This is why, O God, we fervently pray that You grant to each of these servants a clear sense of Your guidance and blessing as they strive to do what is best for all of our citizens. In Your loving name we pray, Lord. Amen.

The PRESIDENT called for Petitions, Memorials, Presentments of Grand Juries and such like papers.

On motion of Senator MASSEY, with Senator MATTHEWS retaining the floor on H. 3594, the Senate agreed that the Senate would reconvene one hour after the conclusion of the Joint Assembly.

RECESS

At 12:25 P.M., on motion of Senator MASSEY, the Senate receded from business for the purpose of attending the Joint Assembly.

Committee to Escort

The PRESIDENT appointed Senators CORBIN, McELVEEN, MATTHEWS, GARRETT and HEMBREE to escort the Honorable Daniel J. Seehafer, National Commander of the American Legion, and members of his party to the House of Representatives for the Joint Assembly.

Address by the National Commander of the American Legion

The PRESIDENT of the Senate announced that it had convened under the terms of a Concurrent Resolution adopted by both Houses, S. 1065.

S. 1065 -- Senator Alexander: A CONCURRENT RESOLUTION TO WELCOME THE NATIONAL COMMANDER OF THE AMERICAN LEGION, DANIEL J. SEEHAFER, AND TO INVITE HIM TO ADDRESS THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY IN JOINT SESSION IN THE CHAMBER OF THE SOUTH CAROLINA HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES AT 12:30 P.M. ON WEDNESDAY, MARCH 6, 2024.

The Honorable Daniel J. Seehafer and members of his party were escorted to the rostrum by Senators CORBIN, McELVEEN, MATTHEWS, GARRETT and HEMBREE and Representatives Hosey, B.L. Cox, T. Moore and Williams. The PRESIDENT of the Senate introduced the Honorable Daniel J. Seehafer, National Commander of the American Legion.

Commander Seehafer addressed the Joint Assembly.

Ladies, gentlemen, distinguished members of this great Body -- it's truly an honor to speak to you today in this beautiful historic capitol. Before I begin, please allow me a moment to introduce members of The American Legion Family of South Carolina who are with me today. We have the Department Commander, Jim Kvam of Charleston; National Executive Committeeman, Joe Lysaght of James Island; James Holland, Alternate NEC from Aiken, the Department Adjutant Mike Strauss, of North Augusta; our American Legion Auxiliary Department President, Lorena Pate of Dalzell; and, our Sons of The American Legion Detachment Commander, Richard Hall of Chesnee.

Ladies and gentlemen -- it is an honor to be in a state with such a proud and distinguished military history. South Carolina has produced famous leaders such as General Thomas Sumter, General William Westmoreland, and Lieutenant Col. William Travis, the man who authored the "Victory or Death" letter from the Alamo.

However, I would like to begin with a tribute to a less famous son of the Palmetto State. Eighty years ago, a 19-year-old private from the farming community of Six Mile, made the Supreme Sacrifice for this Nation. Furman L. Smith, a soldier with the 135th Infantry Regiment, 34th Infantry Division, came under intense fire by a force of 80 Germans near Lanuvio, Italy. After his squad leader and another soldier were seriously wounded, the rest of his company safely withdrew. BUT NOT PRIVATE SMITH. He epitomized the warrior ethos of "leave no one behind" and he placed his wounded comrades in shell craters for their protection. Against overwhelming odds, he fired his rifle and unloaded clip after clip on the enemy. He killed many of them until he was himself mortally wounded, rifle in hand. For the actions he had taken on June 1st, 1944, Furman L. Smith became the first World War II Medal of Honor recipient from South Carolina. He is buried at Pleasant Hill Cemetery. In many ways I believe Private Smith's actions are symbolic of the relationship that South Carolina has with its veterans. Private Smith refused to abandon his friends in need, just as this State has repeatedly stood at the side of its veterans.

Nearly 400,000 veterans call South Carolina home, including 63,000 military retirees. The state income tax exemptions you provide to military pensions and the multitude of other benefits you award veterans make South Carolina an attractive home for those who have served.

The American Legion is grateful that the South Carolina House of Representatives unanimously passed H. 3116, which will grant immediate property tax exemptions to certain disabled veterans.

Senate Bill 437 calls for the military to do more to assist veterans with transitioning. The American Legion believes that a smooth acclimation from military to civilian life can make a difference in reducing the suicide rate among veterans. For the last several years, previous American Legion National Commanders have appeared before this legislature and discussed the importance of destigmatizing the act of seeking mental wellness.

The United States has lost more than 135,000 veterans to suicide since the 9/11 attacks. This is well more than the total American deaths incurred during the entire Korean War, Vietnam War, Gulf War and Global War on Terrorism combined. A veteran is 50 percent more likely to take his or her own life than a person who has never served in the military.

The American Legion calls on all of us to "Be the One" to stop these tragedies. "Be the One" is not a marketing campaign, or catchy slogan or cool phrase for us. IT IS A MISSION. A mission of relevance and purpose; yes, a mission that changes lives and saves lives. You see, family, veterans value courage and it takes courage to ask for help. Through our "Buddy Check" outreach programs, The American Legion does not sit back and wait for veterans to ask us. WE ASK THEM! We take a pro-active approach and start conversations with veterans.

Included in those conversations is the most important question of all: "ARE YOU OKAY?" If the answer is "no," we connect that veteran with the resources he or she needs. We follow up. We do not abandon them. As a result of our lobbying efforts, Congress passed legislation directing the Department of Veterans Affairs to conduct its own national "Buddy Check Week", which they did from October 16-20, 2023. It's impossible to tell how many lives were saved as a result, but we do know that thousands of veterans were told that their lives were valuable and worth living. We also know that in 2023 nearly 50,000 veterans accessed a new VA benefit which offers free emergency suicide prevention care in and outside the VA system. Suicide also is a major problem for the active-duty military. South Carolia is home to eight major military installations and numerous smaller facilities.

Yesterday, I had the honor of visiting the Naval Nuclear Power Training Command Weapons Station. It is truly inspiring to meet the bright professionals serving in today's All-Volunteer Force. Nonetheless, logic would dictate that providing high quality housing, health care, childcare and other lifestyle amenities go hand-in-hand with reducing the stress and hardships that can contribute to the suicide rate.

You have probably seen the widespread reports of moldy rooms, broken air conditioning, vermin and other problems that have plagued some military barracks and housing facilities around the world. The American Legion finds these conditions UNACCEPTABLE.

In 2022, our organization created the Base Assessment and Servicemember Experience Program -- yes, the acronym is B.A.S.E. The BASE program includes assessment tours by Legion delegations and townhalls with servicemembers and their families to discuss the conditions aboard various installations.

In addition to housing, we focus on issues such as spousal employment opportunities, education, military exchanges, commissaries, economic hardships and food insecurity. The goal is not to criticize military commands but to identify challenges and drive solutions.

As the nation's largest veteran's organization, The American Legion is able to report our findings to the White House, Pentagon and Congress, much like the Department of South Carolina American Legion communicates with all of you. Please consider this our invitation to you. If you have concerns about your veteran constituents or the military community in general, please reach out to our American Legion Department of South Carolina headquarters here in Columbia. Every officer in The American Legion has worn the uniform of the United States military. We have the expertise and experience to help but most importantly, we have the desire to be servant leaders for our communities and our Country.

While I am here, I would like to extend my congratulations to Charles Bratton of Clover, S.C. On July 23, 2024, Charles finished first in the sporter category of The American Legion Junior-3 Position Air Rifle Championships that we held in Colorado Springs. Charles's marksmanship skills earned him a $5,000 scholarship, which he is now using at Harvard University.

