~~Indicates Matter Stricken~~

Indicates New Matter

The Senate assembled at 12:00 Noon, the hour to which it stood adjourned, and was called to order by the PRESIDENT.

A quorum being present, the proceedings were opened with a devotion by the Chaplain as follows:

I Kings 19:3a and 4b

From I Kings we read that after hearing Jezebel's message: "Elijah was afraid, and ran for his life . . . I have had enough, Lord, he said."

Good friends, please bow with me as we pray: Truly, O God, we too, now and then experience moments of feeling overwhelmed, unsettled, unsure of what is ahead for us. And as the world was for Elijah, it sometimes is for us, too; the pressures of the day wear us down, while the world around us appears to spin out of control. So, we once more turn to You, dear Lord, calling upon You to ease our frustrations as we all do our best to make our way through challenges great and small. To that end, O God, in particular do we urge You to bless each of these hard-working Senators and their staff members. Grant them new resolve as they faithfully tackle the many tasks which need to be completed here during this legislative term. All this we humbly pray in Your loving name, dear Lord. Amen.

The PRESIDENT called for Petitions, Memorials, Presentments of Grand Juries and such like papers.

Amend the bill, as and if amended, by striking all after the enacting words and inserting:

SECTION 1. Section 15-38-15 of the S.C. Code is amended to read:

Section 15-38-15. (A) In an action to recover damages in tort: ~~resulting from personal injury, wrongful death, or damage to property or to recover damages for economic loss or for noneconomic loss such as mental distress, loss of enjoyment, pain, suffering, loss of reputation, or loss of companionship resulting from tortious conduct, if indivisible damages are determined to be proximately caused by more than one defendant, joint and several liability does not apply to any defendant whose conduct is determined to be less than fifty percent of the total fault for the indivisible damages as compared with the total of: (i) the fault of all the defendants; and (ii) the fault (comparative negligence), if any, of plaintiff. A defendant whose conduct is determined to be less than fifty percent of the total fault shall only be liable for that percentage of the indivisible damages determined by the jury or trier of fact.~~

(1) The trier of fact shall determine the percentage of fault of the plaintiff, of the defendant or defendants, and of any nonparty whose tortious act or omission was proven to be a proximate cause of the plaintiff's alleged damages. For purposes of apportioning fault on the verdict form, a "nonparty" means an individual or entity who has previously settled a claim arising out of the same tortious act or omission with the plaintiff, or if more than one plaintiff, who has previously settled with any plaintiff in the same civil action.

(2) A settling party shall be placed on the verdict form if there is any evidence sufficient to survive a South Carolina Rules of Civil Procedure Rule 50 Directed Verdict Motion that the settling party was proximate cause, in whole or in part, of the plaintiff's damages.

(3) If the percentage of fault of the plaintiff is greater than fifty percent of the total fault involved in the tortious act or omission that caused the plaintiff's damages, then the trier of fact shall return a verdict for the defendant and no further deliberation is required.

TUESDAY, APRIL 15, 2025

(4) If the plaintiff's percentage of fault is not greater than fifty percent of the total fault involved in the tortious act or omission that caused the plaintiff's damages, then the trier of fact shall determine the total amount of damages that the plaintiff would be entitled to recover if comparative fault were disregarded.

(5) Upon the completion of subitem (4), the court shall enter judgment for the plaintiff against each defendant in an amount equal to the total amount of damages awarded in subitem (4) multiplied by the percentage of fault assigned to each respective defendant in subitem (1) using the following criteria:

(a) each defendant is severally liable for his share of the total amount of the plaintiff's noneconomic damages, as defined in Section 15-32-210, and any punitive or exemplary damages; and

(b) if the percentage of fault of any one defendant is greater than fifty percent of the total fault involved in the act or omission that cause the plaintiff's damages, then the defendant is jointly and severally liable to the total amount of plaintiff's economic damages.

(6) If the percentage of fault of any defendant that is charged under Section 56-5-2930, 56-5-2933, or 56-5-2945 is greater than fifty percent of the total fault in the tortious act or omission that caused the plaintiff's damages, then the total amount of damages for which the licensee is liable shall not be more than fifty percent of the plaintiff's total damages. Licensee shall have the same meaning as in Section 15-3-710(A)(2).

(7) For purposes of this section, the terms economic damages and noneconomic damages have the same meaning as defined in Section 15-32-210.

~~(B) Apportionment of percentages of fault among defendants is to be determined as specified in subsection (C).~~

~~(C)-(B) The jury, or the court if there is no jury, shall: Within one hundred eighty days of commencement of an action, or by leave of court for good cause shown, a defendant may move to add to the verdict form any person or entity, not otherwise excluded by subsection (C) or (F), who may be, or may have been, liable to the plaintiff if the defendant has a reasonable basis to believe that the person's or entity's act or omission was a proximate cause of the plaintiff's alleged damages, which must be set forth in its motion. If the defendant will assert the person or entity committed an act of professional negligence, the provisions of Section 15-36-100 apply, and the affidavit required pursuant to Section 15-36-100(B) must be filed with the motion.~~

(1) Any party may make any motion at the appropriate time including, but not limited to, a motion pursuant to Rules 12, 50, and 56

of the South Carolina Rules of Civil Procedure to dismiss or otherwise remove the added person or entity from the verdict form. The court shall apply the same standard to the dismissal or removal of an added person or entity, as it would to any party.

(2) In order for the trier of fact to allocate any or all fault to an added person or entity, the defendant bears the burden of proof that the added person's or entity's conduct was a proximate cause of the plaintiff's damages unless the plaintiff's pleading is amended to assert a direct claim against the added person or entity pursuant to subitem (3).

(3) The plaintiff may, within sixty days of the court granting a motion pursuant to this section, amend the plaintiff's pleading to assert any claim against the added person or entity arising out of the occurrence that is the subject matter of the pending litigation. This provision applies notwithstanding any statute of limitations as long as the plaintiff would have satisfied the applicable statute of limitations against the added person or entity if the plaintiff had named the added person or entity as a defendant when the suit was commenced.

(a) A person or entity added as a party pursuant to this subitem shall be identified as a defendant in the caption of the action.

(b) An amended pleading pursuant to this provision must comply with Rule 4 of the South Carolina Rules of Civil Procedure and be served on the added party within sixty days of filing the amended pleading.

(c) A party added pursuant to this provision has the same rights to defend or plead as a defendant under the South Carolina Rules of Civil Procedure.

~~— (1) specify the amount of damages;~~

~~— (2) determine the percentage of fault, if any, of plaintiff and the amount of recoverable damages under applicable rules concerning "comparative negligence"; and~~

~~— (3) upon a motion by at least one defendant, where there is a verdict under items (1) and (2) above for damages against two or more defendants for the same indivisible injury, death, or damage to property, specify in a separate verdict under the procedures described at subitem (b) below the percentage of liability that proximately caused the indivisible injury, death, damage to property, or economic loss from tortious conduct, as determined by item (1) above, that is attributable to each defendant whose actions are a proximate cause of the indivisible injury, death, or damage to property. In determining the percentage attributable to each defendant, any fault of the plaintiff, as determined by item (2) above, will be included so that the total of the percentages of fault attributed to the plaintiff and to the defendants must be one hundred~~

~~percent. In calculating the percentage of fault attributable to each defendant, inclusion of any percentage of fault of the plaintiff (as determined in item (2) above) shall not reduce the amount of plaintiff's recoverable damages (as determined under item (2) above).~~

~~—(a) For this purpose, the court may determine that two or more persons are to be treated as a single party. Such treatment must be used where two or more defendants acted in concert or where, by reason of agency, employment, or other legal relationship, a defendant is vicariously responsible for the conduct of another defendant.~~

~~—(b) After the initial verdict awarding damages is entered and before the special verdict on percentages of liability is rendered, the parties shall be allowed oral argument, with the length of such argument subject to the discretion of the trial judge, on the determination of the percentage attributable to each defendant. However, no additional evidence shall be allowed.~~

~~—(D) A defendant shall retain the right to assert that another potential tortfeasor, whether or not a party, contributed to the alleged injury or damages and/or may be liable for any or all of the damages alleged by any other party.~~

~~—(E) Notwithstanding the application of this section, setoff from any settlement received from any potential tortfeasor prior to the verdict shall be applied in proportion to each defendant's percentage of liability as determined pursuant to subsection (C).~~

~~—(F) This section does not apply to a defendant whose conduct is determined to be wilful, wanton, reckless, grossly negligent, or intentional or conduct involving the use, sale, or possession of alcohol or the illegal or illicit use, sale, or possession of drugs.~~

(C) The following are excluded from being added to the verdict form pursuant to subsection (B):

(1) a person or entity not subject to civil liability or payment of damages in a civil action due to worker's compensation statutes or U.S. Bankruptcy Code;

(2) a person or entity where the plaintiff's damages arise in whole or in part from assault, battery, sexual assault, sexual abuse, sexual misconduct, financial fraud, or theft;

(3) a person whose fault is imputed to the defendant or whose fault is based upon the fault of the nonparty for which a defendant is vicariously liable; or

(4) a person involved in a case where the causes of action involve strict liability.

TUESDAY, APRIL 15, 2025

(D) A defendant shall not be entitled to a setoff for monies paid by a nonparty added to the verdict form pursuant to subsection (A) or a person or entity added to the verdict form pursuant to subsection (B). A defendant can elect the setoff from the added nonparty or added person or entity in lieu of placing that nonparty, person, or entity on the verdict form.

(E) Nothing in this section shall be construed as eliminating the empty chair defense, which is the defendant's right to assert that another potential tortfeasor, whether or not a party, contributed to the alleged injury or damages or may be liable for any or all of the damages alleged by the plaintiff.

(F)(1) The following are excluded from being added to the verdict form pursuant to subsection (B) and from the modified joint and several liability contained in subitem (A)(5)This section does not apply:

(1)(a) to an action commenced by the State, a state agency, a municipality, a county, a local government, a regional public authority, a special purpose district, a public utility, or any other governmental entity or political subdivision including, but not limited to, claims seeking recovery of public funds, remediation costs, or other damages arising from acts or omissions of third parties that result in harm to public health, safety, infrastructure, or the environment;

(b) to a defendant whose conduct is determined to be intentional, including an act or omission that is intentional; or

(c) where two or more defendants or nonparties knowingly pursue a common plan or design to commit a tortious act or actively take part in it. This subitem does not apply to any cause of action arising out Section 15-3-710.

(2) In an action to recover damages arising under any of the exempted items in this subsection, if indivisible damages are determined to be proximately caused by more than one defendant, joint and several liability does not apply to any defendant whose conduct is determined to be less than fifty percent of the total fault for the indivisible damages as compared with the total of the fault of all the defendants; and the fault (comparative negligence), if any, of plaintiff. A defendant whose conduct is determined to be less than fifty percent of the total fault shall only be liable for that percentage of the indivisible damages determined by the jury or trier of fact.

(G) The provisions of this section do not apply to causes of action involving PFAS or asbestos commenced prior to the effective date of this act. In such cases, liability shall be determined in accordance with other applicable statutory law and common law governing such torts.

SECTION 2. Section 15-38-20 of the S.C. Code is amended to read:

Section 15-38-20. (A) Except as otherwise provided in this chapter, where two or more persons become jointly or severally liable in tort for the same injury to person or property or for the same wrongful death, there is a right of contribution among them even though judgment has not been recovered against all or any of them.

(B) The right of contribution exists only in favor of a tortfeasor who has paid more than his pro rata share of the common liability, and his total recovery is limited to the amount paid by him in excess of his pro rata share. No tortfeasor is compelled to make contribution beyond his own pro rata share of the entire liability.

(C) There is no right of contribution in favor of any tortfeasor who has intentionally caused or contributed to the injury or wrongful death.

(D) A tortfeasor who enters into a settlement with a claimant is not entitled to recover contribution from another tortfeasor whose liability for the injury or wrongful death is not extinguished by the settlement nor in respect to any amount paid in a settlement which is in excess of what was reasonable.

(E) A liability insurer, who by payment has discharged in full or in part the liability of a tortfeasor and has thereby discharged in full its obligation as insurer, is subrogated to the tortfeasor's right of contribution to the extent of the amount it has paid in excess of the tortfeasor's pro rata share of the common liability. This provision does not limit or impair any right of subrogation arising from any other relationship.

(F) This chapter does not impair any right of indemnity under existing law. Where one tortfeasor is entitled to indemnity from another, the right of the indemnity obligee is for indemnity and not contribution, and the indemnity obligor is not entitled to contribution from the obligee for any portion of his indemnity obligation.

(G) This chapter does not apply to breaches of trust or of other fiduciary obligation.

(H) The provisions in this section apply only to causes of action where the nonparty tortfeasor was not added to the verdict form pursuant to Section 15-38-15(A)(1), (C), or (F).

SECTION 3. Section 15-38-30 of the S.C. Code is amended to read:

Section 15-38-30. In determining the pro rata shares of tortfeasors in the entire liability (1) their relative degrees of fault shall not be considered; (2) if equity requires, the collective liability of some as a group shall constitute a single share; and (3) principles of equity applicable to contribution generally shall apply. This section applies only to causes of action where the nonparty tortfeasor was not added to the verdict form pursuant to Section 15-38-15(A)(1), (C), or (F).

SECTION 4. Section 15-38-40 of the S.C. Code is amended to read:

Section 15-38-40. (A) Whether or not judgment has been entered in an action against two or more tortfeasors for the same injury or wrongful death, contribution may be enforced by separate action.

(B) Where a judgment has been entered in an action against two or more tortfeasors for the same injury or wrongful death, contribution may be enforced in that action by judgment in favor of one against other judgment defendants by motion upon notice to all parties to the action. Provided, however, contribution may not be enforced in the action until the issue of liability and resulting damages against the defendant or defendants named in the action is determined. Once the issue of liability has been resolved, subject to Section 15-38-20(B), a defendant has the right to seek contribution against any judgment defendant and other persons who were not made parties to the action.

(C) If there is a judgment for the injury or wrongful death against the tortfeasor seeking contribution, any separate action by him to enforce contribution must be commenced within one year after the judgment has become final by lapse of time for appeal or after appellate review.

(D) If there is no judgment for the injury or wrongful death against the tortfeasor seeking contribution, his right of contribution is barred unless he has either (1) discharged by payment the common liability within the statute of limitations period applicable to claimant's right of action against him and has commenced his action for contribution within one year after payment, or (2) agreed while action is pending against him to discharge the common liability and has within one year after the agreement paid the liability and commenced his action for contribution.

(E) The recovery of a judgment for an injury or wrongful death against one tortfeasor does not of itself discharge the other tortfeasors from liability for the injury or wrongful death unless the judgment is satisfied. The satisfaction of the judgment does not impair any right of contribution.

(F) The judgment of the court in determining the liability of the several defendants to the claimant for an injury or wrongful death shall be binding as among such defendants in determining their right to contribution.

(G) The provisions in this section apply only to causes of action where the nonparty tortfeasor was not added to the verdict form pursuant to Section 15-38-15(A)(1), (C), or (F).

(H) A licensee is not chargeable with knowledge of acts by which a person becomes intoxicated at other locations.

(J) If an attorney initiates or maintains a civil action against a licensee under this section when a reasonable attorney in the same circumstances would not conclude that under the facts, the civil action against the licensee was justifiably initiated or maintained under this section, then the court shall award that licensee reasonable attorney's fees of not less than five thousand dollars and costs to be paid by that person to that licensee upon a motion made within ten days following the conclusion of a trial and after a verdict has been rendered, or a case has been dismissed by summary judgment, direct verdict, or judgment notwithstanding the verdict.

certificate within six months of completing a program. The department, if circumstances warrant the issuance of a temporary alcohol server certificate, may issue a temporary alcohol server certificate that is valid for a period of no more than thirty calendar days.

(2) The department, in collaboration with DAODAS and the division, may issue an alcohol server certificate to an individual from outside of the State who applies for an alcohol server certificate if the individual has an alcohol server certificate from a nationally recognized or comparable, state recognized alcohol server certification program that the department, DAODAS, and the division find meets or exceeds the programs offered in this State.

(B) Alcohol server certificates shall not be issued to graduates of programs that are not approved by the department.

(C) An alcohol server certificate is the property of the individual to whom it is issued and is transferrable among employers. An individual must reimburse a licensee or permittee that paid for the cost of alcohol server training if the individual leaves the employment of the licensee or permittee within six months of its issuance.

(D) Alcohol server certificates are valid for a period of three years from the date that the alcohol server certificate was issued. After the three-year period, a new or recertified alcohol server certificate must be obtained pursuant to the provisions of this chapter.

(E) Upon expiration of an alcohol server certificate, the individual to whom the alcohol server certificate was issued may obtain recertification in accordance with regulations promulgated by the department.

(F) The department shall not charge a fee to issue and renew alcohol server certificates to qualifying applicants.

D. This SECTION takes effect nine months after the effective date of this act.

SECTION 7. Chapter 73, Title 38 of the S.C. Code is amended by adding:

Section 38-73-550. (A) Due to the mandatory requirement for commercial casualty coverage contained in Section 61-2-145, the availability of affordable commercial casualty coverage, including liquor liability coverage, is found to be essential to South Carolina's hospitality industry and by South Carolina citizens.

(B) By January thirty-first of each year, the director must prepare and submit a report to the President of the Senate, the Speaker of the House of Representatives, the Chairman of the Senate Banking and Insurance Committee, the Chairman of the House Labor, Commerce and Industry Committee, the Chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee, and the Chairman of the House Judiciary Committee regarding the status of commercial general liability and liquor liability markets, including the insurance industry's participation and profitability in the commercial general liability and the liquor liability sub-line of that market. SECTION 8.A. Section 61-2-145 of the S.C. Code is amended to read:

Section 61-2-145. (A) In addition to all other requirements, a person licensed or permitted to sell alcoholic beverages for on-premises consumption, which remains open after five o'clock p.m. to sell alcoholic beverages for on-premises consumption, except for a 501(c)(3) nonprofit corporation is required to maintain a liquor liability insurance policy or a general liability insurance policy with a liquor liability endorsement for a total coverage of at least ~~one million~~ five hundred thousand dollars during the period of the biennial permit or license. A 501(c)(3) nonprofit corporation licensed or permitted to sell alcoholic beverages for on-premises consumption, which remains open after five o'clock p.m. to sell alcoholic beverages for on-premises consumption, is required to maintain a liquor liability insurance policy or a general liability insurance policy with a liquor liability endorsement for a total coverage of at least three hundred thousand dollars during the period of the biennial permit or license. Failure to maintain this coverage constitutes grounds for suspension or revocation of the permit or license.

(B) The department shall add this requirement to all applications and renewals for biennial permits or licenses to sell alcoholic beverages for on-premises consumption, in which the permittees and licensees remain open and sell alcoholic beverages for on-premises consumption after five o'clock p.m. Each applicant or person renewing its license or permit, to whom this requirement applies, shall provide the department with documentation of a liquor liability insurance policy or a general liability insurance policy with a liquor liability endorsement in the required amounts.

(C) Each insurer writing liquor liability insurance policies or general liability insurance policies with a liquor liability endorsement to a person licensed or permitted to sell alcoholic beverages for on-premises consumption, in which the person so licensed or permitted remains open to sell alcoholic beverages for on-premises consumption after five o'clock p.m., must notify the department in a manner prescribed by department regulation of the lapse or termination of the liquor liability insurance policy or the general liability insurance policy with a liquor liability endorsement.

(D) For the purposes of this section, the term "alcoholic beverages" means beer, wine, alcoholic liquors, and alcoholic liquor by the drink as defined in Chapter 4, Title 61, and Chapter 6, Title 61.

(E) Permittees and licensees selling alcoholic beverages at any time between the hours of 12:00 a.m. and 4:00 a.m. shall use a forensic digital identification system that validates the identification of any person attempting to enter the premises as a patron.

B. This SECTION takes effect on July 1, 2026, and applies to all policies issued on and after that date.

SECTION 9. Section 15-7-30(A)(9) of the S.C. Code is amended to read:

(9) "Nonresident individual" means a person who is not domiciled in this State, John Doe, or an unknown defendant, as provided in Section 38-37-180.

SECTION 10. Section 56-5-6540(C) of the S.C. Code is amended to read:

(C) A violation of this article ~~is not negligence per se or contributory negligence, and is not admissible as evidence in a civil action~~ if the violation is a proximate cause of the claimed damages.

SECTION 11. Section 38-77-150(A) of the S.C. Code is amended to read:

(A) No automobile insurance policy or contract may be issued or delivered unless it contains a provision by endorsement or otherwise, herein referred to as the uninsured motorist provision, undertaking to pay the insured all sums which he is legally entitled to recover as damages from the owner or operator of an uninsured motor vehicle, within limits which may be no less than the requirements of Section 38-77-140. The uninsured motorist provision is not required to include coverage for punitive or exemplary damages. The uninsured motorist provision also must provide for no less than ~~twenty-five~~fifty thousand dollars coverage for injury to or destruction of the property of the insured in any one accident but may provide an exclusion of the first two hundred dollars of the loss or damage. The director or his designee may prescribe the form to be used in providing uninsured motorist coverage and when prescribed and promulgated no other form may be used.

SECTION 12. Section 38-77-160 of the S.C. Code is amended to read:

Section 38-77-160. Automobile insurance carriers shall offer, at the option of the insured, uninsured motorist coverage up to the limits of the insured's liability coverage in addition to the mandatory coverage prescribed by Section 38-77-150. In the offer of uninsured motorist coverage, the automobile insurance carriers shall offer the insured the option to include coverage for punitive or exemplary damages. Such carriers shall also offer, at the option of the insured, underinsured motorist coverage up to the limits of the insured liability coverage to provide coverage in the event that compensatory damages are sustained in excess of the liability limits carried by an at-fault insured or underinsured motorist or in excess of any damages cap or limitation imposed by statute. The underinsured motorist coverage is not required to include coverage for punitive or exemplary damages. However, in the mandatory offer of underinsured motorists coverage, automobile insurance carriers shall offer the insured the option to include coverage for punitive or exemplary damages. If, however, an insured or named insured is protected by uninsured or underinsured motorist coverage in excess of the basic limits, the policy shall provide that the insured or named insured is protected only to the extent of the coverage he has on the vehicle involved in the accident. If none of the insured's or named insured's vehicles is involved in the accident, coverage is available only to the extent of coverage on any one of the vehicles with the excess or underinsured coverage. Benefits paid pursuant to this section are not subject to subrogation and assignment.

No action may be brought under the underinsured motorist provision unless copies of the pleadings in the action establishing liability are served in the manner provided by law upon the insurer writing the underinsured motorist provision. The insurer has the right to appear and defend in the name of the underinsured motorist in any action which may affect its liability and has thirty days after service of process on it in which to appear. The evidence of service upon the insurer may not be made a part of the record. In the event the automobile insurance insurer for the putative at-fault insured chooses to settle in part the claims against its insured by payment of its applicable liability limits on behalf of its insured, the underinsured motorist insurer may assume control of the defense of action for its own benefit. No underinsured motorist policy may contain a clause requiring the insurer's consent to settlement with the at-fault party.

SECTION 13. Section 15-78-30(g) of the S.C. Code is amended to read:

(g) "Occurrence" means an unfolding sequence of events which proximately flow from a single act of negligence- including continuous or repeated exposure to substantially the same harmful conditions. For purposes of this section, multiple acts of negligence occurring without a break in the causal chain that result in substantially the same damages shall be considered one occurrence.

SECTION 14. Section 15-78-120 of the S.C. Code is amended to read:

Section 15-78-120. ~~(a)~~ (A) For any action or claim for damages brought under the provisions of this chapter, the liability shall not exceed the following limits:

(1) Except as provided in Section 15-78-120(a)(3), no person shall recover in any action or claim brought hereunder a sum exceeding ~~three~~ five hundred thousand dollars because of loss arising from a single occurrence regardless of the number of agencies or political subdivisions involved.

(2) Except as provided in Section 15-78-120(a)(4), the total sum recovered hereunder arising out of a single occurrence shall not exceed ~~six hundred thousand~~ one million dollars regardless of the number of agencies or political subdivisions or claims or actions involved.

(3) No person may recover in any action or claim brought hereunder against any governmental entity and caused by the tort of any licensed physician or dentist, employed by a governmental entity and acting within the scope of his profession, a sum exceeding ~~one million two hundred thousand~~ two million dollars because of loss arising from a single occurrence regardless of the number of agencies or political subdivisions involved.

(4) The total sum recovered hereunder arising out of a single occurrence of liability of any governmental entity for any tort caused by any licensed physician or dentist, employed by a governmental entity and acting within the scope of his profession, may not exceed ~~one million two hundred thousand~~ two million dollars regardless of the number of agencies or political subdivisions or claims or actions involved.

(5) The provisions of Section 15-78-120(a)(3) and (a)(4) shall in no way limit or modify the liability of a licensed physician or dentist, acting within the scope of his profession, with respect to any action or claim brought hereunder which involved services for which the physician or dentist was paid, should have been paid, or expected to be paid at the time of the rendering of the services from any source other than the salary appropriated by the governmental entity or fees received from any practice plan authorized by the employer whether or not the practice plan is incorporated and registered with the Secretary of State.

~~(b)~~(B) No award for damages under this chapter shall include punitive or exemplary damages or interest prior to judgment.

~~(e)~~(C) In any claim, action, or proceeding to enforce a provision of this chapter, the signature of an attorney or party constitutes a certificate by him that he has read the pleading, motion, or other paper; that to the best of his knowledge, information, and belief formed after reasonable inquiry it is well-grounded in fact and is warranted by existing law or a good faith argument for the extension, modification, or reversal of existing law, and that it is not interposed for any improper purpose, such as to harass or to cause unnecessary delay or needless increase in the cost of litigation. If a pleading, motion, or other paper is not signed, it shall be stricken unless it is signed promptly after the omission is called to the attention of the pleader or movant. If a pleading, motion, or other paper is signed in violation of this rule, the court, upon motion or upon its own initiative, shall impose upon the person who signed it, a represented party, or both, an appropriate sanction, which may include an order to pay the other party or parties the amount of the reasonable expenses incurred because of the filing of the pleading, motion, or other paper, including a reasonable attorney's fee.

SECTION 15. Section 15-32-220(E) of the S.C. Code is amended to read:

(E)(1) The limitations for noneconomic damages rendered against any ~~health-care~~ healthcare provider or ~~health-care~~ healthcare institution do not apply if the jury or court determines that the defendant ~~was grossly negligent, wilful, wanton, or reckless, and such conduct was the proximate cause of the claimant's noneconomic damages, or if the defendant has engaged in fraud or misrepresentation related to the claim, or if the defendant altered or destroyed medical records with the purpose of avoiding a claim or liability to the claimant;~~

(a) acted in a wilful, wanton, or reckless manner;

(b) has pled guilty to or been convicted of a felony arising out of the same act or course of conduct complained of by the plaintiff and that the act or course of conduct is a proximate cause of the plaintiff's damages; or

TUESDAY, APRIL 15, 2025

(c) acted or failed to act while under the influence of alcohol or drugs to the degree that his judgment was materially and appreciably impaired.

(2) If the limitations for noneconomic damages are found to be inapplicable pursuant to the jury or court finding that the defendant's conduct fell within one of the exceptions herein, then the maximum limit of civil liability for the defendant, regardless of the number of claims or causes of action, shall not exceed ten times the current limitation on noneconomic damages, as adjusted pursuant to subsection (F).

SECTION 16.A. Section 15-3-640 of the S.C. Code is amended to read:

Section 15-3-640. No actions to recover damages based upon or arising out of the defective or unsafe condition of an improvement to real property may be brought more than ~~eight-ten~~ years after substantial completion of the improvement. For purposes of this section, an action based upon or arising out of the defective or unsafe condition of an improvement to real property includes:

(1) an action to recover damages for breach of a contract to construct or repair an improvement to real property;

(2) an action to recover damages for the negligent construction or repair of an improvement to real property;

(3) an action to recover damages for personal injury, death, or damage to property;

(4) an action to recover damages for economic or monetary loss;

(6) an action for contribution or indemnification for damages sustained on account of an action described in this section;

(7) an action against a surety or guarantor of a defendant described in this section;

(8) an action brought against any current or prior owner of the real property or improvement, or against any other person having a current or prior interest in the real property or improvement;

(9) an action against owners or manufacturers of components, or against any person furnishing materials, or against any person who develops real property, or who performs or furnishes the design, plans, specifications, surveying, planning, supervision, testing, or observation of construction, or construction of an improvement to real property, or a repair to an improvement to real property.

This section describes an outside limitation of ~~eight-ten~~ years after the substantial completion of the improvement, within which normal statutes of limitations continue to run.

TUESDAY, APRIL 15, 2025

A building permit for the construction of an improvement to real property must contain in bold type notice to the owner or possessor of the property of his rights under this section to contract for a guarantee of the structure being free from defective or unsafe conditions beyond ~~eight~~ ten years after substantial completion of the improvement. The Department of Consumer Affairs shall publish in conspicuous places the right of an owner or possessor to contract for extended liability under this section. Nothing in this section prohibits a person from entering into a contractual agreement prior to the substantial completion of the improvement which extends any guarantee of a structure or component being free from defective or unsafe conditions beyond ~~eight-ten~~ ten years after substantial completion of the improvement or component.

