2004-14

WHEREAS, the South Carolina Democratic Party Executive Committee (“Committee”), pursuant to its authority under Article 5, Section 17, Title 7 of the South Carolina Code of Laws, (1976), as amended, voided the Lee County School Board District Two Democratic Primary held on June 8, 2004, and the Democratic Run-off held on June 22, 2004, due to voting irregularities; and

WHEREAS, on July 2, 2004, I received a request from the Committee to set a new primary election for Lee County School Board District Two; and

WHEREAS, the Lee County Board of Elections and Registration has requested that the new election be held on September 21, 2004, in order to comply with the notice provisions in the South Carolina Code of Laws and the pre-clearance requirements of Section 5 of the Voting Rights Act of 1965; and

WHEREAS, Section 7-13-1170 of the South Carolina Code of Laws (1976), as amended, provides “when any election official of any political subdivision of this State charged with ordering, providing for, or holding an election has neglected, failed, or refused to order, provide for, or hold the election at the time appointed, or if for any reason the election is declared void by competent authority, and these facts are made to appear to the satisfaction of the Governor, he shall, should the law not otherwise provide for this contingency, order an election or a new election to be held at the time and place, and upon the notice being given which to him appears adequate to insure the will of the electorate being fairly expressed. To that end, he may designate the existing election official or other person as he may appoint to perform the necessary official duties pertaining to the election and to declare the result.”

NOW, THEREFORE, pursuant to the authority vested in me by the Constitution and Statutes of the State of South Carolina, I hereby (a) order that a new primary election be held for Lee County School Board District Two on September 21, 2004, or at the earliest possible date and time after September 21, 2004, as is permitted by the United States Department of Justice; and (b) designate the Lee County Board of Elections and Registration to perform the necessary official duties pertaining to the election and to declare the result.

In addition, the “Tax Policy” section of the Department’s website also maintains an “Advisory Opinion Calendar” that allows the public to track the progress of draft and temporary advisory opinions. The calendar includes information and deadlines on how to provide comments about and suggest alternatives to draft opinions. Upon issuance, a link to the final advisory opinion will be listed on the calendar temporarily and will be then be moved to the topic index.

Synopsis:

On June 15, 2004, the South Carolina Aquatic Life Protection Act (Act 258) was signed by the Governor and became effective for South Carolina. The Act amends the Pollution Control Act by adding section 48-1-87 to address specific issues regarding whole effluent toxicity (WET) testing in the State of South Carolina. Section E. of the Act states, “The Department shall establish formal data quality objectives that define the level of accuracy and precision necessary to correctly evaluate WET test results and shall establish an enhanced laboratory certification program to implement those objectives.” In order to comply with this provision of the Act, the Department is proposing to amend R.61-9 to include formal data quality objectives for use in our laboratory certification program. This review will consider several issues to include, but not be limited to, the following:

- Variability criteria in 40 CFR Part 136 (Tuesday, November 19, 2002), Guidelines Establishing Test Procedures for the Analysis of Pollutants; Whole Effluent Toxicity Test Methods; Final Rule
- Assessment of potential indigenous South Carolina flora and fauna as suitable test species for WET testing.
- Species specific and/or other taxonomic level specific data quality objectives (DQOs).
- DQOs based on available data collected and reviewed for South Carolina toxicity tests.
- DQOs based on data collected from future studies of representative lakes, streams, and estuaries of the State.

DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH AND HUMAN SERVICES
CHAPTER 126
Statutory Authority: 1976 Code Section 44-6-90

Notice of Drafting:

The South Carolina Department of Health and Human Services (DHHS) intends to amend regulations concerning its Medicaid provider policies. The proposed amendments are being made to add specificity to provider conditions of participation and to enhance the South Carolina Medicaid program’s ability to curtail wasteful, unnecessary, abusive, and potentially fraudulent activities by certain providers. DHHS is enhancing its ability to identify overpayments made to providers and is implementing procedures to specify record retention policies, define a recoupment, conduct analyses to identify overpayments, implement procedures to collect overpayments, and implement procedures to impose interest and sanctions on providers after considering information submitted by a provider. Interested persons may submit comments in writing or request a copy of the proposed amendments by contacting Ms. Julie Cook, Director, Division of Program Integrity, 1801 Main Street, Suite M112, Columbia, South Carolina 29202. To be considered, all comments must be received no later than the close of business on September 27, 2004.