This summer, our Past Department Commanders Club also honored Sumter native Bobby Richardson with our 2023 Good Guy Award. Bobby was not just a legendary second baseman for the New York Yankees, but he was also a proud American Legion Baseball alumnus. He is an outstanding patriot and servant of his community.

Now, if you would allow me for one moment to call to this platform two members of this distinguished Body who have proven that they are not only great lawmakers, but they are advocates for those who have served. They have been designated by The American Legion Department of South Carolina as the Outstanding Members of the Legislature for 2024. They are true friends of veterans and The American Legion. Senator MIKE FANNING and Representative Sylleste H. Davis, would you please join me?

Congratulations Senator FANNING and Representative Davis. We appreciate all that you do on behalf of veterans. Thank you so much, South Carolina Legislature. God Bless you and God Bless America.

Remarks by Senator CAMPSEN

Thank you, Mr. PRESIDENT. Senators, if there were a clear button at the podium, I'd hit the clear button. Why? Because, as opposed to previous speakers, I will explain why I, a strong supporter and serial exerciser of my second amendment rights, am opposed to this Bill. I am a lifelong hunter and outdoorsman. I dare say there is no one in this chamber, other than Senator ADAMS, who was a law enforcement officer, has carried weapons more than me. From the beginning of deer season in August and to the end of turkey season in May, there is not a week that goes by in which I'm not bearing multiple classes of arms. I also manage timber and hunting land, an endeavor in which guns are tools of the trade to manage nuisance species such as wild hogs, armadillos and coyotes. So, the rest of the year when I'm doing tractor work, planting food plots, cutting fire lines or doing prescribed burns of timberland, I have multiple weapons with me. My wife is an avid hunter as well. My sons are some of the finest hunters and fishermen in the State. My oldest son killed his first deer at age six and my youngest son at age four.

And yet an out-of-state dark money group has been sending fliers and text messages to constituents in my district characterizing me as a threat to their second amendment rights. They portray me as a "gun grabber", a puppet on a string with Joe Biden and Kamala Harris the puppeteers. Why? I assure you it's not because I have suddenly become a gun control zealot. Nothing could be further from the truth. It is simply because I do not support eliminating a Concealed Weapons Permit as a requirement to carry concealable weapons.

Senator MATTHEWS, "Would you admit that your wife is a better shot than you?"

Senator CAMPSEN, "Last week we both killed an ocellated turkey in Mexico. The oscillated is the rarest of all turkeys. Lalla Lee not only killed a bigger turkey than me. Her turkey was the largest of the eleven turkeys harvested by our hunting party. So, there's your answer, Senator."

One reason Lalla Lee is such a great shot is because when we got engaged, I gave her an engagement rifle instead of a ring. I suspect you don't consider that very sweet and are now thinking I'm a neanderthal. Perhaps I am. But the engagement rifle was very meaningful to Lalla Lee. She harvested her first deer just two days after I gave her the engagement rifle. And the engagement rifle kept more boys at bay than an engagement ring ever could. But don't judge me too quickly. I did redeem myself. I ultimately gave her an engagement ring to compliment her engagement rifle.

My entire life I have associated with hunters, fishermen and outdoorsmen because we share the same passion. I can assure you it is the avid hunters who strongly support firearm training, like the Concealable Weapons Permit. They support it because through experience, they are intimately aware of how dangerous a firearm can be in the hands of a novice.

This Friday I will participate in a sporting clays event. National class shooters will participate. Guess what we will do before the shooting begins? We will take five minutes for a shooting safety briefing. It is mandatory for all participants. These are individuals who have fired hundreds of thousands of rounds in their lives. Yet they will be required to attend a brief gun safety lecture similar to those they have heard hundreds of times. Why? Because experienced shooters know better than all others how dangerous weapons can be. The more you shoot; the more close calls you experience. The more close calls you experience; the more you understand the importance of training.

The most dangerous form of hunting actually is quail hunting because it involves low quick shots. It's very important to have training and experience. And even the most experienced quail hunters obey the hunt master's commands.

So why am I, a serial exerciser of my Second Amendment rights, opposed to this Bill? Because if you're going to handle a firearm you need to have experience in handling firearms. They are lethal weapons, after all. And if you are going to carry in public for self-defense, it's vitally important to know our complex laws that control when you can shoot someone in self-defense or defense of others. The criminal background check is important so that we have a degree of confidence that those who are carrying weapons in public are the good guys, and not the bad guys.

I find that most people have intentionally been misled about this Bill. Most people have been misled into thinking that somehow their Second Amendment rights are at risk. I know because I received a lot more communication from folks questioning why I, as a Republican and Second Amendment supporter, am opposed to this Bill. I come from a district that has a lot of gun supporters. I have a lot of friends that received deceitful fliers, phone calls and text messages from the out-of-state dark money groups pushing this Bill. They ask, "Campsen what are you doing? I grew up hunting with you, yet I'm receiving mailers accusing you of threatening my Second Amendment rights. They depict you as a gun grabber, a puppet on a string with Joe Biden and Kamala as the puppeteers."

This is absurd. It is politics at its worst. So, I return these calls. The constituent will say, "I want to talk to you about the Constitutional Carry Bill, Senator. I am a CWP holder, and our Second Amendment rights are very important to me." I respond, "Well your Second Amendment rights and CWP are important to me as well. All I'm doing is trying to stop the elimination of the CWP as a requirement to carry concealable weapons."

Their typical response is, "Oh Senator, I had no idea that is what this Bill is about. I just got a flyer saying you were threatening my Second Amendment rights. I've been misled. Please, please continue opposing this Bill, Senator. I support the Concealable Weapons Permit requirement. I took the course. It is very educational, very important."

This is what 70% of those who call me to express support of the Constitutional Carry Bill end up concluding after I explain the Bill to them. They realize they have been deceived by this dark money out-of-state group. The dark money group promoting this Bill has employed this tactic in state after state around the country. We are simply its current target.

I established I'm a neanderthal when I relayed the engagement rifle story at the beginning of this speech. I am also a dinosaur. So, I didn't know what the term "astroturfing" meant. One of my young staffers said of the dark money group, "They are astroturfing us." I responded, "What? What is astroturfing?" Astroturf, of course, is not real grass. It is fake grass. "Astroturfing" is when individuals who are not really your constituents -- thus the fake grass analogy -- lobby you to support the Bill. Many are not even South Carolinians at all.

In response to these calls, I drafted a four-page letter. You know how I am. I had to do a four-page letter and a dissertation on the Heller decision by Justice Scalia and the Bruen decision by Justice Thomas. I can't help myself. I couldn't do it in just one page. The vast majority of my constituents who read it and replied back indicated they had been misled. They had not realized the Bill was really about eliminating the Concealable Weapons Permit requirement to carry concealable weapons. And they asked me to continue opposing the Bill.

Based upon my engagement of the public on this issue, I'm convinced a large majority of the public does not want this. This group has done this in state after state. When they are finished here, they are going to go to another state to pedal their lies.

You all are aware of my love for the Constitution. It is disheartening that this foolishness and deceit has happened in the wake of the most significant United States Supreme Court decisions on the Second Amendment in the history of the Court. These are the Heller decision in 2008 by Justice Antonin Scalia and the Bruen decision in 2022 by Justice Clarence Thomas. For the first time Heller held that Second Amendment rights are a personal right. There had been a debate over whether Second Amendment rights were limited to the military only. But in a tour-de-force of Second Amendment jurisprudence that drew upon the history and traditions of gun policy, ownership and usage in America, Scalia clearly lays out a compelling argument that the Second Amendment confers a personal right to keep and bear arms that are in common usage. The concept is that law-abiding citizens should have a right to bear firepower commensurate with firepower criminals are likely to bear against them. Don't give me a muzzleloader when my assailant will likely bear an AR15. Don't give me a single shot .22 when my assailant will have a semi-automatic shotgun.