For any improvement to real property, a certificate of occupancy issued by a county or municipality, in the case of new construction or completion of a final inspection by the responsible building official in the case of improvements to existing improvements, shall constitute proof of substantial completion of the improvement under the provisions of Section 15-3-630, unless the contractor and owner, by written agreement, establish a different date of substantial completion.

B. This SECTION takes effect one year after the effective date of this act.

SECTION 17. Section 15-3-670 of the S.C. Code is repealed.

SECTION 18. Chapter 6, Title 61 of the S.C. Code is amended by adding:

Section 61-6-2225. A person or establishment licensed to sell liquor by the drink pursuant to this article may not sell these beverages to an individual to be consumed by that individual in an amount in excess of what a trained alcohol server would believe to be reasonable, based on the immediately available inferences, information, and the totality of the circumstances, that occurred while the individual was on the licensee's premises.

SECTION 19.A. Section 38-77-140 of the S.C. Code is amended to read:

Section 38-77-140. (A) An automobile insurance policy may not be issued or delivered in this State to the owner of a motor vehicle or may not be issued or delivered by an insurer licensed in this State upon a motor vehicle then principally garaged or principally used in this State, unless it contains a provision insuring the persons defined as insured against loss from the liability imposed by law for damages arising out of the ownership, maintenance, or use of these motor vehicles within the

TUESDAY, APRIL 15, 2025

United States or Canada, subject to limits exclusive of interest and costs, with respect to each motor vehicle, as follows:

- (1) ~~twenty-five~~fifty thousand dollars because of bodily injury to one person in any one accident and, subject to the limit for one person;
- (2) ~~fifty-one hundred~~ thousand dollars because of bodily injury to two or more persons in any one accident; and
- (3) ~~twenty-five~~fifty thousand dollars because of injury to or destruction of property of others in any one accident.

(B) Nothing in this article prevents an insurer from issuing, selling, or delivering a policy providing liability coverage in excess of these requirements.

B. This SECTION takes effect two years after the effective date of this act.

SECTION 20 The repeal or amendment by this act of any law, whether temporary or permanent or civil or criminal, does not affect pending actions, rights, duties, or liabilities founded thereon, or alter, discharge, release or extinguish any penalty, forfeiture, or liability incurred under the repealed or amended law, unless the repealed or amended provision shall so expressly provide. After the effective date of this act, all laws repealed or amended by this act must be taken and treated as remaining in full force and effect for the purpose of sustaining any pending or vested right, civil action, special proceeding, criminal prosecution, or appeal existing as of the effective date of this act, and for the enforcement of rights, duties, penalties, forfeitures, and liabilities as they stood under the repealed or amended laws.

SECTION 21 If any section, subsection, paragraph, subparagraph, sentence, clause, phrase, or word of this act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional or invalid, such holding shall not affect the constitutionality or validity of the remaining portions of this act, the General Assembly hereby declaring that it would have passed this act, and each and every section, subsection, paragraph, subparagraph, sentence, clause, phrase, and word thereof, irrespective of the fact that any one or more other sections, subsections, paragraphs, subparagraphs, sentences, clauses, phrases, or words hereof may be declared to be unconstitutional, invalid, or otherwise ineffective.

Indicates New Matter

The Senate assembled at 1:00 P.M., the hour to which it stood adjourned, and was called to order by the PRESIDENT.

A quorum being present, the proceedings were opened with a devotion by the Chaplain as follows:

Micah 6:8

Once again turning to the prophet Micah, we now hear him telling us: “And what does the Lord require of you? To act justly and to love mercy and to walk humbly with your God.”

Let us pray, good friends: Truly, most blessed Lord, the work of this Senate is significant -- sometimes even far beyond our own borders. Yet as important as those realities happen to be, dear God, equally powerful are the messages each Senator conveys in a personal manner. And fellow citizens do pay attention, taking stock of how each Senator leads his or her life, noting what each truly values, observing how he or she interacts with fellow South Carolinians. Therefore, O loving Lord, we pray today that by Your grace each of these Senators and their aides will ever be counted among those who indeed act justly, who love mercy and who walk humbly with You. May it ever be so, dear Lord, to Your glory. Amen.

The PRESIDENT called for Petitions, Memorials, Presentments of Grand Juries and such like papers.

(A) The boards of trustees of the several school districts annually before May first shall decide and notify, in writing through the superintendent, a teacher, as defined in Section 59-1-130, whom the district employs concerning his reemployment for the ensuing year. If a board of trustees fails to provide notification as provided in this section, the Department of Education shall assess a penalty of ten thousand dollars to be deducted from a district's state allocated funding per occurrence. If the superintendent-board of trustees fails-fail to notify a teacher who has been employed by a school district for a majority of the current school year of his status for the ensuing year, the teacher is considered to be reemployed for the ensuing year and the board shall issue a contract to him as though the board had reemployed him in the usual manner. Notice of the superintendent's recommendation not to renew an employment contract must be given in writing before May first. The board of trustees must comply with the reporting requirements created by the Department of Education to ensure compliance with this section.

(B) The written notification of reemployment must include a projected minimum salary schedule for the district for the coming school year as well as an agreement to provide a final salary schedule as soon as practicable upon completion of annual state and local appropriations processes. The district upon request shall provide a teacher with the factors used to determine their pay category on the salary schedule. The written notification of employment should indicate downward adjustments to the projected minimum salary schedule only in the event of a loss or reduction in the amount of state, local, or federal funding anticipated by the district at the time of adoption of the projected minimum salary schedule.

Such reassignment must be approved by a majority vote of the board of trustees, and the teacher must be afforded written notice at least five school days in advance of the reassignment. A teacher must be afforded written notice of at least five school days in advance of the reassignment unless the superintendent demonstrates that advance notice cannot be accomplished because of a critical student need or the teacher requested the reassignment. Malachi 4:2a

The prophet Malachi proclaims: "But for you who revere my name the sun of righteousness will rise with healing in its wings."

Please, bow with me as we pray: O most loving God, here in the Senate of South Carolina we prayerfully remember yet again how important it is to walk closely with You, to trust unfailingly in the care of Your Spirit, to pursue and follow Your wisdom whenever we can do so, and always to act on what is known to be right. So here during this special session, Lord, we ask that You will indeed bless each of these Senators as together they strive to achieve what truly is best for the citizens of this State. By Your grace bind us all together as one people, confident that we truly are sheltered by Your healing wings. And of course, O Father, we join in offering prayers of condolence in the death this morning of Pope Francis. So we pray in Your loving name, dear Lord. Amen.

I. Introduction

There have been two hundred fifty-one duly elected Constitutional Officers in the State of South Carolina since its formation as a state in 1776. Since the ratification of the second state Constitution, all of those officers have taken a statutory oath, presented below in full.

“I do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I am duly qualified, according to the Constitution of this State, to exercise the duties of the office to which I have been elected (or appointed), and that I will to the best of my ability, discharge the duties thereof, and preserve, protect, and defend the Constitution of this State and of the United States. So Help me God.”—Const., Art. III, Sec. 26

“That oath of office means more to me than you will ever know.”—State Treasurer Curtis Loftis¹

The members of the Constitutional Budget Subcommittee of the South Carolina Senate Finance Committee, like all of our colleagues in the General Assembly, have also taken that same oath. Part of our duty as members of the General Assembly is a continuing and ongoing obligation to periodically review agencies and their responsiveness to the needs of the state's citizens.² Since February of 2023, the Subcommittee, vested with the power and authority to do so by the Chairman of the Senate Finance Committee,³ has been engaged in an investigatory inquiry involving several agencies, constitutional officers, and others who had executive level financial authority and duties in our state. Two of those financial executives have resigned, skilled and seasoned employees have left our state financial agencies, a federal securities investigation has been opened, and national forensic accounting experts from a worldwide firm have been engaged, all in the efforts toward resolution of a multibillion-dollar discrepancy in our state's financial records. To be sure, much work remains in correcting missteps, but today, the Subcommittee has reached the conclusion of its investigation.

³ Ibid - S.C. Code Section 2-2-30(D).

MONDAY, APRIL 21, 2025

The purpose of this report is twofold: to inform members of the South Carolina Senate of the facts gathered by the members of the Senate Finance Constitutional Subcommittee during this final phase of our investigation into the $1.8 Billion discrepancy in the balances of the State's Treasury and other related matters, and to make recommendations to the General Assembly and the Governor.

The Subcommittee took seriously the duty to uncover and report the truth about the fund and other highly unusual activities uncovered in the State Treasurer's Office. Over the course of the last 13 months, when confronted with questions about his actions, the State Treasurer has attacked the members of the Subcommittee and the entirety of the Senate itself. He has smeared Senate staff by casting aspersions on accurate and diligent research and reporting. He has called this investigation bad governance. None of this invective deterred our work. We have found that State Treasurer Curtis Loftis has broken his oath of office in which he committed to discharge the duties of his office, and by doing so has violated the trust of the people – both those who voted for him and those who did not.

II. Executive Summary

The Subcommittee's investigation, informed by the work of AlixPartners and others, found an unexplained and unresolved $1.8 billion in funds under exclusive control of the State Treasurer's Office. Seven years ago, during a conversion process from one state accounting system to another, a treasury fund was created that eventually grew to the $1.8 billion sum. Financial entry after entry was made with the expectation that subsequent conversion steps would move those entries into their proper accounts in the new system, effectively clearing the fund back to zero. In fact, a complete review of the process by experts revealed that the $1.8 billion error actually was part of a portion of $31 billion of plugged financial transactions indicating a failed Treasury conversion from the Statewide Accounting and Reporting System (STARS) to the South Carolina Enterprise Information System (SCEIS).

Incorrect entries remain on the books today because the State Treasurer failed to maintain the integrity of the State's banking and investment records. Any suggestion that the State Treasurer did not know about the unresolved differences is implausible, based upon the level of involvement in the conversion process by the State Treasurer's Office.

The State Treasurer failed to take any corrective action even when others saw the issue and flagged the imbalance to him, and he never recognized the significance of the problem.

Since being confronted and asked to explain the unresolved errors, the State Treasurer has consistently misunderstood and misrepresented what the $1.8 billion represents - up to the publication of this report. He repeatedly testified that $1.8 billion was real money that was invested and earned interest, and never amended or appended those statements when offered the opportunity to do so. Incongruously, he also testified that he had no idea a $1.8 billion balance existed in his books and when presented with the experts' forensic accounting report, he posted on social media that he knew all along there was no real money. He contends that his books are correct and that he is fully exonerated by the forensic accounting report.

Treasurer Loftis has not given the Subcommittee clear answers about the origins and character of the unresolved differences. He has made conflicting and inaccurate statements about the nature and implications of the unresolved differences; and has not been forthcoming with information that State law requires him to provide.

III. Summary of the Recommendations of the Subcommittee to the General Assembly and the Governor

First and of paramount importance is the continued coherence of state legislative and executive actions with the ongoing Securities and Exchange Commission Investigation. Members of the Subcommittee commit here to full cooperation if requested and most strongly encourage any and all involved parties to do the same.

Second, the Subcommittee recommends a full and complete correction to our state's financial records, both to the historical errors that led to the $1.8 billion fund and to the current unbalanced accounts that exist today. Without a full accounting and resolution of where the thousands of entries in that fund originated and correctly belong, we cannot be secure in our knowledge that our state's financial reporting is completely accurate.

Third, the Subcommittee agrees with the findings and recommendations in the AlixPartners report and urges swift implementation of all of the suggested changes by the impacted agencies, including the State Treasurer's Office. Chairman Peeler and others introduced legislation to compel progress to that end by the engagement of an independent compliance consultant, and we were pleased to see S. 253 signed into law by the Governor on March 7, 2025.

Fourth, the Subcommittee recommends comprehensive study and review of the State Treasurer's Office by the other relevant state investigatory bodies: the Inspector General, Legislative Audit Council, and the Oversight Committees of the Senate and the House of Representatives. By copy of this report to same, referrals to those entities shall be deemed made. Full considerations of possible fraud, waste, abuse, mismanagement, misconduct, violations of state or federal law, wrongdoing, inefficient use of resources, and other breaches are beyond the scope of this investigation, but it is imperative that they are accomplished.

Fifth, the Subcommittee recognizes that structural changes to the financial executive officers and offices of our state are needed, and such reforms must be made through legislation and, in some cases, with the consent of our voters where constitutional changes are warranted. In brief, the Subcommittee recommends that the State Treasurer, the Comptroller General, and the State Auditor be state offices that are filled by gubernatorial appointment with the advice and consent of the Senate.

Finally, most significantly, and with great solemnity, the Subcommittee recommends that the current State Treasurer be removed from office pursuant to Article XV, Section 3 of the South Carolina Constitution for willful neglect of multiple statutory duties assigned to him and for other good causes as will be detailed in this report. The Subcommittee declines to ignore an almost decade long problem in the State Treasurer's Office perpetuated by the failure of Treasurer Loftis to carry out his statutory duties. We tender our final report here not only to provide clarity and conclusion to this multi-year investigation, but also to illuminate the facts that have led us to this severe recommendation.

IV. Summary of 2023-2024 Work of the Senate Finance Committee Constitutional Subcommittee

Prior to the exposition of the recent work and findings regarding the $1.8 Billion in unresolved discrepancies in Fund 30350993, we provide here

MONDAY, APRIL 21, 2025

a summation of the work performed during last year's legislative session. For comprehensive information, please refer to Interim Report of Findings and Recommendations on the $1.8 Billion Discrepancy in Treasury Balances and Certain Other Matters released and published on the Legislature's website on April 16, 2024.⁴

In a letter dated October 31, 2023,⁵ Comptroller General Gaines formally requested that Treasurer Loftis investigate a cash balance recorded in SCEIS Fund 30350993 to facilitate the proper classification or reclassification of the amounts to their appropriate funds and general ledger accounts. Upon receiving a copy of Comptroller General Gaines's request, staff of the Senate Finance Committee conducted an independent review of the fund and determined that it reflected a balance of approximately $1.8 billion.

Treasurer Loftis responded to this request on November 30, 2023,⁶ directing the Office of the Comptroller General (CGO) to provide any findings or concerns related to Fund 30350993. However, his response neither acknowledged nor affirmed the request made by Comptroller General Gaines.

On December 12, 2023⁷, Comptroller General Gaines responded, outlining his understanding of the historical use of Fund 30350993 and the role of the Office of the State Treasurer (STO) in managing it. He noted that the fund had initially been used to reconcile accounting discrepancies but was later repurposed as a repository for unreported funds amid system transitions. Comptroller General Gaines further stated that, based on the ZIMRQ300—an investment report produced by the Treasurer's Office—he understood the fund to be part of the Treasury's pooled investments. However, he acknowledged that he could not independently verify this information, as the CGO does not have access to investment data. Additionally, he advised that Treasurer Loftis should inform the General Assembly of the fund's balance, purpose, and treatment, given its status as a Treasury fund.

In response, Treasurer Loftis replied on December 14, 2023⁸, inquiring about the recipients of Comptroller General Gaines's letter.

On December 15, 2023, the STO extended an invitation to Senate Finance Committee staff under the premise of presenting a comprehensive overview of the full cash reconciliation process. Staff understood the meeting to be instructional in nature. In attendance were three members of the Senate Finance staff, Treasurer Loftis, and four members of his leadership team, one of whom participated via teleconference. Contrary to expectations, no reconciliation process was presented during the meeting. Instead, Treasury staff delivered a PowerPoint presentation outlining meetings that took place around the time of the system conversion. Seeking clarity and a pathway toward resolution, Finance Committee staff inquired about Fund 30350993. Treasurer Loftis, however, dismissed the inquiry, asserting that the most prudent course of action would be to disregard the issue and attribute responsibility to former Comptroller General Richard Eckstrom.

Finance Committee staff continued to monitor the issue as the General Assembly convened eminently in January 2024.

On February 1, 2024⁹, the Subcommittee sent a letter inquiring about the origin and purpose of Fund 30350993 and whether the STO was in compliance with a provision in the Fiscal Year 2024 Appropriations Act that mandated a reconciliation of all cash and investment balances for the purposes of compiling the State's Annual Comprehensive Financial Report (ACFR). In his February 8, 2024¹⁰, response, Treasurer Loftis asserted that his office was in full compliance, despite contentions to the contrary by Comptroller General Gaines, and explained that SCEIS Fund 30350993 had been established in 2014 to manage cash transfers during the state's financial system conversion, maintaining that its $1.8 billion balance had always been accurately recorded in the General Ledger. The Subcommittee, however, deemed his reply vague and incomplete, particularly in light of previous communications from the Comptroller General that contradicted his assertions.

State Auditor George Kennedy subsequently testified on February 15, 2024,¹¹ that, as a clearing account used solely for cash transfers, SCEIS Fund 30350993 should have a zero balance. He stated that resolving the discrepancy would necessitate a journal entry, supported by historical data to establish fund ownership, and his written recommendations emphasized the need for management to identify agency claims within the General Fund to effect proper reclassification.

In later public statements, including a television interview on February 29, 2024,¹² Treasurer Loftis defended his handling of the fund by emphasizing its investment earnings¹³ and contending that the responsibility for resolving the discrepancy rested with either the General Assembly or the CGO.

On March 7, 2024,¹⁴ the Subcommittee wrote Treasurer Loftis again, formally requesting a detailed breakdown of the fund's ownership by agency. However, Treasurer Loftis's response on March 14, 2024¹⁵, was again unsatisfactory, and focused on shifting responsibility to the Comptroller General.

On March 25, 2024¹⁶, Treasurer Loftis wrote the Subcommittee asking for a meeting to present the Office's budget requests for Fiscal Year 2024-2025. The Subcommittee advised him that the hearing was scheduled for April 2, 2024, at which time he should also be prepared to answer questions related to Fund 30350993.

Prior to this hearing on March 28, 2024, Treasurer Loftis appeared on The Charlie James Show on 98.9 WORD radio in the Upstate. During the interview, he noted that he had not been afforded an opportunity to testify under oath regarding his understanding of the $1.8 billion discrepancy, attributing the issue to an uncertainty over fund ownership. He further asserted that determining the ownership of the funds is the responsibility of the CGO rather than that of the STO.

On April 2, 2024, his sworn testimony during the hearing was characterized by misdirection, reluctance to address critical issues, and unprofessional conduct—marked by interruptions, irrelevant answers, and an eventual premature departure from the hearing—which compounded concerns regarding the unresolved $1.8 billion discrepancy in SCEIS Fund 30350993.

The Subcommittee issued an interim report of preliminary findings surrounding the $1.8 billion exception with the following recommendations on April 16, 2024:

1. That the General Assembly enact legislation to ensure the complete independence of the State Auditor by severing his reporting relationship with the State Fiscal Accountability Authority. Although Section 11-7-45 of the South Carolina Code of Laws mandates the auditor's independence, the Subcommittee believed it necessary to take additional measures to preserve the integrity of the audit process.
2. That the General Assembly appropriate funds for an independent forensic audit of SCEIS Fund 30350993, to be performed by an external firm under the direction of the Department of Administration, with the Office of State Treasurer required to provide full cooperation and unrestricted access to all pertinent records and information.
3. That any funds allocated for the forensic audit—as well as the engagement and oversight of the external auditor—be managed by the Department of Administration, with any expenditures made in support of the forensic audit governed by a plan jointly prepared by the STO and the Department of Administration, subject to prior review and comment by the Joint Bond Review Committee.

MONDAY, APRIL 21, 2025

4. That the Subcommittee receive weekly progress reports regarding the task force established by Governor McMaster, so that its progress would be diligently monitored.
5. Finally, the Subcommittee recommended that the General Assembly advance legislation proposing a constitutional amendment, to be submitted to the voters, that would authorize the Governor to appoint the State Treasurer.

All other findings, conclusions, and recommendations of the interim report, none of which have been subsequently refuted in fact or in substance, are herein incorporated by reference.

V. Governor Henry McMaster's Working Group Efforts

Working groups, comprising key participants from STO, CGO, Department of Administration (DOA), Office of the State Auditor (OSA), Office of the Governor, and the Attorney General's Office convened on a weekly basis to facilitate the preparation for the forensic accounting review. These meetings were conducted to enhance understanding of the objectives and scope of responsibilities of each respective office. In accordance with Director Adams's directive, each agency was instructed to compile and submit any related data to Fund 30350993 for inclusion in a centralized data lake, thereby ensuring that the forensic accounting firm had access to information, and could commence its work without unnecessary delay.

VI. Engagement of AlixPartners

In order to fully excavate its findings regarding the unexplained balance, the recommendations in the Subcommittee's 2024 Interim Report included that funding should be appropriated for an independent forensic accounting review to investigate the $1.8 billion balance in SCEIS Fund 30350993. The Subcommittee designated DOA to guide the review and take responsibility for engaging an appropriate firm. The Subcommittee further directed the STO to cooperate with the forensic accountants and provide full access to all records and information in its possession. This recommendation was fully funded in the budget and effectuated by Proviso 93.19¹⁷ in the General Appropriations Act for Fiscal Year 2024-

¹⁷ Exhibit 13 – Proviso 98.19 of the Fiscal Year 2025 Appropriations Act.

MONDAY, APRIL 21, 2025

25 which delineated the parameters of the forensic accounting project. In part, the Proviso described the scope of review to:

“include, but not be limited to, all cash and investments held in the State Treasury and the reconciliation and balancing of all such cash and investments with any unreconciled fund managed by the relevant state agencies within the South Carolina Enterprise Information System (SCEIS) to the Statewide Accounting and Reporting System (STARS) and, to the extent possible as determined by the engaged accounting firm, to such external statements and records of financial institutions, investment firms, trustees, or any other third-party holding cash and investments on behalf of the State. In addition to the foregoing, the review must include findings and recommendations for any corrective entries and actions necessary, along with recommendations for procedures and controls to be implemented in the future.”

The DOA used a competitive procurement process to engage a forensic accounting firm to complete the project. A request for proposal (RFP) was posted on June 24, 2024, and responses from ten firms were received. Following reviews of the proposals and interviews of the prospective firms, a notice of award to AlixPartners LLP was published on July 17, 2024, and AlixPartners began work on July 18, 2024. This large consulting firm is comprised of highly experienced forensic accounting and data analytics teams and has on staff the largest team of former Securities and Exchange Commission enforcement accountants.¹⁸

Of particular note as the Subcommittee reviews the precipitating events of our findings and recommendations presented today, the STO was also provided $1.2 million in funding in the same budget via Proviso 117.186¹⁹. That funding could be drawn down upon development of an implementation plan for the monies in coordination with DOA and, once approved by the Joint Bond Review Committee (JBRC), could be utilized to comply with the forensic accounting review as needed. The state budget containing these resources was ratified by the General Assembly on June 26, 2024. On January 6, 2025,²⁰the STO submitted a two-paragraph letter to JBRC requesting $450,000 for software for financial reporting, audit, and risk and for licensing costs and training on the security software, which was not a request made in compliance with the parameters of the proviso. JBRC staff requested additional information for the Committee to use in approval but eventually STO simply asked that the item be removed from the agenda.²¹ Later, Treasurer Loftis would cite this $1.2 million funding as having been appropriated to the office when questioned about the use of a crisis communications consultant during the pendency of the accounting review.²² By way of clarification, the funds were not appropriated, nor were they drawn down by the STO for their intended purposes. The request came after the forensic accounting review had already been completed. Those funds were later redirected, following the release of the AlixPartners Report.

VII. Summary of 2025 Work of the Senate Finance Committee Constitutional Subcommittee

The following section provides a chronological account of the recent efforts undertaken by the Constitutional Subcommittee of the Senate Finance Committee in its investigation into the $1.8 billion in unresolved discrepancies within Fund 30350993. This section summarizes the events, detailing particular instances of paramount import or those that have yielded information to forthcoming Subcommittee findings that are detailed in this report, and annotates in the form of footnotes any associated evidentiary exhibits or points of clarification.

January 2025 – AlixPartners Report Released and Presented Before the Full Finance Committee

AlixPartners completed their forensic accounting review as delineated in their contract in late December, submitted their final report to the Governor, General Assembly, and to the Working Group, and subsequently posted the report to DOA's website.²³ AlixPartners was successful in clarifying some of the thorniest issues that had challenged the research and resolution of the discrepancy by tracing the conversion from the STARS system to the SCEIS system, ultimately concluding that $1.6 billion of the fund was the result of incorrect entries. The remaining amount was identified in part as agency funds that had already been spent but not cleared from the fund, and other unidentifiable and unclaimed monies.

AlixPartners stated that as early as 2016, both the CGO and the STO were aware of issues with the fund as it related to financial reporting, and that by 2017, both knew that there was a remaining balance in the fund, at which time the STO began attempting to clear the balance.²⁴ However, the report states that ultimately "no effort was made at that time to determine to whom the resulting liability was owed."²⁵ AlixPartners details attempts to achieve a zero balance, which would have represented an accurate and successful conversion, but notes that "the STO's conversion did not go as intended and Fund 30350993 ultimately accumulated (and still reflects) the $1.8 Billion cash balance."²⁶

AlixPartners made twenty-five recommendations,²⁷ the first of which has already been approved and funded for implementation: the hiring of an independent consultant to assess and oversee compliance with recommendations included in its report.

AlixPartners also noted the need for independence of the OSA, citing an inherent conflict within the state's current structure, under which the State Auditor reports to the Comptroller General and State Treasurer. They also observe that the current annual audit process under which the State Auditor co-signs with an external audit firm is uncommon and recommend both ensuring that the current process is operating as intended and considering changes as needed.

Importantly, AlixPartners notes the lack of cooperation and communication between the CGO and the STO and makes four recommendations specifically to address that dysfunctional relationship.

AlixPartners made further recommendations to improve the functionality and capability of the CGO so that it can better carry out the accounting responsibilities of that office, including requisite resources needed to accomplish that goal.

AlixPartners made a number of recommendations about the compilation of the state's future ACFRs, as well as recommendations on how corrections should be made to prior ACFRs.

Finally, AlixPartners suggests better utilization of SCEIS, the state's current accounting system, to maintain workflow protocols and ensure that both the Treasurer and Comptroller General are using the same methods for configuring entries and tracking cash, so that another error of this sort will not occur again.

Conspicuously, many of these recommendations do not require legislation but do require serious and sincere conversations between our state's banker and our state's accountant to ensure that South Carolinians can trust that their money is safeguarded, invested, and properly accounted for.

Following the release of the report, Chairman Peeler asked AlixPartners present their findings in person to the Full Senate Finance Committee on January 21, 2025.

January 29, 2025 – Constitutional Subcommittee Hearing of the House Ways and Means Committee

On January 29, 2025, the Constitutional Subcommittee of the House Ways & Means Committee heard presentations from the OSA, the CGO, and the STO. Unexpectedly, an important issue surfaced during Treasurer Loftis's testimony.

At that appearance, Treasurer Loftis stated among other things that "we" are displaying a level of bad governance that has never been shown before.²⁸ He further stated that no state has ever in the time of an SEC investigation disclosed it, put it on the front page of the paper, and made allegation after allegation after allegation. Then, he stated that we are the only state in the Union who can't go out for credit, not because of the entry, but because of bad governance. He stated we now have hospitals being built with one-year money, not because of the entry, but because of the resulting display of "bad governance."²⁹ He stated he had to go to the bank this year and borrow $487 million in one-year money so that dormitories and hospitals can be built, one year at a time with no interest rate protection, and not because of the entry, but because of what's happened in the Senate to put out this narrative.³⁰

February 18, 2025 – Constitutional Subcommittee Hearing of the Senate Finance Committee

On February 18, 2025, the Constitutional Subcommittee of the Senate Finance Committee heard from DOA, STO, and CGO at the request of Subcommittee Chairman Grooms. With the exception of the STO, all agencies requested by the Subcommittee to appear at this meeting responded promptly, confirming their availability at the time designated. Initially, leadership from the STO informed staff that Treasurer Loftis would attend the hearing. However, they later indicated that he would be unavailable due to a "long-planned trip" and that six members of his staff would appear in his stead.³¹ Shortly before the Subcommittee hearing, staff became aware through a social media post that the Treasurer's trip involved traveling the Appalachian Trail in a recreational vehicle.

The Director of the DOA provided sworn testimony before the Subcommittee and was asked whether she concurred with the recommendations and findings of the AlixPartners review, as well as the contents of its report. She responded promptly and unequivocally in the affirmative.³² Subcommittee members further inquired about the RFP process used to engage AlixPartners, the firm's findings regarding the $1.8 billion in unresolved discrepancies within Fund 30350993, and implementation of recommendations. Notably, Chairman Grooms posed a question to the Director regarding her expectations for staff accountability, asking whether she would anticipate an employee bringing a matter of similar magnitude to her attention should a hypothetical problem of equivalent caliber arise under her oversight. The Director affirmed that, provided the employee fully understood the significance, implications, and ramifications of the issue, she would expect them to escalate it to her attention.³³

Subsequently, the Chief of Staff for the STO, and one of the Deputy State Treasurers, testified under oath in place of Treasurer Loftis. In contrast to the unequivocal responses provided by Director of the DOA, and later by Acting State Auditor Sue Moss and Comptroller General Gaines, the STO Chief of Staff was unable to provide a definitive and direct statement as to whether the STO agreed with the findings and recommendations of the AlixPartners Review and Report.