Synopsis:

The proposed amendments at Subarticle 2, Chapter 126-425 1) define “recoupment” and “sanction”; 2) define DHHS’s record retention policies and require providers to maintain records sufficient to document the amount, scope, and duration of the service for a minimum of five (5) years; 3) permit DHHS to collect overpayments from providers for up to five (5) years from the date a claim was paid; 4) specify DHHS’s review activities and process, including sampling of provider records; 5) provide circumstances, conditions, and provider actions that may lead to the collection of overpayments and imposition of sanctions by DHHS; 6) specify the process for notifying providers of overpayments; and 7) specify actions by a provider that may lead to immediate sanctions imposed on a provider by DHHS. These policies and procedures have a vital role in assisting the Department in curtailing potential overpayments, and eliminating unnecessary and wasteful payments to providers.

DEPARTMENT OF REVENUE
Chapter 7
Statutory Authority: 1976 Code Sections 12-4-320 and 61-2-60

Notice of Drafting:

The South Carolina Department of Revenue is considering amending SC Regulation 7-200.1 to delete the cooking license provisions of subsection F and replace those provisions with one stating that the holder of a retail permit or license issued pursuant to Tile 61 must obtain and maintain a retail sales tax license issued pursuant to Chapter 36 of Title 12. In addition, the provisions will state that if the retail sales tax license is revoked, then the Department will seek revocation of all permits and licenses issued under Title 61. The Department is also considering amending subsection J to clarify that the request for refund applies to the permit or license fee. The proposal to amend SC Regulation 7-200.1 is needed to ensure that taxpayers understand (1) that only a cooking license is needed if a location that offers meals to the public purchases liquor for use solely in the cooking and preparing meals served by the location and not for sale to the public; (2) that all holders of a retail permit or license issued pursuant to the alcoholic beverage laws must also maintain a retail sales tax license for the same location; and (3) that only the permit or license fee is refundable if a timely refund request is received with respect to a permit or license that was not used.

Interested persons may submit written comments to Meredith F. Cleland, South Carolina Department of Revenue, Legislative Services, P.O. Box 125, Columbia, SC 29214. To be considered, comments must be received no later than 5:00 p.m. on September 28, 2004.

Preamble:

NOTE—This article is identical to the International Fuel Gas Code, 2003 Edition, in accordance with the statutory amendments to acts governing the Building Codes Council, except for the following modifications:

Section-by-Section Discussion:

Section G505.1.1
Adds language prohibiting bypassing a solenoid valve installed in conjunction with gas piping to a gas appliance when it is part of an interlock system. The requirement pertains to manually operated gas appliances containing pilot lights. Bypassing the valves allows a limited amount of gas flow to continue to the pilot lights during periods of shut down. The volume of gas flow may not be enough to sustain combustion at all open burners, but enough to possibly accumulate in a confined space resulting in a hazardous situation.

This modification also adds an exception allowing an interlock option between cooking appliances and exhaust hood systems if the appliances are manually operated and factory equipped with standing pilot burner ignition systems.

Notice of Public Hearing and Opportunity for Public Comment:

Should a hearing be requested pursuant to Section 1-23-110(b) of the 1976 Code, as amended, such a hearing will be conducted at the Administrative Law Judge Division at 10:00 a.m. on Tuesday, November 9, 2004. Written comments may be directed to Gary F. Wiggins, Administrator, South Carolina Building Codes Council, Department of Labor, Licensing, and Regulation, Post Office Box 11329, Columbia, South Carolina 29211-1329, no later than 5:00 p.m., October 26, 2004.

Preliminary Fiscal Impact Statement:

There will be no cost incurred by the State or any of its political subdivisions.

Statement of Need and Reasonableness:

DESCRIPTION OF REGULATION:

Legal Authority: 1976 Code, 6-9-40.

Plan for Implementation: The amended regulation will take effect upon approval by General Assembly and upon publication in the State Register. LLR will notify local officials and licensees of the amended regulation and post the amended regulation on the agency's web site.
DETERMINATION OF NEED AND REASONABLENESS OF THE PROPOSED REGULATION BASED ON ALL FACTORS HEREIN AND EXPECTED BENEFITS:

Statement of Rationale:

There was no scientific or technical basis relied upon in the development of this regulation.

Text:

Section G505.1.1
Where commercial cooking appliances are vented by means of the Type I or Type II kitchen exhaust hood system that serves such appliances, the exhaust system shall be fan powered and the appliances shall be interlocked with the exhaust hood system to prevent appliance operation when the exhaust hood system is not operating. Where a solenoid valve is installed in the gas piping as part of an interlock system, gas piping shall not be installed to bypass such valve. Dampers shall not be installed in the exhaust system. Exception: An interlock between the cooking appliance and the exhaust hood system shall not be required for appliances that are of the manually operated type and are factory equipped with standing pilot burner ignition systems.