And the most relevant holding in Heller with regard to this Bill that's about to become law over my objection, is that the Second Amendment is for "law-abiding, responsible people". It is not for people who are not law-abiding. It is not for people who are not responsible. This principle does not emanate from some left-wing justice. This is Antonin Scalia, arguably the greatest conservative justice in the history of the court.

Why is Scalia the greatest of all time? Because he influenced the way other justices construe constitutional provisions. Scalia had a great wit and set a noble example for all of us as to how we can and should befriend and influence our most formidable opponents. He and Justice Ruth Bader Ginsburg developed a strong friendship. Scalia taught her how to hunt and took her on many hunting outings. Referring to Scalia's impact upon the Court, Justice Elana Kagan famously said, "We are all textualists now."

The Second Amendment is for "law-abiding, responsible people". What does our current concealed weapons permit law do? It simply confirms a permit holder is law-abiding through the background check, and it assures a permit holder is responsible through firearm range training and training on when lethal force is lawful. This is extremely important. No one understands intuitively when lethal force is warranted. You might be a marine sniper able to shoot the enemy at 2500 meters repeatedly. But you still have to learn when lethal force is warranted in a civilian context. How important is this? It's the difference between self-defense and a homicide conviction for the shooter. Consequences for the unlawfully shot innocent victim are even more dire.

This happened just about a year and a half ago in a nearby state. An innocent man got the wrong address, walked onto the wrong porch and was shot by the homeowner on the porch through a window.

Was that lawful under the Castle Doctrine or stand your ground? Nope. That's a homicide conviction. Someone must be breaking and entering for you to use lethal force. And that only is applicable in certain locations. You do not know these important distinctions unless you study the law.

I know the law even though Jake Knotts was my instructor. He was actually a good instructor. And we enjoyed a lot of laughs. But most importantly, we knew everyone had been instructed in the laws governing self-defense. We knew everyone was law-abiding because we all had clean background checks. And everyone had to demonstrate minimal proficiency on the range. In other words, the process of earning a Concealed Weapons Permit simply confirmed we were the "law-abiding, responsible people" that Justices Scalia, Thomas and a majority of the Supreme Court concluded had a right to bear arms ordinary self-defense needs.

I will conclude with a story that highlights the importance of range training. I personally did not need range training. I have shot pistols my entire life. I always carry pistols when I'm archery hunting, and when I'm engaged in habitat management, which is a year-around endeavor. I've killed wild hogs charging me, armadillos, poisonous snakes, coyotes and much more with pistols. I didn't personally need the range training. But I don't begrudge it because I know it's for the public good. It is to make sure everyone carrying concealable weapons has some minimal amount of training in handling a handgun.

An experience I had at the range during my Concealable Weapons Permit class drives this home. As I was preparing my .40 caliber Glock Model 22 for firing, a lady came up to me with a .38 Special snub-nose revolver. She walked up to me, pointed the pistol at her face, looked at the barrel and the cylinder holes, and asked, "Which hole does the bullet came out of?"

I thought she had to be kidding, but there she was, pointing her pistol at her face, and asked a second time, "Which hole does the bullet come out of?"

If you haven't already noted, that is not a responsible gun owner. So, I gently instructed her to lower the pistol with the barrel to the ground, and hand me the pistol. I confirmed it was empty and then called the Range Master to inform him he had a remedial student in need of special attention. Under the Range Master's strict oversight, she fired her first five rounds at a distance of ten feet from the target. She missed the entire target five times at ten feet -- not just the bullseye. She missed the entire target.

This was obviously the first time she had ever handled a gun. The Range Master instructed her in gun safety and eventually got her to the point where she was generally hitting the target. The Range Master and I implored her to get more training and she committed to do that.

I return to Justices Scalia and Thomas' majority opinions in Heller and Bruen wherein the Court concluded the Second Amendment is for "law-abiding, responsible people". Our Concealable Weapons Permit law confirmed this lady was law-abiding through the criminal background check. And although not initially, the Concealable Weapons Permit course assured she had become a responsible gun owner for the purpose of "defending hearth and home" as Justice Scalia opined in Heller.

In this Bill, we are eliminating requirements under current law that enable law enforcement and citizens to have a level of comfort that those who are carrying concealable weapons are law-abiding and responsible. Today, law enforcement can require someone carrying a concealable weapon to show them their Concealable Weapons Permit. This requirement is not by force of law. It is by consent. When someone obtains a Concealable Weapons Permit, they voluntarily consent to presenting their permit to law enforcement upon request. Once this law passes, law enforcement will no longer be able to do that. This is because there is no reasonable suspicion that a crime is or about to be committed when anyone over age eighteen can carry a pistol with no Concealable Weapons Permit.

There is a final matter that is perhaps the most disconcerting. I mentioned it the other day when the Conference Committee first made its presentation. I asked Senator HUTTO, the spokesperson for the committee, "What about the hostage situation? Has the hostage been released?" He paused and asked, "I'm not sure what you are talking about. What hostage?" I replied, "You know, what has been held hostage for almost three years? I have the press accounts right here. They go back to September 26, 2021. The Speaker of the House was talking about the hostage situation."

What's the hostage situation I was referring to? What has been held hostage for almost three years to get this Bill passed? It is a Bill any law-abiding person would support, and anyone who cared about public safety would support. It is a Bill that would lengthen the penalties for felons unlawfully in possession of firearms and increase them exponentially for repeat offenders. Repeat violent offenders would spend much more time in prison and off the street.

This common-sense public safety measure has been law enforcement's number one legislative priority since 2021. Top law enforcement official, Mark Keel, pleaded for enhanced penalties for felons in possession. He said, "We need the ability to arrest more convicted felons. My top priority is trying to keep the citizens of this State safe" as he cited a 51% increase in killings over the last five years. What were they asking for? Enhanced penalties for felons in possession. Violent felons can't possess guns, but currently there are no enhanced penalties for repeat offenses. A first offense is the same sentence as a fourth offense.

We should have passed that law three years ago. And we could have passed it three years ago if it hadn't been held hostage by the advocates of the Constitutional Carry as a bargaining chip to bring law enforcement into submission. There is nothing in our rules or processes that requires us to pass enhanced penalties for felons in possession with this Constitutional Carry Bill. They are separate concepts. They can be done in separate Bills. This was raw political gamesmanship at its worst, and with the highest of stakes. For it involved releasing repeat violent felons back on the street at the public's risk -- as a form of leverage to get Constitutional Carry passed.

But those who wanted this Constitutional Carry Bill refused to let enhanced penalties for felons in possession pass unless and until Constitutional Carry passed. They subordinated public safety to politics. Citizens will likely die or be severely injured because Constitutional Carry proponents refused to increase prison time for felons who unlawfully possess a gun -- which is most of them -- until Constitutional Carry passed.

I also am offended by the notion that people don't need any training at all to handle firearms. I am a lifelong gun owner and serial user of my Second Amendment rights; I know how important training is. The more you handle a gun, the more you respect its power. The more you respect its power, the more you realize the importance of training in handling guns. So that upsets me.

But what really upsets me is the General Assembly holding hostage a Bill that would enhance the penalties for convicted felons unlawfully carrying guns.

How many members of the public have been assaulted by violent offenders with a gun since 2021? Many of these offenders would have been imprisoned instead of on the street if we had passed that Bill early instead of using it for leverage for Constitutional Carry. We will never know how many people have and will be assaulted by violent felons because of this legislative tactic, but it assuredly will be some. Is eliminating the CWP requirement that compelling that it justifies subordination of public safety and public lives to its passage?