When asked by Chairman Grooms whether she agreed with the findings of the AlixPartners Report, the STO Chief of Staff stated that the STO "accepts the report."³⁴

When pressed to clarify the distinction between agreeing with the report and merely accepting it, she responded that the office was "definitely committed to implementing the recommendations."³⁵ In an effort to obtain a more conclusive response, Chairman Grooms reiterated the question. The STO Chief of Staff then stated that the office "believed there could be some clarification"³⁶ regarding the individuals responsible for converting the appropriations that resulted in the balance in Fund 30350993.

MONDAY, APRIL 21, 2025

The STO Chief of Staff asserted that the CGO was responsible for erroneously converting funds assigned to ACFR business areas, an action that the AlixPartners Report found to have contributed to $1.6 billion of the $1.8 billion balance in Fund 30350993.³⁷ When questioned about the source of this information, she stated that it was clarified by AlixPartners.³⁸ However, when asked why this specific information was not documented in the written report by AlixPartners themselves, she was unable to provide a definitive explanation, instead indicating that it had been conveyed to her by AlixPartners during a Microsoft Teams meeting.³⁹ Subcommittee members further inquired whether minutes of this meeting existed or if the meeting had been recorded. The STO Chief of Staff stated that no such documentation or recording was readily available.⁴⁰

Following the Subcommittee hearing, Subcommittee staff contacted AlixPartners to verify the accuracy of the STO Chief of Staff's testimony and to confirm whether the clarification she referenced had been substantiated. In response, AlixPartners provided a written statement, which read:

"While we informed the State Treasurer's Office (STO) during the February 7th call that the Comptroller General's Office (CGO) was involved in certain entries that transferred the $1.6 billion to Fund 30350993, the CGO was not solely responsible. In fact, the usernames attributed to these entries in SCEIS (a system to which both the STO and CGO have access) are not directly associated with any CGO employee. The explanation we provided on February 7th is consistent with our report."⁴¹

This response indicates that while the CGO played a role in the transfer, it was not exclusively responsible, nor was there evidence to support that any employee of the CGO processed the transfers.

The STO Chief of Staff repeatedly testified that there were no audit findings related to the conversion entries or errors specific to Fund 30350993.⁴² However, these statements are demonstrably misleading. As will be evidenced in the subsequent sections of this report, the status of the Cash & Investments conversion was identified as a material weakness⁴³ in the Fiscal Year 2016 Independent Auditors' Report on Internal Control,⁴⁴ and as a significant deficiency in the Fiscal Year 2017 Independent Auditors' Report on Internal Control.⁴⁵ These findings directly contradict the Chief of Staff's assertions and underscore the gravity of the issues associated with Fund 30350993.

The STO Chief of Staff and the Deputy State Treasurer repeatedly asserted that AlixPartners had confirmed the cash and investments of the Treasury were in balance with the banks.⁴⁶ However, this assertion is, at best, delusory. AlixPartners explicitly stated that the unidentified exceptions from the conversion, which are held in Fund 30350993, must be accounted for in order to reconcile the balances with the banks. This issue will be further examined and substantiated in the "Findings" section of this report.

One of the most notable aspects of this Subcommittee hearing was the discussion regarding the STO's engagement of an Upstate-based public relations firm that specializes in Crisis Communication.⁴⁷ The nature and substance of Treasurer Loftis's public statements—both on social media and in the press—regarding the $1.8 billion in unresolved discrepancies within Fund 30350993 prompted Subcommittee staff to investigate whether the STO had retained external public relations services.

During the hearing, the STO Chief of Staff was presented with a collection of invoices from the public relations firm,⁴⁸ totaling $51,221.50 with $47,782.50 dedicated specifically towards “Crisis Communications.” When questioned about the purpose of contracting this firm and whether public funds were used for payment, the Chief of Staff characterized the matter as a “very important issue”⁴⁹ and stated that “it would not be unusual to seek guidance on communication concerning cash position and various other matters.”⁵⁰ When further pressed on whether the firm had provided her with preparation or coaching for the Subcommittee hearing, she responded affirmatively.⁵¹

After the Subcommittee concluded with the testimony and questioning of the two STO staff members, Comptroller General Brian Gaines presented briefly and clarified that the CGO had no role in the erroneous conversion of the ACFR business areas and made no conversion entries.⁵² This testimony is borne out and sustained by written records, making the Comptroller General’s role in the conversion abundantly clear. Due to the extensive length of the STO Chief of Staff’s testimony, and the volume of questions the members had for her, Comptroller General Gaines was invited to return at a later date to complete his testimony.

The Subcommittee also wishes to formally note that the documentation of STO’s meeting with AlixPartners has not been provided to the Subcommittee as of the publication of this report.

MONDAY, APRIL 21, 2025

On February 20, 2025, the Constitutional Subcommittee held another hearing to continue the testimony of Comptroller General Brian Gaines and hear from Acting State Auditor Sue Moss. Initially, the Subcommittee was led to believe that Treasurer Loftis would be present for this meeting, as he had publicly stated to members of the news media that he intended to attend. However, the Subcommittee was later informed that he remained out of town and would not return until the weekend.

Chairman Grooms first inquired whether Acting Auditor Moss concurred with the findings and recommendations outlined in the AlixPartners Report. Acting Auditor Moss unequivocally affirmed her agreement.⁵³

When questioned regarding the OSA's involvement in the AlixPartners review, she stated that the Office had participated in two meetings with AlixPartners.⁵⁴ Additionally, she informed the Subcommittee that the current state contract with CliftonLarsonAllen would conclude following the issuance of this year's Annual Comprehensive Financial Report (ACFR), marking the end of the firm's twenty-year tenure as the state's independent external auditor.⁵⁵

Acting Auditor Moss further recommended revising the selection process for hiring future State Auditors, proposing that appointments be made by the Governor, the Chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, and the Chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee.⁵⁶

Thereafter, Comptroller General Gaines resumed his testimony under oath before the Subcommittee. Before continuing his testimony from the previous hearing, Chairman Grooms inquired whether he concurred with the findings and recommendations of the AlixPartners Report. Comptroller General Gaines also responded unequivocally in the affirmative, expressing full agreement with all findings and recommendations.⁵⁷

Comptroller General Gaines then provided the Subcommittee with educational information regarding the definition of key terms and concepts pertaining to the State's Finances, including particularly the terms "fund," "types of funds," "business area," and "ACFR business area" before responding to specific assertions made in the prior hearing by staff of the STO.⁵⁸

Comptroller General Gaines refuted claims by the STO under oath that the CGO was responsible for the erroneous entries identified in the AlixPartners Report. Instead, he asserted that the STO's conversion team mistakenly included ACFR Business Areas in the state's banking and investment conversion process. He further testified that this misclassification artificially inflated the balance in Fund 30350993, which prevented the expected reconciliation of the Conversion Account. He stated that the proposed resolution of this error, as validated by AlixPartners, involves reversing these conversion entries, which would reduce the balance in Fund 30350993 by $1.6 billion.⁵⁹

Comptroller General Gaines subsequently provided clarification on Treasury staff's assertion that their belief that the balance was fungible and tangible was based in reliance on his letters.

Comptroller General Gaines testified that he believed that the $1.8 billion in Fund 30350993 was part of the General Fund balance, a position shared by the State Auditor and CliftonLarsonAllen. However, further investigation revealed that this balance was linked to negative cash entries in ACFR Business Areas, a fact that was not understood at the time of initial correspondence. Comptroller General Gaines emphasized that the STO, as the state's banking authority, should have independently verified whether the funds were actual cash rather than relying on his Office for this determination.⁶⁰⁶¹

Regarding the STO Chief of Staff's prior testimony that Fund 30350993 was under the direction of the CGO, Comptroller General Gaines clarified that Fund 30350993 is a Treasury Fund under the exclusive control of the Treasury, and that no other agency has the authority to transact within a Treasury Fund.⁶² Notwithstanding, while the CGO indeed has the system access to make adjustments for reporting purposes, it does not engage in making transactions affecting an agency's official books, so that integrity of agency records and separation of duties are maintained.⁶³

Comptroller General Gaines expressed concern over the STO's assertion that "we tie to the bank and not by fund," calling this approach misleading. He emphasized that, like a commercial bank, the Treasury must track individual depositor - or funds - separately to ensure accurate financial reporting and allocation of investment interest.⁶⁴

The sworn testimony of Comptroller General Gaines emphasizes that the erroneous conversion entries were the result of the STO's misclassification of ACFR Business Areas as cash transactions. Additionally, Comptroller General Gaines raised concerns over the STO's approach to cash accounting and its assertions regarding Fund 30350993. Comptroller General Gaines maintains that the STO, as the state's banking authority, bears responsibility for ensuring accurate cash reporting and reconciliation.

Unless you have reason to disagree, the appropriate SCEIS Funds to which these amounts should be moved are part of the General Fund balance. Regardless, consistent with your obligations within the State Fiscal Accountability Authority please make the General Assembly aware of Fund 30350993 and its appropriate treatment.”

Document Received from the STO on February 27, 2025

On the morning of February 27, 2025, Subcommittee staff and members of the legislature were sent a 54-page document entitled Overview of Issues Surrounding SCEIS Fund 30350993 and Other Allegations, with an issuance date marked February 26, 2025. While the Subcommittee had genuine hopes that the document would be explanatory and promote a productive subcommittee hearing, the document is riddled with a myriad of inaccuracies and false statements too numerous to warrant refuting them point-by-point within this report; however, the Subcommittee will discuss points from the document that it finds most egregious. Notably during the meeting, Treasurer Loftis exhibited hesitancy to attest to the accuracy of the document as part of his sworn testimony.

Among the many unfounded declarations contained within this document, the notion that Subcommittee members and staff provided information that was not factual and suppressed documents is among the most patent. The document ineptly asserts that Senator Goldfinch lied during the April 2, 2024,⁶⁵ hearing in which he referenced the inclusion of Federal funds reflected within Fund 30350993, which indisputably includes in General Ledger 1010339900 UC TRUST – FEDERAL an unresolved difference of $533,584,001.21.⁶⁶ At the time of the Treasurer’s testimony on April 2, 2024, Treasurer Loftis had asserted that the funds were tangible and invested.⁶⁷ If that was the case, the unresolved difference in the UC Trust would have been subject to earnings, which potentially would be rebatable to the federal government in accordance with the Cash Management Improvement Act.⁶⁸ Accordingly, Senator Goldfinch properly questioned Treasurer Loftis as to the treatment of the interest of those funds given that Treasurer Loftis himself testified that they were pooled, invested, and had earned $225 million in investment interest. The State Auditor’s letter to Chairman Grooms dated February 24, 2024, further reinforces this concern, as follows: “Accounting for cash assigned to these funds is managed at an agency level. In addition to requirements that cash be used for a specific purpose, there are usually reporting requirements imposed by State or Federal governments or by other granting entities regarding the status of unspent funds.”⁶⁹

In addition, the document inexpertly accuses Senator McElveen of compelling the STO to post sensitive financial information to the world wide web, and further accused staff of splicing a video clip utilized in the February 20, 2025 hearing excluding this directive.⁷⁰ Verily, it was Treasurer Loftis’s document that excluded the dialogue indicating that Senator McElveen was not directing the Treasurer to post information that would leave the State vulnerable to cyber-attacks.^{71&72}

The document also repeatedly attempted to make the argument that there is no indication that the records of the STO are inaccurate.⁷³ The Subcommittee rejects this argument. The very fact that a fund containing $1.8 billion in conversion entry errors is required to balance the state’s banking records back to the bank, refutes the notion that STO’s bank and investment records are accurate.

Accordingly, the existence of $31B of plugged transactions among the bank general ledger accounts strongly disputes this assertion, and the Alix Partners report so states at p. 49 as follows:

“As of 2022, the $1.8 Billion balance is composed of: (1) balances recorded related to 11 bank accounts (with a total balance of $31.0 billion); and (2) the ‘splitter’ balance in Fund 30350993 (with a balance of negative $29.1 billion). We have confirmed that, in each instance, SCEIS cannot be reconciled to the bank statements for those 11 banks without including the cash in Fund 30350993.”⁷⁴

The $31 billion referenced in the AlixPartners Report is the direct result of the failed conversion, which will be discussed subsequently.

The Subcommittee equally rejects the insistence that the STO has no culpability in the inception, formation, and evolution of the $1.8 billion in treasury fund 30350993. As will be covered later in the “Findings” section of this report, Fund 30350993 was established as a clearing fund and is squarely, exclusively utilized by the STO. The Subcommittee concludes the document’s assertion results from either an improper reading of the AlixPartners report, or yet another attempt to misdirect and shift blame.

The AlixPartners report does not state that the CGO incorrectly recorded the balances to Fund 30350993 during Phase 2 of the bank conversion; the report states that “$1.6 billion ... is attributed to balances in certain ACFR-Only business areas that were incorrectly recorded to Fund 30350993 during Phase 2 of the bank conversion.”⁷⁵ The Subcommittee sought clarification from AlixPartners regarding this question following the testimony of the STO Chief of Staff: “While we informed the STO in the February 7th call that the CGO was involved in certain entries that transferred the $1.6 billion to fund 30350993, the CGO was not solely responsible. In fact, the usernames attributed to these entries in SCEIS (to which both the STO and CGO have access) are not directly associated with any CGO employee.”⁷⁶ To be sure, but for two transactions made by staff of the CGO in 2023 testing for resolution of the conversion error (in which the test was not successful), and over 7,600 entries made by consultants assisting with the conversion, 23,342 entries to Fund 30350993 were made solely by staff of the STO.⁷⁷ The STO has proffered no evidence or proof otherwise.

Finally, the Subcommittee denies entirely the pervasive theme through the document as well as Treasurer Loftis’s overarching narrative that the investigation and its associated conduct is dangerous to the State’s interests. The Subcommittee’s position has historically been to exercise oversight publicly, as ignoring the situation or failing to investigate altogether could further harm the State in light of the SEC investigation. Once again, this strikes the Subcommittee as another attempt at obfuscation by the Treasurer.

The document has no salutary purpose to the unresolved issues at hand; neither recommendations on how best to rectify errors, nor resolution of still unsolved conflicts, were presented therein. In the relatively few instances that undistorted facts were presented within the Treasurer's document, they did not present new knowledge or instructive perspective on any events heretofore not known. Instead, the document appears to be yet another attempt at deflection, misdirecting the public away from previous findings and determinations, including those reinforced by AlixPartners included in their January 2025 report.

Reinforcing the seemingly casual relationship of the author(s) with accuracy, the Cover Disclaimer states: "The release of this document and its exhibits shall not constitute or in any way imply a waiver of any legal privilege or confidentiality regarding any materials or communications referenced herein. February 27, 2025 – Constitutional Subcommittee Hearing of the Senate Finance Committee

Initially scheduled for February 25, 2025, the Subcommittee accommodated the STO's request for additional time for preparation and rescheduled the Treasurer's appearance for February 27th. At the meeting, Subcommittee members also revisited with Treasurer Loftis their conclusions regarding the $1.8 billion in unresolved differences in its review of the AlixPartners report.

Treasurer Loftis testified that he accepted the findings of the AlixPartners report and emphasized his resolve to implement its recommendations, stating that he was "committed to being part of the solution."⁷⁹ Nonetheless, he consistently evaded any acknowledgment of responsibility or culpability for the actions that resulted in the $1.8 billion in unresolved discrepancies in Fund 30350993. In response to inquiries from Chairman Grooms and Senator Goldfinch regarding whether he had engaged in any wrongdoing, he responded evasively by challenging them to define the concepts of right and wrong.⁸⁰

Subsequently, Senator Goldfinch inquired whether Treasurer Loftis could affirm that the document he had submitted to the Subcommittee earlier that morning was true and accurate. In response, Treasurer Loftis appeared uncertain, stating that he had never previously sworn to the accuracy of a document.⁸¹ When pressed further, he ultimately affirmed under oath that, to the best of his knowledge, the document was true and accurate, though he acknowledged that he had not personally reviewed its contents.⁸²

Throughout the duration of the Subcommittee hearing, Treasurer Loftis offered contradictory testimony regarding the classification of Fund 30350993, despite the findings of the AlixPartners report, and appeared to lack the requisite command over subject matter that the Subcommittee would deem minimally sufficient. He contended that he had always maintained that the fund in question could not contain actual monetary assets, attributing any apparent misunderstanding of his narrative to the Subcommittee's conflation of the terms "fund" and "account."⁸³ Moreover, under oath, he asserted that his belief in the tangible and fungible nature of Fund 30350993 was solely based in reliance on affirmations by Comptroller General Gaines and former State Auditor Kennedy, a position that directly contradicted his earlier testimony.⁸⁴

During his sworn testimony, Treasurer Loftis provided inconsistent and contradictory definitions of Fund 30350993, at times offering mutually exclusive or factually incorrect descriptions. On one occasion, he asserted that the $1.8 billion existed yet paradoxically claimed that it "didn't exist there."⁸⁵ The AlixPartners report conclusively demonstrated that $1.6 billion of the $1.8 billion cannot logically represent actual funds. Moreover, when attempting to justify his April 2024 statement that the $1.8 billion had generated $225 million in interest, he maintained that Fund 30350993 “was represented in that.”⁸⁶ When questioned about his assertion that he bore no responsibility for Fund 30350993 despite its classification as a Treasury fund, he explained that “it sits in the Treasury because there are some abandoned,⁸⁷ like the Capital Reserve Fund, the Contingency Reserve Fund,” and “Well, it’s a fund attached to our office, but we don’t have budgetary authority over it. So, it’s like any other fund.”⁸⁸ In reality, Fund 30350993 neither possesses designated budgetary assignments nor holds actual cash; it is not abandoned, as it is routinely used to force balance back to the bank statements. Nor is it comparable to the Capital Reserve and Contingency Reserve Funds, as it does not contain actual cash.

Similarly, before responding to most of the Subcommittee’s inquiries, Treasurer Loftis felt compelled to consult with his legal counsel or Chief of Staff, at times reading aloud prepared statements. Phrases such as “I’m trying to figure out how to say this” were frequently interjected throughout his testimony,⁸⁹ further reinforcing the Subcommittee’s impression that he either lacks a comprehensive command of the subject matter or is insufficiently engaged in the core functions of his office. It is noteworthy that complete understanding and transparency should not require extensive deliberation prior to articulation. The Subcommittee noted that Treasurer Loftis appeared to rely on his counsel to cultivate control of his temperament, prompting counsel to pass notes, including one that said simply, in large print: “Calm!”

Subcommittee members also revisited the actions threatened on April 2, 2024, regarding the posting of sensitive financial information of the state, this time directly with the Treasurer himself.

Treasurer Loftis testified under oath that he never intended to publish sensitive financial information electronically, going so far as to categorize the Subcommittee’s line of questioning surrounding this matter as “sophomoric.”⁹⁰ Notwithstanding, Treasurer Loftis’s adamancy and delivery during his April 2024 testimony certainly left an indication he was serious in his threats, leading the Subcommittee to believe that he either lied under oath, or intended to mislead the subcommittee or both. The record is clear on this topic.

Furthermore, Treasurer Loftis sent the Subcommittee a letter advising that he would publish the information electronically after notifying the DOA on April 4, 2024.⁹¹ However, when questioned about the letter during testimony, he suggested that the Subcommittee fabricated the letter and that it was never sent. Instead, he referred to a second letter that was sent that same day, stating that its contents clarified that there was no intention of publishing sensitive financial information and that the Subcommittee didn't want that letter to be produced⁹² Despite testimony to the contrary by Treasurer Loftis and the STO Chief of Staff the week prior, Subcommittee Staff was never in receipt of that letter. Upon further research, it was determined that the second letter was sent twice: once to Chairman Grooms, and then again to the rest of the Subcommittee members one hour and fifty minutes after the letter indicating intent to publish sensitive information was sent, copying members of Treasury staff.⁹³ At the hour the second letter was sent, the Subcommittee was taking steps to seek advice from the DOA and other state officials to prevent Treasurer Loftis from irrevocably damaging the financial interests of the state through a deliberate act of protest, retaliation, and exceptionally poor judgment. In any case, the subject matter of the second letter detailed clarifications Treasurer Loftis wanted to provide the Subcommittee after reviewing his own testimony, and did not unambiguously indicate that posting sensitive information would be in permanent restraint.⁹⁴

In addition, the Subcommittee questioned the Treasurer about his House Subcommittee testimony on January 21, 2025, concerning his decision not to issue long-term debt, and particularly whether or not he had notified the SFAA and JBRC about the decision. The Treasurer testified that the STO attempted to notify SFAA by submitting an agenda item for the February 4, 2025, SFAA meeting, but members declined to have a

Actions Following the February 27, 2025 Meeting Regarding Bond Disclosure

Following the Subcommittee meeting, on February 27, 2025, STO staff provided information for the meeting conducted with SFAA liaisons, and an item draft represented as having been discussed at liaison agenda review.⁹⁶ Thereafter, on February 28, 2025, STO staff clarified that the item draft represented as having been discussed at liaison agenda review was still an internal draft and had not been provided to SFAA, or SFAA members or liaisons.⁹⁷

By letter dated March 3, 2025,⁹⁸ the Treasurer informed the Senate Subcommittee among other things that he had requested there be an agenda item added to the February 2025 SFAA meeting to receive legal advice from the state's disclosure counsel; that the draft agenda included the item; and that against the request of his office, the item was not included on the final agenda. He further stated that the STO arranged the January 29, 2025 meeting whereby the SFAA liaisons and attorneys could discuss this matter with the state's disclosure counsel.

The letter also states that two short-term financings were undertaken last year, one of which was issued in May 2024, and the other of which cannot be determined since the Treasurer's letter did not include the details of that transaction.⁹⁹

In the immediate days after the issuance of the AlixPartners report, the Senate Finance Committee drafted legislation to compel action on the AlixPartners Report and on January 21, 2025, introduced S. 253.¹⁰⁰ This Joint Resolution directs funding to the DOA for the purpose of hiring an independent compliance consultant to assess and oversee compliance with recommendations in the AlixPartners forensic accounting report and with recommendations in other relevant studies completed in Fiscal Years 2023-2024 and 2024-2025. The Joint Resolution requires the STO, the CGO, and the OSA to immediately begin implementation of the report's recommendations that do not require statutory changes in coordination with and oversight of the DOA. The STO, the CGO, and the OSA are further required to provide monthly reports on the status of implementation to the Governor, the President of the Senate, the Chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, the Speaker of the House of Representatives, and the Chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee.

The Subcommittee agrees with the Report's Recommendations and believes this is a significant step to ensure compliance via the engagement of an independent compliance monitor to guide the work. It is also the belief and hope of the Subcommittee members that this step demonstrates a commitment to setting our state's financial records right.

Letter Provided to Subcommittee on March 10, 2025

Treasurer Loftis submitted formal written clarification regarding his sworn testimony from over a week prior, as well as matters related to SCEIS Fund 30350993.¹⁰¹ He asserted that any inconsistencies between his testimony and the STO document, submitted to the Subcommittee on February 27, 2025, should be reconciled in favor of the document itself, which he characterized as evidence-based and reflective of the STO's full comprehension of the issue.

Treasurer Loftis reaffirmed the testimony provided by both himself and his Chief of Staff before the Subcommittee regarding the responsibility for the erroneous conversion and recording of ACFR business areas into SCEIS Fund 30350993. He reiterated that his statements concerning the fungibility of the $1.8 billion balance within the fund were made in good faith, based on information conveyed to him by other officials. Furthermore, he expressed concern that his explanations were not duly considered by certain members of the Subcommittee, characterizing their reception as having fallen on “deaf ears.”

While the Subcommittee acknowledges and appreciates the correspondence submitted by Treasurer Loftis, the contents therein fail to substantiate any material deviation from the Subcommittee’s existing understanding of the matter—an understanding firmly grounded in documentary evidence and verifiable facts.

The letter concluded with responses to inquiries posed by Senators during the February 18 and February 27 hearings, addressing a range of topics, including Treasurer Loftis’s participation in work group meetings,¹⁰² AlixPartners meetings,¹⁰³ allocations for the salaries of STO staff,^{104&105} and matters pertaining to the utilization of the SCEIS Oversight Committee.¹⁰⁶ Additionally, the correspondence included a compilation of letters, notably the second clarifying letter issued by the State Treasurer less than two hours after his initial communication, in which he alluded to the potential disclosure of sensitive financial information. The Subcommittee has previously addressed this matter within the body of this report.

Letter Provided to Subcommittee on March 11, 2025

The Subcommittee received correspondence from the STO Chief of Staff serving as a follow-up to her testimony delivered on February 18, 2025.¹⁰⁷ In her letter, the Chief of Staff emphasized that in any instance where her testimony may have diverged from the STO’s official report submitted on February 27, 2025, the Subcommittee should defer to the contents of that document as the authoritative account.

Furthermore, she provided clarification regarding statements she made about the responsibility for the erroneous conversion of the ACFR business areas within SCEIS. She confirmed that AlixPartners orally conveyed to her during a meeting on February 7, 2025, that the CGO bore sole responsibility for this misclassification. Additionally, the STO Chief of Staff specified that the language she referenced during her testimony was sourced directly from page 10 of the AlixPartners Report.

The Subcommittee acknowledges and appreciates the correspondence submitted by the STO Chief of Staff. However, the information provided does not present any substantive divergence from the Subcommittee's established understanding of the matter, which remains firmly anchored in documented evidence and independently verifiable facts.

March 11, 2025 – Constitutional Subcommittee Hearing of the Senate Finance Committee

In response to prior testimony and documentation provided by the STO regarding issues surrounding bond issuance and its critiques of the AlixPartners Report, the Constitutional Subcommittee convened an additional hearing to provide the State Fiscal Accountability Authority (SFAA) and representatives from AlixPartners an opportunity to present their responses and address the concerns raised.

The Subcommittee requested information from SFAA's Executive Director about the agency's involvement in the state's bond issuance process. As discussed elsewhere in this report, Treasurer Loftis made a public statement in his House Ways and Means budget presentation that he was currently unable to issue general obligation bonds.¹⁰⁸ Just a few weeks prior to this public declaration, the STO had alerted SFAA that he wanted to add an executive session item to the February 4, 2025, meeting agenda: Update by Disclosure Counsel. The SFAA Director noted that while it is not uncommon for SFAA members to request additions to the agenda, this particular request was not accompanied by details of information typically provided to the Authority in support of agenda items.^{109&110} This vagueness made it difficult for SFAA member liaisons to determine its appropriateness for addition and further, to determine the advisability of an executive session discussion. The STO explained that they were waiting for the AlixPartners report to be issued on January 15, 2025, to provide additional information.¹¹¹ Ultimately, on January 29, 2025, the five SFAA liaisons and their counsels met with the state's disclosure counsel. Thereafter a majority decided against including the item on the agenda.¹¹² The Subcommittee noted in further discussion the ostensible concern about the use of executive session outside of permitted purposes given the timing of the request,¹¹³ and the fact that the preceding public conversation had been about the impact of the SEC investigation on the state's ability to issue general obligation bonds, Treasurer Loftis's decision to issue bond anticipation notes, and whether required disclosures and notifications were made.

Next to appear before the Subcommittee were a Managing Director and a Director of Investigations, of AlixPartners, who provided testimony in response to the statements made by the STO Chief of Staff, on February 18, 2025, as well as the testimony delivered by Treasurer Loftis on February 27, 2025, and the document submitted to the Subcommittee by Treasurer Loftis on the morning of February 27, 2025.

Chairman Grooms commenced the discussion by requesting the representatives from AlixPartners to affirm whether the STO Chief of Staff and Treasurer Loftis accurately characterized the erroneous ACFR Business area conversion entries as solely the fault and responsibility of the CGO, and whether AlixPartners had explicitly confirmed that assertion.¹¹⁴

¹⁰⁹ Exhibit 36. The Subcommittee initially received a detailed version of the agenda item from the STO, but a subsequent email stated that no one had seen or been provided the detailed description, and the placeholder page should be substituted as documentation of the agenda item request.