Preamble:

NOTE—This article is identical to the International Residential Code, 2003 Edition, in accordance with the statutory amendments to acts governing the Building Codes Council, except for the following modifications:

Section-by-Section Discussion:

Section R202
Expands definition of “story.” Includes language allowing single and two family residences to be built in accordance with the International Residential Code when there are three habitable stories above a usable story, which is not habitable but exists for the purpose of raising the house above the flood plain.

Section R301.2(2)
Adds most recent seismic design map. Includes a new seismic zone designated as D₀ (D sub zero) that is not included in the 2003 Edition of the International Residential Code, but will be included in the 2006 Edition. The D₀ zone reduces the area of the existing D₁ zone in South Carolina and provides less restrictive, and thus less costly, construction requirements. The Building Codes Council determined that the latest map is conclusive and available for use.

Section R301.2.2
Modifies D₀ design category to establish the design criteria for the new D₀ seismic zone created by the modification to Section R301.2(2).

A moratorium was placed on enforcement of the D₀ (D sub zero) seismic design requirements for those areas in South Carolina designated as D₀, until adoption of the 2006 International Residential Code. The design requirements for the seismic zone C will be in effect for those areas in South Carolina designated as D₀.

Section R311.4.3
Adds language and exception to prevent water intrusion at exterior/exit doors.

Section R311.5.3
Modifies language concerning stair geometry to include more logical and flexible design criteria for the stair treads (walking surfaces) and risers (distance between treads).

Section R311.5.6.1
Modifies minimum height for handrails for stairs and ramps to be consistent with prior editions of the code and prior construction practices in South Carolina.

Deletes requirement for air-entrained concrete for garage floors.

Section R403.1.4.2
Modifies requirement for interior footings supporting bearing or bracing walls and cast monolithically with a slab on grade in Seismic Design Categories D₁ and D₂ to provide that interior footings will still be placed at a depth where adequate bearing capacity is provided, but will not require them to extend to a point that is deeper than the exterior footings. The modification has also been approved by the International Code Council and will be included in the 2006 Edition of the International Residential Code.

Section R403.1.6
Adds exceptions to allow short walls, which do not provide any significant strength in the main force resisting direction, to be attached with fewer bolts, while still maintaining uplift protection.

Section R403.1.7
Deletes Sections R403.1.7 (Footings on or Adjacent to Slopes); R402.1.7.1 (Building Clearances from Ascending Slopes); R403.1.7.2 (Footings Setback from Descending Slope Surfaces); R403.1.7.3 (Foundation

Elevation; R403.1.7.4 (Alternate Setback and Clearances); figure R403.1.7.1 (Foundation Clearance from Slopes) that establish limitations for sites with varying topography, as they may be more appropriate in local zoning ordinances.

Table R502.5(1)
Adds an additional table (identified as Table R502.5(1A)) with the existing table, which will allow for the use of standard lumber as an alternative to engineered wood for the fabrication of headers over 6 feet in length.

Section R502.11.4
Modifies section to allow the approval of roof truss design drawings by local building officials to occur at the time of the framing inspection, rather than at an undefined time prior to installation. The truss design drawings will be required to be provided with the shipment of trusses and be available on the construction site for review by an inspector before installation.

Section R602.10.5
Adds exception to the section to provide an alternative bracing method for use adjacent to garage door openings.

Section R802.10.1
Modifies section to allow the approval of floor truss design drawings by local building officials to occur at the time of the framing inspection, rather than at an undefined time prior to installation. The truss design drawings will be required to be provided with the shipment of trusses and be available on the construction site for review by an inspector before installation.

Chapter 11
Deleted. Eliminates any possible conflicts concerning the insulation requirements for single and two family residential buildings between the International Residential Code and state law.

Section M1411.4
Modifies the thermal resistivity of the insulation around refrigerant vapor lines from R 4.0 to R 2.5.

Modifies typographical error that unnecessarily changed the dimension of minimum fixture clearance for a water closet from 12 to 15 inches from the center of the bowl to the sidewall or bathtub.

Notice of Public Hearing and Opportunity for Public Comment:

Should a hearing be requested pursuant to Section 1-23-110(b) of the 1976 Code, as amended, such a hearing will be conducted at the Administrative Law Judge Division at 11:30 a.m. on Tuesday, November 9, 2004.