In conclusion, I encourage you to look at this out-of-state group that's been astroturfing us. Look at the Second Amendment Foundation's website about Dudley who controls this dark money group. He has done this in state after state. The Second Amendment Foundation is a very credible advocate for the Second Amendment. It is like the NRA in three piece suits. It litigates strategically to secure and protect Second Amendment rights. Yet they dedicate an entire page on their website to explain how the leader of this group has done permanent harm to the Second Amendment cause. You should all read that page.

In final analysis this is what we have kowtowed to. But you know what? I don't kowtow to anybody. And I am convinced my constituents really appreciate it. I have heard from them. They are shocked when they learn the truth and find out how they have been misled. They are particularly shocked when they learn that their safety from violent felons has been used as a bargaining chip to get this Bill passed. The people I grew up hunting with were saying, "Chip, what's going on? What's happened to you?" I have not suddenly become a gun control advocate. After I explain all this to them, they are first shocked, then agree with me and then they get mad. The only way this has gotten any traction at all is through deceit, lies and bullying.

Do you know what my daddy taught me? My daddy was a champion boxer at the Citadel and captain of the boxing team. He taught me how to box, not to be a bully, but to defend myself from bullies. He was a fighter his whole life, not only in the boxing ring, but in the courtroom as well. I am the same way. Do you know what he told me to do with a bully? You box him in the nose. You don't kowtow to him. If you do, you invite more bullying.

I have completed my remarks if there are no other questions. Thank you, Mr. PRESIDENT.

On motion of Senator DAVIS, with unanimous consent, the remarks of Senator CAMPSEN were ordered printed in the Journal.

This subsection shall not apply to a person in possession or carrying a concealable weapon ~~pursuant to Article 4, Chapter 31, Title 23, and the concealable weapon and its ammunition~~, as defined in Section 23-31-20(5).

(1) for a first offense, must be imprisoned not more than five years;

(2) for a second offense, must be imprisoned for a mandatory minimum of five years, but not more than twenty years; and

(3) for a third or subsequent offense, must be imprisoned for a mandatory minimum of ten years, but not more than thirty years.

(C)(1) In addition to the penalty provided in this section, the firearm or ammunition involved in the violation of this section must be confiscated. The firearm or ammunition must be delivered to the chief of police of the municipality or to the sheriff of the county if the violation occurred outside the corporate limits of a municipality. The law enforcement agency that receives the confiscated firearm or ammunition may use it within the agency, transfer it to another law enforcement agency for the lawful use of that agency, trade it with a retail dealer licensed to sell firearms or ammunition in this State for a firearm, ammunition, or any other equipment approved by the agency, or destroy it. A firearm or ammunition must not be disposed of in any manner until the results of any legal proceeding in which it may be involved are finally determined. If the State Law Enforcement Division seized the firearm or ammunition, the division may keep the firearm or ammunition for use by its forensic laboratory. Records must be kept of all confiscated firearms or ammunition received by the law enforcement agencies under the provisions of this section.

(2) A law enforcement agency that receives a firearm or ammunition pursuant to this section shall administratively release the firearm or ammunition to an innocent owner. The firearm or ammunition must not be released to the innocent owner until the results of any legal proceedings in which the firearm or ammunition may be involved are finally determined. Before the firearm or ammunition may be released, the innocent owner shall provide the law enforcement agency with proof of ownership and shall certify that the innocent owner will not release the firearm or ammunition to the person who has been charged with a violation of this section which resulted in the confiscation of the firearm or ammunition. The law enforcement agency shall notify the innocent owner when the firearm or ammunition is available for release. (D) The ~~judge that hears the case involving the violent~~ court with jurisdiction over an offense, ~~as defined by Section 16-1-60, that is classified as a felony offense,~~ punishable by imprisonment for more than one year, as provided in subsection (A), shall make a specific finding on the record that the offense is ~~a violent offense, as defined by Section 16-1-60, and is classified as a felony offense~~ subject to the provisions of this section. A judge's failure to make a specific finding on the record does not bar or otherwise affect prosecution pursuant to this subsection and does not constitute a defense to prosecution pursuant to this subsection.

(E) A second or subsequent offense for the purpose of this section means any conviction pursuant to Section 16-23-500(A).

(F) For the purpose of this section, "crime punishable by a maximum term of imprisonment of more than one year" does not include:

(1) any offense in this State or another jurisdiction pertaining to antitrust violations, unfair trade practices, restraints of trade, or other similar offenses relating to the regulation of business practices;

(2) any offense classified by the laws of this State or another jurisdiction as a misdemeanor and punishable by a term of imprisonment of five years or less; or

(3) any crime for which the conviction has been expunged, or set aside or for which a person has been pardoned or has had civil rights restored, unless such pardon, expungement, or restoration of civil rights expressly provides that the person may not ship, transport, possess, or receive firearms.

SECTION 17. Section 22-5-910 of the S.C. Code is amended to read:

Section 22-5-910. (A) Following a conviction for a crime carrying a penalty of not more than thirty days imprisonment or a fine of one thousand dollars, or both, or a first offense for unlawful possession of a firearm or weapon carrying a penalty of not more than one year or a fine of one thousand dollars, or both, the defendant after three years from the date of the conviction, including a conviction in magistrates or general sessions court, may apply, or cause someone acting on his behalf to apply, to the circuit court for an order expunging the records of the arrest and conviction and any associated bench warrant. However, this section does not apply to an offense involving the operation of a motor vehicle.

(B) Following a conviction for domestic violence in the third degree pursuant to Section 16-25-20(D), or Section 16-25-20(B)(1) as it existed before June 4, 2015, the defendant after five years from the date of the conviction, including a conviction in magistrates or general sessions court, may apply, or cause someone acting on his behalf to apply, to the circuit court for an order expunging the records of the arrest and conviction and any associated bench warrant.

(C) If the defendant has had no other conviction, including out-of-state convictions, during the three-year period as provided in subsection (A), or during the five-year period as provided in subsection (B), the circuit court may issue an order expunging the records including any associated bench warrant.

(D) After the expungement, the South Carolina Law Enforcement Division is required to keep a nonpublic record of the offense and the date of the expungement to ensure that no person takes advantage of the rights of this section more than once. This nonpublic record is not subject to release pursuant to Section 34-11-95, the Freedom of Information Act, or any other provision of law except to those authorized law or court officials who need to know this information in order to prevent the rights afforded by this section from being taken advantage of more than once.

(E) As used in this section, "conviction" includes a guilty plea, a plea of nolo contendere, or the forfeiting of bail. For the purpose of this section, any number of offenses ~~for crimes carrying a penalty of not more than thirty days imprisonment or a fine of one thousand dollars, or both~~ listed pursuant to subsection (A), for which the individual received sentences at a single sentencing proceeding that are closely connected and arose out of the same incident may be considered as one offense and treated as one conviction for expungement purposes.

(F) No person may have the person's record expunged under this section if the person has pending criminal charges of any kind unless the charges have been pending for more than five years; however, this five-year time period is tolled for any time the defendant has been under a bench warrant for failure to appear. No person may have the person's records expunged under this section more than once. A person may have the person's record expunged even though the conviction occurred before the effective date of this section.

SECTION 18. Section 23-31-240 of the S.C. Code is amended to read:

(14) active county clerks of court; and
(15) active public defenders and assistant public defenders.

(B) Notwithstanding the provisions of subsection (A), public defenders and assistant public defenders may not carry a concealable weapon into a local or state correctional facility.