MONDAY, APRIL 21, 2025

The Director clarified that the that the CGO properly makes non-cash accounting adjustments within ACFR business areas in preparation of the ACFR, which in and of themselves were not an issue.¹¹⁵ The issue arose as a consequence of transferring these non-cash accounting balances as cash to Treasury Fund 30350993 during the conversion of the legacy STARS system to SCEIS. AlixPartners found that $1.6 billion of the $1.8 billion was an unintended consequence of these transfers.¹¹⁶ AlixPartners further clarified that the transfers were not directly attributable to any employee of the CGO; rather, four users were associated with the transfer entries, two of which were STO employees, one of which was an employee of SCEIS assigned to the STO to assist with the conversion, and one of which was a system-assisted batch entry.¹¹⁷ The Director further clarified that although the entries were made by STO employees, they found evidence of CGO team members having at least an awareness of these entries and involved in some of the decision-making.¹¹⁸

To the question of whether or not they had informed the STO Chief of Staff during a Microsoft Teams meeting on February 7, 2025, that the CGO bore sole responsibility for the inaccurate conversion of ACFR business funds, the AlixPartners representatives unequivocally denied making such a statement.¹¹⁹

Chairman Grooms, upon reviewing the information presented, inquired of the representatives from AlixPartners whether the STO would have been capable of identifying an error of such magnitude. The representatives acknowledged the complexity of the question, stating that it would be difficult to assert with certainty whether the STO could have detected such an error.¹²⁰ However, they emphasized that Fund 30350993 was exclusively a treasury-managed fund, directly associated with the STO.¹²¹

At that point, Chairman Grooms sought clarification on whether employees of the CGO had made entries into the fund, ultimately contributing to the $1.6 billion in erroneous postings from various ACFR business areas. In response, the AlixPartners representative affirmed that the conversion entries had been made by the STO or others on its behalf, a finding that aligned with the subcommittee's investigative research.¹²²

The Director further underscored that these financial entries had been recorded with the consultation and involvement of the CGO, with the expectation that the fund would reconcile to a zero balance upon the conclusion of the conversion process.¹²³ He concluded that individuals in key positions within both offices were aware that a significant issue existed. However, despite this recognition, there was no clear understanding of the nature of the error, nor was there an ability to identify which specific entries had been erroneous.¹²⁴

Senator Goldfinch inquired whether any concerns had been raised regarding the conversion of cash and investments around 2017.¹²⁵ The representatives from AlixPartners stated that, at that time, auditors informed the STO that they could not approve that year's ACFR until cash and investments were fully reconciled.¹²⁶ They further indicated that this led to the decision to record the unconverted amounts—ultimately contributing to the $1.8 billion discrepancy in Fund 30350993—as a liability, allowing the ACFR to be finalized.¹²⁷

On question of Treasurer Loftis's assertion that the State Treasurer has reconciled balances in SCEIS to the bank, and that all cash and investments have been properly managed and accounted for, AlixPartners responded in substance that while portions of this statement were outside the scope of its engagement, they would take exception to the statement that cash was properly managed and accounted for, observing that had cash been properly accounted for, "we would not be here."¹²⁸ The Director stated that the AlixPartners Report found that the failure to investigate or understand the $1.8 billion represented a shortcoming in accounting for the Treasury funds.¹²⁹ The AlixPartners Report recommends that Treasurer Loftis should report at the account and fund level; and that lack of granularity was a part of the problem.¹³⁰

Senator Sabb then questioned whether the General Assembly should have been notified of these issues.¹³¹ AlixPartners explained that their review suggested those involved in the conversion process believed they were resolving the problem and may not have fully understood the nature of the error.¹³² Senator Sabb, citing Treasurer Loftis's recent evolving narrative over the funds fungibility, asserted that the General Assembly should have been informed of the outcome of the conversion. The Director acknowledged the concern but stated he could not definitively testify to the reasoning or understanding of the employees managing the conversion at that time.

Subsequently, Senator Matthews revisited a topic previously discussed during AlixPartners' January 2025 presentation regarding Treasurer Loftis's participation in their meetings. The Director stated that Treasurer Loftis attended three of the eight meetings but could not recall that Treasurer Loftis had a speaking role.¹³³ Senator Matthews then questioned whether AlixPartners could assess Treasurer Loftis's level of involvement in his office's operations. The Director indicated that while Treasurer Loftis appeared to have a general understanding, his level of familiarity with SCEIS remained uncertain.¹³⁴ She further inquired whether Treasurer Loftis had acknowledged any responsibility for the issue. The Director confirmed that, during the final report discussion, Treasurer Loftis expressed a sense of shared responsibility for the $1.8 billion,¹³⁵ directly contradicting his testimony on February 27, 2025, the sworn document he submitted to the Subcommittee that morning, and the testimony of his Chief of Staff on February 18, 2025. Senator Matthews closed this particular line of questioning by seeking clarification on the extent to which Comptroller General Gaines participated in the meetings relative to that of Treasurer Loftis, to which the AlixPartners observed that Comptroller General Gaines was an active participant.

Later in the hearing, Senator Rice inquired whether any documentation existed to confirm that Treasurer Loftis was aware of the error and the corresponding entries made.¹³⁶ In response, the Director stated that no such documentation had been identified but emphasized that “the conversion process was really owned by the Treasurer’s Office,” with the Treasurer exercising oversight.¹³⁷ This statement stands in contrast to Treasurer Loftis’s and his staff’s repeated assertions that responsibility for the conversion rested with the CGO.¹³⁸ AlixPartners’ response aligns with staff research, the findings of which will be further detailed in the subsequent section of this report.

Thereafter, Senator Matthews questioned AlixPartners regarding a specific statement from the document submitted by the STO to the subcommittee on February 27, 2025. The statement asserted that the AlixPartners Report confirmed: “There is no mystery bank account with $1.8 billion, there is no missing or misspent money, and all cash and investments have been properly managed and accounted for by the State Treasurer’s Office.”¹³⁹ The Director refuted this characterization, stating that it was inaccurate for two reasons: first, AlixPartners was not tasked with assessing the management of STO funds;¹⁴⁰ and second, a balance remained in a fund that should have a balance of zero.¹⁴¹ Given this, the Director testified that it was evident not all Treasury funds had been properly accounted for and managed by the STO.¹⁴²

Throughout the hearing, Subcommittee members asked a number of questions to promote clarity and understanding, referencing testimony from the Chief of Staff, the Deputy State Treasurer and Treasurer Loftis himself, who all asserted that all cash and investments were correctly accounted for and reconciled to the bank. In response, AlixPartners representatives consistently emphasized that, while they were not tasked with evaluating fund management, they concluded that Treasury funds were not fully accounted for.

One representative elaborated, noting that the Treasury reconciles by accounts rather than by funds. This led to further questioning, during which AlixPartners confirmed that had the Treasury been fully reconciling cash and investments at the fund level, the discrepancies likely would have been identified much earlier with greater transparency.¹⁴³

During the meeting, the representatives of AlixPartners were asked which single misstatement, whether in testimony provided by the STO or in the documents sent on February 27, 2025, they would correct if given the opportunity.

The Managing Director cited the testimony of both the STO Chief of Staff and Treasurer Loftis, which asserted that only one of AlixPartners' recommendations pertained to the Treasury, while twenty-five were directed at the Comptroller General. The Managing Director emphasized that in this context, "quality" should not be overshadowed by "quantity," noting that had the STO been able to properly reconcile by fund, as outlined in AlixPartners' second recommendation, the $1.8 billion in unresolved discrepancies likely would not have been remained unresolved for seven years.¹⁴⁴ The Director referenced Treasurer Loftis's testimony in which he claimed that his agency had passed the forensic accounting review "with flying colors." He countered this assertion, stating that AlixPartners believed the Treasury should have accounted for cash differently and conducted a more thorough investigation at the time to ascertain what exactly the issue was.¹⁴⁵ Consequently, he asserted that it was inaccurate to suggest the Treasury had passed its review "with flying colors."¹⁴⁶

Senator Grooms stated his appreciation for AlixPartners clarification, and indicated a key component of the report will be based on AlixPartners's findings. He asked the representatives from AlixPartners if there was anything else they believed the subcommittee ought to know.

The Managing Director stated there is one point of clarification with regard to the Treasurer's Document dated February 26, 2025, on page 22, where there is a statement that the CGO refused to allow AlixPartners to review its cross-walk, referencing the AlixPartners Report.¹⁴⁷ That reference related to the CGO adjustments column, and she wanted to clarify that AlixPartners had access to the crosswalks for 2022 and 2023, reflecting adjustments AlixPartners had difficulty understanding in those years. AlixPartners asked whether or not they should review later years, and the CGO indicated that it would not be any different. It is not as if it was not made available by the CGO – AlixPartners had it, but because the result would not have been different, AlixPartners declined to review that piece.¹⁴⁸

The Director stated that on page 19 of the same STO Document, there is a block quote that says the AlixPartners Report states that the CGO's entry was incorrect, there is a troubling observation regarding the Comptroller General's credibility, and a statement made by the STO that this might have been an attempt by the CGO to deceive AlixPartners.¹⁴⁹ The Director stated that the document to which this reference is made was found by AlixPartners on its own and was not provided by the CGO, and AlixPartners does not believe it was intended to deceive them in any way.¹⁵⁰ AlixPartners noted on its report that it raised certain questions, which they looked at and evaluated considering other contemporaneous documents at the time. The document referenced concerned the $324 million entry processed in 2018.¹⁵¹ The document was authored by a CGO employee, and found in the CGO's shared folders.¹⁵² In a follow-up question, the Director confirmed that AlixPartners did not believe that the CGO was trying to deceive them.¹⁵³

Senator Goldfinch asked if the Treasurer's document was an effort to obfuscate or shift blame.¹⁵⁴ The Director responded that he did not know that AlixPartners had a view like that, but observed that certainly there are factual inaccuracies that AlixPartners wanted to ensure had been corrected.¹⁵⁵ On further question by Senator Goldfinch, the Director confirmed that the two corrections he made were among others that were not factually accurate.¹⁵⁶ Senator Goldfinch again asked whether or not the Treasurer's document attempted to shift blame to the Comptroller General, to which the Director responded that it would appear that way.¹⁵⁷

The Subcommittee offers its highest commendation to AlixPartners for their invaluable work. Without their efforts, the $1.8 billion discrepancy might have remained unresolved indefinitely, as obtaining accurate information from the STO and fostering cooperation between them and the CGO proved exceedingly difficult.

Regrettably, the necessity of hearing testimony from AlixPartners again arose due to the confusing and opaque information provided by the STO. As Treasurer Loftis himself acknowledged in his testimony on February 27, 2025, $3 million was expended to uncover the truth—an expenditure that, as this Subcommittee has demonstrated, was necessitated primarily by either his lack of transparency or his disengagement from the operations of his own office. Moreover, even after the release of the report, when given the opportunity to cooperate with the Subcommittee, amend his prior conduct, and demonstrate transparency, Treasurer Loftis instead pursued further obfuscation and deflection of his responsibility.

Letters Received from Treasurer Loftis on March 14, 2025

On March 14, 2025, the Constitutional Subcommittee received two additional letters from the STO. The first, which was provided as a carbon copy, requested President Thomas Alexander and Finance Chairman Harvey Peeler to intervene in what was described as an improper and biased investigation by the Senate Finance Constitutional Subcommittee.¹⁵⁸ The letter goes on at some length in an attempt to demonstrate that the Subcommittee has overstepped its authority, disregarded proper procedures, and made false accusations about Treasurer Loftis, including that he had misappropriated state funds.¹⁵⁹ In brief, the Subcommittee urges his further review of the S.C. Code, particularly Section 2-2-40(B), and Section 2-2-70, as well as the documents presented as exhibits with this report for a better understanding of the authority and process guidelines for the investigation, as well as evidence precipitating findings. As to the misappropriation of funds, the Subcommittee concedes that the largely inscrutable state of the STO budget precludes full awareness of the use of funds under his control. Treasurer Loftis took issue with the level of transparency of the process despite the numerous public hearings held in open-door session, and despite the inherent contradiction in a publicly elected state officer's objection to public questioning about the work of his public office. He urged the Senate to review the Subcommittee's actions and prevent "further damage."¹⁶⁰ Of note, the letter does not refute any written factual findings the Subcommittee has made thus far.

The second letter was a response to testimony provided by the AlixPartners representatives on March 11, 2025.¹⁶¹ Treasurer Loftis disputed aspects of their report, again arguing that the CGO played a direct role in directing erroneous accounting entries¹⁶² and that a March 2024 CGO memo falsely attributes a $324 million transfer request to his office, an assertion that until now had not been heard by the Subcommittee, and one whose import remains a mystery Treasurer Loftis maintained that his disagreements with AlixPartners are interpretive rather than factual and reiterates the Treasury's commitment to transparency in resolving the issue.

¹⁶² Neither the Subcommittee nor AlixPartners dispute this fact. While the CGO did provide guidance to the STO on resolving the $1.8 billion, they were not responsible for the erroneous conversion of ACFR business areas. Evidence from AlixPartners and the Subcommittee's research confirms that it was the STO that mistakenly converted the $1.6 billion from ACFR business areas.

It is the belief of the Subcommittee that these letters constitute a last-minute effort by Treasurer Loftis to deflect accountability as the weight of evidence becomes insurmountable. The Subcommittee has, throughout the investigation, remained committed to its objective review of the facts and in this final phase will not be diverted by the need to systematically address each unfounded claim. However, the forthcoming findings will clearly demonstrate the lack of credibility in these assertions.

VIII. Findings Based on Subcommittee Investigation & Hearings

The following section provides a summary of Subcommittee findings regarding the $1.8 billion in unresolved discrepancies in Fund 30350993 in light of the AlixPartners Review and Report, as well as information gleaned by the Subcommittee through hearings and further investigation. Associated exhibits and points of clarification are annotated in the form of footnotes.

Treasurer Loftis's Evolving Narrative of the 1.8B

Prior to exposition of the most recent findings by the Subcommittee, it is important to consider Treasurer Loftis's evolving narrative of the $1.8 billion in unresolved discrepancies in Fund 30350993.

From the inception of this investigation until the release of the AlixPartners report, Treasurer Loftis remained steadfast in asserting that the balance of Fund 30350993 represented real cash that had been pooled, invested, and yielded $225M in earnings. In exchanges with Senator Mike Fanning, Senator Thomas McElveen, and Senator Stephen Goldfinch during his April 2024 testimony, Treasurer Loftis adamantly and unequivocally maintained this posture.¹⁶³ Prior to his April 2024 testimony, Treasurer Loftis was featured in radio and television interviews affirming the same, his narrative only varying with respect to the amount earned in investments.¹⁶⁴ On January 17, 2025, one day after the AlixPartners report was released, Treasurer Loftis detailed in a video ¹⁶³ Clips 7, 8, 10, 12, 16.

¹⁶⁴ Exhibit 9.

MONDAY, APRIL 21, 2025

sent to members of the legislature and posted to his social media page that the AlixPartners report validated what he and his office “knew all along.”¹⁶⁵

Bewildered, during the meeting at which Treasurer Loftis testified on February 27, 2025, the Subcommittee sought clarification on the stark shift in his narrative. Regrettably, no such clarity was forthcoming. Treasurer Loftis contended that the Subcommittee had conflated the terms “accounts” and “funds,”¹⁶⁶ asserting that the latter merely serves as an accounting representation of tangible cash. He maintained that his intention was only to convey that the fund in question, at a specific point in time, contained actual monetary assets. The Subcommittee cannot accept this elucidation as it fails to illustrate a cohesive, consistent, or otherwise comprehensible set of facts, and is entirely juxtaposed with his April 2024 testimony.

Chairman Grooms revisited this issue later in the subcommittee hearing, pressing Treasurer Loftis on whether he had believed the balance in Fund 30350993 was real when he testified in 2024. In response, Treasurer Loftis affirmed that he had, basing his belief on information provided by “every source in state government.”¹⁶⁷ Seeking to crystallize Treasurer Loftis’s shifting narrative for the record, Chairman Grooms asked him to unequivocally confirm that the balance of Fund 30350993 represented actual cash. Initially, Treasurer Loftis affirmed this assertion but immediately wavered, stating: “I did believe [that it was real money], well, it represents real money. It’s a fund that represents real money that shows up in the banks’ accounts.”¹⁶⁸ When further pressed to define and reinforce his testimony regarding the tangibility and fungibility of the $1.8 billion, Treasurer Loftis clarified that he was distinguishing between money held in a bank and money recorded within a fund.

Conversion Process of the State Treasury

Throughout this investigation the STO has not taken any level of responsibility for their portion of the conversion from STARS to SCEIS, testifying that the Comptroller General not only made the unilateral decision for the conversion, but also was in charge and responsible for its entirety. Evidence gleaned by the Subcommittee during investigation suggests otherwise.

Over time and with growing intensity recently following publication of the AlixPartners Report, Treasurer Loftis has repeated these erroneous statements: that the CGO was responsible for the conversion errors, that the STO has no responsibility nor interest in balances maintained at the fund level, and that the conversion itself originated as a statutory responsibility of the CGO. Each of these claims is false.

Conversion to SCEIS treasury management from the STO's legacy systems was not within the original statutory mandate for the state's adoption of SCEIS, nor has such a mandate been issued by the General Assembly at any point since. The original functions covered by the mandate were statewide accounting, human resources and payroll, and procurement. The recommendation to implement treasury and investment accounting formally emerged from the Treasurer's Transition Team Report published in February 2011,¹⁶⁹ stating that his transition team's Technology Subcommittee reviewed and made appropriate recommendations regarding the need to upgrade, acquire, and retire any stand-alone Information Technology systems in the STO to achieve economies, efficiencies, savings, and increased productivity.¹⁷⁰ Members ascertained the STO's progress in implementing SCEIS, the State's enterprise system, and considered the benefits and merits of the State implementing modules of the State's new enterprise information system beyond the accounting, HR, and payroll, and procurement modules initially being implemented statewide.¹⁷¹ In addition to SCEIS, other STO systems (approximately 14) include debt management, investment, and cash management. The sheer number of STO systems is difficult to manage and many of the systems have been in existence for a number of years and often do not integrate with SCEIS. The integration of these systems to SCIES should be examined.¹⁷²

On or about July 18, 2014, the STO published a project charter to replace the investment management system (NVEST).¹⁷³ Executive sponsors were reflected as Treasurer Loftis, his chief of staff, and one of his deputy State Treasurers. Six employees reflected in the document were STO employees; one employee was an employee of SCEIS, and two employees were employees of the State Office of Chief Information Officer. Project goals were to replace the Investment Management System (IMS); to reduce and eliminate manual and redundant processes; to automate the transmission of files to and from business partners; to improve availability of management reports; to provide a secure operating environment that protects the privacy and confidentiality of all banking and investment data; and to identify cost reductions and cost savings through the elimination of duplicate systems, functions, contracts, manual processes, printing of reports, etc.¹⁷⁴

On or about August 5, 2014, the STO published a project charter to transition general deposit bank accounts to SCEIS.¹⁷⁵ Executive sponsors were reflected as Treasurer Loftis, his Chief of Staff, and one of his deputy State Treasurers. With the exception of one employee of SCEIS, all of the remaining employees reflected on the document were employees of the STO. The project goals were to replace the bank reconciliation processes in FMS¹⁷⁶ with similar, more robust and automated functionality in SCEIS; to replace the ‘check funding’ process in FMS with the similar, automated functionality in SCEIS; to automate files exchanges and reconciliation processes with banks where transaction volume is of significant size; to improve access to and the availability of reports to manage banking activities; to provide a secure operating environment that protects the privacy and confidentiality of all banking data; and to identify cost reductions and cost savings through the elimination of duplicate systems, functions, manual processes, printing of reports, etc.¹⁷⁷

These documents confirm that the conversions of investments and banking to SCEIS were initiated and sponsored by the STO, and not the Comptroller General nor by statutory mandate, as Treasurer Loftis and his staff have asserted. No employees of the CGO or the OSA were listed in any role in these documents.

MONDAY, APRIL 21, 2025

As has been previously determined, conversions pursuant to these projects ensued principally in the years 2015 and 2016. Extensive research reveals no participation, including preparation of entries, by the CGO or the OSA during the conversions. Rather, the engagement and participation of the CGO and OSA arose following conversion, principally in connection with corrective actions necessary for preparation of the ACFR following the failed conversion. This research confirms that the conversion was executed not by the CGO, nor by statutory mandate, but by the STO.

In addition to the foregoing, Proviso 98.2¹⁷⁸ included in the FY2024-25 Appropriations Act, as continued for many fiscal years in the past, provides that decisions relating to STARS and SCEIS which involve the State Treasurer's Banking Operations and other functions of the STO shall require the approval of the State Treasurer.¹⁷⁹

As a result, all of Treasurer Loftis's continued assertions that anyone other than his Office selected, implemented or otherwise effected, provided oversight, or had any other responsibility, to or for the conversion and ongoing maintenance of the State's investment and banking systems and records, are refuted.

Failed Conversion of the State Treasury

Fund 30350993, along with the $31 billion in account variances¹⁸⁰ it encompasses, stands as clear evidence of a failed Treasury conversion. During the April 2024 subcommittee hearing, Treasurer Loftis strongly objected to the Subcommittee's Exhibit 10,¹⁸¹ which outlined a SCEIS-based report on Fund 30350993 with the inclusion of its associated variances. However, both the February 27, 2025, STO Document and ¹⁷⁸ Exhibit 48 – Proviso 98.2 of the Fiscal Year 2025 Appropriations Act. It is noteworthy to mention that the exact language of this proviso has appeared in every Appropriations Act since FY2013.

¹⁷⁹ Exhibit 48.

¹⁸⁰ For context, the Treasurer's Office used Fund 30350993 to plug in any differences between the General Ledger in SCEIS and the bank statements, believing that it would all clear out to a zero sum upon completion of the conversion.

¹⁸¹ Exhibit 49 - Selected Accounts Variation Report Fund 30350993 (Referenced as Exhibit 7 in Interim Report).

MONDAY, APRIL 21, 2025

Treasurer Loftis's testimony during the April 2024 hearing indicate that he interpreted the SCEIS based report as stating that Fund 30350993 held a balance of $31 billion—an assertion that does not align with the actual contents of the report.

The Subcommittee illustrated the extent of the transactions totaling $31B in fund 30350993 to force agreement between the SCEIS General Ledger and the bank statements that resulted from Treasurer Loftis's failed conversion. The AlixPartners report confirms and describes these differences on page 49, as follows:

“As of 2022, the $1.8 Billion balance is composed of: (1) balances recorded related to 11 bank accounts (with a total balance of $31.0 billion); and (2) the ‘splitter’ balance in Fund 30350993 (with a balance of negative $29.1 billion). We have confirmed that, in each instance, SCEIS cannot be reconciled to the bank statements for those 11 banks without including the cash in Fund 30350993.”¹⁸²

Moreover, in his letter dated February 20, 2024, to Chairman Grooms, then-State Auditor George Kennedy made the following observations:

“Fund 30350993 was created primarily to record cash transfers between banks. That remains its primary purpose today. However, the fund was also used to convert bank and agency cash balances as the legacy STARS system was converted to SCEIS. At the close of fiscal year 2017, fund 30350993 carried a balance of approximately $1.5 billion, representing STARS to SCEIS conversion activity. That amount grew to approximately $1.8 billion in subsequent years as the conversion was completed. While the $1.8 billion cannot be assigned to a specific agency or fund, the State's pool of cash does not reconcile to the SCEIS general ledger without its inclusion. Accounting for cash assigned to these funds is managed at an agency level. In addition to requirements that cash be used for a specific purpose, there are usually reporting requirements imposed by State or Federal governments or by other granting entities regarding the status of unspent funds. The accounts composing the $1.8 billion remain in fund 30350993 and that fund remains unbalanced. While this is unusual, its placement there serves to segregate the accounts composing the balance until an adjusting journal entry can be recorded in SCEIS to reclassify (reallocate) the balances. The journal

¹⁸² Exhibit 19.

entry should eliminate the balance of fund 30350993 and clearly establish underlying ownership of cash within the General Fund.”¹⁸³

Accordingly, both the AlixPartners report and the State Auditor’s letter confirm the findings of the Subcommittee that Fund 30350993 represents unresolved differences that arose in connection with the conversion.

As a result, all of the Treasurer’s continued assertions that his books are accurate and reconcile to the bank are refuted.

Balance of Fund 30350993 Ignored, Mischaracterized and Attributable to Office of the State Treasurer

The AlixPartners review determined that the $1.8B exception arose out of the conversion from the legacy accounting system, STARS, to SCEIS. While the state started the transition in 2007, the State Treasury conducted its bank conversion from 2015 to 2017. During this time, four cash accounts in STARS were replaced by specific general ledger accounts designed to reconcile individually to bank accounts held in the state’s custody. The STO intended to bring this into effect in two phases; Phase One transferred legacy cash transactions in SCEIS linked to specific bank accounts, with any unreconciled differences recorded in Fund 30350993. Any remaining differences were resolved through an adjusting entry in Fund 30350993 with an offset in equal amount to the Conversion Account also within 30350993. Phase 2 intended to clear STARS cash transactions in SCEIS that were not successfully linked to a specific bank account against adjustments recorded to Fund 30350993. Per the AlixPartners Investigation, mistakes made in both phases of the conversion contributed to the remaining balance of $1.8B in Fund 30350993.¹⁸⁴

During the conversion, an unconverted agency contributed $234,465,654 to the balance, with a remaining de minimus unidentified balance.¹⁸⁵ While the investigation determined that this was the only portion of the $1.8B that ever represented real cash, it is not cash that can be appropriated and spent; it represents cash that has already been appropriated and expended, but the agency of ownership was lost during

¹⁸⁴ Exhibit 19.

¹⁸⁵ Ibid, pg. 44.

MONDAY, APRIL 21, 2025

the conversion. The remaining $1.6B was never tangible cash at all, but rather ACFR business areas erroneously converted by the State Treasurer's Office and classified as cash that needed to be converted and reconciled appropriately.

To effect resolution of the fund, AlixPartners recommended that the entries comprising the $1.6B in erroneously converted ACFR business activity be reversed, while the $245M attributable to an unidentified agency and in unclaimed cash be recorded to the General Fund in the state's ACFR.

Despite Treasurer Loftis's repeated assertions to the contrary, he and his office bear a significantly higher share of responsibility for the errors that were the origin of the $1.8 billion conversion issue. Treasurer Loftis and his Chief of Staff have steadfastly maintained that the CGO bears sole responsibility for Treasury Fund 30350993 and the erroneous conversions associated therein; however, this claim is demonstrably false. While it is evident that both the CGO and STO collaborated in booking the remaining conversion and corrective entries,¹⁸⁶ it was ultimately the STO that made the determination to improperly classify financial transactions within ACFR business areas as cash to be converted, subsequently recording them in Fund 30350993.¹⁸⁷ The Subcommittee acknowledges that transitioning from a legacy accounting system to a new financial framework is an inherently complex undertaking, one that inevitably presents challenges requiring thorough evaluation and corrective measures. What the Subcommittee cannot sustain is the apodictic failure of the STO to recognize, acknowledge, and report the conversion error over its eight years of existence to the General Assembly.

In summation, the Subcommittee attributes the Treasury's inaccurate financial records to a failed conversion process. The Treasurer's books remain erroneous to this day, and his continued assertions to the contrary significantly diminish the likelihood of resolution and corrective action. As a result, billions of dollars in conversion discrepancies persist, underscoring the urgent need for accountability and remediation.

¹⁸⁶ Exhibit 50 – Email 27.

¹⁸⁷ As substantiated by identities of the SCEIS users that processed the conversion entries. The Subcommittee has received verification of the identities of these users from two separate sources [AlixPartners corroborated in testimony during the Subcommittee meeting on March 11, 2025, that the one entry made by the CGO to Fund 30350993 in 2023 was an attempt to clear the $1.8B balance, which did not produce the expected results, and was immediately reversed].

Regarding Treasurer Loftis's Awareness of Treasury Conversion Issues

The Subcommittee has found evidence supporting the implausibility that Treasurer Loftis did not know about the problems pervading the conversion of the Treasury or of the $1.8 billion in unresolved discrepancies itself.

In early 2017, the State Auditor in his Fiscal Year 2016 Independent Auditors' Report on Internal Control Over Financial Reporting and on Compliance and Other Matters reported as a material weakness to the State Fiscal Accountability Authority that cash and investments reported in SCEIS did not reconcile to the amount of cash and investment balances reported by the STO.¹⁸⁸ In response, leadership of the STO stated that they looked forward "to finalizing the innovative internal control procedures over financial reporting,"¹⁸⁹ as well as an "even more successful reporting process next year as we further implement reconciliation procedures to ensure that Treasury data is accurately reflected within the Financial Accounting enterprise of SCEIS and inculcate recommendations in any and all practices and processes."¹⁹⁰

The next year, the State Auditor again reported that the reconciliation of cash and investments in SCEIS still had not been completed.¹⁹¹ The leadership of the STO responded that entries they expected to make in Fiscal Year 2018 would "simply be a ledger move between offsetting accounts and would have no effect on CAFR¹⁹² reporting."¹⁹³ The limited SCEIS conversion entries remaining to be performed will not impact cash, cash equivalents nor investment balances as noted in the CAFR.

Any remaining entries will only enhance already improved transparency, timeliness, and accuracy of Treasury activities within the State Enterprise. These entries, expected to be complete in FY2018, will simply be a ledger move between offsetting accounts and will have no impact on CAFR reporting.”¹⁹⁴ The letter closes with the assurance, “The State Treasurer’s Office will continue to ensure that Treasury data is accurately reflected within the Financial Accounting enterprise of SCEIS.”¹⁹⁵

Further evidence in possession by the Subcommittee includes electronic communications between leadership of the CGO and the STO regarding the establishment and treatment of Fund 30350993.

In a November 2016 e-mail, leadership of the CGO asked leadership at the STO about the status of the resolution of the cash and investments conversion for the ACFR.¹⁹⁶ The leadership of the STO responded that they were unaware of a resolution timeline, and iterated that the external auditors had only had positive comments. Leadership of the CGO insisted it was necessary to complete more work on cash and investments before the ACFR could be finalized.¹⁹⁷

In March 2018, staff involved with the conversion at the STO asked staff at the CGO to examine the balances of certain conversion funds.¹⁹⁸ The staff from the STO forwarded this e-mail to leadership of the STO, noting that the CGO was establishing a special general ledger account for the conversion entries yet to be cleared rather than writing them off as a prior period adjustment.^{199&200} Ultimately, these communications

²⁰⁰ Prior period adjustments are modifications to made to prior reporting periods that have already been accounted for. They can be made for a variety of reasons, including errors, changes in accounting principles, changes in estimates, or to correct a prior error. In this case, a prior period adjustment was suggested by the STO to write down the balances of the General Fund by $1.8B. This option was not ultimately chosen, because the funds were expected to eventually clear the conversion fund.

resulted in the transfer of unresolved conversion balances to General Ledger Account 2400600002 (Due to Other Funds – Equity in Pooled Cash), where unresolved entries from the conversion were consolidated and remain pending resolution in accordance with the recommendations included in the Alix Partners report.

Given the State and independent auditors' findings on the conversion of cash and investments in two consecutive years, the corresponding responses from leadership staff regarding its resolution, and the existence of multiple communications concerning the state of the conversion process—both for financial reporting purposes and for the establishment of the conversion fund—it is inconceivable that Treasurer Loftis was not, at the very least, aware that the conversion process was experiencing significant issues and required close oversight. Furthermore, it is incredulous that Treasurer Loftis would make neither the SFAA nor the General Assembly aware of the persistent conversion issues particularly after the STO avowed in its audit responses that SCEIS would reflect accurate data in 2018.²⁰¹

IX. Recommendations

A. SEC Investigation Compliance: The Subcommittee is well aware of the Securities and Exchange Commission investigation, and while the nature of the investigation dictates appropriate discretion the Subcommittee believes the interests of the state are best served by its investigation into the origins of errors and then to take appropriate action to promote their resolution. For its part, the Subcommittee views the AlixPartners recommendations, including independent supervision and verification of their implementation, as integral actions to demonstrate and ensure appropriate self-regulation and self-correction. By extension, the Subcommittee has undertaken to issue this final report to provide the results of its investigative activities, and to provide assurance of the state's commitment to their resolution. Members of the Subcommittee hereby publicly commit to cooperate fully and speak truthfully, and encourages the same from any other interested parties. To the extent that this document is useful in any current or subsequent investigation, we hereby attest to its accuracy based on information and belief.

B. Correction and Maintenance of State's Records: The integrity of the State's financial records within the Treasury must be restored through corrective actions, including not only processing corrective entries and implementing other AlixPartners recommendations, but also implementing a comprehensive current and ongoing process of reconciliation by the STO of cash and investment fund balances performed at levels that ensure compliance with sound financial principles and accounting standards, and as otherwise prescribed by the Comptroller General in accordance with state law.²⁰²

While records and available sources indicate that the STO was capable of performing reconciliations of this caliber prior to the conversion to SCEIS,²⁰³ the STO has since demonstrated either an inability or an unwillingness to do so. Beyond the statutory obligation to provide such reconciliations,²⁰⁴ the ability to fully reconcile funds is fundamental to ensuring the proper execution of the Treasurer's fiduciary duty to manage and invest the state's pooled cash. Without a complete reconciliation, it is impossible to accurately determine the extent of a particular fund's participation within the portfolio, or to allocate the fund's appropriate share of portfolio earnings.

Prior to the conversion to SCEIS, the STO produced a Cash Status Report (TSA404NR) which contains on its face a statement to the effect that "the primary sort of the report is by agency, fund, fund group, and fund detail. The report gives a detail line for each fund detail within fund group. The detail line contains fund detail code, fund detail title, beginning balance, cash receipts, net transfers, cash disbursements, ending balance, and overdraft date (if applicable)."²⁰⁵ In both his April 2024 testimony and his most recent sworn testimony on February 27, 2025, Treasurer Loftis asserted that investments are managed at the portfolio level rather than at the individual fund level. Accepting this sworn statement as an accurate representation of reality, individual funds

²⁰² Exhibit 19 - AlixPartners Recommendation 4, pg. 37.

²⁰³ The Subcommittee's research indicates that the Treasurer's Office was capable of performing this type of reconciliation before fully transitioning to SCEIS. The last instance of generating a detailed report at this level occurred around FY2015.

²⁰⁴ Exhibit 52 - Proviso 98.14 of the Fiscal Year 2025 Appropriations Act are not assigned to specific portfolios in a manner that would allow their balances—and, crucially, their investment earnings—to be appropriately credited to the funds in which the cash is held. For the STO to properly account for investment earnings, it must possess a precise understanding of the cash contributions of each fund within the portfolio, categorized by agency and fund.

Therefore, the Subcommittee recommends that the State take appropriate steps to ensure the books of the Treasury are complete and corrected and that they are henceforth able to perform a full reconciliation of all cash and investments in conformance with Proviso 98.14 and AlixPartners Recommendation #4.

C. AlixPartners Recommendations: The Subcommittee recommends that all AlixPartners Recommendations be implemented and followed by all involved parties, and maintains that the success of the those recommendations hinges not only upon the ability of the STO to be active participants in their implementation, but also its willingness and capacity to accept responsibility, change internal processes, and act synergistically with other state agencies involved. The majority of the AlixPartners recommendations were directed toward the CGO, and the Subcommittee surmises that it was for that reason Treasurer Loftis asserted absolute exoneration, going so far as to tell the Subcommittee that the “wrong agency”²⁰⁶ was audited. The Subcommittee disagrees, and finds that the majority of the recommendations focus on integrity of the State’s ACFRs, and the principal role of the CGO in its preparation. While the primary responsibility for compiling the ACFRs rests with the CGO, the Subcommittee contends that the integrity of these reports is inherently influenced by the accuracy and completeness of the information provided by the STO.

D. Additional Study of the Agency: The Subcommittee recommends study and review of the STO by the other relevant state investigatory bodies: the Inspector General, Legislative Audit Council, and the Oversight Committees of the Senate and House. As a general proposition, all state agencies are subject to periodic oversight and analysis, and a cursory review of relevant reports reveals that STO has not recently been studied by these bodies. A number of issues materialized during the course of the Subcommittee’s investigation that are beyond the scope of this project but appear to be ripe and therefore under the jurisdiction of these other bodies.

²⁰⁶ Exhibit 18, 00:41:44 (Re-references footnote 135).

The State Inspector General is charged with receiving complaints of fraud, waste, abuse, mismanagement, misconduct, violations of state or federal law, and wrongdoing in agencies.²⁰⁷ As described in this report, at a minimum, it appears the STO has wasted state resources by contracting with outside communication professionals to craft and disseminate a message that contradicts the findings of the forensic accounting firm, and the Subcommittee has reason to believe that the STO also funded other efforts to refute other factual findings around the $1.8 billion. This and other information received by the Subcommittee about the use of state funds at STO is not readily discoverable due to the nature of the STO's funding mechanisms, which are not transparent.²⁰⁸

The Legislative Audit Council (LAC) is statutorily directed to examine agencies to determine their relative efficiency and efficacy in use of resources to include personnel, property, and space to derive results and benefits for South Carolinians as authorized.²⁰⁹ LAC also studies the effectiveness of organizations, programs, activities, or functions of agencies to consider the need for continuation, revision, or elimination. This report details some of the functionalities in the STO that failed to deliver accurate state financial records, and the Subcommittee requests that LAC audit STO to determine other causes of this fiscal disaster.

The Legislative Oversight Committees of the Senate and House also have statutory authority to periodically review state agencies to determine if agency laws and programs within the subject matter jurisdiction of a standing committee are being implemented and carried out in accordance with the intent of the General Assembly and whether they should be continued, curtailed, or eliminated. These Committees are also charged with considering the necessity or desirability of enacting new or additional legislation. Neither body's Oversight Committee has undertaken review of the STO in a number of years, and notwithstanding their regular review schedule, the Subcommittee requests an unscheduled oversight study and investigation of the STO pursuant to Section 2-2-40.

²⁰⁸ In brief, the State Treasurer's Office beginning agency base budget for development of the FY2025-26 budget is approximately $2.6 million, and currently, the agency has authorization to spend over $10.3 million of 'other' funds. Additionally, by budget provisos, the Treasurer has been authorized to create and custody a number of special funds for other state entities, not all of which have reporting requirements.

E. Structural Changes: The Subcommittee also recognizes that, dependent on the outcome of this matter, significant structural changes to the financial executive officers and offices of our state may be warranted, and many such reforms must be made through legislation, whether by statute or by constitutional referendum. One specific reform the Subcommittee again recommends is enactment of legislation to establish complete independence of the State Auditor and has concluded that supervision of the State Auditor by the SFAA does not protect the integrity of the audit process. The Subcommittee also generally supports appointment of the financial executive officers of the state by the Governor with Advice and Consent of the Senate and the establishment of professional competency and experience requirements in law. The Subcommittee will continue to study possible additional reforms to the STO, CGO, and the OSA to better delineate the responsibilities of each, facilitate cooperation, and increase accountability. It is critical that South Carolinians have competent leaders in all offices of state government, and that our agencies are led by the most highly qualified individuals who serve without regard to political partisanship or partiality to anyone other than the citizens of the state.

F. Removal of the Current State Treasurer

Among all the duly elected Constitutional Officers in the State of South Carolina since its formation as a state in 1776, no Constitutional official has ever been removed from office. This is a necessarily rare occurrence and one that must never be taken lightly. Following its multi-year, multi-faceted, expert-informed, and carefully documented investigation, the Subcommittee now recommends to the members of the General Assembly and the Governor that the current State Treasurer, Curtis Loftis, be removed from office for willful neglect of duty and other reasonable causes, pursuant to Article XV, Section 3 of the State Constitution.

Ironically, at the last meeting of the STO and Subcommittee to discuss these matters, Mr. Loftis stated, "There are policies and procedures, let's just say statutes on the books, that can stop all this from happening. But we haven't utilized them.”²¹⁰ He is partially correct; however, he was referring to the wrong statutes. Below are cited the statutes that were enacted to stop all this from happening, and findings of the Subcommittee with respect to Treasurer Loftis’s violations thereof.

1. The State Treasurer has willfully neglected his duties as are outlined in the sections of the S.C. Code listed below.

Section 11-5-100. Account in books for appropriations.

The Treasurer shall raise an account in the Treasury books in every instance for the several appropriations made by the General Assembly, so that the appropriations of money and application thereof conformably thereto may appear clearly and distinctly on the Treasury books.

Under this Section of the Code, the Treasurer is charged to maintain accurate reports. The Subcommittee finds that the existence of a $1.8 billion balance with no designated ownership violates this statute, as a lack of ownership is neither clear nor distinct.

Last year, Treasurer Loftis took great exception to the Subcommittee’s observation about the existence of more than $30 billion of plugged financial transactions in Fund 30350993. Now, those differences are confirmed by the AlixPartners Report. The Report states that the $1.8 billion balance is composed of balances related to eleven bank accounts with a total balance of $31.0 billion; and the ‘splitter’ balance in Fund 30350993 with a balance of negative $29.1 billion. Further, AlixPartners confirmed that SCEIS cannot be reconciled to the bank statements for those eleven banks without including the cash in Fund 30350993.

Treasurer Loftis was and is aware of the flawed bookkeeping. During the conversion process from STARS to SCEIS over seven years ago, it became clear that because of the conversion process, the preparation of the state’s ACFRs would be negatively impacted, and there were in fact conversations between the leadership of the agencies and external auditors about this issue.²¹¹ Further, staff was aware that a separate conversion fund was needed due to imbalances emerging during the process.²¹² The fund was ultimately flagged by the State Auditor both as ²¹⁰ Exhibit 18, 00:34:51.

²¹¹ Exhibit 51.

²¹² Exhibit 50.

MONDAY, APRIL 21, 2025

a material weakness and as a significant deficiency, accounting terms that refer to a flaw in records that increase chances that financial reports will not be accurate.²¹³ The Subcommittee determined that the Treasurer did not take appropriate action to correct his books.

Put simply, Treasurer Loftis cannot successfully balance to the bank without the inclusion of unreconciled differences – imbalances in funds under his exclusive control. The financial records of the state are in shambles, and there can be no assurance that the bank balances are accurate, or worse, that no funds have been wasted, misused, or misappropriated. The fact that the Treasurer has permitted these exceptions to continue unresolved for almost a decade is a dereliction of his duty to account in his books for appropriations in accordance with the provisions of Section 11-5-110.

Section 11-5-120. Publication of quarterly statements.

The State Treasurer shall publish, quarterly, by electronic means and in a manner that allows for public review, a statement showing the amount of money on hand and in what financial institution it is deposited and the respective funds to which it belongs.

In this section, the Code speaks to the degree of specificity required in the Treasurer's reporting. Treasurer Loftis has asserted compliance with this law but on another occasion, stated that he is in fact not in compliance with the law. However, the Subcommittee determined that Treasurer Loftis has failed to meet the requirement to show "the respective funds to which [money on hand] belongs," notwithstanding his argument that the term "funds" in SCEIS were not contemplated by the statute. Given the present condition of his records following the conversion, he cannot demonstrate any accurate level of specificity of the funds within the records of the Treasury, even at the most fundamental level of state agency.

The Subcommittee recognized early on in its investigation that ownership of funds is integral to understanding the origins of the $1.8 billion balance.

AlixPartners reiterates the need for this specificity. In Recommendation 4, they stipulate that the Treasurer needs to perform a full reconciliation by agency by fund no less frequently than annually. Treasurer Loftis has repeatedly asserted that SCEIS balances to the bank, and that ownership is not a concern of the Treasurer. This argument fails since accounting for cash by agency and fund is essential in the accurate calculation of earnings due to each agency and fund participating in the investment portfolio.

Section 11-5-180. Monthly reports to Comptroller General of cash transactions.

The State Treasurer shall, at the end of every month, report to the Comptroller General an accurate statement of the cash transactions of the Treasury, of every description, stating therein every sum of money received or paid away in behalf of the State, particularizing the person and his office of whom received and to whom paid, as also on what account received and for what purpose paid.

He shall, at all times, when required by the Comptroller General, produce to him satisfactory statements of the cash in hand and furnish him promptly with the official information, duly certified, relative to any matter connected with the revenue and finance of the State.

Here, the Code establishes a system of checks and balances, and mutual accountability, between the State Treasurer and the Comptroller General. Pursuant to the above statute, the Comptroller General determines information that is satisfactory. The Subcommittee found that on multiple occasions the Comptroller General requested satisfactory information from the Treasurer, but that the Treasurer would not or could not provide the information. An outside audit performed by Mauldin & Jenkins in March of 2024 confirms this finding.

If the State Treasurer had been able to make an accurate statement of cash transactions to the Comptroller General at all times, we would not find the state with $1.8 billion in inaccuracies.²¹⁴ Despite the ²¹⁴ AlixPartners has explained [in testimony before the Subcommittee on March 11, 2024,] that if the STO had been reporting cash and investments by fund, the STO likely would have recognized the error causing the $1.8 billion and could have addressed the issue during conversion or shortly thereafter. In other words, reconciliation at this level of detail likely would have and should in the future alert the STO complexities of the conversion, Treasurer Loftis was nevertheless required to maintain compliance with this section of the Code. Any doubt as to the success of the conversion should have been detected during pre-conversion testing, and the conversion should not have proceeded until he and his staff had determined that the conversion would be successful.

Section 11-5-220. Report required after sale of bonds or notes.

The State Treasurer shall report to the Joint Bond Review Committee, the House Ways and Means Committee, and the Senate Finance Committee immediately after selling any General Obligation Bonds or Anticipation Notes. This report shall include the total amount of the issue, the interest rate charged (specified by year if the rate is not the same each year), the time contracted to pay the debt service, and the principal payment schedule.

This Section of the Code is a simple reporting requirement regarding notification to fiscal and legislative leadership about the sale of bonds, and its violation by Treasurer Loftis is part of a larger narrative that only recently emerged, following his unilateral decision almost a year ago to stop offering long-term debt of the state without notifying the Subcommittee, SFAA, the General Assembly or its standing financial committees. The Subcommittee finds that the Treasurer did not issue the report as described in 11-5-220 and cites other related violations later in this portion of the Subcommittee report.

Section 11-5-185. Treasurer's annual report to the General Assembly.

In addition to other reports required by law to be made, by the State Treasurer, he shall also report annually to the General Assembly in the month of January on the following matters:

(1) The amount of state revenue collected in the previous fiscal year.

(2) The amount of such revenue deposited in the state general fund.

(3) The location of general fund revenue in banks and other financial institutions including invested funds, as of the end of the previous fiscal year.

of discrepancies between SCEIS and the banks, and promote timely resolution of exceptions.

MONDAY, APRIL 21, 2025

(4) The interest accrued from deposits and investments for the previous fiscal year and the use of such interest.

(5) The amount expended for debt service in the previous fiscal year.

(6) The current status of the general fund reserve including any expenditure or reimbursement thereof.

(7) Any other information relating to state revenue which the Treasurer deems pertinent and of value to the General Assembly, including such items as special state funds, the highway fund and other funds not specified herein, as may be deemed appropriate by the Treasurer.

The General Assembly shall provide in the annual general appropriations act for the cost of preparing this report.

This Code section requires the State Treasurer to keep the General Assembly apprised of basic financial facts, but perhaps most importantly, other information deemed pertinent and of value to the General Assembly. The Subcommittee finds it indefensible that Treasurer Loftis did not consider a fund containing $1.8 billion in unidentified monies to be exactly the sort of information envisioned in this state law. Inexplicably, he never reported any information about it over the course of almost a decade, and when eventually questioned about the fund in hearings of this Subcommittee, he mischaracterized its essence, mischaracterized who made entries into the fund, and even in his written document released last month, asserts that the fund is not related to state revenue.

Despite confirmation by AlixPartners that the $1.8 billion fund is a treasury fund for which his office is responsible and under its exclusive control, the balance of which over time grew as a result of entries made exclusively by his office or others employed by or on its behalf, Treasurer Loftis adheres to his claim that the fund is the responsibility of the Office of Comptroller General. Nevertheless, the Subcommittee finds that the $1.8 billion is held in a special fund designated to and utilized by the Office of State Treasurer, and that the fund is tied specifically to State Treasury cash and investments, as documented by SCEIS records of the fund activity. Whether the $1.8 billion constitutes an asset or liability of the state, its impact on the financial condition of the state is substantial and should have been reported in accordance with the provision of this statute.

A second omission of reporting was Treasurer Loftis's failure to alert the General Assembly or any oversight entity about his decision to issue Bond Anticipation Notes rather than General Obligation Bonds. Further, there was no report made about the attendant financial circumstances that might have precipitated this decision. The Subcommittee learned this pertinent information not from a report by the Treasurer, but from what appeared to be spontaneous statements he made in a January 2025 House budget hearing. There, Treasurer Loftis stated that he had borrowed $487 million in one-year money so that dormitories and hospitals can be built, "one year at a time with no interest rate protection."²¹⁵ The Subcommittee subsequently learned that Treasurer Loftis had not issued general obligation bonds since learning of the SEC investigation, commenced over one year prior. The Subcommittee finds that the failure to report this information appropriately and timely is a violation of 11-5-185.

Significantly, Treasurer Loftis was questioned about his duty to report pertinent information to the General Assembly on a number of occasions, but two provide important context to the violation that has occurred. In 2023, he assured the Subcommittee that he would contact the General Assembly if anything was amiss in his books.²¹⁶ In 2024, he defiantly declared that reporting pertinent and valuable information is not his job.²¹⁷ Regrettably, had the STO simply reported these issues as charged by statute, the resolution and conclusion of this matter would not still be at some undetermined point in the future. By violating his duty to report, Treasurer Loftis has misled the public, the General Assembly and investors about the state of South Carolina's finances.

2. In addition to dereliction of statutory duties, there exists a reasonable cause for removal of the State Treasurer: a breach of fiduciary duty.

Although not specifically stipulated in statute, it is commonly understood that the State Treasurer has a fiduciary duty to the people of the State. Treasurer Loftis has acknowledged this duty publicly and under oath. One with fiduciary duty is generally understood to be acting ²¹⁵ Exhibit 20, 01:30:06.

²¹⁶ Clip 4.

²¹⁷ Clip 3.

MONDAY, APRIL 21, 2025

in such a way that will benefit another financially. In corporate settings, elements of fiduciary duty are the duty of care and the duty of loyalty. Acting with care requires performing functions in good faith, with best interests in mind, and in a way that an ordinarily prudent person would reasonably be expected to act. The duty of loyalty requires a principal to place the interests of the whole before any personal interest. The Subcommittee finds that Treasurer Loftis has breached his fiduciary duty as evidenced by the below actions.

a. Treasurer Loftis made financial decisions that were not in the best interest of the state, independent of any oversight body's authority to encourage or discourage this decision and announced his actions in an inflammatory manner that put the state's financial security at risk. As described elsewhere in this report, in January of this year, the Treasurer publicly announced that he was unable to issue general obligation bonds, and that hospitals and dorms were being financed with short term bonds. These public discussions predated his office's alerting SFAA. The Subcommittee finds that the Treasurer did not provide timely notice of his concerns; he had already taken action to issue short-term indebtedness in 2024 despite his conclusion that they resulted in interest rate risk; and his efforts to notify SFAA and his conclusion that he had no responsibility to notify JBRC were neither timely nor sufficient to form an appreciation of his concerns.

b. Treasurer Loftis is currently in violation of federal law requiring repayment of federal funds and interest earned thereon.²¹⁸ On March 18, 2025, the U.S. Treasury issued a Notice of Noncompliance related to Housing Assistance funds that were incorrectly directed to the State General Fund by the Treasurer.²¹⁹ For over five months, Treasurer Loftis has refused to move the monies to the appropriate housing program fund so that State Housing can rebate them plus accrued interest to the U.S. Treasury, asserting that he does not have the statutory authority to do so. This flies in the face of countless other instances that the state has returned unspent funds and interest to the federal government and demonstrates that the Treasurer is not custodying funds with care. Furthermore, the Subcommittee is of the view that Treasurer Loftis should be expected to carry out the routine responsibilities of his role without the need for specific direction.

²¹⁸ Exhibit 57 – Letter from Director Hutto, Sep. 10, 2024.

²¹⁹ Exhibit 58 – Housing emails.

c. Treasurer Loftis has unnecessarily caused the expenditure of state resources in response to the Subcommittee investigation and the release of the AlixPartners report, acting without care or prudence. These expenditures include engagement of a crisis communication firm and securing an additional outside forensic accountant. The crisis communication firm had to prepare the Treasurer and his Chief of Staff to respond to the Subcommittee's questions, none of which were out of the scope of the Treasurer's responsibilities.²²⁰ At last check, the STO's budget already includes $233,899 for communications staff, yet the Treasurer spent an additional $43,958 this fiscal year alone on the firm. Additionally, the STO involved a second forensic accountant to review financial information that also is part of the Treasurer's responsibility, at least a portion of which is years old.²²¹ On a related note, the engagement by the Treasurer of a forensic accountant in the years immediately following the completion of the banking conversion would have been most effective in resolving or expediting the appropriate resolution of the discrepancy. This additional spending belies the Treasurer's stated preferred conservative approach to his duties.²²²

d. Treasurer Loftis threatened to release sensitive state financial information and then took active steps to do so. On April 4, 2024, Treasurer Loftis sent the Subcommittee a letter instructing that he would publish this information electronically after notifying the Department of Administration. In it, he stated, "with respect to the electronic publication for public review and quarterly statements referenced in 11-5-120, we will begin posting on the State Treasurer's website a detailed fund report. We alerted the Department of Administration so that the agency can take action to protect SCEIS and the State's other informational and financial systems from added security risks created by the publication of such detailed information." Members of the Subcommittee sought advice from state officials, engaged the Governor and the Director of SLED in an urgent attempt to prevent such a disclosure. Such reckless and cavalier behavior with the state taxpayer's money demonstrates neither care nor loyalty to the people of South Carolina.

Finally, the Subcommittee finds that Treasurer Loftis lacks the competence to carry out his statutory duty. Over the course of the Subcommittee's investigation, Treasurer Loftis demonstrated a fundamental inability to articulate the duties of the office, how he had effectively carried out those duties, and an unwillingness to learn from others how he might better serve the people of South Carolina. Some of the most significant gaps the Subcommittee observed were the following:

- a. Treasurer Loftis was unable to recognize a significant error in his records.
- b. Today, Treasurer Loftis still is unable to articulate what the $1.8 billion error is in his records and does not know how to correct that error.
- c. Treasurer Loftis does not understand other granular financial matters that are fundamental to his office and its duties.
- d. Treasurer Loftis does not comprehend the responsibility of the General Assembly to ensure good governance by periodic review of state agencies, and by extension, his responsibility to cooperate and collaborate to make the STO better.

The Subcommittee includes this grave concern here for further consideration by the body on whether that incompetence rises to the Constitutional standard of reasonable cause for removal.

To effectuate this removal, concurrent with this Final Report, the Subcommittee has drafted and plans to introduce a Joint Resolution calling for the removal the State Treasurer. The due process afforded him is aptly described in our State Constitutional language:

SECTION 3. Removal of officers by Governor on address of General Assembly.

For any willful neglect of duty, or other reasonable cause , which shall not be sufficient ground of impeachment, the Governor shall remove any executive or judicial officer on the address of two thirds of each house of the General Assembly: Provided, that the cause or causes for which said removal may be required shall be stated at length in such address, and entered on the Journals of each house: And, provided, further, that the officer intended to be removed shall be notified of such cause or causes, and shall be admitted to a hearing in his own defense, or by his counsel, or by both, before any vote for such address; and in all cases the vote shall be taken by yeas and nays, and be entered on the Journal of each house respectively.

This Report should be construed as the statement of the causes for the removal. Should additional causes come to the attention of the Subcommittee members, we will further notify the Treasurer and propose an amendment to our Joint Resolution accordingly.

X. Conclusion

The goal of the Subcommittee's investigation was to ensure the security of the financial future of the state, but our state's financial future is insecure with the current treasurer in office. Permitting Treasurer Loftis to continue in his position will cause possibly irreparable harm to the State Treasurer's Office. The Subcommittee posits that likely any South Carolinian whose employee's actions caused an error of this magnitude and who subsequently refused to take responsibility and rectify the error would not continue to employ that person.

The Subcommittee also has serious concerns that one of the parties responsible for this debacle remains in office during the remainder of an SEC investigation. Treasurer Loftis has made clear in spoken word, in printed word, and in both commission and omission of actions that he has not, and does not, intend to carry out the statutory duties of his office.

The level of ineptitude which has imbued this Treasurer's time in office is not worthy of the citizens of our state, and his volatile temperament and angry demeanor degrade those who are charged to work with him to secure the financial standing of South Carolina. He has made perfectly clear that he cannot and will not collaborate on the directed actions suggested by multiple neutral experts who have reviewed this calamity through an apolitical lens. It is the strong recommendation of the Subcommittee that we do not consign the ongoing fiscal oversight – the banking and investment functions of our state - to continued incompetence. In sum: if the treasurer cannot keep track of the treasury, then he should not remain treasurer.

The Senate assembled at 11:00 A.M., the hour to which it stood adjourned, and was called to order by the PRESIDENT.

A quorum being present, the proceedings were opened with a devotion by the Chaplain as follows:

I Corinthians 12:12a

The apostle Paul tells us this about “the body”: “The body is a unit, though it is made up of many parts; and though all its parts are many, they form one body.”

Bow with me, please: Truly, O glorious God, how richly diverse is our South Carolina family. We together capture the words that appear on the Great Seal of the United States: E pluribus unum -- translated as “Out of many, one.” That slogan fully describes the richness of our state’s population, made up as it is of citizens from many races, ancestries, and religions. But nonetheless, despite that mix, we surely are also “one.” So, with this in mind, O God, we are ever thankful that this Senate labors to care for each and every woman, man and child within our borders, doing so unfailingly and lovingly. And may the ultimate glory as always be Yours, dear Lord. In Your wondrous name we pray. Amen.

Remarks by Senator OTT

Thank you, Mr. PRESIDENT and members of the Senate. From time to time, we must come to this podium and talk about things we certainly don't want to talk about. Today is definitely one of those days.

By now all of you are aware of the tragic accident that happened last Thursday on I-77 when a group of middle school students were returning from a field trip in Charlotte, N.C. One of the buses had a tire blow out which then caused an accident and the bus to overturn. Thirty-five students were injured, and tragically one of those students, Jose Marie Gonzalez-Linares, unfortunately passed away. Jose was a thirteen-year-old boy. From the different stories that I have heard from his friends, from parents of other students and from teachers -- they all highlight him in so many ways. He was a great kid, full of life and a very bright future that was certainly cut far too short. This is such a tragedy.

I just wanted to come today and tell each of you about him. I ask that we all remember him, remember his family and remember all the other students that were impacted.