SECTION 19. Article 4, Chapter 31, Title 23 of the S.C. Code is amended by adding:

Section 23-31-245. A person openly carrying a weapon in accordance with this article does not give a law enforcement officer reasonable suspicion or probable cause to search, detain, or arrest the person. This article does not prevent a law enforcement officer from searching, detaining, or arresting a person when he has a particularized and objective basis for suspecting the particular person stopped of criminal activity. A person merely carrying a weapon in accordance with this article is not sufficient to justify a search, detention, or arrest.

SECTION 20 Chapter 1, Title 17 of the S.C. Code is amended by adding:

Section 17-1-65. A person may apply for an expungement of one conviction for unlawful possession of a handgun as provided in Section 16-23-20, if the conviction occurred prior to the enactment of the S.C. Constitutional Carry/Second Amendment Preservation Act of 2023. An application under this section must be made within five years of the enactment of this section.

SECTION 21. Section 23-31-215 of the S.C. Code is amended by adding:

(V)(1) The State Law Enforcement Division shall provide a statewide concealed weapon permit training course that satisfies the proof of training requirement for the issuance of a concealed weapon permit. SLED may not charge participants a fee of any kind for the concealed weapon permit training course provided for in this subsection. SLED may contract with private certified concealed weapon permit training class instructors or local law enforcement to provide the course or SLED itself may provide the course.

(2) The training course must be offered in every county in South Carolina at least twice per month. If demand exceeds the capacity of the training course in any county, SLED shall provide additional classes until there exists a sufficient number of classes offered at least twice a month to meet the demand for training in each respective county. If SLED is unable to contract with a certified concealed weapon permit training class instructor or local law enforcement in any county, SLED must conduct the training class for that county.

(3) This program does not prohibit any certified concealed weapon permit training class instructors from providing their own training classes and charging participants a fee.

SECTION 22. Chapter 23, Title 16 of the S.C. Code is amended by adding:

Section 16-23-495. (A) A person convicted of committing or attempting to commit a crime involving a concealable weapon, as defined by Section 23-31-210(5), in violation of an offense listed in Chapter 23, Title 16, or a violation of Section 10-11-320, must be imprisoned not to exceed three years. A term of imprisonment imposed for violating this section must be served consecutively to any term of imprisonment imposed for the underlying offense, and may not exceed the actual sentence imposed for the underlying offense.

(B) This section does not apply to a person with a valid permit to carry a concealable weapon issued pursuant to Article 4, Chapter 31, Title 23, provided that the permit was valid at the time the crime was committed.

(C) The additional punishment may not be imposed unless the indictment alleged as a separate count that the person was in possession of a concealable weapon without a valid concealed weapon permit during the commission of the crime and conviction was had upon this count in the indictment. The penalties prescribed in this section may not be imposed unless the person convicted was at the same time indicted and convicted of the underlying crime.

(D) The State Law Enforcement Division shall develop a document and distribute it to retailers that are federally licensed to engage in the business of dealing in or selling firearms in South Carolina. Such retailers shall provide the document to gun purchasers in South Carolina to inform them that South Carolina law provides a process for gun owners to obtain a concealed weapon permit and allows law-abiding gun owners to carry their weapons without a permit. The document must inform gun purchasers that if a gun owner commits a crime involving a concealable weapon, and the owner does not have a valid concealed weapon permit, then there may be an additional criminal penalty for the underlying offense.

(E) The State Law Enforcement Division must conduct a regular, statewide marketing campaign to inform South Carolinians that South Carolina law provides a process for gun owners to obtain a concealed weapon permit and allows law-abiding gun owners to carry their weapons without a permit. The campaign must inform gun purchasers that if a gun owner commits a crime involving a concealable weapon, and the owner does not have a valid concealed weapon permit, then there may be an additional criminal penalty for the underlying offense.

SECTION 23. Section 23-31-215(A) of the S.C. Code is amended to read:

(A) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, except subject to subsection (B), SLED must issue a permit, which is no larger than three and one-half inches by three inches in size, to carry a concealable weapon to a resident or qualified nonresident who is at least ~~twenty-one~~eighteen years of age and who is not prohibited by state law from possessing the weapon upon submission of:

(5) proof of training; and

(6) a complete set of fingerprints unless, because of a medical condition verified in writing by a licensed medical doctor, a complete set of fingerprints is impossible to submit. In lieu of the submission of fingerprints, the applicant must submit the written statement from a licensed medical doctor specifying the reason or reasons why the applicant's fingerprints may not be taken. If all other qualifications are met, the Chief of SLED may waive the fingerprint requirements of this item. The statement of medical limitation must be attached to the copy of the application retained by SLED. A law enforcement agency may charge a fee not to exceed five dollars for fingerprinting an applicant.

SECTION 24. No provision in this act should be construed as the General Assembly discouraging responsible gun ownership; and the General Assembly, in fact, encourages all gun owners to pursue and receive appropriate gun safety training before carrying a firearm or weapon.

SECTION 25. The repeal or amendment by this act of any law, whether temporary or permanent or civil or criminal, does not affect pending actions, rights, duties, or liabilities founded thereon, or alter, discharge, release or extinguish any penalty, forfeiture, or liability incurred under the repealed or amended law, unless the repealed or amended provision shall so expressly provide. After the effective date of this act, all laws repealed or amended by this act must be taken and treated as remaining in full force and effect for the purpose of sustaining any pending or vested right, civil action, special proceeding, criminal prosecution, or appeal existing as of the effective date of this act, and for the enforcement of rights, duties, penalties, forfeitures, and liabilities as they stood under the repealed or amended laws.

SECTION 26. If any section, subsection, paragraph, subparagraph, sentence, clause, phrase, or word of this act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional or invalid, such holding shall not affect the constitutionality or validity of the remaining portions of this act, the General Assembly hereby declaring that it would have passed this act, and each and every section, subsection, paragraph, subparagraph, sentence, clause, phrase, and word thereof, irrespective of the fact that any one or more other sections, subsections, paragraphs, subparagraphs, sentences, clauses, phrases, or words hereof may be declared to be unconstitutional, invalid, or otherwise ineffective.

SECTION 27. This act takes effect upon approval by the Governor.

~~Indicates Matter Stricken~~
Indicates New Matter

The Senate assembled at 11:00 A.M., the hour to which it stood adjourned, and was called to order by the PRESIDENT.

A quorum being present, the proceedings were opened with a devotion by the Chaplain as follows:

Proverbs 16:23

We read in Proverbs that: "The mind of the wise makes their speech judicious, and adds persuasiveness to their lips."

Join your heart with mine as we pray: O God of love, obviously, a long-standing hallmark of this Senate is how its members share diverse viewpoints. Entering into debate and wrestling with ideas that often are fresh and new can be enriching and positive. Sometimes it can be challenging, as well. For these very reasons, dear Lord, we certainly note that not always are these men and women in full agreement, but that they have the opportunity in committee meetings and in this Chamber to share, to explain and to try to convince colleagues of the worth of some other ideas. To that end, O God, we boldly ask that You never fail to enrich the work of this Senate through those very gifts each member brings. We pray this, O Lord, in Your loving name. Amen.

The PRESIDENT called for Petitions, Memorials, Presentments of Grand Juries and such like papers.

~~Indicates Matter Stricken~~
Indicates New Matter

The Senate assembled at 1:00 P.M., the hour to which it stood adjourned, and was called to order by the PRESIDENT.