Several students had to be airlifted that day to local hospitals, and it is now my understanding that they have all been released from the hospital. Regardless of whether it was physical injuries or emotional injuries, this is an event that will stay with all of them for quite some time.

We all come from different backgrounds, we all come from different places in life; but, at the end of the day, the one thing that transcends all of that is the unexpected loss of a child. I think that probably most all of us can at least relate to what that must feel like, and no one should ever have to go through that.

I ask that you keep that family, Pine Ridge Middle School and the entire community, which is in my Senate district, in your prayers.

I would also like to acknowledge how proud I am of this Body, of the first responders, of the local law enforcement and of everyone who has been with this community over the last week. Senator STUBBS, who represents the area of South Carolina where the accident occurred, was one of the first ones who called me. He dropped everything to make sure that every resource was available and to make sure care was given to the best of their ability. The response from your community, sir, was outstanding. You should be commended, and on behalf of all of Lexington County, I express sincere gratitude and appreciation for everything that was done. Across the board -- from the Senate PRESIDENT to so many of you, from the concern related and the coordination of efforts on the local level to law enforcement, to the State Department of Transportation -- everyone that was involved has truly come together and has shown the greatness of the State of South Carolina in the face of tragedy.

Thank you all for allowing me to give everyone a brief update. I am extremely grateful for the response, and I ask that everyone continue to keep the family and the community in your prayers during this very hard time. Thank you very much.

~~Indicates Matter Stricken~~

Indicates New Matter

The Senate assembled at 10:00 A.M., the hour to which it stood adjourned, and was called to order by the PRESIDENT.

A quorum being present, the proceedings were opened with a devotion by the Chaplain as follows:

Genesis 32:24

It's a bold story that we read in Genesis, how: "Jacob was left alone; and a man wrestled with him until daybreak."

Let us pray: Holy God, it truly is a gripping tale, how Jacob ended up in the river Jabbok, wrestling with some divine creature. His circumstances in many ways surely remind us of how these Senators themselves have so much to tackle, especially at this point in the 126th Session of our state's General Assembly. For indeed the clock keeps ticking, the days keep sliding by, and so very much remains to be hammered out and acted upon. Therefore, O Lord, we call on You to grant to these Senators and their aides the determination and the stamina to struggle onward, working so very faithfully to bring about meaningful and worthy results for the good people they have been called to serve. So we pray in Your blessed name, dear Lord. Amen.

The PRESIDENT called for Petitions, Memorials, Presentments of Grand Juries and such like papers.

~~Indicates Matter Stricken~~

Indicates New Matter

The Senate assembled at 11:00 A.M., the hour to which it stood adjourned, and was called to order by the PRESIDENT.

A quorum being present, the proceedings were opened with a devotion by the Chaplain as follows:

Isaiah 53:6a

We read in Isaiah how: "All we like sheep have gone astray; we have all turned to our own way."

Once again, join me as we bow in prayer: Undoubtedly, Holy God, today's scripture passage hits all of us where it hurts most. For we know how very often -- individually and collectively -- we are less than You desire us to be. And we also know how easy it is for us to lose our way. That is why, Lord, perhaps even more today than ever, we need leaders who are truly caring and compassionate, leaders who understand what it means to value justice, leaders who themselves work faithfully to follow Your will. Therefore, O God, empower these Senators to be such leaders, to serve honorably and boldly as women and men determined to move our State and her people forward in the most meaningful ways -- and for the benefit of all. In Your loving name we humbly pray, dear Lord. Amen.

The PRESIDENT called for Petitions, Memorials, Presentments of Grand Juries and such like papers.

The report is designed to provide you with information on the candidates qualified and nominated by the Review Committee. The Review Committee is charged with nominating up to three candidates for each seat on the Commission. In accordance with this mandate, the Review Committee thoroughly investigated each candidate with respect to his or her suitability for service on the Commission.

The Review Committee held public hearings on April 17, 2025, to question the candidates and consider the qualifications of each candidate. A transcript of the oral examination of the candidates, as well as each Candidates are prohibited from asking for your commitment until Friday, April 25, 2025, at 9:00 a.m. Members of the General Assembly are not permitted to issue letters of introduction, announcements of candidacy, or statements detailing a candidate's qualifications on behalf of a candidate, and are not permitted to offer a pledge to vote for a candidate until 9:00 a.m. on Friday, April 25, 2025.

If you find a candidate violating the pledging prohibitions or if you have questions about this report, please contact Breeden John at (803) 212-6216 or Bryan Triplett at (803) 734-3015.

Review Committee Report as to the Qualifications of Candidates for the Public Service Commission, Seats 2, 4, and 6

Introduction

Section 58-3-530(1)(a) of the South Carolina Code of Laws charges the State Regulation of Public Utilities Review Committee ("Review Committee") with the duty to nominate candidates for the members of the South Carolina Public Service Commission ("Commission"). The terms for Commission Seats 2, 4, and 6 expired on June 30, 2022.

The Review Committee began the screening process on March 7, 2025, with advertisements and press releases regarding the positions. A total of six candidates submitted applications by the application deadline of March 28, 2025. Two of these candidates withdrew from consideration prior to the Review Committee's public hearings on April 17, 2025. After the public hearings concluded, the Review Committee found a total of four candidates qualified and nominated for consideration by the General Assembly.

THURSDAY, APRIL 24, 2025

The Review Committee conducted background investigations of each candidate, including credit, driver's license, and law enforcement checks. It gave a written examination to determine the level of knowledge that each candidate has with respect to substantive public utility issues, ethical constraints applicable to the Commission, and the operations of the Commission. During the public hearings, each candidate was questioned and given an opportunity to make statements as to his or her qualifications and desire to serve as a Commissioner. Each candidate was also questioned and given an opportunity to discuss matters from his or her background check; matters of a private or confidential nature were discussed in executive session.

Legal Qualifications

Pursuant to Section 58-3-20(A), members of the Commission must have the following qualifications:

- (1) a baccalaureate or more advanced degree; and
- (2) a background of substantial duration and an expertise in at least one of the following areas:
 - (a) energy;
 - (b) telecommunications;
 - (c) consumer protection and advocacy;
 - (d) water and wastewater;
 - (e) finance, economics, and statistics;
 - (f) accounting;
 - (g) engineering; or
 - (h) law.

The Review Committee is also required to consider: "(1) the ability, dedication, compassion, common sense, and integrity of the candidates; and (2) the race and gender of the candidates and other demographic factors to assure nondiscrimination to the greatest extent possible of all segments of the population of the State." S.C. Code Ann. §58-3-560. The determination of legal qualifications includes a determination of the candidate's residence in the appropriate Public Service Commission district as established by Section 58-3-20, the candidate's eligibility for election as determined by Section 58-3-24, and the candidate's compliance with constitutional provisions limiting election to those persons eligible to be electors of this State.

Pursuant to S.C. Code Ann. §58-3-530, the annual performance review of Commissioners seeking reelection must be made a part of the Commissioner's record for consideration if the Commissioner seeks reelection. These evaluations are included after the Commissioners' summary of qualifications.

THURSDAY, APRIL 24, 2025

General Qualifications

To determine fitness beyond mere legal qualifications, the Review Committee considered each candidate's experience, temperament, compliance with and knowledge of legal and ethical constraints on public service, knowledge of Commission operations, demonstrated or potential aptitude for meaningful leadership and/or service at the Commission, and demonstrated integrity, including the handling of personal financial affairs. The Review Committee considered each candidate as a whole in making a determination of qualified and nominated.

Experience

Section 58-3-20 requires that Commissioners have a background of substantial duration and an expertise in energy; telecommunications; consumer protection and advocacy; water and wastewater; finance, economics, and statistics; accounting; engineering; or law. The Review Committee considered not only whether a candidate has succeeded in one of these fields but also whether the candidate has the capability of transferring this success and knowledge to the operations of the Commission. The Review Committee's transcript contains each applicant's background and employment history.

Temperament

The Review Committee sought to determine whether a candidate's sense of the role he or she is to fill on the Commission is such that his or her work will be productive, proactive, and protective of the interests of all South Carolinians.

Compliance with and Knowledge of Legal and Ethical Constraints

Section 58-3-30 requires that Commissioners adhere to the State Ethics Act and the Judicial Code of Conduct. The Review Committee believes that not only must the candidates be aware of the legal and ethical constraints, they must have conducted and comported themselves with the highest regard for ethics in their actions.

Potential Aptitude for Meaningful Leadership and/or Service at the Public Service Commission

THURSDAY, APRIL 24, 2025

The Review Committee believes that the Commission should have strong leadership, work toward common goals, have a positive influence on employees, and ensure that parties and persons appearing before the Commission are treated fairly and impartially. The Review Committee therefore sought to gauge each candidate's potential aptitude to serve as a leader and/or as a Commissioner supporting the goals and mission of the agency.

Integrity

Candidates must assure the Review Committee that their word is their bond. The Code of Judicial Conduct requires, among other factors, that Commissioners and candidates handle their finances in a responsible manner. The Review Committee therefore considered the way each candidate has managed his or her financial affairs.

Substantive Knowledge of Commission Operations

The Review Committee believes that every candidate, whether incumbent or non-incumbent, must demonstrate some basic understanding of the role of the Commission and its operations. It would be unfair, however, to require non-incumbents to have accumulated a wealth of knowledge about Commission operations specifically, or regulated utilities generally. Unlike incumbent Commissioners, challengers have not had the benefit of a compensated opportunity to educate themselves in hearings or through conversations with Commission staff. The Review Committee expects incumbents and others who have substantial experience appearing before the Commission to be able to discuss these matters with a greater fluency than those persons who have, to date, committed themselves to other employment. The Review Committee emphasizes that the substantive knowledge findings contained in this report are a measure of a candidate's knowledge at the time of his or her candidacy. The findings are not necessarily indicative of a candidate's ability to subsequently master Commission operations and the multitude of issues relating thereto.

FINDINGS AS TO QUALIFICATIONS AND NOMINATIONS

The Review Committee screened a total of four candidates for Seats 2, 4, and 6 on April 17, 2025. In accordance with Section 58-3-530(1)(a), the Review Committee may nominate up to three candidates per seat to

(2) NARUC Energy Resources and the Environment Committee
(ERE Committee)

During the review period, I participated in one ERE Committee meeting via a Zoom conference call on September 26, 2023. (Approximately 2 hours) I was unable to participate in other calls scheduled during the review period due to conflicts with the Commission's scheduled hearings or with other Commission business.

Benefits of attending NARUC and SEAR UC programs:

NARUC and SEARUC meetings provide excellent educational opportunities on multiple utility issues across industries. By attending these meetings, I have increased my knowledge and understanding of utility regulation and learned of current issues on both the state and national levels. Each meeting and session attended provides exposure to additional information on issues. The knowledge gained and shared through these meetings and conferences broadens my perspective which I can draw upon in making decisions.

The Commission benefits from my attendance at these meetings because increased knowledge, experience, and understanding of issues help me make more informed decisions on the matters before the Commission for adjudication.

II. In House Briefings/ Educational Sessions

- (1) Ethics Training (Required by S.C. Code Ann. § 58-3-30(C) (2015) (Total hours 6.0)
 - a. October 2, 2023 (3.0 hours in this session)
 - Freedom of Information Act presented by Steven W. Hamm, Esquire (1.0 hour)
 - Code of Judicial Conduct presented by Hon. Thomas W. Cooper, Jr. (1.0 hour)

 - b. October 6, 2023 (3.0 hours in this session)
 - Ethical Public Service: Beyond the State Ethics Act presented by Barbara M. Seymour, Esquire (1.0 hour)

THURSDAY, APRIL 24, 2025

- Substance Abuse and Cyber Ethics presented by Jack Pringle, Esquire (2.0 hours)

This required training reinforces the Code of Judicial Conduct (CJC), the State Ethics Act (SEA), and the Administrative Procedures Act (APA). As Commissioners, we must adhere to these rules and statutes, and, for me, continual study strengthens my knowledge and understanding of the requirements contained in the CJC, SEA, and APA. It is a benefit to the Commission as an institution that commissioners and employees are knowledgeable of the provisions of the CJC, SEA, and APA so that we may all conduct ourselves and the business of the Commission in compliance with the requirements of the CJC, SEA, and APA.

Additionally, a session of mental health, wellness, and substance abuse was presented. For us to be effective employees, we need to be aware of challenges and stresses we may encounter that could impact our ability to be productive employees. This session provided some valuable tips and resources on dealing with stress and challenges associated with both work-life and private-life and encouraging productive habits for mental well-being. This session has proven to be popular with commission employees.

The class lasted three days and instruction covered five 160-minute sessions for total attendance of 13.33 hours. The class was conducted on the internet with virtual attendance. I participated from the office and received a certificate of attendance.

The class provided me with additional instruction in regulated utility ratemaking principles and increased knowledge is a benefit to Commission. I try to take advantage of as many classes as possible as there is always something new to learn. Also, review of material aids is very helpful. Continued exposure and study leads to an expanded understanding of issues and regulatory policies and law. Classes which broaden my knowledge, and which assist in understanding the issues in the cases that come before the Commission, aid in making reasoned and sound decisions.

1. Participation in organizations.

Provide the following information regarding your participation in organizations:

- A. The name of organization, position held, and committee served on;
 - B. A description of the organization's function;
 - C. How participation in the organization helped you as a commissioner and benefitted the Commission; and
 - D. The amount of time spent out of the office due to your participation in organizations.
- A. The name of organization, position held, and committee served on;

I am a member of the National Association of Regulatory Utility Commissioners (NARUC) and the Southeastern Association of Regulatory Utility Commissioners (SEARUC). Within NARUC, I am a member of the NARUC Committee on Energy Resources and the Environment (ERE).

- B. A description of the organization's function;

NARUC is a non-profit organization dedicated to representing the state public service commissions which regulate the utilities that provide essential services such as energy, telecommunications, power, water, and transportation. NARUC's stated mission is to serve in the public interest by improving the quality and effectiveness of public utility regulation. Under state law, NARUC's members have an obligation to ensure the establishment and maintenance of utility services as may be required by law and to ensure that such services are provided at rates and conditions that are fair, reasonable, and nondiscriminatory for all consumers.

SEARUC is also a non-profit corporation, and the purpose of SEARUC is "the advancement and education of commission regulation through the study and discussions of subjects concerning the operation and supervision of public utilities to protect the interests of the people with respect to regulation of the Southeastern States."

The NARUC ERE Committee focuses on renewable and distributed resources, energy efficiency, consumer protection, environmental protection, and public interest research and development. The Committee provides a venue for state regulators to discuss current issues on both the national and state levels and to exchange information of environmentally sustainable and affordable energy.

C. How participation in the organization helped you as a commissioner and benefitted the Commission:

The greatest benefits from participation in NARUC and SEARUC are education and exposure to current issues. The conferences provide relevant and timely educational programs related to public utility regulation. The conferences, while educational, provide opportunities to learn from other utility commissioners as well as opportunities to gain regional and national perspectives on issues. I have benefited from these meetings by enhancing and increasing my knowledge of public utility regulation. Information gained from attending conferences and participating on committee conference calls has alerted me to recent issues and provided me with a better understanding of many issues. Increased knowledge and exposure of relevant, current topics improves my effectiveness as a regulator by providing greater understanding of public utility regulation. The Commission and the state benefit from commissioners being well-informed, and the conferences, webinars, and conference calls offered by NARUC and SEAR UC are opportunities for me to further study and learn about utility regulation and issues.

THURSDAY, APRIL 24, 2025

- D. The amount of time spent out of the office due to your participation in organizations.

In June 2024, I attended the SEAR UC annual conference and was out of the office for three (3) days.

I also participated in one NARUC ERE Committee meeting during the review period. These committee meetings are held virtually via Zoom, and I participate from my office. Due to scheduled hearings and other Commission business, I only participated in one ERE Committee meeting.

2. Representation in Official Capacity as Commissioner.

For any event attended in your official capacity as commissioner that has not been included in item 1 or 2, provide the following information:

- A. Each event attended;
- B. The sponsoring organization;
- C. A description of the activity (if speech or panel discussions, describe the topic); and
- D. The amount of time spent out of the office due to your representation as commissioner.

I did not attend any events in my official capacity as a commissioner during the review period.

3. Notable Cases.

In your own words, describe three cases in which you participated that you believe were the most significant during the review period. Provide a brief summary of the case, including the case name, the docket number, and the issues and outcome (two-three sentences). Your response should focus on: (a) why this case was significant; and (b) how the educational programs you attended, your participation in organizations and/or experience as a commissioner benefitted your decisions in each case.

A. Petition of Duke Energy Progress, LLC for a Storm Securitization Financing Order (Docket No. 2023-89-E)

In 2022, the South Carolina General Assembly passed Act 227 (Storm Securitization Statute) which addressed storm damage recovery costs by authorizing an electrical utility to pursue securitization to recover prudently incurred costs due to storm recovery activity. The process consists of two parts: first, identification of prudently incurred storm recovery costs (Phase 1) and second, issuance of a financing order which will authorize the issuance of the storm recovery bonds; the imposition, collection, and periodic adjustments of a storm recovery charge; the creation of storm recovery property; and the sale, assignment, or transfer of storm recovery property to an assignee (Phase 2).

In August 2022, DEP filed a petition for review and recovery of storm recovery principal costs (Phase 1). (See, Docket No. 2022-256-E). Following a hearing in Docket No. 2022- 256-E, the Commission issued Order No. 2023-260 (dated May 30, 2023) approving a partial Stipulation and approving storm costs of approximately $170 million.

On March 31, 2023, Duke Energy Progress, LLC (DEP) filed its petition for a financing order requesting authorization for the financing of storm recovery costs due to storm recovery activities resulting from several named storms {Phase 2}. This docket marked the continuation of the first case brought by an electrical utility pursuant to the S.C. Act No. 227 of 2022 {Storm Securitization Statute}. The parties filed a Settlement Agreement in the case. Following a hearing on the Phase 2 petition and the Settlement Agreement, the Commission on October 23, 2023, issued the "Storm Recovery Financing Order Approving Comprehensive Settlement Agreement and Accounting Order." (See, Order No. 2023-752(A)).

This case is significant because it is the first case on a financing order pursuant to the Storm Securitization Statute. Commissioners and staff members spent considerable time preparing for the case including studying the Storm Securitization Statute and the materials filed in the docket. My experience as a commissioner and as a lawyer practicing in the area of utility regulation, along with knowledge gained from seminars and educational opportunities, helped in understanding the issues presented in this case.

B. 2023 Integrated Resource Plan for the South Carolina Public Service Authority (Santee Cooper) (Docket No. 2023-154-E)

2019 Act 62 (South Carolina Energy Freedom Act or SCEFA) requires the Commission to hold a proceeding to review each electrical utility's IRP. Act 90, passed in 2021, requires the South Carolina Public Service

THURSDAY, APRIL 24, 2025

Authority (Santee Cooper) to file its IRP with the Commission for review. Prior to the passage of 2019 Act 62 and 2021 Act 90, electrical utilities filed their IRPs with the State Energy Office, but no formal proceedings were required for review of the IRPs.

In May 2023, Santee Cooper filed its 2023 Integrated Resource Plan (IRP). This docket is significant because this is the first instance where Santee Cooper's IRP was reviewed by the Commission. The Commission issued its order in March 2024 approving Santee Cooper's IRP.

This case is noteworthy because this docket was the first instance where the Commission reviewed an IRP filed by Santee Cooper. To me, this case is also significant because the Commission has only recently been tasked with reviewing IRPs and IRP Updates, and each IRP case the Commission reviews presents another opportunity to gain more understanding of the complex issues involved and addressed in the IRP process. In reviewing an IRP, I rely upon my experience as a commissioner, as an attorney having practiced in the area of utility regulation for 30 years, as well as knowledge gained from attendance at conferences, seminars, and educational sessions, in identifying and understanding the issues presented in these cases. I have also found that every case, not just cases involving IRPs, presents a learning experience, and with the review of IRPs and the complexity and detail of the issues, each IRP case involves considerable study of the materials to grasp the issues.

C. Annual Review of Base Rates for Fuel Costs of Duke Energy Progress, LLC (Docket No. 2024-1-E)

Under the provisions of S.C. Code Ann. Section 58-27-865 (2015), the Commission must review annually the base rate for fuel costs of electrical utilities. The Commission is required to determine the amount designed to recover the fuel costs found to be appropriate for the succeeding twelve months, including adjustment for any over-recovery or under recovery from the preceding twelve months. Stated another way, the base rate of fuel for the upcoming twelve months is based on the true-up of the cost of fuel the utility paid in the previous year and the projected cost of fuel for the upcoming year. Also addressed in the context of the annual fuel proceeding is the Distributed Energy Resource Program (DERP) charge allowed pursuant to S.C. Code Ann. Section 58-39-150 (2015) and Commission Order No. 2015-194.

THURSDAY, APRIL 24, 2025

This case is important for two reasons. First, this 2024 case resulted in a decrease in the fuel factor following increases from the past couple of years. Second, an issue that arose from a customer complaint case was addressed in this docket. In Docket No. 2023-242-E, the Commission heard a customer complaint alleging improper billing by Duke Energy Progress (DEP). One area where the customer alleged to have been overcharged related to the charge for the Distributed Energy Resource Program (DERP). In that customer complaint docket, the Commission determined that DEP had charged the customer an extra DERP charge on the customer's outdoor lighting service. DEP agreed with the billing error related to that customer and started an investigation of possible instances where other customers may have also been overcharged. In this current fuel case, DEP reported results of its investigation and reported 3,584 accounts were affected by the overcharge for a total amount of $69,956.12. DEP agreed to refund the overcharges to all customers identified, and DEP is in the process of making the refunds to those customers. Further, the Commission required DEP to continue to investigate the DERP overcharge issue, report its findings to ORS, provide a root cause analysis and corrective action plan to ORS, and further update and address this issue in the 2025 annual fuel proceeding.

The statute governing the recovery of fuel costs by electric utilities is designed to provide recovery of prudently incurred fuel costs. The parties to the proceeding must present evidence regarding, and the Commission must review, the prices paid during the review period, the prices forecast for the upcoming twelve months, outages of generating units, and other factors to ensure that the utility made every reasonable effort to minimize fuel costs. The totality of my experiences (as a commissioner, previous work experiences, and numerous educational opportunities over a number of years) has helped me understand the concepts and issues presented in these cases which occur annually. Further, my experience helped to identify that one of the issues raised by the customer in the complaint docket was valid, leading to DEP's investigation and identification of the billing error which impacted numerous customers.

4. Accomplishments of the Public Service Commission

Describe what you believe are the greatest accomplishments of the commission during the review period.

The time in issuing Commission orders has improved. In the review period, the average time to issue orders improved to 32.83 days - an improvement from 37.80 days in 2022- 2023 and 39.55 days in 2021-

THURSDAY, APRIL 24, 2025

2022. The Commission speaks through its orders, and it is important to the parties, the public, the Commission, and the regulatory process that well written, well-reasoned, and accurate orders are issued in a timely manner. The Commission continues to work toward issuing all orders within thirty (30) days of the decision on a matter. During the review period, all orders subject to a statutory deadline have been issued within the statutory deadline.

During the review period and to assist with tracking and collaborating on orders, the Commission implemented the use of Smartsheet, a workflow management program. Among other functions, Smartsheet generates and sends reports to Commissioners and Staff from information entered into the spreadsheets in the program. Use of this program has assisted in keeping Commissioners informed on the status of orders, including when deadlines are nearing and when orders are available for review by Commissioners. Once the benefits of Smartsheet were observed, the Executive Director and Staff members identified other areas where Smartsheet could be useful and began using Smartsheet for workflow in other departments and areas. In my opinion, Smartsheet has proven to be an effective tool and has resulted in improved workflow, collaboration, and communication.

5. Work Schedule and Preparation.

A. Describe your schedule during an average work week. For example, how often are you in your office in Columbia? How many hours do you telecommute?

I live in Columbia and rarely telecommute. I am in the office daily, usually arriving by 8:30 a.m. and remaining in the office until 4:45 p.m. or later. When the daily or weekly schedule requires additional time, I arrive earlier or stay later than normal business hours or work on the weekend. I am accustomed to an office environment and am more comfortable with working in the office than working from home. Additionally, being in the office helps ensure that I have access to all materials I may need.

I usually start the day by going through emails and reviewing the daily activity report containing matters which were filed the previous day. A large part of Monday is spent reviewing matters on the agendas for the Commission business meeting, which is usually held on Thursday afternoon. Throughout the week, I will discuss upcoming matters on the meeting agenda with other commissioners and commission staff.

I spend a good portion of my time reviewing materials for upcoming hearings or upcoming business meetings. Preparation for hearings and meetings requires reviewing materials of each case or matter. Pleadings and prefiled testimony take considerable time to read. I read quite a bit while at the office and also read at home during the evenings and on weekends. After hearings, time is spent reviewing the record and proposed orders in preparation for making decisions on various matters at a Commission Business Meeting. After the Commission votes on a matter at the Commission Business Meeting, a directive recording the prevailing motion and vote is issued. Commission Staff attorneys then prepare an order memorializing the decision of the Commission and submit the order for Commissioner review. After I complete my review of an order, I will discuss with one or more of the attorneys any edits, suggestions, or concerns I have with the order. Reviewing the orders drafted by the staff attorneys and discussions following my review take time, but it is time well spent to produce a good order.

During the review period, I served as Chair of the Commission and met with the Executive Director and the leadership team to set the agendas for the business meetings. I also attended meetings with the Executive Director, managers, and other personnel regarding agency operations.

B. Describe how you prepare for a hearing.

Hearing preparation requires reading and studying the pleadings, prefiled testimony, and other documents filed in a case. Pursuant to Commission's regulations parties must prefile written testimony and exhibits. On most cases, I track the established dates for prefilings of testimony and exhibits so that I can obtain the prefiled testimony and exhibits within a few days of the documents being filed. I go through the testimony and exhibits to identify issues and make notes for reference. I try to keep up with additional materials as they are filed because I find it better to stay abreast as matters are received than try to absorb all the information at one time shortly before the hearing. However, once all the testimony and exhibits are filed, I go through the materials to ensure that I am familiar with the parties' positions, evidence, and arguments. I also research and review relevant statutes and case law on the issues presented. Commission staff members also provide briefings on major cases, and it is helpful to consult with staff members and other commissioners on issues and matters on which I have questions.

THURSDAY, APRIL 24, 2025

Following a hearing, work continues to prepare for discussion and voting on a case or matter at a business meeting. I review post-trial briefs or proposed orders and often review the hearing transcript or hearing record. Throughout the process, I try to discuss issues with other commissioners and with commission staff. These discussions with other commissioners and with commission staff are helpful to review the issues and evidence upon which the Commissioners must base our decisions.

6. Effects of Code of Judicial Conduct and South Carolina's ethics laws on your role as Commissioner.

In your own words, discuss how the Code of Judicial Conduct and the Ethics Laws interact and affect you and your role as a commissioner.

The Code of Judicial Conduct provides a set of ethical principles and guidelines to promote integrity, impartiality, and diligence. Our legal system is based on the premise that an independent, fair, and competent judiciary will interpret and apply the laws that govern us, and these same principles apply to Commissioners who serve on the Public Service Commission. The Code of Judicial Conduct provides guidance and structure to our professional and personal lives, and when followed, the Code of Judicial Conduct helps us maintain high standards of professional and personal conduct. Similarly, the State Ethics Laws also provide structure on how we must comport ourselves in the discharge of our duties.

It is an honor to serve as a Commissioner on the Public Service Commission. I take the responsibilities of this office seriously and strive to carry out my duties as a commissioner in a professional manner. Public trust is essential to government and is essential to being a good commissioner. It is important that we are fair, impartial, and unbiased. All who are impacted by the Commission's decisions, from the parties appearing before the Commission to ratepayers, deserve impartial decisions free from bias and improper influence. Adherence to the Code of Judicial Conduct and the state ethics rules help me be an effective commissioner and state employee.

7. Challenges of the Public Service Commission

Describe three challenges of the Public Service Commission during the review period, and how those challenges were managed.

A. Scheduling

During the review period, the Commission dealt with a number of complex and time consuming cases. Scheduling of matters is often a challenge. There are several types of cases which occur annually, and for these annual cases, schedules have been developed to meet dates for decisions which are set internally or by statute for when these cases must be decided. For many cases which do not require a hearing, study of pleadings, filings, and law is required to make an informed decision, and some of these cases require considerable preparation and study. In cases requiring a hearing, scheduling can be a challenge to ensure that parties have enough time for preparation, that time is reserved for hearing, that adequate time is afforded for commissioners to review the case record and deliberate before making a decision, and that sufficient time to prepare an order is reserved. Even after schedules are set, schedules must often be adjusted to accommodate requests from parties. Challenges in scheduling have been met by the Commission and the parties working together as much as possible to ensure that conflicts in scheduling are resolved while maintaining all parties' right to a fair process. Flexibility from the Commission and parties to the proceeding is needed to address scheduling of matters. Scheduling challenges will continue to arise, and the Commission will need to continue to work with the parties to ensure that all are afforded a fair hearing while balancing the Commission's need for sufficient time to study a record, make a decision, and timely issue a well-reasoned, complete order.

B. Content of Orders

While more of a goal than a challenge, the writing of clear, well-reasoned, accurate orders is an area where continued improvement is desired. The Commission's orders must accurately explain the case, address the issues presented, and clearly and correctly explain the reasons for the decision reached. The Commission has a statutory requirement to ensure that "final orders and decisions of the commission must be sufficient in detail to enable the court on appeal to determine the controverted questions presented ... and must include (1) findings and conclusions, and the reasons or bases therefore, upon all materials issues of fact or law presented." See, S.C. Code Ann. Section 58-3-250 (2015). Staff attorneys worked diligently on orders during the review period, and commissioners have worked with the staff attorneys in reviewing and providing suggestions to reflect the decisions of the Commission.

THURSDAY, APRIL 24, 2025

Content of the orders has been, and continues to be, a priority and is an area where improvement should always be sought.

C. Continued Improvement

Despite best efforts and hard work, issues will arise that indicate areas of improvement. The Commission and commission staff must be engaged to identify when improvements may be required. Upon identifying issues, we must all be willing to address the issue, work on solutions, and reassess to ensure resolution. As discussed above, shortening the timeframe for issuance of orders has been a challenge which the Commission and commission staff have worked to address and will continue to address. Identifying and utilizing technology (Smartsheet) is one area that helped in reducing the time to issue orders. However, technology alone will not solve an issue. We all must be willing to change habits or thoughts to improve our work. A mindset of "this is the way we have always done it" and not being open to change or new approaches will not produce different or better results. While change may not be easy, we must seek to improve so that we can do our best work and produce a quality work product. The only way to improve is to work with an open mind to new methods and opportunities and approaches. We are all creatures of habit; there is comfort in routine. However, the challenge lies in changing our habits and routines to work smarter and more effectively whether that be through embracing new technologies or by treating challenges as an opportunity for improvement.

8. Recusal

If there was a matter in which you were recused during the review period, provide a brief description of the matter and the reason(s) for the recusal.

I had no recusals during this review period for any reason under the Code of Judicial Conduct.

On June 20, 2023, I was on sick leave due to illness. The Commission was scheduled to hear two dockets on that date. Pursuant to Commission Order No. 2023-295 (dated April 27, 2023), the Commission scheduled the hearing in Docket No. 2022-159-E to be heard starting at 10:00 a.m. on June 20, 2023, and upon conclusion of that hearing, to hear the matter in Docket No. 2022-158-E. At the outset of the hearing in Docket No. 2022-159-E, a motion was made to hold the hearing in Docket No. 2022-158-E in abeyance to allow the parties additional time to discuss and resolve certain issues in that docket. That motion was granted on the record by the Acting Chairman, and the hearing in Docket No. 2022-158-E was not held. The hearing in Docket No. 2022-159-E proceeded as scheduled on June 20, 2023. Pursuant to S.C. Code Ann. Section 58-3-225 (2015) which states in relevant part, "If a commissioner is absent from or leaves a hearing for fifteen consecutive minutes or longer ... the commissioner may not participate in the deliberations or vote on the matter." Because I missed the hearing in Docket No. 2022-159-E, I did not participate in deliberations or vote on the matter when it came before the Commission for a decision.

NOTE: Do not provide any information that would violate the prohibition against ex parte communication or would otherwise violate any privilege.

Ethics Statement: I, Commissioner Florence P. Belser have read and understand the Code of Judicial Conduct and the ethics laws of South Carolina. I certify that I have adhered to these standards at all times during this review period.

1. Educational programs.

Provide the following information regarding educational programs attended:

A. The name of the program and the sponsoring organization

Duke University, Nicholas School of the Environment, Duke Environmental Leadership Master of Environmental Management (concentration in energy and the environment).

B. A description of the topics and any certificate or recognition received

Strategic Planning for Environmental Leaders: This course focused on the development of management skills, including decision-making, motivation, working in teams, organizational cultures, organizational design, learning organizations, and change management for private, public, and not-for-profit organizations.

Environmental Law and Policy: This course focused on the evolution of environmental policies from strict reliance on command-and-control systems to experimentation with alternative approaches by examining the history and context of U.S. policy development processes and institutions. This course also explored command approaches to air and water pollution and waste management and alternative approaches, such as market-based programs, public-private partnerships, voluntarism, policies for managing land, natural resources, species protection, and addressing transnational and global environmental problems.

Duke Environmental Leadership Seminar: This course focused on reflecting on each student's leadership journey, defining and refining the "WHY" for each student's leadership efforts, and learning and practicing leadership skills crucial for today's rapidly changing world.

THURSDAY, APRIL 24, 2025

Research Design for Environmental Social Science: The purpose of the course was to 1) examine the concept of 'research' (philosophy and epistemology, as well as practice) in general and the environmental and social sciences specifically and 2) overview types of data used by environmental, social scientists, and some specific methods for collecting them. Although a range of methods and data sources were scoped, the focus was on qualitative data and the methods used to 'collect' data from/with people; 3) introduce approaches to and methods for analyzing qualitative data and presenting it. Although topics and methods are relevant to social sciences generally, readings, examples, and activities highlight the relevance and utility of research methods for understanding human uses, values, interactions, and beliefs about the environment.

Mandatory Masters Project: This course was a culminating hands-on experience that allowed me to apply the professional skills and knowledge that I acquired in the classroom to tackle a real-world industry and government challenge.

After completing 36 hours of coursework, including a 43-page Master's project, Duke University, Nicholas School of the Environment awarded me a Master of Environmental Management on May 12, 2024.

C. How the program helped you as a commissioner and benefitted the Commission

This rigorous academic program has exposed me to educational theories and emerging issues of law, policy, and technology related to the provision of energy and environmental management. It has also enhanced my critical thinking skills regarding energy and environmental issues associated with the local community, the state, the nation, and the world. I have also received intensive leadership coaching and counseling, allowing me to grow as a leader. The commission has benefited from my participation in this program through my sharing of the lessons that I have learned with fellow commissioners and commission staff and offering a spectrum of academic perspectives during commission deliberations.

D. The amount of time spent out of the office due to attending educational programs.

THURSDAY, APRIL 24, 2025

I spent nine days out of the office during the rating period to complete this program.

- A. The name of the program and the sponsoring organization

United States Army Command and General Staff Officer College
Intermediate Leader Education Phases 2 and 3.

- B. A description of the topics and any certificate or recognition received C300A Unified Action: C300 Unified Action (UA) is a 44-hour block of instruction broken into two blocks (C300A and C300B) that builds on the study of the strategic level of war and systems perspective introduced in C200 Strategic Context of Operational Art. The block (C300A) begins with a basic understanding of the roles, functions, capabilities, limitations, and operational considerations of the US military services and unified action partners: US Army, US Air Force, US Navy & US Coast Guard, USMC, Special Operations Forces (SOF), Space Operations, Cyberspace Operations, Conventional Nuclear Integration, and Joint Logistics & Army Sustainment Support of UA. The remaining lessons (C300B in Phase 3) provided me with an understanding of the fundamentals of Unified Action, Joint Functions, the range of military operations (ROMO), Multinational Operations, and Interorganizational Cooperation and Support to provide the context for how joint forces and unified action partners are integrated and synchronized to support the Joint Force Command's plans and operations.

FI00 Force Management: This course focused on following the Force Management Model in examining primary systems, concepts, and issues of Army change management while describing how resource management supports integrating and maintaining capabilities at the unit level. Students' understanding of force management and resource management are key topics in developing military professionals who understand the service as a whole.

HI00 History: The course gave a broad perspective on the relationship between the study of history, the development of the theory upon which doctrine is written, and that doctrine's implementation in war. The block also examines the interplay between war and Western society and, through that perspective, some insights into the challenges and opportunities the US military faces today. The block consisted of 27 hours of instruction, distributed across thirteen lessons. H100 contributes to the college's outcomes by producing officers who can understand war, the spectrum of conflict, and the complexity of the operational environment (history, culture, ethics, geography). The block also develops critical and creative thinkers who can apply solutions to operational problems in a volatile, uncertain, complex, or ambiguous environment. Last, H100 enhances an officer's ability to communicate concepts clearly and precisely in written and oral forms.

L100 Leadership: This course discussed leadership in a formal professional military education setting. It also focused on professional growth as an organizational-level leader, centered on transitioning from direct to organizational-level leadership. It addressed the challenges leaders face as they improve organizations while operating to accomplish the mission.

C400 Apply US Army Doctrine: This course focused on learning and applying Unified Land Operations and Mission Command, which links critical and creative thinking with the tactical level of war, the strategic level of war, and Unified Action.

C500 Operational Art and Joint Planning: This course was a culminating hands-on capstone experience that allowed students to practice and display their understanding of operational art and design by developing, analyzing, and evaluating an operation approach with a doctrinally complete course of action at the operational level of war based on a scenario in the Baltics State region.

After completing 284.5 hours of coursework, including five significant papers, two briefings, eight exams, and a capstone project, I graduated from the United States Army Command and General Staff College Command and General Staff Officer Common Core Course on May 24, 2024.

C. How the program helped you as a commissioner and benefitted the Commission

This program helped me develop as a leader by teaching me to dissect and evaluate various leadership styles and organizational theories to determine their effectiveness. It also helped me understand how to use the tools available in an organization, including how to interpret and apply history to accomplish the desired end state. The commission benefitted from my participation in this program because I am actively using the skills that I learned to improve the efficiency and effectiveness of the commission at all levels (commissioners, staff, hearing preparation, hearings, and orders).

- D. The amount of time spent out of the office due to attending educational programs.

I spent 10 days out of the office during the rating period to complete this program.

- A. The name of the program and the sponsoring organization

National Association of Regulatory Utility Commissioners (NARUC) Winter Policy Summit

- B. A description of the topics and any certificate or recognition received

The Changing Energy Landscape and Regulatory Challenges: The Hon. Jennifer Granholm, Secretary of Energy, DOE

The Wright Touch: A Conversation with David Wright

The Hon. Tricia Pridemore, Georgia, hosted a one-on-one with the Hon. David Wright, Nuclear Regulatory Commission and past president of NARUC.

Measuring Equity: The Energy Equity Roundtable

The IIJA and IRA will provide more than $1 trillion in investments to address climate change and a just energy transition. There is a clear focus on equity in these significant investments, and the Justice40 Initiative is most visible. The established goal is to achieve an equitable distribution of resources, such that 40 percent of the federal investment spending should benefit disadvantaged and underserved communities. But how do you measure success? The goals of equitable opportunities, allocation of resources, and impact of programs cannot be achieved without a precise measure of what constitutes equity.

THURSDAY, APRIL 24, 2025

This session used a roundtable talk show format that brought together crucial energy equity stakeholders, including the current administration, corporate leaders, energy regulators, and community engagement experts. The roundtable discussed and examined existing initiatives to probe for a universal definition of equity. Participants further discussed evaluative tools to assess community needs and strategic approaches for policymakers who must direct efforts to achieve equitable impacts for underserved and disadvantaged communities. Discussions overall center on big-bucket energy issues such as infrastructure, transportation/EV, energy manufacturing/innovation, and Workforce development. This session stimulated collaborative conversations that could lead to action solutions so that the great energy transition leaves no community behind.

Overcoming the Transmission Bottleneck: Exploring Federal Funding and Regional Planning to Support Transmission Expansion for a Clean Energy Future

Over the past two decades, approximately 200 GW of wind and solar were added to the U.S. power grid, and recently enacted federal incentives in the Inflation Reduction Act (IRA) will only accelerate the deployment of clean energy and storage across the U.S. Currently, a large amount of potential clean power capacity is struggling with the wait times and costs of connecting to the transmission grid, and the declining construction of new high-voltage transmission lines over the last decade. A lack of sufficient transmission capacity stands to be a potential barrier to fully achieving IRA's emissions reduction potential, which studies have shown will require a doubling of the historical pace of electricity transmission expansion that has been seen over the last decade. This panel covered how IRA, IIJA, and DOE funding can be leveraged to support transmission projects by deploying capacity-enhancing Grid Enhancing Technologies (GETs) on existing transmission infrastructure and exploring ways to engage in effective regional infrastructure planning.

Making the Smart Grid Smarter Through Intelligent Rate Design

As the array of distributed energy resources (DERs) available to customers expands and diversifies, the ability to facilitate an increasingly flexible, efficient, and cleaner "grid of the future" becomes more important than ever. In the past decade, billions of dollars have been spent on "smart" meters and other advanced metering infrastructure (AMI) to modernize the grid, improve grid resilience, increase DER participation, and reduce costs to ratepayers. However, the benefits of a

THURSDAY, APRIL 24, 2025

"smart" grid can't be realized without implementing rates intelligently designed to activate changes on the demand side. Rate design is, therefore, central to optimizing DERs and the other benefits of AMI for customers and the grid. States are piloting and exploring DER-optimized rate designs, from designs that provide price signals to charge and discharge battery storage to options that encourage EV owners to charge their cars during off-peak hours. This panel explored the various time-varying and dynamic rate design options to facilitate optimized DER adoption, grid resilience, and increased customer benefits.

GSA-Utility Partnerships Will Cut Emissions and Lower Energy Costs for the Nation's Largest Energy Consumer

The federal government is the single largest consumer of energy in the country and also the country's biggest landlord, overseeing nearly 350,000 buildings. The U.S. General Services Administration (GSA) has committed to 100% Carbon Pollution-Free Electricity on a Net Annual Basis by 2030, including 50% on a 24/7 basis. GSA is continuing its work to eliminate onsite carbon pollution in newly constructed facilities and facilities undergoing major modernization to achieve Net-Zero Emissions Buildings by 2045, including a 50% reduction by 2032. Through these actions, GSA creates innovative economic opportunities that advance clean energy goals, create jobs, develop healthy and prosperous communities, and save taxpayer money. Partnerships are critical to success, including utilities regulated by NARUC's members. Panelists discussed the impact and implementation of these goals as well as the role of utility regulators and stakeholders.

First Do No Harm: Siting EV Charging Infrastructure Joint with the Committee on Energy Resources and the Environment

Electrification, including transportation electrification (TE), has the potential to be a source of downward pressure on rates. To allow for this potential, the infrastructure necessary to serve TE load must be sited strategically to avoid locations requiring costly and time-consuming upgrades to support additional load on the electric system. Moreover, as we prepare for the disbursement of National Electric Vehicle Infrastructure (NEVI) program funds, planning for and siting infrastructure in locations requiring less grid investment will stretch those funds. However, to ensure that ratepayers paying for all or a part of this infrastructure get the most benefits for their cost, charging infrastructure should be placed in high-traffic areas and convenient locations for EV users to maximize usage. To ensure these deciding factors are considered, regulators and utilities must partner with local traffic planners to determine if and where optimal traffic-based locations also have minimal grid upgrades and associated costs. Panelists discussed the issues mentioned above and offered an opportunity for the audience to ask questions.

Looking Back--and Forward--at FERC-State Engagement

Managing energy policies that affect the entire nation is a daunting but necessary task for regulators. This session looks at the relationship between state regulators and the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission in recent history, often with NARUC as an essential facilitator in these dialogues. We have reached a point where communication and engagement have increased, with all players having to, at times, navigate through an atmosphere of politics while staying focused on serving the public interest. Managing and respecting different and competing priorities is not a simple feat, and we've reached this point through intentional measures. The panelists, all former members of FERC, discussed how the relationships with state regulators have evolved and offered insight on how to ensure that the relationship continues in the right direction.

- C. How the program helped you as a commissioner and benefitted the Commission

Participating in NARUC's Winter Policy Summit helps me stay current on utility regulatory issues. It also benefits the commission by allowing commissioners to access utility regulatory information and discuss utility regulatory issues in an academic setting.

National Association of Regulatory Utility Commissioners (NARUC). Currently, I am a member of the electricity committee.

NARUC is a non-profit organization dedicated to representing the state public service commissions who regulate the utilities that provide essential services such as energy, telecommunications, power, water, and transportation.

NARUC's members include all 50 states, the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico, and the Virgin Islands. Most state commissioners are appointed by their governor or legislature, whereas commissioners in 11 states are elected by the public and in two states by the general assembly. NARUC's mission is to serve the public interest by improving the quality and effectiveness of public utility regulation. Under state laws, NARUC's members have an obligation to ensure the establishment and maintenance of utility services as may be required by law and to ensure that such services are provided at rates and conditions that are fair, reasonable, and nondiscriminatory for all consumers.

Participation in NARUC helps me stay knowledgeable and informed on various utility issues that impact South Carolina, the Southeast, and the rest of the United States.

I was out of the office for three days to attend NARUC's Winter Policy Summit.

3. Representation in Official Capacity as Commissioner.

For any event attended in your official capacity as commissioner that has not been included in item 1 or 2, provide the following information:

4. Notable Cases.

In your own words, describe three cases you participated in that you believe were the most significant during the review period. Provide a summary of the case, including the case name, the docket number, and the issues and outcome (two to three sentences). Your response should focus on: (a) why this case was significant; and (b) how the educational programs you attended, your participation in organizations and experience as a commissioner benefitted your decisions in each case.

2023-89-E: Duke Energy Progress, LLC's Petition for a Storm Securitization Financing Order ("Phase II")

Duke Energy Progress, LLC filed a petition before the commission requesting permission to securitize storm costs and up-front financing costs associated with the issuance of storm recovery bonds, approval of their securitization financing structure, approval to issue storm recovery bonds, approval of financing costs, and approval to create storm recovery property. This case was significant because it was the first petition for a storm securitization financing order in South Carolina and the result of the commission's approval of the petition will deliver $35 million in savings to ratepayers. The educational programs I attended during the review period gave me insight into long-term planning, innovative problem-solving, and best practices in the utility regulatory space, making it easier for me to understand, appreciate, and grant the petition.

2024-34-E: Application of Dominion Energy South Carolina, Inc. for Authority to Adjust and Increase Its Retail Electric Rate Schedules, Tariffs, and Terms and Conditions

Dominion Energy South Carolina, Inc. filed an application to adjust and increase its retail electric rates. Notwithstanding the unopposed settlement agreement, the applicant presented the most robust and transparent rate case I witnessed as a commissioner. This case was significant because it demonstrated the applicant's willingness to be accountable, forthright, and transparent with the commission, parties to the processing, and ratepayers. The educational programs that I attended during the review period, especially the education at Duke University and the United States Army Command and General Staff College, exposed me to various leadership methods, risks associated with utility operation and regulation, and the ability to learn from past mistakes without being crippled from moving forward towards a better future.

2023-242-E: Johnny Hedwin, Complainant/Petitioner v. Duke Energy Progress, LLC Defendant/Respondent

Johnny Hedwin filed a complaint against Duke Energy Progress, LLC (Company) alleging that the Company overcharged his electricity account. The commission conducted a hearing where Mr. Hedwin appeared as a pro se litigant. While working through this case, the commission identified a billing discrepancy on Mr. Hedwin's account, resulting in the company overcharging Mr. Hedwin. This case is significant because it demonstrates the commission's commitment to giving ratepayers access and due process as the commission worked with Mr. Hedwin so that he could appear virtually. While it may seem like a small accomplishment, the commission's staff worked very hard to make sure Mr. Hedwin could "have his day in court" without having to drive to Columbia, S.C. Additionally, this case is significant because it proves that when ratepayers have access and due process before the commission, the commission is empowered to better serve ratepayers by adjudicating matters that it would not know of without hearing the ratepayers case. In this case, the Company realized that Mr. Hedwin was not the only customer overcharged and was in the process of issuing refunds. The educational programs that I attended during the review period helped strengthen my ability to resolve unconventional issues involving parties with various backgrounds through a collaborative process that focuses on problem-solving rather than finger-pointing and casting blame.

5. Accomplishments of the Public Service Commission

Describe what you believe are the most significant accomplishments of the commission during the review period.

During this review period, the commission's most significant accomplishments were its continued commitment to demonstrated results in increasing access to the commission and protecting the due process of ratepayers, utilities, and interested parties. The commission has leveraged technology to allow ratepayers, utilities, and interested parties to appear in proceedings remotely, telephonically, and in person.

6. Work Schedule and Preparation.

- A. The average work week included a commission business meeting briefing on Mondays and commission business meetings on Thursdays at a minimum. Most weeks during the review period included a hearing or a hearing briefing. After the commission business meeting briefing, professional staff and commissioners prepare motions for each item. On average, I was in the office four days a week during the review period. When I was not in the office, I was telecommuting using my government-issued laptop, the docket management system, or performing reading and mental preparation for an upcoming matter.
- B. During this review period, I have worked closely with the Special Counsel to prepare for hearings. First, I prepared individually by reading the application/petition, the applicable law and regulations, and the pre-filed testimony and discussing my questions with the Special Counsel and other commissioners.

7. Effects of the Code of Judicial Conduct and South Carolina's ethics laws on your role as Commissioner.

In your own words, discuss how the Code of Judicial Conduct and the Ethics Laws interact and affect you and your role as a commissioner.

I constantly check my words and deeds against the Code of Judicial Conduct and the Ethics Laws to ensure that I meet both standards. Strictly adhering to these Laws is the only way to maintain public trust and afford all parties due process.

8. Challenges of the Public Service Commission

Describe three challenges of the Public Service Commission during the review period and how those challenges were managed.

Internal case management - The commission has many open complex dockets and double-digit filings are made in commission dockets daily. This creates an overwhelming number of matters to manage for commissioners and staff, and sometimes, filings fall through the cracks. The commission is managing this issue through new docket management software and continuing to refine the Docket Management System.

Understanding our purpose - The commission's mission is "[t]o regulate just and reasonable rates and services of public utilities in the state of South Carolina." Regulating utilities according to the applicable laws and regulations is not the same as managing a utility in the way that we believe is appropriate. The commission is managing this issue by focusing on understanding our limited role in the regulatory process by focusing on better understanding our laws and regulations.

Commissioner and staff efficiency and effectiveness - Since my election to the commission, the commission has increased its operational tempo every year. With the requirements of new laws and the filing of more cases, the commission is still working to identify the best commissioner and staff model that allows the commission to operate at maximum efficiency and effectiveness.

9. Recusal

If there was a matter in which you were recused during the review period, provide a brief description of the matter and the reason(s) for the recusal.

Not applicable for this review period.

THURSDAY, APRIL 24, 2025

NOTE: Do not provide any information that would violate the prohibition against ex parte communication or otherwise violate any privilege.

Ethics Statement: I, Commissioner Justin T. Williams have read and understand the Code of Judicial Conduct and the ethics laws of South Carolina. I certify that I have adhered to these standards at all times during this review period.

~~Indicates Matter Stricken~~

Indicates New Matter

The Senate assembled at 12:00 Noon, the hour to which it stood adjourned, and was called to order by the PRESIDENT.

A quorum being present, the proceedings were opened with a devotion by the Chaplain as follows:

Exodus 18:19

Jethro said to Moses, his son-in-law: “ ‘Listen to me and I will give you some advice, and may God be with you. You must be the people’s representative before God . . . ’ ”

Join me, please, as we bow in prayer: Most holy and glorious God, even though the days left in this Session are fast slipping away, still the Gressette meetings, the hallway (and under the dome) conversations, the phone calls and the debates here in this Chamber all continue. And as the need to accomplish key matters inevitably heightens, each of these Senators likely feels that pressure keenly. Indeed, even across our State the expectations of so many of our citizens are also sky high. Therefore, we fervently pray today that these leaders hold fast to Jethro’s admonition to Moses: that as “the people’s representative before God” these women and men serving here likewise keep uppermost in their minds the needs and desires of the people they have been called to serve. So, we pray in Your loving name, O Lord. Amen.

The PRESIDENT called for Petitions, Memorials, Presentments of Grand Juries and such like papers.

Amend the bill, before the enacting words, by adding:

Whereas, on June 28, 1776, days before the signing of the Declaration of Independence, South Carolinians valiantly defended Charleston from imminent capture by the British, thereby slowing the British advance through the South; and

Whereas, Colonel William Moultrie commanded men such as William Jasper, a volunteer who hoisted the South Carolina flag, an indigo blue with a silver crescent in the upper-left hand corner, in the heat of battle at Sullivan's Island; and

Whereas, the triumph of the patriots at Sullivan's Island, due in part to the fort's spongy palmetto logs that repelled the cannonballs of the enemy, delayed the fall of Charleston into British captivity until 1780, four years later; and

Whereas, the South Carolina backcountry witnessed many skirmishes and battles involving South Carolina militia and heroes such as Thomas Sumter, Andrew Pickens, and Francis Marion, including patriot victories at Williamson's Plantation, Cedar Springs, King's Mountain, Earle's Ford, Flat Rock, Thicketty Fort, Hanging Rock, and more; and

Whereas, renowned historian Walter Edgar stated that "the American Revolution was won in the backcountry of South Carolina." Now, therefore,

Amend the bill further, SECTION 1, by striking Section 56-3-1230(C) and inserting:

(C) Notwithstanding another provision of law to the contrary, the regular license plate for private passenger vehicles and motorcycles issued by the Department of Motor Vehicles from January 1, 2026, until December 31, 2032, shall commemorate the two hundred fiftieth anniversary of the American Revolution. Psalm 28:7a

The Psalmist tells us: "The Lord is my strength and my shield; my heart trusts in him, and I am helped."

Let us pray: O God above, for four months now those who dutifully serve You here in this Body -- these Senators and their aides and so many other support staffers -- have given evidence that they do trust in You. And, consequently, many good results have been noted. Therefore, dear Lord, know that our hearts are thankful to You for the blessings You have provided. But there is still more -- perhaps much more -- that cries out for completion. So allow these hard-working servants to continue trusting in You and seeking Your blessed assistance, O God. And may South Carolina herself be stronger as a result of all that these faithful women and men accomplish. In Your strong and loving name we humbly pray, dear Lord. Amen.

The PRESIDENT called for Petitions, Memorials, Presentments of Grand Juries and such like papers.

The Senate proceeded to a consideration of the Bill, the question being the second reading of the Bill.

Amendment No. 1

Senators ADAMS and RICE proposed the following amendment (SJ-3127.MB0003S), which was adopted:

Amend the bill, as and if amended, by striking all after the enacting words and inserting:

SECTION 1. Section 56-5-750 (A), (B) and (C) of the S.C. Code is amended to read:

(A) In the absence of mitigating circumstances, it is unlawful for a motor vehicle driver, while driving on a road, street, or highway of the State, to fail to stop when signaled by a law enforcement vehicle by means of a siren or flashing light. An attempt to increase the speed of a vehicle or in other manner avoid the pursuing law enforcement vehicle when signaled by a siren or flashing light is prima facie evidence of a violation of this section. Failure to see the flashing light or hear the siren does not excuse a failure to stop when the distance between the vehicles and other road conditions are such that it would be reasonable for a driver to hear or see the signals from the law enforcement vehicle.

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 30, 2025

(B) A person who violates the provisions of subsection (A):

(1) for a first offense where no great bodily injury or death resulted from the violation, is guilty of a ~~misdemeanor~~-felony and, upon conviction, must be fined not less than five hundred dollars or imprisoned for not less than ninety days nor more than ~~three~~-five years. The Department of Motor Vehicles must suspend the person's driver's license for at least thirty days; or

(2) for a second or subsequent offense where no great bodily injury or death resulted from the violation, is guilty of a felony and, upon conviction, must be imprisoned for not more than ~~five~~-ten years. The person's driver's license must be suspended by the department for a period of one year from the date of the conviction; or

(3) -where the person is found to have led law enforcement upon a high-speed pursuit, the person is guilty of a felony and, upon conviction, must be imprisoned for not less than three years and not more than five years, no part of which may be suspended, and the person's driver's license must be suspended for a period of one year from the date of conviction. For the purposes of this section, a high-speed pursuit occurs when the driver of the vehicle increases speed or takes evasive actions to avoid the pursuing law enforcement vehicle.

(C) A person who violates the provisions of subsection (A) and when driving performs an act forbidden by law or neglects a duty imposed by law in the driving of the vehicle:

(1) where great bodily injury resulted, is guilty of a felony and, upon conviction, must be imprisoned for not more than ~~ten~~-fifteen years; or

(2) where death resulted, is guilty of a felony and, upon conviction, must be imprisoned for not more than ~~twenty-five~~thirty years.

SECTION 2. This act takes effect one year after approval of the Governor.

Senator ADAMS explained the amendment.

The amendment was adopted.

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 30, 2025

Amendment No. 2

Senator MARTIN proposed the following amendment (SR-3127.CEM0001S), which was ruled out of order:

Amend the bill, as and if amended, by adding appropriately numbered SECTIONS to read:

SECTION X. Chapter 5, Title 56 of the S.C. Code is amended by adding:

Section 56-5-2790. (A) When a vehicle violates Section 56-5-2770, the vehicle owner or operator is joint and severally liable to the Department of Education to pay the administrative fees and civil penalty as provided for in this section.

(1) The department or its authorized agent may assess and collect a civil penalty of:

(a) not more than one hundred dollars for the first violation within a period of one year; and

(b) not more than two hundred fifty dollars for each subsequent violation within a period of one year.

(2) Upon failure to pay the administrative fees and civil penalty to the department within thirty days of the notice, the vehicle owner may be cited for failure to pay a penalty pursuant to this subsection and, upon an adjudication of liability, is subject to an additional civil penalty not to exceed five hundred dollars for each violation.