A quorum being present, the proceedings were opened with a devotion by the Chaplain as follows:

Psalm 55:6

Finding ourselves overwhelmed by challenges, we sometimes want to join the Psalmist and declare: " 'Oh, that I had wings like a dove! I would fly away and be at rest.' "

Join me as we bow in prayer: It's not at all that easy, O glorious Lord, to engage in a role of service to others. Demands never cease. Calls for assistance seem unending. Pressure from all corners is unavoidable. And yet leadership is largely about facing challenges head-on, assisting those who need and want help in every way one reasonably can, providing a measure of hope sometimes for those who feel they have none. Yet all of that goes with the territory for these Senators and their aides, dear God. And so I pray fervently today that You will give each of these servants the stamina, the courage and the strength to continue doing their very best for our people. Allow none of these leaders to lose heart. We pray this in Your wondrous name, Lord. Amen.

The PRESIDENT called for Petitions, Memorials, Presentments of Grand Juries and such like papers.

The Senate assembled at 11:00 A.M., the hour to which it stood adjourned, and was called to order by the PRESIDENT.

A quorum being present, the proceedings were opened with a devotion by the Chaplain as follows:

Jonah 1:17

We recall how it was with Jonah, that: ". . . the Lord provided a great fish to swallow Jonah, and Jonah was inside the fish for three days and nights."

Bow with me as we pray: Gracious God, all of us remember the tale about Jonah, about his rebellion, about his failing to trust You as he well knew that he should. It is one of those Bible stories which hits so closely to home, for every one of us it seems has our own tale of failing to be as true to Your teachings as we know we should -- of our not always being as caring and helpful to others as we ought to be. So we ask, Lord, that You will lead everyone in this Senate to renew his or her determination to serve others faithfully and well. And may the end result always bring promise and hope to all South Carolinians. Likewise, dear God, bless and keep safe all our women and men in uniform wherever they serve. We so pray in Your loving name, Lord. Amen.

SECTION 1. Section 2-19-10 of the S.C. Code is amended to read:

Section 2-19-10. The Judicial Merit Selection Commission shall meet at least once annually and at other times as may be designated by the chairman. The commission, at its first meeting and then annually, shall elect a chairman and a vice chairman who shall serve for a term of one year and until their successors are elected and qualified, and adopt rules necessary to the purposes of the commission. These rules shall address, among other things:

(3) receipt of public statements in support of or in opposition to any of the candidates;

(4) procedures to review the qualifications of retired judges for continued judicial service;

(5) contacting incumbent judges regarding their desire to seek re-election;

(c) one member must be a lawyer with substantial experience in the area of family law; and

(d) one member must be a retired judge from the Supreme Court, court of appeals, circuit court, or family court who is not serving in an active retired status.

(C) In making appointments to the commission, the Governor must consider race, gender, national origin, and other demographic factors ~~should be considered~~ to ensure nondiscrimination to the greatest extent possible as to all segments of the population of the State.

(D)(1) The term of office of a member of the commission who is appointed by the Governor ~~not a member of the General Assembly~~ shall be for four years subject to a right of removal at any time by the ~~person appointing him~~Governor~~, and until his successor is appointed and qualifies. A member of the commission who is a serving member of the General Assembly shall serve for the term of office to which he has been elected.~~Members of the commission shall serve for a term of no more than four years and may not serve successive terms. A member may be reappointed to the commission after rotating off the commission for at least four years. However, the term of a member of the Senate or the House of Representatives who ceases to serve as a member of the General Assembly shall terminate upon the end of his service in the General Assembly creating a vacancy that must be filled pursuant to subsection (E).

(2) The legislative members may be removed from the commission for incapacity, misconduct, or neglect of duty by a resolution adopted by their respective chamber. In order to be considered, any such resolution must be proposed by at least ten members and requires the affirmative vote of a majority of the membership in the appropriate chamber.

(E) A vacancy on the Judicial Merit Selection Commission must be filled for the remainder of the unexpired term in the same manner as provided for the original selection. A member appointed to fill a vacancy may serve a full term after the expiration of the unexpired term to which he was appointed.

(G) No member of the Judicial Merit Selection Commission is eligible for nomination and appointment as a judge or justice of the state court system or administrative law judge division while serving on the commission and for a period of one year thereafter. SECTION 2. Section 2-19-30(E) of the S.C. Code is amended to read:

(C) No ~~candidate for judicial office~~person may seek directly or indirectly the pledge of a member of the General Assembly's vote or, directly or indirectly, contact a member of the General Assembly regarding screening for the judicial office until the qualifications of all candidates for that office have been determined by the Judicial Merit Selection Commission and the commission has formally released its report as to the qualifications of all candidates for the vacancy to the General Assembly. No member of the General Assembly may offer his pledge to any person until the qualifications of all candidates for that office have been determined by the Judicial Merit Selection Commission and until the commission has formally released its report as to the qualifications of its nominees to the General Assembly. The formal release of the report of qualifications shall occur no earlier than ~~forty-eight hours~~twelve days after the nominees have been initially released to members of the General Assembly. For purposes of this section, indirectly seeking a pledge means the candidate, or someone acting on behalf of and at the request of the candidate, requesting a person to contact a member of the General Assembly on behalf of the candidate before nominations for that office are formally made by the commission. Prior to the formal release of the report as to the qualifications of judicial candidates, a person may not request that a member of the General Assembly, nor may a member of the General Assembly offer to, act on behalf of a candidate in furtherance of the candidate's candidacy in any capacity including, but not limited to, acting as a vote counter for a candidate. The prohibitions of this section do not extend to an announcement of candidacy by ~~the candidate~~a person and statements by the candidate detailing the candidate's qualifications.

(D) No member of the General Assembly may trade anything of value, including pledges to vote for legislation or for other candidates now or in the future, in exchange for another member's pledge to vote for a candidate for judicial office or as an inducement for a candidate to withdraw.

(E) Violations of this section may be considered by the merit selection commission when it considers the candidate's qualifications and until the time set for election of candidates. Violations of this section by members of the General Assembly shall be reported by the commission to the House or Senate Ethics Committee, as may be applicable. SECTION 5. Section 2-19-80(A) of the S.C. Code is amended to read:

(A) The commission shall make nominations to the General Assembly of candidates and their qualifications for election to the Supreme Court, court of appeals, circuit court, family court, and the administrative law judge division. It shall review the qualifications of all applicants for a judicial office and select therefrom and submit to the General Assembly the names and qualifications of ~~the three~~not more than six candidates whom it considers best qualified for the judicial office under consideration. If fewer than ~~three~~ six persons apply to fill a vacancy or if the commission concludes there are fewer than ~~three~~ six candidates qualified for a vacancy, it shall submit to the General Assembly only the names and qualifications of those who are considered to be qualified, with a written explanation for submitting fewer than ~~three~~ six names.

SECTION 6. Section 2-19-80(D) of the S.C. Code is amended to read:

(D) The commission shall accompany its nominations to the General Assembly with reports or recommendations as to the qualifications of particular candidates and the particular reasons a candidate or candidates were not found qualified.

SECTION 7. Section 2-19-80(E) of the S.C. Code is amended to read:

(E) A period of at least ~~two weeks~~twenty-two days must elapse between the date of the commission's nominations to the General Assembly and the date the General Assembly conducts the election for these judgeships.

(C) If no candidate receives the requisite vote necessary for election on the first ballot, the General Assembly shall proceed to a vote on a second ballot. The three candidates receiving the most votes on the first ballot shall be the only candidates on the second ballot. If no candidate receives the requisite vote necessary for election on the second ballot, the General Assembly shall carry over the election for that judicial seat. The General Assembly shall reconvene in seven days to complete the elections that were carried over.

SECTION 9. Section 2-19-40 of the S.C. Code is repealed.

Remarks by Senator SABB

Thank you, Mr. PRESIDENT, thank you Senator MALLOY for reminding everybody that I'm what stands in your way. I got the message loud and clear, so it's certainly not my intent to be long.