(a) The department or its authorized agent shall send:

(i) a "First Notice to Pay Penalty" to the owner or operator of a vehicle that, on one occasion in any twelve-month period, is identified as having been involved in a violation. The first notice must require payment to the department of the required penalty, plus an administrative fee, as provided for in subsection (A)(2), within thirty days of the mailing of the notice;

(ii) a "Second Notice to Pay Penalty" to the owner or operator of a vehicle that is identified as having been involved in a second toll violation in a twelve-month period or who has failed to respond to a "First Notice to Pay Penalty" notice within the required period. The second notice must require payment to the department of the required penalties, plus an administrative fee, as provided for in subsection (A)(2) within thirty days of the mailing of the notice; and

(iii) a "Third Failure to Pay a Penalty" citation to the owner or operator of a vehicle that is identified as having been involved in a third violation in a twelve-month period or who has failed to respond to a "Second Notice to Pay Penalty" notice within the required period. Within thirty days, the citation requires payment to the department of the unpaid penalties, plus an administrative fee of not more than twenty-five dollars for each violation, or the recipient's appearance in magistrate's court of the county in which the violation occurred or the municipal court of the city in which the violation occurred to contest the citation.

(b) A first, second, or third "Failure to Pay a Penalty" citation constitutes the summons and complaint for an action to recover the penalty and all applicable fees allowed pursuant to this section.

(3) If a magistrate or municipal judge determines that the person or entity charged with liability under this section is liable, then the magistrate or municipal judge shall collect the unpaid penalty and administrative fee and forward them to the department or its authorized agent. The magistrate or municipal judge may also impose a civil penalty of up to fifty dollars for each violation, plus court costs and attorney's fees. The civil penalty must be distributed in the same manner as other fines and penalties collected by the magistrate.

(a) If the owner or operator fails to satisfy the judgement within thirty days, then the court shall notify the Department of Motor Vehicles and the authorized agent, and the department shall suspend the registration of the vehicle that was operated when the penalty was not paid and deny the vehicle's registration or reregistration pursuant to Section 56-3-1335.

(b) The suspension shall remain in effect until the judgment is satisfied and evidence of its satisfaction has been presented to the Department of Motor Vehicles and the authorized agent.

(B) The department shall send by first-class mail a notice and penalty as prescribed in subsection (C) to the owner or operator of the vehicle identified as being involved in the violation of Section 56-5-2770. If a vehicle is registered in two or more names, the notices or citation must be mailed to the first name listed on the registration records. A manual or automatic record of the mailing of the notices or citation prepared in the ordinary course of business is prima facie evidence of the mailing of the notices or citation.

(C) The notice and penalty required by this section must contain:

(1) a certificate, sworn to or affirmed by an agent of the department, or a facsimile of it, that a violation of Section 56-5-2770 has occurred, based upon inspection of photographs, microphotographs, videotape, or other recorded images produced by a digital video-monitoring device mounted on a school bus, and is prima facie evidence of the violation and is admissible in any proceeding charging a violation pursuant to this section. The photograph, microphotograph, videotape, or other recorded image evidencing a violation must be available for inspection by the party charged and is admissible into evidence in a proceeding to adjudicate liability for a violation;

(2) the name and address of the vehicle owner alleged to be liable for a violation of Section 56-5-2770;

(3) the registration number of the vehicle involved in the violation;

(4) the location where the violation took place;

(5) the date and time of the violation;

(6) the identification number of the photo-monitoring system that recorded the violation or other document locator number;

(7) information advising of the manner and time in which liability may be contested;

(8) warning advising that failure to contest liability in the manner and time provided in this section is an admission of liability; and

(9) information advising that failure to pay the penalty may result in the suspension of vehicle registration as provided in Section 56-5-2790(A)(3).

(D) A vehicle owner who receives a notice or citation pursuant to this section shall have the following valid defenses available:

(1) for a period during which the vehicle involved in the violation was reported to a law enforcement division as having been stolen, a valid defense to an allegation of liability for a failure to pay a penalty is that the vehicle had been reported to a law enforcement division as stolen before the time the violation occurred and had not been recovered by the time of the violation;

(2) for a period in which the vehicle involved in the violation was stolen but had not been reported to a law enforcement division as having been stolen, a valid defense to an allegation of liability for a violation pursuant to this section is that the vehicle was reported as stolen within two hours after the discovery of the theft by the owner. For purposes of asserting the defense provided by this subitem, a certified copy of the police report on the stolen vehicle, sent by first-class mail to the department, its agent, or the magistrate's court or the municipal court having jurisdiction of the citation within thirty days after receipt of the notices or citation, is sufficient;

(3) for a period in which the vehicle involved in the violation was leased to another person or entity, then the lessor is not liable for the violation if the lessor sends to the department or to the court having jurisdiction over the citation a copy of the rental, lease, or another contract document covering the vehicle on the date of the violation, with the name and address of the lessee clearly legible, within thirty days after receiving the notices or citation;

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 30, 2025

(E) If an owner who pays the required fees, penalties, or both pursuant to this section was not the operator of the vehicle at the time of the violation, the owner may maintain an action for indemnification against the operator.

(F) An owner of a vehicle is not liable for a penalty imposed pursuant to this section if the operator of the vehicle has been convicted of a violation of Section 56-5-2770 for the same incident.

Amend the bill, as and if amended, by adding appropriately numbered SECTIONS to read:

SECTION X. Chapter 5, Title 56 of the S.C. Code is amended by adding:

Section 56-5-2790. (A) When a vehicle violates Section 56-5-2770, the vehicle owner or operator is joint and severally liable to the Department of Education to pay the administrative fees and civil penalty as provided for in this section.

(1) The department or its authorized agent may assess and collect a civil penalty of:

(a) not more than one hundred dollars for the first violation within a period of one year; and

(b) not more than two hundred fifty dollars for each subsequent violation within a period of one year.

(2) Upon failure to pay the administrative fees and civil penalty to the department within thirty days of the notice, the vehicle owner may be cited for failure to pay a penalty pursuant to this subsection and, upon an adjudication of liability, is subject to an additional civil penalty not to exceed five hundred dollars for each violation.

(a) The department or its authorized agent shall send:

(i) a "First Notice to Pay Penalty" to the owner or operator of a vehicle that, on one occasion in any twelve-month period, is identified as having been involved in a violation. The first notice must require payment to the department of the required penalty, plus an administrative fee, as provided for in subsection (A)(2), within thirty days of the mailing of the notice;

(ii) a "Second Notice to Pay Penalty" to the owner or operator of a vehicle that is identified as having been involved in a second toll violation in a twelve-month period or who has failed to respond to a

"First Notice to Pay Penalty" notice within the required period. The second notice must require payment to the department of the required penalties, plus an administrative fee, as provided for in subsection (A)(2) within thirty days of the mailing of the notice; and

(iii) a "Third Failure to Pay a Penalty" citation to the owner or operator of a vehicle that is identified as having been involved in a third violation in a twelve-month period or who has failed to respond to a "Second Notice to Pay Penalty" notice within the required period. Within thirty days, the citation requires payment to the department of the unpaid penalties, plus an administrative fee of not more than twenty-five dollars for each violation, or the recipient's appearance in magistrate's court of the county in which the violation occurred or the municipal court of the city in which the violation occurred to contest the citation.

(b) A first, second, or third "Failure to Pay a Penalty" citation constitutes the summons and complaint for an action to recover the penalty and all applicable fees allowed pursuant to this section.

(3) If a magistrate or municipal judge determines that the person or entity charged with liability under this section is liable, then the magistrate or municipal judge shall collect the unpaid penalty and administrative fee and forward them to the department or its authorized agent. The magistrate or municipal judge may also impose a civil penalty of up to fifty dollars for each violation, plus court costs and attorney's fees. The civil penalty must be distributed in the same manner as other fines and penalties collected by the magistrate.

(a) If the owner or operator fails to satisfy the judgement within thirty days, then the court shall notify the Department of Motor Vehicles and the authorized agent, and the department shall suspend the registration of the vehicle that was operated when the penalty was not paid and deny the vehicle's registration or reregistration pursuant to Section 56-3-1335.

(b) The suspension shall remain in effect until the judgment is satisfied and evidence of its satisfaction has been presented to the Department of Motor Vehicles and the authorized agent.

(B) The department shall send by first-class mail a notice and penalty as prescribed in subsection (C) to the owner or operator of the vehicle identified as being involved in the violation of section 56-5-2770. If a vehicle is registered in two or more names, the notices or citation must be mailed to the first name listed on the registration records. A manual or automatic record of the mailing of the notices or citation prepared in the ordinary course of business is prima facie evidence of the mailing of the notices or citation.

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 30, 2025

(C) The notice and penalty required by this section must contain:

(1) a certificate, sworn to or affirmed by an agent of the department, or a facsimile of it, that a violation of Section 56-5-2770 has occurred, based upon inspection of photographs, microphotographs, videotape, or other recorded images produced by a digital video-monitoring device mounted on a school bus, and is prima facie evidence of the violation and is admissible in any proceeding charging a violation pursuant to this section. The photograph, microphotograph, videotape, or other recorded image evidencing a violation must be available for inspection by the party charged and is admissible into evidence in a proceeding to adjudicate liability for a violation;

(2) the name and address of the vehicle owner alleged to be liable for a violation of Section 56-5-2770;

(3) the registration number of the vehicle involved in the violation;

(4) the location where the violation took place;

(5) the date and time of the violation;

(6) the identification number of the photo-monitoring system that recorded the violation or other document locator number;

(7) information advising of the manner and time in which liability may be contested;

(8) warning advising that failure to contest liability in the manner and time provided in this section is an admission of liability; and

(9) information advising that failure to pay the penalty may result in the suspension of vehicle registration as provided in Section 56-5-2790(A)(3).

(D) A vehicle owner who receives a notice or citation pursuant to this section shall have the following valid defenses available:

(1) for a period during which the vehicle involved in the violation was reported to a law enforcement division as having been stolen, a valid defense to an allegation of liability for a failure to pay a penalty is that the vehicle had been reported to a law enforcement division as stolen before the time the violation occurred and had not been recovered by the time of the violation;

(2) for a period in which the vehicle involved in the violation was stolen but had not been reported to a law enforcement division as having been stolen, a valid defense to an allegation of liability for a violation pursuant to this section is that the vehicle was reported as stolen within two hours after the discovery of the theft by the owner. (a) if the lessor complies with the provisions of this subitem, then the lessee of the vehicle on the date of the violation is subject to liability for the failure to pay the fees and penalties if the department or its agent mails a notice of liability to the lessee within thirty days after receipt of a copy of the rental, lease, or other contract document; and

(b) failure to send the information within the thirty-day period renders the lessor liable for the unpaid penalties and any administrative fees or additional penalties assessed pursuant to this section; and

(4) if the current owner of the vehicle was not the owner of the vehicle at the time of the violation, then it is a valid defense to liability that the person or entity who received the notice was not the owner of the vehicle at the time of the violation.

(E) If an owner who pays the required fees, penalties, or both pursuant to this section was not the operator of the vehicle at the time of the violation, the owner may maintain an action for indemnification against the operator.

Statement by Senator KIMBRELL

During the Agriculture and Natural Resources Committee meeting confirmation hearing for Myra Reece, I submitted a statement for the Journal recusing myself from the vote on her confirmation. I am a licensed real estate agent and at that time, I was working on a real estate transaction that may have involved a potential environmental concern. As a licensed real estate agent and a holder of a master's degree in law who was working with my real estate attorney on that potential environmental issue, I, out of an abundance of caution, recused myself from that vote in committee. That potential conflict has seemingly since passed, but to maintain consistency, I again recused myself on the final vote today on the confirmation of Myra Reece to head the South Carolina Department of Environmental Services.

The Senate assembled at 10:45 A.M., the hour to which it stood adjourned, and was called to order by the PRESIDENT.

A quorum being present, the proceedings were opened with a devotion by the Chaplain as follows:

Psalm 54:2

We yet again turn to the Psalmist, hearing his proclamation: "Hear my prayer, O God; listen to the words of my mouth."

Join your heart with mine as we pray: Eternal Father, heavenly Lord, today on this National Day of Prayer we can't help but muse upon one of the rich blessings we relish here in the United States: the freedom to pray. And so we pray, O God, finding comfort, hope, peace and renewal in our moments of personal and corporate prayer, even here within this Chamber, here at this state government complex, here in this State and in this Nation we love. And my prayer is that none of us in this place will ever be foolishly complacent or overly casual about our opportunities to bow before You whenever we can -- seeking Your guidance, offering thanksgiving, desperate for comfort. Truly, thank You for calling us to pray; may we never fail to do so. In Your wondrous and loving name we do pray, O Lord. Amen.

(2) Check the notification center's positive response system prior to excavating or demolishing to ensure that all operators have responded and that all facilities that may be affected by the proposed excavation or demolition have been marked.

(3) Plan the excavation or demolition to avoid damage to or minimize interference with facilities in and near the construction area.

(4) Excavation or demolition may begin ~~commence~~ prior to the specified commencement date provided in the notice required in this section ~~waiting period~~ if the excavator has confirmed that all operators responded with an appropriate positive response.

THURSDAY, MAY 1, 2025

(5) If an operator declares extraordinary circumstances, the excavator must not excavate or demolish until after the time and date that the operator provided in its response.

(6)(a) An operator's failure to respond to the positive response system does not prohibit the excavator from proceeding, provided there are no visible indications of a facility, such as a pole where an aerial facility transitions to underground, marker, pedestal, or valve at the proposed excavation or demolition site. However, if the excavator is aware of or observes indications of an unmarked facility, the excavator must not begin excavation or demolition until an additional ~~call~~notice is ~~made~~provided to the notification center detailing the facility, and an arrangement is made for the facility to be marked by the operator within three hours from the time the additional ~~call~~notice is received by the notification center.

(b) If the three-hour notice is made pursuant to item (a) and an operator failed to give a positive response within the timeframe required in this section and the excavator has fully complied with this section, the excavator shall not be deemed liable for any damages to an underground facility that would have been located if the operator had complied with its duties as an operator. This item shall not apply to any underground facility used to transport gas or hazardous liquid subject to the federal pipeline safety laws.

(7) Beginning on the date provided in the excavator's notice to the notification center, the excavator shall preserve the staking, marking, or other designation until no longer required. When a mark is no longer visible, but the work continues in the vicinity of the facility, the excavator must request a re-mark from the notification center to ensure the protection of the facility.

(8) The excavator shall notify the notification center's positive response system when the excavation or demolition is complete.

(9) An excavator may not perform any excavation or demolition within the tolerance zone, including work done in the tolerance zone below or above an existing facility, unless the following conditions are met:

(a) no use of mechanized equipment, except ~~non-invasive~~soft digging equipment specifically designed or intended to protect the integrity of the facility, within the marked tolerance zone of an existing facility until:

(i) the excavator has visually identified the precise location of the facility, or has visually confirmed that no facility is present up to the depth of excavation; and

THURSDAY, MAY 1, 2025

(ii) reasonable precautions are taken to avoid any substantial weakening of the facility's structural or lateral support, or both, or penetration or destruction of the facilities or their protective coatings.

Mechanical means may be used, as necessary, for initial penetration and removal of pavement or other materials requiring use of mechanical means of excavation and then only to the depth of the pavement or other materials. For parallel type excavations within the tolerance zone, the existing facility shall be visually identified at intervals not to exceed fifty feet along the line of excavation to avoid damages. When excavation involves crossing an existing marked facility, the excavator must visually verify minimum clearance of the tolerance zone above or below the existing facility using appropriate methods, such as hand digging or soft digging techniques to visually identify and protect existing facilities where the excavation crossing occurs. The excavator shall exercise due care at all times to protect the facilities when exposing these facilities;

(b) maintain clearance between a facility and the cutting edge or point of any mechanized equipment, taking into account the known limit of control of such cutting edge or point, as may be reasonably necessary to avoid damage to such facility; and

(c) provide support for facilities in and near the excavation or demolition area, including backfill operations, as may be reasonably required by the operator for the protection of such facilities.

Amend the bill further, SECTION 1, by striking Section 58-36-70(B) and inserting:

(B) The information in subsection (A) must be provided to the excavator prior to the commencement date provided in the notice or within:

~~— (1) three full working days, not including the day the notice was made, for a facility after notice of the proposed excavation or demolition to the notification center;~~

The Senate assembled at 12:00 Noon, the hour to which it stood adjourned, and was called to order by the PRESIDENT.

A quorum being present, the proceedings were opened with a devotion by the Chaplain as follows:

Isaiah 66:2b

We read how the Lord tells us: "This is the one I esteem: he who is humble and contrite in spirit and trembles at my word."

Bow with me as we pray: Most glorious Lord, we bow today in honor of our heroes, those women and men who from our country's very beginning have faithfully and valiantly worked to preserve the key values which make our Nation strong. And it is not only those from the past that we lift up before You, O God. So do we recognize the men and women who are our modern-day heroes: those in uniform who defend freedom around the world, those across our land in elected office who serve honorably and without desire for personal gain, and especially all here in this Senate who labor effectively on behalf of the people of South Carolina. Indeed, dear God, bless these "heroes" as they strive to accomplish great good. In Your loving name do we pray, O Lord. Amen.

TUESDAY, MAY 6, 2025

between South Carolina and its wintering grounds in Central and South America; and

Amend the bill further, before the enacting words, by striking the second paragraph and inserting:

Whereas, South Carolina provides critical breeding, stopover, and foraging habitat for the ~~Prothonotary Warbler~~ Spinus tristis during its annual lifecycle, particularly in the state's bottomland hardwood forests, swamps, and wetlands, such as Audubon's 18,000 acre Francis Beidler Forest in Four Holes swamp, providing tree cavities for nesting and an abundant supply of insects for food, which are essential for nesting, feeding, and resting as the species travels thousands of miles between continents; and

Amend the bill further, before the enacting words, by striking the third paragraph and inserting:

Whereas, the ~~warbler~~ Spinus tristis is an indicator species, meaning its presence reflects the health of South Carolina's wetland ecosystems, and protecting its habitat benefits not only the ~~Prothonotary Warbler~~ Spinus tristis but also a diverse array of wildlife, including other migratory birds, amphibians, fish, and invertebrates that rely on these environments; and

Amend the bill further, before the enacting words, by striking the fourth paragraph and inserting:

Whereas, South Carolina's natural resources—including its rivers, forests, and wetlands—are vital to the state's economy, culture, and biodiversity, and recognizing the ~~Prothonotary Warbler~~ Spinus tristis as the official state migratory bird will underscore South Carolina's commitment to conservation, ecotourism, and the protection of its natural heritage; and

Amend the bill further, before the enacting words, by striking the fifth paragraph and inserting:

Whereas, promoting awareness of the ~~Prothonotary Warbler~~ Spinus tristis and its habitat needs will help encourage responsible land and water management, ensuring that South Carolina's rich environmental legacy is preserved for future generations. Now, therefore,

Amend the bill further, by striking SECTION 1 and inserting:

SECTION 1. This act may be cited as the "~~Prothonotary Warbler~~ Spinus tristis Recognition Act."

Amend the bill further, SECTION 2, by striking Section 1-1-613 and inserting:

(a) for still gun hunts, October 11 through October 23 on private land and October 11 through October 16 on wildlife management areas; and

(b) for dog hunts, October 17 through October 30 on private land and on wildlife management areas. ~~A party dog hunt in Game Zone 1 may not exceed twenty-five participants per party and shall register with the department by September first. Party participants, except those not required to have licenses shall submit their hunting license number in order to register.~~

(2) In all other game zones, the General Assembly finds it in the best interest of the State to allow the taking of black bear under strictly controlled conditions and circumstances. The department may establish a bear management program that allows for hunting and selective removal of bear in order to provide for the sound management of the animals and to ensure the continued viability of the species. The department must promulgate regulations to set the conditions for taking, including methods of take, areas, times, limits, and seasons, and other conditions to properly control the harvest of bear.

appropriate quota of bear to be harvested in each game zone, or county within a game zone, and shall further promulgate regulations necessary to properly control the harvest of bear. The department may close an open season at any time, provided that the department gives at least twenty-four hours' notice to the public of the closure.

(B) In game Zones, 2, 3, and 4 where the department declares an open season, the department shall determine an appropriate quota of bear to be harvested in each game zone, or county within a game zone and shall further promulgate regulations necessary to properly control the harvest of the bear. The department may close an open season at any time, provided that the department gives at least twenty-four hours' notice to the public of the closure.

(C) In Game Zones 2, 3, and 4 where the department declares an open season for hunting and taking bears on wildlife management areas, and all other areas under the ownership, control, or lease of the department, the season will be set by the department. The department may close an open season at any time, provided that the department gives at least twenty-four hours' notice to the public of the closure.

(E) It is unlawful to:

(1) hunt, take, or attempt to take a bear except during the open season;

(c) "Baited area" means an area where bait is directly or indirectly placed, exposed, deposited, distributed, or scattered, and the area remains a baited area for ten days following complete removal of all bait. Nothing in this section prohibits the hunting and taking of bear on or over lands or areas that are not otherwise baited and where:

(i) there are standing crops on the field where grown, including crops grown for wildlife management purposes; or

Indicates New Matter

The Senate assembled at 10:01 A.M., the hour to which it stood adjourned, and was called to order by the PRESIDENT.

A quorum being present, the proceedings were opened with a devotion by the Chaplain as follows:

Romans 14:12

The Apostle Paul's words are hard-hitting, as he says in Romans: "So each of us will give an account of himself to God."

Let us pray: Is there a single one of us, O God, who is not his or her own harshest critic? It is indeed so hard when the pressures of life are great and we fail to be the leader we think You intend for us to be, and the easy choice, the half-baked decision, sadly becomes our slippery slope. That, Lord, is why, in a time like we currently find ourselves, when what once seemed like ample opportunity to get things done, the way ahead suddenly seems filled with impossible challenges. So we pray, touch the heart of each Senator and every aide, O God. Grant them the knowledge that, in the things that really matter, those servants who genuinely trust in You can be assured that You will indeed bless them for their faithfulness. In Your precious name we pray, dear Lord. Amen.

~~Indicates Matter Stricken~~

Indicates New Matter

The Senate assembled at 10:01 A.M., the hour to which it stood adjourned, and was called to order by the PRESIDENT.

A quorum being present, the proceedings were opened with a devotion by the Chaplain as follows:

Exodus 40:33

Near the end of the book of Exodus we read that Moses: “. . . set up the court around the tabernacle and the altar, and put up the screen at the gate of the court. So Moses finished the work.”

Bow with me as we pray, good friends: Glorious and ever-loving Lord God, we are fully aware that we have reached a milestone of sorts today. Indeed, today is this Regular Session of the South Carolina General Assembly’s “last day.” Officially, that is. There is still much to be done over the days ahead, for unlike Moses and his completed work, these faithful and dedicated servants here in this Senate will be coming back. Even though they have accomplished a great deal, they still have further work to tackle for the good of the people of this State. So bless these Senators and their aides as they catch their breath for a bit, O God. And bless them even more so when they return. In Your gracious and loving name we pray, dear Lord. Amen.

Remarks by Senator MASSEY

The Judiciary staff always does tremendous work. The committee and its staff probably services more than half of all legislation that comes through this Body. And there's a lot of work to do so I appreciate your recognition of them. But, if it's okay, I would also like to recognize a former member of the Judiciary Committee staff, Mr. Andy Fiffick, and the tremendous amount of work he did for the committee, the Senate, and our State. He was an integral part of both the Judiciary team and our Senate team. When we lost Andy, I know the Judiciary staff suffered greatly -- and so did a lot of others -- because he was very close to many of us. He did a lot of stuff behind the scenes and never really sought the spotlight or attention. So, since you're recognizing the Judiciary staff, I want to take a moment to especially recognize Andy and all the great work he did for the committee and for the Senate.

If the child enters the custody of the department pursuant to Section 63-9-330 and no action is pending in the family court concerning the child, the department may initiate the permanency planning hearing with a summons and petition for review. All parties must be served with the motion or the summons and petition at least ten days before the hearing, and no responsive pleading is required. Upon motion by the department and if the court determines it is in the best interest of the child, the court may allow the permanency planning hearing to be held later than nine months, but no later than one year after the date the child was first placed in foster care. The case may not be dismissed for failure to hold the permanency planning hearing after nine months. If the hearing has not been held within nine months, a party aggrieved by the delay may motion the court to set the hearing for a date certain.

Indicates New Matter

The Senate assembled at 12:00 Noon, the hour to which it stood adjourned, and was called to order by the PRESIDENT.

A quorum being present, the proceedings were opened with a devotion by the Chaplain as follows:

Genesis 8:11

In Genesis Chapter 8 we read that: "When the dove returned to him in the evening, there was in its beak a freshly plucked olive leaf! Then Noah knew that the water had receded from the earth."

Good friends, please bow with me as we pray: Most holy God, it had to be a tremendous moment of release and hope for Noah to come finally to that point when he could take a deep breath, realizing that the floodwaters were subsiding. Tension, anxiety, perhaps frustration surely lessened for him. And that is what I find myself seeking for these Senators and their aides, dear Lord: for them to gain a clear sense of cleaning the slate, of completing a major portion of their work, of wrapping up this 126th Regular Legislative Session. So as they have today returned to tackle formidable challenges, dear Lord, may these leaders find themselves not only grateful for the steadfastness You grant to them, but also allow them to sense Your guiding presence as they yet again labor together to do their very best for the people of South Carolina. So we pray in Your loving name, dear Lord. Amen.

The PRESIDENT called for Petitions, Memorials, Presentments of Grand Juries and such like papers.

The veto was ordered placed on the Calendar for consideration tomorrow.

Motion Adopted

Senator TEDDER asked unanimous consent that the veto of the Governor regarding S. 136 be taken up for consideration.

May 22, 2025

The Honorable Thomas C. Alexander
President of the South Carolina Senate
State House, Second Floor
Columbia, South Carolina 29201

Dear Mr. President and members of the Senate:

I am hereby vetoing and returning without my approval R-86, S. 136, which seeks to require prosecutors in South Carolina to dismiss pending charges for unlawful possession of a handgun pursuant to Section 16-23-20 of the South Carolina Code of Laws, as amended by the S.C. Constitutional Carry/Second Amendment Preservation Act of 2024, “if the charges occurred prior to the enactment of” that Act. As the General Assembly may recall, I vetoed nearly identical legislation last year. See S. 1166 (R-200), 125th General Assembly, 2d Reg. Sess. (May 21, 2024). While the Senate voted to override my objections to that Bill, the House of Representatives declined to do so.

Although I appreciate that the General Assembly included language in this year’s legislation to address law enforcement’s concerns that the blanket dismissal of these charges could theoretically serve as the basis for wrongful arrest lawsuits, given that the operative language in S. 136 is nearly identical to last year’s Bill, my fundamental objections to the legislation remain unchanged. As a former United States Attorney and South Carolina Attorney General, I have great respect and admiration for prosecutors and recognize the important role that prosecutorial discretion plays in our criminal justice system. I am therefore wary of any attempt to limit that authority and discretion. Every case is unique, and the prosecutors in our State should be permitted to evaluate each case based on the law and the facts and then proceed as they deem appropriate. Some charges might warrant dismissal; other charges may warrant continued prosecution. Unfortunately, S. 136 would universally strip prosecutors of the ability to make such individualized determinations.

I similarly remain skeptical of, and opposed to, S. 136's mandatory, blanket dismissals of pending criminal charges for another reason: When the defendants who would benefit from these dismissals committed their alleged crimes, their alleged actions were, in fact, unlawful. To be sure, those actions might not be illegal today, but that distinction misses the critical point that such actions were illegal at the time they were committed. I have repeatedly noted my belief in the importance of upholding and adhering to the Rule of Law, which requires not only that everyone follow the law as written but also that the law apply equally to every person. If a person disobeys the law, consequences -- including potential criminal prosecution -- may follow, even if a person believes a law should be changed. Just as all speeding tickets would not automatically disappear if a speed limit is subsequently increased, universal dismissals are rarely the answer for previous violations of a later-amended law. Likewise, I remain convinced that blanket dismissals are unnecessary in this context.

As a practical matter, continuing to pursue criminal charges despite an intervening change in law may make for a difficult prosecution, but if a prosecutor determines that the facts warrant prosecution, I do not believe that it is appropriate for the General Assembly to obviate that discretionary authority, in all cases, in the abstract. While I am advised that the universe of pending charges for unlawful possession of a handgun, without companion offenses, is particularly limited, to the extent that this Bill's proponents have generally claimed that these remaining charges are the product of procedural stagnation rather than prosecutorial discretion, I am confident that our state's Circuit Solicitors will expeditiously review these pending charges and determine whether to proceed based on the facts and the law. To the extent further analysis or assistance may be required, by copy of this letter, I am simultaneously advising the Attorney General of this matter in view of his role as "the chief prosecuting officer of the State” with authority to supervise the prosecution of all criminal cases in courts of record.” S.C. Const. Art. V, Section 24.

For the foregoing reasons, I am respectfully vetoing R-86, S. 136 and returning the same without my signature.

Yours very truly,

Henry Dargan McMaster