I do want to say two things in the beginning. One is that given the privilege to serve on JMSC, I'm thankful for the experience and I tried my best every single time I was in there to do the kind of work that could be looked upon favorably by folks in South Carolina, but especially folks in the Senate where I serve. The other thing is, I was given the opportunity to sit around a conference table for a number of hours with folks who I believe have the best interest of our judiciary in our State at heart. I would agree that it is not a perfect document, but I'm convinced that it is a document that allows a good system that's important and vital to our State to remain intact.

I wanted to make some remarks. Candidly I was going to hold them, but sometimes you just can't hold it after you hear certain things. I wanted to talk about what Senator CLIMER started his exchange with, when he reminded us of the importance of the citizens of South Carolina having confidence in our judiciary. I would underscore the importance, because I think it is critical, so there are a couple of things that I want to share along those lines. Frankly, I don't think that the makeup of our JMSC before, nor do I think now, impacts public sentiment as much as a couple of other things that are going on that I want to point out. I believe that when there is an absence of diversity, on a judiciary -- I believe that issue in and of itself could erode public confidence. When I think you don't have any women on the Supreme Court, when you are the only state in the United States that doesn't have one, I think it forces people to take a look at whether or not our judiciary is reflective and whether or not it is fair to everybody. I think the makeup matters. I think when persons of color are not on our judiciary, I think that you have a substantial part of our population that looks at that. I believe that can erode public confidence.

I also believe that when the chamber -- Senate, and the House -- if we work to adopt a stringent test, like whether or not somebody is strong Republican or whether or not somebody is strong Democrat, I think that erodes public confidence in our system. One of the things that Senator CLIMER just shared is that the process ought to be free from political influence. So then, how can we say on the one hand that the process is going to be free if that is the litmus test that we use? I would just be cautious, please, I know that there is incredible pressure on the outside. I know that there are those who firmly believe that South Carolina is just a red state and the more Republicans we have in power, the better off the State is. I just want to remind us that we might be majority Republican, but we have a substantial amount of the folks who look to us to be Senators of the State of South Carolina, not Republican Senators, not Democrat Senators, but Senators from the State of South Carolina who are here to ensure that everybody who walks into a courtroom looks at it -- looks at Lady Justice with her blindfolds on and believes I'm going to get a fair shake. And Senator MASSEY is right, when a number of people step in there, it's their worst day. It's a life-changing moment for each and every one of them. The stakes are high, but they deserve to walk in believing that the playing field is going to be fair. We've got a responsibility y'all and it's my hope that we view it seriously.

Folks in South Carolina that vote for us don't have the responsibility that we do. I think if we ever just focus on what's good, somebody who votes for us -- knowing that there is a vast majority of folks out there who disagree with them -- and because we have an influential type of situation -- we can just have it happen anyway. I mean that falls on us and not on them. We can't blame them for asking. I believe we have a responsibility, if we know what's right and we know what's wrong, to do what's right.

My last point is, the idea of allowing one office, the Governor's office, to choose the judiciary, which is not a good idea. One of the things that we talked about in our discussions was how individualism matters. How we would have a comfort level with one person having the authority that might not have the same degree of confidence with another individual. And so, then the focus had to shift from whoever the Governor is right now, or pardon me, Mr. PRESIDENT, to whoever the President is right now to an institutional type of approach where it doesn't matter. The rules are in place such that fairness hopefully would be the end result of those processes. To think that placing it in the hands of one individual is going to cure all, is just not a good idea. I look forward to that we have to debate the matter in the future, to debating that issue on the merits, but I take this opportunity to say that it's a bad, bad, bad idea. Thank you, Mr. PRESIDENT.

On motion of Senator DEVINE, with unanimous consent, the remarks of Senator SABB were ordered printed in the Journal.

Shanita Grimes, 947 Tuxford Trail, Elgin, SC 29045-7903 VICE Christina Pope

Reappointment, Spartanburg County Magistrate, with the term to commence April 30, 2023, and to expire April 30, 2027

James Donald Willingham II, 105 Edge Road, Moore, SC 29369-9521

Reappointment, Florence County Magistrate, with the term to commence April 30, 2023, and to expire April 30, 2027

Belinda B. Timmons, 2717 Triple Crown Dr., Florence, SC 29505-8752

Statement by Senator Reichenbach

I have opposed and continue to oppose the reappointment of Belinda Timmons as a Florence County Magistrate. While three of my Senate colleagues in the Florence County Senatorial Delegation signed in favor of her reappointment, I did not and I do not. I believe strongly that judicial selection reform -- including that for the selection and the reappointment process of magistrate judges -- is necessary in South Carolina. I will continue working to see that come to fruition.

The Senate assembled at 12:00 Noon, the hour to which it stood adjourned, and was called to order by the PRESIDENT.

A quorum being present, the proceedings were opened with a devotion by the Chaplain as follows:

Jeremiah 31:17a

We read in Jeremiah these uplifting words: ". . . there is hope for your future, says the Lord . . ."

Friends, unite your heart with mine as we pray: Glorious Lord Almighty, we find ourselves living in a time when, for so many people, "hope" seems to be nothing but an illusion, available for a few, perhaps, but not for all. How sad that reality is. After all, faith itself, and even our state's motto, Dum spiro spero, "While I breathe I hope," together speak of how incredibly important maintaining a hopeful spirit truly is, of how living a hope-filled life can make all the difference in the world. So this afternoon we ask You, Lord, to touch the heart of every Senator and aide serving in this place. Empower each of them to do all they can to make "hope" real for every single citizen of South Carolina. We pray all this in Your powerful and hopeful name, dear Lord. Amen.

The PRESIDENT called for Petitions, Memorials, Presentments of Grand Juries and such like papers.

The Senate assembled at 1:00 P.M., the hour to which it stood adjourned, and was called to order by the PRESIDENT.

A quorum being present, the proceedings were opened with a devotion by the Chaplain as follows:

Exodus 3:2

We remember the story of when Moses came to Horeb: "There the angel of the Lord appeared to him in a flame of fire out of a bush; he looked, and the bush was blazing, yet it was not consumed."

Let us pray: How frequently, Lord, as we struggle to find solutions to hot-potato issues, do we find ourselves desperate for some fresh insight, some "burning bush" to signal that we finally have gotten our answers and that we are on the right track. The way forward for these Senators would indeed be so much easier at times if only such a blazing bush would present itself during a debate in one of the conference rooms or even here on the floor of this Chamber. But we know, O Lord, that You still work in wondrous ways with those who are open to Your leading. So, guided by You in all that they do, dear God, enable these leaders to act wisely and well as they strive to bring about good for our citizens. And may they sense Your blessed guidance all along the way. In Your holy name we pray, Lord. Amen.

The PRESIDENT called for Petitions, Memorials, Presentments of Grand Juries and such like papers.

Amend the bill, as and if amended, SECTION 1.A., by striking Section 12-37-220(e)(i), (ii), (iii), and (iv) and inserting:

(e)(i) all property of nonprofit housing corporations or instrumentalities of these corporations when the property is devoted to providing housing to low or very low income residents. ~~A~~ Except as otherwise provided in this subitem, a nonprofit housing corporation or its instrumentality must satisfy the safe harbor provisions of Revenue Procedure 96-32 issued by the Internal Revenue Service for this exemption to apply. For purposes of this subitem, property of nonprofit housing corporations or instrumentalities of these corporations includes all leasehold interests in property owned by an entity that provides housing accommodations to persons of low or very low income, and in which a wholly owned affiliate or wholly owned instrumentality of a nonprofit housing corporation is the general partner, managing member, or the equivalent. However, except as otherwise provided in this subitem, the exemption allowed by this subitem only applies if the property of nonprofit housing corporations or instrumentalities of these corporations satisfies the safe harbor provisions of Revenue Procedure 96-32 issued by the Internal Revenue Service;

(ii) the exemption allowed by this subitem must be proportionate to the nonprofit housing corporation's percentage of direct or indirect ownership in the qualifying property, except that if:

(A) the nonprofit housing corporation's percentage of direct or indirect ownership interest in the qualifying property exceeds fifty percent; or

(B) notwithstanding the unit mix prescribed by the safe harbor provisions of Revenue Procedure 96-32, all of the units in the property are devoted to providing housing to residents who qualify as low income under Revenue Procedure 96-32, then the exemption allowed by this subitem equals one hundred percent;

(iii) to claim the exemption allowed by this subitem, the nonprofit housing corporation or its instrumentality must apply to the department and certify the nonprofit housing corporation's percentage of direct or indirect ownership in the property and provide a rent roll or other suitable documentation evidencing compliance with the requirements of Revenue Procedure 96-32, as applicable. Such initial certification must be made by the first penalty date for the property tax year in which the exemption is first claimed for the property. In each subsequent year in which the exemption allowed by this subitem is claimed, the nonprofit housing corporation or its instrumentality must submit an annual certification to the department by October first. The annual certification must provide the current percentage of the nonprofit housing corporation's direct or indirect ownership in the property and current rent roll or other suitable documentation evidencing compliance with the requirements of Revenue Procedure 96-32, as applicable. The department shall prescribe the form of the application and certification required by this subitem as well as the penalties for noncompliance. The eligibility and transition rules provided in the safe harbor provisions of Revenue Procedure 96-32 must be taken into account by the department in determining compliance. Compliance with this subitem does not require displacement of any tenant before the termination of the tenant's lease agreement;

(iv) no later than sixty calendar days following the notification to any nonprofit housing corporation or its instrumentality of an approved exemption under this subitem, the department shall also notify the chief administrative officer of any county and, as applicable, any municipality with jurisdiction over property determined to be exempt under this subitem;

Amend the bill further, by striking SECTION 1.B and inserting:

B.This SECTION takes effect upon approval by the Governor and applies prospectively to property of nonprofit housing corporations or their instrumentalities eligible and first making application for the exemption for property tax years beginning after 2024. This SECTION shall not apply to any project that, prior to approval by the Governor of this SECTION, had submitted an application or been approved for an exemption under Section 12-37-220(B)(11)(e). Provided, however, all exempt projects under Section 12-37-220(B)(11)(e) are required to submit the required annual certifications to the department.

Renumber sections to conform.

Amend title to conform.

The Senate assembled at 11:00 A.M., the hour to which it stood adjourned, and was called to order by the PRESIDENT.

A quorum being present, the proceedings were opened with a devotion by the Chaplain as follows:

I Kings 9:4a, 5a

The Lord God declared to Solomon: " 'As for you, if you walk before me in integrity of heart and uprightness. . . then I will establish your royal throne. . . .' "

Bow with me as we pray, please: Of course, gracious God, we all know full well that in this land we're not about creating some monarchy. "Royal thrones" are simply not a part of who we are. Yet You have again and again made it clear that holding fast to integrity and uprightness themselves are key values which every leader is expected to have. And these leaders are to be guided always by those very virtues as they work on behalf of the people they are called to serve. We indeed pray, dear Lord, that You will fill each of these Senators with the noblest and most honorable qualities imaginable. And may they indeed labor together with zeal, making life better for all South Carolinians. In Your holy name we pray, Lord. Amen.

Expression of Personal Interest

Senator RANKIN rose for an Expression of Personal Interest.

Remarks by Senator RANKIN

Thank you, Mr. PRESIDENT. Ladies and gentlemen, I know we're trying to get out of here, but I wanted to get your attention for something. I apologize for doing it now versus earlier at the appropriate time. As Senator MALLOY just announced, this is the sixth meeting or whatever the number is, on the topic of insurance reform in South Carolina -- the liquor liability issue that we're all hearing about; the joint and several issues that we're all hearing about; obviously anybody with property along the coast is experiencing incredible insurance premium increases. The point of my taking a moment to speak to you is to call attention to a letter that I sent to the Director of the Department of Insurance, Michael Wise, on February 26th, acknowledging his work with all of us as we are trying to determine whether or not South Carolina is an outlier on all things insurance. I'm not going to read it in full, but I thank him for his participation, as he's testified numerous times before our various subcommittees. I know that the Chairman of Banking and Insurance has scheduled Director Wise to come before the full Banking and Insurance Committee, at the Senator from Lexington's request, either next week or the following week.

But we need answers to our questions and the questions have been asked repeatedly. We've heard testimony both in our Body, and he has testified to an ad hoc committee on the House side. But I specifically asked six questions and asked because these questions have been asked over and over. I will say that the Department of Insurance's responses have been at best confusing. I'm not trying to put the black cat on anybody, on any side of this issue, but if we are truly trying to address an insurance access problem, or a premium increase problem, or a situation where South Carolina is losing industry because of our unusually high rate, I respectfully submit to you that we deserve answers not generally testified to but in black and white. So, I've asked for written responses, again. It is now twelve months that this subcommittee's been working on this.

I'm taking the well to ask Mr. Wise, Governor McMaster, whomever -- you, Governor, have wisely appointed Mr. Wise as the director. We've screened him; we've chosen him. But we need to know the answers on these issues -- these questions.

One, on the liquor liability issue, how many insurance providers offer liquor liability coverage in South Carolina? Two, how many insurance providers offer liquor liability coverage in other states? Three, how many liquor liability claims were filed in 2020, 2021 and 2022? Four, how many policyholders had claims? Five, how many of those policies holders had multiple claims? And finally, six, the report that you all got in January, which was called the Status Report on Commercial Liability Insurance -- that was generated at our request, at the subcommittee level, at the very first hearing. In the report, they cite a data call of four states that extended only to 2017. My question was, why were only four states chosen for that data call, and then why was the data call only extended to 2017 and not further back? The next thing that I asked for, was about the ISO scores. Director Wise offered to the House Ad Hoc Committee that he would go to the various carriers to determine how much they rely on those scores in their rate making process. So, my request to him was that he do that and provide those responses to us.

My only reason in taking the well is that it is now March 21. We've passed in the hall -- our staff has passed his staff in the hall. They say, "We're working on it. We're going to get those responses to you." He has testified that he's going to get these to us. Folks, it is time! I'm not saying put up or shut up, but it is time to give us what you have got if you can get it. Don't make us address this issue in the dark. And so, Director Wise, if you are listening, please put it in writing and explain the answers however you want to. But help everyone in this State, proponent or opponent, know the facts that we're dealing with. The true facts, in South Carolina, to help us determine whether we truly are an outlier, or whether we're suffering the same national insurance carrier access problems and rate shocks. Respectfully, Director Wise, we would like some written responses.

On motion of Senator TEDDER, with unanimous consent, the remarks of Senator RANKIN were ordered printed in the Journal.

THE SENATE PROCEEDED TO THE SPECIAL ORDERS.

Psalm 116:12

We hear the Psalmist asking: "How can I repay the Lord for all his goodness to me?"

Bow in prayer with me, please: O wondrous God, here during this special week, we cannot help but pause and reflect upon the question that the Psalmist asked. It is indeed a pertinent one for all of us. For after all, here in a world beset by so many challenges and difficulties, we nonetheless know how great Your gifts to us truly are. And we humbly recognize that there is no actual way that we might repay You for Your blessings and love, except by our being faithful to You. So to that end, O God, we ask You by Your grace to fill the heart of every Senator and staff member with determination to be the caring, wise and honorable servant our citizens need each one to be. May it be so, dear Lord. In Your loving name we pray. Amen.
